IT PAYS TO WAIT.

—:o:—

We have done our best to show the Peterborough public the newest Spring Millinery by not having our opening before the new goods are in stock, and we have more than proved that the people appreciate our efforts by the throngs that have been crowding our show rooms since the opening, and the many exclamations that we hear on every side, that our display was the prettiest and most varied they ever witnessed, and oh! here is something I can wear that is both neat and becoming. You ask us how we got up such a varied stock suitable for every taste; the secret is we have been in the millinery business for years and understand what the Peterborough public like. As to prices one lot of manufacturer's samples alone we bought free of duty which is 30 per cent, and leaves us in a position to sell them that much cheaper than other houses. Our motto has always been from the beginning, small profits and quick returns and give honest, reliable goods for the money.

See our beautiful display under the gaslight Saturday night.

The time has arrived for Spring Mantles and Wraps. Our stock is complete in this department in all the newest styles and materials shown. Cloth from 60c. up.

Our Mantle Maker has the confidence of the public being well known for a perfect fit.

Our stock of Imported Worsteds and Serges for our Tailoring department is now in. They are beautiful goods and grand value. Give us a trial. A perfect fit guaranteed.

BARGAIN DAY.

Look out for our list of bargains which will be left at your house for Wednesday, our next bargain day, April 4th. It will tell you of a lot of carpet ends of all lengths we are clearing out to make room for new stock.

STARTLING CONFESSION

A Man in Montana Says He Murdered the Williams Couple.

IT WILL BE INVESTIGATED.

Detective Greer Leaves for Annaconda, Mont., to Learn the Truth of the Despatch—It Is Not Credited in the Attorney-General's Office.

ANNACONDA, Mont., April 2.—Word comes from Bozeman, a place near here, to the effect that a man calling himself Robert Dalton has made an affidavit to the effect that he murdered an old farmer and his wife near Port Credit, Ont., named William or Williamson. He says that a man named MacWherrell now lies under sentence of death in Brampton jail for the crime, but that he is innocent. He declares he pounded the old couple to death. His object was robbery, but first the old man resisted and while he was fighting with him his wife interfered and he was compelled to kill her too, although he did not know when he fled that they were dead. He was forced to fly because he heard somebody moving about in the yard and saw a man there.

The Story Is Not Credited.

TORONTO, April 2.—A despatch was received in the city on Saturday night from Annaconda, Mont., stating that a man named Dalton, at Bozeman, had confessed to the murder of the old couple at Port Credit. Detective Greer left yesterday for that place to investigate the truth of the story.

The Attorney-General's Office places no credit in the despatch and the general opinion is that it is not very reliable.

Fitzgerald's Bartender's Story.

TORONTO, April 2.—Harry Irwin, who at the time of the murder of the old Williams couple was bartender at Fitzgerald's hotel in this city, and who has been missing since the trial, has turned up.

He states that on the night of Thursday, December 14, he was tending bar in the hotel and remembers MacWherrell coming in there that night. He says there can be no doubt about it. MacWherrell was in the hotel on Wednesday night and drank two or three times at the bar. On Thursday night he sauntered in about 8 o'clock and they both had a drink together. Then after talking for a while the accused went up to bed.

When asked if he was positive as to the night, he said he had no trouble in fixing the time. It was the night before the big snowstorm, and that he worked on that night, but not the next. He says he is positive that MacWherrell was in bed in the hotel on the night Police Constable Cross swore he saw him crossing College street. The next morning he got up and he and Walker had breakfast together, after which he paid his bill and went out at the side door. This is the last he saw of him. Irwin says he did not act at all in the way of a man who had been guilty of a great crime.

Irwin's recollection of the events that happened that night is very clear. He remembers even the size of the coins which he paid over the bar and is positive of all he says.

He said further that he wrote to High Constable Hurst at the time of the trial and told him where he was at the time—in Markdale—and could not understand why he was not called to give evidence.

His evidence will completely upset the case of the Crown, showing that the murder was committed after tea on Thursday evening. It disproves the evidence of several persons who thought they saw MacWherrell that night elsewhere, including Constable Cross.

On this evidence and that of two other important witnesses Mr. Robinette will appeal the case.

Took Poison Intended for a Dog.

GUELPH, April 2.—A 4-year-old daughter of William Challoner, who works in Bell's and lives on Perth street, on Saturday picked up a piece of bread on the sidewalk in front of her home and licked the butter off it. Then she ran to her mother and fell fainting on the door step. The bread and butter had been baited with strychnine, and the child soon gave evidence of having been poisoned. A doctor soon arrived and, seconding the prompt measures that had been adopted by the mother, saved the little one's life. It was a very narrow escape, however. The delay of another minute in administering an emetic would have proved fatal. There have been about a dozen dogs poisoned in the vicinity where Mr. Challoner lives.

Halifax Weavers Strike.

HALIFAX, April 2.—The weavers of the Halifax cotton factory went on strike on Saturday on account of a notice of a ten per cent. reduction in wages, to take effect from April. The manager's version is that about 110 weavers in the factory are out in consequence of the reduction in wages in some lines of goods. They were notified last week that reductions would take place.

Withdrawn from the C. L. A.

SIMCOE, Ont., April 2.—At a meeting of the lacrosse players of the Western Association, held in Simcoe, it was decided to form an association apart from the C. L. A. Delegates were present from St. Mary's, Brantford, Woodstock, Simcoe and Tilsonburg.

Archbishop Fabre's Anniversary.

MONTREAL, Que., April 2.—Archbishop Fabre yesterday celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his appointment as Roman Catholic bishop of Montreal.

IT IS A LITTLE WAR.

The Liquor Riots in South Carolina Grow Rather Serious.

HOW THE FIGHT OCCURRED.

The Constables Get the Worst of It—Nine Hundred Troops Start for Darlington—Evidences that the Trouble Will Finally be Settled Peaceably.

COLUMBIA, S.C., April 2.—The trouble between the State authorities and citizens over the liquor dispensaries has assumed alarming proportions. The troops are arriving by the incoming trains and the Edgefield Rifles are at the State capital. The Governor has declared Darlington and Florence counties in a state of insurrection. He has also ordered the railroad not to transport any bodies of men unless authorized by him. The railroads have thus far refused compliance. The Governor also ordered the telegraph companies not to transmit any news of a warlike tendency. This order has likewise been refused.

The city and State dispensaries were closed on Saturday by order of the Governor and their contents are now being hauled to the penitentiary for safe-keeping.

The men who were in the fight at Darlington on Friday arrived here Saturday night from Sumpter. One of them, Constable McDonald, when asked to tell the story of the fight, said: "Five of us had been detailed to stay in Darlington, while the others went to Charleston. When the squad which was going to Charleston went to the depot, where the fight took place, we went with them. While we were there Billy Floyd and Rogers, the man who started the whole thing, got into an altercation. They had a fight and Floyd got the best of it. About that time a negro driver for the Enterprise hotel attempted to strike Floyd, Constable McLendon told the negro to stand back. Then the telegraph operator at the depot ran out of his office and asked what McLendon had to do with it. McLendon said he did not propose to see Floyd get the worst of it. The operator went back into the office and Rogers got into the 'bus and went up town.

"I suppose he went up there to get a crowd, for in a short time he came back with fifteen or twenty men. Rogers renewed the difficulty with Floyd, but Chief of Police Dargan interfered and commanded the crowd to disperse. The crowd refused to do so and Rogers accused Floyd of the most vile things. Floyd said he would not stand it and went towards Rogers. Chief of Police Dargan separated them. Rogers then turned to McLendon and said: 'There is the — — — who caused me to get whipped.' McLendon said this was a lie. Then Frank Norment, who was killed, stepped forward and pointed to McLendon and said: 'There is the — — — there.' McLendon cursed Norment in return. I was standing right between McLendon and Norment, and before I knew it one of them reached over my shoulder and fired a pistol. I don't know which one fired the first shot. The shot started the battle. The citizens were armed with pistols and immediately began firing at the constables. The officers were standing in a body and were targets for the whole party. The constables returned the fire."

"McLendon emptied his pistols before he seemed to know that he was shot. Pepper was killed soon after the firing began. I do not know how many mimes he fired or whether he fired at all. I do not know who shot Pepper. The shooting was over in a few seconds. About that time I noticed a crowd of citizens coming and thought it about time to get away. Together with the two men who came here with me, I took the pistols which Pepper and McLendon had had and made my way to the home of Sheriff Scarborough. Then we went to the woods. This was about 6 o'clock in the evening. We laid in the woods until dark. Then we started down the railroad track and reached Sumpter about half past 12 o'clock and surrendered to the chief of police. We told him that we had not had anything to eat since the day before and he took us to a restaurant. The Sumpter military was already under arms and a detachment of them was stationed around the restaurant to protect us. The crowd which collected was driven away from in front of the restaurant. After we had eaten we were taken to jail and remained there until we were brought here on a special train."

The escaped constables are surrounded at Syracuse. They are in the woods and the crowds are debating whether to starve them out or dash in and kill them. The constables offered to surrender if protection would be given and guaranteed them. Bright Williamson, who had run across them, said he could not guarantee them protection, but would ask his crowd if they would agree to protect them. When he returned the constables had disappeared.

On Saturday night Mayor Dargan sent telegrams to heads of all posses in pursuit of the fleeing constables to come back to town, as they were needed. This it is known would bring all the men back and yesterday all the constables were free to go as they pleased. It is learned that they were taken away in a wagon by friends during the night.

Yesterday an effort was made to organize the citizens to resist the country volunteers that Governor Tillman has called for. Mayor Dargan and other prominent citizens addressed the men and advised them not to make any such demonstration, but to remain perfectly quiet, as the understanding was that Governor Tillman, upon the advice of General Farley, would do nothing to excite the people here and that the military would under no circumstances be allowed to come here. With all the posses back in the city, all of the constables out of the county and the people bent upon keeping the peace, comes the news that 900 troops from Columbia have started on their way here. Efforts were made to have the troops returned to Columbia on the ground that their presence could do no possible good.

Mann Gets Two Years.

STRATFORD, April 2.—On Saturday Judge Robertson sentenced Ernest Mann, convicted of bigamy, to two years in penitentiary. On March 8 Mann, who is a jewel peddler, eloped with a daughter of Mr. Bryan, a Fullarton farmer, was married in Mitchell and a few days later arrested in Dublin. He eloped with the first wife, who is a daughter of Mr. George J. Frost, janitor of Upper Canada College, and to whom he was married in 1889.

AT KOSSUTH'S GRAVE.

Thousands of People Witness the Burial of the Patriot.

ALL HUNGARY IN MOURNING.

Peasants Kneel and Kiss the Hands and Clothes of the Sons of Their Benefactor—Laid to Rest Beside Two of His Patriot Comrades.

BUDA PESTH, April 2.—Louis Kossuth was buried yesterday. Enormous crowds had gathered from all parts of Hungary to attend the funeral and mourn with the people of the capital. The police and military had prepared for disorder and even riot, but nothing happened to disturb the solemnity of the day.

The religious ceremony was short. There was a pause, and then Maurice Jokai, the author, rose to deliver the funeral oration in behalf of the Hungarian deputies. He reviewed briefly, but eloquently, the most familiar incidents in the life of the dead patriot.

While the coffin was being removed to the funeral car the throng outside sang the revolutionary air, "Szozat." More than 300,000 persons from all parts of the kingdom had gathered in the neighborhood of the museum and the song was echoed and re-echoed down the streets. Kossuth was buried between Deak and Batthyanyi, two Hungarian patriots of his time and political tendency.

After the coffin had been lowered into the vault the peasants crowded up, knelt and kissed the hands and clothes of Kossuth's sons. There was no disorder. The most remarkable feature of the crowds here was the enormous number of peasants. Most of them were without money for lodgings. On Friday and Saturday nights fully 90,000 peasants, the police say, were walking the streets, their bundles on their backs and their banners in their hands.

VORHEES OPENS UP.

Commencing the Debate on the Tariff Bill—Behring Sea Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—When Mr. Voorhees, chairman of the Finance Committee, to-day called up the tariff bill in the Senate and made the opening speech he inaugurated a debate, whose end and outcome no man can foretell. Mr. Voorhees confidently expects the final vote to be taken within six weeks. Some of his Democratic colleagues are not so sanguine and no Republican is willing to fix a period of less than two or three months within which a vote can be had on the passing of the Senate Tariff Bill. Mr. Allison will wait until Tuesday to make the opening remarks for the Republicans.

To-day also Mr. Morgan reported the Behring Sea Bill, and asked Mr. Voorhees to give way Wednesday and permit the bill to be taken up and kept before the Senate until passed. This will involve at least one closed legislative session.

Sandy McDuff Run to Earth.

GLADWIN, Mich., April 2.—At the trial of Andrew Glenn for the murder of James Finn startling developments resulted. On the morning of the tragedy, while still ugly from liquor, Glenn went into a cabin where he found Finn, and with a gun that stood behind the door shot him, killing him instantly. The murdered man had well-to-do relatives in New York, and it was known that he had $1,900 in his possession. The jury returned a verdict of murder in the second degree. While in the midst of the trial a man was found who recognized Glenn as Sandy McDuff, who about six years ago, together with one Martin McMann and a negro, killed Wilson Holton, an old hermit living on a farm just out from Tilbury Centre, Ontario. McDuff escaped to Lake Erie, where he took passage on a boat as a deck hand, came to Detroit and disappeared.

Determined to Hang Prendergast.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 2.—State Attorney Jacob Kern and his assistants, who secured the conviction of Prendergast, the assassin of Harrison, have paved the way to a consummation of a plan which will result in the execution of the prisoner next Friday. The Supreme Court will be asked to enjoin Judge Chetlain from proceeding with the hearing or in any way interfering with Prendergast's execution until Friday. Whether this move is successful is problematical, but certain it is that the state is determined that Prendergast shall hang next Friday if there is any law to bring about this result.

Queen Lilinokalani Gives In.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—A steamer, which arrived from Honolulu, brings advices of a material change in the political conditions of the islands. Briefly it may be summed up by saying that the natives are now coming out for annexation. The adherents of royalty have concluded that all hope of restoration is past and that it is politic to acquiesce with a good grace. It is said Lilinokalani has been advised of the failure of restoration and that she will advocate annexation of the islands to the United States in order to receive some part of the bounty.

The Champion in Rogue's Gallery.

CINCINNATI, O., April 2.—Pugilist Corbett visited police headquarters and Detective Crawford took his measurements by the Bertillon system, the measurements being as careful and thorough as those of any criminal. Chief of Police Deitsche ordered Corbett's measurements placed on record in the rogue's gallery. This was in accordance with a rule of police department, which compels all Bertillon measurements to go on record. Corbett entered a protest, but it did no good.

Ludella Perry Suicides.

DEADWOOD, S. D., April 2.—Ludella Clark, aged 19 years, known on the stage as Ludella Perry, of Erie, Mich., committed suicide here yesterday by taking morphine. The act was due to remorse arising from illicit acts she had been guilty of against her husband.

Wiped Out by Fire.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., April 2.—The little town of Borden, Ind., 18 miles north of here, containing 1,000 inhabitants, was almost wiped out by fire on Saturday. Loss, $125,000.

Valuable Trotter Burned.

UXBRIDGE, Mass., April 2.—A Boston and Albany car containing the $10,000 trotter Governor Hill was burned near the freight depot on Saturday. The keeper was in the caboose. Cause unknown.

Daily Examiner.

MONDAY, APRIL 2, 1894.

WHEN Mr. Foster speaks so fervently of the prosperity of the country under protection he probably has, the the Montreal Herald thinks, particular reference to his own personal fortunes. He has found it much more profitable to be the defender of protection than to be a temperance exhorter at $10 per night, which we believe, was his figure in those faraway days when he was the hope of the stern and unbending prohibitionists. Mr. Foster certainly has no grievance against the N.P.

THE Conservatives of West Lambton held a convention on Friday. Mr. Marter and Mr. A. F. Campbell were present to give addresses. It was decided not to nominate a candidate in opposition to Mr. Mackenzie, the present Liberal member, but all the influence of the Conservative party is to be thrown on the side of Mr. Gurd, the P.P.A. candidate. As the time passes the alliance between the Conservatives and the P.P.A. becomes more marked.

APROPOS of the desperate attempts of the Ontario Opposition to find a vulnerable subject of attack on the Government, the Globe says that the best joke of the Legislative session is Mr. Sol White's attack on the salary of that "useless gentleman" Mr. S. Griffin, and his sudden collapse on learning that the "useless gentleman" was the private secretary of Mr. Meredith.

THE REPORT OF WHEAT RAISING

A writer in the Chicago Tribune who has been for years a wheat raiser and grain dealer, gives a table of costs to prove that the farmers must lose by selling wheat at 60 cents a bushel. The loss, according to the table, is greater than interest on the cost of the land. This would go to prove that even with free land the work would entail a loss. Of course the item of wages is elastic, but a farmer should be able to realize ample pay for his time as well as interest on his invested capital. Here is the statement of expenses and receipts:—

One acre of land, cost $50, at 7 per cent. interest for one year	$ 3 50
Ploughing for wheat	1 00
Harrowing and cultivating	1 00
Drilling in seed	50
One and one-half bushels of cleaned seed wheat	30
Furrowing and ditching to keep water off	10
Harvesting with reaper and binder	75
Twine for binding	25
One man to keep wheat set up in shocks and set up between harvest and threshing time	20
Threshing machine at four cents per bushel, twelve bushels to the acre	48
Coal to run threshing engine furnished by farmer	25
Fourteen men to help thresh at $1 a day one-half hour an acre	75
Board for fourteen men at 50 cents a day while threshing	50

HIS MAIL IS HEAVY.

Fisheries Inspector Brickwood Gets Letters From all Over the Dominion Asking for Particulars About Dodd's Kidney Pills Curing Him of Chronic Rheumatism.

KINGSTON, April 2.—Enquiry develops the fact that the story of J. H. Brickwood's wonderful cure of his rheumatism by Dodd's Kidney Pills has brought him notoriety. Mr. Brickwood daily receives letters from all quarters of Canada asking further particulars of his cure. He invariably answers that after all other remedies failed, Dodd's Kidney Pills restored him to health. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy in pill form ever offered the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations, Purchasers for their own safety should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes; price, fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50. To be had of all dealers.

THOUGHTS

Suggested by examining contents of a parcel—the workmanship of the late Mrs. C. Davis, whose burial took place on the 30th inst.

"He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much."

This work is well and firmly done,
With taste and skill and care;
To-day, the genial vernal sun
Looks, for the last, upon the one
Whose fingers wrought so fair.

I did not know, except in casual way,
The one who quits the throng,
And seeks the fair necropolis to-day
Beyond the "Little Lake," so far away,
That trill of robin's song
Disturbs her not.

The artist's clever pencil traces well
In form, and tint and word,
The matchless lanscape scene; and praises swell,
When prima donnas sing; the silver bell
Of eloquence is heard.

But in this useful work—performed in pain—
I see a noble heart—
A character; of slight, it bears no stain;
But thoroughness, the Golden Rule, is plain,
Shining from every part.

Ah, stranger friend! The thought of thy wan face,
Comes to me o'er and o'er;
Yea, thus may I, alway, in in every place,
Be faithful; for the night comes down, apace,
When I can do no more.

A GOOD MEASURE.

Ottawa Journal (Conservative).

Personation and vote-repeating are serious evils of all city elections. It is in the utmost degree desirable that they should be sharply attacked by the people.

It is satisfactory therefore that the provincial government has proposed a measure which will tell against these evils, at least in provincial elections. The bill introduced at Toronto applies to Toronto, London, Hamilton and Ottawa, and sets forth that the returning officer, if information concerning personation is given to him, may at any time during election issue a warrant for the arrest of the offender. He may swear in special constables to make the arrest, and even poll clerks are declared to be constables for this purpose. If the deputy returning officer does not perform his duty in this regard, he is liable to punishment the same as for other cases of neglect of duty under the election law. The county attorney is to provide the deputy returning officer with all the necessary forms of information and warrants.

The bill is welcome as far as it goes, but provincial election are few. It would be well to have the provisions of this measure extended to municipal elections. Dishonesty in connection with the recording of the popular verdict should be severely punished, no matter who is the culprit. The liberty of the people is at stake.

Healthy Children

come from healthy mothers. And mothers will certainly be healthy if they'll take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Nothing can equal it in building up a woman's strength, in regulating and assisting her natural functions. It lessens the pains and burdens of child-bearing, supports and strengthens weak, nursing mothers, and promotes an abundant secretion of nourishment.

It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and bracing nervine, and a guaranteed remedy for woman's ills and ailments. In every chronic "female complaint" or weakness, if it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

It Isn't a Matter of How Much You Earn, But

What You Save!

"Any FOOL can Earn Money, but it takes a WISE Man to Save it."

And yet it is as simple as A B C You know that one of the peculiarities about GOUGH'S Clothing is that it isn't sold by wind. It's VALUE that does it. It broke out some 8 or 10 years ago when Gough Bros. spread their monster tents for business in Peterborough and the epidemic has kept on spreading ever since.

THE IMMENSE AMOUNT OF MONEY SAVED to the Workingman, the Farmer and the Business Man since Gough Bros. broke the combination to keep up High Prices in Clothing, has demonstrated that there are Wise Men among us who can save money if they only get a fair chance.

"What's the cause of Gough's Big Success?" did you say.

Just look at those $7.50 Spring Overcoats and Tweed Suits, with that regular tailor-made look about them. They were no more made to sell at that price than the Otonabee River was to run ocean greyhounds on. $12.00 ought to be the price.

Then again—Take that pair of Pants or that Big Boy's 3-Piece Suit. They're All Wool and cut by an expert hand, who was a regular tailor's cutter before we pulled down the prices that gave them such big salaries. You wouldn't think $4.50 too much to pay for either of them, would you? Well, they're yours for $3.00

And so on all the way through our mammoth store. "Money to be Saved at Gough's!" why that's stale news—everybody knows that by this time, and, if you haven't caught the enthusiasm yet, it must be because you're one of those fellows that can EARN money all right, but DON'T KNOW HOW TO SAVE IT.

WE'RE AWFULLY STUCK UP—and it's just on account of our Clothes. We just think that when it comes to Clothing, there's nothing in this town that can touch us.

"Always Good at Gough's."

PRINCE BISMARCK'S BIRTHDAY.

Great Enthusiasm Displayed at the Celebration of His Anniversary.

FRIEDRICHSRUHE, April 2.—Prince Bismarck celebrated his 78th birthday yesterday. Just before he took his breakfast the bands of the Ratzeburg (Lauenberg) Riflemen, the 31st Infantry regiment from the Altona garrison and the Hamburg Choral Union had gathered in front of the castle. They gave the old Chancellor his morning greeting between 9 and 10 o'clock. At 11 o'clock the Chasseurs band began playing and during the first number the Prince and Princess, Count Herbert and Count William and their wives and the Count and Countess Rantzau appeared on the terrace. By this time the excursionists, who crowded the inns, private houses and many of the barns to overflowing, had gathered in the meadow opposite.

A messenger arrived at the castle with this despatch dated at Abbazia, April 1:

"I send you my heartiest congratulations. My aide-de-camp, Major von Moltke, is commissioned to hand you in my name a cuirass. The firm steel of this cuirass, which is designed to lie round your breast, may serve as a symbol of the German gratitude which your firm fidelity has brought you, and which I for my part desire to express most vividly.

THE OLD EX-CHANCELLOR.

"WILHELM, Imperator-Rex."

Major Count von Moltke arrived at the Friedrichsruhe station at 12.40 and rode directly to the castle, where Bismarck welcomed him, and at once received from his hands the steel cuirass sent by the Emperor.

Shortly after the arrival of the Ludwigslust Dragoons and a deputation from Lower Saxony the Prince retired and put on his helmet and the cuirass sent by the Emperor. He reappeared in uniform and entered an open carriage at the door and took a drive which lasted about 80 minutes. The enthusiasm of the people passed all bounds. Hundreds gathered by the roadside and sang "Die Wacht am Rhein" and "Deutschland Ueber Alles." When the Prince reached the castle the great throng, which had been steadily increasing since noon, took up the songs, and, led by the Hamburg singers, raised one grand chorus after another. Bismarck entered the castle at 6.30, but the singing continued until 7 o'clock.

The number of letters and despatches received by the Prince is beyond all records of his former birthdays. The messages have been received by the basketful every fifteen minutes during the day. They have come from all parts of the world. At 5 o'clock last evening 7,000 letters and 4,580 telegrams had been counted and the messengers were still busy bringing more.

Presents have been brought to the castle so rapidly that it has been impossible to unpack them all. The castle yard looks like a freight depot. It is piled high with barrels, boxes and bundles of all shapes and sizes. One of the most noteworthy gifts is a magnificent silk tapestry sent by Fraeulein Schwalbe, of Frankfort on the Main. It portrays Bismarck as he was in 1824 at the age of 9; in 1851, just at the opening of his diplomatic career; in 1866, on the eve of the North German union; in 1878, the year of the Berlin Congress, and in 1890, when his work was finished.

A GHASTLY TRAGEDY.

An Unemployed New York State Man Slaughters His Family and Suicides.

DOLGEVILLE, N.Y., April 2.—Fritz Kloetzles murdered his wife and four children at his home here and then committed suicide.

He has been selling off the furniture piece of piece until only a few chairs and a little bedding remained. Kloetzles had apparently been contemplating the tragedy for several day.

On the second floor in one of the back bedrooms on a few blankets, with their heads against the wall, were found the bodies of the entire family of six. First in the row of bodies was that of Mrs. Kloetzler. Her throat had been cut. The second was that of the daughter Frieda, 12 years of age. There was a ghastly gash across her throat. Kloetzler's body was next. It had a big gash in the throat and a knife wound in the heart. Next came the body of five-year-old Elsie. There were no marks on her body. She and another child had been poisoned. The last body was that of the three-year old son, Bruno, whose head was nearly severed from the trunk.

The bodies were cold when found. Kloetzler's head lay on the body of the daughter, Elsie. There are indications that the crime was arranged between the husband and wife. There was no evidence of a struggle.

Mistook His Rival for a Burglar.

HALLIDAYSBURG, Pa., April 2.—There was a tragic ending to a love making at the home of Adam Acker, North Woodberry township. Frank Kyler, a young man, while chatting with Miss Acker in in the parlor, heard peculiar sounds proceeding from without the house. Thinking a burglar was attempting to break into the house, he opened the front door and shot the intruder. To their horror the couple discovered that the wounded man was Wm. Butler, another suitor of Miss Acker, who had crept up to the parlor window to watch the courtship. Butler will die. Kyler was arrested.

GEORGE SACKETT'S CASE.

Holsteiners Enjoy a Mild Sensation—One Box of Dodd's Kidney Pills Cures Their Fellow Citizen of Backache and Kidney Disease.

HOLSTEIN, March 26.—This quiet village is in an uproar of excitement just now over the case of George Sackett, a well-known resident. His experience has had many parallels in other places, but none here. One box of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him of severe backache and kidney disease of long standing, after he had tried every other remedy within his reach, but without any good results. These pills are manufactured by Dr. L. A. Smith & Co., Toronto, and are sold by all dealers, or will be mailed on receipt of price; fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50.

OTTAWA GOSSIP.

Debate on the Budget May Close This Week—For the Irish Fund.

OTTAWA, April 2.—It is generally expected that the debate on the budget will close this week; but it will depend altogether on the speakers as they can easily finish in the time indicated. As the tariff changes will be debated in detail later in the session, all the present talk derives its only importance from the standing of the speaker for the time being.

Protests are coming in from all directions in regard to the changes in the tariff. A big deputation of iron manufacturers will wait on the Government tomorrow to protest against the iron duties.

At the annual meeting of the Press Gallery Saturday, A. J. Magurn, Globe, was elected president; A. M. MacLeod, Citizen, vice president, and J. W. Healey, Mail, secretary.

The Hon. John Costigan received on Saturday from the Right Rev. Dr. Cameron, Bishop of Antagonish, a bank draft for $530, being the contribution of his Lordship and the diocese to the Irish parliamentary fund. The proceeds of the draft was cabled to the Hon. Edward Blake by the local treasurer.

Madame Laurier gave a reception at Russell House on Saturday evening. A large number attended. It is the intention to hold these receptions every Saturday night.

WANT LEGISLATION POSTPONED.

British Columbia Sealers Complain of Being Unfairly Treated.

VICTORIA, B.C., April 2.—Sealers here are excited over the prospect of the early going into operation of the Behring sea regulations, which it was not expected would be put in force this season. They bitterly complain of the high-handed manner in which they are being treated in the interest of American speculators, capitalists and wire-pullers, for whose benefit their rights and the comity of nations is, they allege, being infringed. It is understood representations have been made to the Government, through the Dominion Government, with a view of this legislation being postponed until next season. The result of its enforcement will be the total ruin of Victoria's sealing trade, as well as other branches of business connected with it.

Hooper in Poor Health.

MONTREAL, April 2.—Mr. Joseph Hooper, father of John R. Hooper, who is imprisoned at Three Rivers, charged with attempting to murder his wife, is circulating a petition asking to have his son's trial take place in April instead of June. The petition sets forth that the health of the accused is poor.

BRANTFORD, April 2.—The Liberals of the south riding of Brant met in convention on Saturday and unanimously nominated the Hon. A. S. Hardy as their candidate in the next Local elections. Several addresses were given by prominent Reformers.

North Essex Reformers.

WINDSOR, April 2.—At the convention of the Liberals of the north riding of Essex Mr. William J. McKee was chosen as their candidate to contest the riding at the next Local elections. The meeting was addressed by Mr R. F. Sutherland and others.

A Government BOMBSHELL THROWN INTO THE LIFE INSURANCE CAMP!

The following statement comes from the government Blue Book. It covers a period of sixteen years, and is sworn to as correct by representatives of each Company:

Statement of Premiums received and Cash Profits paid back to Policy Holders from 1877 to 1892, both years inclusive:—

COMPANY.	Premiums Received.	Dividends Paid to Policy Holders.	Ratio of Dividends to Premiums, %
CANADA LIFE	$16,368,307	$2,946,433	18.18
Confederation Life	6,165,432	637,925	10.35
North American	2,327,082	32,857	1.41
Ontario Mutual	3,878,086	433,284	11.17
Sun Life	5,527,720	355,280	6.43

Never in the history of Life Insurance has the struggle for business been keener. Never has the conflict been hotter. Never have the Companies felt as they feel now, the necessity for throwing all the energy at their command into the field. The most intelligent and best men have to be employed. All kinds of plans of insurance are submitted. Each Company determined in securing the supremacy in the good will of the public, in establishing their name, the utterance of which, shall convey to the minds of the people the essential characteristics of

UNDOUBTED SECURITY,
RIGID ECONOMY,
GOOD INVESTMENTS,
LARGEST PROFITS

WHY?

Because millons of dollars are being paid annually for Life Insurance, and the Companies that can show these features have attained a position which will guarantee their future success, for money will flow freely into the best investments.

The Canada Life Policy Holders can look at the above statement with a smile of satisfaction, yet sympathise with their friends who are not so favourably situated.

They can throw their Life Policies down in the face of opponents and successfully challenge the production of more profitable policies, they can stand the onslaught of Agents who will almost cover them with literature and estimates of Tontine, Semi-Tontine, Return Premiums, Reserved Dividends, Annuity and Endownment plans of insurance, and with a quiet assurance feel that

As The Canada Life is Making the Most Profits, She Can Pay the Largest Profits.

READER. If you want Life Insurance choose the Canada Life and join the throng of contented policy holders who are insured with the Company carrying about 45 per cent. of the total insurance in force of the above named Companies

Ralph Paints the Town.

Mr. Ralph Carton has "scooped in" a number of large contracts for painting this spring. In addition to several contracts secured in town he has gangs of workmen at present engaged painting the steamer "Mary Ellen" at Young's Point, and the new Stony Lake residence of Major Bellasis. Both of these contracts are well under way and visitors up the lakes this summer will see specimens of Mr. Carton's handiwork with the brush which reflect credit on all concerned. Mr. Carton is employing more good workmen this year than ever before.

Foresters Concert.

The public are informed that a grand annual union concert under the auspices of Courts Peteeborough and Langton, C.O.F. will be held in Bradburn's opera house on Friday evening, April 13th. A programme of unusual excellence will be presented contributed by the following artists: Miss Fawcett, soprano; Miss Scheak, Toronto, contralto; Mr. R. A. Shaw, tenor; Mr. F. Wright, Toronto, comic vocalist, and the Peterborough Male Quartette, Messrs. Shaw, Garvin and Drope. F. Clarke, accompanist. The Foresters are noted for giving most enjoyable entertainments, and the public are assured that this will be no exception. Make a note of the date, Friday evening, April 13th. Admission 25 cents, reserved seats 35 cents.

Death's Fatal Industry.

On Friday, March 23rd, Mrs. Gideon F. F. Vernon, mother of Mrs. J. W. Crosby, town, died at the family residence near Uxbridge at the age of 70 years. Her husband was at the funeral on Monday, and on Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Crosby left again for Uxbridge to attend the funeral of Mrs. Crosby's father, who died on Friday, aged 80 years, from a cold contracted at the mother's funeral, as they attended the mother's funeral a week previous. It is not often that such an occurrence is to be recorded, or that a daughter is called upon to bear the double affliction of the loss of both father and mother within a few days.

The Douglas Bird Concert.

The Douglas Bird concert on Thursday evening, April 19th, will be the musical event of the season. In addition to the distinguished outside talent whose names appear below, the wonderful child elocutionist, Miss Lola Ostrom, has accepted an engagement for the occasion, when she will contribute two of her remarkably clever recitations. In addition the talent that will contribute the programme on Thursday night, April 19th, will consist of Mr. Douglas Bird, tenor; Mrs. Fenwick, Hamilton, soprano; Mrs. Mackelcan, Hamilton, contralto; Herr Rudolph Ruth, the celebrated German violoncellist, and Mrs. H. M. Blight, accompanist.

Home Rule Contributions.

As the first instalment of Peterborough's contribution to the Home Rule fund, since the Irish National Federation was formed, Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald a few days ago forwarded to Hon. S. H. Blake, Toronto, treasurer of the Home Rule fund, a Bank of Commerce draft for $400. Mr. Fitzgerald has received from the honourable treasurer due acknowledgment of the amount, which was at once cabled to Hon. Edward Blake, House of Commons, London, England. By late news it will be seen how grateful the Irish people are to Canada for its sympathy and substantial aid, and how properly they appreciate the services and sacrifices of Canada's noble representative, Hon. Edward Blake, M.P., South Longford. In a few days the list of contributors and the amount respectively will be published in these columns.

Ex-Ald. F. E. O'Flynn, barrister, of Belleville, is in town to-day. He is registered at the Snowden House.

Mr. F. E. Nesbitt, student at Upper Canada College, after spending his holidays in town, returns to Toronto to-morrow.

Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, classical master of the Collegiate Institute, after spending his holidays in Toronto and other places, returned to t wn on Saturday night.

Mr. H. M. McBain, of Winnipeg, who is a student at Upper Canada College, Toronto, spent Saturday in town, the guest of Mrs. Richardson, George street.

The Cobourg Post says: Mr. A. B. Appleby, of Peterborough, was in town on Tuesday. His little son spent several days with his grantparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Appleby, King street east....Mr. Jas. McCarty, of Peterborough, was in town on Tuesday....Mrs. W. Salisbury, of Peterborough, was in town a few days this week.

A RAILROAD CHANGE.

Mr. Wm. Hayden, of Woodstock, Appointed G. T. R. Station Agent at Peterborough.

The Woodstock correspondent to the Empire (Toronto) on Saturday says:—

"William Hayden, who has been G.T.R. station master here for fifteen years, has been transferred to Peterborough. Mr. Grigg, of Forest, will succeed him here. At the board of trade last night a resolution was unanimously endorsed regretting Mr. Hayden's removal, and wishing him success in his new home."

Mr. Hayden arrived in town this morning and is registered at the Snowden House. He will assume the duties of his new new position the latter part of the present week. A reporter in conversation this morning with Mr. Wm. Brundrette, for the past twelve years the well known G.T.R. station agent here, learned that the above transfer had been made. Mr. Brundrette when asked where he was going to, he replied that he had not yet decided, but intimated that he had been offered the position of station agent at several important points along the Midland line.

"There is a rumour on the streets that you have been transferred to Midland, and have accepted," said the reporter.

"I have heard nothing of it," said Mr. Brundrette.

It is however understood that it is as yet undecided as to where Mr. Brundrette will be transferred.

The Busy Bee

does not need to hustle half as much as the staff of the Peterborough Bookstore. Why? The release from customs and the opening up of 35,000 rolls of beautiful new imported wall papers at the Peterborough Bookstore and the fine weather creat great activity. The extreme beauty of these papers, conjoined with the extreme lowness of price, renders a rush of customers inevitable. Come and make your choice early and get your papering done before the rush of spring work makes the paper hangers too busy.

Booming Their New Store—387.

No. 387 George street is being boomed now, as it never was boomed before. It is now the new and commodious premises of Messrs. Grafton & Co., clothiers, and the manager, Mr. W. E. Conway, has started an "Eclipse sale," calculated to obscure all other sales of ready-to-wear clothing that Peterborough has ever witnessed. It is pointed out that it is an easy matter for Grafton & Co. to undersell, seeing that they manufacture all their clothing and supply their retail branches at first cost. This gives them the "inside track", and they appear to be making the very best use of their advantages. Nothing more need be said—the inference is plain, where the customers' interests are so well protected by such a strong firm of clothing manufacturers as GRAFTON & Co's. dw

NEWS NUGGETS.

—Jarbeau at Opera House to-night.

—The School Board will meet to-morrow night.

See "Starlight"—Mme. Jarbeau's famous production to-night.

—Mr. R. J. Weir, grocer, Ashburnham, is confined to his room through illness.

—Mr. R. J. Hartley received one of D. Ritchie & Co.'s, Montreal, famous "Art Studies from Nature" to day.

—A regular meeting of the School Board will take place at the board room on next Tuesday at 7.45 o'clock p.m.

—Jarbeau in the great farce comedy, "Starlight," will appear at the Opera House to-night. Prices 25, 50 and 75 cents. Go!

—The vital statistics for the month of March as registered with town clerk Armstrong, are: Births, 24; marriages, 6; and deaths, 13.

—The plan of the opera house for the Canadian Order of Foresters' concert on Friday, April 13th, is now open at Madill's drug store, Hunter street.

—The annual dinner of the Campbellford curling club takes place this evening. Several Peterborough lovers of the roarin' game have been honoured with invitations.

—Mr. Wm. Campbell, Ashburnham, shot a white robin having a red breast in his garden Saturday night, and is showing it to his friends. This bird is very rare, and at the same time quite a curiosity.

—A meeting of all those in favour of forming a rowing club will be held in the parlours over the Palace Restaurant to-night at 8 o'clock. Officers will be elected and other important business transacted.

—A stray young child apparently about four years of age and who said his name was Fred McGuire, was brought to the police station this morning. Constable Stewart started out with the young one, and soon located its home.

—Mr. John Wood, village clerk, Ashburnham, has received a large supply of dog tags and all dog owners are requested to call on him and take out a tag as soon as possible. The clerk would be much obliged if all would comply with the dog by-law forthwith.

—The daily session of the police court began at nine o'clock this morning. The only case on the docket was a charge against a local hotelkeeper for not taking out his billiard license for 1894. At the request of the defence the magistrate enlarged the case until to-morrow in order to give the billiard licensee a chance to take out his license.

—The Loyal True Blues, Queen's Own Lodge, No. 48, will meet to-night in a regular meeting in their new hall for the first time. The lodges' new apartment are situated on Simcoe street, over Mr. C. N. Brown's store, in the hall formerly known as the old labour hall. The True Blues are having these premises elegantly painted, papered and renovated.

—Mr. John Armstrong, sr., who resides on Brown street, Ashburnham, met with what came nearl being a severe accident a few days ago. Having rented his premises he was cleaning up and burning old useless papers. Among them was one containing a small quantity of gun powder which he did not notice in putting it among others in the stove. An explosion followed in which Mr. Armstrong was severely shocked. His hands and face were badly burned, one side of his whiskers being almost destroyed. It was a very fortunate escape.

—The special union committee from the town met the members of the Ashburnham council at the town clerk's office on Saturday night to jointly confer in reference to the amalgamation of the two corporations. The committee, Councillor Kelly chairman, will present their report at the council meeting to-night, recommending that the union take place upon a certain basis or terms of union, which will be made known and discussed at the council meeting. The council will also take a vote on the question as to whether it is desirable to submit the proposed scheme to a vote of the ratepayers or not.

A Chinaman's Ambition.

The first ambition of every Chinaman is to have a splendid coffin. A poor man will starve himself for years to buy one. It is always received with great ceremony on its arrival at the house, and is regarded as the most valuable piece of furniture in the establishment. It is kept in the place of honor. No one is ever buried till there is ready money enough in the house to do so without the family running into debt. There are many strange customs connected with the funeral rites. One of these, which is all I have space for, is the burning at the tomb of paper horses, idols, umbrellas and clothes. These are supposed to be necessary and useful to the man when he gets to heaven. By being burned they undergo some material resurrection and meet him there.

The Lotus Eaters.

According to Homer, the lotus eaters were a people who lived on the northern coast of Africa, visited by Ulysses in his wanderings, and who endeavored to detain his companions by giving them the lotus to eat—whoever ate of this fruit wished never to depart. The Arabs called the fruit of the lotus the "fruit of destiny," which they believe is to be eaten in Paradise. The lotus is a shrub two or three feet high, and its fruit, which is produced in great abundance, is a dwarf of the size of a wild plum, which has a pleasant, sweet taste. The name lotus has been given to several beautiful specimens of water-lily, especially to the blue water-lily and the Egyptian water-lily.

Bits of Information.

There are 4,500 different species of what are popularly known as wild bees, of which 3,200 are found in North and South America.

There are more than 5,000 women in England and Wales who make a profession of gardening.

Fresh eggs are heavier than old ones; therefore when put in water the older ones will float higher.

Wheat and buckwheat as a feed, it is claimed, help to whiten the flesh of fowls.

The man who cannot make a dozen hens pay a fair profit on the investment will not succeed with a large number.

Weight and Cost of First Cable.

The original 1858 cable weighed 93 pounds per mile and had a conductor of seven copper wires of 22½ gauge. Price of deep sea wire per mile, $200; price of spun yarn and iron wire per mile, $265; cost of outside coating of tar and gutta-percha, $25 per mile; total cost per mile, $485. At $485 per mile the total cost of the 2,500 miles of deep sea wire was $1,212,500. To this add 25 miles of "shore end" wire, costing $1,450 per mile, and we find that the first ocean cable, exclusive of instruments, cost a million and a quarter dollars.—St. Louis Republic.

RIVER AND LAKE RIPLETS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Ancient Order of Foresters are making arrangements with President Commodore Calcutt of the Peterborough steamboat company for their annual outing, via the steamer "City of Peterborough," to Jubilee Point. The date has been fixed for July 1st.

On account of the locks swing bridge being totally frozen up on Saturday it delayed the steamer "Daisy" from towing the "City of Peterborough." However she was finally towed to her Ashburnham dock this morning.

The "Daisy" made a trip to Hale's bridge this afternoon.

Catarrh and Neuralgia

Good authority has said that "neuralgia is the cry of the nerves for pure blood." The prompt action of Hood's Sarsaparilla on the blood, combined with its toning and strengthening effect upon the nerves, make this a grand medicine for neuralgia and also for catarrh, etc. We commend this letter to all having such troubles, and especially to

Suffering Women

"For a good many years I have been suffering from catarrh, neuralgia and

General Debility

I failed to obtain permanent relief from medical advice, and my friends feared I would never find anything to cure me. A short time ago I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. At that time I was unable to walk even a short distance without feeling a overtake me. And I had intense pains from neuralgia in my head, back and limbs, which were very exhausting. But I am glad to say that soon after I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I saw that it was doing me good. When I took 3 bottles I was entirely

Death-like Weakness

Cured of Neuralgia

I gained in strength rapidly, and can take a two-mile walk without feeling tired. I do not suffer nearly so much from catarrh, and find that as my strength increases the catarrh decreases. I am indeed a changed woman, and am very grateful to for what it has done for me. It is my wish that this my testimonial shall be published in order that others suffering as I was may learn how to be benefited." MRS. M. E. MERRICK, 57 Elm Street, Toronto, Ont.

CHURCH CHIMES.

St. Andrew's church Y.P.S.C.E. at their regular weekly meeting to-night, will elect officers for the ensuing term.

The Visiting Committee of the Guild of St. Luke's church meets this afternoon in the schoolhouse at five o'clock.

The ladies of the Charlotte street church will hold an "At Home" at the church parsonage on Thursday evening next.

During the offertory in the Mark Street Methodist Church last night the Misses Kindred sang a duet in a beautiful manner.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of St. Paul's church, will hold their regular monthly meeting on Friday afternoon at 3.15 o'clock.

Next Sunday being the second Sunday in the month, there will be a celebration of Holy Communion at 8 o'clock in St. Luke's church.

In the evening anthem, "Abide with me," sung in the Charlotte street church on Sunday evening, Miss Annie Fawcett took the solo part.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the George Street Church will be held on Tuesday afternoon next at three o'clock.

The attendance at the George street church Sunday school yesterday shot over the highest mark again, the number being present in all was 613.

The Frazer Mission Band, of St. Paul's church, will hold its regular monthly meeting on Saturday afternoon next. A large attendance is requested.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees of the George Street Church will be held on Wednesday evening at the close of the prayer service.

Service will be held in St. Luke's church on Friday night at 8 o'clock, when the rector will give the last of the series of his address on St. Paul's Epistle to the Hebrews.

During the taking up of the collection in the Charlotte street church last night, a quartette consisting of Messrs. Squires, Steers, Stephens and Yenney sang a selection very creditably.

The service in St. Luke's church last evening was particularly bright and there was a good attendance. Part of the Easter music of the choir was repeated and was much appreciated.

The Lord's Supper will be dispensed at the close of the morning service in St. Andrew's church next Sunday morning. The preparatory service will be held on Friday night at 8 o'clock.

The members of the E. B. A. Branch, 21, received Holy Communion at St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday at 8 o'clock. The members of Court St. Peter's, C. O. F., will communicate next Sunday at 8 o'clock.

Miss Sophie Cameron, who has been spending the Easter holidays in town, sang "Calvary" in excellent form at St. Paul's church yesterday morning. Miss Cameron is always a welcome soloist here.

The presence of the Fire Brigade band orchestra at the Sunday school of the Charlotte street church every Sunday afternoon has had a noticeable effect upon the singing of the school, which is now capital.

Rev. C. W. Hedley conducted morning prayer and preached in St. Luke's church yesterday morning. Rev. Mr. Symonds conducted service at St. Mark's, Otonabee, in the morning and at Allandale in the afternoon.

The usual Sunday evening service at the Park street Baptist mission church did not take place last night, owing to the evangelistic services being conducted in the Murray street Baptist church by Messrs. Moore and Whyte.

Rev. Mr. Pickford for the first time conducted both services at the St. John's church mission yesterday, and preached two scholarly and thoughtful sermons. He created a very favourable impression, and large congregations were present.

The special services which have been conducted in the George street church during the past week, will, owing to the special request of a large number of the members of the church be, continued each evening of the present week. The public are cordially invited.

The singing by the George street church choir yesterday was decidedly attractive. In the morning two excellent anthems were sung, and in the evening two more were furnished. The duet in the second was taken by Mrs. Seward and Miss Pollard. Mr. R. A. Shaw during the contribution sang a solo.

The singing in St. Andrew's Church by the large choir was very satisfactory. In the morning two capital anthems were rendered, the solos in the first one being taken by Messrs. Garrow, Wesley and McNab. In the evening two more anthems were rendered. In the first Master Percy McIsaacs, a promising and talented young vocalist, took the soprano solo in a sweet manner and with much taste and expression for one so young. In the second anthem Prof. Davidson took the baritone solo very effectively.

MESSRS. MOORE AND WHYTE.

Evangelistic Services in the Murray street church—The Sunday Services.

The special services at the Murray Street Baptist Church yesterday were largely attended, especially in the evening, when extra seats had to be brought in to accommodate the large crowd present. The morning service opened with a prayer meeting from 10 to 11, when almost a hundred assembled in the lecture room to invoke a blessing, particularly on the days' work. The pastor conducted the opening services. Mr. Whyte sang in fine form one of his choice selections. Mr. Moore preached from I Chron., xxix chapter and last clause of fifth verse: "Who then is willing to consecrate his services this day unto the Lord?" a very practical and earnest discourse, in which he set forth the Christian's duty to live a life of separation and be wholly given up to the Lord and His service. Mr. Whyte again sang one of his fine solos. At this service a special collection was taken up for home missions.

In the evening Mr. Moore again preached a strong discourse from the words, "Why halt ye between two opinions, if God be God, follow Him, if Baal, follow Him." Earnestly he showed the folly of indecision and the necessity of deciding that, which concerns the soul's welfare for all eternity. Preceding this Miss M. Barker, Messrs. Whyte, Kempt and Routley sang a beautiful quartette entitled "He Intercedes for Me." Following the sermon Mr. Whyte sang effectively, "Calling the Wanderers Home," and at the second meeting that especial favourite, "Tolling Bells." These meetings which are growing in interest and attendance will continue this week, each evening, beginning with a song service at 7.45. Much blessing has followed these meetings. A hearty invitation is extended to the public to attend all these services.

OBITUARY.

The Late Mrs. A. E. Micks.

After a serious illness extending over three weeks, Mrs. Micks, 73 Harvey street, wife of Mr. A. E. Micks, hardware dealer, passed peacefully away at an early hour this morning. Deceased was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lockhart, Harvey street, and was married to her now sorrowing husband about eight years ago. Mrs. Micks, who has always lived in Peterborough, was thirty-three years of age and a faithful and respected member of the George street Methodist church. She leaves, besides her husband, two small children, one a little girl four and one-half years of age and the other an infant only a few weeks old. The funeral will take place from the family residence to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock to the Little Lake cemetery. The many friends of Mr. Micks and family will sympathize with him in his sad bereavement.

The Late Mrs. Sarah Armstrong.

The death of Mrs. Sarah Armstrong, relict of the late William Armstrong, occurred on Sunday morning about four o'clock at the residence of her daughter, Miss Sarah Armstrong, 393 George street. Deceased lady was over 80 years of age and had been a resident of Peterborough and vicinity for an almost continuous period of fifty years. The late Mrs. Armstrong, whose maiden name was West, was born in the county of Fermanagh, Ireland, and resided in the Emerald Isle until she was nearly thirty years of age. Before coming to Canada she was twice married. Her first husband was Jarrett Wm. Irvin, who lived only a few years. By this union two children were born, both of whom survive their mother. They are Mrs. Welsh, who resides in Montana, and Mr. Fred. Irvin Armstrong, of Orillia, who arrived in town yesterday to attend the funeral. Deceased lady's second husband was the late William Armstrong, who predeceased her by some twelve or thirteen years. By her second husband Mrs. Armstrong had four children, two of whom are still living, in the persons of Mr. John Armstrong, of Rochester, who will arrive this evening to attend the last sad rites, and Miss Sarah Armstrong, at whose residence Mrs. Armstrong, who has been living with her daughter for several years past, died. Deceased lady was of a kind disposition and possessed many excellent and praiseworthy qualities of character, which endeared her to all. She was well-known in the community in which she has lived for over half a century and her death will be generally regretted. Mrs. Armstrong was for many years a devout and conscientious member of the Methodist church. The funeral will take place from 393 George street, to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock and proceed to the Little Lake Cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM

Of the Late Daniel O'Leary.

(Si ambulavero in medio tribulationis, vivificabis me.)—Ps. 137, v. 8.

Lost in the darkness, lost in the snow,
Pray for the loved one, fervent, low.

You are his brother who tell me this,
Your soul has a nameless grief I wis.

So short since he lived in his youth and bloom,
Yet now he is claimed by the silent tomb.

Strange are the ways of God to men;
Some meet death peaceful and some with pain;

Some on the sea and some on the land,
In the dead of the night in the sunlight bland.

Put all as the Father's will ordained,
That so His unsearchable end be gained.

And surely there in the wild-wood lone,
Bright angels came from the heavenly throne.

And the parting soul was flooded with grace,
As the pure snow fell on the dying face.

No mother to smooth his brow knelt by,
But the glorious spirit of God was nigh.

Full happy I were thus from earth to go,
Tho' the winds swept around and the blinding snow.

But where shall the fond mother find relief,
For a broken heart, a bitter grief?

Where shall the wounded soul find balm,
The storm-tossed spirit rest and calm?

Lo! where a cross is raised to the sky,
And a sorrowful mother is standing by.

There on the bosom of heaven's high Queen,
The mourning women of earth may lean.

From that pure heart pierced with the arrows seven,
The mother shall draw the peace of heaven.

Beautiful Faith! your rays flash clear,
When the woes of life weigh heavy and drear.

When the way seems lost and the storm sweeps by,
And clouds of death obscure the sky.

You stand with your torch, a blazing star,
To light to the City of God afar.

CHEMONG PARK.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The water in the lake is considered high.

To enjoy the pleasures of rural life, one citizen is moving to the Park this week.

Miss Lizzie Deannard, Peterborough; Miss Helena Kearney, Young's Point; and Mrs. D. O. Robbin, Belleville, visited friends in this vicinity during the Easter holidays.

The injury which Mr. Ed. Mann recently received while breaking a jam of logs in Harvey, for Mr. W. B. Kelly, is doing as well as a broken leg could be expected.

In the bay, by the pavilion, is the haunt of muskrats. A dog while wading about in the water, became fast in a trap, and made the air hideous with his yelps until he was released.

During the continual high westerly winds that raged throughout last week, a booming sound filled the air, resembling the rumbling of distant thunder. The surging of waves upon the ice, which was from the western shore about fifty feet, was the cause. Stubbonly the vast piece of apparently loose ice, did not go hand-in-hand with the furious gales to demolish the bridges and do other damages, as expected. The bridge is yet safe, being held fast by the ice on the north-east side which did not move yet.

Capt. Wm. Bottum was at the park a few days ago. He says he is giving the steamer Maple Leaf a thorough overhauling, that his fast propeller may meet the demands of the growing traffic on these waters. The Captain, in keeping abreast with the times, has shown his patrons of the past the pleasures of a speedy trip through a beautiful expanse of waters among the most picturesque scenery.

Mr. John Pope, caretaker of the park, is building a boat house a little way north-east of the springs, where he will conduct the boat livery this summer in partnership with Mr. Rackham. The pier on which rests the outer sill ends of the building was struck by the ice during Saturday night's storm and when Mr. Pope next morning early drew near to note if any mischief had been done by the long threatening ice, he saw to his regret that his boat house hung in a zig-zag shape of destruction with the pier driven under it several feet.

Last spring when the steamer Columbian was launched she was likened to a floating palace, but when her designer beheld how low her bow went in the water, proof was plain that the splendid steamboat was not faultless. She did not trim up neatly, owing to the machinery being too far forward. To temporally counteract this difficulty a quantity of ballast was inserted in the stern. This spring, as the lakes show every indication of throwing off all ice in a few days to usher navigation in fully two weeks earlier than usual, Dr. McCamus is having the machinery removed aft to the required place. It is an expensive undertaking, but will add greatly to the appearance and speed of the imperial side-wheeler.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

REV. FATHER DAMIEN.

A VISIT TO THE LEPER SETTLEMENT AT MOLOKAI.

The Place Where the Good Priest Spent His Martyred Life—The Distressing and Heartrending Surroundings—Something About the Canadian Leper Colony.

Rev. W. H. Barnes, of Banff, N.W.T., writes as follows in Saturday Night about his recent visit to the leper settlement at Molokai, Hawaiian Islands:

Hastening next across the settlement, looking in at the barrack-like dwellings provided by the Government for such as are too poor to build for themselves, and finding in these sick and well, sound and diseased, eating, talking and smoking together, we come to Kalawao, the village where Damien lived and died. Here we were welcomed by Father Conrady as warmly as though we belonged to his communion. He took us into the Boys' Home, which Damien founded; into the church, neat, plain and comfortable, built first by Damien's own hands, then enlarged and enriched out of the £1,000 collected in England. Hard by, within sound of the waves lapping on the beach, is the lauhala (pandanus) tree, which was Damien's only shelter when first he arrived and under which his body now rests. A flower was plucked from the grave as a souvenir of that devoted man; one whose life, notwithstanding any contradictions his character may present, must ever stand forth as a monument of what Christian love can lead a man to do for his fellows. Others besides Damien have done such things, are doing them still, not only in Molokai, but elsewhere also; it may be in a better way. Yet Damien, wanting if you like in graces of character, was the lepers' friend; washing their sores with his own hands, tending them when in the most repulsive stages of their malady, when hideous and putrescent, even their dearest ones might well recoil from contact with them. His own hands administered to such as these the last rites of their religion. He it was who enshrouded and laid to rest the fragments of this horrid feast of death upon the human frame. By community of suffering, Damien truly sympathized with those for whom he gave his life. Only once I beheld him, and not knowing who he was, admired his fine physique. Even then, alas, the traces of the fearful disease were apparent. A few years later a picture of his wasted and haggard features was given to the world by one who had crossed two oceans to see him, as Damien lay on his deathbed, a leper. This man surely, whose monument now bears the inscription: "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends," appeals by the eloquence of his devoted life to a self-seeking, money-grubbing generation, allures them by the attraction of a great example, to a higher ideal, a nobler conception of life and duty.

We pass into the hospital, where good Sisters now tend those who, in the last stages have no friends to perform this act of charity for them. Other Sisters of the same community take charge of a home for girls. These institutions were founded by Hon. C. R. Bishop of Honolulu, whose wife was a native princess.

While we were still at the Hospital, the Royal party arrived. Some of the boys were brought over from the Home to sing to the Queen. Poor little fellows! They sang the light-hearted songs of Hawaii, full of love and laughter and flowers. What a hollow mockery it all seemed! With faces the picture of misery, with voices either husky or strangely shrill, there they stood and sang in the glorious sunshine, with the blue sea beyond. One could hardly conceive that it was real. Rather did one seem to look upon it as some scene in a pantomime, and looked for the hideous masks to fall off and the young, laughing faces, to appear in all their freshness and beauty. But it was only too true, too real! They made their bow and shuffled off, and with them a pale, gaunt figure in blue dungaree garments, such as are worn by common laborers in that country. "Who is that?" one asked. "That was brother Joseph (Dutton), the American soldier who cast in his lot with Damien to tend him in his sickness. It was to expiate a misspent life," whispered someone. Ah, who can tell what promptings of the heart must have come to bid a man take up a task like that? What shall we gain if we enquire? "By their fruits ye shall know them."

The Sisters pressed us to stay for some refreshments. "Don't be afraid to eat," they urged. "No one but ourselves have touched it." These good women even cultivate with their own hands a patch of bananas and vegetables for their table.

And so, with the last rays of the setting sun, we left the "valley of the shadow," as a native editor present that day called it.

If the scene on arrival was distressing, that at parting was heartrending. What wailing, what lingering embraces, what tears! Here a poor child trying to fling herself out of the boat to get back to her leper father, on whom she might never hope to set eyes again in this life, unless—terrible thought—she herself should develop symptoms of the malady, and herself receive sentence of banishment to the Isle of Woe. Thus surrounded by the unfortunate beings on whom the sentence of divine justice appears to have most heavily fallen in this life, we returned to the ship. Auwe! auwe! the terrible Hawaiian wail; more terrible when uttered by these poor creatures, rang in our ears the whole time we were re-embarking, and long after we had weighed anchor. When the houses of the settlement had become white specks upon the green patch of land beneath the frowning cliffs, we could still hear, or we seemed to hear, the farewells, the hoarse cries, the wails of its stricken inhabitants.

Soon night fell, swiftly, almost suddenly, as in those tropical seas. And now the stars appear. To our right, low down on the horizon, the pole star, Orion; above, and on our left, the Southern Cross, "like silver lamps," brilliant above, only less brilliant as their reflection scintillates in the dark waters below. After a day surcharged with sorrow, they seemed to remind us that beyond these scenes there is a home where the afflicted sons of earth may find life and health, joy and peace.

The Canadian Leper Colony.

It may be interesting in this connection to give a few facts relating to leprosy in Canada, for we have a small leper colony at Tracadie, New Brunswick. The medical superintendent, Dr. A. C. Smith, in a recent report to the Dominion Government, said: "The institution is fulfilling the object of its organization—the segregation of leprous persons, who otherwise would insidiously and surely become centres of contagion or spread the disease through hereditary transmission." There are at present twenty persons on the register of the lazaretto, eleven males and nine females. Eleven of these are in the first or early stage of the malady, six in the second and three in the third or final stage. There were six deaths during the year, and four new cases were admitted. Of those admitted two came from Lower Caraquet, one from Shippegan parish, and one from the parish of St. Isidore—all in the county of Gloucester, N. B. No new cases have occurred for several years in the Tracadie neighborhood, and Dr. Smith believes the disease has been thoroughly uprooted there. "I find," he says, "that here, as in other countries, poor sanitary surroundings, defective and bad dietetic conditions, and uncleanliness are important factors in the spread of leprosy." It is noticeable that the female patients on entering the institution, although seeming to suffer more keenly at first, become resigned to their sad lot much sooner than do the males. Friends and relatives are allowed to visit the poor unfortunates, but, as a general thing, a leper's relatives look upon him, when immured in the lazaretto, as gone from them for ever, and seldom visit him. In the early stages of the disease there is seldom much suffering beyond pains resembling rheumatism, but near the close of life there is much distress, particularly from ulcerated mouth, tongue and throat.

Mrs. Languish. "Tired! Oh, so tired all the time!" Mrs. Smart. "Well, so I used to be until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a spring medicine, and now I don't know what it is to have that tired feeling. Try it, my dear; only be sure you get Ayer's."

Writes Postmaster J. C. WOODSON, Forest Hill, W. Va., "I had a bronchial trouble of such a persistent and stubborn character, that the doctor pronounced it incurable with ordinary medicines, and advised me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I did so, and one bottle cured me. For the last fifteen years, I have used this preparation with good effect whenever I take and I know of numbers of people who keep it in the house all the time, not considering it safe to be without it."

"I have been using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for 30 years, with the most satisfactory results, and can cheerfully recommend it as being especially adapted to all pulmonary complaints. I have, for many years, made pulmonary and other medicines a special study, and I have come to the conclusion that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral occupies a position pre-eminent over other medicines of the class."—Chas. Davenport, Dover, N. J.

NATURE MAKES GLASS.

In the Process She Measures Lightning's Diameter.

Did you ever see the diameter of a lightning flash measured? asked a geologist. Well, here is the case which once enclosed a flash of lightning, fitting it exactly, so that you can just see how big it was. This is called a "fulgurite," or "lightning hole," and the material it is made of is glass. I will tell you how it was manufactured, though it took only a fraction of a second to turn it out.

When a bolt of lightning strikes a bed of sand it plunges downward into the sand for a distance, less or greater, transforming simultaneously into glass the silica in the material through which it passes. Thus, by its great heat, it forms at once a glass tube of precisely its own size.

Now and then such a tube, known as a "fulgurite," is found and dug up. Fulgurites have been followed into the sand by excavations for nearly thirty feet. They vary in interior diameter from the size of a quill to three inches or more, according to the bore of the flash.

But fulgurites are not alone produced in sand; they are found also in solid rocks, though very naturally of slight depth and frequently existing merely as a thin glassy coating on the surface. Such fulgurites occur in astonishing abundance on the summit of Little Ararat, in Armenia.

The rock is soft and so porous that a block a foot long can be obtained perforated in all directions by little tubes filled with bottle green glass formed from the fused rock. There is a small specimen in the National Museum which has the appearance of having been bored by the toredo, the holes made by the worm subsequently filled with glass. I am indebted to the "Washington Star" for the foregoing accounts.

I may add that Charles Darwin mentions these fulgurites in his book of travels and Humboldt found some on the high Nevada de Zolnca, in Mexico. Humboldt ascended this precipitous peak at the risk of his own life.

Opals Becoming Less Unpopular.

The prejudices against opals seems to be disappearing. Anyhow they are popular. There are several varieties of opal and therefore several degrees of merit. The precious, or noble, or oriental opal is the supreme. This has all the colors, and when these colors are broken into spangles it is then called the harlequin opal. Then comes the fire opal, or girasol, with hyacinth red and yellow reflection—the former comes from Hungary, the latter from Mexico. The common, or semi-opals, are non-opalescent. The hydrophane, or oculus mundi, is nontransparent, but becomes so by immersion in water or any transparent fluid. The cachalong is nearly opaque and of a bluish white color. The hyalite is colorless, pellucid and white. The opal jasper or wood opal is the petrifaction of wood, opalescent, but without the coloring which makes the "noble" gem so precious.—Lewiston Journal.

Don't Fold Your Letters to the Queen.

A useful piece of information to any of those suffering from that dreadful infliction cacoethes scribendi, and who in consequence feel themselves impelled to write to Queen Victoria, will do well to bear in mind is that they must on no account fold the paper on which they have written. No communication which bears evidence of having been creased will ever fall into Her Majesty's hands. The proper method is to write on thick, glossy white paper and to dispatch the missive in an envelope which fits it. Any folded communication never reaches the Queen, for the simple reason that she won't look at it. All such letters are opened by the mistress of the robes, and as a rule their contents never get beyond her, or if the letter is of importance it is returned to the writer with directions how to forward it.—London Letter.

Journalism and Literature.

Mrs. Deland calls journalism "the big brother of literature." What she meant as sarcasm is a fact. Journalism is the big brother without whose aid ninety-nine litterateurs out of a hundred could not live. This is the age of daily brains. Those who fancy that book and magazine writers are superior to journalists, would revise their opinions did they realize how many more words to ideas are found in most books and most magazine articles than in newspapers where space is of far more importance. Journalism is driving so called literature out of the market. The people are the gainers. They buy the contents of a book for five cents and less. When their taste becomes classic the newspaper will be classic, too, even in the wording of murders and prize fights.—Kate Field's Washington.

Street Cars in Cairo.

Cairo, Egypt, is becoming modernized so fast that, not content with electric lights, the government has given a concession for a street car system. The electric car idea promises to be adopted, and the whirr and fizz of the trolley will drive the donkey and the donkey boy out of business. In the near future the tourist will be able to take a street car to the Pyramids and wait for the returning car in the shadow of the Sphinx.

Clogs.

American workingmen are more lightly shod on the average than those of Europe and nothing excites more scorn and astonishment in this country than the heavy boots and shoes brought over by emigrants. Shoes thickly studded with hob-nails last perhaps three times as long as the lighter footgear, but the American workingman would feel himself clogged and hampered by such foot weights.

A Valuable Book.

It is a mortgage for $5,038,000, executed by the Houston & Texas Central in favor of the Loan & Trust Co., of New York, and the Southern Pacific. The amount is made payable in gold, the bonds being for $1,000 each, due April 1, 1912.

Animals Voices.

An organist says that a cow moos in a perfect fifth octave, or tenth; a dog barks in a fifth or fourth; a donkey brays in a perfect octave, and a horse neighs in a descent on the chromatic scale.

ON $50 A MONTH.

A Chicago Man's Solution of the Housekeeping Puzzle.

D. R. Cox of this city thinks he has hit upon a practical solution of a serious nineteenth century problem—how to live and support a wife in comparative luxury on $50 a month.

His plan consists of a co-operative apartment house to accommodate 200 families, rooms arranged in suits as follows: One hundred and twenty-six apartments of three rooms each, 12 apartments of four rooms each, 44 apartments of five rooms each and 24 apartments of six rooms each. The whole house is to occupy a half square of ground and to be five stories high.

The main building is to be constructed around a rectangular court, and on this court, with proper air space between it and the main building, will be constructed a dining and amusement hall. Mr. Cox says he can offer a suit of three rooms and board for a man and his wife at the dining saloon for $35 a month. This is, of course, the main item of expense. Some of the other items in which he offers to save money for his tenants by co-operation is on their laundry, which he estimates he can have done for $1.40 a month. A good barber can be secured who will shave for 5 cents and cut hair for 10 cents if he has a guarantee of enough customers to afford him a good living at those rates. Likewise the services of a good physician would be obtainable on such a large contract at a very reasonable fee to the individual.

Going outside with the same system, Mr. Cox would make contracts for his guests with the shoe dealer, the dry goods man, the clothing merchant and other merchants, whereby they would make a low special rate to his guests on the condition that these merchants would get all the trade in their respective lines which the guests had to bestow.

Mr. Cox has made a careful study of all the details involved in such a scheme, has made all the plans and drawings for his "home," and says that as soon as he can get capitalists to take hold of the erection of the necessary building he will have his system in operation and give a practical demonstration of his theory that a man and wife can live well and have something left on a salary of $50 per month.

Incidentally Mr. Cox expects to be a benefactor to that large class of well educated young men who are not able to command large salaries and who are prevented from marrying on account of the financial difficulties in the way, but who would gladly marry if they could see their way clear to do so.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

London Crossing-Sweepers.

A shilling a day is the limit of the average income of the London crossing-sweeper, and this is rather an over than an under calculation, since, although a few of the luckiest who are to be found in the West End squares or the fashionable thoroughfares, or opposite government offices or banking houses, may possibly earn twelve or fifteen shillings a week, there are a large number daily to be found in the by streets of the metropolis who assert that eightpence a day is their average takings. As proof positive of their allegations they refer inquirers to the parochial authorities, from whom they receive so many loaves of bread a week as outdoor relief. The old stories of abundant suppers and stockings full of money have, at the present day, no foundation in truth, and the negro crossing-sweeper, who bequeathed £500 to the daughter of Alderman Waithman, would appear to have been the last member of the class whose earnings were above his actual necessities.—London Telegraph.

Where Hustling Is Unknown.

Besides the climate and scenery of the Bermudas, so much in contrast with the countries of the north, there are ease, quiet and content everywhere, so pronounced as to put the busy American ill at ease until after a few days' sojourn he, too, drops gracefully into the pervading conservatism of the place. No railroads, no trolleys, no factories to disfigure, obstruct or endanger. None of the hustle or bustle or toil of our progressive states. Bermudans do not know what it is to fret or hurry. There are time and plenty for everything. It is early to begin business at 9, and at dusk or night there is no need of shopping. "He that riseth late must trot all day" is all very well in our country, but in Bermuda, "He that riseth early gets nowhere."

Few hours of labor and long hours of rest is the motto that rules all, and the negroes are quite in their element. Here the ambitions of the busiest minds must subside, and bewildering distraction must give way to a restful sans souci. Nor is there here any of the abject poverty and misery which are so nakedly and painfully manifest among the poorest of our states. With a climate at all times pleasant, a soil capable of rendering three crops annually and surrounding waters alive with a wondrous variety of fish, the very poorest have always a "sufficient for the day."

Whether it is these elements of natural advantage or the moral influence of the churches, found in every considerable settlement, that go so far to settle one's nerves and make life as a day dream here, it is difficult to determine, but certain it is that no northerner can visit these islands without feeling that they indeed are well worth seeing and well worth knowing.—Donahoe's Magazine.

A POTLACH IN ALASKA.

ONE OF THE PECULIAR CUSTOMS OF THE NATIVES.

The Salmon Berry Season is the Great Merry-Making Event of These Far Northern Tribes—The Picking and the After Feasts—How They Enjoy.

The natives or Indians of southwestern Alaska are of a very sociable nature, and have a good many feasts and social gatherings during the year, which are participated in by both old and young. The salmon berry grows in Alaska in great abundance and attains a size and excellence that I have never seen equaled anywhere else. As may be supposed, in a country where fruit, except the hardier varieties of small fruit, is scarce, they are eagerly sought and highly appreciated by the natives, and therefore one of their principal anniversary feasts is called the "salmon-berry potlach." When this fruit is at its best, which is from about the first to the middle of August, a large number of natives, both men and women, take canoes and go away from the village to an island or part of the coast some distance off, where the berries are ripe, luscious and abundant. When they reach the picking ground they all start in, and while they talk, laugh and have fun, they gather hundreds of gallons of berries, which are put into cans, boxes and baskets, and in two or three days the party is ready to return home. The canoes all keep in sight of each other and as they approach the village, flags and showy streamers of calico or other material are displayed by the returning berry-pickers. The Indians left at home, including women and children, march down to the beach to meet them. As the canoes approach they line up in a row and stop, just a short distance from the shore. The spokesman of the party stands up in the center canoe and makes a speech to the receiving party, that is crowding down to the very edge of the water. He recounts the incidents of the voyage, and tells them, in rather stilted and grandiloquent style, of the protection they had from the spirit of the sea while on the water, of the success they had, and of the choice supply of fruit obtained. After the close of this address an Indian on shore steps forward and delivers a reply, and glad welcome to those in the canoes. He tells them of any thing of importance that may have happened since they left, and congratulates them on their safe return. The whole crowd then commence singing and beating rude tambourines, and those on the beach rush into the edge of the water and then take hold of the canoes to help pull them onto the shore. After all the berrypickers are landed, they and their friends form a procession and march up to the village, and there in front of the house of the chief, amid singing and general rejoicing, a large number of presents, consisting of blankets, calicos, domestics and various other kinds of goods, are distributed so that each person gets at least one present. These presents sometimes amount to $1,000 to $2,000 in value, and the giving of them is called "potlach." Some of the more fortunate natives will often get several valuable presents at the potlach. After the presents are distributed, the berries are carried into the different houses and a feast and general good time ends the celebration.

Wild White Cattle.

A permanent memorial is to be made of the famous herd of wild white cattle at Cadzow Forest, the property of the Duke of Hamilton. The Duke has given instructions to have presented to the Kelvingrove Museum, Glasgow, a collection of specimens representing the herd. These will consist of a stuffed bull, cow and calf, and the skeleton of another bull. The herd has recently been partly crossed with the equally famous wild cattle of Chillingham Park, and it is, therefore, likely that the pure Cadzow breed may not long be available for preservation.

Fat Sheep for the British.

New Zealand has twenty-five establishments in which mutton is frozen for the British market. The output is some two million fat sheep a year. The sheep used for this purpose are chiefly crosses of Merino and Down, long-wooled breeds. Shropshire Downs and Lincolns are in much favor for rich, level pastures, while in hilly and broken situations Border Leicesters have proved quite successful for crossing on Merino ewes.

Indigo Industry.

During the last seven years the area devoted to indigo in India has been about 300,000 acres, but in 1891-2 it sunk nearly one-third. A favorable season and a rise in the price of indigo at Calcutta, led to a great extension of the industry in 1893, and the area of cultivation was estimated at 350,000 acres. The output was about eight per cent. above the average rail exports for the last twelve years.

Chinese in Russia.

Large quantities of tea plants and appliances for the manufacture of tea, together with Chinese laborers, are being transported from China with a view of establishing plantations in the Ural region of Southeastern Russia, which has been found very favorable to the growth of the tea plant. The Chinese trading classes do not favor the project, as they fear it will become, like tea culture in India and Ceylon, another serious rival to the native industry.

The Marked Success

Which attended the formal opening of our New Millinery and Mantle Department has been a matter of sincere congratulation and encouragement—far in excess of our highest expectations.

The special efforts we put forth to excel has amply repaid us and we are pleased to know that our beautiful display has evoked so much favourable comment from the Ladies.

We take this opportunity of thanking the large number of ladies who daily patronized our Show Rooms, not only for the many liberal orders they favoured us with, but for their kind words and flattering preferences for our exhibition over all others.

The Good Start

which we have made in our Millinery and Mantle Department will be an incentive to continued efforts to excel. The array of Rich and Beautiful Millinery will be fully maintained throughout the season, and as fast as new novelties appear or favourite lines become exhaus'd, we will be prompt in ordering.

Woollen Mill Destroyed.

BRIDGEWATER, Ont., April 2.—The woollen mill here was burned on Saturday morning. Nothing was saved. The building was valued at $3,000 and the machinery $2,000. The damage to the dam will be about $1,000. Only a small insurance.

Killed by Falling Down Stairs.

QUEBEC, Que., April 2.—Saturday night an old maid named Caroline Pepin was killed instantly by falling down a flight of stairs and breaking her neck. It is supposed she was in a state of intoxication at the time.

DEATH OF MAJOR LE CARON.

He Was Once Employed as a Spy on Irishmen in America.

LONDON, April 2.—The Times announces this morning the death of Major Le Caron, who was once employed by the British Government as a spy upon Irishmen in America. The Times says: "He died yesterday afternoon, after suffering some time from a painful malady. He bore the pain with the fortitude and iron resolution characteristic of his whole career."

Liberal Victories in England.

LONDON, April 2.—The result of the election for a member of Parliament to represent Berwickshire is a Liberal victory. The Liberal candidate, Mr. Tennant, received 2,722 votes and his opponent, C. B. Balfour, Conservative, received 2,157 votes, a majority of 567 for the Liberal. At the previous election the Right Hon. Edward Marjoribanks received 2,704 votes, a majority of 748 over Mr. Balfour. The vacancy in Berwickshire was caused by the elevation to the peerage of the Right Hon. Edward Majoribanks upon the death of his father, Baron Tweedmouth. In Montgomeryshire the Liberals have also won a victory. Humphreys Owen, Liberal, defeated R. Williams Wynn by a vote of 3,440 to 3,215. Here again the Conservatives showed improvement in the voting, but their candidate was defeated.

More Trouble in Samoa.

LONDON, April 2.—A despatch from Berlin to the Daily News says that private intelligence has reached that city from Samoa to the effect that fresh fighting is threatened. The natives still have arms and the Government can only reckon, besides the few troops at Apia, on part of the Sarai, of warriors who are jealous of the Aanas. In order to prevent complications as long as possible Chief Justice Ide and the town council have invited seventeen of the discontented chiefs to attend a conference at which their grievances may be discussed.

Behring Sea Bill Withdrawn.

LONDON, April 2.—In consequence of an exchange of cablegrams between Washington and London, Sir Charles Russell has withdrawn his bill to provide for the execution of the award made by the Behring Sea tribunal of arbitration. He will modify the bill and introduce it again on April 5.

Coaching Accident Near Liverpool.

LONDON, April 2.—A party of actors chartered a coach on Saturday and drove to Aintree to witness the Grand National steeplechase. On the way back the coach was overturned and everybody on board was seriously injured. Arthur Wilkinson, a comedian, had his skull fractured and died.

Unsuccessful Bank Burglars.

BUFFALO, N.Y., April 2.—The Bank of Hamburg at Hamburg, this county, was burglarized Saturday. The burglars got some $825 worth of postage stamps deposited in the bank for safe keeping, but were unable to blow open the bank's vaults.

A Mad Dog Scare.

WATERLOO Ont., April 2.—Considerable excitement was caused by the appearance of a dog on Main street exhibiting all the symptoms of rabies. Many dogs were bitten and women and children attacked, one little girl having her hand lacerated by it. The citizens turned out with weapons, and after a good deal of chasing succeeded in despatching the brute. Owing to the uncertainty of the number of dogs that may have possibly received the virus the mayor has issued an order to the effect that all dogs must for the present be muzzled or tied up.

A Frightful Suicide.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Eugene Colhk, an unemployed butcher, killed himself in a frightful manner on Saturday. After shooting himself in the head he plunged out of the third-storey window and dashed his brains out on the sidewalk. In his descent he turned a somersault and fell on his side across a V-shaped sign, which gave way. He then turned another somersault, during which one of his feet smashed in a saloon window. His head struck the sidewalk near the curb.

Fatal Natural Gas Explosion.

ALEXANDRIA, Ind., April 2.—The Whiteside block on Main street was demolished by a terrific explosion of natural gas, thought to have resulted from a leak in the basement, last Saturday morning. Seven men were buried in the ruins which caught fire. Four of them were burned to death and three taken out badly injured.

Trade Troubles in New York.

NEW YORK, April 2.—The difference among building trades has culminated in a practically complete cessation of work in every building, large or small, owing allegiance to the Board of Walking Delegates. The men have been ordered out.

An A. P. A. Fight.

MILWAUKEE, April 2.—About 30 Polish members of the American Protective Association last night broke down the doors of the St. Vincent Catholic school with axes and hatchets. The St. Vincent branch of the Catholic Columbian League, organized to counteract the A. P. A. agitation in this city, was holding a meeting in the hall and had locked the doors. The latter were prepared for the attack and a general fight began. Frank Phillips was fatally injured and seven others were stabbed. Seven A. P. A. men, all of them wounded, were arrested.

A Professor Suicides.

ATLANTA, April 2.—Prof. J. Colloway, president of Douglasville, Ga., college, committed suicide on Saturday by shooting himself in the heart.

Palms in Australia.

The government of South Australia some years ago caused its explorers to plant seeds of date palms at their camps. The palms from those seeds have grown to tall, productive trees; and well-matured dates have been received at Adelaide. The Queensland government is planting cocoanut palms on the islands along its coast.

Sheep Breeding in France.

Notwithstanding the fostering care of the French government, sheep breeding has declined in Algeria, and official reports show that for several years past there has been a progressive decrease in the number of sheep. The present number is estimated at 8,896,000, the estimates being based on official figures.

Sheep Shearing.

Comparative trials of sheep shearing by hand and by machine, made in Australia, resulted largely in favor of the machines. It was found that a thousand sheep could be sheared by machine for about ten dollars, and the yield of wool is about eight ounces per head more than when sheared by hand.

Coffee Growing.

Coffee planting is being pushed in the British colonies of North Borneo and Central Africa. In the former Liberian seeds and seedlings are distributed among the natives, who have each to plant fifty trees, selling the produce at a fixed price.

FOOT-BALL.

A Strong Wish to Keep Brutality Out of the Game.

Little need be said of the momentum plays. They were introduced last year by Mr. Deland, though they were seen for the first time at the Harvard-Yale game at Springfield, practically at the end of the season, and their use therefore did not become general. They have spread not only over the East, but into the far West, and been played, one might say, universally by all teams professing any knowledge of modern football. They have been more instrumental in raising this cry of "brutality" in football than any set of plays that were ever put forth. However, they have done some good in convincing careful students of the game that, after all is said and done, straight, fast football will score more points in a game than showy tricks. They have been very hard on the men, which is quite easy to understand, and it is surprising indeed there have not been more serious accidents.

Naturally it was a question of very short time after the introduction of flying plays before they would be met by flying resistance, and so this season we have seen offensive flying plays met by flying defensive work, and what the result has been every football man knows. These momentum or flying plays should all be legislated out of the game. There has been some talk, I note, of retaining the flying wedge on the kick-off, but I do not see any more reason for keeping this wedge on the kick-off than of retaining it throughout the game. There is nothing particularly skilful in it. It is merely adding speed to the old wedge, the principle being that it is much harder to stop men on the run. It would continue to be met by flying defensive play, and we should be perpetuating one of the most offensive features of the game.

Classed with the momentum plays must be considered the flying interference, which we saw very skilfully done by the University of Pennsylvania team as well as by Harvard, though the former carried it off much more successfully. This is the style of play that, while not so trying on the men as some of the others of the flying species, is of a pattern not at all desirable. Moreover, this flying interference play, particularly as shown by Harvard this season, was not a ground-gainer. It will have to be legislated out along with the rest of the new-fangled flying plays. And it will not take very elaborate legislation to do away with all this flying business. The rule need simply be made that no man shall start until the ball is actually in play, and the problem is solved.—Harper's Weekly.

Beauty In Agony.

The amber light streamed through the opalescent shades of the lamp. The blue hangings of the room shimmered in the yellow glow. The flames leaped in riotous red and gold, flashed in lilac crimson against the asbestos back of the gas stove. In the silvery sheen of the long mirror the dancing flames, the topaz lamp light and the cerulean blue of the denim draperies were reflected.

The mirror gave back another vision—a woman with tawny hair falling in a waving, curling mass to her waist. A woman with unfathomable eyes in whose gold-green depths all the mystery of life and death was held. A woman with white, cameo-like face. But what a look it wore! What anguish was in the wide, wild eyes. What misery curved the lips of pomegranate red. She raised her arms, as curved and warm and pink as a goddess's, back of her golden hair, above her stately head. There was despair in the gesture. There was despair in the way the lithe figure bent backward; despair in the glowing, glorious eyes; despair that deepened and darkened; anguish that intensified.

Suddenly she fell on her knees. There was almost madness in the gesture with which she shut out the view of her own ripe, warm, lovely, agonized face. But there was wild triumph in the tone in which she cried:

"I'd like to see one of the Delsarte girls come up to that position of despair."

Gems.

The Orion diamond is believed to be responsible for sixty-seven murders.

The island of Ceylon is the most remarkable gem deposit in the world.

Pliny, in the first century, was the first writer to describe the diamond.

The carat, used in estimating the weight of gems is a grain of Indian wheat.

The pearl is only carbonate of lime, is readily affected by acids and burns into lime.

The pearl is the only gem that does not require the lapidary's art to bring out its beauty.

The largest diamond ever known was the Great Mogul, which weighed in its rough 795 carats.

The diamond has been found on all the continents and in almost every country in the world.

The diamond mines of Brazil have yielded over 15,000,000 carats of stones, valued at $100,000,000.—Chicago Dispatch.

Would Not Live Again.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox, the poetess, said: "I would not be a girl again because I believe that we are thrown into this world under conditions best suited to develop our characters, and to learn by experience, mistakes, errors and sufferings what life means. I would do exactly as I have done were my life to be lived over.

"Every mistake I ever made served me as a warning and a guide; every misstep has enabled me to have charity for others; every sorrow has been a source of knowledge; therefore I would have it all as it is."

Was Honestly Sorry.

Wife—You can see now how much your friends cared for you. During your long illness only one has called to see you.

Husband—And that was Jones, wasn't it?

"Yes, he came every day, and said he was very sorry that you were too sick to see him. He is the only real friend you've got."

"Yes, I suppose so. The day before I was taken down I promised to lend him $50."

Tonnage of Warships.

The total tonnage of warships launched during 1893 by the most active naval powers was as follows: France, 52,183; United States, 40,050; Great Britain, 28,290, and Russia, 17,326.

Where the Ark Rested.

Mount Ararat, the resting-place of the Scriptural ark, is in reality two mountains separated by a valley. The higher peak is 17,210 feet and the lesser 13,000 feet above the sea level.

A Legend.

According to Scandinavian legends, the swallow hovered over the cross, singing, "Svala! Svala!" (Cheer up! Cheer up!) and hence it receives the name of svala, or swallow, "the bird of consolation."

Mrs. Dr. Fenton, Oshawa, Ont., says: "I was desperately sick with Rheumatism of the muscles of the Lungs. SCOTT'S COMPRESS CURE healed me."

LIBERAL CONVENTION

West Peterborough

A mass meeting of the supporters of the Mowat Administration for West Peterborough will be held in BRADBURNS' OPERA HOUSE, on

Wednesday, April 18th,

For the purpose of nominating a candidate to contest the riding at the general election. Hon. R. HARCOURT, Provincial Treasurer, and Mr. CHAS. MACKENZIE, M.P.P., West Lambton, will address the meeting, in addition to the nominee of the convention, and other local supporters of the government.

At 1.30 p.m. the officers of the Riding Association will be elected, and the nomination of a candidate will take place at 2 p.m., immediately after which the speaking will commence.

A large attendance of the supporters of the government are particularly requested at the convention and the electors generally are invited to attend the after meeting.

IT PAYS TO WAIT.

—:o:—

We have done our best to show the Peterborough public the newest Spring Millinery by not having our opening before the new goods are in stock, and we have more than proved that the people appreciate our efforts by the throngs that have been crowding our show rooms since the opening, and the many exclamations that we hear on every side, that our display was the prettiest and most varied they ever witnessed, and oh! here is something I can wear that is both neat and becoming. You ask us how we got up such a varied stock suitable for every taste; the secret is we have been in the millinery business for years and understand what the Peterborough public like. As to prices one lot of manufacturer's samples alone we bought free of duty which is 30 per cent, and leaves us in a position to sell them that much cheaper than other houses. Our motto has always been from the beginning, small profits and quick returns and give honest, reliable goods for the money.

See our beautiful display under the gaslight Saturday night.

The time has arrived for Spring Mantles and Wraps. Our stock is complete in this department in all the newest styles and materials shown. Cloth from 60c. up.

Our Mantle Maker has the confidence of the public being well known for a perfect fit.

Our stock of Imported Worsteds and Serges for our Tailoring department is now in. They are beautiful goods and grand value. Give us a trial. A perfect fit guaranteed.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Respecting a Supposed Contagious Disease in Grey County Cattle.

FEE COMMISSION'S SITTINGS.

Sir Oliver Mowat Assures Mr. Meredith That Their Examinations Will be Open to the Public—Bill Relating to Witness Fees Withdrawn.

TORONTO, April 3.—Replying to Mr. Rorke in the Legislature yesterday, Hon. Mr. Dryden said he had received word of an outbreak among cattle in Grey county. Upon receiving the information the department had communicated with Dr. Andrew Smith, one of the Dominion inspectors for contagious diseases. Under his authority the district had been visited and the affected animals examined; the conclusion came to being that the disease was not contagious, but arises from local causes, and was mainly due to the special character of the food, which was said to contain more or less ergot. Dr. Smith had reported that as soon as the food was changed the animals would speedily recover.

Regarding Temporary Employes.

Dr. Ryerson moved for a return giving the numbers and religions of the temporary employes of the Department of Public Works at the new Parliament buildings and Osgoode hall during the years 1892-93.

Hon. Mr. Fraser said it was not fair to confine the return to one or two buildings. There were a number of institutions within the city of Toronto and elsewhere throughout the province in which temporary officials had been employed by the department during 1892-93, and if the comparison was to be a fair one, the return ought to be of wider scope. He suggested the word "numbers" be struck out and the word "names" inserted, and the following added: "Together with the time and the kind of work of each employe and the total wages paid to each person." This would give the desired information.

Mr. Ryerson had no objection, and the motion passed in the amended form.

In the absence of Mr. Whitney his bill respecting witness fees, on motion of Mr. Meredith, was discharged from the order paper.

Vital Statistics.

Mr. Field moved the second reading of his bill respecting the registration of births, deaths and marriages, which provides for the keeping of duplicate returns of registrations.

Mr. Meredith thought the bill would mean an enormous burden on the clerks of the municipalities. It was read a second time and referred to the Legal Committee.

Mr. Harty's Bill.

Mr. Harty moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Act regulating travelling on public highways and bridges. It provides that fines imposed for furious driving over Cataraqui bridge, Kingston, shall go to the company by whom the bridge is maintained instead of to the municipality as at present.

The second reading was carried on division.

To Abolish the Poll Tax.

Mr. Waters moved the second reading of a bill to amend the Municipal Act. He explained that one of the provisions sought to abolish the poll tax. The bill also asked for the abolition of the provision requiring one day's statute labor from farmers' sons, the fathers of the young men being already taxed for the requisite amount of work in the locality. Another provision required the earlier payment by collectors of the moneys in their possession.

Mr. Meredith did not approve of any change making the law with respect to statute labor more elastic than at present.

Hon. Mr. Hardy thought the bill might be allowed to go to committee.

Messrs. Wood and Clancy did not consider the bill a move in the right direction.

Mr. Balfour thought the bill might be sent to the committee. The poll tax was not paid in very many places.

Mr. Preston claimed the bill an attempt to deprive the municipalities of their powers.

The bill was read a second time.

To Amend the Assessment Act.

Mr. Monk's bill, to amend the Assessment Act, seeking to combine the office of county collector and treasurer and to empower the taking of assessments later in the year than at present, was read a second time.

To Extend to Townships.

Mr. Monk moved the second reading of a bill to extend section 250 of the Municipal Act to townships, instead of confering it to cities, towns and villages.

Hon. A. S. Hardy said he did not want to object, but the bill really means tinkering with the law, because it interfered with an amendment proposed last session by Mr. Meredith.

Mr. Monk—We find the law so good we want to extend it.

Mr. Meredith—The Hon. Commissioner is wrong. The bill introduced by me was intended to apply to all municipalities, but it was cut down.

The Fee Commission.

On the motion to adjourn, Mr. Meredith rose and stated that he had seen by the papers that the commission respecting the fee system had been issued, and that it had been stated that the commission had decided to hold the sittings behind closed doors. He asked the leader of the Government if these statements were true, and also whether the hon. gentleman intends to bring down, without a formal motion, a copy of the commission, and the instructions, if any, that accompany it.

Sir Oliver Mowat replied that a copy of the commission could be brought down on a motion. The commissioners had received no instructions and he knew of no intention to examine witnesses in private. The commissioners were merely discussing the documents and methods of procedure among themselves.

Mr. Meredith asked Sir Oliver if he approved of the commission conducting any of the proceedings in private.

Sir Oliver replied that there was nothing whatever irregular in the commission discussing documents and arranging procedure privately, and no harm could come of it. The moment the taking of evidence commenced, he supposed everybody who chose would be at liberty to attend. He had no doubt that when the commission had decided upon the scope their inquiry would take the public would be invited to attend.

The House adjourned.

Around the House.

Mr. Tait has introduced a bill to amend the Election Act providing that in provincial election each polling subdivision must contain 400 electors, and for the use of the same polling subdivisions as at the municipal elections.

Mr. Balfour has introduced a bill to amend the Street Railway Act.

BRITISH GOSSIP.

New Postal Telegraph Communication—The Pacific Cable.

LONDON, April 3.—Sir James Baden Powell will in a few days call the attention of Parliament to the desirability of at once establishing a direct postal telegraph communication with the Pacific for Imperial purposes, and enlisting at the same time the co-operation of Canada, Australia, and the other colonies.

Surprise is manifested in interested circles here at the expressed intention of the of the Dominion Government to refrain from exhibiting at the Antwerp Exposition.

A correspondent of the Times replies with warmth to a letter of Sir John Colcomb in the same journal on the 28th ult, wherein the latter suggested that the demand of the colonies for a subsidy to aid the construction of the proposed Pacific cable would be a direct appeal to the pocket of the British taxpayer. The reply says there are small hope now that a consideration of the matter would materially modify the uncomplimentary construction placed upon the attitude of the colonies towards the Mother Country, so far as these important national proposals are concerned.

The Behring Sea Affair.

Mr. Bayard, United States Ambassador, when asked yesterday concerning his interviews with Lord Kimberley at the Foreign Office, said there were no new developments in the Behring Sea matter, and that there would be no difficulty whatever in carrying out amicably the findings of the Paris arbitration tribunal.

In the Commons.

LONDON, April 3.—The floor and galleries of the House of Commons were crowded yesterday when Rt. Hon. Sir George Otto Trevelyan, Secretary for Scotland, arose to move the bill creating a Scotch standing committee, composed chiefly of Scotch members, to which it is proposed that all Scotish legislation shall be submitted for consideration. Sir George Trevelyan's proposal provides for the inclusion in the committee of all the Scotch members who with fifteen other members shall constitute the entire committee. He explained that it was not a partizan measure, but a practical business movement which aimed to economize the time of the House. It was also a measure of justice to a part of the kingdom whose interests had been neglected.

Mr. A. J Balfour moved an amendment that the House refuse to consider the proposal piecemeal, but wait until they should all be considered before approving, or, he hoped, condemning the plan, which if adopted ought to be extended to every part of the kingdom. The introduction of the proposed system was practically creating a legislative committee, and the proposal should not receive the attention of the House until it presented broad lines with all its bearings.

Bismarck's Reply to the Kaiser.

BERLIN, April 3.—Prince Bismarck has telegraphed to the Emperor his acknowledgement of the Kaiser's congratulations on the occasion of the ex-Chancellor's birthday and thanking his Majesty for the present which accompanied his letter of congratulation. The telegram says: "Please accept my most respectful thanks for the gracious wishes and gracious words your Majesty has favored me with. I shall wear the new armor and bequeath it to my children in lasting memory of your good will."

The Ems in Tow.

LONDON, April 3.—The North German Lloyd steamer Ems, which sailed from Bremen for New York March 17, was towed into Fayal, Azores, by the British steamer Wildflower, Wilmington. The propeller frame of the Ems broke a few days after the steamer left Southampton, on March 18, and the big ship was obliged to proceed as best she could under canvas, until the Wildflower was sighted and took her in tow. A steamer will be sent to Fayal to take the passengers off the Ems to New York.

This Was a Blunt Statement.

MONTREAL, April 3.—Hon. Mr. Nantel, Commissioner of Public Works, has entered action for $10,000 damages against Jos. G. Gingras, Quebec, proprietor of L'Union Liberale, for alleged libel. It is charged that on the departure of Mr. Nantel on his trip to the Holy Land Mr. Gingras' paper insinuated that the honorable gentleman's expenses were being paid by contractors whom he had favored.

SENATOR VOORHEE'S SPEECH.

He Discourages the Scheme of Income Tax, Inasmuch as it Would Apply to a Very Small Number of the American Population.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Mr. Voorhees began in the Senate Saturday the discussion of the new tariff bill. His speech occupied the attention of the Senate for two hours. The peroration was applauded in the galleries and the orator was congratulated by his party friends on the floor. Speaking of the income tax, Mr. Voorhees said in part:

"On all the wants and necessities of life the man of wealth with a heavy income, pays less rates of tariff tax under existing laws than the laboring man or laboring woman whose wearing apparel is of coarser material and whose household living is supplied with cheaper goods bearing a higher rate of duty. His hoards, his accumulated riches of all kinds, and all income arising from them, are exempt from all government burdens, remaining not only undiminished and unmolested amidst darkened homes and flagrant distress, but growing fatter, stronger and more defiant as the days and the years go by.

"In considering the income tax the most extraordinary and startling fact we discover, is the very small number of people to whom it applied.

"The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, in a recent communication to the Ways and Means Committee of the House, estimated the present population of the United States at not less than 65,000,000 and the wealth at $65,000,000,000, or an average of $1,000 per capita, if there was an equal distribution. His further estimate, however, is that so great has been the consolidation of capital into the ownership of a small and powerful class that the tax here proposed on incomes of over $4,000 will reach only about 85,000 individuals and corporations out of more than 65,000,000. These figures recall the worst days of Rome, and of other governments, both ancient and modern, whose liberties were lost by the accumulation and power of wealth in the hands of patrician aristocracies.

"At the close of the speech the bill, which has displaced the Russian thistle bill, and is now the 'unfinished business,' went over till to-day when the Republican side of the question is to be presented by Senator Allison (Ia.). A demand has been made by Mr. Hoar that the bill shall have its second reading to-day."

Col. Breckenridge's Case.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Col. Breckenridge was cross-examined yesterday in the suit brought against him by Madeline Pollard. Much of the testimony was unfit for general publication. He gave a categorical denial of many of the plaintiff's allegations as to the circumstance of the seduction and said: "That act happened in the circumstances I have narrated and the punishment I have received for it is the punishment I shall have to submit to. There is but one possible thing which I did not deserve for my punishment, and which I did most positively refuse to accept, and that was to marry the woman with whom I had that transaction."

After a Toronto Desperado.

DENVER, Col., April 3.—Louis Plante, an all-round desperado from Canada, now finishing a six months' term in the county jail, will be returned on the 9th inst. to Canada, where he is wanted on a charge of stealing $30,000 worth of jewellery, opium and merchandise. Plante is the man who shot Clara Fredericks in Chicago and followed her afterwards to this city, where he gave her a terrible clubbing for which he is now in jail. Officer Grieg, of Toronto, started for Denver yesterday for Plante.

Hanged for Murdering Her Husband.

LIVERPOOL, April 3.—Mrs. Margaret Walker, aged 53 years, was hanged here yesterday for the murder of her husband for maintaining illicit relations with another woman. Mrs. Walker, who was of masculine build, chained her husband to a bedpost in one of the upper rooms of their house and for four months administered to him a daily beating, finally battering his brains out with a steel chain.

Printers' Strike in Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., April 3.—The printers' strike in this city has apparently ended in a defeat for the strikers. Both the Citizen and the Times report that they have now so far filled their places as to be independent of the printers.

From the Gaylord Mine.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 3.—Two more bodies, those of John Morris and John Hammer, were recovered yesterday by the rescuers at the Gaylord mine at Plymouth. It is thought the remains of the other two victims will be recovered to-day.

Coxey's Army on the March.

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., April 3.—In anticipation of the longest march yet scheduled the members of the commonweal army here were bustling about yesterday morning. The mess was substantial, and did much to stop the grumbling of the men who became disgruntled. The army took the line of march directly through New Brighton, Rochester and Freedom.

James Owen O'Connor Dead.

NEW YORK, April 3.—News of the death of James Owen O'Connor, the actor, became public in Jersey City last evening. He died in the New Jersey Insane Asylum at Morris Plains on Saturday morning last of a disease of the kidneys. The body of the dead tragedian was brought to his former home at 21 Storm avenue, Jersey City.

New York Irish Independents.

NEW YORK, April 3.—The Irish Independent party of New York yesterday sent the following cablegram to John E. DAVIN TALKS TARIFF.

He Attempts to Show That It Materially Benefits the Farmer.

HE WAS NOT EVER THUS.

Mr. Macdonald of Huron Reminds Mr. Davin That He Last Year Advocated Free Binder Twine and Other Articles Used by Farmers.

OTTAWA, April 3.—In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Brodeur asked it it was the intention of the Government to submit for the decision of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in England the question already submitted to the Supreme Court in relation to the subject of the Manitoba schools. Sir John Thompson replied that the question involved the further question as to what parties had or had not the right to appeal; also those who might or might not desire to appeal. As to these points, the Government was not possessed of full information.

Sir Adolphe Caron, replying to Mr. Grieve, said that it was not the intention of the Government to reduce letter postage from 3 to 2 cents, nor was it the intention to reduce the fee for registration, nor was it the intention to guarantee the safe delivery of all registered letters and their contents.

Hon. Mr. Foster, replying to a question, said that it was not the intention of the Government to preclude shipments of tea coming directly from the country of growth from transhipment in another country. He gave the same answer in regard to coffee.

Dr. Landerkin stated that he had been informed that a serious disease had broken out among the cattle in the township of Glenelg, county of Grey. He asked that the Government take steps to investigate the matter and if possible to prevent the spread of the disease. Sir John Thompson said he would have the matter enquired into.

Mr. Davin then continued the debate on the budget. He opened by criticising the amendment introduced by Sir Richard Cartwright. Sir Richard wanted the necessaries of life free. This was the state of affairs at present. The revenue tariff man would draw his revenue, or the greater part of it, from tea, coffee or sugar. He would vote with the Opposition if the ablest among them could show how the wit of man could raise a revenue necessary for carrying on the affairs of Canada by means of customs and excise without having in that tariff, as Mr. Foster had suggested, some of the element of protection. He thought the Government of Canada had done a great deal for the farmers in this new tariff. The Opposition could not do more were they to cross the floor of the House. The Opposition was annoyed because the changes proposed by the Government were so radical. He (Mr. Davin) was credibly informed that the member for South Oxford, and the present leader of the Opposition, had ready in their desks denunciatory speeches, in the anticipation that the pledges made to the people would not be carried out, and the tariff changed and reduced to suit the times. The member for North Norfolk (Mr. Charlton) had actually intimated in his speech that the Government would not carry out the present tariff changes, which were so favorable to the farmer. What did the hon. member mean? Did he mean that 13 men at the head of affairs in Canada would do such a dastardly trick as to obtain the confidence of the people, get back to power and then betray their trust? The idea was preposterous and unworthy of the House. Previous to the time Mr. Mackenzie assumed power, the Reformers were loud in their clamorings for reform. After they secured power they forgot to bring forward a single reform of which they had talked so much while in opposition.

Mr. Macdonald (Huron) twitted Mr. Davin upon the fact that while he was so well pleased at present with the tariff last year, he had made an able speech in favor of free coal oil, free binder twine and several other articles used by farmers, while this year he said nothing about these matters. The doctor then said that the Controller of Customs had opened his speech the other night with a statement which he (Mr. Wallace) knew to be false.

Mr. Speaker called the gentleman to order.

Mr. Macdonald apologized and said Mr. Wallace had said that the Liberal party was in favor of commercial union. He challenged any member of the House to show where any member of the Opposition had made such statement.

Mr. McNeill then drew the attention of the House to the speeches of Mr. Charlton in favor of commercial union with the United States.

Mr. Macdonald repeated that no member authorized by the Opposition had made such a statement.

Mr. Macdonald took up the debate and found fault with the Government for not largely decreasing the duty on coal oil.

Mr. Meiuerney followed. He said he had been elected as an independent, but, after having studied the policies of both parties, he had come to the conclusion that the policy of the Liberals was foolish and bad for the country, and, therefore, he had decided to throw his influence and vote with the Conservatives.

Mr. Carroll followed. He claimed that for the past 12 months the Government had no fixed policy. The Government wanted to make a compromise with the classes of the country, and the victims in the shake-up would be the same as during the past fifteen years.

Mr. Temple arose at 10.35 p.m. amid cries of "Question" and continued the debate.

Dr. Sproule moved the adjournment of the debate.

The House adjourned.

Parliamentary Notes.

Sir Adolphe Caron, in answer to Mr. Gillmor, stated that certain packages of printed papers which had been franked by a certain member of Congress had been sent to the dead letter office.

Sir Adolphe Caron, replying to Mr. Grieve, said that the postmastership of Owen Sound was vacant. The wife of the late postmaster was in charge. The appointment was still under consideration.

There is considerable quiet talk going on in the lobbies over the strained relations between Controller Wallace and the Minister of Trade and Commerce. Clarke Wallace, as Controller of Customs, claims the right to the patronage of his department, while Mr. Bowell is determined to have some say in the matter. The statute which created the Controller of Customs conveyed to him the same duties and powers, however, being subject to the supervision or control of the Minister of Trade and Commerce.

GEORGE SACKETT'S CASE.

Holsteiners Enjoy a Mild Sensation—One Box of Dodd's Kidney Pills Cures Their Fellow Citizen of Backache and Kidney Disease.

HOLSTEIN, March 26.—This quiet village is in an uproar of excitement just now over the case of George Sackett, a well-known resident. His experience has had many parallels in other places, but none here. One box of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him of severe backache and kidney disease of long standing, after he had tried every other remedy within his reach, but without any good results. These pills are manufactured by Dr. L. A. Smith & Co., Toronto, and are sold by all dealers, or will be mailed on receipt of price; fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50.

Francis Kossuth Will be Reconciled.

BUDA PEST April 3.—Dr. Wekerle, the Hungarian premier, has received from Francis Kossuth a request for an audience. This is taken as an indication of his desire to become completely reconciled with the Government and acknowledge the authority of the King. The dead patriot left no political will.

Coal Miners on Strike.

DENISON, Tex., April 3.—All the coal miners at McAlister, Krebs & Coalgates', in the Indian Territory, numbering 4,000 men and boys, went on strike yesterday. The cause of the strike is a notice of a reduction in wages from 80 cents per ton to 75 cents for every ton mined.

Gas Fattened Fish.

When the water was withdrawn from the lake near Geyser spring, in Saratoga, an immense quantity of trout and pickerel was captured, many of them being of great size. It is thought that the mineral water, impregnated with gas, was the cause of the uncommon abundance and fatness of the fish; that the stimulus of the mineral constituents and gas sharpens the appetite, invigorates the nerves of the stomach and promotes the digestion of the fish.—Chicago Herald.

Healthy Children

come from healthy mothers. And mothers will certainly be healthy if they'll take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Nothing can equal it in building up a woman's strength, in regulating and assisting her natural functions. It lessens the pains and burdens of child-bearing, supports and strengthens weak, nursing mothers, and promotes an abundant secretion of nourishment.

It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and bracing nervine, and a guaranteed remedy for woman's ills and ailments. In every chronic "female complaint" or weakness, if it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

It Isn't a Matter of How Much You Earn, But

What You Save!

"Any FOOL can Earn Money, but it takes a WISE Man to Save It."

And yet it is as simple as A B C. You know that one of the peculiarities about GOUGH'S Clothing is that it isn't sold by wind. It's VALUE that does it. It broke out some 8 or 10 years ago when Gough Bros. spread their monster tents for business in Peterborough and the epidemic has kept on spreading ever since.

THE IMMENSE AMOUNT OF MONEY SAVED to the Workingman, the Farmer and the Business Man since Gough Bros. broke the combination to keep up High Prices in Clothing, has demonstrated that there are Wise Men among us who can save money if they only get a fair chance.

"What's the cause of Gough's Big Success?" did you say.

Just look at those $7.50 Spring Overcoats and Tweed Suits, with that regular tailor-made look about them. They were no more made to sell at that price than the Otonabee River was to run ocean greyhounds on. $12.00 ought to be the price.

Then again—Take that pair of Pants or that Big Boy's 3-Piece Suit. They're All Wool and cut by an expert hand, who was a regular tailor's cutter before we pulled down the prices that gave them such big salaries. You wouldn't think $4.50 too much to pay for either of them, would you? Well, they're yours for $3.00

And so on all the way through our mammoth store. "Money to be Saved at Gough's!" why that's stale news—everybody knows that by this time, and, if you haven't caught the enthusiasm yet, it must be because you're one of those fellows that can EARN money all right, but DON'T KNOW HOW TO SAVE IT.

WE'RE AWFULLY STUCK UP—and it's just on account of our Clothes. We just think that when it comes to Clothing, there's nothing in this town that can touch us.

"Always Good at Gough's."

WOMAN'S WEALTH IS HEALTH.

The Future of our Canadian Nation Depends Upon Strong and Robust Women.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND GIVES VITALITY, VIGOR AND STRENGTH TO THE WEAK.

MRS. JOSEPH RATHBONE.

It is maintained by many writers that greatness of a nation depends much upon the moral and physical condition of its women. The general conditions which contribute to health and long life are those which do not imply a rapid and unequal exhaustion of those powers by which life maintained.

While all admit that Canadian women compare favorably with the women of other nations in beauty and physical powers of strength and endurance, we cannot hide the fact that there are thousands in our midst who, owing to overwork, worry, household cares, and an unequal exhaustion of life-power, have become weak, nervous, sleepless and debilitated.

These are the women who should become interested in earth's greatest recuperative power and life-giver. There are thousands of healthy women now around us who owe their present vigor and good health to Paine's Celery Compound. No other agency has done such a work for women, and no other has ever been honoured with such grateful letters of testimony.

Mrs. Joseph Rathbone, 763 Wellington street, Montreal, whose portrait appears above, is one of the thousands who have furnished the strongest evidence that Paine's Celery Compound cures, and gives to all who use it a fresh existence and a happy life. Mrs. Rathbone, under date of January 29th, writes as follows:

"With very great pleasure and satisfaction, I wish to add my testimony in favour of your wonderful Paine's Celery Compound. For a long time I suffered from general debility, nervousness and a run-down system. Having heard of the virtues of your medicine I determined to use it and it has proved such a grand success that I wish every afflicted woman in Canada to know what it has done for me. After using several bottles of Paine's Celery Compound I am restored to health and strength, can eat well, sleep well digestion is good and altogether I am a new woman. I always recommend Paine's Celery Compound with confidence and pleasure."

BIG BATTLE IN BORNU.

A Desperate Fight in Which About 60,000 Troops Were Engaged.

TRIPOLI, April 3.—Reports have been received from the Soudan of a furious battle in the kingdom of Bornu, in the Central Soudan, between an invading army 30,000 strong and the troops of the Sultan of Bornu, about equal in number.

The invading forces were headed by one Rabah, who was formerly a slave of Yobhor Pasha. The battle is reported to have been a desperate one, in which the full strength of both forces engaged. Hundreds of men were killed on both sides sides and thousands were wounded. Both the Sultan of Bornu and the leader of the invading army, Babah, were killed at the head of their commands. The advices do not state which side was victorious.

A Fighting Parson Gets Thrashed.

FREEMONT, O., April 3.—This city was much excited over a short but decisive fight which occurred between two prominent men of this city, Rev. J. G. Shackelford, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal church, and Frank O'Farrell, a well-known lawyer and member of St. Ann's Catholic Church. Mr. O'Farrell and a number of friends were standing on Front street, the main business street of the city, when an A. P. A. meeting in a hall across the street closed. Shackelford took offence at some remark made by O'Farrell which was intended for another party, and excitedly declared that he wouldn't allow anyone to insult him on the street. Throwing back his overcoat he made a rush for O'Farrell, who stepped aside as the minister attempted to strike and countered with a heavy blow. Shackelford was knocked down and only escaped a severe thrashing by the interference of friends who separated the combatants. When Shackelford learned that he had been mistaken he apologized, but O'Farrell refused to be conciliated.

Attacking Missionaries in China.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 3.—Advices received by a steamer from Shanghai gave an account of another Chinese demonstration against the foreign missionaries, which came near ending in a massacre. When the procession of natives welcoming spring passed the Baptist mission building at Huchow, the mob in the street threw stones and bricks at the premises, broke down the gate and swarmed into the house, seizing everything which came in their way. Missionaries Mason and Fletcher, whose families were up stairs, courageously faced the mob and ordered them to leave. Thinking the missionaries had sent for help, the mob left the house. Another anti foreign placard, making sport of the foreign element, has made its appearance at Hupeh. Its effect on the natives is sure to be harmful to the foreigners.

"Beauty" may be "only skin deep;" but the secret of a beautiful skin is pure blood. Those coarse, rough, pimply complexions may, in most cases, be rendered soft, smooth, and fair by the persevering and systematic use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

About two months ago I was nearly wild with headaches. I started taking Burdock Blood Bitters, took two bottles and my headaches have now altogether disappeared. I think it is a grand medicine. EVA FINN, Massey Station, Ont

Goodrich Will be Tried.

CHICAGO, April 3.—A motion to quash the indictment in the charge of murder against Charles Ferguson Goodrich, held for the murder of Mrs. Cron, at Wilmette, on November 4, was argued by Attorneys Ennis and Dwight for the defence, and Assistant State Attorney Knight for the prosecution, before Judge Sears. The defence claimed the indictment was ambiguous, alleging in one count that Mrs. Mary Cron came to her death by being cut with a razor or some other sharp instrument; in another that she was burned to death; that Charles Ferguson Goodrich committed the murder, and again that he aided and abetted one Paul Logan in the commission of the crime. The motion to quash was overruled, and the case set for trial to-morrow.

Would Blow Up the King of Corea.

SHANGHAI, April 3.—A widespread conspiracy to blow up the King of Corea's court and ministers during a religious festival was discovered recently at Seoul through one of the plotters confiding in a foreign resident. Elaborate preparations had been made, including stealing all the gunpowder from military stations. Conspirators confronted the king and avowed intentions implicating several high officials and members of the royal family. Had the plot succeeded probably all foreigners, including over one hundred American residents in Seoul, would undoubtedly have shared the fate of the Japanese in the almost similar attempt against the present king in 1888.

The Dolgeville Tragedy.

UTICA, N.Y., April 3.—The coroner's jury in the Kloetzler case at Dolgeville yesterday returned a verdict that Kloetzler murdered his family with the knowledge and consent of his wife. It also declared that the village authorities had not been negligent in their duties. No new facts came to light except that Kloetzler left threatening letters addressed to Alfred Dolge and the foreman of his shoe factory. In these letters he declared his intention of killing his family and himself so as to leave a black mark on Dolgeville and Dolge.

EXCELSIOR

Life Insurance Company.

HEAD OFFICE, - TORONTO.

PRESIDENT AND MANAGING-DIRECTOR,
E. F. CLARKE, Ex-Mayor of Toronto

New! Commodious! Comfortable!

An examination of the report of the business for 1893 shows that THE EXCELSIOR has made SOLID PROGRESS in all the points essential to success, viz:—

Gain in Insurance in Force over that 1891 72 per cent.
Gain in Cash Income over that of 1891 61 per cent
Gain in Assets over that of 1891, 27 per cent.
Gain in Reserve on Policy Holders Account over that of 1891, 114 per cent

THE EXCELSIOR offers Security which is unsurpassed by any other Company doing business in Canada. The following are the ratios of Assets to Liabilities of the different Canadian Companies as given in the Government Report for 1891:—

Excelsior Life, ..415% North American Life, 136%
Dominion Life, .. 201 " London Life, ... 118 "
Federal Life, ... 144 " Sun Life, ... 114 "
Manufac'rs Life, 144 " Confederation Life, ... 113 "
Tem'ce and Gen'l, 144 " Canada Life, ... 128 "
Ontario Mutual 102%

The Excelsior Life challenges any other Company to show, in the same period of its history, at as low a death rate; 2nd, as low a ratio of expenses. See our Life Rate Endowment and our Life and Endowment Annuity Bonds before insuring elsewhere.

DAVID DOIG

A Government BOMBSHELL

THROWN INTO THE

LIFE INSURANCE CAMP!

The following statement comes from the government Blue Book. It covers a period of sixteen years, and is sworn to as correct by representatives of each Company:

Statement of Premiums received and Cash Profits paid back to Policy Holders from 1877 to 1892, both years inclusive:—

COMPANY.	Premiums Received.	Dividends Paid to Policy Holders.	Ratio of Dividends to Premiums, %
CANADA LIFE	$16,268,207	$2,946,433	18.18
Confederation Life	6,165,432	637,925	10.35
North American	2,327,082	32,857	1.41
Ontario Mutual	3,378,066	422,264	11.17
Sun Life	5,527,720	365,280	6.43

Never in the history of Life Insurance has the struggle for business been keener. Never has the conflict been hotter. Never have the Companies felt as they feel now, the necessity for throwing all the energy at their command into the field. The most intelligent and best men have to be employed. All kinds of plans of insurance are submitted. Each Company determined in securing the supremacy in the good will of the public, in establishing their name, the utterance of which, shall convey to the minds of the people the essential characteristics of

UNDOUBTED SECURITY,
RIGID ECONOMY,
GOOD INVESTMENTS,
LARGEST PROFITS

WHY?

Because millons of dollars are being paid annually for Life Insurance, and the Companies that can show these features have attained a position which will guarantee their future success, for money will flow freely into the best investments.

The Canada Life Policy Holders can look at the above statement with a smile of satisfaction, yet sympathise with their friends who are not so favourably situated.

They can throw their Life Policies down in the face of opponents and successfully challenge the production of more profitable policies, they can stand the onslaught of Agents who will almost cover them with literature and estimates of Tontine, Semi-Tontine, Return Premiums, Reserved Dividends, Annuity and Endownment plans of insurance, and with a quiet assurance feel that

As The Canada Life is Making the Most Profits, She Can Pay the Largest Profits.

READER. If you want Life Insurance choose the Canada Life and join the throng of contented policy holders who are insured with the Company carrying about 45 per cent. of the total insurance in force of the above named Companies

The Evangelistic Services.

Again large numbers were out last evening to these services. Pastor Trotter conducted opening services, assisted by Rev. Mr. MacDonald, of Lakefield. Preceding the address of Mr. Moore, Mr. Whyte sang with great power and feeling, "Behold the Bridegroom Cometh," the choir taking the chorus. Mr. Moore gave an earnest talk from John 6:35, his subject being "Faith," from which he drew many important lessons, among which were the surety of God's promises. The basis of faith, not feeling, emotion or experience, but the Word only. Mr. Whyte following gave an impressive appeal to the unsaved and sang with feeling "Oh, Hearts That are Broken." The after-service was one long to be remembered. The Holy Spirit's power was manifest and many were induced to enter the new life. These meetings will continue all week beginning with song service at 7.45, to which all are heartily invited.

—At the regular meeting of St. Paul's church Y. P. S. C. E. last night, the subject "Prayer," was taken by Messrs. Robt. Strachan and T. H. Martin in an able manner. Officers will be elected at the next meeting night.

—In the published programme of the Woman's Missionary convention in the Charlotte street church on Thursday, April 19th, the solo to be contributed by Mrs. R. A. Hamilton at the evening session was omitted.

—To-night an evangelistic service will be conducted at the Auburn mission by Pastor Zimmerman, assisted by other Christian workers. The public are cordially invited to attend, especially the residents in the locality.

—At the "At Home" to be given by the Charlotte street church ladies in the parsonage on Thursday night Rev. J. M. Whyte, evangelist, will sing. Mr. Whyte is the possessor of a clear full voice and accompanies himself on the guitar with admirable effect.

—The police this morning started on their rounds of sanitary inspection. They will make a thorough examination of all premises and yards, and residents are requested to act according to the provisions laid down in the Public Health Act and remove all filth, garbage and nuisance before May 15th, else prosecution will follow.

—At the Douglas Bird concert on Thursday evening, April 19th, little Lois Ostrom, the child elocutionist, will give two of her wonderfully clever readings. She was heard, on his recent visit, by Mr. S. H. Clark, the great dramatic reader, and he was simply astonished by the marvellous talent the child displayed.

—The fire brigade was called out this morning to extinguish a blaze in Mr. Charles Cameron's rough-cast terrace on McDonnel street, opposite the George Street Church. The west end, which was untenanted, was badly gutted. Loss, $600; covered by an insurance in the London, Liverpool & Globe at $800.

—Day baggageman Fegg, of the C. P. R., while putting up one of the signal lamps in front of the station last evening met with a painful accident. The lamp is hoisted into position by means of a chain and pulley, and when Mr. Fegg was pulling it up, the chain breaking allowed the lamp to fall. It struck him on the side of the face near the nose, inflicting a rather bad cut.

—Mme. Vernona Jarbeau, assisted by a capable company, appeared at the opera house last night in her musical farce comedy called "Starlight." The attendance was rather small, only about two hundred being present, while the reserve seats were sparsely inhabited. However, those who witnessed the production testified their appreciation by frequent outbursts of applause. The songs, dancing and specialties were as well received as on the occasion of Mme. Jarbeau's previous visits to town. It is to be regretted that a larger house did not avail themselves of the entertainment.

Lacrosse Club Meeting.

The Peterborough Lacrosse Club held a special meeting last evening at which a large number of players was present. A slight change was made in the office of secretary. Mr. J. T. McCabe and Mr. G. Heap being appointed joint secretaries, Mr. McCabe to act as manager. A discussion arose as to whether the team would go to Campbellford and play the Port Hope team on the 24th of May, or stay in town and play the Tecumseh's of Toronto. It was decided, however, to play the Tecumseh's thus having the opening match at home. The club is now stronger than ever and the prospects were never brighter for a brilliant future.

Booming Their New Store—387.

No. 387 George street is being boomed now, as it never was boomed before. It is now the new and commodious premises of Messrs. Grafton & Co., clothiers, and the manager, Mr. W. E. Conway, has started an "Eclipse sale," calculated to obscure all other sales of ready-to-wear clothing that Peterborough has ever witnessed. It is pointed out that it is an easy matter for Grafton & Co. to undersell, seeing that they manufacture all their clothing and supply their retail branches at first cost. This gives them the "inside track", and they appear to be making the very best use of their advantages. Nothing more need be said—the inference is plain, where the customers' interests are so well protected by such a strong firm of clothing manufacturers as GRAFTON & Co's. dw

THE MATTER OF MEAT.

Mr. Peter Glover spoke in reference to the advisability of passing a by-law to regulate the sale of meat. He said in all towns and villages of any account there was such a by-law to protect dealers in meat. If we had been annexed to Peterborough the village would have had to come under the town meat by-law. He held that it was not fair to local dealers who paid rents and taxes to allow their business to be interfered with by outsiders.

A petition was presented by John Lang and 149 others "ratepayers of the municipality of Ashburnham" praying that a "butchers' license be not granted, as at present meat can be purchased and delivered at your door, at 2½c cheaper than Peterborough rates—under the license act."

Mr. Rutherford expressed himself in favour of a license being issued.

On motion of Mr. Smith seconded by Mr. Morgan the consideration of the petition was deferred to the next meeting.

A motion by Mr. Smith seconded by Mr. Morgan was adopted to purchase a gravel lot from Mr. Theo. Ludgate, the price and terms to be approved by the street and bridge committee and the reeve.

Mr. Smith called the attention of the street committee the necessity of sundry street improvements in the neighbourhood of Woodbine Avenue.

The council adjourned.

Undoubtedly many diseases may be prevented if the blood is kept pure and the general health-tone sustained by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. When this is done, the germs of

La Grippe, Diphtheria

Pneumonia, Scarlet and Typhoid Fevers, Malaria, etc., cannot lodge in the system. After all such prostrating diseases Hood's Sarsaparilla has been found of inestimable value in restoring desired health and vigor, and purifying the tainted blood.

For example, read the following from Miss Mattie A. Cobb of Providence, R. I., and her mother. Miss Cobb is a young lady of 18, a

Weak, Blind and Helpless

I used one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and it made me real strong." MATTIE A. COBB, South Chester Avenue, Providence, R. I.

"As my daughter wanted to write how well she liked Hood's Sarsaparilla, I thought I would say a few words. I think it is the

DEPUTATIONS AND BY-LAWS

ENGAGE THE COUNCIL'S ATTENTION FOR THREE HOURS.

Proposed Early Closing of Tavern and Billiard Rooms—The Question of Annexation to be Submitted to the People—The Peddlers' Bylaw—The Market Bylaw—Various Deputations Heard—Communications—Committee Reports—Lock Works Ask Exemption for Another Ten Years.

COUNCIL CHAMBER,
Peterborough, April 2nd, }

At the regular monthly sederunt of the town council held here to-night a vast accumulation of business, part very important and part of the ordinary character was transacted. All the ward representatives were in their places and for three hours and a half the civic Solons deliberated upon and discussed municipal matters.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The following lengthy list of communications was read and referred as follows:

An application from Mrs. Molloy, an old and decrepit woman, who was present, asking that the $1 a week, which she had been in the habit of receiving as charity from the town, and which had been stopped, be paid to her again, was referred to the Charity Committee with power to act.

THE FINANCIAL STATUS.

From the town clerk, giving a statement of the expenditure of this year up to March 31st, the figures of which are furnished by the town treasurer, and also an estimate of the accounts due which the clerk said was necessarily imperfect. The following are the totals which included the amounts paid out, and also the estimates:—

The amount paid out in the different departments, including administration of justice, charity, hydrants, law, streets and bridges, water, market, education, etc., was $12,381.98; the estimates were $3,269.65; total, $15,657.63.

The receipts were, for licenses, law, police court, market tolls, etc., received, $6,064.67: estimate, $718.50; total, $6,773.17.

Mr. Roger said he had a statement from the town treasurer, showing the expenditure for the same period last year, and it revealed the fact that there had already been paid out this year the sum of $2,600 more than for the same period last year, over what had been received. The council had started out with the intention of exercising rigid economy this year and they would have to be careful if the expenditure did not exceed last year's at the close of this year.

The statement of the clerk was referred to the Finance Committee.

From M. O'Brien, and other carters, calling attention to several persons who were drawing ashes, cleaning yards, etc., and paying no license. They asked the council to prevent all such parties from carting, except those who took refuse to the nusiance ground.—License Committee.

PEDDLAR'S LICENSES.

From Peter Connal & Co., J. W. Moore, and many other George street merchants, asking the council not to reduce the fee for peddling below the sum of $50, which was the present fee.—License Committee.

From W. C. Kirk, asking the council to reduce the amount ($8.50) for personal taxes charged to him while in the market arcade store, and asking for a longer time to pay same.—Court of Revision.

From Town Solicitor Edwards stating that in answer to the suggestion of the License Committee he had to say that under section 498 (5) of the Municipal Act, it was not lawful to impose any higher fee than was imposed in the by-law passed the first of March, 1882. Under it the auctioneers might be required to pay an extra fee of 25 cts. and he had accordingly added a provision to this effect to the bylaw which he had prepared. The other fees proposed by the License Committee being in excess of those in force in 1882 cannot be imposed.—Received.

From Robt. Pope, street inspector, making a report of the work done, new material used on the streets and bridges up to March 31st of the present year—in all $275.42.—Street and Bridge Committee.

From J. R. Donell, R. Carton and others, owners of property fronting on Sherbrooke street lying west of Park street, asking that the lands fronting on and adjacent to that part of Sherbrooke street west of Park, extending from Park street westerly a distance of 1,100 might be drained, etc.—Street and Bridge Committee.

COPIES OF BYLAWS.

From E. B. Edwards, stating that he had examined the hawkers' and peddlers' bylaw and he thought it advisable to pass a new bylaw, making a uniform fee for all persons holding licenses.—Received.

From Mr. Edwards, stating he enclosed copies of certain bylaws.—Received.

From Geo. Steer, complaining about being assessed as owner for a house on Paterson street last year, when he was not owner. He only lived in the house four months, and thought it a great injustice to have to pay the taxes for the full year.—Court of Revision.

From the town clerk, enclosing the resolution recently passed by the Board of Health asking that Mr. Wm. Hudson be re-employed as sanitary inspector for two months at $40 per month.—Received.

THE LOCK WORKS EXEMPTION.

The following letter was read from Mr. John Carnegie:—

March 24th, 1894.

DEAR SIR,—I am instructed to ask the favourable consideration of the town council to the propriety of, under existing circumstances, extending the existing exemption from taxation enjoyed by the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Co. for a further period of ten years from the first of January next. As you and, I presume, most of the members of the council are already aware, negotiations have been entered into by a portion of the directors, representing a majority of the stock of the company, for the removal of the company's plant from Peterborough, and those of the directors who are anxious to retain in Peterborough so important an employer of labour, venture to think that the council will be acting in the best interests of the ratepayers should they render them the only assistance in their power to that end.

I am also instructed to say that we are prepared to give either the council or its Manufacturers' Committee the fullest information with regard to every point calculated to enable them to come to a proper and early decision in this matter.

Yours respectfully,
JOHN CARNEGIE

—Referred to Manufacturers' Committee.

A communication was received from the Hon. Secretary of the Children's Aid Society re Smith family on Water street, making a requisition upon the council for some settled provision for their maintenance. A motion was carried that an order be drawn upon the treasurer for six dollars for rent for the Smith family.

From John Jeffries in reference to the lines on Dublin, Donegal and McDonnel street.—Street and Bridge Committee.

From Wm. Burly, asking till 1st of May to pay his taxes.—Court of Revision.

From T. A. Hay, secretary of Board of Trade, enclosing certain resolutions passed at annual meeting.—Received.

DEBENTURES FOR SCHOOL IMPROVEMENTS.

From W. G. Morrow, secretary of the Board of Education, enclosing the resolution passed at the last meeting of the board that the town council be requested to raise by way of debentures the sum of $5,000 for permanent improvements at the Central school.—Finance Committee.

From E. A. Peck, barrister, asking that the taxes of Mrs. Cookson for 1892 which remained unpaid on property corner of McDonnel and George streets (assessed to John Robertson) be refunded if not already done.—Court of Revision.

From Town Solicitor Edwards, stating that he had prepared a short bylaw amending bylaw No. 494, respecting the market.—Received.

THE MARKET BY-LAW.

From Mr. Edwards, stating he found that the difficulty as to the clause about hucksters had arisen through the retention in the by-law of the words "living within the municipality or within one mile from the outer limits thereof," which were struck out of the statute as long ago as the year 1871. Mr. Edwards further found that the last clause in the by-law might be held to render it unnecessary for the market clerk to measure wood unless asked to do so by the buyer and seller, and he had provided for the repeal of that clause and an amendment to clause 7, necessitated by the repeal of the last clause.

From Geo. Dunsford, asking the council to rectify a mistake in reference to taxes charged on certain property of his.—Court of Revision.

From L. Spry, returning and asking to be relieved of the care of the key for No. 1 fire alarm box.—Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From North Monaghan, enclosing assessment schedule on powder magazine, assessed at $800—Court of Revision.

From the EXAMINER Printing Co. and the Review Printing Co., offering to publish the assessment rolls of the town in their daily editions and to print 500 copies of the same in book form for $125 each.—Finance Committee.

THEY THREATEN SUIT.

From John Green, Geo. Harper and N. T. LePlante, threatening to institute legal proceedings against the town within a month if the obstruction complained of—the C.P.R. freight shed—was not removed off Wolfe street.—Referred to town solicitor.

EARLY CLOSING OF TAVERNS.

A deputation consisting of Rev. Messrs. A. MacWilliams, E. F. Torrance, Jas. Thom, Geo. Edwards and W. R. Young, representing the Ministerial Association, was heard.

Mr. MacWilliams said one thing considered in the Ministerial Association affecting the morality of the town which was being drawn to their attention, was gambling which was going on in certain of the hotels and billiard rooms over the practice of pool playing, whereby a great amount of evil was created among young men. He believed the council had the moral welfare of the people at heart, as well as the civil. He believed that the hour for closing pool rooms was 11 o'clock each night and they asked that they be closed at 10 o'clock, which would mitigate the evil. It was demoralizing to the young men of the town, among whom the gambling spirit seemed to be prevalent. The deputation also asked that the bar rooms be closed at 10 o'clock as well as pool rooms. He believed more evil existed in them in the last hour than in any other two hours of the day and hoped that the council would consider their request.

Rev. E. F. Torrance and Rev. Jas. Thom, also delivered short speeches in support of the request of the petition of Mr. McWilliams and hoped the council would give the matter their serious consideration. Closing bar-rooms and billiard rooms at 10 o'clock, would lessen the gambling and drinking evils among young men.

ANOTHER DEPUTATION HEARD.

Mr. Hartley, chairman of the Board of Health, addressed the council in reference to the re-engaging of Mr. Wm. Hudson, as sanitary inspector for the coming year. Mr. Hudson last year did his work well and this was not a matter of great expenditure and was a cause well worthy of the slight expenditure. He asked that Mr. Hudson be appointed at least for two months, his duties to commence on May 1st, at $40 a month.

Mr. Dawson thought the Board of Health had power themselves to appoint a sanitary inspector. He moved, seconded by Mr. Hughes, that Mr. Hudson be re-appointed by the council for two months.

Mr. Best moved in amendment that the police do all the sanitary inspection of the town. They were willing to do it and have to do most of the work anyway.

Mr. Cahill seconded Mr. Best's amendment.

Mr. Hughes said the reason the police had to follow up Mr. Hudson last year was because Mr. Hudson had not power to enforce the cleaning of premises; he could only notify parties. In view of Mr. Best's statement Mr. Hughes said he would withdraw his motion. Mr. Dawson also withdrew his in view of Mr. Best's statement.

Mr. Best's motion was carried that the policemen be empowered to inspect and notify all parties to comply with our sanitary laws with the advice and consent of our local Board of Health.

THE HORTICULTURAL GRANT.

President Dr. Burnham and Mr. J. H. Roper of the Horticultural Society waited upon the council in reference to the annual grant of the council to the society. A number of new seats, they said, were needed in the park and the directors would like to make the place as attractive as possible. The society asked that the council grant the usual sum of $500 to the society, the same as they received a year or two ago. Last year the grant had been cut down by the council, and the deputation asked that they receive the usual sum this year.

Mayor Kendry thought no money was expended better than the sum which was spent on the park. He would like to see the council grant their request and save the depusation from coming before the council from year to year.

The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

THE AMALGAMATION SCHEME.

Mr. Kelly presented the report of the special committee as follows:

GENTLEMEN,—Your special committee appointed to formulate a scheme for union with the village of Ashburnham, beg leave to report that they held a meeting with the council of Ashburnham on Saturday evening, March 31st, when it was agreed that should the union be carried out, the following terms be agreed to:

1. That the united municipality remain a town and should not ask for incorporation as a city at the time the union is carried out.

2. That the agreement as to fire protection be confirmed on the understanding that the Water Company supply the hydrants for Ashburnham at the rate now paid by the town viz. $35 each per annum.

3 That Ashburnham be received as one ward with the same representation as other wards.

4. That the united municipalities assume the liabilities and take over the assets of both the town and village.

In regard to sewerage, that the town of Peterborough as at present constituted have the sole control of the matter of sewerage for their portion of the united municipality and also that the village of Ashburnham have the sole control of the matter of sewerage for that portion of the united municipality.

Your committee recommend that the foregoing terms be approved by the council.

Your committee also recommend that this council take steps at once to have the union of the two municipalities carried out.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOS. KELLY,
Chairman.

Mr. Kelly moved, seconded by Mr. Brady, that the report be adopted.

Mr. Roger moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Dawson, that the report be received, subject to the provision of the question of union being submitted with the first by-law that may be submitted to a vote of the ratepayers, before the council take final action in reference thereto.

Mr. Roger thought an important question like this should be submitted to the people, as it was settling a question for all time to come. The union anyway could

PARTY UPS AND DOWNS.

RECALLED BY MR. GLADSTONE'S LAYING DOWN OF OFFICE.

British Liberal and Conservative Majorities Since 1859—Succinct and Interesting History of the Relative Standing of the Great Parties in the Mother Land.

The ups and downs of the Liberal and Conservative parties in England are interesting, and the laying down of office by Mr. Gladstone is an historical event that calls for special attention. The general elections from 1859 have had a more or less appreciable effect upon the foreign relations of England, and it is for this reason that these events are noted abroad. The "balance of parties" therefore possesses invaluable interest to the student of contemporaneous history.

In 1859, to go back to the period following the Crimean war and the India rebellion, Lord John Russell, notwithstanding the half hearted support he received from Lord Palmerston and Mr. Gladstone, had little difficulty in uniting the Opposition sufficiently to defeat the Derby-Disraeli Reform bill by 330 to 291. The result of the general election which ensued, although nominally a gain of twenty-nine seats to the Tory party, left them in a minority when all sections of the Opposition combined against them; and a vote of want of confidence, which was, by the way, moved by Lord Hartington, was carried on June 10, by a majority of thirteen. But the Whigs had no heaven-sent leader. The Queen, passing over Palmerston and Russell, sent for Lord Granville, who failed to form an administration on account of Lord John's refusal to hold office under him. The Government which Palmerston succeeded in forming in the Commons had the support of 347 members, against 307 Tories—a working majority of only forty. Yet it was one of the longest administrations that the country has ever known, lasting for six years and one hundred and twenty-two days, only coming to an end in 1865, when Palmerston was defeated on a question raised on the patronage of Lord Westbury.

1865.

The general election which followed resulted in a gain to the Liberals. The new House contained 360 Liberals against 298 Tories—a working Liberal majority of 62—but Earl Russell, who succeeded to the Premiership on the death of Lord Palmerston in October, 1865, was unable to keep his party together, and, thanks to the "Cave of Adullam," formed by Mr. Lowe, Mr. Horsman and Lord Elcho, he was defeated by a majority of eleven on the Russell-Gladstone Reform bill. Lord Derby's stop gap administration succeeded, if not in "stemming the tide of democracy," in "dishing the Whigs." The Derby-Disraeli Reform bill of 1867, it is true, cost the government the support of Lord Cranborne, Lord Carnarvon and General Peel, but in the form in which it was allowed to pass into law it was to all intents and purposes the bill of Mr. Bright and of the advocates of household suffrage. Lord Derby might well describe it as a "leap in the dark." Household suffrage conditional on one year's residence, the abolition of the "compound householder," a £12 franchise in counties, a £10 lodger franchise, represented concessions sufficient to leave it a little doubtful when Mr. Disraeli's triumph came in.

1868.

The election of 1868 was fought upon the question of the Irish church. Mr. Gladstone had, it will be remembered, succeeded in carrying both his resolutions and the Suspensory bill against Mr. Disraeli by a majority of sixty, and when he came back from the country he mustered 383 followers against 278 Conservatives—a majority of 104—and he retained his power for five years and seventy days, when he paralyzed his party by deciding to dissolve Parliament on January 26, 1874.

1874.

The dissolution was of course due to the petty defeats and humiliations which the government had suffered since, on the defeat of the Irish Universities Education bill, Mr. Disraeli had refused to relieve them of the cares of office. There was, too, a desire that the electors should decide whether Mr. Gladstone or Mr Disraeli should have the spending of the enormous surplus of £6,000,000 at the disposal of the Chancellor of the Exchequer. Mr. Gladstone made a tremendous bid for the popular vote by offering to abolish the income tax en bloc. But the country did not take the bait. The working classes were not eager to take off a tax they did not pay. The counties were swept by the Tories, and Mr. Disraeli found himself returned to Parliament with 352 supporters against 300 followers of Mr. Gladstone—a working majority of fifty-two—the Conservative vote being approximately 680,732, and the Liberal vote 750,550. The Conservative administration lasted for six years and fifty-nine days, when, misled by the result of the Southwark election, on 13th February, 1880, the Earl of Beaconsfield decided to appeal to the country for a new lease of power.

1880.

At the general election of 1880 the most burning question was the foreign policy of the government. Mr. Gladstone attacked the budget proposals with damaging effect, especially condemning the new tax on personal property and the sacrifice of the sinking fund—by which it was proposed to meet a portion of the deficit—and the proposed change of probate duties as pressing unfairly on personal property. The result of the first day's polling was a loss of fifteen ministerial seats, and in three days the Earl of Beaconsfield's majority had ceased to exist. The Liberals swept the boroughs, and Mr. Gladstone returned to parliament with 414 supporters, against 238 Conservatives, or a Liberal majority of 176—the largest known since 1832—the Liberal vote being approximately 1,068,350 and the Conservative 881,566. This administration lasted for five years and fifty-six days, when Mr. Gladstone was defeated on Mr. Childers' proposed increase on the beer and spirit duties by 264 to 252. Lord Salisbury formed a government, making some arrangement, which has never been explained, with Mr. Gladstone with regard to winding up the business of the session.

1885.

The general election which took place in November, 1885, was not fought upon any definite issue. Mr. Gladstone's manifesto raised no cry, disestablishment, free education, and the creation of a peasant proprietary, which formed the chief items of "the Radical programme, being postponed for future consideration. The Liberal leaders proposed little more than a reform of Parliamentary procedure and country government. Lord Salisbury, on the other hand, based his claims to the confidence of the country on the failures of the Liberals to fulfil the promises of 1880. The Irish vote went against the Liberals, chiefly because Mr. Gladstone desired to retain certain parts of the Crimes Act, and the Liberal party was also met by the strong opposition of the churchmen, Roman Catholics and licensed victuallers, who respectively opposed disestablishment, free education, and local option. The constitution of the House of Commons, when the returns were complete, showed that Mr. Gladstone had 334 supporters, Lord Salisbury 250, and Mr. Parnell 86, the Liberal vote being approximately 2,156,952, the Conservative vote 1,-935,216, and the Parnellite vote 299,784. Although this gave the Liberals a majority of eighty-four over the Conservatives, if Mr. Parnell sided with the Opposition they would be in a minority of two. The country was not long kept in suspense. In the middle of December the sketch of a scheme for granting Ireland an Independent Parliament was put forth as the proposal of Mr. Gladstone. This, though disclaimed, was speedily followed by Mr. Gladstone's conversion to Home Rule. Lord Salisbury boldly met Parliament when it opened in January, and challenged a vote of want of confidence. Mr. Gladstone was not slow to pick up the gage, and the Government were defeated by 330 to 250 on Mr. Jesse Collings' amendment, regretting the absence of the cow and three acres, which had played so great a part during the election, from the Queen's speech. The ministry resigned, and Mr. Gladstone was called upon to form a government, a task which was rendered extremely difficult by the split in the Liberal party on the Irish question, Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Trevelyan following Lord Hartington into opposition.

Mr. Gladstone's defeat on his famous Home Rule bill is historic. In the early hours of June 8, in the most crowded house ever known and amid a scene of tremendous excitement, the figures were read out: Ayes, 311; noes, 341; the largest number that ever voted in the House. Three days later the dissolution of Parliament was announced in both Houses. In the general election of 1886 party feeling, if we may so describe the spirit which actuated both Unionists and Separatists, reached a height probably never before known. The one question before the country was the maintenance of the legislative union. In the result Lord Salisbury came back with 316 supporters, to which must be added Lord Hartington's following of 78; Mr. Gladstone mustered only 191, and Mr. Parnell 85. In this election the Conservative vote was 1,037,779, the Liberal-Unionist vote was 385,986, the Gladstonian vote 1,241,357 and the Nationalist vote 99,774. Thus began the Unionist coalition government, which, in spite of all the prophets, has so nearly completed the full span of parliamentary life.

1892.

The general election of 1892 resulted in a majority of 42 for Mr. Gladstone, made up as follows:—English Liberals, 275; Parnellites and anti-Parnellites, 81; total, 275. The Conservative members in the House numbered 268, the Liberal Unionists 46; total 314. The Irish Home Rule was thrown out by the Lords, the Employers' Liability bill withdrawn by Mr. Gladstone because of the opposition of the Lords, while the Parish Councils bill was passed by a compromise between the two Houses.

STAMP COLLECTORS.

THERE ARE ALREADY OVER 5,000,000 OF THEM.

The Enormous Value of Some Collections—One of Them Worth $500,000—The Cost of Some Single Specimens—Stamp Collectors Not Fools.

Five millions of postage stamp collectors, among whom are their Royal Highnesses the Duke of York and the Duke of Saxe-Coburg, have caused philately to advance in popular favor by leaps and bounds, says the London Telegraph. So great is the competition for rare issues that £340 has been paid for a single specimen. Postage-stamp collecting is no longer a mere pastime or hobby, it is a science, as philatelists say, and, at all events, they make of it a very serious pursuit.

There are still people who hold to the belief that the passion for preserving postage stamps is nothing but a mania, excusable during boyhood, for it is supposed to be useful in teaching lads geography and the extent of the British Empire, but when men devote their time to collecting foreign, colonial or English issues they are frequently looked upon as harmless lunatics, to whom the old adage may be appropriately applied: "Fools and their money are soon parted." Philatelists, however, are possessed of considerable common sense, and much method underlies their madness. In truth, stamp collecting has developed an important feature, for, as a correspondent points out, it has become the recognized medium of investment on the part of thousands of professional and business men, who are content to forego immediate dividends upon their capital in order to realize compound interest at a high rate.

Members of the Stock Exchange—from a love of speculation—barristers, doctors, army officers very largely, and the clergy to some extent are to be found gravely and systematically collecting stamps today. Many of them possess collections numbering tens of thousands of specimens, and some of these are of great value, and are duly insured at Lloyd's. It is probable, however, that no British philatelist can vie with Von Ferrary, of Paris, whose treasures are said to be worth £100,000. Important collections have been made in Australia, and it is stated that during the late bank crisis more than one house of business saved its mercantile credit by raising money on rare postage stamps which were held by the partners.

How very extensive the interests of stamp collectors have become in London is demonstrated by the fact that there are nearly forty firms engaged as dealers in the City and West End. Last season two auctioneers in the metropolis turned over nearly £15,000, and a third firm is supposed to have dealt with stamps to the value of about £10,000 more at public sale. These figures are significant when it is recollected that stamp auction sales are comparatively of recent introduction, and that they are entirely supplementary to the methods of distribution and exchange which have been in operation since stamp collecting first became a fashionable hobby in 1861.

Best Dog to Keep.

I have often been asked to advise as to the best dog to keep, and in answer I have always said that everything depended upon where and how the prospective dog owner lived. To keep a large dog with a heavy coat in a town house always struck me as cruel. Large dogs need exercise, else they get too fat and then fall ill. In town a fox terrier and the sluggish pug are to be preferred, or any of the little toy dogs. In the country any kind of dog may be kept, the selection depending upon the taste of the owner. The pointer and setter are both most companionable, and if there is anything to shoot in the neighborhood they are most valuable. All of the spaniels, on account of their intelligence, are interesting, and the mastiff is an invaluable watch-dog for a farm or country place. But any purely bred, well trained dog, where there is room for exercise, will earn his keep in a thousand different ways, not least of which is that affectionate loyalty that remains always true, though the dog be subjected to neglect, discouragement and even active abuse.—John Gilmer Speed in St. Louis Republic.

Told of Ellen Terry.

Here is a story illustrating the ready tact of Ellen Terry, the actress. She had promised to introduce a man to Mr. Irving, but had forgotten his name. On the pretext, as the story goes, that she and Mr. Irving had had a little dispute about the way the man's name was spelled, making a bet about it she got him to write it on a slip of paper. Of course that saved her. If Miss Terry did this she was more fortunate than another clever woman about whom a similar story is told. She, too, when she had forgotten a name, said that she wished to settle a dispute about the spelling of the name by having it written out for her. The man then gravely scribbled his name. It was a name that is not spelled in more than a dozen different ways. It was Jones!

Fisheries Inspector Brickwood Gets Letters From all Over the Dominion Asking for Particulars About Dodd's Kidney Pills Curing Him of Chronic Rheumatism.

KINGSTON, April 2.—Enquiry develops the fact that the story of J. H. Brickwood's wonderful cure of his rheumatism by Dodd's Kidney Pills has brought him notoriety. Mr. Brickwood daily receives letters from all quarters of Canada asking further particulars of his cure. He invariably answers that after all other remedies failed, Dodd's Kidney Pills restored him to health. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy in pill form ever offered the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations. Purchasers for their own safety should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes; price, fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50. To be had of all dealers.

WOMEN AND THE STAGE.

The Way to Learn to Act is by Acting—Lillian Russell's Advice to Aspirants.

The young girl, if she has strength to carry herself safely in any self-supporting walk of life, need never hesitate to take up the stage as a profession. The cant of stage perils is every whit as foolish as the cant of the stage as a moral agent.

How shall we go about it?

There is no literature on the art of acting. There are biographies and autobiographies by the score. They may throw a little light on the secret of stage success, but it is a confused and unsatisfactory way of getting an education in the art of acting. After all one learns to act by acting.

I do not think any one can give any valid advice to an aspirant for stage success. The way to succeed, is to succeed, and no individual case can be set up for a model.

People of serious intellects, who always want to know why they are amused, are much given to bemoaning the fact that beauty is such an important part of a successful artist's equipment. But it is the artist herself who is the canvas on which she paints. One might as well quarrel with the painter for desiring the best materials. Some one says that beauty is genius—on the stage. There is a half truth in the remark. As all events beauty is the most efficient aid talent can have.

"It doesn't seem to be an easy life," this typical young girl remarks rather gloomily. Indeed it is not. But then it is a life full of color and the excitement which is inevitable from all creative or interpretative art.

"And the rewards, Miss Russell?"

And when the young girl asks this question I think it all over—the hard work, the interest, the triumph, the seclusion and I might almost say the exclusion of the artist's life. Yes, the rewards are great, but one pays a great price. The artist whose medium is her voice, her beauty, in a word herself, is forced to lead a life of exclusion. She excludes the flippancies of society, the "joie de vivre," everything which might tend to impair the charm of her art medium.

There are no anchorites nowadays? My dear and typical young girl, you will find an anchorite hidden under the splendid stage gaiety of every great artist. She cannot afford to indulge in the dissipations of society. She cannot afford to fritter away her charm in little pleasures. In almost all cases her home life is that of a recluse, her life on the stage, a triumph it may be, but an arduous triumph.

And the reward? Yes, that is undoubtedly great. But the reward is for the few and the hard work and disappointments are for the many.—Philadelphia Press.

Around the World.

Belgian law courts have decided that a dog has equal rights with a human being in a railway train. If the dog has a proper ticket he is duly entitled to a seat in the carriage.

London stray cats are as devoted frequenters of the Zoo as any child. Large numbers go to the Gardens at night from great distances to pick up the remnants of the animals' food, particularly the fish supplied to the sea-birds.

The Manchester ship-canal was well used during its first week of existence. Not to mention numerous passenger and excursion vessels, twenty-nine trading ships were berthed at Manchester-Salford docks, carrying 17,000 tons of merchandise.

Unseaworthy ships are to be removed from the Russian navy. The loss of the worn out gunboat Koussalka with all hands so horrified the Czar that he has ordered every old vessel in the fleet to be thoroughly surveyed and condemned on the slightest suspicion.

A London West-end tobacconist says that many of his customers do not hesitate to give half a crown for a single cigarette, and those at a shilling apiece are by no means uncommon. The present fad among cigarette smokers is for tips of a costly and eccentric character.

The end of the world is to fall on November 13, 1899, according to Dr. Falb, the well-known German weather prophet. He asserts that the erratic comet of 1866 will reappear in 1899 and collide with our globe. But Dr. Falb made a grand fiasco in foretelling the summer weather last year.

Bad for Secrets.

One of the most striking phenomena of the Adirondack region is the carrying power of the human voice in still weather upon the lakes, great and small. Persons ashore easily hear the ordinary conversation of others who are so far out upon the lake as to be undistinguishable, and as a great many Adirondack visitors habitually violate the law touching the slaughter of deer, all such offenders are extremely careful not even to whisper a word that might betray their guilt when rowing upon the lakes.

Popular Fallacies.

That ladies pay no attention to the ballot.
That a warm heart is better than all riches.
That a poet cannot appreciate a lobster salad.
That Vassar students never think of matrimony.
That rhubarb is never eaten by the elect of men.

The Marked Success

Which attended the formal opening of our New Millinery and Mantle Department has been a matter of sincere congratulation and encouragement—far in excess of our highest expectations.

The special efforts we put forth to excel has amply repaid us and we are pleased to know that our beautiful display has evoked so much favourable comment from the Ladies.

We take this opportunity of thanking the large number of ladies who daily patronized our Show Rooms, not only for the many liberal orders they favoured us with, but for their kind words and flattering preferences for our exhibition over all others.

The Good Start

which we have made in our Millinery and Mantle Department will be an incentive to continued efforts to excel. The array of Rich and Beautiful Millinery will be fully maintained throughout the season, and as fast as new novelties appear or favourite lines become exhausted, we will be prompt in ordering.

DEPUTATIONS AND BY-LAWS

not take place before 1st January, 1894, and there was no particular hurry for the ratepayers to vote on it.

The mayor thought the council should act one way or the other. It was due to the Ashburnham council to do so.

Mr. Brady—What does it cost to hold an election?

Mayor—About $100.

Mr. Mason—We might as well save that $100.

Mr. Dawson thought the question should be submitted to the people.

Mr. Cahill thought as several bylaws would have to be voted upon in the near future and as Mr. Roger had pointed out the union could not take place anyway before January 1st, he thought that there was no particular hurry and the bylaw could be voted on at the same time as voting on the $5,000 debenture bylaw for school improvements.

Mr. Hall was willing as a member of the council to act upon his share of responsibility of taking in Ashburnham. Peterborough ratepayers according to law need not vote on this question as it was simply extending the town's limits. The council might pass the by-law by only a narrow majority and some difficulty might be had in obtaining approval from the Lt.-Governor-in-Council in such case unless the council was practically unanmious, therefore he favoured leaving the question to the people to decide.

After some further discussion the report was adopted, with Mr. Roger's motion added to the report.

FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT.

Mr. Kelly presented the report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee as follows:—

GENTLEMEN.—That acting on the authority given us at your last meeting we have, at the request of the chief of the fire brigade, given orders for the repairs of the hose wagon. This will also enable the brigade to adopt the suggestion from the secretary of the Underwriters' Association, to carry the chemical fire extinguishers in the hose wagon. The wheels have to be replaced and the old wheels will be used for a wagon for drill purposes. We have considered the communication from the secretary of the Underwriters' Association and in reference to the requirements and suggestions it contains, would recommend as follows:—

1. That arrangements be made with the Bell Telephone Company to place four more electric boxes at places pointed out by this committee. We have communicated with the company with this end in view and expect a definite answer at once.

2. That a by-law be prepared and introduced to regulate the storage of coal oil and other inflammable substances.

3. In reference to the "Y" connections, the brigade now has two, which are being tested, and we recommend that authority be given the committee to purchase "Y" connentions.

4. That the Water Company be communicated with at once in reference to the single branch hydrants, the laying of pipes smaller than five inch diameter and the dead ends. In reference to pipes, we are informed by the Water Company that no pipes smaller than five inches in diameter are laid for fire purposes or to carry water to hydrants.

5. Your committee has called attention to the fire brigade in reference to monthly drills and dated records of them, in order that it may be carried out.

6. That the fire hall be arranged to the best advantage for the swift moving of appliances and any necessary changes for this purpose be made as soon as possible.

Your committee has had the firemen's rooms renovated and some necessary conveniences procured.

THOS. KELLY,
Chairman.

The report after some unimportant discussion was adopted.

LICENSE REPORT.

This committee's report was presented by Mr. Hughes as follows:

We have considered the letter of Chas. Griffin referred to them, and recommend that on his payment of fine and costs referred to, a town check be issued to him for the same amount.

Your committee having learned there was some misunderstanding of the hawkers' and peddlers' by-law the last by-law imposing a fee of $50, while licenses had been issued for a less sum, referred the by law to the town solicitor, who recommended that a new by-law be prepared and passed. Accordingly a new by-law has been prepared and will be submitted to you.

J. L. HUGHES,
Chairman.

The report was adopted without discussion.

CHARITY REPORT.

Mr. White presented the report of the Charity Committee:

GENTLEMEN.—Your Charity Committee beg leave to report that the amount of charity disbursed by your committee up to March 31st, 1894, was as follows: Groceries, $457.25; wood, $412.01; tickets, $18.80, sundries, $17.50, total, $905.06.

W. H. WHITE,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Mr. Cahill, chairman of the Finance Committee, presented the following report:

GENTLEMEN.—Your Finance Committee beg leave to report and recommend.

Your committee received a letter from Mr. Edwards, town solicitor, stating that $46 was required for disbursements as witness fees in the case of Mason vs. Peterborough, and authorizing a cheque to be issued for that amount. We recommend that this action be approved.

Your committee, as authorized, sent a deputation to Toronto to appear before the Private Bills Committee of the Legislature, when the town's bill came before that committee. We recommend that a cheque be issued to pay the expenses of the deputation.

Your committee recommend that a grant be made to the Peterborough Fire Brigade Band of the same amount as last year, viz., $250, payable quarterly, the band to play in the court house park as usual.

Your committee having considered the return regarding exemptions, instructed the clerk to write the proprietors of factories who have not fyled statements called for by the by-laws.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

T. CAHILL,
Chairman.

Mr. Cahill moved the adoption of the report.

Mr. Hughes moved in amendment that the grant to the Fire Brigade band be $150 instead of $250, in view of the stringency and hardness of the times. He appreciated the band, the music and the men, and although he knew it was an unpopular move, he favoured a low sum. Music was a luxury. He did not know that he would favour this low grant every year, but for the present he did as times were very hard and the town's charity lists in consequence heavy.

Mr. Hughes' amendment failed to receive a seconder and the report was adopted.

MARKET MATTERS.

The Market Committee report was presented by Mr. McElwaine, stating that the annual auction of tolls had taken place, being sold to Mr. R. H. Green for $2,070, and that Mr. Green had furnished the proper bonds, etc. The committee had a by-law prepared adding to the list of tolls.

The report was adopted.

STREETS AND BRIDGES.

Mr. Best on behalf of the Street and Bridge Committe reported that with reference to the letter of Mr. John Hillier, regarding a drain on lot 6, south of Edinburgh and west of George street, the committee was advised by the town solicitor that the drain being on private property, this council can take no action therein.

Moved by Mr. Roger, seconded by Mr. Cahill,—That the Street and Bridge Committee have power to purchase a roller for the streets.—Carried.

BY-LAWS COME UP.

Councillor Hughes introduced the first reading of a by-law respecting hawkers and peddlers.

On the second reading of the bylaw with Mr. Cahill in the chair, considerable discussion took place as to the fee which should be imposed upon peddlers.

Mr. Hughes volunteered the explanation that the present license fee for all hawkers and peddlerrs was fifty dollars, but that ever since the bylaw had been issued, licenses had been granted certain parties for five dollars, but on what authority he did not know. The reason the License Committee had decided to pass a new by-law was that under the old one no license for peddling or hawking could be taken out for a less sum than fifty dollars, whether the licensee used a horse or merely carried a hand satchel. He thought there should be some re-arrangement of the fees that those parties using a horse in peddling goods should be charged more than foot persons but as to what the license for each should be the committee left the matter to the council to decide.

Mr. White moved, seconded by Mr. Best,—That the blanks be filled in with five dollars a year license for both parties—using a horse and foot peddlers.

Mr. Hall, after some further discussion, moved in amendment that the committee rise, intimating that the matter of fixing the license fees be referred back to the committee to report at the next meeting of the council.

Mr. Hughes said the bylaw should be passed to-night, that many peddlers were anxious to take out their licenses for the year.

Mr. Hughes moved in amendment to the amendment that $30 be charged for horse and wagon and $20 for foot peddlers.

Mr. Dawson was strongly opposed to high licenses. He thought that the matter of the consumers was to be considered in passing the bylaw fixing the licenses as well as the merchants. He did not see why $30 had to be imposed or $5 for that matter. Many poor persons made their living by peddling from door to door and they could not afford to pay a high license fee.

The Mayor thought the question of peddlers' licenses should be further considered by the council. He was willing to call a special meeting to deal with the matter as soon as the committee could agree upon the amount to be charged for licenses.

The amendment of Mr. Hall, that the committee rise, was carried on the understanding that, at a special meeting to be held on Tuesday night, April 10th, the by-law be considered again and the amounts filled in.

ANOTHER BY-LAW.

Mr. Hall introduced another by-law for its first reading, restraining the running at large of animals in the town of Peterborough. Mr. Hall said there was a by-law at present existing in reference to the impounding of animals running at large, but none to enable the magistrate to fine offenders. The by-law was duly passed. It provides for the fining of offenders from one to fifty dollars for each offence.

THE NEW MARKET BY-LAW.

Mr. McElwaine introduced the first reading of a by-law to amend the market by-law. The by-law amended the original by-law by enumerating certain articles in the new by-law not covered by the old one, empowering the market clerk to charge toll on the same. Another clause empowered the clerk to charge toll, not exceeding 25 cents upon all lots of goods whose things were auctioneered on the market.

The clause pertaining to the allowing of butchers, grocers, hucksters, etc., of coming on the market to buy each day at a certain created considerable discussion as to whether the hours should be 9 o'clock, 10 o'clock or 11 o'clock.

Mr. Whyte moved, second by Mayor Kendry, that the blank be filled in by 11 o'clock.

Mr. Brady moved, seconded by Mr. Best, that the hour be nine o'clock.

Market Clerk R. H. Green was heard, and said he thought the hour of 10 o'clock for the allowing of hucksters to come on the market would be the most suitable. It would enable outside marketers to dispose of their produce at an early hour, and do their trading in time to catch the noon trains for home.

Mr. Brady subsequently amended his motion to 10 o'clock.

The vote on the amendment was taken first, and was lost, six councillors voting for it and six against it. It was therefore lost.

Mr. White's motion that the hour be eleven o'clock, was carried, Mr. Cahill, who was in the chair, giving the deciding vote in its favour.

STREET WATERING.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee was empowered to advertise for tenders for street watering, for the same districts as last year, and report to the council at its next meeting.

Mr. Roger moved, seconded by Mr. Dawson, that the subject of the earlier closing of taverns, billiard rooms and pool rooms, and of gambling therein, presented by the ministerial deputation, be referred to the License Committee to report thereon.—Carried.

THE PIGEON CREEK BRIDGE.

Moved by Mr. Hall, seconded by Mr. Dawson, that the Finance Committee be and is hereby authorized to settle with the county of Peterborough, either by legislation or contract, the proposed arrangement whereby the county pays to the town the some of $1,250 towards the cost of the construction of the Smith street bridge, and the county's share of the cost of maintenance and repairs of the Pigeon Creek bridge.

This was carried after some discussion.

CLOSING BUSINESS.

Mr. Kelly moved that the matter of encroachments on Donegal street be referred to the Street and Bridge Committee with power to instruct the town solicitor to have all encroachments removed—Carried.

Council adjourned at 11.30 p.m.

PALATABLE DIET.

Lactated Food Fills the Bill.

Mothers and nurses lose sight of the fact that "palatableness" has much to do with a baby's every-day food. It is well known that breast milk, cow's milk and the majority of prepared foods are often unpalatable to babies, and when continued and forced upon them do great injury.

All babies love and relish Lactated Food; they thrive upon it, and grow robust and strong. It should be remembered that Lactated Food possesses the most nourishing and strengthening elements that can enter a food for infants' use. Perfect digestive vigour is the great result when Lactated Food is used. Cross, whining, peevish and sickly babies are speedily made happy and well when mothers give them a regular diet of this life sustaining food.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH CHIMES.

A Very Successful Social and Apron Sale Held Last Night—Reception to Rev. Mr. Plenford on Thursday Night.

The social and apron sale held in the school house of St. John's church last night was well attended, and the proceedings throughout were characterized by a pleasing unformality. Everyone present entered into the enjoyment of the occasion. Rev. J. C. Davidson, rector, of Peterborough, presided. The event was held under the auspices of the Girls' Guild. Two sale tables were well laden with things beautiful and artistic, and the young ladies in charge managed affairs in a capital manner. During the evening refreshments were served. The programme of vocal and instrumental music was entertaining and skilfully rendered. The instrumentalists were Mrs. G. A. Smith, Miss Sproule and the Misses English. The vocal selections were contributed in a pleasing manner by Mrs. Stapleton, Miss Clark, Mr. A. Kingscote, Master Maitland Boswell and Miss L. Dawson. Prof. J. C. Crooms favoured with several efforts in good style. Rev. J. C. Davidson took occasion to introduce to those present Rev. E. W. Pickford, the new assistant curate of the parish. The reverend gentleman was cordially received, and made many friends by his agreeable address and kindly manner during the evening. The gathering broke up shortly before 10 o'clock by singing "Sun of my Soul." A reception will be tendered the Rev. Mr Pickford at the South Ward Mission on Thursday night of this week. The new assistant has taken up residence at the corner of Rink and Aylmer streets.

Rev. C. B. Kenrick is in Toronto to-day attending a meeting of the council of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, of which he has been appointed a member. The council meeting is for the purpose of drafting a constitution for the boys' department of the Brotherhood. Mr. Kenrick's successful and painstaking work among young men and boys is constantly growing in its widespread influence and eminence.

TURNBULL'S

—:o:—

IT PAYS TO WAIT.

—:o:—

We have done our best to show the Peterborough public the newest Spring Millinery by not having our opening before the new goods are in stock, and we have more than proved that the people appreciate our efforts by the throngs that have been crowding our show rooms since the opening, and the many exclamations that we hear on every side, that our display was the prettiest and most varied they ever witnessed, and oh! here is something I can wear that is both neat and becoming. You ask us how we got up such a varied stock suitable for every taste; the secret is we have been in the millinery business for years and understand what the Peterborough public like. As to prices one lot of manufacturer's samples alone we bought free of duty which is 30 per cent, and leaves us in a position to sell them that much cheaper than other houses. Our motto has always been from the beginning, small profits and quick returns and give honest, reliable goods for the money.

See our beautiful display under the gaslight Saturday night.

The time has arrived for Spring Mantles and Wraps. Our stock is complete in this department in all the newest styles and materials shown. Cloth from 60c. up.

Our Mantle Maker has the confidence of the public being well known for a perfect fit.

Our stock of Imported Worsteds and Serges for our Tailoring department is now in. They are beautiful goods and grand value. Give us a trial. A perfect fit guaranteed.

BARGAIN DAY.

Look out for our list of bargains which will be left at your house for Wednesday, our next bargain day, April 4th. It will tell you of a lot of carpet ends of all lengths we are clearing out to make room for new stock.

What the Mowat Government Has Done for Education.

A SLIGHT COST PER PUPIL

Compared With the Average in the United States — The Opposition Continues to Unfairly Criticize the Management of the Agricultural College.

TORONTO, April 4.—In the Legislature yesterday Mr. Glendenning, rising to a question of privilege, said that during his absence from the House the lock of his desk had been broken and papers had been taken out. Some of them had been addressed back to him again, but others had entirely disappeared. Although the lock had been since fixed, there is no guarantee that it would not happen again.

Mr. Bush said he had the same complaint to make. On returning after an absence he found his desk had been broken into and the contents disturbed.

Mr. Reid stated that he was another victim. His desk had been broken into, although it did not contain any papers.

Mr. Meredith considered it a most startling state of affairs that papers left in members' desks were not safe. He understood that in Mr. Glendenning's case documents were taken out and read, and returned by somebody, thanking the hon. member for the use of them. It looked as though the lock of his (Mr. Meredith's) desk had been tampered with.

Sir Oliver Mowat was surprised that such had occurred and promised to have the matter investigated.

Solemnization of Marriages.

Sir Oliver Mowat moved the House into committee on the bill to make further provision for the solemnization of marriages. It provides that persons not being widows or widowers shall not marry under the age of 21 years without [the written consent of parents or guardian, and no license shall issue to a person under the age of 16 years without the production of such written consent. To parties under the age of 14 no license shall issue at all.

Mr. Meredith did not see why a young woman between the ages of 18 and 21 should not be at liberty to marry. He considered it a little unreasonable that she should not be at liberty to enter into this obligation if she chooses without the consent of anyone at all.

The clause fixing the rate at 21 was passed.

Mr. Meredith suggested that the limit of age for obtaining a license to marry should be fixed at 18 instead of 16.

The amendment was accepted and the bill was reported with amendment.

Respecting Coroners' Duties.

Sir Oliver Mowat moved the House into committee on the bill respecting certain duties of coroners. He moved the addition to the bill of a clause to the effect that coroners should not hold inquests on the bodies of persons killed on any railroad, mine, etc., in which the former were shareholders or had an interest.

The bill was reported.

Sir Oliver Mowat moved the second reading of the bill respecting councils of conciliation and arbitration for settling industrial disputes. In doing so he said it was desirable that disputes between employers and workmen should be settled in some friendly way. The present bill was not of a compulsory character. It was proposed that the employers and workingmen in the cases of dispute enumerated in the bill should each name two conciliators, and that they in turn should elect their own chairman. If this body failed to bring the disputing parties to terms, then the council of arbitration went into operation. The council of conciliation would have no authority to pronounce a decision. All they would have authority to do would be to get the parties to agree to some compromise. If that failed, then the matter would go before the council of arbitration. The latter body might take up a question even if one of the disputing parties dissented. No objection to the bill had been heard from workmen or employers, but there had been representations from mechanics employed on railways pointing out that the matters involved in their occupation were so peculiar that there should not be an arbitration chosen from the general body to deal with their affairs.

Mr. Meredith thought the bill provided a good deal of cumbrous machinery which they were attempting to substitute for the machinery hitherto chosen by the parties themselves and which would have no power whatever of enforcing its decree. What would be possible under the bill was this: "If any ten employes wished to raise any question as between them and their employes they might take these proceedings. They might call the employer before the Council of Conciliation and the Board of Arbitration, and he might be required to submit to all the expense of this machinery, although eventually perhaps found not to be in the wrong at all. The bill might possibly, instead of being a benefit, turn out very unpopular. It might be better to allow the parties themselves to voluntarily submit their differences to arbitration. The result of the mining strikes in England showed that one person acceptable to both sides might accomplish more than boards like those proposed could do.

Sir Oliver Mowat, in reply, said the experience in other places had convinced the Government that compulsory arbitration was not desirable. The provisions of the bill were only intended to apply where the parties could not agree together.

Mr. Wood (Hastings) said he sympathized with anything that would tend to alleviate the troubles of labor disputes, but agreed with Mr. Meredith that more might be accomplished by one man than by the legislation proposed.

The motion for second reading then passed.

Committee of Supply.

The House then went into Committee of Supply and passed several items of expenditure on public works.

Hon. Mr. Fraser was present. He referred to the statement of Hon. Mr. Harcourt that he (Mr. Fraser) was satisfied with the present state of the grounds around the Parliament buildings. This was not altogether the case. No improvements could be determined upon until the effect of the removal of the ornamental plot at the entrance to the park. That having been done, and the site having been satisfactorily arranged, he apprehended there would be no difficulty in coming to a satisfactory arrangement with the city council regarding a proper approach to the building.

Agricultural Department.

On the item of $177,775 for agriculture, Hon. Mr. Dryden explained his administration of that department to some length. He maintained that the experiments carried on at the Guelph College were of great value to farmers. In regard to the charges of the Opposition, that the County Farmers' Institutes had been carried on political lines, he said this statement was not true. On some occasions political discussions took place in the Central Institutes, but that was not to be charged to the Government. The Opposition, he said, was attempting to decry the Guelph College.

Mr. Clancy interposed to say that the Opposition objected to the large sums the hon. gentleman had lost on the farms.

Mr. Dryden was still speaking when the House rose for recess.

After Recess.

Hon. Mr. Dryden continuing his remarks after recess said that the outbreak of disease at the College Farm necessitated the asking of $1,500 more for the purchase of stock than would otherwise have been needed. He said that the farmers of the future must give more attention to the raising of stock, etc., and not depend entirely upon grain growing. The special attention that would be given to these matters would require an increased expenditure.

Mr. Clancy Replies.

Mr. Clancy replied to Hon. Mr. Dryden. He claimed that a great deal of useless expenditure had been made. He compared the cost of stock for 1891-92 with the amount derived from the sales, and claimed there was a loss of $13,193 in the two years. He went on to contend that the farmers' institutes were conducted on political lines, and accused Mr. Dryden of using his position as Minister of Agriculture to gain the support of the farmers. He criticized the report of Prof. Mills in regard to the College, and claimed there was much therein to be condemned.

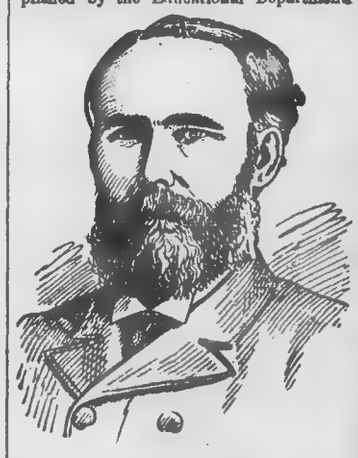
Hon. Mr. Dryden replied to all Mr. Clancy's statements and maintained that the Opposition did more to harm the college by adverse and unfair criticism than anything else with which they had to contend.

Messrs. Whitney and Wood followed in a general criticism of the Agricultural College.

The vote then passed.

Educational Department.

On the item of $240,000 for Public and Separate schools, Hon. Mr. Ross spoke to some length, showing the work accomplished by the Educational Department.



HON. G. W. ROSS.

Last year, he said, over $200,000 was granted towards elementary education, which was divided between Public and Separate schools according to the average attendance of each. The Separate schools received one-twelfth of the whole amount voted for elementary education, the Roman Catholic population of the province was in attendance at the Separate schools. In 1871, the last year of the Sandfield Macdonald Administration, the sum of $178,975 was paid for elementary education, whilst last year the sum was $291,325, or an increase of 60 per cent., whilst at the same time there had only been an increase of 10 per cent. in the population. The liberality of the Government had been six times as great as the population necessarily called for. The department had adopted a method in the schools calculated to develop a Canadian sentiment. The cost of text books was $4.06, or only 33 cents per head. He could not promise there would be any reduction in the number of subjects studied. In ten years there had been an increase of from 1,500 to 1,600 teachers, and there ought to be still larger increase in order to enable personal attention to be given to each pupil. The cost of education per pupil was $8.40, compared with an average of $17.22 in the United States. He defended the usefulness of the School of Pedagogy and hoped this year the University would grant a degree to those who completed a course at the school.

Messrs. Wood, Clancy, Waters and Hon. Mr. Harcourt followed the Hon. Mr. Ross.

Mr. Meredith said the people of the province were becoming every day more convinced that the first duty of the state was to see that the great majority of the children of the people should get a good sound primary education at the expense of the country. If they were going to give a secondary education, to a very large extent it ought to be provided at the expense of those who want it.

The item passed and the committee reported progress, after which the House adjourned.

House Notes.

Mr. Stratton introduced a bill in the House yesterday to amend the Municipal Act.

Dr. Ryerson introduced a bill to amend the Assessment Act.

Mr. Whitney moved yesterday for the reinstatement on the order paper of his bill respecting witness fees. The motion was concurred in.

Supplementary estimates to the amount of $250, were laid before the House.

Cabinet Crisis in Newfoundland.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., April 4.—Premier Whiteway and his colleagues called on Governor O'Brien yesterday and asked him to dissolve Parliament, as the result of the election trials, whereby the stability of the Government is jeopardized. They represented to the Governor that they anticipated unfair and adverse decisions in trials yet to come. His Honor promised an answer in a day or so. A deadlock exists in the Assembly and the tariff and supply bills are not yet passed.

Objection to a Fast Steamship Subsidy.

ST. JOHN, N.B., April 4.—Yesterday at the Board of Trade meeting there was lengthy discussion of the new proposed fast Atlantic line subsidy and a memorial was adopted and ordered to be forwarded to the Government, protesting against this subsidy on the ground that it would be of no advantage to Canada and could not compete with fast lines running out of New York.

DISCUSSING THE TARIFF.

Senator Vorhees Talks About Income Tax—U. S. Wealth Per Capita.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—A scheme is on foot here to have introduced in Congress a resolution creating a committee to confer with a like committee, which it is hoped the Canadian Government will appoint, looking to the construction of a canal from Waubanahene on Georgian Bay through to Lake Ontario, entering the latter at Toronto. It is claimed that commerce is demanding a shorter route to the seaboard from the western part of the continent. It is estimated that the canal can be built at a cost of $1,000,000 per mile, and it is also asserted that the actual distance from Toronto to the south end of the bay will not exceed sixty miles. It will be the purpose to use Lake Simcoe also.

Those who are fostering the scheme claim it will save a distance from the upper lake country of upwards of eight hundred miles. The scheme will be to get both Governments interested in the matter by granting subsidies and private corporations will do the rest. It is said that Representative Fletcher, of Minnesota, will in a few days introduce the required resolution. It will provide for a canal 150 feet wide and 35 feet deep, thus taking the largest ocean steamers.

From what is being said of it, the scheme seems to be gigantic, and has already many friends in both branches of Congress. It is understood that the railroads will make a great protest against the resolution when it is introduced.

DA GAMA'S PLEASANT OUTLOOK.

The Rebels Will be Shot If Surrendered by Portugal.

LISBON, April 4.—Admiral da Gama, the Brazilian insurgent leader, having asked permission to be landed with his followers in Buenos Ayres, the government of Portugal has replied that the Brazilian refugees cannot be permitted to land anywhere except in Portuguese territory and only on conditions preventing them from returning to Brazil for the purpose of re-engaging in warfare against the Brazilian government.

NEW YORK, April 4.—The Herald's Buenos Ayres special says advices from Rio Janeiro say President Peixoto's Cabinet is discussing a proposition to confiscate the property of all citizens of the republic who aided or abetted the rebels. A letter already proclaimed provides that the rebels now on board the Portuguese warships shall be shot if surrendered by Portugal.

Admiral da Gama is able to write, but can only talk in a whisper yet. He is very weak and refuses to discuss Brazilian affairs while aboard the Mindello.

The English naval commander in Rio harbor, to the surprise of the rebels, denied them refuge on the British man-of-war at the last moment.

The decks of the Mindello present a sickening sight. Sailors wounded in the fights are ill with beri-beri, or yellow fever, and lie huddled together, exposed to the weather.

ALBERT EDWARD'S ESCAPE.

Nearly the Victim of a Fatal Accident at the Marseilles Station.

LONDON, April 4.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily News this morning says that the Prince of Wales has arrived in Paris. While the Prince's train was at the Marseilles station the Prince lingered too long at the buffet. The train started and the Prince just succeeded in clutching the rail of the saloon carriage. As the Prince appeared to be in danger the station master signalled to the engine driver and the train was stopped. The Chronicle's Paris correspondent says that only the vigilance of the engineer of the train prevented a probably fatal accident to the Prince of Wales.

Terrible Cruelty to a Soldier.

BERLIN, April 4.—The Frankfort Gazette publishes a story of abominable cruelty practised on a soldier at Padua, Italy. According to the Gazette, a soldier named Evangelista reported himself as ill. His superior officer thought, or at least pretended to think, that he was shamming illness as an excuse to escape a riding exercise. Evangelista was ordered to report at the riding school, and he staggered there in obedience to the order. He declared when there that he was so weak that he could not mount his horse, but his officers whipped him until he tried three times to mount. Each time he fell to the ground exhausted. As he was lying on the ground a horse was brought and teased into kicking the prostrate recruit. Then in a playful mood the officers threw buckets of water over him. Evangelista implored his tormentors to let him alone, declaring that he was dying. His appeals, however, fell on deaf ears. The officers procured a rope, and this was tied to the arms of Evangelista. Then he was bumped up and down, and otherwise maltreated, until he appeared to be dead. Not satisfied with the torture they had inflicted upon the helpless recruit, the officers caused him to be dragged by the heels to the barracks. Evangelista died the same night.

EDUCATIONAL MATTERS.

The Business Transacted at Last Night's Meeting — The Excellent Average Attendance of the Schools —Committee Reports.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education held last night the business was transacted in a hurry and only routine matters came up for consideration. The following gentlemen were present:—Dr. Burnham (chairman), and Messrs. Hill, McKee, Hughes, Dr. Caldwell, Dr. Boucher, Edgecumbe, Hamilton, Hartley, Denne, Wrighton, McBain and Ferguson.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From John Millar, Deputy Minister of Education, stating that the sum of $679 was payable to the board and had been certified by the Education Department to the Treasury Department.—Received.

From A. Sperry, resigning his position as janitor of the North Ward school.—Received.

From Mrs. J. P. Sperry, asking for the position of janitrix of the North Ward school.—Received.

FEES AND ATTENDANCE.

The fees for April were as follows: Collegiate Institute, $350; Kindergarten, $15; Public Schools, $10.50.

The attendance for March at the Collegiate Institute was, on roll, 199; average, 188.

The following accounts were presented:

Globe Furniture Co	$10 50
H Thompson & Co	41 70
Peterborough L & P Co., 2 acc	16 25

Referred to the Finance Committee.

FINANCE REPORT.

Mr. Ferguson presented the report of the Finance Committeee as follows:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Finance Committee beg leave to recommend the payment of the following accounts:

Bell Tel. Co	$10 00
H S McDonald, when certified	68 72
P Hamilton Mfg Co "	3 50
Rathbun Co	11 80

The report was adopted.

COMMITTEE ON APPOINTMENTS.

Mr. Hill (chairman) read this report:—

GENTLEMEN,—Your Committee on Appointments beg to report and recommend as follows:

1st. That $30 be allowed as payment of the assistant kindergarten teacher for services rendered in the school for six months, ending June 30th; that is, at the rate of $5 per month.

2nd. That Mr. George Kingdon be appointed as janitor for the North Ward School at the rate of $150 per annum, contract to date from the 1st of April, and that the resignation of Mr. Sperry as janitor be accepted. Your Committee would also recommend that the secretary be instructed pay Mr. Sperry his salary in full to the last of July.

Respectfully submitted,
W. H. HILL,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

Mr. Garvin presented this report:—

GENTLEMEN.—In the month of March there were enrolled 1395 pupils, of whom the average attendance was 1247 or 89.4 per cent.

Central school, enrolled 634 pupils, average 563 or 88.8 per cent.

Itubidge street school, enrolled 367 pupils, average 327 or 89 per cent.

Park street school, enrolled 230 pupils, average 207 or 90 per cent.

Barnardo Avenue school, enrolled 164 pupils, average 150 or 91.4 per cent.

The attendance so far this year has been highly satisfactory. In January it was 88.3 per cent., in February 89.4 per cent., and in March the same as in February. For the three corresponding months in 1892, the averages were respectively 79.2, 80.8, and 84.3, and in 1893 83.5, 84.8, 85.4 per cent. To effect such an improvement it has been necessary to make a strict application of the Truancy Act. In 1892 the names of 10 children were sent to the truant officer, in 1893 the names of 456. Let me state here that any pupil is regarded as a truant who remains from school without the permission of the teacher or principal or inspector. As such is the case parents whose children are sick or detained from some unavoidable cause are requested to at once notify anyone of the above parties.

It is with regret that I find myself unable this evening to give the information particularly requested in the resolution passed at the last meeting of the board. Kindly grant me another month and the report will be accurate and full.

Respectfully submitted.
J. W. GARVIN.

The report was adopted.

A LIST OF TRUANTS.

Moved by Mr. Denne, seconded by Mr. Wrighton, that the inspector be requested to furnish the board with the report of the names of all the truant children for the year 1893 at its next meeting.

Mr. Garvin, who was heard, said a misunderstanding was evidently abroad in reference to the term "truant." He explained the present meaning of the word under the new act as defined in his report. When pupils were absent without consent he furnished the report to the Chief of Police, who in turn furnished their names to the Minister of Education, and it was from the Minister's report that Mr. Garvin obtained his information. He therefore suggested that the resolution be worded Chief of Police instead of inspector, as he (the Chief) being the truant officer had the list of names. Mr. Garvin further said not being truant officer he did not keep the names.

Mr. Garvin—What is the object of this resolution I would like to know?

Mr. Denne—Just for information. I am informed there are only about fifty truants in the town and the report says there are 456.

Mr. Garvin said he thought it was unnecessary to obtain the names and have them published, so exposing the names of the parents. If Mr. Denne wanted to get the information, he could go to the truant office privately and find them out.

Mr. Denne—I don't believe in any secret societies.

After some further discussion Mr. Denne's motion was made to read as follows, in accordance with Mr. Garvin's suggestion, and was passed:—That the inspector be requested to furnish the secretary, from the chief of police, a list of the truant children, as per last report, to be presented to the board at its next meeting.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

The Board then went into a committee of the whole and discussed the boundary question. One of the members stated that a parent had complained to him about his child being unable to attend the Central School, he being within the West Ward School boundaries, while the children of other residents in the same ward were allowed to attend the Central School. The matter was discussed in committee for an hour or more, but no action was taken. The Board some years ago defined certain school boundaries with the object of having all persons living within those boundaries send their children to that ward school, but in the constant flux of population and the moving of families from one ward to another, this law has not been strictly observed, parents who have moved still continuing to send their children to the same school as formerly.

In connection with the above Mr. Garvin was heard and explained that there were, to his knowledge, only some eight pupils who were not attending the ward schools to which they territorially belonged. He did not think himself justified in moving a pupil now attending the Central to the ward school in the middle of a term.

On the committee rising, the Board resumed. A motion of Mr Denne's was adopted, requesting the Inspector to furnish, at the next meeting of the board, a list of all pupils residing outside the Central school boundaries who were now attending that school.

The Board finally adjourned.

GEORGE SACKETT'S CASE.

Holsteiners Enjoy a Mild Sensation—One Box of Dodd's Kidney Pills Cures Their Fellow Citizen of Backache and Kidney Disease.

HOLSTEIN, March 26.—This quiet village is in an uproar of excitement just now over the case of George Sackett, a well-known resident. His experience has had many parallels in other places, but none here. One box of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him of severe backache and kidney disease of long standing, after he had tried every other remedy within his reach, but without any good results. These pills are manufactured by Dr. L. A. Smith & Co., Toronto, and are sold by all dealers, or will be mailed on receipt of price; fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Last Wednesday a very interesting wedding took place at the residence of Mr. Samuel Nugent when his eldest daughter, Miss Minnie Nugent, was united in marriage to W. Blewett, of Smith. The bride was neatly attired, and assisted by Miss Minnie Blewett. Mr. Fred Saunderson filled the position of groomsman. Their many friends wish them a life of good deeds and happiness.

Another very interesting ceremony took place at the residence of Mr. Jas. Northey, when his second daughter, Miss Mary Northey, was united in marriage to Mr. Silas Pearson. The bridesmaid was Miss Hattie Northey, sister of the bride. The groom was ably assisted by his brother, Mr. James Pearson. Quite a number were present to witness the nuptials. The Rev. Mr. Bartlett, of Lakefield, performed the ceremony.

Mr. George Cochrane and Mr. Charles Wynn were in our village last week.

Miss Annie Young, who has been attending the Lindsay convent, returned home for her Easter holidays.

Miss Emma Scollard is visiting friends in Peterborough.

Miss Lena Kearney is visiting friends in Chemong and Peterborough.

Mr. Willie Young left for North Bay where he has secured a situation.

Mr. David Godfrey is dangerously ill. Two doctors are attending him.

Mrs. John Godfrey is also dangerously ill.

Some of the farmers around our village had started to plough, but the cold snap has put an end to it for the present.

Mr. P. P. Young has a number of men employed repairing and painting his boat for the coming season.

It Isn't a Matter of How Much You Earn, But

What You Save!

"Any FOOL can Earn Money, but it takes a WISE Man to Save it."

And yet it is as simple as A B C. You know that one of the peculiarities about GOUGH'S Clothing is that it isn't sold by wind. It's VALUE that does it. It broke out some 8 or 10 years ago when Gough Bros. spread their monster tents for business in Peterborough and the epidemic has kept on spreading ever since.

THE IMMENSE AMOUNT OF MONEY SAVED to the Workingman, the Farmer and the Business Man since Gough Bros. broke the combination to keep up High Prices in Clothing, has demonstrated that there are Wise Men among us who can save money if they only get a fair chance.

"What's the cause of Gough's Big Success?" did you say.

Just look at those $7.50 Spring Overcoats and Tweed Suits, with that regular tailor-made look about them. They were no more made to sell at that price than the Otonabee River was to run ocean greyhounds on. $12.00 ought to be the price.

Then again—Take that pair of Pants or that Big Boy's 3-Piece Suit. They're All Wool and cut by an expert hand, who was a regular tailor's cutter before we pulled down the prices that gave them such big salaries. You wouldn't think $4.50 too much to pay for either of them, would you? Well, they're yours for $3.00

And so on all the way through our mammoth store. "Money to be Saved at Gough's!" why that's stale news—everybody knows that by this time, and, if you haven't caught the enthusiasm yet, it must be because you're one of those fellows that can EARN money all right, but DON'T KNOW HOW TO SAVE IT.

WE'RE AWFULLY STUCK UP—and it's just on account of our Clothes. We just think that when it comes to Clothing, there's nothing in this town that can touch us.

"Always Good at Gough's."

NORWOOD NEWS NOTES.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

School board meeting next Monday.

The council held a meeting on Monday evening, but no business of importance was transacted.

Miss T. Boland, of Douro, is the guest of Miss S. Mahony.

Miss D. Conway, who has spent some time here, visiting her sister, Mrs. H. Fry, left on Monday last for Ottawa.

Messrs. Chas. and B. Dawson, Peterborough, spent a few days here last week.

The pulpit of the Methodist church was occupied by the Rev. B. B. Keefer on Sunday last. He delivered two eloquent sermons, and in the afternoon conducted a temperance meeting in the same church. The services will be conducted next Sunday by Rev. W. R. Young, B. A., Peterborough.

Mr. G. R. McKelvie has finished his contract for decorating the interior of the town hall, which now presents a very beautiful appearance. The walls are finished in buff, panelled in brown, with a border of vermilion. The ceiling is colored light buff, panelled with salmon pink. The woodwork is painted a light green, trimmed with pea green—a number of colors, but so united as to give a very fine effect. The council is considering the advisability of having the roof shingled with steel shingles.

The ladies of the Methodist church have completed arrangements for the purchase of a $300 bell for the church.

A happy event took place at the residence of Mr. Wm. Paget, Spring street, on Wednesday of last week, when her daughter Annie, was united in marriage to Henry B. Gee, of Toronto, by the Rev. W. Buchanan. Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present, and after the ceremony the usual wedding delicacies were served. The bride was supported by her sister, Miss Sarah, and Mr. John Elliott officiated as groomsman. The bride was the recipient of a large number of beautiful and costly presents from her many friends in and about Norwood, among them a handsome gift from her Sabbath School class, and a fine heavy silver water pitcher from the choir of the Methodist church. The happy couple left for their home in Toronto on the 4 p.m. train. They have the best wishes of a host of friends.

On Tuesday Mr. Geo. Hendren received a telegram from Chicago, conveying the sad intelligence that his daughter, Mrs. Beavis, had died there. Mr. Stan. Hendren left on the evening train for Chicago.

Several runaways occurred in Norwood during the past week, but there were no very serious results.

Last Saturday while alighting from a buggy, the horse being restless, Mrs. T. McIntyre, Dummer, made a mistep, fell and sustained a severe ankle sprain.

Thursday evening of last week a supper was given by the Masonic lodge here. A A number of guests, among them the D. D.G.M., of Lindsay, were present and partook of the delicacies provided. After the supper the D.D.G.M. gave an address to the fraternity on the duties of Masonry.

K. D. C. is a flesh producer, thin people should use it.

MOUNT PLEASANT

From Our Own Correspondent.

Miss Parker, of Bethany, was the guest of John W. Thexton, Esq., for a few days.

rations for the season's cheese make begun. A larger patronage than ever is expected.

Rev. John Ewing, James McLean, J. P., and Miss Nellie McLean were witnesses on a bigamy case at Cobourg last week. The accused and his No. 2 wife were convicted and each given sentences of captivity and isolation from society. Duplication is not desirable in all cases.

Mr. Joseph Morden is ever alive to his own interests. He has begun his season's work, of which he has been careful to have on hand a good supply and everything bodes well for him.

Mr. J. J. McIndoo, of Caledonea, visited his friends here at Easter.

Councillor Hooten was in the village on Friday.

Mr. Wm. Petty has engaged with Jamieson Bros. for the coming season.

Miss Kate Best is the guest of Mr. Isaiah Best.

Mr. Herb. McLean, merchant tailor, has just received a stock of tweeds of nobby pattern and good quality. He is prepared to make suits in the latest styles and at lowest prices, to suit the hard times.

Mr. McKay, of Knox College, preached a very able sermon last Sunday evening. He is to supply the pulpits of the Presbyterian circuit for the ensuing two months.

"Beauty" may be "only skin deep;" but the secret of a beautiful skin is pure blood. Those coarse, rough, pimply complexions may, in most cases, be rendered soft, smooth, and fair by the persevering and systematic use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Unsightly pimples, blotches, tan, and all itching humours of the skin are removed by using Dr. Low's Sulphur Soap.

Every dose of Templeton's "Pink Powders" is effective. Ask your druggist for them.

Hamilton Iron Workers on Strike.

HAMILTON, Ont., April 4.—All the men working on piece work at the Ontario Rolling Mills and the Hamilton Iron Forging Co.'s works, about 300 in number, went out on strike yesterday against a reduction in the scale of wages. The reduction varies from 9 to 30 per cent. the men making the highest wages getting the biggest cut. Mr. Childs, who is acting manager of the works, said yesterday: "The cause of reduction is on account of the revised tariff by which the duty on scrap iron, our raw material, is increased from $2 to $3 dollars a ton, and the duty on bar iron, our finished product, is reduced from $18 to $10 and owing to the present panic prices in the States we are unable to compete with them unless we put ourselves on more even terms." The company expects to save about 10 per cent. on its wage bill by the new scale. The laborers wages have not been altered.

Election Fights in Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 4.—The riotous scenes at yesterday's election in this city have not been equalled in many years. Blood was spilled in the First Ward and incipient riots were quelled by the police in this and other wards only after several people had been injured. The trouble was expected on account of the aldermanic factional fight between "Bath-house" John Coughlin, a candidate for re election, and "Bill" Shakel, an Independent Democratic candidate. Two men were shot, one of them twice, but neither will die. Scores of workers, hired by both factions, were involved in street and polling place fights, and the Harrison police station was filled when the polls closed.

Parents Must Have Rest.

A President of one of our Colleges says: "We spent many sleepless nights in consequence of our children suffering from colds, but this never occurs now: We use Scott's Emulsion and it quickly relieves pulmonary troubles."

EXCELSIOR
Life Insurance Company.

HEAD OFFICE, - TORONTO.

PRESIDENT AND MANAGING-DIRECTOR,
E. F. CLARKE, Ex-Mayor of Toronto

New! Commodious! Comfortable!

An examination of the report of the business for 1893 shows that THE EXCELSIOR has made SOLID PROGRESS in all the points essential to success, viz:—

Gain in Insurance in Force over that 1891 73 per cent.
Gain in Cash Income over that of 1891 51 per cent
Gain in Assets over that of 1891, 27 per cent.
Gain in Reserve on Policy Holders Account over that of 1891, 114 per cent

THE EXCELSIOR offers Security which is unsurpassed by any other Company doing business in Canada. The following are the ratios of Assets to Liabilities of the different Canadian Companies as given in the Government Report for 1891:—

Excelsior Life,...415% North American Life,125%
Dominion Life,..201 " London Life,.....118 "
Federal Life,....144 " Sun Life,.....114 "
Manufac're Life,.144 " Confederation Life,...113 "
Tem'ce and Gen'l,144 " Canada Life,.....113 "
Ontario Mutual 105%

The Excelsior Life challenges any other Company to show, in the same period of its history, 1st, as low a death rate; 2nd, as low a ratio of expenses. See our Life Rate Endowment and our Life and Endowment Annuity Bonds before insuring elsewhere.

DAVID DOIG

A Government BOMBSHELL THROWN INTO THE LIFE INSURANCE CAMP!

The following statement comes from the government Blue Book. It covers a period of sixteen years, and is sworn to as correct by representatives of each Company:

Statement of Premiums received and Cash Profits paid back to Policy Holders from 1877 to 1892, both years inclusive:—

COMPANY.	Premiums Received.	Dividends Paid to Policy Holders.	Ratio of Dividends to Premiums, %
CANADA LIFE	$16,368,307	$2,946,483	18.18
Confederation Life	6,165,482	637,925	10 35
North American	2,327,082	32,857	1.41
Ontario Mutual	3,878,086	433,294	11.17
Sun Life	5,527,720	356,280	6.43

Never in the history of Life Insurance has the struggle for business been keener. Never has the conflict been hotter. Never have the Companies felt as they feel now, the necessity for throwing all the energy at their command into the field. The most intelligent and best men have to be employed. All kinds of plans of insurance are submitted. Each Company determined in securing the supremacy in the good will of the public, in establishing their name, the utterance of which, shall convey to the minds of the people the essential characteristics of

UNDOUBTED SECURITY,
RIGID ECONOMY,
GOOD INVESTMENTS,
LARGEST PROFITS

WHY?

Because millons of dollars are being paid annually for Life Insurance, and the Companies that can show these features have attained a position which will guarantee their future success, for money will flow freely into the best investments.

The Canada Life Policy Holders can look at the above statement with a smile of satisfaction, yet sympathise with their friends who are not so favourably situated.

They can throw their Life Policies down in the face of opponents and successfully challenge the production of more profitable policies, they can stand the onslaught of Agents who will almost cover them with literature and estimates of Tontine, Semi-Tontine, Return Premiums, Reserved Dividends, Annuity and Endowment plans of insurance, and with a quiet assurance feel that

As The Canada Life is Making the Most Profits, She Can Pay the Largest Profits.

READER. If you want Life Insurance choose the Canada Life and join the throng of contented policy holders who are insured with the Company carrying about 45 per cent. of the total insurance in force of the above named Companies

Telfordian Temperature Topics.

Wednesday, April 4th.

Our storm did come, although not the heaviest here, it commenced a little before 9 o'clock with some fine snow, then chaning to rain, and about sunrise the wind skipped round into the southwest, with prospect of some blowing, the thermometer pointing to 40 degress, but the self-registering minimum indicating only 33 degrees above zero during the night. However that is good after our cold dip. It will be fine.—THOMAS TELFORD.

John L. Sullivan.

The attraction next Monday night at the opera house will be no less than John L. Sullivan in his new, romantic and sensational drama in four acts, by Edmund E. Price, entitled "The Man From Boston." Mr. Sullivan's character is entitled Captain Harcourt. He made his first appearance in the above at Providence, and the press was unanimous in his praise and the cheers that greeted the pugilistic idol of so many years were tiresome to the ear. On his appearance in Boston, and a President-elect could not have been more enthusiastically received—the applause lasted fully two minutes. So great was the enthusiasm that the actor Sullivan could not proceed with his own part owing to the numerous cheers. He has friends by the millions, and when he appears in our midst, which he will do at the opera house next Monday, he, it is sure, will be accorded with the same reception by his friends and admirers. Prices 25, 35 and 50c. 1d

Forester's Concert—Change of Hall Plan.

Those who have had seats marked will please notice that owing to an error in drawing the reserved seat plan, too few seats were placed in two of the rows. A new plan has been prepared, and those who have had seats marked, by kindly calling at once at Mr. Madill's drug store will have their tickets re-numbered. This will cause no change in the location of the seats, but will add to the comfort of ticket holders by saving confusion and unpleasantness on the night of the concert.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—There was no police court this morning.

Mr. P. J. Kennedy, advance agent for the John L. Sullivan Company, was in town yesterday at the Grand Central.

—The regular meeting of Canton Peterborough No. 10, I. O. O. F., to-night. The members will elect officers for the ensuing term.

—A reception will be tendered Rev. E. W. Pickford, assistant curate of St. John's church, at the South Ward mission to-morrow evening.

—A citizen was arrested in the Oriental Hotel this afternoon by Constable Adams for creating a disturbance. He was subsequently allowed to go.

—At the regular meeting of Peterborough Council, No. 97, Royal Templars of Temperance, held last night, no less than nine candidates were initiated.

—A pool match will take place on Thursday evening at the American House for $25 a side. The contestants are a tailor and mechanic. The contest is best 11 out of 21 games.

—John Connors, an old pensioner, was arrested to day for being drunk. He was found lying on the sidewalk at the corner of George and Dalhousie streets in an inebriated condition.

—The market this morning was fairly well attended. Hay has taken a raise in price and to-day sold at $8 per ton. Oats are also elevating, selling as high as 36 and 37 cents, and are in good demand.

—The results of yesterday's pool tournament at the Oriental was: Harwood, 1; Anson, 4; evening game, Vance, 1; Whipple, 4. This afternoon Harwood is playing Carrol; and to-night at 8.30 o'clock Thatcher will play Anson.

—The annual meeting of the Cricket Club will be held this evening in the office of Mr. R. B. Rogers, post office block, for organization purposes and the election of officers. There should be a large attendance of the wielders of the willow.

—At the Douglas Bird concert on Thursday evening, April 19th, Herr Rudolph Ruth, violoncellist, will contribute three numbers, including (a) Nocturne, Chopin, (b) Mazurka, Popper, and (a) Sur le Lac, Godard and (b) Spinneried, Popper.

—Mr. Hoover has left the subscription list to the Douglas Bird concert on Thursday, April 19th, at Sallsbury's bookstore for the benefit of those he has been unable to see. Subscription confers choice of seats before the plan is open to the general public.

—The firemen were called out shortly after seven o'clock last night to the Grand Junction Railway track in the south end of the town, where some employees who had been cleaning up the track had built a bonfire of brush and grass. The engine was taken down. The services of the brigade were not required.

—At the Douglas Bird concert on Thursday evening, April 19th, little Lola Ostrom, the child elocutionist, will give two of her wonderfully clever readings. She was heard, on his recent visit, by Mr. S. H. Clark, the great dramatic reader, and he was simply astounded by the marvellous talent the child displayed.

—An elevator scene was witnessed on George street this morning in front of the Golden Lion dry goods establishment. By means of a block and tackle attached to a beam on the fourth story, eleven large cases of linoleums and English floor oilcloths were elevated to Mr. Fair's commodious carpet room on the third floor. While the goods were elevated in position, there has been a corresponding lowering of prices.

—In reference to a local paper suggesting that Peterborough, from the prevalence of the game, should be called "Pooltown," the Orillia Times suggests that with the change of the initial letter it would be "Fooltown." Now Peterborough is not selfish, and willingly waives its claim to the suggested name in favour of Orillia, which is well known to have mone fools to the population than any town or city in Ontario. Fooltown is a name that fits Orillia like "the paper on the wall."

—The Belleville Intelligencer gives the following account of a trip which turned out to be a contretemps in very truth. It says:—The brethren of Moira Encampment, No. 59, who went to Stirling yesterday and took their paraphernalia with them, in the expectation of assisting in the opening of a new encampment, learned on arrival that the G.P., Bro. A. H. Blakeby, had notified the Stirling brethren that he could not attend until next week. In consequence the Belleville contingent returned without having fulfilled the object of their fraternal mission.

PERSONAL.

Mr. A. Letellier, who has been attending Queen's University, Kingston, pursuing his first year's medical studies, has arrived home for the holidays.

Mr. Geo. H. Taylor, representing the Guerney Foundry Company, of Toronto, is in town exhibiting at Mr. Adam Hall's, George street, the latest improved evaporating gas stove.

Lt.-Col. McLean, of Port Hope, commander of the Durham Field Battery, was in town last night. He left for Ottawa accompanied by Lieut. C. J. Snyder, town. They will attend a meeting in the Capital of the Dominion Artillery Association.

Nicholls' Hospital.

Following is the report of the Nicholls' Hospital for the month of March: Number of patients remaining in the hospital, 37; patients treated, 66; pay patients, 25; free, 41; from Peterborough, 51; other place, 15; cured, 22; improved, 7; died, 0. Attending physician for the month, Dr. Caldwell. Drs. Halliday, Boucher, Bell, Pigeon, King, Greer, Yelland, Goldsmith and Carmichael were attending private patients.

Booming Their New Store—387.

No. 387 George street is being boomed now, as it never was boomed before. It is now the new and commodious premises of Messrs. Grafton & Co., clothiers, and the manager, Mr. W. E. Conway, has started an "Eclipse sale," calculated to obscure all other sales of ready-to-wear clothing that Peterborough has ever witnessed. It is pointed out that it is an easy matter for Grafton & Co. to undersell, seeing that they manufacture all their clothing and supply their retail branches at first cost. This gives them the "inside track", and they appear to be making the very best use of their advantages. Nothing more need be said—the inference is plain, where the customers' interests are so well protected by such a strong firm of clothing manufacturers as GRAFTON & Co's. dw

POST LENTEN ENTERTAINMENT.

A Delightful Evening at St. Luke's.

The entertainment at St. Luke's church last night was largely attended by parishioners and others, who much enjoyed the excellent programme presented to them. This was divided into three parts, the first of which consisted of vocal and instrumental music, in the second the very pretty dramatic representation of "The Sleeping Beauty" was given, and in conclusion twelve little girls gave the fancy drill. The following is the full programme:—

Instrumental solo.....
Duet (vocal).....Miss Clarke and Mr. Boswell
Instrumental duet.....Miss Fairweather and Miss Tivey
Song (encore).....Miss Fawcett

"THE SLEEPING BEAUTY."

King Claudio.....Mr. J. J. Turner, jr
Queen Annabel.....Miss Armstrong
King Lovejoy.....Mr. W. Armstrong
Queen Rosalind.....Miss Byah
The Sleeping Beauty.....Miss Kathleen Meade
The Prince.....Mr. C. Calcutt
Maid Zee.....Miss Hettie Burnham
Attendant on the Prince.....Mr. Harry Orde
Page Pickle.....Mr. Guy Rogers
Page Corkum.....Mr. S. Tivey
Fairies.....Miss Florence Butcher, Maudie Long, Florence Scott, Nellie Marshall, Emma Payne, Lizzie Scott
Spitfire.....Miss K. Calcutt

The representation of this piece gave great pleasure and testified to the pains which had been bestowed upon it, even down to the details of costume and stage furnishings. Very hearty applause greeted the performance at each act.

The "Fairy Drill" was given by the following: Louise Scott (captain), Gertie Begley, Florence Butcher, Bertha Bennett, Jessie Crane, Maudie Long, Bella Martin, Nellie Marshall, Emma Payne, Florence Scott, Lizzie Scott, Mabel Scott, Blanche Westlake. Nothing could have exceeded the accuracy with which these little girls performed the intricate evolutions of the drill and they well earned the hearty recall which greeted the closing figure.

In closing the rector said that whilst others had very cordially assisted in getting up such an excellent entertainment, he thought it only right to say that almost the entire burden of the responsibility and of the training of the performers had fallen upon the shoulders of two persons, Miss Tivey and Miss Maggie Calcutt, whom he desired very heartily to thank for their painstaking labours.

The above entertainment will, by special request, be repeated in St. Luke's school house on Monday evening, April 9th.

BEAUTIFIED AND BRIGHTENED

Has Been Made the Interior of the Phelan House by Recent Decorations—A Popular Hostelry.

It is wonderful the change which artistic graining, tasteful painting and bright attractive paper and wall decorations make in the interior aspect of any building. For some time past Mr. H. W. Watson, with his skilful hand, has been at work in the Phelan House, creating a sweeping transformation by his handsome decorations and neat work with the brush. This well known house has been completely painted, papered and grained throughout, and now presents a bright, cheerful and decidedly attractive appearance. The commodious office has been artistically grained, and the walls and ceiling covered with a rich gilt paper, which was purchased at the Peterborough Bookstore wallpaper emporium. An ornate bordering of a very fine pattern enhances the brilliant effect of the stylish paper, and altogether the change is a most appreciable one. The balustrade has also been handsomely stained. Upstairs in both of the comfortable sitting room, the main hall and the bedrooms these fine decorations have been carried on and the harmony of colouring and pleasing arrangement are favourably remarked—in fact the ensemble effects would be hard to surpass. Mr. Phelan is a hotelman of long experience and widely known success, having been in business ever since Dec. 12th, 1853. For 24 years he has conducted the Phelan House in a manner that has won for him many friends and established an excellent reputation as a caterer and entertainer, winning for him a liberal share of public patronage. To-day a handsome new register was opened in the office and another one fyled away among the many which Mr. Phelan preserves as carefully as a newspaper office does its yearly fyles. In all other respects, and in every department the Phelan House is a model of comfort, neatness and cleanliness, and is more like a home than an ordinary hotel.

EDITOR STEAD'S NEW BOOK.

"If Christ Came to Chicago," Causes a Sensation—Thousands of Copies Disposed of.

After nearly six months' watching the unfolding drama of civic life in that greatest of western cities, Chicago, Mr. Stead aims to show what Christ would condemn and uphold if He came to that city, and the whole book, now for sale by A. H. Stratton & Co., Peterborough Bookstore, is a scathing criticism of modern society. The besotted drunkard, the fallen woman, the homeless wanderer, the hardened saloon-keeper the dishonest politician, the millionaires, which make up the Chicagoan trinity, the overworked wage-earner, the churches and other Christian societies—all these have been considered in this remarkable book. No book has appeared for five years at once so startling and so revolutionary, written in plain Anglo-Saxon, so as to reveal clear-cut the naked truth.

GALWAY.

RIVER AND LAKE RIPLETS.

(From Our Own Correspondent

The steamer Daisy will make her first trip to Harwood Wednesday with the Dixon Co'y's scow at which port she will be loaded with timber at the Co'y's wharf and towed to Peterborough, the ice having left the upper part of Rice Lake, thereby leaving a through channel to that port.

The main deck of the "City of Peterborough is completed and engineers are engaged placing her machinery in running order and it is anticipated that she will be ready for navigation by May 1st.

The water of the Otonabee is gradually lowering as the ice is almost out of the upper lakes.

Mr. R. Quinn, of Keene, is in town today and reports the Keene river open and ready for navigation and clean sailing across the lake.

Why is HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

Such a great success, and why is it impossible for other Sarsaparillas and blood purifiers to compete with this great medicine? Because

No Other Sarsaparilla or blood purifier gives as much medicine for the money as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

No Other Sarsaparilla has the careful personal supervision of the proprietor in all the details of its preparation, as has Hood's Sarsaparilla.

No Other Sarsaparilla has the merit to secure the confidence of entire communities and hold it year in and year out, as has Hood's Sarsaparilla.

No Other Sarsaparilla can produce from actual cures such wonderful statements of relief given to human suffering as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

No Other Sarsaparilla possesses the Combination, Proportion and Process Peculiar to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and which makes Hood's Sarsaparilla in curative effect Peculiar to Itself.

No Other Sarsaparilla combines economy and strength as does Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is the only preparation of which can truly be said, 100 Doses $1.

No Other Sarsaparilla has effected such remarkable cures as Hood's Sarsaparilla, of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, blood poisoning and all other blood diseases.

No Other Sarsaparilla has equalled Hood's Sarsaparilla in the relief it gives in the severest cases of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Biliousness, Heartburn, and other stomach disorders.

No Other Sarsaparilla overcomes That Tired Feeling, Restores the Appetite, and "Makes the Weak Strong," like

MILLS BROS.

CARLETON PLACE'S OLDEST CITIZEN.

Death of Mr. Robt. Bell, ex-M.P., Lanark County, Father of Lt.-Col. R. W. Bell, M. D., Town—Sketch of His Useful Life.

At Almonte on Monday afternoon at four o'clock, Mr. Robt. Bell, the oldest male resident of Carleton Place, and one of the most interesting and venerable personalities of Lanark county, passed peacefully away at the ripe old age of 86 years. Deceased was the father of our esteemed townsman, Lt.-Col. Bell, M.D., of the 57th Battalion, and the doctor's hosts of friends in Peterborough will extend to him their heartfelt sympathy in the loss of his venerable and highly esteemed father. The Carleton Place Herald (Tuesday) contains the following :—

Robt. Bell was born in London, Eng., March 16th, 1808, and was therefore in his 87th year. His father was Rev. Wm. Bell, a native of Leith, near Edinburgh, Scotland, and was for forty years pastor of the first Presbyterian church in this section. Rev. Wm. Bell married Mary Black, a descendant from the Huguenots. Eight sons and one daughter were born—all but the two youngest in the old country. The reverend gentleman and his wife have both long since passed to their reward and their remains were interred at Perth. Three of the sons are still living—Eben Bell, in Western States; James, Bell, registrar, Perth; and Rev. Geo. Bell, L.L.D., Kingston, registrar of Queen's University. The death of Robert is the first in the family in a period of thirty years. In 1839 Robert Bell married Emeline S. Jones, daughter of Josiah Jones, of Brockville. She died in 1856, leaving three children, Dr. R. W. Bell, of Peterborough, and Mr. J. J. Bell, of Toronto. Isabella, the only daughter, died in 1889.

Mr. Bell came to Carleton Place 62 years ago, when a young man of only 22 years, and entered into mercantile pursuits. At that time there was no railroad here, and Mr. Bell used to have his goods brought from Montreal to Perth by the water route, hauled from Perth to the shore of the big lake and ferried down to Carleton Place. He continued in business for about 30 years, was postmaster for 20 years, and was a leader in all beneficent movements affecting the locality. He represented, as a Liberal, the riding of Lanark in the old Parliament of Canada for 19 years, resigning his seat to take the position of Inspector of Dominion Canals, which position he held for a number of years until superannuated. He was Warden of the county for two terms, and sat at the township and county council boards for many years. He was an active major of a volunteer battalion, and for a long time held the rank of lieutenant-colonel in the Canadian reserve militia. For over half a century he did service as a magistrate, was school trustee for over 40 years and chairman of the board for 37 years, resigning that position only about a year ago. In religion he was a Presbyterian, and for 45 years has been an elder. Mr. Bell has lived an active life and has always been to the fore in every laudable enterprise for the advancement of the race. Possessed of a rare store of knowledge—scientific and general—a warm heart, and wonderful mental and physical energy, he has indeed been educator, philanthropist, public servant and helper to all.

Such, in brief, is a sketch of the life of Robert Bell, whose body to-day lies cold in death. His career has been a remarkable one in many respects, and the memory of his works will descend in history to future generations.

The funeral is fixed for to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock to the C.P.R. station, thence to Perth, where the remains will be laid to rest beside those of his life-partner, who preceded him to the distant shore so many years before. The two sons, who are the chief mourners, have the sympathy of the whole community in their sorrow, for he whom they have lost was always to them a fond and affectionate father; and although he had long since passed the allotted span of three score years and ten, his sprightly nature and sharp intellect made him always fresh and young, and when in good health a brilliant conversationalist."

BATTALION BRIEFS.

Squad Drill Commenced Last Night—The Proposed Trip.

Squad drill was begun by most of the companies of the battalion at the drill shed last evening. The attendance of men was not large, but nearly all the officers were present. Uniforms were issued to a number of men. Squad drill will be resumed on Tuesday night next. Every man must pass through this drill before being admitted into a company. At the close of drill last night the officers held a meeting and discussed several matters of interest relating to the welfare and prospects of the battalion for the coming season. The officers have engaged a permanent drill instructor, who will arrive in a few days. He is a graduate of the Royal School of Infantry and was a former drill instructor at Stanley Barracks. The proposed annual outing of the battalion was discussed. It was decided that the fifth yearly trip should take place on July 1st. The objective points will be either Belleville or Orillia and at either place the battalion will spend two or three days in camp. There will be no visiting battalion here on the 24th of May this year and no military demonstration of any kind, the band having accepted an engagement to play in Campbellford on the Queen's birthday.

ARRESTED FOR FORGERY.

A School Teacher From Galway in the Toils on a Serious Charge.

A constable from Kinmount arrived in town yesterday afternoon, having in his custody, a young man of medium height and build, who is a public school teacher in the township of Galway. The prisoner was brought up before Mr. Police Magistrate Dumble at a special session of the police court held at five o'clock yesterday afternoon and was remanded to gaol for a week. He was not asked to plead nor elect. The information was laid before Michael Mansfield, J. P., reeve of Galway, by Albert Y. Hopkins, who resides in Kinmount, in Victoria county. He charges that accused within the space of one year, on the following dates:—Feb. 3rd, March 31st, and April 13th, did forge the names of Michael Collins and Thos. Flaherty to three orders.

"FORWARD—MARCH" THE WATCHWORD.

The House of Gough's—The Unsleeping Clothing Benefactors — Ceaselessly Onward and Upward.

Old Father Adam has never posed conspicuously as a tailor—but he figures largely as a cutter. He has cut out for all his sons the necessity of hustling to keep clothed. But Gough Bros. have changed all this—they do the hustling for the multitude—and make it easy for the citizens of the Midland district to be stylishly and cheaply clad. About ten years ago they started business in Peterborough, and from the word "go" they wrenched the clothing van from the old rats, and started it on the highway to prosperity. Their motto has been "Forward—March!" since their first day in Peterborough, and they have continually gone forward by dint of giving the people bargains peculiar to themselves—supplying the best of goods at the lowest living rates—at prices that rush off their goods with a swing which justifies the aphorism, "Everything goes at Gough's," till the public favour crowns their work, and the name of "Gough's," associated with big bargains, has become a household word, compelling additional space and shop improvements, till now three mammoth departments are required to accommodate their immense business in ready made clothing, hats and caps and boots and shoes—the triple links of commercial thrift and business hustle.

There's a rumour current that Gough Bros. are about the only people in town that are making money. This may well be true, for Gough Bros. are about the only men that meet the people half way—meet them with outstretched arms, bearing benefactions in the shape of bargains—bargains that are a balm for the bruises of hard times.

SPRING AND ITS NEEDS ARE HERE, and Gough Bros., the wonderful cheap men, are also on hand with a mammoth 3-shop stock of ready made clothing, hats and caps, boots and shoes. They can equip you from the crown of your head to the sole of your feet in the most stylish and substantial manner and for the least money of any firm in Ontario. Don't believe the newspapers but go straight to Gough's and get the proof. You eyes will be opened—and your purse too—when you see that prime, stylish spring overcoats and tweed suits, worth $12.00 are sold for $7.50. Pants and boys 3-piece suits that can't be looked at anywhere else for less than $4.50, sold at $3.00. And so on through the other two big departments,—double value for your money in every deal. Boots for all feet, hats for all heads, at prices for all purses. Ten years of bargain-giving, ten years of big values, ten years of bottom prices have raised the ship of Gough Bros. to the crest of the wave of popular favour and still she waves. Make a note of these few facts. Be wise, be prompt, "Always good at Gough's," applies to the goods as well as the prices and their treatment of customers.

MESSRS. MOORE AND WHITE.

A Large Attendance—Practical Addresses—Intense Interest.

An immense audience assembled in the Baptist church last night to again hear the evangelists. At eight o'clock the house was filled and chairs and extension seats were being used. The song service at the beginning conducted by Mr. J. M. White, assisted by a large choir, was heartily engaged in by the audience. Mr. Whyte's selection of hymns, "Songs of Calvary," have become popular and many have been sold. Those asking for them at the doors can be supplied with the books. Rev. J. B. Moore spoke in his peculiarly plain and forcible manner on the necessity of the new birth from the third chapter of John. Very clearly he stated the truth that "ye must be born again" in order to see the Kingdom of God, and appealed to all out of Christ to seek this new birth and accept the Saviour.

An earnest exhortation by Mr. J. M. Whyte then followed and was responded to by many rising to their feet. The after-meeting was one of power and those who left at the close of the first, missed the best part of the meeting in many respects.

Among the solos sung by Mr. Whyte last night were, "Oh, Tolling Bells" and "Oh, Hearts that are Broken," and as usual, they were listened to by the large gathering with wrapt and intense interest.

The meeting will be continued to-night and each night this week, song service commencing at 7.45. Those who desire to be comfortably seated should be there at least twenty minutes to eight. A meeting will also be held to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. All are invited to any of these services.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

TO RESIST THE ATTACK —of the germs of Consumption, Scrofula, Grip, Malaria, and many other diseases—means fight or die for all of us. These germs are everywhere in the air we breathe. The odds are in favor of the germs, if our liver is inactive and our blood impure.

What is needed most is an increase in our germ-fighting strength. To do this successfully you need to put on healthy flesh, rouse the liver to vigorous action, so it will throw off these germs, and purify the blood so that there will be no "weak spot," nor soil for germ-growth.

We claim for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, that it does all this in a way peculiar to itself. It is the development of generations of medical thought—it has stood the test of a quarter of a century of cures.

That is why the makers can guarantee it. In every trouble caused by torpid liver or impure blood, if the "Discovery" fails to benefit or cure, your money is refunded.

There wouldn't be any cases of Chronic Catarrh if everyone used Dr. Sage's Remedy. There's $500 reward for an incurable case.

HON. A. S. HARDY, M.P.P

SKETCH OF THE ONTARIO COMMISSIONER OF CROWN LANDS.

A Brilliant Pupil of One of the Best of Village Schools, He Early Gave Indications That His Career in Life Might Be Distinguished.

The Hon. Arthur Sturgis Hardy, Q.C., M.P.P. for South Brant, and Commissioner of Crown Lands in Sir Oliver Mowat's cabinet of ministers governing Ontario, was born at Mount Pleasant, county of Brant, December 14, 1837. He is a son of Russell and Juletta (Sturgis) Hardy, both of whom were descended from U. E. loyalist stock. The ancestral families came to Canada about one hundred years ago. His father was once a prominent merchant in Brantford, having at an earlier period been in business and then a farmer at Mount Pleasant. Young Arthur's childhood and early youth were passed there and in the schools of the village, which bore a deservedly high reputation in those days—no other place of its size in Canada probably being so well provided in that respect—he received his first educational training. As a scholar, Arthur Hardy displayed much quickness of perception and an ardent desire for knowledge. He was distinguished above most of his school fellows by his fondness for and proficiency in elocutionary exercise. After his removal from Mount Pleasant he attended school in Brantford, and, later still, spent several terms at Rockwood Academy. Having chosen the legal profession as his career in life, he entered the office of his uncle, Mr. Henry A. Hardy, of Brantford, and began the study of the law. He completed his legal studies in Toronto, under the late Chief Justice Harrison and Prof. Hodgins, L.L.B., Q.C., and was called to the bar at Easter term 1865. Beginning practice at Brantford, he has since continued his legal labors save for the interruption imposed by his connection with the executive of the province at Toronto. From the outset it was safe to predict a brilliant professional career for Arthur Sturgis Hardy. His conspicuous natural talents, a daring disposition, complemented with unusual fire and mental alertness assured success in the forensic field. Mr. Hardy's speeches have been always been extremely popular for his fervid eloquence. His strong, clear and logical methods of reasoning gave him marked influence over juries. Few men of his profession in Ontario have a more honorable and successful record. Upon the resignation in 1878 of the Hon. Edmund Burke Wood, afterwards Chief Justice of Manitoba, from the representation of South Brant in the Legislative Assembly Mr. Hardy was elected by that constituency. He has since usually been re elected by acclamation by the sterling voters of that fine riding. In March, 1877, he entered the Ontario Administration as Provincial Secretary and Registrar.

HON. A. S. HARDY.

A man so marked at the bar might be expected to take a leading place in political life, and this the subject of our sketch has done. With no superior in the House as a ready and effective speaker, he is to-day one of the strongest members in the Mowat Government. He has the gift of being able to "think on his feet," and is therefore at no disadvantage even against carefully elaborated attack. That accomplished and versatile Canadian writer, Mr. G. Mercer Adam, recently said of him:

"Mr. Hardy's characteristics as a debater are a facility for detecting weak points in his opponent, ready repartee, and the personal enthusiasm and earnestness with which he infuses his statements. There is, too, a spice of daring in his methods, a quality which can only be aired with safety by a man like Mr. Hardy, who is sure of his ground, and who remains master of the situation, even though his case be a shaky one. The more fierce the contest, the harder the blows struck, the more does it seem to be according to the humor of the man."

As head of an important branch of the government—that of the commissionership of crown lands, which he assumed on the resignation in 1889 of the late Hon. Mr. Pardee—Mr. Hardy finds his time occupied in a useful field of activity. As a legislator Mr. Hardy has, since his entrance into the House, taken his full share of work. He has introduced and carried through large measures amending and consolidating the Jurors' Act; several important measures connected with the liquor license laws; important amendments enlarging the jurisdiction of the Division Courts; measures relating to joint stock companies, and usually, as chairman of the Municipal Committee, has had charge of the act embracing all of the amendments of the session to the Municipal Acts. In religion he is an adherent to the church of England. Mr. Hardy married January 19, 1870, Mary, daughter of the late Hon. Justice Morrison and has issue four children.

Of all Mr. Hardy's great and good work in administering the public domain of the premier province of Canada, the setting apart of large tracts of land for national park purposes so as to afford for the present as well as future generations of Ontario's citizens places for enjoying the beauties of nature and recreation from the tense nervous strain of urban life, as well as opportunities for perpetuating the flora and fauna of this country that the best sporting instincts of its people may be cultivated, is most in touch with the pulse of body politic.

No better proof of this is needed, nor can higher commendation of the enlightened policy he is pursuing in this regard be given than the following leading editorial article in the Empire of recent date:

Another National Park.

Hon. A. S. Hardy made a happy suggestion when he proposed to create a park under provincial statute on the Rondeau peninsula, and for carrying that suggestion into effect, and setting aside in the locality named four thousand four hundred and forty-six acres, land and water, which shall forever be common to the people, he is deserving of the thanks of the province. Mr. Hardy has a commendable sense of the natural beauties of his native land, and during vacation time no one takes more pleasure in roaming in far away woods and waters than he, leaving foreign travel to those who are not appreciative or ignorant of the attractiveness of their own land. It was with the idea of preserving in native wildness and picturesqueness portions of the public domain ere it had passed from the possession of the Government, that he set aside a large tract in the northern part of the province, between Muskoka and the Ottawa river, as the Algonquin National Park, which will perpetuate the great Indian nation which once held sway in these parts, and fell before the superior prowess of the Iroquois. These tracts will be free to the people forever, but under such restrictions that game therein will always be protected and the forests preserved. There are regulations also regarding the erection of buildings, such as summer cottages, so that no one can acquire ownership of the land, or occupy it permanently, so that there can be no monopoly of any site by anyone, and there is an injunction that no liquor shall be sold in these parks at any time.

The people of the western portion of the province, and especially of Kent, will appreciate the bill setting aside Rondeau Point as a park. It is an attractive spot, though still in a wild state, and the expressed intentions of the Government regarding it will ensure such improvement as will render it a place of popular resort. Mr. Clancy, in expressing his commendation of Hon. Mr. Hardy's project, told the House that already excurs on parties from Cleveland and elsewhere upon the American side had been attracted to Rondeau, and that it promised to become a prosperous summering place.

Ontario has now three national parks, the Algonquin, the Rondeau, and the Queen Victoria Niagara Falls park. It is regrettable that in naming the last mentioned park the beautiful Indian nomenclature was not adhered to, and even now the name could be changed without any disrespect. But what we wished to point out is that while there is a park at the north, the west and the south, the eastern part of the province has not yet been so favored. It remains for Mr. Hardy to round out what he has so successfully begun by providing the east with a park.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS

Dr. Sproule Exerts the Powers of His Imagination.

HE DEFENDS THE NEW TARIFF

And Reads a Telegram From One of His Supporters in Grey County—Insolvency Bill Receives Its First Reading in the Senate.

OTTAWA, April 4.—Mr. Fairbairn in the House of Commons yesterday said he would like to hear what the Government had to say in regard to the outbreak of disease among some cattle in the county of Grey.

Hon. Mr. Foster, answering, said that some time ago Dr. Sproule, member for East Gray, sent in a report with a diagnosis of the symptoms of the disease among cattle in that county, undoubtedly the same as referred to by Dr. Landerkin. The letter was immediately referred to Professor Andrew Smith, of Toronto, chief veterinary inspector of the Department of Agriculture for the Province of Ontario, with instructions to make an immediate investigation and report. Prof. Smith replied that he had had a previous notice of the disease referred to, and stated that he had been in communication, both personally and by letter, with veterinary surgeons practising in that district in relation to such disease. He reported that the disease was confined to the limbs and feet, and that it was due to local causes. He said he had been examining the provender, and had in that discovered the probable cause, namely, gangrenous ergotism. He added that there was no cause for alarm and that he would make further investigation and report. He read a telegram from Prof. Smith to this effect sent to the Minister of Agriculture.

Mr. Sproule took up the debate on the budget, and after stating that the Liberal policy had always been vacillating, said that the leader of the Opposition last October declared in favor of commercial union and that he had now changed over to a tariff for revenue only.

Mr. Laurier said his October speech had been misreported. He had never declared in favor of commercial union.

Mr. Sproule stated that Mr. Charlton spoke in favor of commercial union.

Mr. Charlton denied this.

Mr. Sproule, continuing, said Hon. Edward Blake had left the party because he could not agree with its commercial union policy. He said that Sir Richard Cartwright was a commercial unionist in 1888. He read a telegram from Thomas Kells, the president of the Farmers Institute of East and Centre Grey, as follows: "We thank the Government most sincerely for the consideration given the farmers in the revision of the tariff, and believe it will prove generally satisfactory."

Mr. Rinfret spoke an hour and a half in French and was answered by Mr. Frechette.

Mr. Bailey moved the adjournment of the debate.

Mr. MacDougall asked if the bill relating to Behring Sea, introduced at Washington, would affect Canadian fishermen?

Sir John Thompson, replying, said that no legislation of the American Government could affect Canada on the high seas. Canada would be affected by the bill introduced in the British Commons, a copy of which had been forwarded to the Canadian Government.

The House adjourned.

In the Senate.

OTTAWA, April 4.—In the Senate yesterday Hon. Mr. Bowell introduced his Insolvency bill, and in doing so reviewed the provisions of the Insolvency Act of 1869 and those of the English Act. He then went on to point out some of the chief features of the present bill. He said in the course of his lengthy address: The bill provides for two classes of debtors, traders and debtors who are not traders. The former, that is the trader, can only assign or be placed in bankruptcy by the action of a creditor; that is, he cannot make a voluntary assignment; while the latter class, that is the farmer, rancher, grazier or other debtor, can make a voluntary assignment and ask for relief under the Act, but cannot be forced into insolvency. The reason for this distinction is to prevent any one or more creditors from placing an agriculturist or other similar debtor into bankruptcy when there might be a probability of his being able to pay his indebtedness after a good or average harvest, when, if forced into bankruptcy, his farm and other property might be sacrificed and thus ruined by costs, etc.

Section 7 deals with the proceedings required to bring a trader under the Act, namely, on the petition of a creditor for $250 and upwards for a receiving order, which may be issued in the first instance, in all cases, except when the Act of Insolvency relied upon is that the debtor has ceased to meet his liabilities generally as they become due, in which case the order is issued only after notice to the debtor. In case the order is issued exparte the debtor may move to set it aside.

Sections 35 to 53 make provision for the discharge of the debtor, which may be affected in two ways: First, under deed of composition and discharge executed by a majority entitled to rank on the estate; or, secondly, without consent of creditors after the expiration of a year. In both cases the deed or the discharge has to be confirmed by the court and provision is made for notice to creditors. The court may confirm, refuse, or suspend the operation of a discharge, and in case of a deed it may, following the English Act, impose conditions as to payment of further dividends out of future earnings or after acquired property. A meeting of creditors must be held specially to consider a deed of composition, but the notices of application to the court to confirm the deed may be given concurrently with the calling of the meeting, which must, however, be held at least one week before the application is heard. Appeal from the decisions of the court confirming or refusing to confirm a deed is allowed in all cases.

The bill was read a first time.

BAD BLOOD

MR. FRED. CARTER.

DEAR SIRS.—I was covered with pimples and small boils and after obtaining no relief from a doctor tried different remedies without success until one Sunday I was given ½ of a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, by the use of which the sores were sent flying in about one week's time. I made up my mind never to be without B.B.B. in the house, and I can highly recommend it to all.

JAMES STEVENSON

How to Cure Poverty.

Mr. Barnett thus closes a recent article in The Fortnightly Review on "The Unemployed:" "If to-morrow every one who cares for the poor would become the friend of one poor person—forsaking all others—there would next week by no insoluble problem of the unemployed, and London would be within measurable distance of becoming a city of happy homes." I am not so sanguine as Mr. Barnett; I think that there are other social and industrial remedies to be applied; but this personal friendship of the well-to-do for the poor is fundamental. Out of it all other remedies would grow; without it all other remedies would be in vain. A basket of coal accompanied by a grip of the hand will carry more warmth than two baskets of coal sent by an impersonal picket.

Dean Stanley on Spiritualism.

Into the question of modern spiritualism I have not entered. But it seems to me that people somewhat complicate the matter by regarding it from a religious side. It may be that particular persons—perhaps all people in some degree—are endowed with a sort of magnetic power which causes, or enables them to cause, these impressions, which is no more preternatural or religious than the power of music, or scent, or poetry, and any other natural though extraordinary gift. The only point of view from which it is theologically interesting is that it may have been the outward human or natural instrument through which in former times revelations from a higher moral world were made.—Prothero's Life of Stanley.

A Railroad Incident.

"What did you pull the cord for?" asked the indignant conductor of the passenger who had brought the train to a stand-still by jerking at the rope.

"My wife's new hat flew ont of the window," replied the excited passenger.

"Do you mean to say you stopped this train for such a trifle as that?"

"Trifle!" howled the passenger, "I guess you never had to pay for a fashionable lady's hat, or you wouldn't talk such blank foolishness," replied the indignant passenger.—Texas Siftings.

Pleasant Methods of Dying.

"Death by strangulation," said Dr. E. L. Henry, of Baltimore, "is supposed to be the most pleasant way to die. Hanging, drowning, opiate poisoning and asphyxiation with gas to the person in a normal condition bring pleasant dreams, usually a most beautiful panorama of landscape views floats through the brain, and there is a sensation of floating through space in luxurious ease. But should the person recover, the pain is the most intense of any that could be suffered, and there are people who are so constituted that this pain is all that is realized, even during the process of strangulation. To these people the sensation is that of being pierced by thousands of sharp needles, and their heads seem to be bursting with blows upon the inside of the skull. With such persons it is the most horrible form of death."

Pretty Necks.

Mrs. Jennesa Miller says: Few women have pretty necks; most of them having a prominent bone. If they are fat it is cushioned; but still it looks like an ugly piece of dough. This can be gotten rid of by leaving off the corset, dropping the shoulders, raising the chest and getting control of the abdominal muscles.

Talk to women of hygiene from the hygienic standpoint and they are apt to be but listless auditors; but talk to them of hygiene as an adjunct of the toilet—as a secret aid to beauty—and the demonstration will find eager listeners, and the wheels of the social revolution will have been set in motion.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, April 3, 1894.

Local security market is fairly firm and active.

THE SEED MARKET—Trade quiet. Alsike clover is selling a small way at $7 to $8.40, red clover at $6 to $6.60, and timothy at $2.40 to $2.75 per bushel.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—Receipts of grain is small. Wheat dull, 100 bushels selling at 62c for white and at 52c for goose. One load of barley sold at 43c, and 300 bushels of oats at 40c to 41c.

The Mark Lane Express in its weekly review of the British grain trade says: English wheats continue to average 24 4d a quarter with decreasing sales. Foreign wheat has fallen 6d. Corn has been a trifle dearer. Oats, beans and peas were dull and barleys 3d deafer.

On Wall street Goodhart & McGovern bought a few hundred Distillers at 27. Foreign houses sold St. Paul and Union Pacific. London is steady.

Kenneth. Hopkins & Co.'s circular is bearish on stocks. Cheapness of money is about the only bull factor. Condition of the railway systems is bad, with no immediate prospect of improvement.

The London financial weeklies received by mail report a general "hardening" in continental securities and advances of one to three points in British railways. Silver bullion advanced in London 3 8 pence more per ounce, making a total advance within the week of 1 1-8 pence in London and 2¼ cents in New York.

HIS MAIL IS HEAVY.

Fisheries Inspector Brickwood Gets Letters From all Over the Dominion Asking for Particulars About Dodd's Kidney Pills Curing Him of Chronic Rheumatism.

KINGSTON, April 2.—Enquiry develops the fact that the story of J. H. Brickwood's wonderful cure of his rheumatism by Dodd's Kidney Pills has brought him notoriety. Mr. Brickwood daily receives letters from all quarters of Canada asking further particulars of his cure. He invariably answers that after all other remedies failed, Dodd's Kidney Pills restored him to health. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy in pill form ever offered the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations. Purchasers for their own safety should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes; price, fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50. To be had of all dealers.

Clerk (apologetically)—Very sorry, madam, but there was a little rush of trade just before you came in.

Mrs. F.—Why don't you have more people here to attend to customers? Somebody might want to buy $1,000 worth of medicine, and it wouldn't make any difference.

Clerk—Well, madam, I don't think it will occur again. What is it you wish?

Mrs. F.—Give me two three-cent stamps.

Canadian Meat in England.

It will startle some people to learn that if no Canadian meat is imported into the London market for two days the price of all kinds of meat goes up. Moreover, it is also a fact that if the Canadian supply was entirely cut off we should have famine prices in force, so large is the quantity consumed. One reason why English butchers buy Canadian cattle is because they are sent over in such good condition. At home the farmers' cattle come to town in such a bruised state that the farmers lose by the loss of appearance and the butchers by the damage done to the meat.

A FARMER'S EXPERIENCE.

He Tells the Story of Eight years Suffering and Vain Efforts of Regain Health—How This Boon was Finally Obtained.

Mr. Henry Lamb is a well-known farmer living near Meaford, Ont. To the editor of the Monitor he recently told the following interesting story :—

"About eight years ago I suffered from an attack of inflammation of the stomach, causing me extreme pain. I was attended by Dr.. Clarke, who brought me around, and I have always given him the credit of saving my life on that occasion. The effects of the antack, however, remained and I fell into a state of chronic poor health, which completely unfitted me for my ordinary work. I was really dragging out a miserable existence. I suffered for over seven years from a constant pain in my stomach, as well as from weakness and continued debility. I tried many remedies but without relief. I at length decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I soon felt the pain in my stomach relieved and after a time it was entirely gone and I felt like a new man. I can now work half a day at a time without fatigue and as I am still using the pills I confidently expect, as I have every right to do from the great results thus far, to be able to do my work as formerly. I have stated my experience to many people and invariably recommend a trial of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Those who are weak, nervous, or whose system is "run down" will find certain and speedy relief in the use of this wonderful medicine. As a blood builder and nerve restorer, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have no rival and thousands of grateful people testify to their merits. Sold by dealers or sent postpaid on receipt of 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y. Never be persuaded to take something else.

MR. LANG'S REPLY.

To the Editor of the Examiner :

DEAR SIR,—Will you please give the following space in your paper :—

In reply to Victoria Association, No. 550, Belmont,—Brethren, I wish to remind you that I never sought the nomination from the Patrons of Industry. It was you (the Patrons) that forced it upon me. I did my best to keep you from placing candidates in the field for either the Legislature or House of Commons, but was forced into the position by yourselves; and my reason for hesitating to accept the same was because I doubted your sincerity; and your actions, and that of Mr. Lancaster since, have proven that my doubts were well founded. Now, I tell you that I never wanted the nomination, neither from you nor any other party, nor do I yet. At the same time I approve of the platform, every plank, as far as it relates to the Dominion House, and if I should, unfortunately, be forced into the field that is the platform I shall stand upon, but I shall want something more reliable at my back than the Patrons of Victoria Association before I spend either my time or money. As for my past parliamentary record not pleasing you, I think it would have been quite acceptable if I could have backed it up with a small grant for colonization roads in Belmont.

ON THE STAGE AT LAST.

PALMER COX'S FAMED BROWNIES MAKE THEIR DEBUT.

The Wise Little Elves and Fairies to Be Actually Seen in a Three Act Musical Spectacle—Something of the Manner of Its Presentation.

Real live Brownies behind the footlights; that is what thousands of children, old and young, who freight the mails to Palmer Cox, asking him to send them a "real live Brownie," will soon have an opportunity to see.

Let me tell you how I found out all about it. I dropped into Brownie land last night. At my approach little brown elves as usual scampered out of sight and I was left with the manuscript of a drama, entitled "Palmer Cox's Brownies." Near by was a contract which the father of the Brownies had just signed, and which will entitle him to the highest royalty yet paid a Canadian playwright.

The first venture of Mr. Cox into dramatic writing is a three-act musical spectacle. It will be put upon the boards with a magnificence seldom, if ever surpassed in this country. Malcolm Douglas has written the music, which is described as fresh, original and catchy.

Fairies, elves and evil spirits are introduced. The evil spirits are bent upon thwarting the union of the Brownies with a band of fairies. They meet in a forest, but the Brownies in the end, despite all objections, come off victorious. In dissolving views the Brownies will be seen in a shipwreck, in a volcanic eruption and in the dark chasm of a mine. At the climax of Act I. they are clinging to a raft; they sing as the storm comes on:

Goddess of myth, we pray
Guard us upon our way.
Watch o'er a Brownie crew,
Toss'd on the waters blue.
Speed thou the raft we've made
Unto our sweet queen's aid.
Help us undo the wicked spell
Of terrible Dragonfel.

Neptune, in a gold barge filled with nymphs, calms the sea and the Brownies clamber on board. Sad to relate, the dude, whose popularity with Brownie lovers is he who is rescued in a remarkable manner. I would like to say just how, but I promised not to tell. In this act, also, there is a May-polo dance, in which the dude again meets with a mishap, and the jollity is interrupted by the presence of strange guests, who abduct the Queen, with whom the prince of the Brownies is in love. The Brownies, in a tally-ho coach, now make off for the seashore.

In the second act the Brownies reach an enchanted land—the kingdom of Dragonfel, the monster who abducted the queen. Here they meet with surprises that baffle all their cunning, so wonderfully strange and beautiful is the monster's kingdom. By a ruse they try to enter Dragonfel's palace, but are recognized.

One hundred characters are in the cast, fifty Brownies and fifty fairies. It will be played by professionals. Europe and the United States are now being searched in quest of actors and actresses of undersize. To heighten the Lilliputian effect, the scenery will be on a gigantic scale and the fairies oversized men and women. Various specialties will be introduced, not the least of which will be a quadrille danced by bears. The whole presentation will be under the supervision of Palmer Cox himself. The costumes will be made from his drawings, and every art will be bent to impart to these live Brownies the life-like personality of Cox's creations. In the finale there will be a series of Mr. Cox's famous pictures, in which all the Brownie ventures will pass before the audience in dissolving views to reveal at length the "real live Brownies," united with the fairies in their own happy land.—Lida Rose McCabe, in Buffalo Express.

MELLICK WAS NERVY.

How a Fireman on the Jersey Central Saved a Life.

LEAPT FROM HIS ENGINE

Turning Over Several Times Before He Reached the Water to Where a Girl Was Struggling for Life — Neither Were Injured.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 4.—Passengers on a Jersey Central train yesterday were witnesses of a thrilling leap for life and a brave rescue.

As the train rounded the curve and approached at a high rate of speed the bridge over the Lackawanna river, near Minooka Junction, the engineer was horrified to see a little girl walking upon the ties and about half way across the bridge. He blew his whistle and reversed his lever. The momentum of the train carried it rushing toward the child. As the train bore down on her, the little girl started to run, hesitated a moment and then jumped off the trestle into the river below.

As the train had approached the child, John Mellick, fireman of the engine, started from the step, and when the train came opposite to the spot where the child had jumped off he leaped off into the air, turned over two or three times in his descent and struck the water in a heap. He rose to the surface uninjured, seized the struggling child and brought her safely ashore. Neither Mellick nor the child was injured by the jump.

When the train stopped the passengers commended Mellick for his brave deed. They took up a collection for him, and quite a large sum was realized.

THE CATTLE EMBARGO.

Mr. Gardner Interviewed With Regard to Wholesale Slaughter.

LONDON, April 4.—Secretary of Agriculture Gardner, replying to a deputation which interviewed him on the question of the Government's restrictions to the importation of cattle, pointed out the absolute necessity there was for clearly defining the particular disease against which they asked for further and fuller safeguards. To him the proposal amounted to a universal and perpetual slaughter at each port of debarkation. If the disease against which they desired legal safeguards erected was contagious pleuro-pneumonia, then he thought the existing law was sufficiently protective. He did not believe that the proposal for a universal slaughter would commend itself to the common sense either of the House of Commons or the public generally of Great Britain. He was satisfied that the danger put forward by the deputation was out of all proportion to the proposal suggested, and he could hold out no hope that any such proposals would ever be carried out.

Amy McArthur Committed for Theft.

DRAYTON, April 4.—Some time ago a woman calling herself Amy McArthur, an escaped nun from Boston, came to town and secured board with Mrs. Chas. Flath. She afterwards disappeared taking with her several articles belonging to Mrs. Flath. County Constable Flath traced her to Goderich and brought her back. Yesterday she was tried before J.P.'s T. J. Patterson and J. Gress on the charge of theft and committed to Guelph to await trial. The woman evidently is of unsound mind, and the principal object in committing her is to if possible find her friends.

A Young Villain's Deed.

ST. JOHN, N.B., April 4.—William Robb, aged 21, in the employ of John White, furniture manufacturer, was arrested last night charged with indecent assault on the daughter of Daniel Dias, liquor merchant. The little girl, who is in poor health, is only eight years old. She was playing about and enticed into a barn by Robb, who threatened to kill her if she told what he attempted. She told her mother, and after a consultation between the mother of the girl, Dr. Berryman and the Chief of Police, Robb was placed under arrest.

Killed While Resisting Arrest.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., April 4.—Officers went to William Manning's boarding house to arrest him yesterday on a charge of highway robbery. Manning resisted arrest. He shot officer Clapper and was himself shot and killed by Clapper, who is not seriously hurt.

Rejected Sir Rollit's Motion.

LONDON, April 4.—The House of Commons yesterday by a vote of 41 to 136 rejected a motion made by Sir A. K Rollit (Conservative) to appoint a committee to consider the rules of procedure of the House.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, April 4, 1894.

Money is unchanged at 4½ to 5 per cent. on call.

A cable says prices of cattle at Liverpool are easier on liberal receipts.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—Receipts of grain small. Wheat steady, 200 bushels selling at 62c for white and at 58c to 59 for goose. Barley steady, three loads selling at 43c to 43½c. Oats steady, 300 bushels selling at 40c to 41c.

The strong features on Wall street were New England, Lead, Distillers and Mo. P. Rock Island weak on reports of frost injuring wheat along the line. Room traders bought St. Paul. Cammach and Wheeler are the chief sellers. The London market closed strong. Bar silver in New York higher at 83½c per ounce.

In New York the stock market movement was dull and languid, and after an hour or two of dullness the board room speculators began a desultory selling. A reasonable belief exists that the market has now reached a halting point such as was reached at the close of the first week of March. There was, however, a pretty constant demand for stocks at all concessions, and extensive operations for the decline were not inviting.

President Cleveland's

Brother, the Rev. Wm. N. Cleveland, certifies to Mr. John D. Rose's sickness and cure. Mr. Rose's statement is as follows:— "I, the undersigned, feel constrained to bear testimony to the value of your remedy for Dyspepsia. Last summer my stomach failed so entirely that I was unable for weeks to digest any food except an occasional cracker; meanwhile, I was reduced to a skeleton, and became so weak as to be unable to walk without staggering. Having seen in a Toronto paper your remedy advertised, I procured through my sister, a bottle of your medicine. Upon trying it I began at once to mend, and in a short time entirely regained my health, gaining in eight days 13 lbs. To-day I am well and hearty, which blessing, under God, I owe (as I think) to your medicine, K. D. C.

Yours truly, JOHN D. ROSE.
Chaumont, New York.

When my little girl was one month old she had a scab form on her face. It kept spreading until she was completely covered from head to foot. Then she had boils. She had forty on her head at one time, and more on her body. When six months old she did not weigh seven pounds, a pound and a half less than at birth. Then her skin started to clear up and got so bad she could not shut her eyes to sleep, but laid with them half open. At this time, at the earnest request of friends, I started using the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and in one month she was completely cured. The doctor and drug bills were over one hundred dollars, the Cuticura bill was not more than five dollars. My child is now two years old, strong, healthy and large as any child of her age (see photo.) and it is all owing to CUTICURA. Yours with a Mother's Blessing,

IT PAYS TO WAIT.

—:o:—

We have done our best to show the Peterborough public the newest Spring Millinery by not having our opening before the new goods are in stock, and we have more than proved that the people appreciate our efforts by the throngs that have been crowding our show rooms since the opening, and the many exclamations that we hear on every side, that our display was the prettiest and most varied they ever witnessed, and oh! here is something I can wear that is both neat and becoming. You ask us how we get up such a varied stock suitable for every taste; the secret is we have been in the millinery business for years and understand what the Peterborough public like. As to prices one lot of manufacturer's samples alone we bought free of duty which is 30 per cent, and leaves us in a position to sell them that much cheaper than other houses. Our motto has always been from the beginning, small profits and quick returns and give honest, reliable goods for the money.

See our beautiful display under the gaslight Saturday night.

The time has arrived for Spring Mantles and Wraps. Our stock is complete in this department in all the newest styles and materials shown. Cloth from 60c. up.

Our Mantle Maker has the confidence of the public being well known for a perfect fit.

Our stock of Imported Worsteds and Serges for our Tailoring department is now in. They are beautiful goods and grand value. Give us a trial. A perfect fit guaranteed.

BARGAIN DAY.

Look out for our list of bargains which will be left at your house for Wednesday, our next bargain day, April 4th. It will tell you of a lot of carpet ends of all lengths we are clearing out to make room for new stock.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Respecting the Granting of a Shop License in Tilsonburg.

M'CLEARY HAS A COMPLAINT.

The Action of the Inspector Proven to be Perfectly Regular—The Carlton Inquest—Dr. Gilmour's Personal Covenant Bill Lost on Division.

TORONTO, April 5.—In the Legislature yesterday the following bills were read a third time:—Respecting the site of the new Legislative and Departmental buildings—Mr. Fraser. Respecting St. George's church, Kingston—Mr. Harty. To enable James Henry Carpenter to practise dentistry—Mr. Carpenter. To enable the trustees, executors and executrix under the will of Richard Stubbs to lease certain lands—Mr. Tait. To confirm an agreement between the London Street Railway Company and the village of London West—Mr. Tooley. Respecting allowances to the Supreme Court judges—The Attorney-General.

A Tilsonburg License.

Mr. McCleary moved for a return of copies of all correspondence in connection with the granting of a shop license for the sale of liquor to one Joseph Aspinall, of the town of Tilsonburg, in the South Riding of Oxford, for the year 1893-94. Also, copies of all papers and documents in possession of the Government, or any official thereof, relating to the said license—together with a copy of the report of the chief inspector, who enquired into the complaint that the license was fraudulently granted. Mr. McCleary said his chief complaint was that a license had been illegally and fraudulently granted to the person named in the resolution. A large number of people of the town, principally business men, had signed a petition asking that the license be withheld. The accuracy of the names appearing on a petition for a license had been questioned and an investigation before the town clerk had been promised. No investigation had been held, yet the license had been granted. He blamed the Government for allowing its officials to act in such a negligent manner.

Hon. Mr. Harcourt said no blame could be attached to the commissioners, as they were simply acting in accordance with their duties. The matter should have been brought before the county judge, where it would have been settled in accordance with the Act covering such cases.

Mr. McCleary maintained the blame rested on the license inspector.

Dr. McKay (Oxford) read communications from temperance people in South Oxford going to show that the license inspectors did their duty in a commendable manner.

Mr. Marter read a resolution passed at the annual district meeting for South Oxford of the Methodist Church, in which it was stated that the license officials had been lax in carrying out their duties, and saying that an investigation should be held

The motion was then carried.

Regarding a Certain Inquest.

Dr. Ryerson moved for a return of copies of the evidence in the inquest on one Maton, held at the village of Carlton on October 3, 1893, together with copies of all correspondence between the coroner and the county crown attorney and the Attorney-General. He stated that a woman was confined of a child at Carlton in October last. Dr. Bryce was the medical attendant, but did not take the trouble to see whether it was alive or not. He assumed it was a premature birth, and the infant was wrapped in a napkin and thrown under the bed. A certificate for burial was issued, and the infant was taken to the cemetery, and, had it not been for the fact that the certificate issued was irregular, the little one would have been buried alive. He said that the county crown attorney had been notified of the case, and that the papers had been forwarded to the Attorney-General.

Sir Oliver Mowat replied that there had been no correspondence with him personally. The circumstances were unfortunate, but after considering the case the opinion was come to that there was not sufficient evidence to convict Dr. Bryce of anything but technical manslaughter. Sir Oliver read a letter from the county crown attorney to the coroner, in which the former expressed the opinion that a case of manslaughter might be made out, but no jury would convict.

Mr. Meredith asked if there had been an inquest.

Sir Oliver Mowat—There was.

Mr. Meredith—What was the finding?

Sir Oliver Mowat read the finding of the jury, expressing the opinion that if the infant had had more careful treatment at the time of birth by the medical attendant the life might have been prolonged.

Mr. Meredith—Is that not the finding of any criminal offence?

Sir Oliver Mowat—It is not the finding of any criminal offence. Sir Oliver went on to remark that the father of the infant might have instituted a prosecution had he so desired. It appears that he consulted his solicitor, but did not take any action in consequence.

The motion was agreed to.

Respecting Witness Fees.

Mr. Whitney moved the second reading of his bill respecting witness fees. He explained that the bill was intended to apply to farmers, mechanics, artisans, laborers and school teachers, and the object was to provide that these classes of persons when called upon to attend court as witnesses be paid the current rate of wages in their several occupations.

Hon. Mr. Hardy did not consider the bill workable. It was never contended that witnesses should receive a full measure of compensation for their lost time.

The motion carried.

Personal Covenant in Mortgages.

Dr. Gilmour moved the second reading of his bill to abolish the personal covenant in mortgages

Hon. Mr. Hardy asked the mover to content himself with having the bill discussed, and not to press it further.

Mr. Meredith objected to the bill.

Mr. White (Essex) and Dr. Barr craved some consideration of the bill, on the ground that many cases of hardship had occurred through the existence of the covenant in mortgages.

Dr. Gilmour declined to withdraw the bill, and it was declared lost on division.

The Speaker left the chair at 6 o'clock.

After Recess.

After recess Dr. Barr (Dufferin) introduced a measure similar to that by Dr. Gilmour, but it was afterwards withdrawn.

Received Second Readings.

Mr. McColl's bill to raise the amount of personal earnings exempted from taxation from $700 to $1,000 received a second reading.

Mr. Clarke's (Lanark) bill dealing with exemptions from local taxation of farm lands in towns and cities was given a second reading.

Mr. Baxter's bill exempting from taxation the reserve of provincial life insurance companies and the dividends added yearly to the reserve fund and paid over to policyholders, was given a second reading.

House Notes.

A deputation of railway men waited on the Government yesterday and urged the passage of Mr. McColl's bill.

In the Public Accounts Committee Hon. Mr. Fraser said that not a dollar was incurred for extras in connection with the Parliament buildings that did not appear in the public works report. All the extras paid, deducting the commissions, amounted to less than $18,000, and the whole of these amounts appeared in the report.

Yesterday was the twentieth anniversary of Hon. Mr. Fraser being sworn in as Commissioner of Public Works. The hon. gentleman was the recipient of congratulations from a host of admirers on the occasion.

The annual report upon the common jails, prisons and reformatories has been presented to the House. It is pointed out that there has been a marked decrease in the number of healthy tramps seeking admission to the jails during the portion of the year when work is hard to obtain. This is attributed to the fact that this class has been compelled to work quite as hard in the jails as they would have to outside, and special care has been taken that they get no more comforts when in jail than they are accustomed to when tramping through the country. The number of committals for crime is 392 less than the previous year, and fewer than any year since 1873. There has also been a decrease of 84 in the number of committals for drunkenness.

DOMINION RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

Hon. J. M. Gibson, M.P.P., Again Elected President.

OTTAWA, April 5.—The annual meeting of the Dominion Rifle Association was held yesterday in the Railway Committee room of the House of Commons. Lt.-Col. the Hon. J. M. Gibson, M. P. P., president, occupied the chair. The annual report was adopted. The finances are in a satisfactory condition.

Among those present were His Excellency the Governor-General; Hon. J. C. Paterson, Minister of militia; General Herbert, Col. Rowell, Adjutant General; Col. Penet, Deputy Minister of Militia, and many members of both Houses.

In reply to a resolution of thanks to the Governor-General for his patronage Lord Aberdeen said he would be glad to promote this national movement. He dwelt on the paramount place efficiency in marksmanship occupied in other countries. He congratulated the association on the Bisley record of the team.

In acknowledging a vote of thanks Hon. J. C. Paterson promised that the Government would continue to encourage the association.

General Herbert said a shipment of new rifles had already been made and was on the way. There would be nine thousand Martini-Henris available in a few months and next year he hoped to have all the shooting done with this new rifle.

Glass Factories Close Down.

HAMILTON, April 5.—The Hamilton glass factory will close down on Saturday next and the Burlington glass factory will close in about two weeks. Both factories are operated by the Diamond Glass Company, which controls two similar concerns in Montreal, and they decided to shut down the Montreal factories also. Manager Watts, in charge of the works here, says the closing up may not be permanent, but the factories could not be operated on the same basis as before under the revised tariff. The company does not wish to get overstocked, owing to the depression in the States and pending the result of the Wilson tariff. At present United States factories are sacrificing their stock in the Canadian market at ruinous prices and manufacturers here could not compete with them.

For the Northwest.

COLLINGWOOD, April 5.—Seventy-five families from Parry Sound district left last night for the Northwest. It is their intention to form a settlement near Edmonton and they will take with them all the stock and implements necessary to commence farming on a sound basis. All are hardy people, such as took the stumps out of Ontario, and will do their share to build up the great Northwest. D. S. Caven, colonization agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, will accompany the settlers and see that they have a pleasant journey to their new homes on the prairie.

License Holders Convention.

TORONTO, April 5.—Delegates from the newly-organized Licensed Holders' Protective Association to the number of about 500 assembled here yesterday, every large town in the province being represented. The occasion is their first convention for arranging plans to strengthen their claims to consideration by the Governments. They declare that they will oppose any Government which will attempt to interfere with their interests.

THAT FRENCH TREATY.

Parliament Will Be Asked by the Government to Ratify It.

PROHIBITIONISTS ARE IGNORED

The Debate on the Budget Will Continue on Into Next Week—Sault Ste. Marie Canal—The Expected Deficit Not to Interfere With the Subsidy.

OTTAWA, April 5.—It is now generally considered that the budget debate in the Dominion House will continue well into next week. A number of members have yet to speak on it, but the interest has subsided since the principal members of House have had their say.

Hon Mr. Foster, yesterday, in reply to Sir Richard Cartwright, said that the Finance Department was preparing a case to be present to the Department of Justice for an opinion as to whether proceedings could be taken to recover the sum lost by the failure of the Exchange Bank from the party who guaranteed the original deposits.

Hon. Mr. Haggart, replying to a question by Mr. Charlton, said that the original contract was for a canal at Sault Ste. Marie 600 feet long and 55 feet wide, with a depth of 15 feet 3 inches on the outer sills. This contract was dated on November 20, 1888, and called for the completion of the work on May 10, 1891. In the early part of 1891, on representations being made, estimates were taken to increase the depth of water in the canal to 19 feet 3 inches and increasing the length to 650 feet by a width of 100 feet. Negotiations had been had with the contractors, resulting in an agreement, dated June 18, 1891, whereby this change should be made, and the work completed by May 10, 1893. In the early part of 1892, it having been urged that the dimensions of the lock be changed, giving 20 feet 8 inches on the outer sills, and that the work be completed on December 31, 1894. In the autumn of 1892 it was considered important to have the canal completed in the summer of 1894, and an agreement was entered into with the contractors on November 8, 1892, to complete the lock masonry by July 1, 1894, for an additional $90,000.

Sir Richard Cartwright asked whether, in view of the fact that the Minister of Finance had declared that he had expected a deficit in the revenue for the current and succeeding fiscal year, the Government intended to ask Parliament during this session for a vote of $720,000 for a fast Atlantic service.

Hon. Mr. Foster said that if Sir Richard understood that he had stated that he expected a deficit as between the revenue and expenditure for the fiscal year he (Sir Richard) was mistaken. It was the intention of the Government to ask legislation in reference to the fast Atlantic service.

Mr. Belley took up the debate on the budget, speaking in French, and was replied to in French by Mr. Bruneau. The debate was continued after recess and until the House rose.

In the Senate yesterday Hon. Mr. Scott resumed the debate on Mr. Bernier's motion for papers in connection with the school question in Manitoba and the Northwest.

Mulock's bill in the Commons to reduce the expense of running Government House at Ottawa and the Governor-General's salary provides that out of a stipulated salary his Excellency shall pay for many things in connection with the maintenance of Rideau Hall that now are defrayed out of the Treasury.

These bills were introduced in the Commons yesterday: Respecting the Canada and Michigan Tunnel Company—Dr. Montague. Respecting the Ottawa Gas Company—Mr. Robillard. Incorporating the Dominion Burglary and Guarantee Company (Limited)—Dr. Sproule. Respecting the Ontario Mutual Life Insurance Company—Mr. Bowman. To amend and revive the Act incorporating the Lindsay, Bobcaygeon and Pontypool Railway Company—Mr. Fairbairn. Respecting the Atlantic and Northwest Railway Company—Col. Tisdale. Respecting the Consumers' Cordage Company—Mr. Rosamond. Respecting the Niagara Grand Island Bridge Company—Mr. Ingram. Respecting the River St. Clair Railway Bridge and Tunnel Company—Mr. Ingram.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., April 5.—Martha Dingwell, aged 22, a school teacher at Morell, is missing. She left her boarding house on Monday evening in good spirits to make a call. She was last seen on the railway track, walking towards the bridge. The section foreman found her gold watch, hat, mits, pencil and a pill box on a sleeper under a stone on Tuesday morning. On the box was written: "Have no paper. Give my watch to little Olive, as I promised it to her. Send for my father. God forgive me." It is supposed she jumped over the bridge. The river is being dragged by hundreds of people, but there is no trace of the body. A bogus notice of her marriage had been published and sent to her affianced husband in Vancouver. Although everything afterwards was satisfactorily explained, it is thought the circumstances may have preyed on her mind and caused her to commit suicide.

THE RULING MARKETS

TORONTO, April 5, 1894.

The local stock market is quiet and firm.

Grand Trunk earnings for the week ended March 31 were $329,189, a decrease of $71,861.

Earnings of Canadian Pacific for the last ten days of March, $433,000, a decrease of $31,000 as compared with the same period of last year.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—Wheat unchanged, 200 bushels selling at 62c for white, at 61c for red and at 58½c for goose. Barley sold at 43c for two loads, and peas at 63½c for one load. Oats easier, 400 bushels selling at 39 to 41c.

The Chicago wheat market was in the hands of the bulls yesterday. There was a slight recession from the outside point of the day but final figures were 2½c, a 5 3c higher than those of Monday.

On Wall street London is unchanged. St. Paul's earnings for fourth week of March decreased $127,020, better than expected. The balance sheet of General Electric shows 40 per cent. of capital gone and 40 per cent. counted as invested in patents. We feel bearish on the stock.

All patent medicines at Schofield's.

Daily Examiner.

THURSDAY, APRIL 5, 1894.

UNLESS Mr. Meredith desired to make a complete burlesque of his attack upon the system of paying Ontario officials by fees, he surely would not have selected Mr. Wood, of North Hastings, to move a resolution on the subject. For years, says the Ottawa Free Press, Mr. Wood has been living on fees collected from the Dominion Government for services as a valuer of lands taken for canal purposes, and how he has managed to get in so many days' services as valuator for the Federal Government and, at the same time, attend to his duties in the Ontario Assembly and his ordinary business affairs is a mystery. The report of the auditor-general for last year shows that Mr. Wood received $1,033 from the Dominion Government in fees for sixty-nine days' services. He was paid ten dollars per day and $3.50 for living expenses, or $13.50 per day altogether, and $154 to cover his cost of travelling. Where is there a registrar or sheriff in the province that can equal Mr. Wood as a grabber of fees? And last year was not one of his best years either. The inconsistency of Mr. Wood's conduct in objecting to the payment of fees for official services was thoroughly exposed by Hon. A. S. Hardy, when the subject was before the Ontario Assembly last week. The placing of registrars and other officials upon fixed salaries, would be followed by an agitation for the abolition of the fees now collected by such officers, and the saddling upon the whole country of the cost of maintaining offices which are now supported by those who use them. The selection of Mr. A. F. Wood as the mover of a resolution condemning the fees system will be paralleled when Sir Adolphe Caron is put up in the House of Commons as the mover of a resolution condemning the collection of election funds from the beneficiaries of railway subsidies.

MR. STRATTON has introduced a bill into the local Legislature providing that Municipal Councils may borrow money for school purposes under the same conditions as for ordinary purposes. It also provides that the yearly amount due School Boards by Municipal Councils shall become due in monthly instalments.

THE INVINCIBLE COAL OIL TAX

The Light of Canadian Homes Taxed 200 per cent.

The Montreal Star, a staunch Conservative and a rabid protectionist journal, thus discourses upon the "Invincible Coal Oil Tax":—

"The way in which the Government have played with the coal oil duties cannot be regarded as other than insulting to the people who have proved them to be a real burden and demanded real relief. For two sessions of Parliament now the coal oil question has been easily first among the tariff problems; and, on each occasion, the Government have whittled at its gnarled surface with a toy penknife. Last year they made some changes in regard to the transport of oil and lightened the inspection fee, all or which Mr. Foster thought might reduce the price of American oil a couple of cents or so. These new regulations of the system of transport were so limited as to fall more or less largely of the desired effect, especially in the Maritime Provinces; and the Government propose no further relief along this line in the new tariff

* * * * * *

It appears that Mr. Foster's "relief" of this year is of value only so far as his "relief" of last year was a failure. But the glaring crime is that, through all the faint-hearted pretences at applying the pruning knife, they have never once touched the unparalleled duty of two hundred per cent. on American refined oil. They evidently dare not write that duty in ad valorem terms. They keep its "specific" mask well fastened on, and then make a great fuss over the hacking they do at some of the outlying branches. This year Mr. Foster shows an inclination to defend this tax on the ground that it makes a very nice contribution to the revenue. "From those who use American oil," said Mr. Foster, "a very large revenue, some $400,000, is received, which it is difficult for the Government to sacrifice without replacing it in some other way." This is a new doctrine. To levy a revenue tax of 200 per cent. upon an absolute necessity of nine-tenths of the population, is an act that is not approached by even the new tax on the cheap reading of the people. Somebody in the Government would seem to have a bitter quarrel with light. He takes the poor man's cheap book from him with one hand, and turns out his coal-oil lamp with the other. But how differently is the proceeding when entering the library of his rich neighbour. The tax on "gas oil"—a raw material of gas—is reduced by one-half and his expensive volume gets in with a much less duty than formerly. Light, it seems, is only begrudged the poor.

Now, it appears to be superfluous to say that it is not the will of the country that our revenue shall be raised by a tremendous tax on coal oil. An article of such common and necessary use as coal oil would surely be bearing its full share of the revenue burden if paying a duty of, say, twenty per cent. Why not put it at 20 per cent. then? Mr. Foster knows perfectly well. It is not that he could not raise his revenue in some other way; but it is that then American oil, which now, he admits, fills one-third of the demand in Canada in spite of its high price, would be sold probably cheaper than its Canadian competitor. The coal oil duty is a protective duty, as all the world knows; and talk about revenue in connection with it is the purest nonsense.

As a protective duty it is a success. It protects the Lambton industry. It would be a poor industry, indeed, that such a duty would not protect. Who knows but that orange growing might be fostered in Canada if given so much hot-house encouragement? But this kind of protection is a violent abuse of the principles of the National Policy. We all have sympathy for the men who have their money invested in the wells and refineries of Lambton. We even feel for any vested interests that Mr. Moncrief may have in the Parliamentary seat for Lambton East. But they cannot always be pensioners upon the very penury of the country. If a thirty-five per cent. duty would satisfy them, there may be men who would be willing to have it imposed—though we think they could hardly be found in our farm houses or our mechanics' homes—but they profess that even the halving of the present duty would bring them ruin. To this position there is but one answer. It is the answer of the marine who finds that his cargo is sinking him.

FRUIT FOR THE FARM.

Fine, fresh fruit, and plenty of it—in variety as well as quality—is what every farmer ought to have. Nothing more helpful to the housewife, anxious to provide a varied bill of fare for the workers in the fields, could be done than to furnish her with ample supplies of luscious, life-giving fruits in their season. Bulletin xcii of the Ontario Agricultural College, published this week by the department of the Minister of Agriculture, the Hon. John Dryden, is a 32 page pamphlet of large, clear type, with a number of appropriate illustrations scattered through the text, that will very materially aid in bringing about a consummation so devoutly to be wished. There are five parts to this welcome little book about fruit culture, each dealing with a different line of that increasingly important branch of agricultural industry. It is this feature—the variety of fruits treated of—making the valuable information given by the different writers available all over Ontario, which is particularly to be commended in this publication of the minister. Too great credit cannot accrue to him for discerning in such a public paper, the widest possible general interest of its subject matter. The introductory article is by Prof. Panton. It treats of the grape and the diseases which detract from success in the growth of the vine. The next, by G. W. Beadle, formerly secretary of the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association, tells how the farmer's apple orchard may best be made and cared for. Then follows "Strawberry Culture," by W. W. Hilborn, of Leamington, Ont. It is doubtful whether there is a farm in Ontario on which strawberries cannot be grown profitably for family use, and still there are thousands of farmers who do not grow them. This should not be the case, as they can be grown with so little trouble and expense. Strawberries ripen during the heat of early summer when such an addition to the diet is most healthful and necessary. What is more delicious than a lush, ripe plum? The fourth essay by Mr. G. W. Cline, of Winona, is devoted to that delectable fruit. Plum growing is a source of profit too often neglected by the farmers of this province. With the exception of perhaps the apple, the plum can be grown more easily and cheaply than any other fruit.

The last part is a compilation of fruit statistics, showing the numbers of apple, pear, peach, plum and cherry trees and of grape vines in the townships of Ontario, as computed for 1892 and 1893, from returns sent in by farmers and fruit growers to the Department of Agriculture (Bureau of Industries). There were last year three-quarters of a million of young trees and nearly two and a quarter millions of bearing age.

Now, when

GRAIN GROWING ALONE

is practically played out, fruit culture comes as a boom and a blessing to farmers, in so far as it offers with dairying and one or two other special lines, new sources of profit for the enterprising agriculturist.

Coming so soon after the glorious victories achieved at Chicago by the Ontario fruit exhibit, the advice contained in this bulletin as to cultivating the wider field which the Columbian Exposition afforded the province an unexampled opportunity and means of advertising to the world for the sale of those fruits we are able to grow to perfection, the issue and thorough distribution through the country of this fruit bulletin is a thoughtful, far-seeing move by Mr. Dryden. Sent as it is to the members of Farmers' Institutes and to all Patrons of Industry, there are yet many others to whom it would prove a timely guide. Upon application to the Department of Agriculture, Toronto, anyone so desiring may obtain a copy of the bulletin.

It Isn't a Matter of How Much You Earn, But

What You Save!

"Any FOOL can Earn Money, but it takes a WISE Man to Save it."

And yet it is as simple as A B C. You know that one of the peculiarities about GOUGH'S Clothing is that it isn't sold by wind. It's VALUE that does it. It broke out some 8 or 10 years ago when Gough Bros. spread their monster tents for business in Peterborough and the epidemic has kept on spreading ever since.

THE IMMENSE AMOUNT OF MONEY SAVED to the Workingman, the Farmer and the Business Man since Gough Bros. broke the combination to keep up High Prices in Clothing, has demonstrated that there are Wise Men among us who can save money if they only get a fair chance.

"What's the cause of Gough's Big Success?" did you say.

Just look at those $7.50 Spring Overcoats and Tweed Suits, with that regular tailor-made look about them. They were no more made to sell at that price than the Otonabee River was to run ocean greyhounds on. $12.00 ought to be the price.

Then again—Take that pair of Pants or that Big Boy's 3-Piece Suit. They're All Wool and cut by an expert hand, who was a regular tailor's cutter before we pulled down the prices that gave them such big salaries. You wouldn't think $4.50 too much to pay for either of them, would you? Well, they're yours for $3.00

And so on all the way through our mammoth store. "Money to be Saved at Gough's!" why that's stale news—everybody knows that by this time, and, if you haven't caught the enthusiasm yet, it must be because you're one of those fellows that can EARN money all right, but DON'T KNOW HOW TO SAVE IT.

WE'RE AWFULLY STUCK UP—and it's just on account of our Clothes. We just think that when it comes to Clothing, there's nothing in this town that can touch us.

"Always Good at Gough's."

Foreign Miners in Pennsylvania Engage in Riot and Disorder.

ONE MAN BRUTALLY KILLED.

He Runs a Gauntlet for Life Through the Infuriated and Murderous Mob —Coke Companies' Offices Besieged by a Mob of Strikers.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 5.—A special from Uniontown, Pa., says: Chief Engineer Jos. H. Paddock, of the H. C. Frick Coke Co., was brutally murdered by 200 riotous Hungarians at the Davidson Coke Works at Connellsville yesterday afternoon.

The murderers were pursued by a sheriff's posse. Two other workmen in the region who refused to join the mob were assaulted and fatally hurt. They were carried away by their associates.

Ninety-four of the rioters and alleged murderers have been arrested and are now in jail here charged with murder. Two hundred picked men, acting as deputies to Sheriff Wilhelm, of Fayette county, mounted and armed to the teeth, went galloping through the coke regions last night, searching for L. R. Davis, president of the United Mine Workers; Daniel Darby, secretary of the organization; and John H. McElroy, who are alleged to have organized the murderous mob, and who are said to be directly responsible for the killing of Paddock.

The murdered man lived at Connellsville. He leaves a wife and three children. He was in the tipple, and Hugh Call, one of his assistants, was with him when the murderous mob broke into the tipple building, apparently with a view to burning it. Call fired on the approaching mob, which seemed to intensify their rage and they rushed upon him. He jumped through a window and escaped. Paddock attempted to escape by running through the infuriated crowd. Stones and clubs were hurled at him. Twice he was knocked down, but with superhuman effort he regained his feet. Finally he was knocked down by a heavy stone thrown by one of the mob. He fell senseless and each of the demons struck him with a stone while he lay breathless. His head and face were crushed and he was disfigured almost beyond recognition. Then while he lay there dead one of the mob fired a bullet into his head. His body was carried to a window in the tipple building and was thrown about forty feet to the burning ovens below, and the mob disappeared in the direction of Broadford. Paddock was 35 years old.

Ten Hungarians were killed or fatally injured by the deputies and citizens who were pursuing them for the murder of Paddock.

The clerks, company officials and deputies in the offices of the Frick and McClure companies are besieged by a mob of 1,500 strikers and the rioters are making menacing demonstrations.

This region is fairly trembling on the brink of a revolution. Never before were the dangerous foreigners so thoroughly aroused. They seem organized for murder and from one end of the region to the other they have marked their path with wreck and ruin and concluded the bad day's work with the killing of one of the most substantial men known in the coke business.

Bonds Recovered from Burglars.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Police Captain Campbell, of Brooklyn, announced last evening that he had recovered the $70,000 worth of bonds and securities that were stolen on December 1, 1893, from the safe of S. O. Burnett, hardware dealer, 307 Fulton street, Brooklyn. Mr. Burnett had to pay a large sum for the documents, which were not negotiable. They were recovered in Philadelphia from a lawyer who acted for the burglars.

Cowboys and Indians at War.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 5.—A special from El Rene announces that the troop of cavalry sent out to quell the fighting going on between the Indians and cowboys has sent a courier back to the fort for reinforcements. It is reported another battle has occurred and that several men on both sides were killed and wounded. The rumor that the agency buildings were burned by the Indians is confirmed.

Shot the Negro Cook.

DARLINGTON, S.C., April 5.—At the Cleveland house here yesterday Dr. Spain shot and killed a negro cook, who had reported him as being one of those who were concerned in the dispensary transactions which caused the recent riots. Spain was at once arrested by a squad of soldiers, who were in charge of the hotel, and taken to police headquarters.

Magee is Discharged.

NEW YORK, April 5.—The verdict of the jury in the Fuller case is that Miss Fuller came to her death by a shot from a pistol, but who fired the pistol we are unable to determine.

Testing Koch's Lymph.

YONKERS, April 5.—Dr. Lamkin reports that the second test with Koch's lymph on the cows at Col. Beecher's place confirms the evidence of tuberculosis shown by the first test. The animals will be killed.

Pope Leo Faints.

PARIS, April 5.—Newspaper despatches from Italy say the Pope had a fainting fit which lasted half an hour. His recovery was complete, however, and he showed no signs of weakness thereafter.

GEORGE SACKETT'S CASE.

Holsteiners Enjoy a Mild Sensation— One Box of Dodd's Kidney Pills Cures Their Fellow Citizen of Backache and Kidney Disease.

HOLSTEIN, March 28.—This quiet village is in an uproar of excitement just now over the case of George Sackett, a well-known resident. His experience has had many parallels in other places, but none here. One box of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him of severe backache and kidney disease of long standing, after he had tried every other remedy within his reach, but without any good results. These pills are manufactured by Dr. L. A. Smith & Co., Toronto, and are sold by all dealers, or will be mailed on receipt of price; fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50.

RATED BY THE JUDGE.

Attendants at the Pollard-Breckenridge Trial Hear Something of Themselves.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The five days' ordeal of Col. Breckenridge on the witness stand in the case brought against him by Miss Pollard terminated yesterday. After a consultation between Col. Breckenridge and his lawyer, Major Shelby said he thought the case of the defence might as well end at that point, but he asked that the court ajourn then in order to give the defence time to consult as to what it would do. Judge Bradley agreed to the adjournment. But before the crier formally announced that the court was adjourned the crowd began to move out.

Then Judge Bradley became angry, and, stiffening up, he cried:

"Take your seats. Go back there; take off your hats!"

This was the introduction to a scorching lecture to the spectators, on which he said that the curiosity exhibited by them had been disgusting. Corridors had been crowded by the prurient and crowds had assembled before the office of the counsel. The spectators, he said, were also on trial for their common sense and decency; "and," said he, "I am ashamed to say that their conduct has resulted in a verdict of guilty of indecency. They remind me of buzzards sitting on a fence corner waiting an opportunity to pick up a little carrion."

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 5.—The sensation of the morning cross-examination of Col. Breckenridge was his statement that he himself filled up the certificate of marriage in Dr. Paxton's house, that he asked Dr. Paxton if it was necessary to say he had been twice before married; that Dr. Paxton replied "no," and accordingly he stated in the certificate that he had only been once married. He further said that he and his wife went around to a hotel and registered as "W. J. Campbell and wife."

SPECIAL COMMITTEE FOR WALES.

Welsh Members Are Encouraged by the Success of Scotland.

LONDON, April 5.—The Welsh members of Parliament have decided to ask for a Welsh grand committee to which shall be referred all Welsh legislation. It was expected that this action would be taken when it was proposed to appoint a grand committee for Scotland. It is believed the demand of the Welsh members will be seriously embarrassing to the Government.

In the House of Commons yesterday Sir Ughtred Kaye Shuttleworth, Secretary to the Admiralty, announced that the Government would grant the motion put by Sir John Leng, calling upon the Admiralty for information as to the comparative time occupied by the different lines of steamers in carrying the American mails.

THEY LOOK LIKE NATIVES.

This Time the French Are the Sufferers From Mistaken Identity.

PARIS, April 5.—The Government has received information that a French reconnoitering party in the southern part of the Soudan was recently attacked by a band of natives of the village of Nz Nsaps and Lieut. Leucarf and three soldiers were killed and six others of the French party were wounded.

The chief of the village recalled his men when he made the discovery that it was a French party he was attacking and humbly apologized for his act. He explained that he mistook the native soldiers for a party of warriors of a turbulent chief in the Bougie region, whom he had long intended to punish when he should catch him.

EXCELSIOR
Life Insurance Company.

HEAD OFFICE, - TORONTO.

PRESIDENT AND MANAGING-DIRECTOR,
E. F. CLARKE, Ex-Mayor of Toronto

New! Commodious! Comfortable!

An examination of the report of the business for 1893 shows that THE EXCELSIOR has made SOLID PROGRESS in all the points essential to success, viz:—

Gain in Insurance in Force over that 1891 72 per cent.
Gain in Cash Income over that of 1891 61 per cent
Gain in Assets over that of 1891, 27 per cent.
Gain in Reserve on Policy Holders Account over that of 1891, 114 per cent

THE EXCELSIOR offers Security which is unsurpassed by any other Company doing business in Canada. The following are the ratios of Assets to Liabilities of the different Canadian Companies as given in the Government Report for 1891:—

Excelsior Life,...415% North American Life,136%
Dominion Life,..301 " London Life,.....118 "
Federal Life,.....144 " Sun Life,.....114 "
Manufac'rs' Life,..144 " Confederation Life,...113 "
Temp'ce and Gen'l,144 " Canada Life,.....113 "
Ontario Mutual 108%

The Excelsior Life challenges any other Company to show, in the same period of its history, 1st, as low a death rate; 2nd, as low a ratio of expenses. See our Life Rate Endowment and our Life and Endownment Annuity Bonds before insuring elsewhere.

DAVID DOIG

A Government BOMBSHELL THROWN INTO THE LIFE INSURANCE CAMP!

The following statement comes from the government Blue Book. It covers a period of sixteen years, and is sworn to as correct by representatives of each Company:

Statement of Premiums received and Cash Profits paid back to Policy Holders from 1877 to 1892, both years inclusive:—

COMPANY.	Premiums Received.	Dividends Paid to Policy Holders.	Ratio of Dividends to Premiums, %
CANADA LIFE	$16,368,307	$2,946,483	18.18
Confederation Life	6,165,432	637,925	10.35
North American	2,327,062	32,857	1.41
Ontario Mutual	3,678,066	433,284	11.17
Sun Life	5,527,720	356,280	6.43

Never in the history of Life Insurance has the struggle for business been keener. Never has the conflict been hotter. Never have the Companies felt as they feel now, the necessity for throwing all the energy at their command into the field. The most intelligent and best men have to be employed. All kinds of plans of insurance are submitted. Each Company determined in securing the supremacy in the good will of the public, in establishing their name, the utterance of which, shall convey to the minds of the people the essential characteristics of

UNDOUBTED SECURITY,
RIGID ECONOMY,
GOOD INVESTMENTS,
LARGEST PROFITS

WHY?

Because millons of dollars are being paid annually for Life Insurance, and the Companies that can show these features have attained a position which will guarantee their future success, for money will flow freely into the best investments.

The Canada Life Policy Holders can look at the above statement with a smile of satisfaction, yet sympathise with their friends who are not so favourably situated.

They can throw their Life Policies down in the face of opponents and successfully challenge the production of more profitable policies, they can stand the onslaught of Agents who will almost cover them with literature and estimates of Tontine, Semi-Tontine, Return Premiums, Reserved Dividends, Annuity and Endownment plans of insurance, and with a quiet assurance feel that

As The Canada Life is Making the Most Profits, She Can Pay the Largest Profits.

READER. If you want Life Insurance choose the Canada Life and join the throng of contented policy holders who are insured with the Company carrying about 45 per cent. of the total insurance in force of the above named Companies

Booming Their New Store—387.

No. 387 George street is being boomed now, as it never was boomed before. It is now the new and commodious premises of Messrs. Grafton & Co., clothiers, and the manager, Mr. W. E. Conway, has started an "Eclipse sale," calculated to obscure all other sales of ready-to-wear clothing that Peterborough has ever witnessed. It is pointed out that it is an easy matter for Grafton & Co. to undersell, seeing that they manufacture all their clothing and supply their retail branches at first cost. This gives them the "inside track", and they appear to be making the very best use of their advantages. Nothing more need be said—the inference is plain, where the customers' interests are so well protected by such a strong firm of clothing manufacturers as GRAFTON & Co's. dw

The miscreants also broke several panes of glass in the new pump house.

—A convention of Sunday school workers and sympathizers of Peterborough and Ashburnham will be held in St. Paul's church, Tuesday evening, April 10th. An excellent programme has been prepared. The speakers will be Mrs. Kendry, Miss Code, Rev. G. Edwards, Rev. H. Symonds. Good music will be furnished.

—The Street and Bridge Committe started this morning in a cab at nine o'clock, out on their annual inspection of the streets and bridges in order to make an estimate of the work to be done, the material required and the probable cost, to report at the next meeting of the council. The inspection will occupy the whole day.

—The directors of the Y.M.C.A. organization have decided to extend an unanimous invitation to Mr. Chas. K. Calhoun, late general secretary of the Lindsay association, to succeed Mr. W. H. Chapman, the late secretary here. Mr. Calhoun is an estimable young man and a son of Mr. R. C. Calhoun, agent for the Rathbun Company, Belleville.

—Good progress is being made on Mr. Routh's new woollen mill, Campbellford. The posts have been set up and the beams and joists laid from bottom to top of the building, the rafters having been raised, and now the carpenters are laying the sheeting on the roof. The window frames are being set, and the glaziers will follow with the glass. Instead of the roof being flat as on the old building, it will be peaked, which will admit of an additional apartment.

—At the regular meeting of the Queen's Own Lodge No. 48, L.T.B., held on Monday night in their new hall on Simcoe street, four propositions were received. The Lodge have arranged with Commodore Calcutt for an excursion—the first of the season—to Jubilee Point on May 24th. The steamer will be the handsome, new barque, "The City of Peterborough." It is expected that Cobourg and Port Hope will also run an excursion to Jubilee Point on Queen's Birthday, and a great union picnic of True Blues and their friends is confidently looked forward to.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Alfred Terrill, of Belleville, is in town to day.

Mr. J. H. Carnegie, of Coboconk, was in town yesterday.

Mr. W. A. F. Campbell, barrister of Norwood, was in town to-day.

Mr. John Corkery, of the post office staff, is confined to his room with illness.

Mrs. Albert Brown, of Peterborough, is visiting Mrs. H. Brown, Ontario street.—Port Hope Times.

Mr. W. J. Rombough, of Toronto, who has been visiting friends in town for the past week, returned home this morning.

The funeral of Esther Hamilton, daughter of Mr. Alex. Hamilton, took place at Lakefield this afternoon. Messrs. A. Morrison and Thos. Barrie, town, attended the last sad rites.

Miss Ada Fraser, daughter of Mr. John Fraser, Aylmer street, who has been visiting relatives in Chicago and other western cities for several months past, has returned home after a very pleasant visit.

THE EXAMINER extends its cordial congratulations to Mr. N. B. Colcock, editor of the Brockville Times, on the occasion of the auspicious marriage of his eldest daughter, Florence May, to one of the most prominent citizens of Brockville.

Mr. L. Seward, organist of the George street Methodist church, is in the Nicholls Hospital for treatment of an affection which the medical staff do not consider serious, and which they hope will not justify his remaining in hospital more than a short time.

Rev. J. L. Gilmour, formerly of Peterborough, has recently accepted the pastorate of the Brockville Baptist church. The annual congregational social on Tuesday night took the form of a welcome to the new pastor, who has already gained the affection and confidence of his flock.

Prof. C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, has written to the president of the Cheesemakers' Association, Mr. W. W. Grant, stating that he will be present at the annual meeting of the Association, to be held in the council chamber, Peterborough, on Tuesday, April 10th, at 1 o'clock.

Miss Ella Owens, of Peterborough, is in town, visiting Mrs. T. Armstrong, 19 St. Lawrence street....Mr. E. Round, of the Peterborough Light and Power Co. and Mrs. Round, were in town on Saturday and Sunday, attending the obsequies of the late Mr. A. Deleury, who was a relative of Mrs. Round.—Lindsay Watchman.

Mr. M. A. Morrison, of the firm of Rose & Morrison, surgeon dentists, attended the annual convocation of Trinity University at Toronto yesterday and had the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery conferred upon him on the examinations for which degree Dr. Morrison recently wrote and was successful. He also received a certificate of first-class honours.

Mr. Wm. Hayden, late of Woodstock, the newly appointed station agent of the Grand Trunk Railway here, has assumed the duties of his position. Mr. Hayden was for fifteen years the popular and efficient station agent at Woodstock. He will remove Mrs. Hayden and family to Peterborough in a few days. Mr. Hayden expresses himself as well pleased with the town.

Mr. W. A. Whitney, travelling representative of the North Dakota Milling Association, is in town for a fortnight's holidays. Mr. Whitney is relieving the tedium of the dolce far niente period by pursuing his literary labours, he being a valued contributor to the pages of "Outing," under the pseudonym of "Larry Yatt." Mr. Whitney was successful last fall in capturing the cash prize of the Detroit Free Press for the best sketch. The article was widely copied, having been secured by the American Press Association.

SEPARATE SCHOOL BOARD.

The Business Transacted at Last Night's Regular Meeting.

A regular meeting of the Separate School Board was held last evening and considerable business was transacted. The following gentlemen were present: Dr. Brennan, chairman; and Messrs. Lynch, Quinlan, Hickey, LeHane, Kelly, Goselin ann Sheehy.

On account of the absence of the secretary, Mr. John Corkery, owing to illness, Mr. LeHane acted as secretary pro tem. After routene several communications were read and disposed of, the most important being the official report of Mr. J. White, provincial inspector of Separate School, on his recent visit to the Peterborough schools. Mr. White spoke in the highest terms of the efficiency, management and progress of the schools, and his report was indeed a very flattering one.

The Property Committee was instructed to make arrangements and obtain price lists, etc., of seats, with a view of placing new desks in the fourth form of the convent, and report at the next meeting as to cost, etc.

Accounts were received from the Rathbury Co. for coal supply, T. Blodgett for scavenging work, and J. C. Sullivan for supplies. These were referred to the Finance Committee. The committee recommended that the account of Mr. Blodgett be paid.

The property Committee was instructed to make the necessary repairs to the outhouses of the schools and also to purchase new ropes for the flag poles at the Murray street school, the ropes having been stolen recently.

A committee consisting of the chairman and Messrs. Sheehy and Goselin was appointed to draw up a draft or schedule of the duties required of the janitors for the different schools and report at the next meeting.

Mr. L. M. Hayes, who represents the Board on the Collegiate Institute Board, addressed the members in reference to Collegiate Institute matters.

The Board then adjourned.

PATRIARCHS MILITANT.

Canton Peterborough Elects Officers Last Night—Church Parade—Anniversary Concert.

The regular monthly meeting of Peterborough Canton, No. 10, I. O. O. F., was held last evening in the rooms of Peterborough Lodge. There was a large attendance of chevaliers. Two candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the Patriachs Militant, after which the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:—

Chev Jos Mills	Past Commandant
" Jos Kidd	Commandant
" John Mein	Lieutenant
" Chris Moffatt	Ensign

Dyspepsia

Perfectly Cured by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

The best stomach tonics known to medical science are so happily combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla that it cures Indigestion, and Dyspepsia in its severest forms, when other medicines fail. In many cases Hood's Sarsaparilla seems to possess a magical touch, so quick and so gratifying the relief. Read the following from an aged and respected citizen of St. Mary's, Ont.:

"I am very glad to give this testimonial as to what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I suffered very much with dyspepsia. I have been taking medicine and I never had anything do me as much good as Hood's Sarsaparilla. Every symptom of the dyspepsia has entirely disappeared and I feel that I cannot praise the medicine too highly. I and feel stronger than I have for many years. I have taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla bought of Mr. Sanderson, the druggist." JOHN AIKENS.

For 25 Years

Eat Better, Sleep Better

CORDIAL ENDORSEMENT.

From Mr. Sanderson, the Druggist.

"I know Mr. Aikens to be a strictly honest, straightforward man, and take much pleasure in testifying to the truth of the testimonial he gives above." F. G. SANDERSON, Druggist, Queen Street, St. Mary's, Ontario.

MILLS BROS.

THE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society is entering upon its duties for the coming year with an energy that portends a successful season and a successful exhibition next autumn. The prize list of the annual exhibition is already printed and ready for circulation. This list has been thoroughly revised and changed in the direction of facilitating the objects of the exhibition. It is issued thus early to permit members and those wishing to become members, to procure seeds and prepare for the growth of plants, flowers, etc., in ample time for the exhibition whose date has been fixed earlier in order to secure a better exhibit, especially of certain varieties of flower, which have heretofore passed out of bloom before the holding of the annual exhibition. It is also decided to complete the membership list as early as possible. This will tend to increase the interest and give members more time to prepare exhibits. The society is doing a very creditable and excellent work in developing a taste for flowers and flower culture into a love of the work. This taste has greatly increased and in a practical direction. Under the fostering influence of the society, the culture of fruits, flowers, trees, shrubs, etc., has become more general, and, as a consequence, the town has become greatly beautified, made more attractive and generally a more desirable place of residence, thus influencing outsiders to cast in their lot with us, resulting in an increase of population and importance of the town. The public is under a large debt of gratitude to the society for the practical interest it has taken in the maintenance of Court House Park. Very largely due to this interest this beautiful spot has become the favourite resort of our citizens, especially of those who do not enjoy the possession of grounds of their own. Its beauty makes it an irresistible attraction and a source of pride and pleasure to all our citizens. It is no small credit to Peterborough to have its pet park quoted as one of the most beautiful and well-kept places of the kind in Canada. The Horticultural society, therefore, is deserving of the most cordial encouragement of the public. This encouragement can be supplied in one way by additions to the membership of the society. Every citizen who is in a position to do so, should become a member—those who can afford it—for the sake of the encouragement their names will afford, and those in any degree qualified to become exhibitors, for that purpose. An amateur florist or gardener, though he might not be a prize winner, will get more than value—putting the matter on a practical basis—for his membership fee from the knowledge he will gain by association and contact with practical men and an observation of their successful methods. It is to be hoped that the society will receive liberal and practical encouragement from the public and that the next exhibition, on August 30th, will show that the public benefactions of the society, in the direction indicated, have met with general recognition.

MESSRS. MOORE AND WHITE.

Another Immense Gathering—Continued Interest—Many Testify.

It was with difficulty the large audience were seated last night in the Baptist church. Even before the time of song service the building was well filled. The desire to hear these earnest evangelists seems to have taken possession of the people of Peterborough and from all parts they were gathered last night.

Rev. J. B. Moore gave a short address from Rev. 22, 17, "And the spirit and the bride say come, and let him that heareth say come, and let him that is athirst come, and whosoever will let him take of the water of life freely." He spoke in his usual plain and forcible manner, showing how universal the invitation to come to the Saviour is. It is for whosoever will. By apt illustrations he explained the broad meaning of this word, whosoever, embracing even those who considered themselves the chief of sinners. He urgently pressed home the importance of the invitation and pleaded with all who felt their need of a Saviour to come and accept the invitation.

Mr. Whyte also spoke briefly and earnestly calling upon anxious ones to manifest it.

The after meeting was, as usual, very impressive and many responded to the invitation to bear testimony. When those who had recently decided to live a new life were called upon, a large number rose to their feet and many spoke.

The singing, both solo and chorus, was good. Among the pieces sung by Mr. Whyte was "Can a Boy Forget His Mother's Prayers?" which he rendered in excellent voice, accompanying himself on the guitar. Every word was given clearly, and in a sincere manner.

To-night at the usual hour, 7.45, the meetings will be continued, and all are invited to come.

AN ASHBURNHAM BRIDAL.

The Marriage of Mr. Geo. Carpenter and Miss Alice Courtney Last Night.

A pleasing matrimonial event took place last evening at the residence of Mr. Edward Courtney, Concession street, Ashburnham, when his eldest daughter, Miss Alice Courtney, was united in wedlock's holy bonds to Mr. Geo. Carpenter, a prominent member of the Canadian Order of Foresters. The pleasing ceremony was performed in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives at seven o'clock by Rev. H. Symonds, rector of St. Luke's church. The bride, who was handsomely attired, was assisted by her sister, Miss Grace Courtney. The bridegroom was ably supported by Mr. T. J. Ritchie. After the ordinance the bridal party partook of an elaborate wedding dinner. The array of valuable presents bore tangible proof of the esteem and respect in which the amiable bride is held by her numerous friends. Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter will take up residence in Ashburnham, where their numerous friends will wish them every success and prosperity as they journey together upon life's highway.

CRICKETERS ORGANIZE.

An Enthusiastic Meeting Held Last Night—Officers Elected—Encouraging Prospects.

A largely attended and enthusiastic meeting of all lovers and supporters of the good old English game, cricket, and there are many in Peterborough, met in the office of Mr. R. B. Rogers, engineer of the Trent Valley Canal Navigation Works, last night. Dr. Geo. Burnham presided, and much interest was taken in the discussion and in the election of officers. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—

Hon. Pres.—C. McGill.
Pres.—Dr. Burnham.
1st Vice-Pres.—C. Fessenden.
2nd Vice-Pres.—W. D. Parker.
Sec.-Treas.—R. B. Rogers.
Asst. Sec.-Treas.—Chas. Halliday.

Committee of Management.—W. A. Stratton, Sam Ray, Geo. J. Herkins, W. J. Montgomery, and W. Stocker. Dr. Burnham and R. B. Rogers were elected directors to the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association. The secretary was instructed to write Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa and other clubs with a view of securing matches for the coming season. A committee was also appointed to consider the advisability of arranging and hold a concert here in the near future in the financial interest of the club, which is worthy of every support. Regarding the engagement of a "pro" for the coming season, the question was discussed and the secretary instructed to write to several well known coaches to ascertain their terms, etc. The prospects for the willow and wicket season were never better or more hopeful in Peterborough and if present indications point to anything they at least point to a vigorous and successful season for the wielders of the willow.

The meeting was adjourned till Tuesday evening next at the same place—Mr. R. B. Rogers' office over the post office, entrance on Water street. On the same evening the annual meeting of the P.A.A.A. will be held for re-organization. The members of all clubs hitherto in affiliation with the P.A.A.A. are cordially invited to this meeting, and asked, meanwhile, select their directors so that their names may be ratified at the meeting on Tuesday night. Peterborough has the physical material for a strong athletic association, combining the various summer sporting elements, and it is to be hoped that the meeting mentioned above will be largely attended. Co-operation is the law of success in all spheres of life, and co-operation of all branches of sport will be a general as well as special advantage, and that too, with out prejudically affecting the individuality of any particular department of sport or pastime.

A YOUNG LADY PUPIL REMEMBERED.

By Her Girl Companions of III and IV Forms of the Convent Congregation de Notre Dame.

A happy time was spent at the residence of Mrs. R. H. Brick, King street, last evening by several of the girl pupils of the third and fourth forms of the Convent, Congregation de Notre Dame, when Miss Mary Brick, a pupil of the latter form, was made the recipient of a very handsome and valuable ladies' companion and a beautiful bouquet of flowers by her associates and friends. The gifts were accompanied by an appreciatively worded address. Miss Brick leaves with her mother for Kingston on a week from Friday, where they will join Mr. Brick, of the Kingston Hosiery Company, and take up their permanent residence in the Limestone City. Their numerous friends will wish them success and prosperity in their new home. Miss Katie McGrath read the following address and Misses Jennie Riley and Sadie Dolan made the presentation:—

To Mary:—

We, your companions of Peterborough learn with deep regret that you are about to sever your connection with us. It is not because you were one of our schoolmates that we deem you worthy of the higher commendation—it is your kindness and amiability to each of us during your short period among us, which call forth from our hearts a deep sympathetic feeling of sorrow when we hear that your pleasing face will be soon removed from us. We trust that when you go away you may be happy and that the missing link which will be severed from our chain may be restored once more in that heavenly sphere where we all hope to meet again.

Please accept this little present, not on account of its more value, but as a slight souvenir of our affection, as an expression of the high esteem in which you are held by us.

We all trust that your short experience with us will live in your recollection. Memory must have perished before any one of us can forget the friendly ties which bound your friends of Peterborough to their dear companion, Miss Mary Brick.

Why

A Spring Overcoat is a good investment.

BECAUSE—

It's a stylish comfort, not only for the Spring season but also a most stylish and comfortable garment for cool days and nights through the summer, and for summer touring and outing wear generally.

Why

Some Suits are made merely to sell.

BECAUSE—

They don't fit and you know it. They look ungainly, but you're persuaded that they're "the height of fashion." Smart salesman did all the talking, and you—well, you did'nt like to go out without buying something after putting him to all that trouble. A week and the trousers were "riding up" the vest in ridges and the coat declining to get within two inches of your collar, and you wonder how you came to buy the plaguey thing. You won't do it again.

are lightened when she turns to the right medicine. If her existence is made gloomy by the chronic weaknesses, delicate derangements, and painful disorders that afflict her sex, she will find relief and emancipation from her troubles in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If she's overworked, nervous, or "run-down," she has new life and strength after using this remarkable remedy. It's a powerful, invigorating tonic and nervine which was discovered and used by an eminent physician for many years, in all cases of "female complaints" and weaknesses. For young girls just entering womanhood; for women at the critical "change of life"; in bearing-down sensations, periodical pains, ulceration, inflammation, and every kindred ailment, if it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

The key to the situation —if you suffer from Catarrh, you'll find in Dr. Sage's Remedy. No matter how bad your case may be, the proprietors of the medicine promise to pay $500 if they can't cure you. For sale by all druggists.

HUNGARY'S PATRIOT.

THE CELEBRATED LOUIS KOSSUTH FINDS A HOME.

Sketch of a Varied Career—For Sixty Year He Has Been a Prominent Figure in Continental Politics—He Died in Exile From the Land He Loved.

Type of two mighty continents! combining
The strength of Europe with the warmth and glow
Of Asian song and prophecy—the shining
Of Orient splendors on Northern snow!
Who shall receive him? Who, unblushing, speak
Welcome to him, who, while he strove to break
The Austrian yoke from Magyar necks, smote off
At the same blow the fetters of the serf—
Rearing the altar of the Fatherland
On the firm base of freedom and therefore by Lifting to Heaven a patriot's stainless hand,
Mocked not the God of Justice with a lie!
Who shall be Freedom's mouthpiece? Who shall give
Her welcoming cheer to the great fugitive?
Not he who, all her sacred trusts betraying,
Is scourging back to slavery's hell of pain
The swarthy Kossuths of our land again!
Not he whose utterance now from lips designed
The bugle march of liberty to wind,
And call her hosts beneath the breaking light,
The keen revolle of her morning fight
Is but the hoarse note of the bloodhound's baying,
The wolf's long howl behind the bondman's flight!
Oh! for the tongue of him who lies at rest
In Quincy's shade of patrimonial trees—
Last of the Puritan tribunes and the best—
To lend a voice to Freedom's sympathies.
And hail the coming of the noblest guest
The Old World's wrong has given the New World of the West.

So sang Whittier, one of America's greatest bards, on the occasion of the visit of the Hungarian patriot to this country as the guest of the United States in 1851, and the lines have a peculiar interest now that their great subject sleeps with the world's great dead in his long last home.

For fully sixty years Louis Kossuth has been a prominent figure in the politics of Continental Europe. While it is over forty years ago since he was the chosen leader and governor of his own Hungarian people, he has been a consistent advocate of the independence of that Magyar state. Through the many years of his self-enforced retirement, in his modest quarters in Turin, his career shows strange counterparts, contrasts and anti-climaxes. In his youth and manhood a fervid, eloquent and impassioned orator and patriot, defying the power of the Austrian monarchy, braving the deprivation of political rights, he suffered for years incarceration in a foul and noisome dungeon. Leading his people to revolution and victory in 1848, we find him later, when his powers were most vigorous, his knowledge more expanded, his hot ardor transformed into cold philosophy, living a hermit's life in Turin, spurning the olive branch held out to him by the Hapsburgs, scoffing at high office in the Austrian Empire, and rejecting with ostentatious loathing the portfolio of the Chancellorship itself. For thirty years he was the picturesque cynic of Northern Italy, cursing his good health, delivering philippics against longevity and aspirations for personal or dynastic glory, at times launching pessimistic pamphlets on questions of the day, and again sending forth a scoff and a jeer at liberal movements in government which he assumed to be simply the shams of kings and the shoddies of statesmanship.

Louis Kossuth was born in Hungary in 1802. His parents were poor, but of noble rank. Choosing the legal profession, Kossuth studied law at the Protestant college of Sarorpatak. In 1833 he began his political career at the Diet of Pressburg, as editor of a Liberal paper, which, owing to the oppressive character of the press laws, was not printed, but transcribed and circulated. The French revolution of 1848 was a stimulus to Kossuth; it led him to demand an independent government for Hungary, and constitutional government in the Austrian hereditary territories. The Hungarian revolution and the insurrection in Vienna in 1848 are ascribed to the effect of his speeches. When the ministry was dissolved Kossuth was placed at the head of the Committee of National Defense; as such he prosecuted with energy the measures necessary for carrying on the war against Austria.

In 1853 the National Assembly declared the independence of Hungary, and that the Hapsburg dynasty had forfeited the throne. Kossuth was then appointed Provisional Governor of Hungary. He was beset with difficulties, as a Russian army came to assist the Austrian cause. He resigned his dictatorship, and when the Hungarian patriots were defeated at Temesvar in August, 1849, Kossuth fled into Turkey, where he was held a prisoner until 1851, when he was liberated and sailed for England.

Kossuth has always refused to be reconciled to the dual arrangement of the Austro-Hungarian empire. He wanted Hungary to be what he fought for in 1848-9, perfectly independent.

Kossuth's Visit to America.

When Austria, with the assistance of Russia, defeated the Hungarian army Kossuth retired to Turkey. Here he was arrested and imprisoned on the demand of Austria, but when his extradition was asked for the other governments interfered and Turkey refused to consent to surrender him to his enemies. The United States government took an active interest in securing his release, and finally he was set at liberty on the condition that he would leave Turkey. At the same time the United States government invited him to visit this country as the guest of the nation. He embarked in September, 1851, on the war steamer Mississippi, which had been specially despatched for him. The steamer called at Gibralter, Lisbon and finally at Southampton. At all these places Kossuth was received with great warmth. He made a tour of the most popular places of the British Kingdom and was received everywhere with great enthusiasm.

Kossuth sailed from England on the 20th of November on the American steamship Humboldt, of the New York and Havre line. Among his shipmates was the famous Lola Montez, who was leaving Europe for the good of susceptible monarchs. The Humboldt reached Quarantine December 14.

At New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington he was enthusiastically greeted. At a banquet given to him at the capital W. King, President of the Senate, took the chair, with Kossuth and the Speaker of the House on his right and Daniel Webster on his left.

How He Learned English.

Everybody was charmed by his eloquence and his mastery of the English language excited astonishment. And, by the way, the manner in which he learned our tongue was remarkable. During a portion of his time in prison (in 1840) Kossuth was cut off from all communication with his friends and was denied the use of pen and ink, and even of books. In the second year he was allowed to read, but, as all political books were interdicted, he selected an English grammar, an English dictionary and Shakespeare. Without knowing a single word he began to read "The Tempest," and spent a fortnight in getting through the first page. "Look," he said afterward, "what an instrument in the hands of Providence became my little knowledge of the English language, which I was obliged to learn because forbidden to meddle with politics."

Kossuth when he left America entertained the hope that he would be able to return, but he never did. It was his first and last visit. We have referred above to the manner in which he learned and spoke English. We give a fac-simile of his hand writing in English.

and I know of numbers of people who keep it in the house all the time, not considering it safe to be without it."

"I have been using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for 30 years, with the most satisfactory results, and can cheerfully recommend it as being especially adapted to all pulmonary complaints. I have, for many years, made pulmonary and other medicines a special study, and I have come to the conclusion that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral occupies a position pre-eminent over other medicines of the class."—Chas. ELOQUENT AND WITTY.

HENRY LABOUCHERE, THE BRITISH RADICAL NEWSPAPER MAN.

Sketch of a Unique and Fearless Member of the House of Commons—His Antipathy to Royalty and Toryism of Long Standing—Good-Natured Cynic.

Henry Labouchere, the leader of the British radicals, is one of the most talked of public men on two continents at present. His recent resolution, which carried by a narrow margin in the House of Commons, to the effect that the House of Lords should be deprived of the veto power in legislation is the immediate cause of this notoriety. Of course none of the hereditary chamber's privileges can be abolished or curtailed by a mere vote of the House of Commons, but it was significant as showing the trend of popular opinion, something to which even a British lord is not entirely oblivious.

Mr. Labouchere has an interesting, not to say attractive, individuality. He is a brilliant conversationalist and his presence is, therefore, always welcome at social gatherings. Although a keen politician and an unsparing debater when in the House of Commons, he carriers no political rancour into his daily life, and, indeed, he numbers among his friends as many Conservatives as Liberals. Members of the Primrose League are no less eager than supporters of the advanced party to obtain invitations to his picturesque villa at Twickenham and to take part in the garden parties, pastoral plays and other functions that, under the auspices of Mr. and Mrs. Labouchere, are among the favorite features of the London season.

Mr. Labouchere is a good-humored cynic, and he tells you that being past 50, he can never hope to be happy any more. The best he can strive for is to obtain a mean between happiness and misery, and so long as he is not subjected to discomfort or misery he is satisfied.

With all his cynicism, however, there is undoubtedly a fascination about him as he sits, attired in a comfortable lounge jacket, in his armchair, puffing away at his cigarettes, while sometimes a twinkle lights up his eye, and occasionally he bursts into a loud laugh, for he is neither too proud nor too cynical to laugh at his own jokes, nor at those of other people if they are capable of concocting witticisms sufficiently amusing.

"What I should like," said Mr. Labouchere, "would be to have a hundred a year, and to live in one room in the middle of Clapham common. The minor affairs of life would be sufficient to interest me. There is no reason why small things should not interest me as well as great ones. I should find infinite amusement in cooking my own meals, and, after I had eaten them, in going for a walk and meditating on the important question whether I should have sausages or bacon for breakfast next morning."

"As to royalty being in danger," he says, on the subject being motoed, "it is only a question of pounds, shillings and pence. I am one of the most loyal subjects in England, and I say this, that if the royal family were to put by a million or so pounds and live on the interest, without drawing anything from the public, the English crown would be secure forever. It is only the economic question that the people concern themselves about. The House of Lords will certainly have to go sooner or later. The Conservatives say that local government in Ireland and land purchase are inseparable; but we intend to separate them. If the House of Lords continues to prevent us, they will do so at their peril. The cry of separation is nonsense. The Irish people don't want it. They know very well that they are better off under the protection of England than they would be without it; and all they require is to be allowed to manage their own affairs. It would be as fair to judge the whole of the Irish people by a few fanatics who cry out for separation as it would be to say that the whole of the English people are thieves because one man occasionally commits theft.

Mr. Labouchere has always been a radical, even, as he says, from his earliest infancy. He was born 1831 and was educated at Eton. On leaving college he spent two years in traveling about Mexico and Central America. He rode from place to place on horseback, and had many interesting experiences during the time. His impression of the Mexicans, however, was not very favorable, if one is to judge from a remark that he once made to the effect that, "When a Mexican is not playing at monte he is asleep." His uncle, Lord Taunton, who was colonial secretary at the time, obtained for Mr. Labouchere an appointment in the diplomatic service as unpaid attache at Washington. From there he went to several European capitals, still in the diplomatic service, the cities that he visited including Frankfort, Munich, Dresden, Stockholm, St. Petersburg and Constantinople, where he became secretary to the embassy.

One of his first great parliamentary successes was the speech he delivered in 1883 against Mr. Forster's coercion bill. He demolished the statistics on which Mr. Forster based his plea for coercion and proved the blue book returns to be inaccurate. The speech was much discussed throughout the country and had the effect of bringing Mr. Labouchere's name into very prominent notice. Since then he has gradually come to the front and is now regarded as one of the leaders of advanced radicalism. He was a home ruler long before Mr. Gladstone proposed his scheme. Indeed ever since he entered parliament he has systematically voted in favor of home rule and against coercion.

TROUBLES OF THE GREAT.

Cervantes was always poor and constantly annoyed by his creditors.

Gibbon had the gout. He became so stout that he could not dress himself.

Mohammed was an epileptic and his visions were those of a diseased mind.

Mme. Sevigne wanted to be very beautiful, and often lamented her lack of personal charms.

Voltaire was rendered miserable by his envy of those more fortunately situated than himself.

Haydn had a scolding wife. He finally was compelled to leave her in order to secure a little peace.

Leonardo da Vinci was made miserable by his amours, and was finally poisoned by one of his mistresses.

Bach's eyes failed completely in his latter years, and his last work, the Art of Fugue, remains unfinished on that account.

Corneille would have died of want had not Louis XIV. accidentally heard of his condition and sent him a sum of money.

Roger Bacon's love of philosophy proved his bane, for all his life he was suspected of familiar intercourse with the devil.

SHORT FURROWS.

The man who thinks that any fool may farm is behind the age.

Good resolutions are all forgotten when a neighbor's pigs get in and root up a piece of newly planted corn for you.

Expecting a cow that stands unprotected in the cold winter blasts to give a large quantity of good and rich milk is about as reasonable as to look for cream from an iceberg.

Have a small reserve garden where plants can be grown for a succession, to be transplanted when required to replace such as are ont of bloom, or have been lost by accident.

In making butter there is no necessity for manipulating it with your hands, as some ignorantly do. A wooden ladle is the proper utensil to use for working and handling this product.

Memory holds the melodies of the cornstalk fiddle of childhood more sacred than the most exqnisite strains of the master musician that may have for a little while charmed the matured ear.

IN MANY LANDS.

Some of the large crabs found in India measure two feet each in length.

The Siamese instruments of torture are made in England and bear the trademark of a prominent Birmingham firm.

In some places in Berlin an insurance coupon for five hundred dollars, good for seven days from date of sale, goes with every six-cent drink of liquor.

Among the Kondeh people who live on Lake Nyassa, in Africa, the favorite form of suicide is to enter the water and allow one's self to be devoured by a crocodile.

A Source of Revenue.

To such an extent does religion prevail at Genoatoa, in the South Seas, that every man, woman or child on that island who does not go to church at least three times a week is liable to be arrested and fined—the fine going to the King.

Electricity in Sweden.

At Gringesburg, Sweden, power from a waterfall is transmitted by electricity along a copper wire to mines eight miles away, where it runs motors and supplies arc and incandescent lamps.

HIS MAIL IS HEAVY.

Fisheries Inspector Brickwood Gets Letters From all Over the Dominion Asking for Particulars About Dodd's Kidney Pills Curing Him of Chronic Rheumatism.

KINGSTON, April 2.—Enquiry develops the fact that the story of J. H. Brickwood's wonderful cure of his rheumatism by Dodd's Kidney Pills has brought him notoriety. Mr. Brickwood daily receives letters from all quarters of Canada asking further particulars of his cure. He invariably answers that after all other remedies failed, Dodd's Kidney Pills restored him to health. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy in pill form ever offered the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations. Purchasers for their own safety should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes; price, fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50. To be had of all dealers.

A FOLDING BICYCLE.

Recent Invention of a French Cycling Mechanic.

The field of invention in bicycle construction has produced many novelties, some of which are not likely to appear in any other than the original models. A French mechanic has turned out a bicycle which may have a future. It is built with a view to use by military cyclers, being so constructed that it can be readily folded up and packed away when not in use, and easily transported in quantities. The intention of the inventor is to have the wheels of a detail of militia or soldiers transported in wagons, and on arrival at the destination to be unpacked and used for reconnoitering, scouting, etc. When any fighting is to be done the wheels are packed away out of the road, leaving the soldiers free to perform any duty assigned to them.

This form of bicycle may prove of service to tourists, where it is necessary to travel part of the distance by wagon, train or boat, being light and easy of manipulation. A good idea of the form of the new wheel, both folded or packed and ready for riding, can be gained from the accompanying illustrations.

Women on the Prairie.

The winter season is a particularly hard one for women on the prairie, especially in the cabin homes of the settlers. The walls are so thin and the blizzards so sharp that there is required all the patience of a saint to endure the discomforts and sufferings without complaining. The men can get out of the house—indeed, they must to care for the stock and bring the necessary supplies from the far away settlement. But the wife and mother must remain inside the pent-up walls, and long for a chat with the neighbor three miles away.

The desolation of the prairie for those thus situated is something like that of the ocean for a lighthouse keeper. Shut up in a tiny space, with miles of untraversable acres around, one seems but a prisoner. Yet women endure it, and smile and wait. Some day the claim, they hope, will become an addition to the town, or the smoke of locomotives will blow over the low roof. Then there will be ease and comfort and happiness. That is a long time coming for most of the watchers, and the eyes grow dim with looking forward. In the meantime they are exhibiting the stuff of which heroes are made, for the women of the plains have an abiding covenant with faith in the future and expect to realize their fullest anticipations.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Man-of-War.

The modern man of-war is a little world in itself, or perhaps more properly, a floating city, with its inhabitants of many trades and professions. Not only is there a doctor to dose you and chaplain to care for your spiritual welfare, but many cooks, several carpenters, skilled machinists, electricians, tailors, musicians and barbers. There is at least one clever sailorman told off as ship's writer, which officer corresponds closely to the old-fashioned scrivener. It thus happens that one can have almost anything made aboard ship, from an engrossed copy of a complimentary resolution to a complicated piece of machinery or cabinet work.

Record of Charities.

The nineteenth annual edition of the Directory to Charities in London contains the following matter of interest and information concerning the income of charitable institutions: The receipts were: For three Bible societies, $1,206,199; twelve book and tract societies, $471,700; fifty seven home missions, $3,911,400; thirteen home and foreign missions, $1,047,275; twenty-six foreign missions, $5,269,080; four church and chapel building funds, $64,530. The grand total is $27,747,470 for 756 institutions

The Marked Success

Which attended the formal opening of our New Millinery and Mantle Department has been a matter of sincere congratulation and encouragement—far in excess of our highest expectations.

The special efforts we put forth to excel has amply repaid us and we are pleased to know that our beautiful display has evoked so much favourable comment from the Ladies.

We take this opportunity of thanking the large number of ladies who daily patronized our Show Rooms, not only for the many liberal orders they favoured us with, but for their kind words and flattering preferences for our exhibition over all others.

The Good Start

which we have made in our Millinery and Mantle Department will be an incentive to continued efforts to excel. The array of Rich and Beautiful Millinery will be fully maintained throughout the season, and as fast as new novelties appear or favourite lines become exhausted, we will be prompt in ordering.

Stared at by a Corpse.

NEW YORK, April 5.—For half an hour in the grey dawn yesterday morning a dead man sat on a fruit stand in front of a saloon staring at the throng of workingmen passing by. Then a man, attracted by his motionless attitude, shook the body and it fell to the sidewalk. The man was seen staggering up the avenue at 6 o'clock accompanied by another. In front of a news stand one of the pair collapsed and fell to the sidewalk. His companion picked him up, shook him a bit, but was unable to arouse him from his semi-stupor, so raising him bodily he sat him on the low fruit stand, braced him against the window of the saloon and left him to his fate. The body was identified as that of James Gray, a laborer. The police have a theory that Gray was assaulted by one of the gang that infest the neighborhood.

Why Servia's Premier Resigned.

BELGRADE, April 5.—It is said that Premier Simitch tendered his resignation to the King because attitude of ex-King Milan, who M. Simitch declared, was endeavoring to make a tool of the Government with which to destroy the Radical party, which the ex-King claimed was conspiring to overthrow the Obrenovitch dynasty. On the other hand, it is alleged that his resignation was due to the publication of a private letter written by M. Simitch, in which he referred to the Czar's implacable enmity to ex-King Milan, but this the friends of M. Simitch stoutly deny.

To Take Da Gama Out of Danger.

LISBON, April 5.—The steamer Angola, commanded by Captain Andrade, of the Portuguese navy, sailed from this port for Buenos Ayres yesterday with a force of marines and infantry. She is under orders to proceed to the Argentine capital and take on board the insurgent Admiral da Gama and his officers, who are now on the Portuguese warships, and return immediately with the refugees to Portugal without entering Brazilian waters.

Smothered in a Lime Kiln.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Two men whom the treacherous warmth and shelter of the lime kiln on West 55th street had tempted within the reach of its deadly gases were smothered during the past night. One of them when found was fairly roasted and wholly unrecognizable. Who he was will never be known with certainty.

Village Wiped Out by Fire.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 5.—The entire business district of Lancaster, a nearby village, was wiped out by fire last night. The blaze caught in a barn about 5.30 and spread rapidly. The local fire department was unable to cope with it and assistance was sent from this city. The total loss will exceed $100,000.

English Liberal Elected.

LONDON, April 5.—The election in the Wesbech division of Cambridgeshire resulted in the return of Arthur Brand, Liberal, who received 4,363 votes to 4,237 cast for Stopford Sackville, Conservative. Mr. Brand was seeking re-election on his appointment as treasurer of the household.

Five Killed in an Explosion.

PITTSBURG, April 5.—An Oil City, Pa., special says five persons were killed there last last evening by a nitro glycerine explosion.

The Superiority

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla is due to the tremendous amount of brain work and constant care used in its preparation. Try one bottle and you will be convinced of its superiority. It purifies the blood which is the source of health, cures dyspepsia, overcomes sick headaches and biliousness. It is just the medicine for you.

HOOD'S PILLS are purely vegetable, carefully prepared from the best ingredients

I had a severe cold, for which I took Norway Pine Syrup. I find it an excellent remedy, giving prompt relief and pleasant to take.
J. PAYNTER, Huntsville, Ont.

Rev. J. W. Millard, Claremont, says he was cured of the most distressing neuralgia pain in 15 minutes by Scott's Compress Cure and has been free from pain ever since.

Every dose of Templeton's "Pink Powders" is effective. Ask your druggist for them.

Another Protest Against the Tariff.

HALIFAX, April 5.—A largely attended meeting of the Board of Trade was held yesterday and resolutions adopted protesting against imposition of any duty on tea purchased in Great Britain and imported therefrom, asking that green coffee be admitted as heretofore, protesting against the excessive duty on kerosene, and urging admission of oil in tank vessels, as well as in cars; against the increased duty of rope; asking that duty on salt beef in barrels be the same as on salt pork. Following resolution on fast Atlantic service was passed: "The Halifax Atlantic Board of Trade views with satisfaction the initiation of the contract for the fast Atlantic service and the prospects of an early start in this great work."

Heir to $200,000.

CORNER, Ont., April 5.—Richard Talb, a well-known resident, has been left a fortune of $200,000 by a deceased bachelor uncle in Cornwall. He will soon start for England to claim his wealth. Dick's experience in Canada has been very varied. Six years ago he was lost in the woods near Opeongo Lake and was found in an exhausted condition, having been without food or fire for 25 days. During his long fast, which he thinks Dr. Tanner could not have stood under similar circumstances, he says he never for a moment lost courage. He seems a general favorite and all are pleased to hear of his good luck. Dick has been a cook in the "shanties" for the last 32 years, is 55 years of age and a bachelor.

Cardinal Taschereau's Anniversary.

QUEBEC, April 5.—Cardinal Taschereau celebrated yesterday the twenty third anniversary of his consecration to the episcopacy. His eminence received the homages of hundreds of bishops and priests. A solemn Te Deum was sung in the Basilica at noon, after which a dinner was given at which fifty guests were present. Notwithstanding his advanced age the venerable churchman looks remarkably well.

Counterfeiter Captured in Toronto.

TORONTO, April 5.—A man named John Kerr, laborer, was arrested here for stealing a bicycle. On searching his pockets the police found a sum of money in counterfeit coins. A search of his house revealed a number of moulds, a quantity of metal and other apparatus for manufacturing spurious coin. The coins were an exact imitation. He will be tried on Monday.

Yellow Fever at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, April 5.—Four deaths from yellow fever on board vessels at this port were reported yesterday.

BOB BURDETTE ON WHIPPING.

The Genial Humorist Does Not Admit It Does Any Good.

"The question of punishment—how best effected?" Well—if the patient reader will pardon the unseemly intrusion of the capital "I" right here—I should say, looking at the question from my own point of view, that very often it is best effected by omitting it. Bear in mind, this is the view of a man who has known in his life very intimately in close, complete confidence, but two boys, himself, and his own boy. And he doesn't believe in the rod at all. Beating isn't very good for horses; the best and most successful trainers use the whip very little or not at all, and it isn't a bit good for children. Boys must be punished sometimes, say many times, just as men and women have to be punished many times. But God doesn't beat us. Every time we lie He doesn't strike us with lightning; every time we break a commandment the earth does not yawn and swallow us up. His gentlest punishments are the heaviest. It wasn't a hot word of scathing and contemptuous rebuke that broke bad Peter's heart, that melted it into a fountain of burning tears; it was a loving, compassionate, pitying look. Fire and brimstone can't make a hell so hot and terrible as self-reproach, remorse, heart-deep penitence, sorrow for sin. We beat the boy, not often for his good, but because we are angry and want to beat somebody until the burst of anger is over. Then we are a busy people and whipping takes up less of our valuable time than any other mode of punishment. To reason with the boy, to talk it over with him calmly and lovingly would take an hour, maybe two hours. But you can whip him in three minutes. A man fighting, say at one hundred and fifty-two pounds, ought to be able to knock a nine-year old boy out in the first round. You go on to your work nervous, half ashamed, irritable, your conscience, if it be not seared to callousness, lashing you with a whip of scorpions. And the boy goes his way, wrath and hate and contempt writhing in his heart born of the pain and ache on his smarting back. It is the punishment of the savage; it has been abolished from the navy and the army, and is retained only in Christian homes, and other homes not quite so Christian.

And if whipping does very little good—mind, I don't admit that it does any—scolding, which is the next most popular mode of punishment, does absolutely no good whatever, under any circumstances. Not one particle. All the scolding in the world, from the dawn of creation down to this date, never did one solitary bit of good. It makes people—boys, girls, women and men—nervous with anger; it irritates, annoys, frets and maddens them; drives boys away from home, and men to distraction, and that is about all it does. People say, "Well, see how your favorite grand old prophets scolded." Yes, they did, and some of them got sawed in two for it. And the people whom they scolded went on worse than ever. Besides, they scolded men who ought to know better; we are discussing the punishment of boys. Don't scold a boy. If you only knew of what he was thinking while you were scolding him you'd never do it again.

Of course, there must be punishment for offences; punishment for the sake of discipline. The prohibitory law without the penal clause is of very little effect. But revenge isn't punishment. It is better by your example, by your helpful companionship, by your honest counsel, to keep the boy out of trouble than it is to whip him for getting into it. The more loving and forgiving your punishments the deeper will be their impression upon the heart of the boy. Be gentle and patient with him. His worst faults irritate you the most keenly because you know whence he inherits them. If you are going to make him a New Testament man, model yourself on the same lines. It was Elisha, the prophet, a good man, a holy man and a just man, who in righteous anger laid upon Gehazi the leprosy of Naaman that should "cleave unto him and unto his children forever," a punishment for covetousness and lying. But when the Man of Nazareth came into the world He laid His hand upon the leper and cleansed him with perfect healing and tender words. When you have made up your mind in about ten minutes or ten seconds that your boy needs a good sound whipping, take about three days to think over it—a whipping will keep for a week—and then see if you can take a stick and beat him.

life of some sort, were born during the time that their father was preaching to the largest audiences that ever assembled in New York city to hear one single man preach; and from the time they could lisp until now they have been taken faithfully to church and have been taught all the good things of church going without any of the vain ones.

The Rainsford boys are the pets of Pierpont Morgan, whose favorite Dr. Rainsford has for many years been; and they rejoice in the kind of a home into which nothing ill-natured or fault-finding ever creeps. Their happy faces and the absolute good nature of their eyes show it.

Their education is largely conducted at home and is under the supervision of their accomplished mother; but their knowledge is already cosmopolitan. They have lived much in other cities, and are as well acquainted with the parks of Chicago, the seal rocks of San Francisco, the Capitol hill of Washington and the drives about Boston as they are with the delights of Central park.

TURNBULL'S

IT PAYS TO WAIT.

We have done our best to show the Peterborough public the newest Spring Millinery by not having our opening before the new goods are in stock, and we have more than proved that the people appreciate our efforts by the throngs that have been crowding our show rooms since the opening, and the many exclamations that we hear on every side, that our display was the prettiest and most varied they ever witnessed, and oh! here is something I can wear that is both neat and becoming. You ask us how we got up such a varied stock suitable for every taste; the secret is we have been in the millinery business for years and understand what the Peterborough public like. As to prices one lot of manufacturer's samples alone we bought free of duty which is 30 per cent, and leaves us in a position to sell them that much cheaper than other houses. Our motto has always been from the beginning, small profits and quick returns and give honest, reliable goods for the money.

See our beautiful display under the gaslight Saturday night.

The time has arrived for Spring Mantles and Wraps. Our stock is complete in this department in all the newest styles and materials shown. Cloth from 60c. up.

CONCILIATION COUNCILS

Sir Oliver Mowat's New Measure Discussed in the Legislature.

THE QUESTION OF A REGISTRAR

Leads the Opposition to Falsely Accuse the Government of Opening Offices for Political Purposes — Sir Oliver's Dignified But Unqualified Denial.

TORONTO, April 6.—In the Legislature yesterday, on motion of Sir Oliver Mowat, the House went into committee on the bill respecting Councils of Conciliation and Arbitration for settling industrial disputes.

Mr. Clancy enquired whether the provisions of the bill could be evoked by a less number than 10 persons. Could nine persons in a manufacturing establishment employing 100 persons ask for such relief as the bill proposed to provide?

Sir Oliver Mowat replied that the line must be drawn somewhere. Ten was thought to be a reasonable limitation. Any nine persons who desired a remedy must find it outside the bill.

Regarding a Registrar.

Section 4 reads: The Lieutenant-Governor is hereby authorized to appoint a suitable person to act as registrar of councils of conciliation and of arbitration for the settlement of industrial disputes. Such office shall be assigned to such person performing other duties in the service, unless and until the duties are so onerous as to require a separate appointment.

Mr. Meredith moved to strike out all the words after the word "service." Such authority as was given in the latter part of the section was responsible for all the increases in the staff of officials. This was the way the thin edge of the wedge was introduced. It was proposed this should be done by an official in the public service, but afterwards the excuse would be made that the work was too onerous, another appointment would follow, and eventually an expensive department would be created.

Sir Oliver Mowat replied that there was no intention at present to make a separate appointment. The Government had always the right, if the duties of an officer were too heavy, to give him assistance. No appointment had ever been made that was not absolutely necessary.

Mr. Clancy said the duties of the registrar would never be so heavy, but that one official could perform the duties until the appointment of another official could be sanctioned by the House.

Appointment of Member.

Sub-section 2 of section 14 reads;

Each council (of arbitration) shall consist of three members, one to be appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor on the recommendation of the employes, and one to be appointed by him on the recommendation of the employers.

Mr. Meredith asked if the effect of this section would not be to place the control of the council in the hands of the Government. Could the Government refuse to consent to any appointment?

Sir Oliver Mowat said he supposed in point of law the Government were not compelled to do it. They could not make the appointment unless the recommendation was made. The idea, however, that the Government might refuse to sanction an appointment on the recommendation if a large body of employes or employers was a far-fetched idea.

Mr. Meredith—Perhaps it would be far-fetched with regard to any Government, whose action we had not seen and observed, but we have seen the hon. gentleman's movements and actions, and we know that while the Government profess not to like patronage, while they talk about how much rather they would not be troubled by it, they live on it, thrive on it, and create their offices just for the sake of scattering them among their friends.

Sir Oliver Mowat—I deny that. We have never created an office during the last 20 years for any such purpose. It is quite incorrect. I don't want to use and language stronger that. We have never created an office for the purpose of having it filled by particular parties.

Mr. White said that particular persons were put into them.

Sir Oliver Mowat—We never have. If we have created offices it was because we consider such offices necessary for public good.

Mr. Meredith said he did not believe it and did not think the people of the province would take much stock in it.

Sir Oliver Mowat—I have only to say that for twenty years they have taken a good deal of stock in it. We have been very well satisfied on this side of the House, and the people have been satisfied with the Government and have taken stock in them.

The clause requiring the publication of the award of the arbitration in the Ontario Gazette, as well as the local paper in the immediate neighborhood of the dispute was amended by striking out the requirement for publication in the local press.

On the section giving the councils of conciliation power to summon and examine them, Mr. Meredith thought that it would be dangerous to give this power to any body.

Sir Oliver Mowat replied that the law was the same as that which prevailed in New South Wales. The objection raised applied as much to the courts as to the body proposed to be created.

The section passed.

Arbitrators' Fees.

Sir Oliver Mowat proposed to fix the fee of arbitrators at $4 for the first sitting, and an allowance of $3 a day and $2 for half a day.

Mr. Meredith said that with this scale of fees they would have boards of conciliation sitting all the time throughout the whole province.

Sir Oliver Mowat claimed there could not be enough quarrels.

Mr. Meredith said they would make the quarrels. He thought the conciliators should serve their country for nothing.

Sir Oliver Mowat said the members of the council might be poor men.

The clause passed and the bill was reported with amendments.

Upper Canada College.

Hon. G. W. Ross moved that the House go into committee on the bill respecting Upper Canada College, which he proposed further to amend.

The bill was considered in committee and reported.

The House rose for recess.

Committee of Supply.

After recess the House went into Committee of Supply.

On the item of $45,000 for schools in unorganized districts and poor schools, Mr. Meredith asked for information as to the manner in which grants were apportioned. He cited Renfrew county as one that received a larger grant than some others. Was there, he asked, any pressure brought to bear upon these counties at election time? Did political influences determine these grants?

Hon. Mr. Ross replied, referring to the fact that Renfrew was in a somewhat different position to the others. He denied that political considerations influenced the apportionment.

Mr. Clancy said that the poor school grant in 1878 was $5,968, and in 1893 it was $17,968, while in 1894 it is proposed to give $45,000. He drew attention to the fact that nearly one-fifth of the whole grant for primary education is now placed in the hands of the Minister to distribute as he pleases. There is no regular system adopted by the Minister for distribution. There were more back schools in 1878 than 1893, the grant in the former year being only $5,968, and in the latter 45,000.

After further discussion the item was passed.

The item of $6,807 for the School of Pedagogy was passed. The committee reported progress.

House Notes.

Hon. G. W. Ross introduced a bill yesterday regarding the registration of manhood franchise voters in certain cities.

The resolution granting coroners, who make enquiries into cases of suspicious death determine that an inquest is not necessary, a fee of $5, will be added as a clause to the bill respecting the duties of coroners.

The Huron and Ontario Ship Canal and Aqueduct Company's bill passed the Private Bills Committee.

The bill introduced by Hon. G. W. Ross yesterday, entitled, "The City Manhood Suffrage Act of 1894," is to apply only to the cities of Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa and London. Its operation is to be extended to Toronto immediately, and to the other cities named after the next general election. The bill abolishes the system under which the assessors place manhood franchise votes on the list. The qualification remains the same as at present, but in addition to the voter having resided for twelve months in the province and having been for three calendar months a resident and been domiciled in the city, he must have been for thirty days prior to registration, as well as the election, a resident of the electoral division on the list of which he is to be entered.

James Gordon Bennett's New Yacht.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Paragraphs have recently appeared in newspapers to the effect that James Gordon Bennett had contracted for the building of a yacht in America to compete with the Britannia, which as the property of the Prince of Wales has been lately achieving much success in European waters. Inquiry does not justify the belief that Mr. Bennett has any such purpose. It is known, however, that Mr. Bennett contemplates the building of an ocean-going yacht over 300 feet in length, with quadruple expansion engines and twin screws supplying a speed of twenty knots an hour, and provided with only one military mast for signalling and without sails.

Was MacWherrell in Fitzgerald's?

TORONTO, April 6.—Robinette has secured the affidavit of another important witness to show that MacWherrell was in Fitzgerald's hotel on Thursday night at the time he was supposed to have been murdering and robbing the Williams. This man is the sailor who has been often mentioned in evidence, but could not hitherto be found. He swears that MacWherrell was in Fitzgerald's hotel between 7 and 8 o'clock on Thursday night, and that his actions didn't indicate that he had recently murdered two people.

Would Imitate Kloetzler.

LITTLE FALLS, April 6.—Otto Loeffer, an anarchist of the Kloetzler type, has been arrested at Dolgeville, for threatening to cut the throats of his wife and three children and then kill himself. He refused an offer of work. When Loeffer's house was searched there were found five razors finely ground and a loaded revolver. It has just been learned that there is a band of anarchists in Dolgeville to the number of about twenty. They are closely watched. Kloetzler and Loeffer belonged to the band.

THE RIOTS IN PENNSYLVANIA.

President Davis Arrested Charged With the Murder of Engineer Paddock.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 6.—The tragic events in the coke regions appear to have had a sobering effect on the strikers and it is hardly probable that there will be a repetition of such bloody work. With the discovery of the bodies of eight Hungarian strikers in the woods near Dawson the fatalities are increased to ten, with many more seriously injured than was first known.

The eight dead strikers found yesterday were undoubted killed by the party pursuing the Paddock murderers. The arrest of President Davis of the district organization has had a demoralizing effect on the strikers. Davis was landed in jail here yesterday, charged with complicity in the murder of Chief Engineer Paddock. Davis was the ninety-fifth striker arrested for the Paddock murder. He said he was sorry for the occurrence, but the foreign element could not be controlled. He feels certain he cannot be connected with the killing of Paddock. He will ask for a habeas corpus hearing.

RATES ON THE C.P.R.

They Are the Cause of Greater Burdens on Northwest Farmers.

LANDS GRANTED TO RAILWAYS

An Enormous Amount Granted to the Northwest to Corporations — The Evening Session at Ottawa Taken Up by the Debate on the Budget.

OTTAWA, April 6.—In the Senate Mr. Boulton, in moving for a return of the rates charged by the C.P.R., condemned the alleged discriminatory rates which the company were charging. He said the issuance of preferred stock last year placed upon the company the necessity of raising additional revenue to meet the dividends which would be necessarily payable on this stock. To raise the additional revenue they imposed additional freight rates upon those sections of the road where there was no competition, hence greater burdens fell on the farmers of the Northwest.

Hon. Mr. Power condemned the C. P. R. in making their terminus in United States territory.

Hon. Mr. Bowell said the information asked for would be brought down.

The motion passed.

Mr. Boulton asked what retiring allowances were made to Lieut.-Colonel Villiers and Van Straubenzie and Major Street. He strongly urged that a pension system should be adopted in connection with the permanent force.

Hon. Mr. Bowell said Major Street's case was under consideration. Retiring allowances had been made to Colonels Villiers and Van Straubenzie.

Hon. Mr. Lougheed resumed the debate on the Northwest school question.

In the Commons.

OTTAWA, April 6.—In the House of Commons yesterday, Hon. Mr. Paterson replying to Mr. Mulock, said that Lieut.-Col. Lanier had neither been "retired, suspended or temporarily displaced" from the command of the Fifteenth Battalion. The colonel had been granted leave of absence on March 31, as he had desired to go to the United States on private business. The command of the battalion was in the hands of the senior officer during the colonel's temporary absence.

Hon. Mr. Haggart, replying to Mr. Ryder, said the Government had made no payment by way of subsidy or otherwise towards the promotion of the construction of the Chignecto marine railway. The Government liability had ceased on July 1, 1893.

Hon. Mr. Daly, in response to a question by Mr. Charlton, said that 44,243,219 acres of land had been granted to railway corporations in Manitoba and the Northwest territories up to January 1, 1894.

Hon. Mr. Foster, in reply to Mr. Edgar, said that under the tariff tea and coffee might be imported in bond through London, but there must be through bills of lading. Through bills of lading were required in all cases.

Mr. Charlton complained as a member of the House against what he termed a curt answer which he had received from the Secretary of State when he had asked for the total expenditure on the revision of the voters lists under the new Franchise Act. He said he was entitled to the figures and that it was not his duty to hunt through the Auditor-General's report for the total. He thought the House of Commons staff ought to be used for this purpose.

Sir John Thompson said the information which Mr. Charlton had asked for was already on the table of the House. He thought the privilege of asking questions should not degenerate into enquiries for the purpose of making political capital.

Hon. David Mills resumed the debate on the budget.

The House rose for recess.

After recess Mr. Mills continued the debate and Mr. Bennet, of East Simcoe, followed.

Col. O'Brien, Mr. Dalton McCarthy's follower, stated that it was a great satisfaction to him that the duties had been reduced, since this was what he had been contending for.

Messrs. Craig, Dawson and Maclean (East York) followed, and the House rose.

Parliamentary Notes.

Mr. White (Cardwell) yesterday introduced a bill to further amend chapter 10 of the consolidated statutes of Lower Canada respecting seditious and unlawful associations and oaths. He said that when the Act which this bill was proposed to amend was originally passed, Masonic lodges of the Province of Quebec, acting under the jurisdiction of the grand lodge of Great Britain and Ireland, were excepted from its operations, and afterwards, when the grand lodge of Canada was formed, Masonic lodges acting under that jurisdiction were also excepted. Subsequently, however, to the consolidation of the statutes of 1865 the grand lodge of Quebec was formed, and this bill is to extend the same exemptions to lodges under the jurisdiction of the grand lodges of Great Britain and Canada.

The Public Accounts Committee met yesterday and appointed Mr. Baker, M.P. for Missisiquoi, chairman. Mr. Mulock moved that witnesses be examined on oath, and that the House be asked to extend such power. Sir C. H. Tupper objected, claiming that special cases should be made out. The latter was tabled.

Dominion Artillery Association.

OTTAWA, April 6.—At the meeting of the Dominion Artillery Association yesterday, the Minister of Militia, who was present, denied that there was any difference of opinion, between himself and Major-General Herbert as was reported in the press. Major-General Herbert spoke feelingly on this point corroborating the statement made by the Minister.

Tea Merchant Fails in London.

LONDON, Ont, April 6.—Samuel Fage, tea merchant, has failed. A Toronto firm issued a writ against the dealer for a considerable claim, and the assignment was decided upon in order to protect all the creditors. The cause of the failure is said to be the result of an overcrowding of the trade in the city.

THE FRENCH TREATY.

One great benefit that would result from a reduction of the tariff would be the necessity for retrenchment which the reduced revenue would suggest. But the present Government does not seemed inclined to be influenced in this direction. In spite of the falling off in revenue announced by Mr. Foster, three-quarters of a million is to be voted as a subsidy to a fast Atlantic line of steamers, and now Sir John Thompson declares that the French Treaty is to be ratified, which involves a specific agreement by which the Canadian Government is pledged to contribute $500,000 as subsidy to a line of steamers between France and Canada. This is not the only objectionable feature of the French treaty, especially from the standpoint of a protective government. The government will doubtless try to make the best of a bad bargain, although both Sir John and his colleagues, Messrs Foster and Bowell have tried their best to evade the ratification. But there is no evading the issue for both the governments is pledged both to the Crown and the High Commissioner.

The time is considered particularly unfortunate for a reduction of duty upon wines (which the treaty involves), in the face of the agitation for prohibition now going on throughout the Dominion. It comes also on the heels of a declaration that the policy of the Government is to continue to protect home industries. This treaty obliges the Government to withdraw from a great natural industry in western Ontario, the wine making industry, a measure of protection without which those engaged in that industry say they cannot exist. It also comes at a time when the greatest need of the Government is revenue, and when we are face to face with a large deficit. According to the trade returns for the last fiscal year the direct loss to Canada's revenue under the treaty would be, on champagne and sparkling wines, $50,350; on non-sparkling wines, $112,500; on nuts, $36,200; on plums and prunes, $4,700; and on soap, $3,350; a total loss of $206,980. To remit the duties on wines by 30 per cent, at a time when the reduction on agricultural implements is only 15 per cent, and on many articles of prime necessity only from 3 to 5 per cent, is not calculated to make the new tariff more popular. One of the worst features of the treaty is the fact that it extends the most-favoured-nation treatment to France in the following terms:—

"Any commercial advantage granted by Canada to any third power, especially in tariff matters, shall be fully enjoyed by France, Algeria and the French colonies."

This would be a serious block to the negotiation of any treaty of reciprocity with the United States or with any other country, although Sir Charles Tupper contends that it would not interfere with any preferential arrangement between Canada and Great Britain. An important addendum to the treaty is a document or project pledging the Canadian Government in the most formal and positive manner to vote a subsidy of £100,000 sterling to a line of steamers running between Canada and a French terminal port. Sir Charles Tupper told Mr. Bowell over a year ago that this would form the subject of a letter "to be attached to the treaty." This pledge is signed by the British Ambassador, as well as by Sir Charles Tupper, so that if faith is kept both with the Crown of England and the Government of France, the treaty involves an expenditure of $500,000 a year in addition to a loss of revenue approximating a quarter of a million dollars. The popular idea that the reduction of duty by Candada is to be applied to French wines only is erroneous, because according to the official statement of the Minister of Finance the duty will be reduced on wines, nuts and prunes from any part of the world. This will admit the products of South America and the wines of Spain and California on equal terms with the specified products of France. It is seasonable to note that the French wines vintage of 1893 according to the report of the French Commissioners, reaches the enormous total of 1,125,000,000 gallons, or nearly double thh average of the last 15 years. The total value of the crop is estimated at $250,000,000, of which only $25,000,000 represents high-class wines. The chances therefore of France being able to flood the Dominion with wines immediately the treaty goes into effect are unusually good.

WEDNESDAY was the twentieth anniversary of the date on which Hon. C. F. Fraser was sworn in as Commissioner of Public Works. Few Canadian public men can show so absolutely clean and entirely useful a record as Mr. Fraser. Aside from two or three members of Sir Oliver Mowat's long-lived and successful administration, few men anywhere have had the privilege of holding continuously during a score of years a great public office for the conduct of the affairs of which there is a direct parliamentary responsibility. It is a matter of keen regret that poor health should be compelling Mr. Fraser's retirement, but the record for rigid integrity, brilliant executive talent, and strong and useful work generally, which he leaves behind him and of which the history of the construction of the new legislative buildings is the latest and greatest example, is one that the youth of the country may well have set before them as worthy of emulation. There was no demonstration of any kind Wednesday and Mr. Fraser did not appear in the House, but many of his fellow-members and his colleagues in the Government took advantage of the anniversary to congratulate him on completing so many years in the public service and to express the hope that he may yet have his health restored to him.

The Toronto News (Conservative) says: Mowat has been Premier for over twenty-one years, Hardy has been in public life for twenty-one, and Fraser has just completed his twentieth year as a Minister. And after all is said and done, Ontario has just reason to be proud of the "big three" who have rendered her such eminent service.

PULLED DOWN THE SAW MILL.

A Mill Owner's Action Against the Township of Dysart at the Lindsay Assizes.

The Lindsay Watchman says:—

McNab vs. Dysart.—This was the most important and interesting case on the docket and the greater part of two days was taken up in the examination of a cloud of witnesses from the north country. The action was brought by Mr. D. B. McNabb, of Lindsay, against the township of Dysart, in the county of Haliburton, for $5,000 damages. It was claimed that plaintiff, with the permission of the township council, erected a saw mill on a road allowance, on the shore of Head Lake. The mill was never completed, only the sides being put up. Some months afterwards the mill was pulled down by Mr. Prust, township clerk, acting upon the instructions of the council and the solicitor. Another mill was erected upon the same site by Mr. Prust, and the action was brought to recover the value of McNabb's mill and for damages sustained. The evidence showed that a portion of the mill was in the lake, over which the municipality had no control, and that in pulling down the mill the township authorities were not justified. His lordship intimated that he found for plaintiff, but reserved judgment as to the amount of damages until a later date. J. A. Barron, Q.C., for plaintiff; G. H. Watson, Q.C., and John Burnham, Q.C., Peterborough, for the defendants.

HER ANSWER.

I studied my tables over and over, and backward and forward, too,
But I couldn't remember six times nine, and I didn't know what to do,
Till sister told me to play with my doll and not bother my head,
"If you call her 'Fifty-four' for awhile you'll learn it by heart," she said.

So I told my favorite, Mary Ann (though I thought 'twas a dreadful shame
To give such a perfectly lovely child such a perfectly horrid name),
And I called her dear little "Fifty-four" a hundred times, till I knew
The answer of six times nine as well as the answer of two times two.

Next day Elizabeth Wigglesworth, who always acts so proud,
Said, "Six times nine are fifty-two," and I nearly laughed aloud!
But I wished I hadn't when teacher said, "Now, Dorothy, tell if you can;"
For I thought of my doll, and—sakes alive!—I answered, "Mary Ann!"

It Isn't a Matter of How Much You Earn, But

What You Save!

"Any FOOL can Earn Money, but it takes a WISE Man to Save it."

And yet it is as simple as A B C. You know that one of the peculiarities about GOUGH'S Clothing is that it isn't sold by wind. It's VALUE that does it. It broke out some 8 or 10 years ago when Gough Bros. spread their monster tents for business in Peterborough and the epidemic has kept on spreading ever since.

THE IMMENSE AMOUNT OF MONEY SAVED to the Workingman, the Farmer and the Business Man since Gough Bros. broke the combination to keep up High Prices in Clothing, has demonstrated that there are Wise Men among us who can save money if they only get a fair chance.

"What's the cause of Gough's Big Success?" did you say.

Just look at those $7.50 Spring Overcoats and Tweed Suits, with that regular tailor-made look about them. They were no more made to sell at that price than the Otonabee River was to run ocean greyhounds on. $12.00 ought to be the price.

Then again—Take that pair of Pants or that Big Boy's 3-Piece Suit. They're All Wool and cut by an expert hand, who was a regular tailor's cutter before we pulled down the prices that gave them such big salaries. You wouldn't think $4.50 too much to pay for either of them, would you? Well, they're yours for $3.00

And so on all the way through our mammoth store. "Money to be Saved at Gough's!" why that's stale news—everybody knows that by this time, and, if you haven't caught the enthusiasm yet, it must be because you're one of those fellows that can EARN money all right, but DON'T KNOW HOW TO SAVE IT.

WE'RE AWFULLY STUCK UP—and it's just on account of our Clothes. We just think that when it comes to Clothing, there's nothing in this town that can touch us.

"Always Good at Gough's."

THE TROUBLE IN SAMOA.

Chief Justice Ide Intimidated the Chiefs Into Withdrawing Their Complaints.

BERLIN, April 6.—Advices from Samoa, concerning the recent troubles there and their causes, state that American Chief Justice Ide summoned before him seventeen of the discontented chiefs and compelled them to withdraw all of the complaints they had made against the government. The chiefs withdrew their complaints under compulsion, but adhered to their protest against the action of the Governor enforcing the disarming of the natives.

A special accusation was made by the government against Chief Alipia and other heads of the Aana tribe, charging them with inciting and spreading the rebellion of the natives, but the charges were denied by native witnesses. The trial of the accused chiefs ended February 2, and on February 5 Chief Justice Ide sentenced Chief Alipia to imprisonment at hard labor for two years and fined each of the other chiefs from $50 to $100.

It was further ordered by the court that the chiefs upon whom fines were imposed should be imprisoned until their fines were paid. The latest disorders, according to the advices, were incited by Chief Feesano, of Atna, who induced the people of Atna and Aana to fight against the government. Malietoa's troops made an attempt to arrest Feesano, but they were unable to do so, as the other chiefs refused to surrender him or to give any information that would assist the government. The advices state that it would require a large fleet of war vessels to thoroughly carry into effect the decree ordering the natives to disarm, and though further trouble is likely it is doubtful that it will end in their disarmnent.

Last Body from the Gaylord Mine.

WILKESBARRE, April 6.—The final of the terrible accident at the Gaylord mine was enacted yesterday when the body of the thirteenth victim, George Picton, mine foreman, was discovered beneath the debris. Like the others, Picton's position indicated that he was running down the plane and was caught by the falling mass of rock. It was late last night before the body was wholly freed from the rock and coal which were over it.

Coxey's Army of the Commonweal.

HAYES, Pa., April 6.—Coxey's army arrived here yesterday afternoon. The exit from Pittsburg was unattended by special incident. At the city line the Pittsburg escort dropped out of line. Homestead workmen, 500 strong, with a brass band, took the position occupied by the Pittsburgers and escorted the army to the camp. The route was thronged with enthusiastic people.

WITHOUT MODIFICATION

Behring Sea Bill Passes in the House of Representatives.

IN THE IMPERIAL HOUSE.

The British Bill Receives a Second Reading—It is Stated to be Entirely in Accord With the Measure Passed at Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The House of Representatives passed the Behring Sea bill. The President and Secretary Gresham learned of the passage of the bill a few moments after the House had acted, and they both expressed gratification at the prompt response of Congress in what is considered little less than a national emergency. It was especially pleasing that the bill had passed without modification, this fact indicating the thorough adherence of the legislative branches of the government to the policy of the executive and materially strengthening the administration in its determination to insist upon the complete legalization of the decision of the international tribunal of Paris.

The British Measure.

LONDON, April 6.—In the House of Commons yesterday Sir George Baden-Powell asked the Government if the terms of the Behring Sea had received the approval of the Government of the Dominion of Canada. Mr. Sydney Buxton, Parliamentary Secretary to the Colonial Office, replied that the provisions of the bill had not received the entire approval of Canadian Government. He added that the American Behring Sea bill accorded in substance with the bill now before the House.

Arthur J. Balfour, leader of the Opposition, said that the Government had pursued a wise course in not losing a moment in fulfilling British obligations. In doing this work of international justice the Ministers would have the support of himself and his colleagues. (Hear, hear.)

Sir George Baden-Powell protested that the bill had many flaws and was the reverse of protection of the fur seals. It was a grave omission, he said, that it did not provide for a close season ashore. The slaughter of seals ashore led to the extinction of the animals in certain regions.

Gibson Bowles found fault with the Paris court of arbitration. Its decision, he said, had given Great Britain the shadow without the substance on the Behring Sea. One effect of the award would be that the British people would be taxed in order to subsidize one of the greatest monopolies that the world had ever seen.

Sir Richard Webster, Conservative, for the Isle of Wight and one of the British Counsel before the Paris tribunal rebuked Mr. Bowles. Neither the time nor the place he said was fitting for a challenge of the tribunals decisions.

After Sir Richard Webster's speech the bill passed its second reading.

Quiet on the Mosquito Coast.

LONDON, April 6.—The Government has received a despatch from Admiral Sir John O. Hopkins, commanding the North American and West Indies fleet, stating that the excitement on the Mosquito coast has subsided. The Admiral reports that the trouble was caused by the shooting of an American named Wm. Wilson by a Nicaraguan official. The report is regarded by the Admiralty as evidence that no interest of Great Britain is involved in the matter.

Prendergast's Sanity to be Tested.

CHICAGO, April 6.—Judge Chetlain has decided that the Prendergast jury must be taken from the regular panel. This decision is against the State attorneys, who desired a special jury to try the question of insanity.

Sheriff Gilbert was served yesterday with a formal notice that the execution of Prendergast had been further stayed from to-day until July 2.

EXCELSIOR

Life Insurance Company.

HEAD OFFICE, - TORONTO.

PRESIDENT AND MANAGING-DIRECTOR,
E. F. CLARKE, Ex-Mayor of Toronto

New! Commodious! Comfortable!

An examination of the report of the business for 1893 shows that THE EXCELSIOR has made SOLID PROGRESS in all the points essential to success, viz:—

Gain in Insurance in Force over that 1891 72 per cent.
Gain in Cash Income over that of 1891 61 per cent
Gain in Assets over that of 1891, 27 per cent.
Gain in Reserve on Policy Holders Account over that of 1891, 114 per cent

THE EXCELSIOR offers Security which is unsurpassed by any other Company doing business in Canada. The following are the ratios of Assets to Liabilities of the different Canadian Companies as given in the Government Report for 1891:—

Excelsior Life, ...415% North American Life, 125%
Dominion Life, ...301 „ London Life, ...118 „
Federal Life, ...144 „ Sun Life, ...114 „
Manufac'rs' Life, ...144 „ Confederation Life, ...113 „
Tem'ce and Gen'l, 144 „ Canada Life, ...112 „
Ontario Mutual ...163%

The Excelsior Life challenges any other Company to show, in the same period of its history, 1st, as low a death rate; 2nd, as low a ratio of expenses. See our Life Rate Endowment and our Life and Endowment Annuity Bonds before insuring elsewhere.

DAVID DOIG

A Government BOMBSHELL THROWN INTO THE LIFE INSURANCE CAMP!

The following statement comes from the government Blue Book. It covers a period of sixteen years, and is sworn to as correct by representatives of each Company:

Statement of Premiums received and Cash Profits paid back to Policy Holders from 1877 to 1892, both years inclusive:—

COMPANY.	Premiums Received.	Dividends Paid to Policy Holders.	Ratio of Dividends to Premiums, %
CANADA LIFE	$16,363,307	$2,946,433	18.18
Confederation Life	6,165,432	637,925	10 35
North American	2,327,062	33,857	1.41
Ontario Mutual	3,878,086	433,284	11.17
Sun Life	5,527,720	355,280	6.43

Never in the history of Life Insurance has the struggle for business been keener. Never has the conflict been hotter. Never have the Companies felt as they feel now, the necessity for throwing all the energy at their command into the field. The most intelligent and best men have to be employed. All kinds of plans of insurance are submitted. Each Company determined in securing the supremacy in the good will of the public, in establishing their name, the utterance of which, shall convey to the minds of the people the essential characteristics of

UNDOUBTED SECURITY,
RIGID ECONOMY,
GOOD INVESTMENTS,
LARGEST PROFITS

WHY?

Because millons of dollars are being paid annually for Life Insurance, and the Companies that can show these features have attained a position which will guarantee their future success, for money will flow freely into the best investments.

The Canada Life Policy Holders can look at the above statement with a smile of satisfaction, yet sympathise with their friends who are not so favourably situated.

They can throw their Life Policies down in the face of opponents and successfully challenge the production of more profitable policies, they can stand the onslaught of Agents who will almost cover them with literature and estimates of Tontine, Semi-Tontine, Return Premiums, Reserved Dividends, Annuity and Endownment plans of insurance, and with a quiet assurance feel that

As The Canada Life is Making the Most Profits, She Can Pay the Largest Profits.

READER. If you want Life Insurance choose the Canada Life and join the throng of contented policy holders who are insured with the Company carrying about 45 per cent. of the total insurance in force of the above named Companies

To Be Repeated.

The entertainment given last Tuesday evening at St. Luke's schoolhouse, which proved so successful, will, in response to many requests, be repeated on Monday evening next. Both the "Sleeping Beauty" and the "Fancy Drill" will be repeated, and a fresh programme of music has been prepared. Admission, 10 cents.

Store Awnings, Window Awnings,

Hotel awnings, office awnings, verandah awnings, steamboat awnings, factory awnings, and summer awnings of all kinds and patterns in white or coloured duck manufactured and fitted in proper manner to any desired frames on the most reasonable terms by ALFRED KINGSCOTTE, the Tent, Sail and Awning Maker, Water street, opposite the market.

Those who hold tickets for the Foresters' Concert on April 18th, which were marked previously to the preparation of the new plan, are requested to call at once at Madill's drug store, Hunter street, and have them re-numbered, and oblige the committee.

Band Concert.

The Peterborough Fire Brigade Band is industriously practising for the grand band concert to be tendered the citizens of Peterborough during the first week in May. An effort will be made to engage Sergt.-Major Morgan, of Kingston, the well-known sword and fencing champion of America, to give an exhibition of sword feats, fencing bouts, boxing, etc. Sergt.-Major Morgan has a continental reputation, and is one of the finest specimens of physical manhood of the day. He is fencing instructor at the Royal Mitliary College, Kingston.

Young Womens' Association.

The lady directors of the Young Women's Association have kindly offered to provide for a social to be held in the rooms to-morrow night at eight o'clock. They especially desire to see all the members present if possible, but a cordial welcome will be given to all young women. The social will be very informal, but a pleasant evening is anticipated. Good music (instrumental and vocal) is being prepared. All will be glad to learn that Mr. J. M. Whyte, who is assisting in evangelistic services in the town, will be present to sing, accompanying himself with the guitar. Let there be a large attendance. We promise all a good time. Admission, free.

Remember the classes in painting and writing this evening. The hour is eight o'clock.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—Nothing new in police circles this morning.

—The Finance Committee meets the County Council Road and Bridge Committee to-morrow morning to discuss re Pigeon Creek bridge legislation.

—Yesterday afternoon Blaine was defeated by Richardson at the Oriental hotel by 4 games to 2. The tournament has been declared off and the caterers refunded their money.

—A young man on a fishing expedition at the Ashburnham dock and who fell in the water remarked after being landed on terra firma, "I swear I have reformed, I'll touch nothing but water now."

—Chief Constable Craig, Ashburnham, will put on a force of men at once to clean the streets of the village. The scraping is badly needed and will afford employment to several men now out of work.

—Next Sunday will be communion Sunday in St. Andrew's church. The preparatory service will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. The sermon will be preached by Rev. E. F. Torrance, of St. Paul's.

—At the regular meeting of Peterborough Lodge No. 111, I.O.O.F., held last night, the second degree was conferred upon two candidates, while three received the third degree. There was a large attendance of members.

—Mr. Geo. Elliott has placed in the southren side of the C.P.R. telegraph office a handsome large plate glass to replace the one which was broken recently. The glass was obtained from the Peterborough Hardware Company.

—The Gun Club held its regular weekly shoot at Riverside Park yesterday afternoon. Out of 21 birds Ray, Rutherford and James each killed 18, Ferguson 12 and Tivey 10. The wind was favourable to good shooting.

—Mr. Alfred Day, travelling secretary of the Provincial Sunday School Association, spent Sunday in town. He addressed the Presbyterian and Methodist Sunday schools and preached for the Rev. Mr. McCamus in the evening.—Millbrook Reporter.

—Dr. Hassard, V.S., who removed from Millbrook to Peterborough, has again concluded to return here to practice. He has purchased Dr. Bland's business and moved his household effects and is ready for business. Welcome back, Doc.—Millbrook Reporter.

—By arrangement with the matron, the members of City Lodge, No. 404, I. O. G. T., will entertain the inmates of the Protestant Home to a musical and literary entertainment next Tuesday evening. Refreshments, also, will be furnished for the occasion.

—Since the pool craze around town has tamed down sportsmen have been wondering what new excitement would engage the attention of the lively boys. It has already appeared in the shape of boxing contests and now every one is seeking how adept he is at the manly art of self defence.

—The Sunday School Convention to be held under the auspices of the town Sunday School Association will take place in St. Paul's church on Tuesday night next. The speakers will be Rev. Messrs. Geo. Edwards and H. Symonds, Mrs. Kendry and Miss Code. A programme will also be rendered.

—The youths of Ashburnham had a lively time on Wednesday night last, when they indulged in an old time charivari and serenaded with tin pans, horns, whistles, etc., a popular newly wedded couple. The boys were handsomely treated by the fortunate bridegroom, who showed his appreciation of their jollity in a practical manner.

—There seems to be a misunderstanding as to the position of what is called the cricket grounds in Ashburnham. Under existing circumstances they are private property, and the public has no more right to enter upon them than upon any private premises. Hereafter persons who trespass upon these grounds will subject themselves to prosecution for such trespass, as provided by law.

—A meeting of all those interested in the formation of a local amateur minstrel company and who have any ability or experience in that line are requested to meet in the music hall, adjoining the opera house at 8 o'clock this evening for the purpose of forming such an organization to produce the concert and entertainment to be given under the auspices of the Peterborough cricket club in three or four weeks.

—On Wednesday of last week Mr. Anson Bronson, says the Lakefield News, who lives near Mt. Julian, met with a painful accident. It appears that he was engaged working at a sawing bee, and he and another young fellow were fooling around, when the other young man jumped on Bronson's back, with the result of badly dislocating his right shoulder. He was brought to the village and Dr. J. R. Fraser and Bell succeeded in placing the shoulder in right position.

—At the regular meeting of City Lodge, No. 404, I.O.G.T. in Unity hall last night there was an exceptionally large attendance, no less than 74 members being present. Seven candidates were initiated and a large number of propositions received. The lodge is rapidly increasing in membership, many young men joining each night. At the close of the business, Mrs. Hether, one of the oldest, if not the oldest Good Templars in the province, addressed the members. Mr. Geo. J. Early took a flash light photograph of the whole group and room before the meeting adjourned.

The Daughters of England's Third Monthly Social.

The Daughters of England held their third monthly social last night at their rooms, Hunter street. These socials are becoming popular and are having the desired effect. One candidate was initiated before the meeting was thrown open and a number of propositions were received. Refreshments were served by the members and games of all kinds were indulged in, followed by a varied programme of songs, readings and recitations, which were fully enjoyed by the many friends of the Daughters present. Mr. T. H. Martin presided and Miss Harmer played the accompaniments for those who took part in the programme. The Daughters propose holding their first anniversary entertainment on the 24th of May, and it is needless to say that it will be well patronized.

A Lively Runaway.

As Messrs. Michael Dunn and Geo. Patterson were returning from Lakefield yesterday evening, when in front of the Central Park on George street, the livery horse which they were driving took fright at an electric car and made a bolt. The animal plunged and ran into a maple tree. The fractious equine succeeded in breaking loose from the buggy and smashing the shafts and part of the gearing. The runaway was captured near Brock street. The occupants of the conveyance were thrown out, Mr. Dunn lighting on his head and meeting with serious injuries. His wrist was sprained, one of his eyes injured, besides being cut about the head. Mr. Patterson fared more luckily and escaped unscathed. Mr. Dunn was taken to his home where his injuries were dressed.

Miss Jenkins' clearing sale of fancy goods, etc., will continue for a few weeks' longer, at greater reduced prices than ever. Splendid bargains still to be had.

PERSONAL.

Rev. Dr. Caven, principal of Knox College, Toronto, and known personally to many in town, is seriously ill.

The Cannington correspondent to the Whitby Chronicle says Mr. Archie McKay has gone to Peterborough to reside.

Mr. R. Morris, chief inspector, Toronto, and Mr. E. L. Forte, assistant, are in town on an official visit of inspection to the local branch of the Ontario Bank. They arrived last night.

Mr. Theophile Delaire, who has been spending the past nineteen years in North Carolina, engaged in the lumbering business, is in town on a visit to relatives. He intends remaining about a month.

Mr. A. Letellier, son of Mr. A. Letellier, Lake street, was successful in passing the first year's examination in medicine at Queen's University. Congratulations to the coming "M.D."

Messrs. H. Smith and J. Atchison, formerly of the brass moulding department of the Canadian General Electric Company's works, left last night for Montreal, accompanied by their wives and families.

Dr. Garrett D Fitzgerald, son of Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, is to be congratulated on having successfully passed the recent examinations for the M.D. and C.M. degrees at Queen's University, Kingston.

Mrs. Young, of Young's Point, mother of Messrs C. and P. Young, is lying dangerously ill. Mrs. Young, who is the oldest resident at the Point, is about 88 years of age, and her numerous friends will regret to hear of her declining health.

Rev. Robt. Johnston, B.A., the popular pastor of St. Andrew's church, is to be congratulated upon his winning the degree of Bachelor of Divinity, which was conferred upon him at the examinations held Tuesday last at the Presbyterian college, Montreal.—Lindsay Post.

Mr. Charles H. Haystead, whose genial and rubicund countenance is always welcome in Peterborough, is in town and gave the EXAMINER a call to-day. He is representing the "Master and Man," which will be produced in Bradburn's opera house on Wednesday, April 11th, with Miss Josie Mills and Mr. Gus Reynolds in the leading roles.

The name of Mr. J. Borland, Villiers, appears among the thirty-nine who took a full course and passed the final examinations at the Ontario Agricultural College Dairy School, Guelph, at the recent examinations. In addition to passing, Mr. Borland took first-class honours in the subjects of cheese-making (practical work), and butter-making (practical work).

The Omemee Mirror says: Wm. Miller, of Peterborough, was in town on Saturday renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Miller for over thirty years was a resident of our town, he having a large tailoring establishment in this place. He was a very useful and respected citizen of Omemee, and it is hoped that we will soon have him back in our town again.... F. E. Shepherd was in Peterborough the latter part of last week visiting his cousins, the Misses Pascoe.... Robt. Wainwright, of Peterborough, was in town the first of last week.... Mr. John Kincaid was a visitor to our village yesterday.

DEATH OF A CLERGYMAN.

Rev. Mr. Dowsley, of Campbellford, a Returned Japan Missionary Dies of Heart Disease Last Night.

A sudden death took place at Campbellford last evening when Rev. Mr. Dowsley, Presbyterian clergymen, died very suddenly of heart disease. Deceased gentleman was between fifty and sixty years of age. He leaves a wife and family to mourn his sad and sudden departure. Mr. Dowsley lectured in St. Paul's church here some months ago on Japan missions in which he spent some years labouring under the superintendence of the Canadian Presbyterian church. Mr. Dowsley only returned and took up his permanent residence in Campbellford three years ago.

MUNICIPAL MATTERS.

A Budget of News About Committee Work and the Town's Civic Affairs Generally.

The council will hold a special meeting on Tuesday night next to pass the hawkers' and peddlars' by-law, which was held over at the last meeting. Councillor Hughes' notice of motion, which was given at the meeting before the last, fixing the rate of taxation for the coming year at fifteen mills on the dollar, will come up for consideration and discussion.

The Finance Committee will meet to-morrow morning at the clerk's at 11.30 o'clock.

The License Committee held a meeting last night to consider the license by-law. The fees came up for discussion, and on this matter there was a great divergence of opinion, but the preponderance of opinion appeared to be in favour of fixing the annual tax for peddlers at $10 per annum, and for foot peddlers at $5 per year. These figures will probably be recommended to the council.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee met last night and decided to advertise for tenders forthwith for the watering of the town streets, the same district to be covered as last year. The committee will also recommend to the council that three new alarm boxes be erected by Bell Tel. Company in connection with the fire alarm system of the town. It has been decided that these boxes shall be placed in the South Ward, one on Sherbrooke street, another near Mr. and Mrs. Halpin's house at the corner of Perry and George streets and the third at Albert street. The cost of putting up these boxes will come under the by-law now existing between the Telephone Company and the town, by which the corporation pays a certain percentage.

The Street and Bridge Committee members made their annual inspection of the streets and bridges yesterday. The circuit of all the main thoroughfares was made in about nine hours, and a careful estimate was made of all the work required to be done and the material necessary to do the work. The following gentlemen were driven around: Mr. Best, chairman of committee; and Messrs. McElwaine, Dawson, White and street surveyor Pope.

Mr. Best stated this morning that the board walks were found in a fairly satisfactory condition, although considerable will have to be done on some of the back streets in the shape of watertabling them. The committee will probably present its estimate for the public works department for the coming season at the council meeting Tuesday night.

THE REVIVAL SERVICES.

In the Murray Street Baptist Church Will be Continued Another Week—The Gathering of Last Evening.

The attendance at the regular nightly services of a special character, which have been going on in the Murray street Baptist church for nearly three weeks, has been very gratifying and encouraging, and last evening there was no exception, for the edifice was well filled. The singing was hearty and inspiriting, and the service impressive and strikingly earnest. After the song service, Rev. Mr. Trotter announced that Messrs. Moore and Whyte would remain in town another week. He had not been in a position to state that definitely until last evening and the meetings would therefore be continued each evening until Friday week next inclusive. The speaker urged all to lay hold of the treasury of God's pardon and love and to appropriate some of his many blessings to themselves.

Mr. Whyte sang "When the Bridegroom Cometh," the choir and congregation joining heartily in the chorus.

The soloist made a few pertinent remarks, saying that it was well to be ready when the bridegroom comes, ready to go. He urgently pointed out the need of being ready before it was too late and exhorted all to examine their hearts. The collection was then taken up while a hymn was being sung and many requests for prayer were laid upon the plate and read afterwards by Rev. Mr. Moore. The rev. gentleman spoke pointedly for half an hour from the fourth chapter of Leviticus, commencing at the twenty-seventh verse. He remarked that the atonement was broad enough to cover all sins—those committed in ignorance and those by presumption on our part. Sin was a small word, but who could describe its awful consequences or compute its meaning? Many people wanted to feel first and then believe. We should believe, and then we would have the feeling, and God's saving knowledge and power came into us. At the close, Rev. Jas. Thom led in prayer and Mr. Whyte invited all those who were Christians or desired to lead a change of life, to rise to their feet, and the impulse was very general, fully nine-tenths of the great gathering answering. During the evening Mr. White sang "Now I Love Jesus," with guitar accompaniment. A number stood up on the invitation of Mr. Whyte evincing their desire to become Christians. The after-meeting was well attended and many sought regeneration.

TO ENCOURAGE MANLY SPORT.

Commodore R. Calcutt Generously Offers Two Valuable Silver Cups for Competition Among Lacrosse and Baseball Clubs.

Mr. Commodore Calcutt, president of the Peterborough Steamboat and Navigation Company, has announced his intention of donating two valuable and handsome silver cups for competition. These trophies so generously offered by Mr. Calcutt, who deserves much credit for the encouragement and practical sympathy he has always extended towards the support and fostering a love among young men for manly sports and athletic tournaments, are open to all lacrosse and baseball clubs for competition between teams selected solely from the public schools and Collegiate Institute of the town and county of Peterborough. At the close of the season, which must open on May 1st and end on October 1st, these artistic awards will be presented to the champion lacrosse and baseball teams, respectively, or, in other words, to the clubs winning the most games in the season. The victorious clubs will also be presented with half of the gate receipts at the close of the season, to defray their expenses. This is another liberal allowance on the part of Mr. Calcutt. Each member of the competing lacrosse and baseball clubs must be a bona fide member of the team of which he is a player. The games must be played on Riverside Park every Saturday, which is a spot well adapted for athletic sports, being nicely laid out and convenient to the town. Further particulars will be made known on application to Mr. Calcutt.

RIVER AND LAKE RIPLETS.

(From Our Own Correspondent

The steamer Daisy is being loaded to-day by Messrs. Matthews & Sons at the Wolfe street dock with pork and lard, which is billed to Port Harwood, Rice Lake.

The grounds in and about Jubilee Point summer resort are being cleaned up in general and, at the same time, the hotel is undergoing a thorough overhauling. Everything will be in readiness for business by May 1st.

An Indian who had his traps set for muskrats, minks, etc., etc., was somewhat surprised when he discovered two wood ducks, which were of the "feathered tribe and which should be of the furry" Evidently they were navigating for a meal and were entrapped in so doing. They were humanely allowed to go as the Indian thought they were too scant to pluck and invited them to call again some future day.

Mr. Alex. Patterson paid Hiawatha a flying visit on business yesterday and says the ice is almost if not entirely out of the lake.

The Gun Club had a pop on the River side Park yesterday afternoon.

Painters are busily engaged in putting on the second coat of paint on and about the hull of the new steamer, City of Peterborough. Carpenters are engaged fitting up the main deck, etc., with all possible speed, so as to have things in readiness by May 1st.

ST. JOHN'S SOUTH WARD MISSION.

A Pleasant Congregational Reunion to Welcome Rev. E. W. Pickford.

An informal gathering of the congregation of the South Ward St. John's mission took place last night to welcome Rev. E. W. Pickford, the new assistant curate, to his pastorate. There was a large gathering of the congregation, including several of the members of the congregation of St. John's. Rev. Mr. Davidson, rector, presided, and after prayers, presented a statement of the financial condition of the congregation, which was very satisfactory, there being a balance in the hands of the treasurer, Miss Rubidge, of $121. The report was, on motion, unanimously adopted. It is fortunate that the finances of the mission are in such a comfortable condition, as there are certain needed improvements, including the ceiling of the basement and the grading, seeding and fencing of the grounds, which was referred to the men's union. A cordial vote of thanks was passed to Miss Rubidge, treasurer, for the excellent manner in which she had discharged the onerous duties of her position. Rev. Mr. Pickford gave a brief address and was most cordially welcomed. Mr. R. Fair, rector's churchwarden, St. John's, spoke a few words of congratulation and encouragement. The gathering then took on a social character, the company forming conversational groups, while Rev. Mr. Pickford and Mrs. Pickford moved about forming acquaintances and—judging by their geniality and sociability—friends. The ladies of the congregation provided excellent refreshments, which were served during the latter part of the evening, and at ten o'clock the singing of "Sun of My Soul" and the benediction brought a most enjoyable evening to a close.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

agree that the use of a liver pill after dinner, or to accomplish special results, is an important step in civilization. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are better than other liver pills in almost every respect. They're the smallest, easiest to take, most natural in the way they act; cheapest, because guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money returned. We all have weak spots. Generally it's the liver. An active liver prevents impurities and poisons from entering the blood. "Pleasant Pellets" have a tonic effect upon the liver and the general system. They cure Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Dizzy Spells, Sick Headache, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels.

THE COUNTRY PAPER.

ONE OF THEM SETS FORTH ITS FIELD AND MISSION.

A Comprehensive Review of the Entire Ground—The City Paper and Its Work—The Supplementary Work of the Journals of Smaller Towns.

As every one knows, it is the business of a newspaper to collect and distribute news. If this statement covered the case there would be no occasion for the existence of any but the city paper, which, by reason of the supporting power of the thousands, hundreds of thousands or millions of people within the range of its influence—which is not only the city in which it is published but the towns and country districts transacting business with it and therefore interested in its affairs, as the city is interested in the affairs of those with whom it deals—is enabled to give incomparably more news for less money than the paper which, not having so large a field, and therefore a smaller support, cannot avail itself of the same wholesale means of collecting news or the labor saving appliances which allow the reproduction of that news at the lowest possible cost.

But just as the news of one city and its surroundings is not what chiefly interests another city of like size with its surroundings—which therefore supports a paper or set of papers—so the news that is furnished by the city paper is not the news that the resident of a country town chiefly wishes to hear. It is of greater and more immediate importance to him to know even the minor events that are occurring in his own neighborhood than to know those that occur in the far off city, or other country place. This news he can not get in the city paper, and the necessity for its supply is the cause of the existence of the country newspaper. To supply the news of the locality fully and fairly is the business of the country paper and if it does that it gives as good value for its cost as the city paper does, although the amount of news given and the importance of the events noted are not nearly so great. It would be as unreasonable to ask from a country paper the quantity of reading matter and news that is found in a city paper for the same price as it would be to expect nails to be made at the blacksmith shop as cheaply as they are turned out at the factory. Iron work that can be made at a factory can be made much more cheaply than in a blacksmith shop, but some kinds of work must be done at the blacksmith shop and the necessity for that work is such as to warrant the payment of prices far higher than would be paid for a like amount of factory work. But a newspaper has to perform other work than merely furnish news. It is expected to hold opinions and to advance arguments in support of those opinions. Its opinions and arguments are expected to bear directly on the welfare of the locality in which it is published. In this department the greater value of the local paper to its locality as compared with the value of the city paper to the same locality can be clearly seen. No doubt if the city paper could be induced to advocate the interests of any single one of the outlying towns in range of its influence it could do more good than the local paper published there could But that is not what the city paper is published for. It is expected to pay chief attention to the interests of the city, and if it deals with outlying places at all it is expected by its chief patrons to do so only from the interests of the city of its publication. If the people of any locality want their interests to be pushed through the press it must be by papers devoted solely to their interests—or in other words by papers which they support. The value of the country paper to its subscribers is not to be reckoned by a comparison of cost with city papers, but by considering whether it fulfills its mission of gathering local news and advocating local interests satisfactorily.

If the paper of an ordinary country town has a clearly defined and useful field in which it gives value for its cost, much more so has the paper published in a pioneer town: one whose growth, if not its very existence, depends upon its being kept prominently and favorably before the public. It is far more than ordinarily important that its news should be chronicled in such shape that it will be widely read, understood and believed, and that its interests will be advocated with a single eye to its welfare and with all possible ability and vigor. The newspaper of a town is its outward manifestation. It is what those who have not seen the place will judge it by and will form their impressions of it from. If it is bright, newsy and vigorous it will create a favorable impression and outsiders may size up the town and country as better than they look and will have confidence in them accordingly.

So much as to the value of a newspaper to the community at large. Its value to subscribers need not be dwelt upon, as that is to a great extent self evident. Every person wants to hear the news. It is to his interest that he should know what is going on around him. To find this out men gather in shops, stores and hotels, or travel miles and miles to each other's houses and spend hours in discussing a tenth part of the interesting items they would find in each issue of a well conducted local paper; which would not occupy ten minutes to read. The man who reads and keeps posted has a great advantage over the man who does not.

While the value of a subscription is almost self-evident, in bulk of paper if nothing else, the value of newspaper advertising is not so clear. To many business men it seems like paying out money for nothing to keep a notice of their business in the columns of the paper. The value of an advertisement varies with circumstances. But it may be taken as a general principal that a business announcement is of like value to the putting up of a prominent sign, the erection of attractive premises or the occupation of a good stand. It would not pay a peanut dealer to occupy premises or a situation such as would be necessary for the dry goods merchant; and just so one line of business will not get as good a return from extensive advertising as another; or an amount of advertising that would be good business for one firm would be extravagant on the part of another. It must be evident, however, that if it is an assistance to business to hang out a sign, to have suitable premises, or to occupy a good position, it cannot be less an assistance to keep the business prominently before the eyes of present or prospective customers by means of an advertisement in the newspaper. Of course the value of the newspaper as an advertising medium depends greatly upon whether or not the people whom it is desired to reach read it, upon the number of readers, whether they read it with interest or not, and upon the methods in which the advertisements are displayed. Given the favorable side of the conditions mentioned and there can not be any other means of bringing a business to the favorable attention of the public equal to the newspaper, for the money which it costs. Especially is this the case in a district such as this, where new settlers are coming in and new businesses are being established. The day when every one knew every one else, and people knew more about each other's business than they did about their own is gone, and the business man is compelled either to advertise through the newspaper, or take some more expensive means of keeping his business in the public eye. The value of newspaper advertising depends more upon the value of the medium used and the method in which the advertisement is handled than upon its actual cost; for money may be thrown away in advertising as easily as in anything else.—Edmonton Bulletin.

Wood Pulp Workers and the Tariff.

MERRITTON, March 31.—Much indignation is felt here over the clause in the new tariff placing wood pulp on the free list. This is the principal industry here and employs over $500,000 of capital and 200 hands. It is felt that the clause strikes a fatal blow at the business, as the Americans impose a heavy duty on the article.

An African Prince.

What do you think of this for a name? Eyo Ekpenyon Eyo II. That, however, is the name of an African prince taken by an Englishman to Liverpool to be educated, and now he is so cold, shivering all day over the fire, he asks but for one thing in the world—to go back to Africa, where once he went about in bare feet and sunshine to his heart's content.

CORPORATE OWNERSHIP

A PACIFIC COAST STATESMAN'S LECTURE ON THIS THEME.

The Electric Light System of New Westminster, British Columbia, is Owned by the Municipality—Figures Showing This Plan in Comparison With Private Plants.

At a recent meeting in Victoria, B.C., J. C. Brown, M.P.P., said he would not discuss the electric light system of Victoria, but merely tell them of the system of Westminster. He would deal with the matter from an abstract proposition. A tramp had a placard on his back and was sitting by the wayside. The placard read: "Pity the blind!" A fellow tramp accused him of being a fraud. The placarded tramp denied playing false. He simply suggested an abstract idea, to have pity on the blind. Services operated by the community should be owned by the community. Every man was entitled to a vote in civic management whether or not he owned property. The man with property was at the mercy of his fellow citizens. If the people in Victoria decided to leave the city how much would corner lots be worth? Land was worth what value the community gave it. Was it right for the community to do public work, and did it pay? What was right for the individual was right for a number of individuals—a community. The legislature was recognizing this principle and gave additional powers to municipalities. These public services controlled by private companies were in the nature of monopolies, and to protect the community they should be under public control. Matters of health and the welfare of the community must not be narrowed down too much to a paying basis. Did the postal service pay? No; and yet none thought of giving it over to a private company. Westminster had a fine water service at a cost of $400,000. It was not paying now but it would do so in the long run. The speaker knew that the citizens of that town would not sell the water works. The electric lighting of Westminster was done by the city. The city did the street lighting and the private and business lighting. Everything in connection with the electric lighting system is owned by the city, and the citizens were not ashamed to acknowledge it. It had cost $116,000, and the system could be sold easily for a quarter of a million dollars. It was in January, 1891, that the street lighting system was inaugurated, but it was not until August of the same year that the revenue producing portion of the system was inaugurated. The city buildings were lighted by the city's own plant. The revenue producing part of the system had been kept back a little by the depression that prevailed. The electric light committee received from the council 25 cents a light a night, which totals $8,000. The net cost for each lamp was 20 cents a light a night. In Nanaimo it cost 37 cents, Vancouver 43 cents and in Victoria between 33 and 34 cents. Nanaimo and Vancouver were lighted by private companies. Victoria owned only its street lights, while Westminster owned its street and revenue producing lights. So it was seen that it paid for a city to own its own light. When the system was in full running order the city would have its own light and the system would put $2,000 a year in the treasury if present rates were charged. In the dwelling houses there were 1,400 lights, and those using them say they are cheaper and better than coal oil. It cost him in his house $3.50 a month all the year round. There were no coal oil lamps to knock over and no foul air from the light. Although Westminster had only half the population of Victoria (6,000) it had as much candle power in its streets, and, in fact, it was the best lighted city in the province and one of the best lighted cities on the coast. Lamps were placed wherever they were needed. Being a public service, it was freely criticized. The experience of Victoria and Westminster showed that a city could be lighted better and more cheaply when the system is owned by the city. There are many other advantages obtained by civic ownership of the electric light system. In public ownership the comfort and convenience of the public are considered, while in private ownership the chief consideration is for the dividends of the company. In public ownership the rates were made to suit all. He did not believe the contention that good management could not be secured by the cities. Good management could easily be obtained. The electric light system of Victoria, considering the plant, had been well managed. Communities had rights as well as individuals, and the rights of communities had to be recognized. Railway companies obtained rights on the ground that they were going to be the servants of the public, but in these days they generally became the masters.

Disregarding Fashion.

Those who are beginning to distress themselves over the rumors of the near advent of ringlets must bear in mind that women of to-day are more independent about listening to the voice of vogue than their mothers were. Ten years ago a decree like the late crinoline mandate would hardly have been disobeyed as that has been. But modern femininity has no intention of making itself ridiculous. The artistic spirit that came in on the return wave after æstheticism receded seems to be responsible for the change. Nowadays every woman has a picturesque ideal that she doesn't propose to mar. She will still suffer in fashion's cause—notice her clad in whalebone armor hobbling about on French heels—but she will no longer assume a garb she considers distinctly ugly. Therefore we may be sure that the threatened curls will materialize into some captivating fluffy creation as unlike as possible to the lackadaisical shoestring ringlets of Mrs. Browning's day.—New York Herald.

The End of the World.

Everybody, especially scientists, has a different view of what the end of the world will be like. Here are six views on the subject, which have emanated from scientists during the last few years:

1. The land surface is diminishing; then the human race will finally be drowned.

2. Ice is gradually accumulating at the North Pole, so that some day the earth will lose its equilibrium and men will be utterly annihilated by the rush of moving objects.

3. The earth is moving towards the sun; the last man will finally be roasted alive.

4. Water is by degrees becoming scarcer; in ages to come all beings, human and bestial, will perish with thirst.

5. The beginning of the year 3,000, man will retrograde; in the end they will be creatures no larger than an insect.

6. The sun is burning up; as Old Sol cools, and earth's glacial zones will enlarge and humanity will be frozen to death.—New York World.

Rheumatism racks the system like a thumbscrew. It retreats before the power of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies the blood.

REAL ESTATE NOTES.

The Austro-Hungarian empire has 4,996,000 houses, of which 2,996,000 are in Austria.

In 1821 Great Britain had 3,572,000 houses, whose rental value was £30,000,000; now there are 7,100,000 houses; rental value, £134,700,000.

The first United States census, taken in 1790, gives the value of real estate at $479,000,000; of houses and personal property at $141,000,000.

The highest price paid for property in London until 1886 was 1,285 square feet on Old Broad street, sold for £37,000; £1,260,000 an acre, or $6,300,000.

In 1660 the land of Great Britain constituted 57 per cent. of the country's wealth and was valued at £250,000,000. Land was then worth £5 an acre.

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

A decree has been published in Rome announcing the beatification of Joan of Arc.

The self-denial week of the Salvation Army in Canada resulted in the collection of $22,000, being an increase of nearly $3,000 above that of last year.

It is estimated that no less than $100,000 reached the treasuries of the missionary societies during 1893 from the Christian Endeavor societies in the various denominational churches.

The total revenue of the Church of England is £5,753,557, derived as follows: Lands, £1,871,107; tithe rent charges, £2,968,352; house and ground rents, £505,423; minerals, £269,855; rent charges on estates, etc., £161,915; dividends and interest, $301,644; other receipts, £153,390.

WISDOM.

Life is before you; not earthly life alone, but life—a thread running interminably through the warp of eternity.—J. G. Holland.

Others will judge you, not by what you can be, but by what you are; but you must judge yourself, not by what you are, but by what you can be.—Ivan Panin.

Character cannot be made permanent on a false foundation. The life that is true in its principles and motives and is built in righteousness, will endure; all else will fail.

Man's unhappiness, as I construe it, comes of his greatness; it is because there is an infinite in him, which, with all his cunning, he cannot quite bury under the finite.—Thomas Carlyle.

An Accurate Description.

"Dear," asked Mrs. Wickwire, looking up from her paper, "what does this paper mean by referring to 'the superfluous woman?' What is a superfluous woman?" "In our engagement days," answered Mr. Wickwire, "the superfluous woman was your younger sister."

She Knew.

Detective—Yes, I've got the description of the missing jewelry written down all right. Now how much money did the fellow take? Mr. Bilius—I don't know exactly, Maria, my dear, how much money was there in my pockets last night?

Disastrous.

"It never pays to bet with a woman," said the young man with a sad face.

"Why; isn't she good pay as a rule?"

"Oh, yes. She always insists on paying. And then she goes away and hates you for life."

A Warranted Exclamation.

Expressions of great surprise are hardly in good form, yet when some penniless fellow marries a rich farmer's daughter people may be pardoned for exclaiming "For the land's sake!"

Short and to the Point.

A station agent of a railroad in Iowa has put the following placard on the clock: "This is a clock; it is running; it is Chicago time; it is right; it is set every day at 10 o'clock. Now keep your mouths shut."

A Plausible Theory.

A French savant declares that fishes can talk. This may be so, but all the fish we ever became acquainted with were silent. Possibly they were dumfounded at the lies that the fishermen told about them.

Disappeared from Niagara.

NIAGARA, Ont., April 4.—Quite a little excitement was aroused yesterday when it was found that Frank Ascher, boot and shoe merchant, and Tom Silence, a laborer and pensioner, both of this town, were missing. When last seen they were walking together on the railroad track on Sunday morning toward Clifton. No cause can be assigned for Silence's disappearance. Ascher, it is thought, is heavily in debt. Both men are married and leave wives behind them.

Parnellites Want Dissolution.

DUBLIN, April 4.—At a meeting of the Parnellite section of the Irish National party yesterday, John Redmond made a speech, in which he declared that home rule would be in no worse position than it is now than if the Tories were to come into power. A resolution was passed urging all members of the Irish party to devote their energies to bringing about an early dissolution of Parliament.

Fisheries Inspector Brickwood Gets Letters From all Over the Dominion Asking for Particulars About Dodd's Kidney Pills Curing Him of Chronic Rheumatism.

KINGSTON, April 2.—Enquiry develope the fact that the story of J. H. Brickwood's wonderful cure of his rheumatism by Dodd's Kidney Pills has brought him notoriety. Mr. Brickwood daily receives letters from all quarters of Canada asking further particulars of his cure. He invariably answers that after all other remedies failed, Dodd's Kidney Pills restored him to health. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy in pill form ever offered the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations. Purchasers for their own safety should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes; price fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50 To be had of all dealers.

THOUGHTS ON MARRIAGE.

Married in haste, we repent at leisure.—Congreve.

Humble wedlock is far better than proud virginity.—Augustine.

A husband is a plaster that cures all the ills of girlhood.—Moliere.

Men marry to make an end, woman to make a beginning.—A. Dupuy.

A man finds himself seven years older the day after his marriage.—Bacon.

No man can either live piously or die righteously without a wife.—Richter.

Take not too short a time to make a world-wide bargain in.—Shakespeare.

Never marry but for love, but see that thou lovest what is lovely.—Penn.

For any man to match above his rank is but to sell his liberty.—Massinger.

A person's character is but half formed till after wedlock.—C. Simmons.

Wedlock's like wine, not properly judged of till the second glass.—Jerrold.

It is in vain that a man is born fortunate if he be unfortunate in his marriage.—Dasier.

Men should keep their eyes wide open before marriage and half shut afterward.—Mme. Souderi.

Fathers their children and themselves abuse, that wealth a husband for their daughters choose.—Shirley.

Marriage with a good woman is a harbor in the tempest of life; with a bad woman it is a tempest in a harbor.—J. P. Senu.

As the husband is, the wife is; if mated with a clown, the grossness of his nature will have weight to drag thee down.—Tennyson.

The kindest and the happiest pair will find occasion to forbear, and something every day they live to pity and perhaps forgive.—Cowper.

THE DAY'S FASHIONS.

The market is full of eccentricities and vagaries in the way of gloves, but, all the same, conservative trade demands strictly plain styles, with almost invisible stitching.

Evening bonnets of flowers and lace are the tiniest creations imaginable. One pretty model is of rosettes of lace with flowers. The ribbon strings cross in front and are tied in long loops and ends at the back of the neck.

For wear with spring dresses, there are velvet collars, edged with galloon or lace. Collars are for the most part made with double ruffles and are very elaborate affairs. A standing collar, slightly flaring, is the usual neck finish.

A pretty conceit, in high favor among young women, is dresses and hats to match. A pink-and-white batiste, trimmed with lace and ribbons, has a Leghorn hat with pink velvet and apple blossoms. The brim is faced with shirred crepon, and pinched up in scallops all around.

A handsome costume for spring is made of navy blue and coffee brown camel's hair. The skirt is of blue, with panel of the brown elaborately trimmed with narrow blue braid. The fitted waist of brown has blue sleeves and brown shoulder ruffles. Rows of narrow braid are set at the hem of the skirt.

HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES.

To remove egg stains from spoons rub with moist salt.

If straw matting be washed over with salt and water it will look like new.

A little salt in the water in which flowers are placed will help to keep them fresh for a long time.

To remove claret stains put salt on immediately and thickly over the place. Rinse in cold water before washing.

A teaspoonful of salt in a glass of water is a cure in many stomach troubles, relieving colic and helping indigestion.

Vinegar and water in equal proportions, and as hot as can be borne, is a physician's remedy for outward application in cases of sprain or strain.

Nothing will give such a polish to glass, even the finest, as slightly moist newspaper to wash it and dry newspaper to give the finishing touches.

If carpets be sprinkled with salt before sweeping, it will be found that not so much dust will arise, and that the carpets are wonderfully brightened.

If tea be ground like coffee or crushed immediately before hot water is poured upon it, it will yield nearly double the amount of its exhilarating qualities.

The Marked Success

Which attended the formal opening of our New Millinery and Mantle Department has been a matter of sincere congratulation and encouragement—far in excess of our highest expectations.

The special efforts we put forth to excel has amply repaid us and we are pleased to know that our beautiful display has evoked so much favourable comment from the Ladies.

We take this opportunity of thanking the large number of ladies who daily patronized our Show Rooms, not only for the many liberal orders they favoured us with, but for their kind words and flattering preferences for our exhibition over all others.

The Good Start

which we have made in our Millinery and Mantle Department will be an incentive to continued efforts to excel. The array of Rich and Beautiful Millinery will be fully maintained throughout the season, and as fast as new novelties appear or favourite lines become exhausted, we will be prompt in ordering.

Big War Imminent in Central America.

NEW YORK, April 6.—A special from San Salvador says a general revolution in all the Central American countries is believed to be imminent. Orders have been given to the military force to maintain the strictest guard on the frontiers. The entire army has orders to be ready to march at any moment. There are indications that Nicaragua is trying to foment trouble in Costa Rica in order to have a pretext for seizing that country.

Army Recruits Riot.

BERLIN, April 6.—A despatch from Insterburg says that army recruits in Gross-Berschkallen started a riot there yesterday. Five persons were killed and many more were injured. Four leaders of the rioters were arrested.

Sheriff Killed by a Negro.

THE RULING MARKETS

TORONTO, April 6, 1894.

Toronto security market firm and active.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—Wheat unchanged, 200 bushels selling at 62c for white, at 61c for red and at 58½c for goose. Barley sold at 48c for two loads, and peas at 63½c for one load. Oats easier, 400 bushels selling at 39 to 41c.

All the excitement of the day in Chicago wheat was crowded into the last half hour of the session. The opening was easier. Near the close St. Louis came in the market as a buyer, which frightened the local shorts and caused a rally of 2c, the market closing strong with a net gain for May of 1 5 8. Corn was strong, closing with a net gain of 1 to 1 1-8c for the day.

The loan crowd on Wall street shows increased demand for stock. The quo-warranto proceedings are decided against Distillers. It is intimated that a proposition will soon be made to fund the floating debt of Mo. P. into a trust bond. The buying of D. and H. is attributed to shorts and others for election purposes. Opinion is very much divided, but it is thought that the buying of Mo. P. has been for Gould.

Prices seemed to be controlled again by the same mysterious willingness to buy which has puzzled professional speculators all the week. When current trading at intervals grows active and prices yield all men can see who guides the selling. In other words "The Bears" are in the plainest public view. Towards the close of the day's market a tone of actual strength seemed to be developed.

CHARLOTTE STREET LADIES' "AT HOME."

A Pleasing Programme and Enjoyable Informal Social Evening at the Church Parsonage—A Successful Entertainment.

From past history, supplemented by the admittedly successful entertainment and "at home," held last evening, it is a universally recognized fact that the ladies of the Charlotte street Methodist church never undertake anything in a half-hearted or indifferent manner, and whatever they turn their attention to invariably proves a resultant success beyond the most sanguine expectation of its enthusiastic promoters. The delightful "at home" held in Charlotte street church parsonage, on Reid street last evening was thoroughly enjoyed by the large number who attended. The arrangements were capital, the programme sterling in its merit and sparkling in its variety, while a pleasing informality and easiness of feeling characterized the proceedings throughout. Mr. R. J. Kidd kindly consented to supervise the numbers on the programme. The Charlotte Street Church Sunday school orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. F. W. Millar, played many sweet and well tuned selections in a very artistic manner, which earned for the musicians recall upon recall. The orchestra's overture, entitled "The Mystic Spell," gave the auditors a foretaste of the treat that was in store for them. Among their many other selections were "Loves' Dream" and "Inspiration." The instrumental solo by Miss Rose Clarke was contributed with splendid touch and technique. The church choir, in their rendering of a chorus, afforded much enjoyment by the taste and spirit in which it was given. Mr. J. H. Jones in his violin selections was very cordially received and his skilful playing, fine bowing and artistic interpretation of his selections made him appear to excellent advantage. His first number was "Staccato Polka," which was superbly given, and in answer to a well-earned recall, Mr. Jones kindly responded with an inspiriting selection. The Harmony Club appeared in several meritorious numbers and their melodious selections were well received. The musicians were recalled several times and generously replied. The pianoforte solo by Miss Clarke, organist of the Charlotte street church, proved her to be an instrumentalist of ability and talent. Miss Fawcett in her vocal numbers was heard to fine advantage and her rich soprano voice was never used more impressively. The well known trio, Messrs. Squires, Steers and Wesley favoured the audience with a selection in their usual captivating style. The instrumental trio by Misses Morris, Hurley and Kennedy was another taking number and was heartily received. Misses Clara and Annie Belleghem sang sweetly and tastefully in their duet, and had to respond to the invariable recall with which they ard always greeted. The last number on the programme, but certainly not least in point of enjoyment, merit or power, was the vocal solo by Mr. Whyte, who accompanied himself with good effect upon the guitar. Mr. Whyte's singing was much appreciated: his first number was "O Hearts That are Sad and Broken," and his encore number was a humourous minstrel melody, "Cookies on the Lower Shelf." The members of the Charlotte street church Ladies' Aid Society wish to cordially thank Mr. White for his kindness in consenting to sing, he having attended the "At Home" at the close of the service in the Murray street Baptist church.

The evening's accompaniments were given with precision and care by Misses Clarke, M. McCabe and V. Belleghem.

Light refreshments were served during the evening of delight which was reluctantly brought to a close by the singing of "God Save the Queen," accompanied by the orchestra.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

Carolina's Liquor Troubles.

COLUMBIA, S.C., April 6.—Quite a sensation was caused here by the receipt from a correspondent in Darlington, a very reliable man, of the following despatch: "I have received information from a source entirely trustworthy that a decision in the dispensary cases has already been drawn up and has been signed by Justices McIver and McGowan, and been sent to Justice Pope, in whose hands it remains. It declared the act unconstitutional, but whether in whole or in part I could not ascertain." If this is true, there is absolutely no more danger of any liquor troubles in South Carolina. The court has been charged with causing the present trouble in delaying its decision.

DARLINGTON, S.C., April 6.—The spies who came in to give their testimony at the inquest were hustled off on a special train yesterday morning. When they were disarmed previous to giving their testimony, forty-three revolvers were taken from the eighteen men. The inquest was made by an order from the Governor.

Attempted to Defeat Justice.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The Herald gives the details of a bold attempt which was made by means of the wholesale use of money to prevent the conviction of John Y. McKane and the other indicted Gravesenders. The chief feature in the revelation is that a determined attempt was made to bribe, not only one jury, but all the juries which might have been drawn and that the attempt was partially successful. Thanks to the incorruptibility of the majority of the McKane jury, the scheme was laid bare in time to prevent a miscarriage of justice. The names of the men who have confessed are not mentioned in the article, but the Herald says the confession was made in writing in the presence of witnesses.

Major Le Caron's Pension.

LONDON, April 6.—The Star says that before Major Henry Le Caron, the government spy, took the witness stand before the Parnell Commission to give testimony against Mr. Parnell and his associates, he entered into an agreement with representatives of the London Times, the terms of which were that he should have a life annuity of £1,000 and that his life should be insured for £20,000 for the benefit of his backers. The provisions of this contract, the Star says, were strictly carried out, but whether the Times paid all of the annuity and the premiums on the insurance policies or whether the Government assumed part of the obligation, is not known.

Goodrich's Trial Begins.

CHICAGO, April 6.—The trial of Charles Goodrich, charged with the murder of Mrs. Mary Cron in Wilmette last November, was begun in Judge Sears' court yesterday. Frank Wheeler, son-in-law of the deceased, was present with Messrs. Taylor & Pierson, his attorneys, who with the assistant states attorney, Mr. Knight, represented the prosecution. An ineffectual attempt was made by the attorneys for the young prisoner to have the case passed to the regular call, but the court sustained the motion of the prosecution to advance the case for immediate trial. The day was spent in securing a jury.

Political Turn-Over in Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, April 6.—Rhode Island State elections show a political landslide and turnover without a parallel. In the last election the Democrats had sixteen members of the House and fourteen Senators, now they have three representatives and three senators. Dr. Garvin, Democrat, of Cumberland, advocate of the nine-hour bill and persistent agitator of labor reform laws, has been defeated, and by the votes of workingmen. Col. Samuel R. Honey, Democrat of Newport, the House leader, has been downed by his own party. Democratic strongholds have turned over. Gloucester, never before Republican, breaks its record.

Four Men Drowned.

COLUMBUS, Ga., April 6.—Four men were drowned in the Chatanoochie river, opposite this city, yesterday, while fishing, by the capsizing of the boat.

Indian Fights in Oklahoma.

EL RENO, Ok., April 6.—Troop B has followed troop K to the scene of the trouble between cattlemen and Indians in the Cheyenne and Arapahoe country. Couriers say the fight still continues. When troop B reached the scene a hot skirmish was in progress. The soldiers took a hand in the fight, and one white man and four braves were added to the list of seven dead. The latest rumor is that the Indians are gathering in large numbers. There is a prospect of a brief but bloody war. It is claimed that if the Cheyennes and Arapahoes, who number 300 at this agency, were to go on the war-path, they would be joined by the Apaches, Comanches and Kiowas, who number thousands. Col. George Purrington, commander at Fort Reno, says the cause of the outbreak was the killing of an Indian by two white men in a quarrel over the ownership of a pony.

Eleven Men Killed.

BRESLAU, April 6.—By the caving in of one of the shafts of the Koschlen mine, near this city, yesterday, eleven men were killed and a large number injured.

Approved of the Steamship Subsidy.

QUEBEC, April 5.—The Quebec Board of Trade in a recent meeting adopted resolutions approving of the subsidy which the Federal Government intends granting to fast Atlantic service.

Mary Ann Connolly Guilty.

HALIFAX, April 5.—In the Supreme Court yesterday Mary Ann Connolly was found guilty of shooting and wounding Harry J. Wellner, commercial traveller, with intent to kill. Sentence was deferred.

The Jews.

Rabbi Isaac M. Wise, who is trying to find out how many Jews there are in the world, has come to the conclusion that there are over 14,000,000 of them. There are other computations which put the number at nearly 20,000,000. The belief has hitherto widely prevailed that the number did not exceed 7,000,000.

Rich Gold Mines.

The gold mines of Peru were so rich that Atahualpa, to buy his ransom, filled a room 22 feet by 17 to a height of 9 feet with gold vessels. When melted they produced $15,480,710 worth of gold.

Fayal Lace.

Few ladies know that the beautiful lace known as Fayal lace is made from the fibres of leaves of the bitter aloe, a relative of the common century plant. This lace is manufactured by women, and the necessary skill is so rarely attained that there are but about twenty-five persons on the islands—the Azores—who can make it. The art needs to be practiced from childhood. In that respect it is like glass-blowing among men. The art cannot be acquired late in life—that is, the kind of glass-blowing practiced in manufactories of glass for commercial use.

Mrs. Smith, 324 Wellington St., Hamilton, Ont., says: "We have found SCOTT'S COMPRESS CURE an invaluable remedy in our family."

CARRIED TO THE WINDS

Are the Suspicions of the Opposition That Their Desks Were Robbed.

THE REQUIRED INVESTIGATION

Reveals Nothing More Suspicious Than the Reliability of an Honorable Gentleman's Memory—Government Bills Read a Second Time.

TORONTO, April 7.—On the orders of the day being called in the Legislature yesterday, Hon. Mr. Harcourt rose to make a statement with respect to the alleged tampering with desks. He said that it appeared that during the recent debate on the outbreak of tuberculosis at the Guelph farm, Mr. Glendenning and other members quoted from a letter written by Professor Robertson. A reporter of the Empire staff sent to Mr. Glendenning asking to be allowed to look at the document. The letter was sent to the reporter, who inadvertently retained it in his pocket for some days, when he had it placed on Mr. Glendenning's desk, enclosed in a letter, and marked, "returned with thanks." Mr. Glendenning was absent at the time, and, on finding the letter on his desk, did not remember the occurrence. The caretaker of the House was of the opinion that there was no deliberate attempt to force their desks open. The locks were old, and had been so often repaired that they were easily put out of order. He might say that a member of the Government side had had his desk opened, but upon what day he did not know. However, the matter was not so serious as it looked on the face of it, and still further attempts were being made to clear the matter up.

Mr. Glendenning said he remembered the circumstances as described by Mr. Harcourt, but said there were other papers, including a letter marked private, which were taken and not returned.

The matter was allowed to drop.

Messengers of the House.

Mr. Meredith objected to the practice of appointing messengers of the House on a memorandum of the Provincial Treasurer, which he considered was in violation of the rules of the House.

Sir Oliver Mowat replied in effect that the Government had not violated the spirit of the regulations, and that the present practice had been followed ever since his Government had been in power.

University Lots.

Hon. Mr. Ross, in reply to Mr. White, said the Government was considering the question of taking the necessary steps to restore to the University of Toronto the lots on College street leased in 1890 to the Park Hospital Trust for 999 years for hospital purposes.

To Exempt Gas and Electric Appliances.

Mr. Waters moved the second reading of Mr. O'Connor's bill to amend the Assessment Act by exempting the plant and appliances of gas and electric companies and providing that a telephone company, whose head office is not within the province of Ontario, should be assessed upon the net profits earned in such municipality, available towards dividends for shareholders.

A discussion followed, in which opinions for and against the bill were expressed, after which the bill was allowed to go to a second reading.

Dr. Gilmour's bill to amend the Act imposing a tax on dogs, and for the protection of sheep, was read a second time.

Coroners' Fees.

The House went into committee on a resolution regarding coroners' fees. Mr. Clancy urged that provision should be made for the payment of fees to coroners' juries. There was widespread complaint in regard to the law at present, which required persons often at very short notice to serve on three enquiries without receiving any compensation.

Sir Oliver Mowat promised to consider the point.

The resolution was reported.

Received Second Readings.

Sir Oliver Mowat's bill to provide for the appointment of deputy police magistrates in cities was read a second time.

Hon. Mr. Ross' bill to provide for the final settlement of the common school fund was read a second time.

Government Printing.

Hon. Mr. Harcourt moved the concurrence of the House in the agreement bearing date on the 1st day of January, 1894, and expressed to be made between John R. Barber, of the village of Georgetown, trading under the name and style of William Barber & Bros., and to furnish all the supply of printing papers required by the Government of the province of Ontario for the five years ending on the 31st day of December, 1898.

Mr. Meredith asked for information concerning the contract, observing that a superficial examination would lead to the conclusion that the lowest tender was not accepted.

Hon. Mr. Harcourt replied that the present contract was lower by some $9,000 than the last, and was less than the next lowest tender by nearly $16,000. He did not rely upon his own analysis of the figures sent in, nor did he act solely upon the report of the Queen's printer. It was hoped by using a cheaper quality of paper to make a further saving in addition to that obtained from the new contract.

The motion was concurred in.

Beds of Harbors.

Mr. Meredith enquired whether any settlement had been reached as to the question at dispute between the Dominion and the province regarding the ownership of the foreshores and waterlots and the bed of harbors.

Sir Oliver said he had forgotten exactly how the matter stood, but it did not rest with him. However, he would look into the question and inform the House.

Regarding Returns.

Mr. Marter drew attention to a return laid before the House in regard to the number and the cost of commissions since confederation, which he said was so incorrect as to be utterly valueless.

Hon. Mr. Gibson could not understand how the errors complained of could have occurred.

The House adjourned until Monday.

Killed While Coupling Cars.

OTTAWA, April 7.—S. Croteau, a brakesman on the Canada Atlantic railway, while coupling cars at Bearbrook was fatally crushed, and died of his injuries on reaching the city. The remains were taken to his home at Archville.

Died in Her Kitchen.

BRIGHT, Ont., April 7.—Mrs. Peter W. Bristow was found dead in her kitchen last evening. She had evidently fallen against the stove, as there was a small wound on her forehead.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

New Bills Introduced—Limited Franchise for Women.

OTTAWA, April 7.—In the House of Commons yesterday the following bills were read a first time:

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper—To amend the Harbor Masters Act.

Mr. Davin—To revive and amend the Brandon & Southwestern Railway Company.

Mr. Baker—Respecting the Montreal & Ottawa Railway Company.

Mr. McKay—To incorporate the Welland Power and Supply Canal Company, Limited.

Mr. Kenny—To authorize the purchase of the Yarmouth & Annapolis Railway Company by the Windsor & Annapolis Railway Company, and to change the name of the latter to the Dominion Atlantic Railway Company.

Mr. Mulock—To incorporate the Northern Life Assurance Company.

Mr. Mara—Respecting the New Westminster and Buzzard Inlet Telephone Company.

Mr. Davis—Respecting the Calgary Irrigation Company.

Hon. Mr. Daly—To make further provision respecting grants of land to members of the militia force in active service in the Northwest.

To Amend the Franchise Act.

Mr. Dickey moved the first reading of his bill to amend the Electoral Franchise Act. The bill, which provides for female suffrage to a limited extent, was read a first time.

Importations of Corn.

Mr. McMullen asked the number of bushels of corn imported and ground into human food on which a rebate of duty was made during the present year, 1892-3.

Hon. Mr. Wallace—676,763 bushels.

Charlton as a Commercial Unionist.

Dr. Sproule, on a question of privilege, read an extract from a speech of Mr. Charlton to show that he (Mr. Charlton) was a commercial unionist.

Customs Seizures.

Mr. Charlton asked several questions regarding certain crown customs seizures made in the year 1892-3, and Hon. Mr. Wallace replied.

Close Fishing Season.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, in reply to Mr. Lister, said in relation to the close seasons in Ontario, from 1887 to 1893, the close season for white fish was from the 1st of November down to the 30th of November in each year; for pickerel, from the 15th of April to the 15th of May; for bass, from the 15th of April to the 15th of May. In 1894 the only change was made in connection with the close season for bass, namely, from the 10th of May to the 30th of June. There is no close season for pike, herring or sturgeon. The mesh of seines for catching whitefish is four inches, extension measure; the mesh of whitefish gill nets from four to five inches, hoop nets two and a half inches. No trap nets are allowed. Licenses for pound net fishing will be granted as usual in Lakes Huron, St. Clair and Erie; for hoop net fishing in Lakes Huron and St. Clair; for gill net fishing in Lakes Huron and Erie. No seine fishing will be allowed in Lake Huron, the river St. Clair, Lake St. Clair or the Detroit river.

Mr. Maclean (East York) resumed the debate on the budget and was followed by Hon. Mr. Davies.

After Recess.

After recess a number of private bills received second readings.

Mr. Davies continued the debate on the budget.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper followed. He pointed out what he considered some of the gross errors made by Mr. Davies in the course of his political speeches.

The House adjourned.

A Triple Tragedy.

LEBANON, Ind., April 7.—What may prove to be a triple tragedy occurred during the progress of a dance at the home of Marion Kennedy, eight miles north of this city. Among those present was Harry G. Axtell, a farmer, and his sweetheart, Josephine St. Clair. During the evening Axtell took exception to the attention paid Miss St. Clair by William Patterson, a former suitor, and after a few angry words he drew a revolver and fired two shots at the unfortunate girl, fatally wounding her. He then fired at Patterson, inflicting a dangerous wound, and before he could be prevented fired a bullet into his own brain, dying almost instantly.

Another Report from Oklahoma.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The commissioner of Indian Affairs has received the following telegram from Acting Indian Agent Woodson regarding the trouble between the cattle men and Cheyennes and Araphoe Indians from Darlington, Oklahoma: No further trouble between the whites and Indians has occurred. Newspapers persist in publishing exaggerated reports. The Indians are generally engaged in farming operations and are quiet and peaceably disposed.

Body-Diggers Strike for Higher Pay.

SPOKANE, Wash., April 7.—Over 200 men, who had been employed to dig out the dead bodies buried under hundreds of tons of snow in the recent big snowslides on Canyon Creek, in the Coeur d'Alene mining district, went on strike. The men demanded $2 per day, and were refused. There is supposed to be a large number of bodies still buried under the snow. Labor organizations all over the state have been notified not to send any men here, and there is much indignation expressed.

CRISIS ON THE ISLAND.

The Governor of Newfoundland Remains Doggedly Inexorable.

AN ATTEMPT TO CREATE A RIOT

The Members of the Whiteway Government Will Resign if the Governor Refuses Dissolution—Opposition Will Try to Form a Quorum.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., April 7.—The Governor has made no decision yet of his intention regarding the dissolution. He dismissed Surveyor-General Woods of the executive council departmental office on Wednesday. This caused strained relations to exist between the Governor and the Cabinet. An attempt was made to create a riot in Bannerman park. The police dispersed the crowd and arrested the ringleader. The Governor has telegraphed to the admiralty requesting that a warship be sent here immediately so as to be available in case of emergency. He also sent Speaker Emerson notification that Woods and Moore were unseated. Government members have remained away daily since and no quorum can be formed. It is impossible to take action. At a caucus of the Government on Thursday night every member of the party pledged himself to resign if the Governor refuses dissolution. It is believed this will compel him to dissolve as the opposition is unable to make a quorum. The Governor does not want to consent to dissolution if he possibly can avoid it. Some negotiation is in progress with the opposition, they trying to induce some unaccused Government members to join them. If they succeed they will be able to carry on a Government.

THOSE TWO PROJECTS.

Discussing the Pacific Cable and Fast Steamships in Britain.

LONDON, April 7.—At the conference with the colonial party in the House of Commons, Sir Thomas Mellwraith, Premier of Queensland, addressed the meeting at length. He insisted upon the vital importance of the proposed Pacific cable, and urged that its construction should be the joint undertaking of Great Britain and her colonies. He declared that nothing would bind the empire more closely together and asked for Imperial aid towards the proposed line of steamships.

A deputation waited upon the Marquis of Ripon, Secretary for the Colonies, when Sir Charles Tupper, High Commissioner for Canada, introduced the subject of a subsidy for the projected line of steamers between Canada and Britain and aid for the Pacific cable, both of which would remove many obstacles now preventing the colonies from trading with each other. Sir Thomas Mellwraith and Hon. Robert Reid, Trade Commissioner from Victoria, supported the contensions of Sir Charles.

Both Lord Rosebery and the Marquis of Ripon expressed sympathy with the proposed enterprise, but were very cautious in their replies, and would not commit themselves to any definite pledges. They said it was desirable to await the result of the parliamentary conference at Ottawa. They also expressed the necessity for a cautious treatment of the subject, as trade relations between the mother country and the colonies had an important bearing upon the trade between Great Britain and the foreign powers.

Sir J. Colcomb has written another letter to the Times in reply to Mr. Samuel, in which he admits the desirability of a fast Atlantic mail and Pacific cable service, but contends that the basis of the arrangements for the carrying out of the projects is not fair to the British taxpayer.

Sir George Baden-Powell, in another letter, reaches conclusions precisely the opposite of Sir John Colcomb's, and expresses the belief that the Imperial Government will finally decide in favor of co-operation with the colonies.

The comments of the papers generally are favorable to the Pacific cable scheme.

Bradstreet's Reports.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Bradstreet's today says: Special telegrams from important distributing centres report general trade quite irregular, previous gains having been followed by shrinkages in many instances. The industrial feature of the week is found in 31 strikes throughout the country, involving 40,000 employes, principally among building trades at New York and Chicago, textile industries at Paterson and New York, coal miners and coke operatives in Western Pennsylvania and further west. Cold weather at Montreal has checked sales in several lines. Navigation is not expected to open prior to April 20.

Bank clearings for the week ending April 5, 1894, five Canadian cities, with comparisons with last year's reports, except at Winnipeg, which was not reported last year, and Toronto's last year figures for the week not being at hand: Dominion Canada—Montreal, $11,277,340, increase 34.3; Toronto, $6,162,993; Halifax, $1,174,315, increase 23.5; Hamilton, $1,216,921, increase 73.9; Winnipeg $781,226. Totals, $19,831,469, increase 22.22.

R. G. Dun & Co's. Report.

NEW YORK, April 7.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Improvement in business has continued since the President's veto, which has been sustained in the House. But the best news of the week is the great decrease in numbers and importance of failures. The number was 2,000 in January, 1,200 in February and 1,005 in March. Commercial liabilities were $31,320,867 in January, $17,930,419 in February and $14,730,893 in March. The degree of commercial soundness and health indicated gives ground for hope that the liquidations consequent upon the disaster of 1893 have been in large measure accomplished. The signs of continued improvement are more distinct than in the previous week, and are found elsewhere rather than in speculative markets. There is more buying for consumption, with more numerous demands for immediate replacement of stocks, which does not yet stimulate an advance in prices, because consumption as yet by no means suffices to employ all the productive capacity, but affords the safest basis for production.

SATURDAY, APRIL 7, 1894.

THE COMING LIBERAL CONVENTION.

The friends and supporters of the Mowat Administration are again reminded of the Liberal Convention and mass meeting to be held in the Opera House, Peterborough, on Wednesday, April 18th, 1894. At 1.30 p. m. the annual election of West Riding Association officers will take place, and at 2 p. m. the nomination of a candidate to contest the riding at the coming general Provincial election, will be made. This will be followed by public addresses, which will be given by the nominee of the convention, Hon. R. Harcourt, Provincial Treasurer, and Mr. Charles Mackenzie, M.P.P., West Lambton, brother of the late Hon. Alex. Mackenzie. It is to be hoped that there will be a large attendance of the supporters of the Government and of the public generally, especially at the after meeting, at which questions of vital public importance, especially in the light of the coming campaign, will be ably dealt with by speakers of first-rate ability, The issues of the coming campaign involve the prosperity of the province and their discussion should be assisted in by every elector.

THE Opposition critics are everlastingly saying something disparaging of the Agricultural College, Guelph, as if they grudged the benefit of the institution to farmers. Mr. Clancy actually grumbles because the institution does not make more money and makes a great cry of an excess, by his manipulation of figures, of expenses over receipts. The Agricultural College is not conducted as a commercial but as an educational, institution and that money should be made under such conditions would be a surprise. It is safe to say that there are few of our farms conducted by the best and most experienced farmers for money-making, and not experimental purposes, that made money during the past few years if every item of expense were rigidly charged. The Agricultural College and Experimental Farm are conducted for the good of the farmers of the country and this is a benefit which cannot be very conveniently converted into dollars and cents; and it is surprising that the Opposition critics and journals grudge the farmers the value received. If the institution costs the province something for the advantage of armers, what class is better entitled to the benefits of such expenditure? The experiments conducted are to determine, say, the value of certain varieties of seed grain and the value of certain rations for stock feeding. If the tests show that these are valueless there will will not, of course, be a profit, but all the farmers of the country get the benefit of knowledge, which would have cost individual farmers thousands of dollars in the aggregate, if they had made similar experiments themselves. Finding fault is by no means statesmanship.

MR. GAGE, a Toronto book dealer, says that Mr. Foster's "revised" tariff will double the tax upon books imported for Sunday school liberaries; add twenty per cent to the duty on a large consignment of such popular works as the "Pansy" books; multiply by three the duties upon cheap editions of Dickens, Scott, Lytton and other standard writers, and increase the tax upon holiday picture books to seventy per cent. Having to depend upon ignorance for the success of their policy, of course the government do all in their power to restrict popular education.

ON BEHALF OF THE BABIES.

Statement of an Eminent Professional Man.

The health of a baby directly depends on the quality and nature of the food it receives.

To-day, as in past years, thousands of babies are suffering from various ailments, owing to poor nourishment and improper feeding. Sir Charles Clarke once said: "The ignorance of mothers in feeding their children is worth a thousand pounds a year to me."

It is a fact worthy of special notice that the healthy, bright and fat babies of to-day are all being brought up and nourished on Lactated Food. No other form of artificial food on sale has such a reputation in the community, and no other is so highly recommended by physicians. Lactated Food is strictly pure in composition; it is the most nutritious and most easily digested of all infant diets. Every mother who is anxious about her babe's welfare and growth should give this wonderful food a week's trial.

Unsightly pimples, blotches, tan, and all itching humours of the skin are removed by using Dr. Low's Sulphur Soap.

LAKEFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The village council meet next Monday in the town hall.

Mr. Sheldrake's school was opened on Monday with a full attredance after the holidays.

Master Walter Sage, who was so badly injured by a kick from a horse, is improving rapidly, and will soon be able to return to his home, but it will be years before the opening in his forehead will fill up, if ever.

The health inspector put up a scarlet fever card on a home on Nicholls street on Wednesday.

The funeral of the late Mrs. John Hull was largely attended, many coming from a distance to pay a last mark of esteem to one so respected during life.

The Lakefield school board met on Wednesday evening in the town hall. After reading the minutes, adopting the head master's report for March, and passing an account for $5.83 for school supplies, they adjourned.

On Saturday a young farmer in Douro while driving home with a calf in his waggon, lost control of his team, which after a short run brought the vehicle up against a stump, upsetting the calf and owner out and freeing the horses. When found, one was on each side of a fence, held by the harness, which with the waggon were in need of extensive repairs. Man and calf escaped injury.

An assault case between two Dummer women came up before Magistrate Hall in the town hall on Wednesday, and afforded no end of amusement to the spectators present, especially at the manner in which they cross-examined each other, and the final declaration of one as she exhibited a brawny fist and arm to the court: "I'm a well made woman and could finish her up in short order." The magistrate informed them he was going to adjourn the court for one hour, and if in that time they had made up friends and each paid half the costs, he would dismiss the case, if not he would settle it in just about one minute. They settled it.

The sudden changes in the weather of late have laid up quite a number with colds, throat and lung troubles, so that our medical men are kept busy, and even they are not exempt, as two of them are going round with what an irreverent fellow practitioner calls "Frogs in their throat."

A worthy citizen of the village who has a great antipathy to a homeless white cat which frequents his premises, was going out a few nights since when he observed his "friend" quietly seated on the front door step. Delighted at the long looked for chance and without the fear of the Cruelty to Animals Act, he drew back his foot and in another moment the jug with the Sunday's supply of milk was scattered in the street.

Few and short were the words he said,
The import I leave for guessing;
The milkman's jug and the absent cat,
All shared alike his blessing.

On Thursday afternoon Mr. Geo. Postlethwaite, while fixing some of the machinery in the Strickland canoe factory, got his arm caught and had it severely bruised before he could get it out. Fortunately no bones were broken.

At a late hour the same afternoon while Capt. Reynolds was working at the Golden City, trying to chop a bolt out of a piece of timber, the axe glanced off the bolt and the sharp edge came in contact with his face and neck, inflicting a long wound that required several stitches to close it, and which will confine him to the house for some time.

The following is the honour roll for the month of March of the Lakefield public school:

Form IV—Sr. 5th—H. Graham, G. Brown. N. Hendren. Jr. 5th—Cora McDonald, Willie Stabler, Winnie Tighe. Sr. 4th—Alfred Doidge, Aggie Buckley, Edith Watson.

Form III—Jr. 4th—Edna Stubbs, Myrtle Fitzgerald, Bernard Dench. Sr. 3rd—Willie Carr, Gordon Hendren, Olive Thompson. Int. 3rd—Eliza Edwards, Jas. Quinn, Annie Wannamaker.

Form II—Jr. 3rd—Mabel Morrison, Maggie O'Connell, Wilfred Fischer. Sr. 2nd—Mabel McDonald, Helen Smith, Edward Watson. Jr. II—Maggie Sullivan, Eva Bullock, John Ridpath.

Form I—Sr. Pt. II—Ira Abbott, Eva McCormack, Norman Bell, Willie Gordon. Jr. Pt. II—Ethel Moore, Howard Hendren, Lorne Mason. Sr. Pt. I—Ethel Mitchell, Willie Millage, John Wannamaker. Jr. Pt. I—Stuart Fraser, Ethel Brown, Allan Watson.

Ward—Sr. Pt. II—Ethel Tippett, Lena Barriett, Bruce Ridpath. Jr. Pt. II—Willie Foley, Austin Hanrahan, Maurice Hynes. St. P. I—Gordon Ridpath, Mary Foley, Tom Hanrahan. Jr. Pt. I—Jennie Charlton) Wesley Hurl, Roy Preston.

It Isn't a Matter of How Much You Earn, But

What You Save!

"Any FOOL can Earn Money, but it takes a WISE Man to Save it."

And yet it is as simple as A B C. You know that one of the peculiarities about GOUGH'S Clothing is that it isn't sold by wind. It's VALUE that does it. It broke out some 8 or 10 years ago when Gough Bros. spread their monster tents for business in Peterborough and the epidemic has kept on spreading ever since.

THE IMMENSE AMOUNT OF MONEY SAVED to the Workingman, the Farmer and the Business Man since Gough Bros. broke the combination to keep up High Prices in Clothing, has demonstrated that there are Wise Men among us who can save money if they only get a fair chance.

"What's the cause of Gough's Big Success?" did you say.

Just look at those $7.50 Spring Overcoats and Tweed Suits, with that regular tailor-made look about them. They were no more made to sell at that price than the Otonabee River was to run ocean greyhounds on. $12.00 ought to be the price.

Then again—Take that pair of Pants or that Big Boy's 3-Piece Suit. They're All Wool and cut by an expert hand, who was a regular tailor's cutter before we pulled down the prices that gave them such big salaries. You wouldn't think $4.50 too much to pay for either of them, would you? Well, they're yours for $3.00

And so on all the way through our mammoth store. "Money to be Saved at Gough's!" why that's stale news—everybody knows that by this time, and, if you haven't caught the enthusiasm yet, it must be because you're one of those fellows that can EARN money all right, but DON'T KNOW HOW TO SAVE IT.

WE'RE AWFULLY STUCK UP—and it's just on account of our Clothes. We just think that when it comes to Clothing, there's nothing in this town that can touch us.

"Always Good at Gough's."

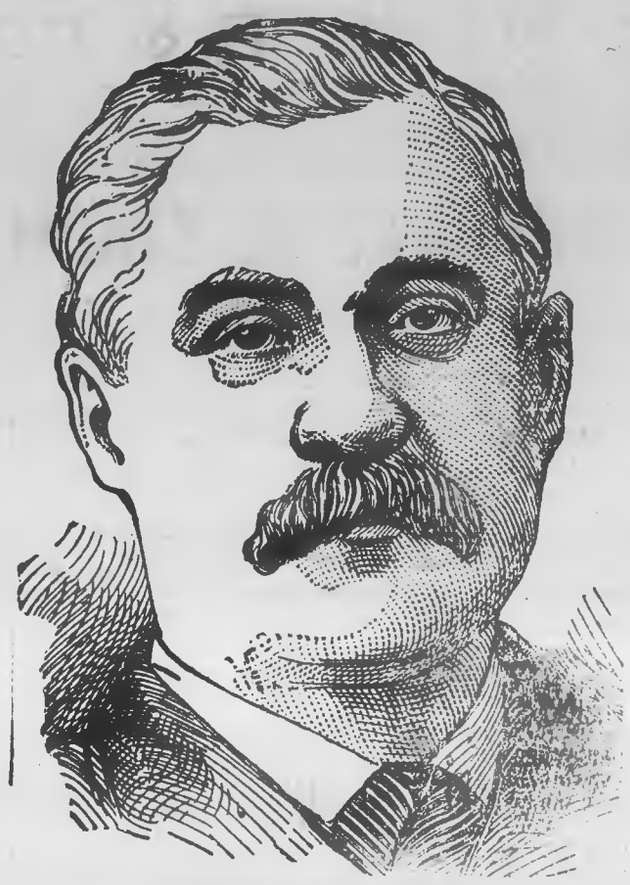
A VIGOROUS POLICY.

One True Source of Personal Force and Courage.

Tremendous Capacity for Accomplishing Work—Vigorous Digestion and Calm Nerves Accomplish All—Paine's Celery Compound a Remedy that Does the World Good.



COUNCILLOR GEORGE F. MORSE.

The admiration accorded certain public men is due to their splendid moral courage.

Great moral courage and determination are impossible without a sturdy digestion, a healthy liver, and a vigorously nourished nervous system. No one can imagine a Gladstone, Salisbury, Laurier, Thompson, or any great champion of his party in parliamentary debate, with a badly nourished brain, a weak digestion, and shaky nerves. Only the healthy man, whose organs are doing their duty, is firm, convincing, magnetic, courageous.

A man of ideas needs sound health to carry them out, and a clear, cool brain is better than a shaky one, however brilliant. The men who can work long hours under pressure win success, and fame depends oftener on a strong stomach, healthy nervous system and plenty of reserve force than on great intellectual power.

Be well. Get rid of liver and kidney weakness. Paine's Celery Compound will take away the sickly, depressed, unambitious feeling that comes with dyspepsia, disordered liver, and nervous weakness. Paine's Celery Compound will fill the veins with blood that is red and rich in food for every vital organ.

The first noticeable effect of Paine's Celery Compound is the immediate improvement of appetite and gradual gain in weight. This remarkable remedy sets to work at once to nourish nerve centres and purify the blood of harmful humors. It was the belief of Prof. Phelps, of Dartmouth College, the discoverer of Celery Compound, and he so stated to his classes at Dartmouth College, that only when the system is perfectly nourished in tissue, blood and nerve centres, is it possible to drive out the special disorders from important organs like the liver, kidneys, heart and stomach.

Paine's Celery Compound to-day sustains the strength of thousands of hard worked men and women who cannot take vacations and feel the effects of the unnatural demands made upon their strength and nervous energy.

Paine's Celery Compound is the greatest blood and nerve remedy that has ever in the history of medicine come within the reach of plain, hard working people.

Hon. George F. Morse, one of the most prominent of the Governor's council of Massachusetts, is one of that state's most substantial manufacturers and business men, a veteran of the late war, a popular and conservative citizen. His autograph letter is of interest to everyone.

THE PEDDLERS' BY-LAW.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I beg leave for space to express some of my views regarding the peddlers' license fee, backed up by a liberally signed petition of the whole prominent tradesmen of our town, the exception being counted on the fingers of one hand. As represented on the petition, I believe I am safe in saying by far the greater part of rent and taxes is represented. If so, why should the council of any town, let alone the reputation this town has, not only regarding its enterprise, but the talent which the council seems to possess, for I find many of our foremost men there, be led by one or two who may have some motive in view, to allow the town to be run by peddlers and hawkers? For it is only too plain that if the present license fee of $50 or something like it be not sustained, the town during the coming season will be so peddled that the merchants will not be able to do business at anything like a paying profit. As a matter of fact can any merchant pay $250 to $400 rent and taxes to compete with a man who pays only a nominal fee of $5 or $10 a year for the one and same privilege, viz: that of selling goods. As there are but three licenses now issued and only one practically in use, and that can be controlled, but, should they be got for the nominal sum as above, it simply means a dozen or fifteen will immediately be gotten out; in that case where are our fine fruit stores, which we now have and which Peterborough can boast as far ahead of many others in towns of like size? If the trade of the town is to be ruled by peddlers and hawkers who may see fit to come in and run business on those lines it shows a retrogession in the business methods of the town, and it will not be long before a respectable fruit store will be a thing of the past. I refer to this particular class of trade because it is here where I am interested. The jeweller, dry goods, grocer, shoeman and druggist, all tell you the one and same thing, it is ruinous to the town.

I have several suggestions to the council which, if carried out, would be of special benefit:

1st. A good substantial fee of $50, or at least some proportionate figure similar to it be sustained.

2nd. That not more than one license be granted to any one man.

3rd. That a badge be a receipt for license granted and said badge be worn at time of peddling, so that no two can peddle under the one license.

4th. That all licenses date from 1st of April of each year and all licenses run out on 1st of April of following year, after having been granted, whether such license was granted on 1st of April or any other date during previous year of its expiration.

5th. That $10 be asked for horse and wagon in addition to the fee fixed upon.

Thanking you for the space allowed me in your columns.

I remain your obedient servant,
PETITION SOLICITOR.

GEORGE SACKETT'S CASE.

Holsteiners Enjoy a Mild Sensation—One Box of Dodd's Kidney Pills Cures Their Fellow Citizen of Backache and Kidney Disease.

HOLSTEIN, March 26.—This quiet village is in an uproar of excitement just now over the case of George Sackett, a well-known resident. His experience has had many parallels in other places, but none here. One box of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him of severe backache and kidney disease of long standing, after he had tried every other remedy within his reach, but without any good results. These pills are manufactured by Dr. L. A. Smith & Co., Toronto, and are sold by all dealers, or will be mailed on receipt of price; fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50.

SIRS,—I had such a severe cough that my throat felt as if scraped with a rasp. On taking Norw y Pine Syrup I found the first dose gave relief, and the second bottle completely cured me.

A Government BOMBSHELL THROWN INTO THE LIFE INSURANCE CAMP!

The following statement comes from the government Blue Book. It covers a period of sixteen years, and is sworn to as correct by representatives of each Company:

Statement of Premiums received and Cash Profits paid back to Policy Holders from 1877 to 1892, both years inclusive:—

COMPANY.	Premiums Received.	Dividends Paid to Policy Holders.	Ratio of Dividends to Premiums, %
CANADA LIFE	$16,368,307	$2,946,433	18.18
Confederation Life	6,165,432	687,925	10.35
North American	2,327,062	32,857	1.41
Ontario Mutual	3,878,086	433,284	11.17
Sun Life	5,527,720	355,280	6.43

Never in the history of Life Insurance has the struggle for business been keener. Never has the conflict been hotter. Never have the Companies felt as they feel now, the necessity for throwing all the energy at their command into the field. The most intelligent and best men have to be employed. All kinds of plans of insurance are submitted. Each Company determined in securing the supremacy in the good will of the public, in establishing their name, the utterance of which, shall convey to the minds of the people the essential characteristics of

UNDOUBTED SECURITY,
RIGID ECONOMY,
GOOD INVESTMENTS,
LARGEST PROFITS

WHY?

Because millons of dollars are being paid annually for Life Insurance, and the Companies that can show these features have attained a position which will guarantee their future success, for money will flow freely into the best investments.

The Canada Life Policy Holders can look at the above statement with a smile of satisfaction, yet sympathise with their friends who are not so favourably situated.

They can throw their Life Policies down in the face of opponents and successfully challenge the production of more profitable policies, they can stand the onslaught of Agents who will almost cover them with literature and estimates of Tontine, Semi-Tontine, Return Premiums, Reserved Dividends, Annuity and Endownment plans of insurance, and with a quiet assurance feel that

As The Canada Life is Making the Most Profits, She Can Pay the Largest Profits.

READER. If you want Life Insurance choose the Canada Life and join the throng of contented policy holders who are insured with the Company carrying about 45 per cent. of the total insurance in force of the above named Companies

The largest, best made and by far the cheapest clothing, is sold by Grafton & Co.

To Be Repeated.

The entertainment given last Tuesday evening at St. Luke's schoolhouse, which proved so successful, will, in response to many requests, be repeated on Monday evening next. Both the "Sleeping Beauty" and the "Fancy Drill" will be repeated, and a fresh programme of music has been prepared. Admission, 10 cents.

It Speaks Well for Peterborough.

The two large loads of carpets shipped yesterday by Messrs. Hall, Gilchrist & Co., to different parts on the C.P.R. and G.T.R., shows that this enterprising firm is taking this trade from Toronto merchants, owing to their being able to sell the same goods at much lower prices. We think from the display they made this spring they ought to do the carpet trade of this part of the province.

Galt's New Daily.

No better evidence of the prosperity of the thriving town of Galt and the enterprise of its publishers is needed than the fine newsy daily The Evening Reformer, whose first number reached and brightened the EXAMINER sanctum this morning. The Evening Reformer is a neatly printed, four-page-seven-column sheet, well filled with newsy reading matter, with an excellent initial advertising patronage. In politics the "Reformer's" heart is in the right place and it will carry on with the same degree of intelligent enterprise of its sterling old weekly predecessor, the advocacy of Liberal principles. The EXAMINER wishes its new daily confrere the greatest prosperity.

Salvation Army Notes.

Capt. Cameron, of the Kingston corps, who was attached to the Peterborough corps some time ago under Ensign McDonald, commanding the corps and district, is a faithful officer and an enthusiastic salvationist. Capt. Teeple, who, some three years ago, was removed from here to the Kingston corps, took the post formerly filled by Capt. Cameron.

There will be an enrollment of recruits at the barracks on Thursday night next at eight o'clock.

There has been some slight changes in the list of week-day services. There will be a public meeting every Thursday night instead of Wednesday night as formerly, which evening is now devoted to band practice.

A Brilliant Violoncellist.

Herr Rudolph Ruth, the violoncello virtuoso, who is to contribute numbers at the grand concert on April 19th, is held in very high esteem by the best musical judges. "Moderato," a most capable and discriminating critic, in Saturday Night, says of his first appearance in Toronto:—"The debut of Herr Rudolf Ruth as solo 'cellist was an advent of no small interest. In his performance of the Gotlermann concerto Herr Ruth gave ample evidence of thorough musicianship and culture. His technique is admirable, his tone being large and rich, while in details of artistic phrasing his playing at once conveys the impression of thoroughness and the possession on his part of genuine musicianly instincts. Herr Ruth is a decided acquisition to the solo talent and musical forces of this city."

Young Womens' Association.

The lady directors of the Y.W.C.A. are giving the members of the Association a social this evening. The hour is from 8 to half past nine. Refreshments will served. Good music is being prepared. Mr. J. M. Whyte will sing. Let there be a large attendance. Admission free.

Notice.

Parties who are indebted to the firm for one year or more are reminded to settle their accounts at once, otherwise the same will be handed in for collection. As the senior member of the firm will leave shortly for Europe to purchase furs for next winter's season, money must be forthcoming. WM. LECH & SONS. dtf

Fine Furniture.

A Clegg shows in his window to-day a very rich and serviceable parlour suite. It is a large five-piece Turkish suite, covered in fine Turcoman rugs, the pattern and colouring of which are decidedly Oriental, the rugs are made of fine velvet, and differ very much from the coarse carpet we have been accustomed to see on rug parlour suites.

Brick Work of Two Buildings.

Mr. T.M. McFadden, bricklayer, returned to town last night after completing two jobs in the country. He has just finished the work of bricking a house on the Armstrong farm on the tenth concession of North Monaghan belonging to Mr. J. J. Lundy. Mr. McFadden has also completed the brick work for the fine new hotel at Bailliebore which is being built to replace the old one which was burned down last fall. The structure is a hollow brick wall, two storys high, and in dimensions 32x41. When completed Bailliebore's comfortable and commodious new hotel will be a credit to the village.

Master and Man.

Among the successful productions of this season is "Master and Man," a sensational melo-drama by Simm's and Pettit, authors of "Hoodman Blind," "The Lights o' London," etc. It has already stood the test of a fifty night run at Palmer's Theatre, New York, where it was not only well received by the public, but in addition, was credited by the press with having made a distinct success. The play, while of the sensational order is said to have a well defined and decidedly interesting plot which is well told. The big scene of the play is showing the interior of an iron mill, in full blast, at night. "Master and Man" will be presented at the Opera House, April 12th.

Violated the Market By-Law.

A special session of the police court was held at noon to-day, when an Otonabee young man, who has been buying up large quantities of eggs all winter for shipment to a Montreal produce and egg dealer, was fined for a violation of the new market by-law, a breach which he committed unknowingly. The information was laid by Chief Roszel and in view of the fact that the new by-law was only passed a day or two since and the young man had not, therefore, an opportunity of becoming acquainted with its provisions, the court made the fine as light as possible—one dollar. The offence was that of forestalling—viz., hucksters, grocers and traders buying before 11 o'clock. Under the old by-law only hucksters residing in the town were prohibited from buying before 11 o'clock, outsiders were exempt, but under the new by-law passed Monday night, hucksters, both residing in and outside the corporation are precluded from buying before 11 o'clock. Therefore the defendant this morning came under the ban of the by-law.

The Foresters' Concert.

There is sure to be a large attendance at the grand union Canadian Foresters' concert in the Opera House, on Friday evening, April 13th. The plan at Madill's drug store is filling up rapidly. An excellent programme will be presented by the folowing array of first-class talent:—Miss A. Fawcett, soprano; Miss Scheak, Toronto, contralto; Mr. R. A. Shaw, tenor; the Peterborough Male Quartette—Messrs. Shaw, Garvin, Davis and Drope; Mr. J. H. Jones, violinist; Mr. Fred Clarke, accompanist; and last, but by no means least, Mr. Frank Wright, Toronto's great humourous vocalist. Of Mr. Wright the Guelph Mercury says:—"The Irish comic and humourous songs of Mr. Frank Wright were remarkably well sung. This gentleman interspersed his numbers with scintillations of Irish wit and humourous stories which kept the audience in roars of laughter. Encores were demanded and freely given. In the comic line he is a good drawing card." Opera House, Friday, April 13th, Admission, 25 and 35 cents. Reserved seat plan at Madill's drug store, Hunter street.

An Accident to a Judge.

When Judge Ketchum was returning from Wooler on Monday night, where he had been holding court, he was driven to the track near the Trenton station and undertook to walk up the track to save time. In the darkness he unfortunately fell into a cattle-guard, receiving very serious injuries to his face and head, the nose being broken and the face cut in several places. Luckily his eyes were not injured. The judge, on recovering from the terrible fall, being alone at the time, managed to make his way to the station, where the services of Dr. McKenzie, of Trenton, were brought into requisition, and he was enabled to take the early train for home. We learn from his medical attendant here, Dr. O'Gorman, that, considering everything, he is doing as well as can be expected, and if no complications set in, with care and quietness, all will be right in time. Mr. D. Chisholm, Q.C., of Port Hope, will take the divisional courts that the judge was booked for.—Cobourg Star.

The Evolution

Of medicinal agents is gradually relegating the old-time herbs, pills, draughts and vegetable extracts to the rear and bringing into general use the pleasant and effective liquid laxative, Syrup of Figs. PERSONAL.

Dr. Bradd, of Omemee, was in town yesterday.

Dr. J. Gibb Wishart, of Toronto, is registered at the Oriental.

Messrs. R. Q. Dench and Sparham Sheldrake, of Lakefield, were in town to-day.

Miss Crossley, of Peterborough, who has been visiting Mr. T. Drummond, has returned home.—Cobourg Post.

Mr. A. Duncan Reid, of Kingston, inspector for the London Guarantee and Accident Insurance Company, is in town to-day on business.

Miss B. O'Connell, of Ashburnham, who has been visiting friends in Merrickville for some weeks, has returned home after a very pleasant visit.

Mr. J. Tower Boyd, Superintendent of Agencies, Confederation Life Association, is in town in the interest of this popular life assurance company.

The many friends of Mr. L. Seward, who is ill at the Nicholls Hospital, will be pleased to learn that his physician is much pleased at the indications of improvement in his condition.

Lieut. R. A. Cockburn, of the Royal School of Cavalry, Toronto, is in town for a couple of days. He has been attending a meeting of the officers of the Prince of Wales Dragoons at Cobourg.

Mr. C.H. Daly, of Queen's College, Kingston, says the Port Hope Times, will preach in the Mill street Presbyterian church on Sunday next. Mr. Daly is a talented young men and a very able preacher. He formerly resided in Peterborough and is well known here.

Mr. A. M. Oxley, general agent of the Confederation Life Association, is in town for a few days. Mr. Oxley and Mr. Rush, the local agent of the company, are doing a good business. The importance of every man carrying a good insurance policy is being demonstrated more fully every day.

It is thought says the Kingston News, that either Rev. W. J. Crothers, M.A., of Port Hope, or Rev. S. G. Bland, B.A., of Cornwall, will succeed Rev. C. O. Johnston in Queen street Methodist church. The change will not take place until a year from next June. The Port Hope Guide says not then if the conference term is extended, so far as the above applies to the Rev. W. J. Crothers.

does not need to hustle half as much as the staff of the Peterborough Bookstore. Why? The release from customs and the opening up of 35,000 rolls of beautiful new imported wall papers at the Peterborough Bookstore and the fine weather create great activity. The extreme beauty of these papers, conjoined with the extreme lowness of price, renders a rush of customers inevitable. Come and make your choice early and get your papering done before the rush of spring work makes the paper hangers too busy.

The Pigeon Creek Bridge.

The Finance Committee of the town, Councillor Cahill, chairman, and the Road and Bridge Committee of the county council, held a meeting in the town clerk's office this morning. There were present on behalf of the county Warden Shaw, reeve Forster Monaghan; reeve Middleton, Smith, W. A. Stratton county solicitor and J. E. Belcher, county engineer, Mayor Kendry, town solicitor Edwards and others were also present. The purport of the conference between the two committees was to agree upon the clause in the speciall bill of the town now before the Legislature in reference to the Pigeon Creek bridge. In pursuance of and conformance with the resolution passed at the last meeting of the council the terms embodied in the bill itself were conjointly agreed upon—that the town shall assume one-half the portion of the cost which the county has to pay for the further maintenance of the Pigeon Creek bridge on condition that the county pay to the town the sum of $1,250 towards the cost of the construction of the Smith street bridge. Town Solicitor Edwards drew up a resolution which was in effect the same as the above and both town and county agreed to it. The resolution will be embodied in the bill on its second reading.

MARKET MEMORANDA.

What was Going on the Square Where the Farmers do Mostly Congregate.

There was a good market this morning, the fine weather bringing the farmers to town in large numbers. The grain market is quite active, especially in oats, receipts very heavy. Wheat has taken a jump in price and both spring and fall were selling at 60c. (standard); oats, 36c. to 37c.; no rye offering; barley, 35c. to 45c., only a couple of loads on; one load of buckwheat sold at 40c.; small peas, 55c. to 60c.; large, 58c. to 62c., a fair amount offering. Butter was not plentiful this morning and the price was firm at 24c. and 25c. by the roll. In crock it went at 22c. and in firkin at 20c. A good supply of eggs sold at 10c. per dozen. A small supply of poultry sold readily. Chickens brought 50 to 60c. per pair, and turkeys 90c. to $1.25 each. Salt hams (farmers' cured) sold at 11 and 12c. per pound, and bacon at 10 and 11c. No ducks or geese were offered. Potatoes were offered in large numbers and sold at 40 to 50c. per bag, while a moderate supply of apples sold from 80c. to $1.00. Maple syrup was offered by the canful and sold from 80c. to $1.00 per gallon or 20 to 25c. per quart. Maple sugar sold at 10c. per lb. There was not a very great supply of beef, but the price still remains the same as it has been all winter, 4 to 5½c. per lb. Veal was offered in large quantities and sold rapidly at 6 and 7c. per lb. Lamb sold at 7 and 8c., pork by the quarter sold at 6 and 7c. per lb, and dressed pork by the cwt. at $5.25 to $5.75. Hay is selling actively and bringing a good price. The price paid is $7.50 to $8.50 per ton. Straw finds a good market at $3.50 per load. A few loads of hardwood sold this morning at $3.75 to $4.25. Soft wood is selling at $3.00, but the wood market will soon be a thing of the past. The square was in a fine, dry condition today, owing to its recent cleaning and scraping.

The Interest Increasing—Large Attendance.

A great gathering of interested people greeted these gifted messengers of God's word last night in the Murray street Baptist church, and hundreds there were pleased to learn that Messrs. Moore and Whyte had consented to remain another week in our midst. In making this announcement the pastor extended a call to all persons to come, and particularly invited the young men of the town. After Mr. Whyte and the choir sang some of the popular hymns from the "Songs of Calvary," Rev. Mr. Moore made an address from two texts, Exodus, viii, 10, "And he said, to-morrow," and Hebrews, iii, 7th verse "As the Holy Ghost saith to-day." In his remarks, which were given with much feeling and earnestness, he made very plain the need of deciding to-day, showing the great danger of delay in the accepting of salvation. God's time is to-day. The enemy of man, the arch fiend of hell, makes men his subjects by preaching to them time enough "to-morrow." Mr. Moore and others must be surprised and pained to see the indifference of so many to this momentous question, and he urged those present to decide to-day. In the after meeting many did decide and made a choice of taking God at His word and making to-day the time of their acceptance. Mr. Whyte, in the solo, "Seek Me Early," which he sang with much pathos and intense feeling, emphasized the speaker's remarks and assisted by the choir, added much to the interest of the meeting. There will be service on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock for prayer, and the leaders hope to see hundreds there. Come everyone, and share in the blessing. There will be the usual church service at 11 and 7 o'clock, and during the coming week every night at 7.45. The expenses are met by a voluntary contribution each night; at the same time the ushers collect requests for prayer.

MISSLE HURLERS.

Twelve Boys Have an Interview With the Magistrate this Morning—Warned.

At the police court this morning a dozen boys, ranging in age from eight years to seventeen, faced the magistrate. The charge against them was stone throwing. That particular quarter of the town where they practiced this reckless and dangerous work was in front of St. John's church on Hunter street, and also on Queen street. Some evidence was taken, from which it appeared that the defendant not only threw stones at the opera house bill boards at this place but could not restrain their catapultic propensities of letting stones fly at passers by. Six of the accused pleaded guilty and the other half dozen affirmed their innocence. However it appeared to be a case of their being in bad company and accordingly they came in for their share of the deserts, which was a severe raking over by the court. The youths were discharged with a warning and, judging by the strict attention and the earnest mein exhibited by them when the magistrate told them what would occur if they were charged with a like offence again, the effect upon the boys will be felt by the neighbours.

How to Get a "Sunlight" Picture.

Send 25 "Sunlight" Soap wrappers (the wrapper bearing the words "Why Does a Woman Look Old Sooner Than a Man") to LEVER BROS., L'td, 43 Scott street, Toronto, and you will receive by post, a pretty picture free from advertising and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c. postage to send in the wrappers, if you leave the ends open. Write your address carefully.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—There has been left at the police station two concert tickets and a tie, for which the chief wants an owner.

—At the grand concert on April 19th, Mrs. Mckeican will sing as one of her solos Blumenthal's "Lucy Gray."

—A piano has been placed in the hand-room of the Peterborough Fire Brigade, supplied by Messrs. Jackson & Co.

—The time for receiving tenders for Mr. Manning's residence has been extended until Tuesday evening, April 10th.

—Rev. R. B. Denike, insurance agent, and his son, Mr. Howard B. Denike, merchant, Campbellford, are in town to-day.

—The plan of the hall for the Douglas Bird concert on April 19th, will be opened at Salisbury's bookstore on Monday, April 9th.

—Lacrossists are urged to call at the Peterborough Bookstore and make their selection from a fine stock of Lally's best lacrosse sticks.

—A diptheria placard was, this morning, posted on a house on Elizabeth street, Ashburnham. This is the only case in town or village, and is not a severe one.

—Dr. McNicholl, public vaccinator, held his first reception on Tuesday last, when eleven patients presented themselves, and were vaccinated.—Cobourg Star.

—The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held on Monday, April 9th, at 3.30 p.m. at the residence of Mrs. Geo. Paton, 292 Brock street. All are welcome.

—Miss Lola Ostrom will recite "The Beacon Light" by T. Bayley Aldrich, and Tennyson's "May Queen" at the grand concert in the opera house on April 19th.

—Mr. Jas. Kyle, who resides at 227 George street, had the misfortune to fall down the cellar steps in his house on Tuesday night last, dislocating his shoulder and cutting his face.

—Fenlon Falls has the record for holding the last carnival of the season which took place there on Friday night last and was a great success. The event was for the benefit of the caretaker.

—Mr. W. Tripp, who was injured by falling from a scaffold, is getting along well at the Nicholls Hospital. The Fenlon Falls Gazette says he was a former respected resident of that place.

—Eggs took a drop on the market this morning—not in price, but too sudden a drop for one purchaser who was descending the left hand stairs when the basket slipped and the hen fruit rolled out on the steps.

—The Belleville Forest and Stream Club has re-organized and elected officers for the ensuing year. Mr. H. Corby, M. P., is president, Mr. W. H. Biggar, M.P.P., vice-president, and Mr. Jos. Templeton, secretary.

—The following clubs have entered for competition in the great lacrosse tournament to be held at Campbellford at that town's big Queen's Birthday celebration: Ontario's, of Port Hope; Shamrock's, of Peterborough, and the Belleville lacrosse team.

—The date of the convention of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church to be held in the Charlotte street church, is changed to April 20th from April 19th, on account of the Douglas Bird concert falling on the latter date.

—The contract for the re shingling of the drill shed has been awarded to Mr. A. A. McIntyre. The work will begin in a few days. There were some dozen tenders received in all, and they were not asked or any too soon, for the shed roof is leaky in many places.

—Mr. W. L. Innes, C.E., and Land Surveyor, has severed his connection with the Candian General Electric Compan's works and has entered into partnership with Mr. G. W. Ranney, C.E., and they will now accept engagements for land surveying and engineering work. 6d

—The dry goods merchants of the town have again this year, in accordance with past customs, inaugurated an early closing movement among themselves. Beginning on Monday next, April 9th, they will close their places of business each evening at six o'clock, except on Saturday nights and evenings before public holidays.

—Mr. Harold Fitch, a married man, who is employed in the Peterboro' Bridge Works and lives in Ashburnham, met with an accident this morning. He was wheeling slag in the works, when he slipped and fell heavily on his wheelbarrow. He sustained an injury to his lower lip, which was completely cut through. Several stitches were required to dress the wound.

—A meeting of the Peterborough cricket club will be held in the office of the secretary-treasurer, post office block, on Tuesday night. The annual meeting of directors of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association will also take place at 8 o'clock at the same place. All athletic organizations are requested to have their directors to the P.A.A.A. appointed in the interim.

—Soon after disposing of his property in Seymour west, Mr. Richard Ivey, says the Campbellford Herald, went to Peterborough and purchased a fine farm about four miles from that town. His new purchase comprises 140 acres of land upon which is an excellent dwelling house and commodious barns, stables, drive shed and other buildings. The farm he sold was too small for him and his sons.

—The R.T. of T. district council held at Newcastle on Good Friday was well attended and much good will result. The public meeting was a grand success—speaking good, as was also the music and singing. The friends there treated their visitors royally and are true R. T. of T. members. The next district council will be held at Port Hope on the first Tuesday in July. Look out for it.

—The Peterborough Fire Brigade Band had one of the best and best attended practices of the season at the band hall last night. The musicians are working with a will and wish to excel, and are industriously practicing their difficult new music in preparation for the band concert to be held here during the first week in May. Special preparation is also being made for their Campbellford engagement on May 24th.

—The Cobourg baseball meeting was held on Monday night last, at which a team—the Cobourg Browns—was organized. There was a large attendance and the following officers were elected: Hon. pres., W. J. Maher; pres., F. M. Field; hon. vice-pres., D. B. Miller; vice-pres., Jas. Graham; sec.-treas., J. Coogan; manager, H. McGuire; capt. M. Kenaley. With the support of the people of Cobourg this team will no doubt win the championship of the Midland district this season.—Cobourg Post.

—The meeting at the music hall adjoining the opera house last night for the formation of a minstrel club to produce the concert to be given under the auspices of the cricket club in the opera house during the first week in May was very well attended. Mr. R. B. Rogers is superintending the arrangements in preparation for the concert which will doubtless be a great success. Practice nights are set for Tuesday and Thursday of each week in the hall adjoining the opera house and a large attendance is requested each evening. The cricket club is worthy of every support.

AS A CLEANSER

of the blood, nothing sweeps as clean as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It purifies the blood as well as enriches it. The truth is, an emulsion of Cod liver oil is good for building up fat— no doubt about it. But—ugh! a weak stomach loathes it. Fortunately, there's a tissue-builder, that's even better for making healthy flesh. Pleasant in taste—effective in result. That's the "Discovery." It goes to work in the right way, by regulating, cleansing, and repairing all the organs of the body.

When the germs of disease are round about us we do not all get them. Why? Some of us are in too good a condition. The germs of Consumption, Grippe, Malaria, and all the infectious diseases, pass you by if you are strong to resist their attack. Render yourself germ-proof by putting your blood and liver in a healthy state.

In all blood-taints and diseases, if the "Discovery" fails to benefit or cure, your money is returned.

No other medicine of its kind can be sold so.

THE PASTOR'S STORY.

An Interesting Narrative Showing What Comes to Skeptics Who are Willing to Try.

The Rev. Mr. Creelman is one of the most popular clergymen in Worthington, Mass., to a reporter of the Northampton Gazette, he recently told the following interesting story:—

"I am a Nova Scotian by birth, but came to Massachusetts and Worthington from York, Me., in May, 1889. I had been long in the pulpit and uninterrupted service for many years had left me weak and worn out. In this condition I readily succumbed to the grip in February of 1890 and had a very hard time of it. After the grip left the rheumatism set in and then, indeed, my cup of misery was full. The pain was constant day and night. No application, external or internal, lessened its force or gave me the slightest relief. During two years I got out of the house but little more than to walk from the parsonage to the church. At times the pain was so great that I had to recourse to morphine injections for relief. It was in October that I read of a person similarly afflicted, and of his recovery by the use of a medium called Dr. William's Pink Pills for Pale People. I had no faith in being cured myself, and so many other remedies had failed, but like the drowning man grasping for a straw, I sent for a dozen boxes of the pills and began taking them as directed. I did not notice any improvement for some time; then the pain left so suddenly that I hardly knew when or how. From that time on my condition improved rapidly. The rheumatic pain has left me entirely, and I can attend to my duties which I have not done before in two years."

The after effects of la grippe, rheumatism, and all troubles due to poor blood or shattered nerves, speedily yield to a fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. No one should suffer for an hour without giving this great remedy a trial. Sold by dealers or sent by mail postpaid, at 50cts. a box or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schnectady, N.Y. Shun all imitations and substitutes.

HORSE NOTES.

Too much coarse food has made thousands of horses unsound.

Trotting through sandy or muddy places and on rising grades exhausts a horse rapidly. In such places go slowly.

Horses were never so cheap as now, quality considered, and yet the best authorities allege that with proper care and descrimination there is still good money in the business.

Senator Mitchell, well-known as a breeder of trotters, has introduced a bill in the United States Senate prohibiting racing in the District of Columbia from December 1 to April 1.

Until a young horse reaches maturity his circulation is not so strong as it afterwards becomes; consequently he is more subject to the ill effects of jarring from fast work and tension from heavy drawing, which shows itself in connection with the fetlock joints by swellings of various kinds.

President Cleveland's

Brother, the Rev. Wm. N. Cleveland, certifies to Mr. John D. Rose's sickness and cure. Mr. Rose's statement is as follows:—"I, the undersigned, feel constrained to bear testimony to the value of your remedy for Dyspepsia. Last summer my stomach failed so entirely that I was unable for weeks to digest any food except an occasional cracker; meanwhile, I was reduced to a skeleton, and became so weak as to be unable to walk without staggering. Having seen in a Toronto paper your remedy advertised, I procured through my sister, a bottle of your medicine. Upon trying it I began at once to mend, and in a short time entirely regained my health, gaining in eight days 13 lbs. To-day I am well and hearty, which blessing, under God, I owe (as I think) to your medicine, K. D. C.

Yours truly, JOHN D. ROSE.

Suicides in a Cistern.

STRATFORD, April 7.— Yesterday the wife of William Nichols, storekeeper, Ontario street, committed suicide by drowning herself in a cistern at her residence. She had evidently deliberately planned it, as a bag containing stones was found tied round her neck and she had unusually sent her youngest child to school with a sister to be out of the way. On the return of the children they found the house locked, and soon after discovered the body of their mother in the cistern. The deceased has been under medical treatment for some time, and the supposition is that the deed was committed during temporary mental derangement.

Cut to Pieces by a Trolley.

MONTREAL, Que., April 7.—J. Brousseau, one of the employes of the St. Benoit asylum, while driving up Park avenue last night collided with an electric car and was cut to pieces. His rig was smashed to atoms and the horse was killed outright.

Killed by a Trolley.

MONTREAL, Que., April 7.—A fatal accident occurred here last evening by which the 8-year-old son of William Charters lost his life. No blame is attached to the motorman.

Monson's Man Scott as a Freak.

LONDON, April 7.—Ted Sweeney, alias Scott, who surrendered himself to the police and was subsequently released, has prepared a series of articles relating his experience at Ardlamont. They will explain his visits to Ardlamont on the day that Lieut. Hambrough was shot, and on previous occasions, and the reason for his assumption of the name of "Scott." The articles will be published in the Pall Mall Gazette, which newspaper has undertaken to defend him against any charges that may be brought against him. Sweeney has also engaged to appear daily in Merritt's show in Piccadilly as the "mysterious missing man," who was wanted to testify at the trial of Alfred John Monson for the murder of Lieut. Hambrough.

To Overthrow the Cuban Government.

MADRID, April 7.—A despatch from Havana, Cuba, says that Capt.-Gen. Calleja has just learned of the existence of a plot to overthrow the colonial government. The labor agitator, Marti, is said to be the author of the plot, and Gen. Martinez Comez is believed to have been chosen to lead the movement. It is reported that a large quantity of arms and ammunition, which had been collected by the plotters, was discovered this week at Puerto Prince.

Her Fortune for a Tomb.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The will of the late Cornelia Coster, who died last Sunday at the Hotel Savoy, directs that her entire fortune of $1,000,000 be devoted to building a mausoleum in Woodlawn cemetery. If her instructions are carried out her memory will be perpetuated in the costliest tomb ever erected in this country.

THREE SMALL WORDS.

Written on the Margin of a Newspaper Costs a Man Ten Dollars.

COLLINGWOOD, April 7.—"All is well," written on the margin of a newspaper and sent by mail with paper postage only attached was the means of causing one of our respectable citizens being mulcted some ten dollars and costs the other day. The post-office authorities have placed detectives in a number of mail cars to hunt up violations of the law in this direction, and Police Magistrate Frame has been quite busy of late trying cases of this kind, much to the dissatisfaction of several of our townsmen. A young girl scribbled a few words in a paper which she was sending to her sister. The paper was opened and found to contain writing and was traced to the writer. She was summoned to appear before the cadi, and, although the girl has had a hard time to pull through the winter, she was fined $10 and costs. Much dissatisfaction is felt with the postal authorities because of there not having notices of this ruling posted up in the various post-offices, as all the violations committed here were done in perfect ignorance of the law.

AMERICANS ARE INDIGNANT.

Canadian Tailors Cross the Line and Take Orders for Clothing.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—A practice has arisen in Canada of late of merchant tailors sending into this country along the border drummers who take the measures of men and have the clothes made in Canada in accordance with samples submitted. The men, when the clothes are finished, repair to Canada and either wear the clothes or bring them in as personal effects free of duty. The practice has grown to such an extent that protests have been made to the Treasury Department by merchant tailors of this country. The matter was referred to Solicitor Reeve, who decides that the practice is a fraud upon the revenue and the law, Steps will be taken to prevent further imposition from this source.

KILLED IN A COLLISION.

One Man Loses His Life and Another Seriously Injured.

LONDON, April 7.—A misplaced switch on the G. T. R. near Waterloo street, resulted in a collision between a pilot and a freight train, and the death of one man and the probable fatal injury of another. A little after 6 o'clock last night, George Ingram, employed in the Hobb's Hardware Company factory, and another man, named Fortner, employed in Blevens & Burns' foundry, jumped on to the tender of an eastbound freight train for the purpose of getting a ride home. When the collision occurred the unfortunate men were caught between the tender and a stock car, Ingram being instantly killed and Fortner injured severely.

Mysterious Disappearance from Montreal.

MONTREAL, April 7.—Another mysterious disappearance in Montreal, under circumstances which point to foul play, is recorded. Mr. George H. Davis was an employe of the Wellington Steam Pump Co., New York, of which E. H. Buchanan & Co. are the agents here. A few weeks ago Davis came here to superintend the fixing of the new Worthington engine at the waterworks. The job was duly finished. On March 27 Davis called at the office of Buchanan & Co. and drew some money on account. Since that date he has been neither seen nor heard from. The New York company has sent a detective here to investigate, and the Montreal detectives have been notified. Mr. Davis stayed at the London house in Chabolliez square. The impression prevails that the missing man has met with foul play, and all means are being employed to discover his whereabouts. Davis is described as a fine specimen of manhood, standing six feet in height, with dark moustache, generally dressed in a gray suit, with soft felt hat. His age is about thirty-five years. He has a wife in New York and a brother in Montreal. Davis had a salary of several hundred dollars a week.

Queen Liliuokalani's Trip.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 7.—Dr. J. A. Houser has again heard from Queen Lil regarding the proposed lecture trip. Through her representative in Washington and a high official, the Queen, Dr. Houser says, agrees to his proposal, but intimates that she is fearful that there would not be any money in it. The doctor on Thursday wrote to her agreeing to pay all expenses and allow her $25,000, to be deposited in any bank in the United States.

A Bomb in Bohemia.

VIENNA, April 7.—A despatch from Gablonz, Bohemia, says that a dynamite bomb was exploded yesterday in the garden of a house occupied by a wealthy manufacturer. Nobody was injured. It is supposed that the bomb was placed by workingmen, as the life of the manufacturer has been threatened repeatedly since he reduced wages in his factory.

Carpenters' Strike.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 7.—Nearly all the union carpenters of this city are on strike because they could not agree with the contractors on a scale of wages for the season.

HIS MAIL IS HEAVY.

Fisheries Inspector Brickwood Gets Letters From all Over the Dominion Asking for Particulars About Dodd's Kidney Pills Curing Him of Chronic Rheumatism.

KINGSTON, April 2.—Enquiry develope the fact that the story of J. H. Brickwood's wonderful cure of his rheumatism by Dodd's Kidney Pills has brought him notoriety. Mr. Brickwood daily receives letters from all quarters of Canada asking further particulars of his cure. He invariably answers that after all other remedies failed, Dodd's Kidney Pills restored him to health. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy in pill form ever offered the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations. Purchasers for their own safety should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes; price fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50 To be had of all dealers.

ROSEBERY'S REVERSE.

Dissensions in Irish Ranks Have Their Effect on the Government.

CONSERVATIVE PAPERS HAPPY

Because They Think They See in the Present Difficulties of the Government a Prospect That the Latter Cannot Much Longer Exist.

LONDON, April 7.—The defeat of the Government in the House of Commons, when it was beaten by a vote of 238 to 227 on a private bill, is the chief topic of discussion in political circles, and the prediction is freely made that the Rosebery Government cannot exist much longer. Other votes were taken on various questions and the normal government majority fell off from fifteen to eighteen votes in several cases, until finally a majority of one was recorded against them in spite of the vigorous efforts of the whips. It was on the question of the second reading of the East London water bill that this vote was taken. The bill was opposed on behalf of the Government by Mr. G. J. Shaw-Lefevre, president of the Local Government Board, and the Government whips were energetic in their endeavor to rally their forces, but despite this the bill was passed by the vote mentioned—238 to 227. None of the Parnellite members were present, and many of the Anti-Parnellites were away, but all had arranged pairs before going.

The Daily News (Liberal), commenting on the matter, says that the Government will meet with serious disaster unless greater vigilance is observed.

The Westminster Gazette is inclined to place the blame upon the Irish absentees, remarking that "The serious feature of the situation was in the absence of ten Nationalists and the Redmondites from the House."

The Conservative papers are jubilant at the position in which the Government is placed, and regard the downfall of the Ministry as merely a question of a short time.

Trouble Among the Factions.

LONDON, April 7.—It is understood upon good authority that the formation of another section or faction of the Irish party is probable. The recent ousting of Mr. Healy from the board of directors of the Freeman Journal has enraged that gentleman's friends, who regard Mr. Healy's treatment as an act of gross ingratitude, and it is understood that they are now endeavoring to form another Irish party, of which Mr. Healy is to be the leader. The lack of harmony in the Irish party, which the recent disputes have accentuated, has rendered many Liberals lukewarm toward home rule, and the apparent hopelessness of bringing the faction together will make it still more difficult to hold the Liberals to energetic support of an Irish measure, upon which the Irish members are divided beyond the possibility of reconciliation.

The Behring Sea Bill.

LONDON, April 7.—The Pall Mall Gazette, commenting on the debate in the House of Commons on the Behring Sea bill, says it is a great pity that discordant voices should have disturbed the harmony which had been achieved. The result of the deliberations of the arbitration tribunal afforded an honorable and practical escape from a difficult position and a means of strengthening the excellent relations existing between Great Britain and the United States, against which no opposition should have been raised.

Fate is Kind to Britain's Heir.

LONDON, April 7.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily News says that the Prince of Wales planned to go to the Odeon Theatre and to dine at Foyots on Wednesday evening. He would have occupied the room which was the most damaged by the explosion. After all arrangements had been made the Prince changed his mind and went elsewhere.

Annexed Without Firing a Shot.

CAPETOWN, April 7.—The annexation of Pondoland to the British domain in South Africa was accomplished without the firing of a gun. The people and their chiefs are gradually becoming reconciled to the new conditions of things.

Twenty-Fifth Baron de Clifford Dead.

LONDON, April 7.—Edward S. Russell, the twenty-fifth Baron de Clifford, died at the Grand Hotel in Monte Carlo after a brief illness. He was 39 years of age. He leaves a son, the Hon. James Southwell Russell, who succeeds to the title.

A Tapir in Captivity.

A nearly adult specimen of the Malayan or Asiatic tapir is a new addition to the Zoological gardens at Regent's Park, London. The Marked Success

Which attended the formal opening of our New Millinery and Mantle Department has been a matter of sincere congratulation and encouragement—far in excess of our highest expectations.

The special efforts we put forth to excel has amply repaid us and we are pleased to know that our beautiful display has evoked so much favourable comment from the Ladies.

We take this opportunity of thanking the large number of ladies who daily patronized our Show Rooms, not only for the many liberal orders they favoured us with, but for their kind words and flattering preferences for our exhibition over all others.

The Good Start

which we have made in our Millinery and Mantle Department will be an incentive to continued efforts to excel. The array of Rich and Beautiful Millinery will be fully maintained throughout the season, and as fast as new novelties appear or favourite lines become exhausted, we will be prompt in ordering.

Pollard-Breckenridge Case.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—With Miss Pollard's evidence and some further unimportant testimony by the matron of the Washington Foundling Asylum, who was recalled for the defendants, the testimony in the Pollard-Breckenridge case was closed and the court adjourned with an understanding that both sides will to-day present to the court alone in the absence of jury their prayers as to the instructions asked to be given the jury by the court. The jury was then discharged till Monday, when the summing up of the case by counsel will begin.

Another Negro Pays a Just Penalty.

ST. LOUIS, April 7.—A special from Greensboro', Ga., says that Mrs. Chambliss, a white woman, was criminally assaulted by a negro last night. The negro was captured, and, after being identified by his victim, was placed in jail. An hour afterwards a mob attacked the jail. In response to a telegram from the sheriff Gov. Northern ordered out the troops, but before they reached the jail the mob battered down the doors. They dragged the negro from his cell and lynched him.

Decision Regarding Strikes.

MILWAUKEE, March 7.—Judge Jenkins' decision in the Northern Pacific cases was read yesterday. He strikes out the order forbidding labor union chiefs to consult with the men regarding a strike, and modifies the strike order so as to permit the men to quit work quietly but not to use violence toward the men hired to fill their places, or to damage the road.

Shot His Son-in-Law.

SHELBYVILLE, Tenn., April 7.—J. W. Trollinger, a leading citizen, shot and killed his son-in-law, Wm. Posey. Posey had deserted his wife, and Trollinger had forbidden him the house.

Mrs. Owen Blackburn Dead.

DUBLIN, April 7.—Mrs. Owen Blackburn, a writer of some note, died here yesterday. She received fatal injuries on Thursday evening at a fire caused by the upsetting of a kerosene lamp in her rooms.

Origin of the Bayonet.

The germ of the fixed bayonet, the double-barrelled gun, the seven-chambered revolver and the mitrailleuse may be discovered in a duplex weapon exhibited in the Japanese collection at the Academy of the Fine Arts. This is an ancient sword, with a hilt contrived to conceal a dagger—a combination plainly of great advantage before the introduction of firearms. In the hand of a man suddenly attacked by an enemy too near to permit the drawing of the sword, the dagger could be brought into play swiftly and effectively. Probably the nearest approach to this reinforced weapon among European nations was the left-handed, basket-hilted dagger of the Venetians, held in reserve when the sword was in the right hand, specimens of which may be seen in many collections of bric a brac.

Earthquakes in Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 7.—Another severe earthquake shock has occurred on the Isthmus of Tehuantepec. Much damage was done to the towns and villages on the Pacific coast.

Castoria is truly a marvelous thing for children. Doctors prescribe it, medical journals recommend it and more than a million mothers are using it in place of Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, so-called soothing syrups and other narcotic and stupefying remedies. Castoria is the quickest thing to regulate the stomach and bowels and give healthy sleep the world has ever seen. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind collic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mother's friend.

Castoria is put up in one-size bottles only. It is not sold in bulk. Don't allow any one to sell you anything else on the plea or promise that it is "just as good" and "will answer every purpose."

"UNARMING."

Tenniel's Great Cartoon and Mr. Punch's Pathetic Tribute to Mr. Gladstone.

"Unarm—the long day's task is done."—"Antony and Cleopatra," act iv., scene 12.

At last!—Chill phrase by loyal love abhorred!
There lives a lingering sadness in each word!—
At last the unvanquished knight suspends his sword.

The Lancelot of our lists for so long years,
Victor so oft amidst loud storm of cheers;
Shall not such passing touch the source of tears?

War worn but yet unbroken, straight and strong,
We hoped he yet should head the charge for long,
The star of battle and the theme of song.

* * * * *

Yet he hangs up that sword, that lance lays by,
Conscious, though loud applauding cohorts cry,
Of falling vigor and of dimming eye.

"The seven-fold shield of Ajax cannot keep"
Time's battery from the heart. The cruel creep
Of the slow years bears all to the great deep.

Bears champion with coward, knight with clown
The hero of a hundred fights steps down,
Hangs up the sheathed sword, and takes the crown.

"No more a soldier:—Bruised pieces, go;
You have been nobly borne." So, in proud woe.
Cried Roman Antony, by love laid low.

"Unarm, Eros; the long day's task is done,"
This is no Anthony; here's a nobler one;
Yet like the Roman his great course is run.

* * * * *

Hang up the sword! It struck its latest stroke,
A swashing one, there where the closed ranks broke
Into wild cheers that all the echoes woke.

That stroke, the last, was swift, and strong, and keen.
Now hang thou there though sheathed, yet silver clean,
For never felon stroke has dimmed thy sheen!

For thee, good knight and gray, whose gleaming crest
Leads us no longer, every generous breast
Breathes benediction on thy well won rest.

"Grin Like a Cheshire Cat."

"Well, well! Didn't ever hear of a 'grin like a Cheshire cat?' Why, you see a man down in Cheshire had a cat which grinned and grinned until there was nothing left of the cat but the grin, just as some scrofulous people, who don't know of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, get a cough, and then cough and cough until there is nothing left of them to erect a monument to but the cough."

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the most effective, anti-bilious, anti-dyspeptic, strength-giving remedy extant. For weak lungs, lingering coughs, spitting of blood, scrofula, sores, pimples and ulcers, it is a wonderful and efficacious remedy.

Its manufacturers guarantee it to do all that they claim, or money is returned.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation, piles, sick headache, and indigestion or dyspepsia.

Mrs. D. L. Ganley, Cornwall, Ont., says: "I have found SCOTT'S COMPRESS CURE invaluable for sore lungs."

What everyone says must be true, and everyone who has used Wide Awake Soap says it is the best they have ever used. Try it.

SCRATCHED 28 YEARS

A Scaly, Itching, Skin Disease with Endless Suffering Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me years and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot not larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body, and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ring-worm, psoriasis, etc. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was $5 worth. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $100.00, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture (No. 2, page 07) in your book, "How to Cure Skin Diseases," but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and limbs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me.

DENNIS DOWNING, Waterbury, Vt.

Why

A Spring Overcoat is a good investment.

BECAUSE—

It's a stylish comfort, not only for the Spring season but also a most stylish and comfortable garment for cool days and nights through the summer, and for summer touring and outing wear generally.

Why

Some Suits are made merely to sell.

BECAUSE—

They don't fit and you know it. They look ungainly, but you're persuaded that they're "the height of fashion." Smart salesman did all the talking, and you—well, you did'nt like to go out without buying something after putting him to all that trouble. A week and the trousers were "riding up," the vest in ridges and the coat declining to get within two inches of your collar, and you wonder how you came to buy the plaguey thing. You won't do it again.

If you want to be fitted to perfection with Stylish Clothing cut by the people's cutter, and made to measure in good taste, look no farther than

OPPOSED TO A SUBSIDY.

New Brunswick Members Do Not Favor Fast Atlantic Steamers.

WOULD BE A USELESS EXPENSE

A Subsidy Half of That Now Proposed Granted for the Construction of a First-Class Freight Service Would Be More to the Purpose.

OTTAWA, April 9.—In an interview with MR. FOSTER the New Brunswick Conservative members of Parliament represented that there was nothing to be gained by establishing a fast Atlantic line at such enormous cost, because if it was a fast line it could not carry heavy freight, and if it did not carry general freight it could not be a fast line. They pointed out that a fast line was not needed anyway, unless to land passengers in Chicago or other American cities a few hours earlier, and this would do Canada no good. They urged instead a subsidy of half the amount should be voted for a line of first-class freight vessels to run between St. John and England.

Ottawa's Liquor Delegates.

OTTAWA, April 9.—The Ottawa delegates to the convention of hotelmen in Toronto have returned to the city. They speak with much warmth of the action of Mayor Kennedy, of Toronto, in refusing to give the delegation an address of welcome, as is customary when any large representative body visits the city. One of the delegates says that the visiting delegates did not mind it so very much, but the Toronto hotelmen feel pretty sore over it, and they are determined to hit Mayor Kennedy on the neck for it yet.

THE PRICE OF WHEAT.

President Van Horne Predicts an Early Rise in this Product.

TORONTO, April 9.—President Van Horne in an interview gives it as his belief that the price of wheat will continue to rise for the next two seasons, and that within eighteen months the price will be $2 a bushel. In this connection Mr. Van Horne says:

"Last year the raisers of wheat at best received little better than the cost of producing, while in many instances their return per bushel was smaller than their expenditure. This can have only one effect, the discouragement of the wheat producer and consequent decrease of the acreage. Now, if there is a decrease of 10 per cent. in the production of wheat this year, owing to the low prices of last year, there will be a shortage of two hundred and seventy million bushels and ten per cent. of a decrease is well within the mark. As far as I can remember there has never been a surplus of a hundred and fifty million bushels.

"This year the surplus has been used up by feeding it to stock, and we will probably start in with as nearly a clean sheet as ever before. Now, if there is a shortage of only a hundred and fifty million bushels, this will not be discovered until it is too late to sow more wheat, and wheat will go up with a jump."

The Newfoundland Crisis.

ST. JOHN, Nfld., April 9.—It is reported that the Governor has said that he will refuse to accept the resignation of any member accused of corrupt practices, but he has made no declaration of his intentions regarding dissolution yet. Government members all draw sessional pay, so that in the event of their being unseated they will run no risk of having it refused at same time. None of the employes of any of the public departments have been paid salaries due at the end of March. The excuse given is that no money is available to pay them until the supply bill is passed. They did not make a quorum, however, to pass any bills. Continual telegraphic correspondence is going on between the Governor and the Imperial Cabinet. Oppositionists fear his delay in deciding indicates that he means to consent to dissolution. It is said that the Governor requested Goodridge, the leader of the Opposition, to endeavor to form a Ministry. Goodridge declines any information. The election trials will be resumed.

Viscount Villeneuve Will Appeal.

QUEBEC, April 9.—Mr. Fitzpatrick, on behalf of Viscount De Villeneuve, will appeal immediately from the decision rendered by Mr. Justice Chauveau in the extradition case, and will apply to a judge of the Court of Appeal in Chambers for the issuing of a writ of habeas corpus on the ground that the demand for extradition was not filed within the time fixed by law after the arrest of the Viscount. The prosecution will, it is stated, resist the application, contending that the delay in filing such demand was due entirely to a cause over which they had no control, namely, the non-arrival of the ocean steamship which carried the necessary documents.

An Old Brakesman Killed.

MONTREAL, April 9.—A. Clement, an old Grand Trunk man, was killed on Saturday evening by falling off the train at Cote St. Paul, the cars passing over him. Deceased was employed as brakesman and was highly respected by all who knew him. His remains were brought back to this city.

Hostler Suffocated by Smoke.

MORRISBURG, April 9.—In a fire in the Windsor hotel, Lock street, the hostler, known only by the name of "Old Joe," was suffocated by smoke. He is supposed to have started the fire by saturating a mattress with coal oil. He was a hard drinker.

ROSEBERY'S MINISTRY.

British Tories Confidently Expect Its Early Resignation.

FIDELITY OF M'CARTHYITES

Notwithstanding the Feuds Existing Among That Section of the Irish Party, They Give Unwavering Support to Lord Rosebery.

LONDON, April 9.—The political situation has taken an unexpected turn and the Conservatives confidentially predict Parliament will be dissolved within the present month. The Tories may be oversanguine, but their prediction is by no means an extravagant one, in view of the present aspect of things. The Liberals themselves admit a crisis may be precipitated any day, and after their experience of Thursday they no longer attempt to conceal their appreciation of their precarious hold on Parliament.

Of course any further defeat will involve the resignations of the Ministry and the Opposition are looking forward with feelings of the utmost confidence to the next appeal to the country, which they believe will result in the return of a Conservative majority.

The normal Government majority of 36 had been reduced Thursday night to 24 through the absence of the Parnellite members, who have recently been spending their time in Dublin quarrelling among themselves and denouncing the Government's lukewarmness toward the home rule question. Three Liberals were also absent and not paired.

The fidelity of the McCarthyites in adhering steadfastly to the Government continues unimpaired, despite their internal feuds, and has elicited a great deal of favorable comment even from the Opposition members, who are forced to admire their consistency.

IS LE CARON DEAD?

Report That the Spy Has Been Sent Away for Protection.

LONDON, April 9.—The Admiralty and Horseguards' Gazette says a report is current that Major Le Caron, the British Government spy, whose death was announced a few days ago, is not dead, but according to rumor, is on the way to one of the distant colonies under Government officers' protection. The paper says his disappearance is due to the fact that the detectives who have been guarding him ever since he was brought into public notice discovered some time ago that a Fenian plot to kill the spy existed and came near being successfully carried out.

No details of the plot are furnished. When the spy was informed of the danger to which he had been exposed he is reported to have petitioned the British Government to enable him to leave England for some distant part of the Queen's dominions where he would be safer from the vengeance of the Fenians.

Inquiries made at Scotland Yard jail confirm the story, but Scotland Yard officials are not likely to furnish information upon the subject, even if they were in possession of all the facts.

Prominent Irishmen who were questioned upon the subject said they would not be astonished if the report were true, but they all claimed to know nothing about the alleged Fenian conspiracy to kill the spy.

A body supposed to be that of Major Le Caron was buried yesterday in Norwood Cemetery. The registrar of deaths scouts the idea that Le Caron is not dead.

DISTRESS IN HAWAII.

Natives Starving in the Land of Eternal Sunshine—Trouble Over Taxes.

HONOLULU, April 9.—The provisional government is in financial shallows such as it has never before experienced. The minister of finance has promulgated a rule which has almost created a panic, to the effect that the provisional government will hereafter demand from three to six months' credit on all purchases and other debts.

Several wealthy royalists have refused to pay taxes. Attorneys Neumann and Ashford will contest several hundred cases on the ground that the government has violated the Kalakuan constitution relative to taxes, and has in no manner sought to promulgate a new one.

Several poor royalist natives have been arrested for refusing to pay taxes, though no Portuguese or Chinese have been put in custody for the same offence.

Friends of the Government are doing everything within their power to force the natives to swear allegiance to the provisional government and forever renounce the queen. To accomplish this the secretary of the interior has issued an order that all native royalists be discharged from the road work and other public service.

Whenever possible to do so the government has supplanted natives by Portuguese and Chinese, so that to-day, for the first time in the history of Hawaii, there is a problem of starving men in this land of eternal sunshine. The natives are in desperate straits.

The Strike in the Coke Regions.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 9.—The feeling of general satisfaction produced by the belief that the strike has been given its quietus has given place to anxious forebodings produced by the news that the Scottdale convention has decided to continue the struggle. The law-abiding citizens are thoroughly tired of the turbulent scenes of the last week, and will brook no further violence. The spirit of the people is shown by the movement inaugurated here last night for the organization of an independent military club for the protection of the town.

Three Killed by a Boiler Exploding.

SPENCER, Ind., April 9.—The boiler in the mill belonging to Christian Weber at Lancaster, ten miles from this city, exploded on Saturday while the employes were at work. The mill owner, his son Lewis Weber, and Clifton Linehart, a laborer, were instantly killed by the explosion. Two other laborers, whose names are not known, were fatally injured.

Will Not Handle Stead's Book.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The American and Union News Companies have decided that they will not handle Editor Stead's book, "If Christ Came to Chicago," because the title is objectionable and the contents in part a directory of sin, which is not proper reading to go into the family.

BLOWN TO THEIR DEATH

Frightful Result of an Explosion in a Fireworks Factory.

THIRTEEN MEN WERE KILLED.

Nine Others Were Seriously Injured—A Number of Girls Employed in the Factory Have a Narrow Escape—Loss Estimated at $100,000.

PETERSBURG, Va., April 9.—On Saturday an alarm of fire was turned in and was soon followed by a loud explosion. Fifteen minutes later there was a second explosion. These explosions were distinctly heard for over a mile and were caused by fire breaking out in the fireworks factory of C. N. Romaine & Bros., in Blandford.

The fire originated in the building where powder for whistle bombs was made. The flames spread very rapidly and were quickly communicated to the other buildings used for the manufacture of fireworks.

There were three explosions. The first was a small affair. As soon as it occurred Messrs. Romaine, Bland and Tosh rushed into the drying room and there the second and fatal explosion occurred and they were killed.

A number of girls employed in the fireworks factory escaped just before the second explosion. The killed are: Chas. N. Romaine, Capt. James T. Tosh, John B. Bland, James Rowland, Robert Rowland, Wm. Traylor, Edward Traylor, Jas. Bryant, Quincy Livesay, James W. Perkins, and Thos. Woodfolk (colored). Nine men were badly wounded.

On the opposite side of the street from the fireworks buildings, all of which are brick structures, was the trunk factory of Messrs. Romaine Bros. & Close, by which stood the large brick tobacco factory of Bland Bros. & Wright and the old whiskey distillery now unused. All of these buildings with stock were burned to the ground, as was also a large quantity of lumber. It is estimated that the loss cannot be less than $75,000 or $100,000.

The Mayor has called for a public meeting to take action on the sad affair.

John F. Harris, another victim of the explosion, died yesterday. Another dead body has been found near the river bank, but it could not be identified. Engineer Farley's condition is critical.

At a mass meeting yesterday afternoon $1,300 was raised as a relief fund.

MARRIED FIVE TIMES.

A Michigan Bigamist Who Has a Varied Matrimonial Career.

DENVER, Col., April 9.—Alexander Watson is being conducted back to Grand Rapids, Mich., by a detective. Watson is known to have at least five wives. He was arrested last Thursday in Florence, Col., and was brought here Saturday.

Of Watson's four wives, No. 1 lives in Grand Rapids, Mich., where she was discovered by Nos. 2 and 3, and the trio joined forces in locating him. They discovered that in 1892 Watson had married Mary Corey, of Hammond, Ind., who had money. As soon as he had obtained the money he decamped and married a 17-year-old Chicago girl, whose father furnished a home for them. Watson borrowed money on the furniture and disappeared.

Four years ago Watson was arrested in Detroit for bigamy on complaint of wife No. 3, the daughter of a merchant of Coldwater, Mich. At that time he was engaged to a society lady in Detroit and the wedding had been arranged for. No. 3 soon unearthed No. 2, and No. 1 was discovered by the joint efforts of the two. Watson is about 40 years of age.

Westmark's Charges Against Stanley.

CHICAGO, April 9.—In a lecture Theodore Westmark, a young Scandinavian who made two explorations of the Congo state, in Central Africa, under the auspices of King Leopold II. of Belgium, accused Henry M. Stanley of having lunched on human flesh to satisfy a morbid curiosity. Mr. Westmark said that at Stanley Pool, in 1884, Stanley, curious to know how human flesh would taste, sent his servant Duala to procure a chunk of the native material, but it proved tainted and Duala received a sound drubbing. A second foraging trip after flesh from a native proved more successful. It was fried in butter and served with sauce piquante and mixed pickles, but, despite these conditments, Stanley pronounced the flesh to be tasteless.

Violating the Contract Labor Law.

SANDWICH, Mass., April 9.—There is some dissatisfaction here over the arrival of a number of fishermen from Nova Scotia to operate the fish traps of the L. Mayo & Co., Boston. A number here who formerly followed the occupation and were employed on these traps are unable to secure situations, claiming that it is because foreigners are allowed to come here under contract. It is reported that a complaint has been made to the commissioner of immigration.

Will Build an Incline Railway.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., April 9.—The Niagara Falls Park and River Railway Company began to-day the construction of an incline railway from the top of the bank at the south west corner of the Clifton house and descend to the Maid of Mist landing at an angle of 50 degrees. The railway company pays the commissioners of the Victoria Park $10,000 for the concession. It is said they will charge a 25-cent fare on the inclined railway as against five cents charged on the American side. The five-cent fare produced a revenue of $9,000 for the state of New York last year.

Boy Burned to Death.

STRATFORD, Ont., April 9.—The children of Mrs. Newcombe while playing in the barn on Saturday set fire to the building and before assistance could be rendered a boy of about 4 years of age was burned to death. The mother, hearing the screams of the children, made desperate efforts to reach the boy, but was unable to do so, and was badly burned about the face and arms and had to be removed to the hospital in consequence. A horse and cow, which occupied the building, were also burned.

CONFEDERATION LIFE ASSOCIATION.

The public interested in life assurance—and that is a very comprehensive reference—are requested to consult the report of the twenty-second annual meeting of the above insurance corporation, printed in another column. The report presented must be very gratifying to both the shareholders and the policy-holders, and for the matter of it, to the general public who find therein another evidence of the stability of Canadian financial institutions. Though the hand of "hard times" has dealt many a heavy blow, the Confederation Life reports an increased volume of business last year over the previous year. To be more specific, the payments to policy holders showed an increase of $70,643. The increase in premium income was $79,526; in interest receipts, $25,363; in assets, $404,982; in insurance, in insurance written, $244,870; in insurance in force, $1,864.97. The large sum of twenty-five million dollars represents the total insurance on the books of the company. A commendable promptitude in paying death claims is shown by the fact that the large sum of $200,000, representing the claims of the past year were paid within six hours of the receipt of the completed proofs of death. An average sum of over $1,000 per day was paid out during the whole of last year to the annuitants, policy holders, or their heirs. The management of the company report that the new "unconditional policy," which was adopted during the past year, with its special non-forfeiture privilege, known as the "extended insurance" feature, is proving exceedingly popular and attractive to all those who desire insurance on their lives. It is a "simple promise to pay," untrammelled by vexatious conditions, with a non-forfeiture privilege, guaranteeing absolute protection against any accident or failure to pay premium when due. Mr. H. Rush, the local representative of the Confederation Life Association, is responsible for contributing no small share to the prosperity of the company.

That Bozeman Confession.

TORONTO, April 9.—Detective Greer has arrived at Bozeman, Montana, and has wired the deputy attorney-general to that effect. The telegram is of such an indefinite character that Mr. Cartwright himself cannot make much out of it, but he does not think that the man Dutton has yet been captured. Greer has been notified to investigate the affair, and he will not been recalled until the matter is either proven a hoax or the man Dutton is found.

Drowned While Shooting Wild Geese.

MONCTON, N.B., April 9.—The news of a hunting fatality comes from Cocaigne, on Northumberland Straits, near here. Eustache Herbert left his home on Saturday in a boat to shoot wild geese at Cocaigne bar, about three miles from shore. He was alone, and whilst shooting at geese he stood up in the boat and fired. The recoil of the gun knocked him overboard and he was drowned. He leaves a wife and family in straightened circumstances.

Rolling Mill Strike Over.

HAMILTON, April 9.—Several conferences were held on Saturday between the Ontario mill strikers and the officials of the company and as a result the men return to work to-day. President Doolittle said the strike was practically settled and although he refused to divulge the result of the conferences, he stated that a compromise had been offered by which a slight increase of some of the lines on the new scale of wages was granted.

"Grin Like a Cheshire Cat."

"Well, well! Didn't ever hear of a 'grin like a Cheshire cat?' Why, you see a man down in Cheshire had a cat which grinned and grinned until there was nothing left of the cat but the grin, just as some scrofulous people, who don't know of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, get a cough, and then cough and cough until there is nothing left of them to erect a monument to but the cough."

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the most effective, anti-bilious, anti-dyspeptic, strength-giving remedy extant. For weak lungs, lingering coughs, spitting of blood, scrofula, sores, pimples and ulcers, it is a wonderful and efficacious remedy.

Its manufacturers guarantee it to do all that they claim, or money is returned.

FLED FROM HIS WRONGED WIFE.

Evangelistic Services in St. John's, N.B., Come to an Abrupt End.

ST. JOHN, N.B., April 9.—Religious circles were thrown into quite an excitement late last night when it became known that a man who had been conducting evangelistic services here under the name of Garrison had suddenly skipped out, leaving his supposed wife behind. The woman was seen by the correspondent last night and stated that the man's right name was Gibbs, that he was formerly a Methodist minister, and that her name was Mrs. Frost, that she cleared out from Greenpoint, N.Y., a year ago with Gibbs, the latter leaving his wife behind him. They went to Halifax and carried on evangelistic services there until May. They arrived here in September, where they have since lived as man and wife. The woman's maiden name was Garrison and she was divorced from Frost. She has a son here aged 23 and a daughter aged 10 years. Their evangelistic services have been attracting large crowds. Gibb's disappearance is due to the fact that his wife is on his track, although not yet in the city.

NINE HOURS A DAY.

Montreal Carpenters Successful in Their Agitation for Shorter Hours.

MONTREAL, April 9.—The Montreal carpenters have been victorious in their agitation for the nine hours a day, nearly all the employers have signified their willingness to accede to the requests of the union, 20 cents an hour and nine hours to constitute a day's work. There have been no demands or threats to strike, but the men have met their employers fairly and squarely, and the question has been discussed solely on its merits. All the large shops are in favor of the new system. It was reported at a recent meeting that out of 102 shops 70 were willing to adopt the scale from the 1st of May next. Thirty-two are yet undecided, but it is almost certain that they too will fall in line with the majority. It is the manly and open manner in which the carpenters' union has conducted the agitation they are now engaged in that has won for them the sympathy of all classes. The union has a membership of 1,500 in Montreal and is daily increasing.

KILLED IN A TUNNEL.

Body of a Supposed Hamilton Man Found at Thorold.

THOROLD, Ont., April 9.—The body of a man supposed to be that of Timothy Gavin, of Hamilton, was found in the tunnel of the G. T. R. here yesterday. It is evident that he was killed by a passing train. His skull, breast and one arm were broken. The remains are those of a man about 5 feet 10 inches tall, full face with sandy moustache and side whiskers, and probably about 50 years of age. The chief of police is trying to ascertain whether he has any relatives living in Hamilton before burying the remains.

Poisoned Himself With Strychnine.

BOBCAYGEON, April 9.—Abraham Delury, 45, committed suicide in Lucas' hotel. He called for whiskey in a tumbler, placed strychnine in the liquor and drank it down. The jury returned a verdict of poisoning. Deceased came from Lindsay.

Woman and Four Children Burned.

MERRITTON, Ont., April 9.—The frame dwelling of Thomas O'Neill, with all its contents, was destroyed by fire on Saturday. Mrs. O'Neill and six children were sleeping in the house and did not awaken until it was almost too late to escape. When they were rescued the mother and four children were so badly burned as to make it necessary to send them to the hospital. A 13-year-old girl's injuries are so serious that it is feared she will die. The fire was discovered too late to render the fire department's services available.

AFTER TYPHOID FEVER.

Harvey Neff Has Kidney Disease, Which Doctors Could Not Cure—Dodd's Kidney Pills Restored Him to Perfect Health.

PORT COLBORNE, April 9—In March, 1893, Harvey H. Neff, of this place, had a bad attack of typhoid fever. Good nursing and medical attendance brought him around, but the attack left him a victim of kidney disease. This the doctors failed to cure, but Dodd's Kidney Pills, the infallible remedy, did the same good work in his case as in all others and Mr. Neff is well to-day. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy in pill form ever offered the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations. Purchasers, for their own safety, should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes; price, fifty cents or six boxes for $2.50. To be had of all dealers.

No lead poison, or anything injurious, contained in Dr. Grant's "Hairene." Ask your druggist for it.

It Isn't a Matter of How Much You Earn, But

What You Save!

"Any FOOL can Earn Money, but it takes a WISE Man to Save It."

And yet it is as simple as A B C. You know that one of the peculiarities about GOUGH'S Clothing is that it isn't sold by wind. It's VALUE that does it. It broke out some 8 or 10 years ago when Gough Bros. spread their monster tents for business in Peterborough and the epidemic has kept on spreading ever since.

THE IMMENSE AMOUNT OF MONEY SAVED to the Workingman, the Farmer and the Business Man since Gough Bros. broke the combination to keep up High Prices in Clothing, has demonstrated that there are Wise Men among us who can save money if they only get a fair chance.

"What's the cause of Gough's Big Success?" did you say.

Just look at those $7.50 Spring Overcoats and Tweed Suits, with that regular tailor-made look about them. They were no more made to sell at that price than the Otonabee River was to run ocean greyhounds on. $12.00 ought to be the price.

Then again—Take that pair of Pants or that Big Boy's 3-Piece Suit. They're All Wool and out by an expert hand, who was a regular tailor's cutter before we pulled down the prices that gave them such big salaries. You wouldn't think $4.50 too much to pay for either of them, would you? Well, they're yours for $3.00

And so on all the way through our mammoth store. "Money to be Saved at Gough's!" why that's stale news—everybody knows that by this time, and, if you haven't caught the enthusiasm yet, it must be because you're one of those fellows that can EARN money all right, but DON'T KNOW HOW TO SAVE IT.

WE'RE AWFULLY STUCK UP—and it's just on account of our Clothes. We just think that when it comes to Clothing, there's nothing in this town that can touch us.

"Always Good at Gough's."

CONFEDERATION LIFE ASSOCIATION.

Twenty-Second Annual Report—A Good Exhibit for the Year—New Insurances Written Nearly Four Millions—Satisfactory Gains Made in All Departments of the Company's Business.

The twenty-second annual meeting of the Confederation Life Association was held at the head office of the association, Richmond street, Toronto, on Tuesday, April 3rd, 1894, at 3 o'clock p.m.

The following gentlemen were present:—

Sir W. P. Howland, President; Edward Hooper first vice-president; W. H. Beatty, second vice president; J. K. Macdonald, managing director; Walter S. Lee, W. H. Gibbs, Alfred Gooderham, A. McLean Howard, Hon. James Young, E. T. Malone, William Adamson, D. B. Dick, Major James Hiscott, M.P.P., O. A. Howland, Alfred Myers, Henry Swan, W. Macdonald, Thomas McCracken, Frederick Wyld, J. C. Hamilton, C. E. Hooper, A. A. Allan, C. M. Gripton, J. Tower Boyd, J. Russel Snow, C. Blackett Robinson, I. Diamond, R. S. Baird, J. P. Donald, George D. Lewis, and Israel Taylor, William Taylor, and John Jenkins, of Clinton, Ont., and others.

The president, Sir W. P. Howland, was called to the chair, and Mr J. K. Macdonald, managing director, acted as secretary.

The chairman first called upon the secretary to read the official notice calling the meeting, which was done.

The minutes of the last annual meeting were accepted as read, and were adopted.

Mr. Macdonald stated that he had a letter from His Worship Mayor Kennedy, who is a very old policy holder with us, in which he expressed regret at not being able to be present this afternoon.

The following report and statements were then submitted to the meeting:—

REPORT.

In submitting the Twenty-second Annual Report of the Association, it affords your Directors much pleasure to draw the attention of the policy holders and shareholders to the evidences of continued popularity and success afforded by the statements now submitted. As heretofore, the business has been obtained from purely Canadian sources, and, considering the severe depression in business generally, the volume of new insurance secured is very satisfactory.

We had before us 2,535 applications for a total insurance of $4,131,000. Of these, 125 for $213,500, not being desirable risks, were declined; 11 for $19,000 were deferred for a time, and the balance were accepted and policies issued. Adding the revived policies of previous years and the bonus additions, the total new business for the year was 2,408 policies for $3,917,543 of insurance.

The total insurance in force at the close of the year was $24,430,731, under 15,872 policies on 13,261 lives.

The new business for 1893 is the largest ever obtained by the Association in any year.

The death claims for the year aggregate the sum of $209,108, under 123 policies on 109 lives. By re-assurances on two lives, the claims were reduced by the sum of $5,375, making the net loss $203,733. This sum, while larger than in any previous year, is still very favourable, considering the number of lives and the amount at risk. The value of life insurance is strikingly illustrated by the payment of the large sum of $209,108 by this Association last year, on an average of less than six hours after the receipt of completed proofs.

The financial Statements submitted with this Report exhibit the true position of the Association at the close of the year.

The audit, which is made monthly, has been thorough and prompt.

The delay in finishing the western part of the new head office building has been a cause of great regret to your Directors. However, it was completed shortly before the close of the year, and it will be a source of satisfaction to know that a considerable portion has already been rented, with a fair prospect that more will soon be under lease. It is not too much to anticipate that, with a revival of business, there is the certainty that the excellence of the accommodation which the entire building affords, and its advantageous position as the centre of the city, every room will be rented at good prices.

As provided by the Act of Incorporation, all the Directors retire, but are eligible for re-election.

W. P. HOWLAND,
President.
J. K. MACDONALD,
Managing Director.

AUDITORS' REPORT.

We beg to report that we have completed the audit of the books of the Association for the year ending December 31st, 1893, and have examined the vouchers connected therewith, and certify that the financial statements agree with the books and are correct.

The securities represented in the assets (with the exception of those lodged with the Dominion Government, amounting to $84,500), have been examined and compared with the books of the Association and are correct and correspond with the schedules and ledgers.

The bank balances and cash are certified as correct.

W. R. HARRIS,
Toronto, February 28th, 1894.

PROCEEDINGS.

The president, Sir W. P. Howland, moved the adoption of the reports and statements submitted to the meeting, and in doing so briefly referred to the commercial stringency which had existed during the past year over the largest portion of the civilized world, and the responsibility and anxiety which it imposed upon those having charge of the management of institutions of this kind and on all others connected with the monetary affairs of the country, but stated that it was satisfactory to know that the stringency which existed in financial matters had not been so great in Canada as had been the case in other countries. In view of these circumstances it was particularly gratifying to report the large volume of business which had been secured by the association during the past year, and for the general measure of prosperity which had attended the operations of the company.

He referred, with expressions of sorrow and regret, to the loss which the board had sustained in the death of their dear friend and colleague, the late Mr. William Elliot, vice-president, who had been associated with the company and had given constant and unremitting attention to its affairs during that long period of time.

Mr. E. Hooper, Vice-President, seconded the resolution and said: "I have great pleasure in seconding this resolution. I certainly must express myself as well pleased with the result of the year's business, which is the largest done by the Company in any year since its organization. We have reason to be proud of it, for it has to my own knowledge been done on business principles, and not forced by resorting to the too common practice of allowing exorbitant commissions, varying from 75 per cent. to 100 per cent. of the premiums for the first year on new business." The resolution was carried unanimously.

During the proceedings of the meeting several of the prominent policy holders and others who were present referred in complimentary terms to the business of the Association for the past year, the manner in which it had been conducted and to the strong financial and prominent position which this Company now occupies amongst the life insurance companies of Canada.

Reference was also made to the new "Unconditional Policy" which had recently been adopted by the Association with its absolutely and automatically non-forfeitable provision, known as the Extended Insurance feature. The adoption of such an attractive policy in conjunction with the other forms of policy contract would, without doubt, tend to popularize, in a very large measure, the plans of the Company, and result in a largely increased measure of public confidence in the future

DIRECTORS.

The following were elected as Directors of the Association for the current year:—Sir W. P. Howland, Messrs. E. Hooper, W. H. Beatty, Hon. James Young, S. Nordheimer, W. H. Gibbs, A. McLean Howard, J. D. Edgar, M.P.; Walter S. Lee, A. L. Gooderham, W. D. Matthews, George Mitchell, of Halifax; Frederick Wyld, J. K. Macdonald.

The meeting then adjourned, immediately after which a meeting of the new Board of Directors was held, at which Sir W. P. Howland was re-elected President, and Messrs. Edward Hooper and W. H. Beatty, Vice-Presidents.

SPYING ON GREAT BRITAIN.

Americans Endeavoring to Gain Information About the New Warships.

LONDON, April 9.—The Engineer prints a letter received from the United States which declares the Washington Government is trying to obtain information about the new warships being built for the British Government and also large commercial vessels now in course of construction. According to the letter, representatives of the United States Government "go about it in such a quiet way that it is difficult to detect them."

According to the Engineer's correspondent the Yarrow Shipbuilding Co. refused all information concerning the new boilers intended for the famous torpedo destroyer Havoc to an American official, who thereupon set to work and within six weeks had plans of everything the Yarrows had made.

It is further asserted that Englishmen in America and Americans in England are supplying such information that even the lines of English yachts designed to compete for the America's cup were in the hands of American designers before the American shipbuilders began to build America cup defenders.

The Other Side of the Story.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Naval officers declare that the anonymous communication in the London Engineer is not worth noticing, for the simple reason that the English officials are constantly attacking the integrity of Americans as to the alleged theft of British secrets without ever giving such definite particulars as to bring forth complete and convicting refutation. British methods have always been secretive, apparently to no purpose except to prevent Germany, Russia and France from profiting by the mistakes that are made.

For the past ten years most of the radical advances in naval methods have been made by this country and France. It is not true that our navy department has spent any money in recent years for any English designs. Copies of all our drawings have been cheerfully made for other Governments and a large amount of work is done in all our naval bureaus to satisfy the requests made by all the legations at Washington. No request for information of this nature has ever been refused by this Government except that relating to army fortifications.

If the lines of British yachts are sold in America, the bargains are made between individuals and the dishonesty must be on the other side of the water. Our yachts are photographed promiscuously both in the water and out of it, while it is well known the English yachts are draped in canvas before they are docked in American waters.

A Government
BOMBSHELL
THROWN INTO THE
LIFE INSURANCE CAMP!
The following statement comes from the government Blue Book. It covers a period of sixteen years, and is sworn to as correct by representatives of each Company:
Statement of Premiums received and Cash Profits paid back to Policy Holders from 1877 to 1892, both years inclusive:—

COMPANY.	Premiums Received.	Dividends Paid to Policy Holders.	Ratio of Dividends to Premiums, %
CANADA LIFE	$16,368,307	$2,946,433	18.18
Confederation Life	6,165,432	637,925	10 35
North American	2,327,082	32,857	1.41
Ontario Mutual	3,878,086	433,294	11.17
Sun Life	5,527,720	355,280	6.43

Never in the history of Life Insurance has the struggle for business been keener. Never has the conflict been hotter. Never have the Companies felt as they feel now, the necessity for throwing all the energy at their command into the field. The most intelligent and best men have to be employed. All kinds of plans of insurance are submitted. Each Company determined in securing the supremacy in the good will of the public, in establishing their name, the utterance of which, shall convey to the minds of the people the essential characteristics of
UNDOUBTED SECURITY,
RIGID ECONOMY,
GOOD INVESTMENTS,
LARGEST PROFITS
WHY?
Because millons of dollars are being paid annually for Life Insurance, and the Companies that can show these features have attained a position which will guarantee their future success, for money will flow freely into the best investments.
The Canada Life Policy Holders can look at the above statement with a smile of satisfaction, yet sympathise with their friends who are not so favourably situated.
They can throw their Life Policies down in the face of opponents and successfully challenge the production of more profitable policies, they can stand the onslaught of Agents who will almost cover them with literature and estimates of Tontine, Semi-Tontine, Return Premiums, Reserved Dividends, Annuity and Endownment plans of insurance, and with a quiet assurance feel that
As The Canada Life is Making the Most Profits, She Can Pay the Largest Profits.

Board of Trade Meeting Adjourned.

The special meeting of the Board of Trade has been adjourned from Tuesday night till Thursday night, on account of the special meeting of the council on Tuesday evening. The meeting of the Board was fixed for Tuesday night, the secretary not having known that that date was selected for a council meeting. Remember the meeting on Thursday night when reports of committees will be presented and general business engage attention. It is to be hoped that there will be a large attendance. The admitted usefulness of the Board of Trade is in direct ratio to the interest taken in the work by the members, and attendance at meetings is the chief way in which such interest can be manifested.

See our goods, compare prices and goods and judge for yourselves, Grafton & Co.

Master and Man.

The attraction at the Opera House, Wednesday evening, April 12th, will be the sensational drama "Master and Man." It is one of New York's latest successes, and was first produced at Palmer's Theatre. Since it has been put on the road it has filled the theatres everywhere it has been presented, and commended by both critics and public to be the most truest and best drama ever seen. The scenic effects are well worth seeing. Among the notable scenes is the fourth act, showing an iron mill in full blast, at night. This is the most perfect scene ever produced on the American stage. Another beautiful scene is the one showing an illuminated chapel in winter, with the church choir singing. The company is headed by the romantic young actor, Gus Reynolds, who is surrounded by very clever people, such as Chas. Sanders, Miss Josie Mills, Miss Marrisse, Miss Fish, etc. Prices 25, 35 and 50 cents.

Grafton & Co., Clothing Manufacturers.

A Social Time Spent.

The young lady members of the Young Women's Christian Association and their friends Saturday night, gathered in large numbers in their rooms. Every one was made to feel thoroughly at home and welcomed by the energetic secretary, Miss Barker, and the members of the Board of Directors. A short but pleasing programme was carried out and much enjoyed. The proceedings were quite informal. Instrumental music was skilfully contributed by Miss Ritchie and Miss May Richardson. A beautiful instrumental duet was rendered by Misses E. Wrighton and E. Hall. Miss Jennie Rose sang "Trespassing" in a particularly clear and well modulated voice, while the songs of Mr. J.M. Whyte were given with exquisite pathos and tenderness. His first selection was a rousing temperance song, "For God and Home and Native Land," the words and music of which were written by himself. His encore selection was "Cookies on the Lower Shelf." During the evening refreshments were served.

CUT THIS OUT and send it to us, enclosing a three cent stamp and the names of ten ladies, and we will send each one a sample of one of the best montly papers published, and we will send it to you FREE for six months. Mention EXAMINER, and address MEDICAL ADVISER, Bowmanville, Ont.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Thompson, of Belleville, are in town to-day.

Mr. Wm. Wand, Ashburnham, is confined to his room with a severe cold.

Lt. Col. Skill, of Cobourg, was in Peterborough one day last week.—Cobourg Post.

Mr. Jos. Carey left this morning for Detroit, where he has obtained an excellent position as book-keeper in a large business house in that city.

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor is on a short visit to Sudbury and other northern portions of his diocese. The Roman Catholic church at Sudbury was destroyed by fire on Good Friday.

Drill Sergt. Peters, of Toronto, drill instructor of the 57th Battalion for several month last year, is in town renewing old acquaintances. His many friends are pleased to meet him.

Mr. W. Brundrette, late G.T.R. station agent here, left this morning for Midland, where he has been transferred as station agent. Midland is distant from Peterborough some eighty-five miles.

Mr. J. P. Dunn, formerly C.P.R. station agent here, but now of Chatham, passed through town on the 11.25 express to-day for Quebec, where he will give evidence in an important legal suit in the ex-Dominion Capital. Mr. Dunn is now the popular C.P.R. agent at Chatham.

Rev. Father Conway was in town to-day. He intends leaving, on April 16th, for a visit to his native land, the Emerald Isle. His first objective point will be his old home, Dromod, County Leitrim, which he last visited fourteen years ago. During his absence, by the kindness of His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, Rev. Father McGuire, of the cathedral clergy, will be locum tenens at Norwood. In spite of the genial rector's bodily absence—(in spirit and memory he will be present)—the usual annual pic-nic will be held May 24th, and Rev. Father Conway hopes that his friends will make extra exertions to make the occasion the usual success. Rev. Father Conway's many friends will heartily wish him a safe voyage, a pleasant sojourn, and a happy return.

The Foresters' Concert.

On Friday evening next Mr. Frank Wright, Toronto, will contribute to the programme several of his rattling humourous songs. He always makes a great hit. The Toronto Telegram says: "Mr. Frank Wright delighted the large audience with his comic songs, especially his Irish songs, 'Patsy Brannigan' and 'Drill, Ye Tarriers, Drill,' being called back several times." Opera House Friday night, assisted by the best local talent. Admission, 25 and 35 cents. Reserved seat plan at Madill's drug store, Hunter street.

A Peterborough Baseballist.

The Utica Saturday Globe devotes a column to the interest of the progress and spread of the national game—baseball—in this connection two excellent portraits accompany the sketch. One portrait is of Mr. John Joseph Ward, of London, Ont., the president and founder of the Canadian Amateur Baseball Association. The other photograph is that of Dr. Fred H. Brennan, town, first vice-president of the above association. The doctor's well known handsome features are reproduced with excellent effect. The Globe accompanies the photograph with a biographical sketch of the doctor. It speaks in the highest terms of the deep interest he has always taken in manly sports and athletic games, and especially pays a tribute to him for his igdefatigability in upholding baseball. Dr. Brennan has since been elected to the office of first vice-president of the C. A. B. A.

Inmates Discovered in Time.

A case of asphyxiation by escaping gas from a coal stove nearly occurred in the north end of the town a few evenings ago. Mrs. John Lane, who resides with her mother and daughter on Water street north, nearly opposite the Auburn Woollen Mills, were the victims. Mr. Lane was absent from home at the time. The family had retired early and the gas must have been escaping from the stove some time, for when a son of Mrs. Lane's returned home at a rather hour in the evening, he having been detained down town on business, he found the deathly element had prevaded the whole house. He aroused his mother and the other inmates just in time. Medical aid was summoned and the afflicted ones promptly attended to. Several house plants, which were in the house, were killed by the effect of the escaping gas, which is always naturally attracted towards plants.

—The decoration chapter of St. Luke's Guild, of which Miss Peck is the head, yesterday presented a set of new bookmarkers to the church: They are of red silk, with red and gold fringe, and are ornamented with designs worked in gold coloured silk. The work, which is very fine, was done by Miss Lewis and Miss Effie Bennett.

—Mrs. Vaizey arrived, says the Cobourg Post, from London, England, on Tuesday day evening, after a very pleasant voyage across the ocean. We understand Mrs. Vaizey proposes to at once prepare the Arlington for the reception of guests, and expects to open in a few days. The engagements for the coming season are fully up to that of last year.

—The Utica Saturday Globe of last week contains an excellent photograph of Rev. Dr. Shaw, of Montreal, father of Mr. R. A. Shaw, town. The portrait is accompanied by a brief biographical sketch. It will be remembered that on the death of the late esteemed Dr. Douglas, Dr. Shaw was elevated to the position of president of the Wesleyan Theological College, of Montreal.

—"The Man From Boston" Company arrived in town to-day noon by the G.T.R. from Toronto. A large crowd gathered at the station to witness the advent of the world-renowned ex-champion, John L. Sullivan, who immediately after he alighted from the coach, entered Mr. Pat Grady's hack and was promptly driven to the Grand Central Hotel, where the pugilist and part of the company is registered. The remaining members are guests at the Oriental. A big company assembled at the hotel to obtain a glance at the portly gladiator, and were rewarded with a peep at his well-known features and herculean physical form.

does not need to hustle half as much as the staff of the Peterborough Bookstore. Why? The release from customs and the opening up of 35,000 rolls of beautiful new imported wall papers at the Peterborough Bookstore and the fine weather create great activity. The extreme beauty of these papers, conjoined with the extreme lowness of price, renders a rush of customers inevitable. Come and make your choice early and get your papering done before the rush of spring work makes the paper hangers too busy.

DIED.

MONCRIEF.—In Peterborough, on Sunday, April 8th, 1894, Ann Jane, daughter of the late Wm. George Moncrief, aged 39 years.

Funeral on Tuesday, afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the family residence, Water street, opposite the market.

BIRTH.

GUMPRICHT.—At 535 Aylmer street, Peterborough, on Tuesday, April 3rd, 1894, the wife of Mr. George Gumpricht of a daughter.

Wounded at Gettysburg

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"I was in the Army of the Potomac and in the great battle of Gettysburg was struck in the ankle by a minnie ball, which smashed the bone. My leg was amputated in the field hospital, and after a long time it healed. I was discharged and went home. After 8 years

My Wound Broke Open

afresh. Dr. Pease amputated an inch of the bone, and it healed. Four years later it once more opened, and for eight years how I suffered! I do not believe it possible for a human being to suffer worse agony. During this time I had to go on crutches, being unable to wear a wooden leg. Whenever possible I relieved my sufferings by taking opiate, but when I was obliged to go without it, I suffered fearfully and thought I should go crazy. I tried every thing I could get with my limited means. Physicians said I would never be any better. Finally my

Blood Became Poisoned

and it broke out all over my face and on some parts of my body so that my face is all covered with scars now. One day I read of what Hood's Sarsaparilla would do. The first dollar I got I sent and bought a bottle and began taking it. A week or two later, my wife in dressing my leg, said it seemed to be improving, and after taking a few months, thank God (and I say it reverently), the sores all over my body had healed, and now, four years later, have never shown any sign of reappearing." GEORGE M. HAMMOND, 219 Magnolia Street, Syracuse, N. Y.

Col. C. A. Weaver

Commander of Root Post, G. A. R., himself a one armed veteran, fully confirms Mr. Hammond's statement, and J. L. Belden, the pharmacist, also endorses it.

Worthless Pianos and Organs

Are made in large quantities, because foolish people buy where prices are lowest, without giving a thought to quality. Any one who thinks, will not buy a "Piano at $170, or an Organ at $30, guaranteed for nineteen years," because it is cheap. Any one who thus thinks will avoid learning by experience that it would have been cheaper to pay, say $300, for his piano.

We can furnish an Organ for $30, but we will not. We live here and have to "face the music" this year and other years to come.

WONDERFUL

has been the trade done the past two weeks in our

CARPET AND CURTAIN DEP'T.

Many were the comments made by passers by one day last week when on the sidewalk outside our store were several large bales of Carpets ready for shipment to Orillia, Port Hope, Cobourg, Millbrook, Havelock and Campbellford. In some case, one; in others more than one to each place. We think this is satisfactory proof that our styles and prices are correct, especially when many of those who bought these goods had quotations from Toronto and assured us that our prices were lower. Our Prices for any quantity:

Hemp Carpets	10c. per yard up.
Union Carpets	38c. per yard up.
All Wool Carpets	75c. per yard up.
Tapestry Carpets	25c. per yard up.

Genuine Brussels Carpets	$1.00 per yard up.
Moquette Carpets	$1.00 per yard up.
Wilton Carpets	$1.50 per yard up.

Curtains in Lace and Swiss as well as Chenelle and Silk, are all having their turn. Shad Poles and Trimmings at special prices.

Not alone in the above mentioned departments has trade been booming but in our

MANTLE DEPARTMENT.

There has been a large increase of trade. Our READY-MADE GARMENTS are selling rapidly and new ones are being added weekly which makes the assortment full. People wonder where we get these wonderful Capes at $2.50, $3.00 and $4.00. We expect they will all be cleared out this month.

Our Made-to-Order Department is pushed to its utmost capacity to get out the orders. Our stock of Cloths and Trimmings is now complete, and we are prepared to execute all orders at a price unequalled.

Another Department that has had a pretty good innings is the

TAILORING DEPARTMENT

Men's Suits, Boy's Suits, Men's Overcoats, &c., made from goods imported direct from the manufacturers are fully 25 per cent less than credit prices.

Still another that is coming to the front is the

LETTER ORDER DEPARTMENT.

Any one unable to come to Peterborough can do their shopping quite satisfactorily by dropping us a postal card for samples of any lines they need. We make it a point to give particular attention to this department. Just try it.

All our new Braids are in this week. Our Motto.—Small profits and quick returns. No bad debts to take into account when marking our goods.

MILLS BROS.

CHURCH CHIMES.

The session of St. Paul's church will meet to-night.

Preparatory services will be held in St. Paul's church on Friday evening.

Communion service will be held in St. Paul's church on Sunday morning next.

Rev. Geo. Edwards filled the pulpit of the Keene Methodist church yesterday.

The services in all the town churches were unusually well attended yesterday.

The Board of managers of St. Paul's church will meet to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock.

The Epworth League Society of the George Street Church will hold its regular meeting this evening.

Next Sunday in the George street Methodist church, collections will be taken up in aid of the Union church relief fund.

In an anthem rendered in the Mark street church yesterday morning, Miss Kindred took the solo part with credit.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of St. Paul's church will hold their regular monthly meeting on Friday afternoon.

St. Peter's Court, No. 225, Catholic Order of Foresters, attended holy communion in a body at 8 o'clock mass at St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday.

Rev. E. E. Howard, of Keene, acceptably filled the pulpit of the Charlotte street church yesterday and delivered two practical sermons.

The regular quarterly allocation of all vacant pews will take place in the George street church on Thursday evening at the close of the prayer service.

The Mission Band of the Charlotte street Methodist church will hold an entertainment in the Sunday school room of the church on Friday evening next.

At 10.30 o'clock mass in St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday Rev. Archdeacon Casey gave an excellent address on the duty of parents towards their children.

Mr. Geo. Schneider, formerly organist of the Charlotte Street Church, presided at the organ in the George Street Church at both services yesterday in a thoroughly satisfactory manner.

The Charlotte street church choir rendered three expressive anthems yesterday. In one of the evening anthems rendered during the contribution, Miss Fawcett took the solo part in good style.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the George Street Church will be held to-morrow (Tuesday) afternoon at 3 o'clock. The ladies of the congregation are cordially invited.

The rector of St. Luke's will begin on Friday evening next, at the regular weekly service held in St. Luke's Church, a series of expository addresses on the "Epistle of James." These addresses will be continued each week.

The service in St. Paul's church was somewhat abbreviated last night on account of the hoarseness from which the pastor, Rev. E. F. Torrance, was suffering. Mr. J. D. Collins assisted in the reading of the Scriptures.

Yesterday in the Mark street Methodist church collections were taken in the interest of the educational fund of the Methodist caurch, and a liberal response met with. Rev. J. Thom, B.A., in the morning preached an able educational sermon in a masterly manner.

The adjourned vestry meeting of St. John's church will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. The report of the pastoral work of the parish will be presented, and a people's churchwarden elected, Mr. G. W. Hatton, who was elected to that position, having declined the office.

The second meeting to be held under the superintendence of the town of Peterborough Sunday School Association will be held in St. Paul's Church on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. An excellent programme has been prepared and a profitable and instructive time is assured all. Speakers—Mrs. (Mayor) Kendry, Miss Code, Rev. Geo. Edwards and Rev. H. Symonds, M.A.

The singing in St. Andrew's Church yesterday was fully appreciated. Both at the morning and evening services Master Percy McIsaacs favoured the congregations with capital soprano solos, sung with much power and expression. At the evening service the anthem, "Lead Me to the Rock," was contributed. Messrs. Prof. Davidson and Wm. White took solo parts very acceptably.

The musical element of the services in the George street church yesterday was enjoyable and praiseworthy. In the morning the choir sang two spirited anthems, "Seek ye the Lord," and "No Night Shall be in Heaven." In the first selection Mr. R. A. Shaw took the tenor solo capitally. In the evening the choir sang very acceptably "Send Out Thy Light." During the offertory Mr. R. A. Shaw contributed a solo in his usually excellent style.

The Saturday evening meeting for young men at the Y. M. C. A. was well attended. Mr. F. Bickell led the meeting and gave a bright, happy address. The Sunday afternoon service for young men was well attended. Sheriff Hall occupied the chair. The address, which was a thoughtful and hearty one, was given by Rev. J.B. Moore, evangelist. The evening service was presided over by Mr. G. J. Early. Mr. K. Mark gave a practical address which was listened to with close attention.

Yesterday morning the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was dispensed in St. Andrew's church to a large number, probably the largest number in the history of the church. There was again a large addition of new members, which must be very encouraging to the pastor. A very appropriate and earnest sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. Macwilliams, from John vii: 37: "In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried saying, if any man thirst let him come unto me and drink." In the evening again a large congregation assembled, when an eloquent sermon was delivered from Phil. 2; 9-11, the topic being, "The name that is above every name."

In the George street Methodist church yesterday morning, Rev. Mr. Young announced that at the Bay of Quinte Conference, which meet here the first week in June, there would be in all likelihood about 380 delegates present, and the billeting committee, which was composed of the pastors of the town Methodist churches and one or two persons elected by each quarterly official board had met on Monday last to make preliminary arrangements for the billeting of such a large influx of visitors and also for organization purposes. The speaker desired all those families who could entertain one or more delegates during Conference week to kindly hand in their names to the members of the committee during the coming week if possible. The other representatives on the committee of the George street church beside himself were Messrs. Wm. Might and Benj. Shortley.

In the George street church yesterday Rev. Mr. Young preached two capable and timely sermons to large congregations. In the morning his text was from Proverbs 27th and 4th verse. The subject of the discourse was "An Ideal Christian Life." Briefly summed up the reverend gentleman said an ideal Christian life was one of singleness of purpose, unity of aim and oneness of desire. It was also a life of earnest activity and close and constant communion with God. The ideal Christian life was also one of prayerful meditation, diligent and earnest enquiry after the truth, asking "Lord what will Thou have Thy servant to do?" In the evening the preacher based his remarks on the sixth verse, fourth chapter of Malachi. The subject was "Home life, a test of a man's religion." The reverend gentleman said there were three kinds or sides of life—the business life, the church side of a man's life and his home life. He claimed that the latter was the only fair criterion by which to judge of a man's life and actions. The preacher said, "Show me the home life of father or a mother, and I care not who they may be, I will tell you whether they are Christians or not. A home was not merely a place to eat, sleep and live, but it should be the place for the highest mental and spiritual development. The speaker exhorted fathers and mothers to guard the home life. They knew not what influences they excited either for good or evil upon their children during the training period of the little one's lives. The subject was most aptly treated and made a deep impression.

THE SPECIAL SERVICES.

The services yesterday at the Baptist church were of the most interesting character, from the early morning prayer meeting at 10 o'clock, at which about 100 assembled, to the closing benediction in the evening.

Pastor Trotter preached a very timely and earnest sermon in the morning from 140th psalm and 9th verse. He set forth in clear language the different refuges the sinner takes shelter in, and the refuge of the Christian. In the evening the house was packed. Mr. McLeod, of Gilmour Memorial church, assisted in the opening exercises which were conducted by the pastor. Mr. Whyte sang clearly and with much feeling, "Whisper, oh Whisper it, Angels Above," and also by special request "O Hearts That Are Broken." Mr. Moore then gave a most telling discourse from Exodus 12, 13, taking for his subject "The Blood." Mr. Whyte again sang, "They Crucified Him," the choir taking the chorus. The meeting was one of great power. Very many were led to a decision as to their soul's salvation, a goodly number publicly confessing to the new found faith.

The meetings will continue every night this week, beginning with a song service at 7.45 o'clock; Tuesday afternoon at 4.15 a special service for children will be held.

AN AFTERNOON ALARM

Called Out the Brigade to Extinguish Blazing Packing Boxes.

A few minutes after two o'clock to-day the fire department were called out to extinguish a blaze which had started in the yard to the rear of Gough Bros. establishment and Mr. C. B. Routley's fancy goods store. The flames were confined to some packing boxes belonging to these firms, which were strewn about the premises. A bunch of straw caught fire, and owing to the inflammable nature of the surroundings the blaze spread rapidly. However, the fire brigade was promptly on hand, and the damage done was slight. The immense stock of ready-made clothing in the rear of Gough Bros. quarters is slightly damaged by smoke, but the main sufferer will be Mr. Routley. Owing to the intense heat and the force of the water thrown, two large plate glass windows in the rear of his shop were cracked in many places. The woodwork was also charred. The stock in the rear of the store consisting of fancy goods, wall paper, etc., is somewhat damaged by smoke and water. There is an insurance on the stock with the British American for $2,000, Mr. H. B. Meharry, agent. The fire originated in a dangerous quarter and the prompt action and ready response of the brigade prevented a conflagration.

OBITUARY.

Death of an Old Employee.

The death of Richard Langton, a well known citizen of Peterborough and a veteran employee of the Grand Trunk Railway, occurred on Saturday morning about eleven o'clock at his boarding house, the residence of Mrs. Elliott, Brock street, next door to Dr. Goldsmith's. Deceased who had always been in good health was seized with an attack of inflammation about a week ago from which he did not rally, doubtless on account of his advanced years—78. The late Mr. Langton was born in England and came to Canada about forty years ago. He was twice married; his first wife died in the old country, and his second wife passed away nine years ago to day, the remains being interred in the cemetery at Frazerville. Deceased entered the employ of the G.T.R. away back in 1858, and had therefore at the time of his death been thirty-five years in railroad service. Before moving to Peterborough, some five or six years ago, Mr. Langton was section foreman at Millbrook, but of late years he has been th courteous and affable signalman at the Lindsay junction, corner of Bethune and Brock streets. Every day he might be seen at his post, rain or shine, and he was always in a cheery mood. The many engineers, brakesmen and stokers on the Midland line and Missing Link will miss his familiar face The funeral took place this morning to the Frazerville cemetery where the remains were deposited alongside his departed wife. Mr. Langton leaves one son who resides in the Old Country.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

GARNER, THE APESHARP

BACK FROM A TRIP TO THE LAND OF THE HAIRY GORILLA.

Lots of Simian News—How Some Talked to Him in Africa—They're Polygamists and Perhaps Have a Crude Form of Government Under a King.

Prof. Richard L. Garner, of Roanoke, Va., who has passed nearly a year in Africa studying the language of the monkeys, is back on American soil, looking little the worse for wear and with his head full of the strange words of the simians. In appearance he is slightly bronzed, and his hair is grayer than it was when he set forth upon his peculiar mission, but otherwise he is unchanged.

"My trip," he said, "was a great success in spite of the fact that I was seriously handicapped from the very outset. In the first place, I was compelled to go to Africa without a phonograph, on which instrument I had placed my greatest reliance. I had been promised by Edison that one would be forwarded to me, but it never showed up, and to this day the failure has never been explained to me. So far as I can learn, it has not yet reached Liverpool. I could have used it to the greatest advantage, and it would have enabled me to bring back a thousand curiosities apart from the record for which it was especially needed. My greatest drawback, however, was the lack of funds. After paying my fare from Liverpool to Africa, I had just £12 in British gold left to meet all the expenses of a hazardous undertaking. By good fortune I was able to obtain more or less credit, and some friends were kind enough to help me out. None of the scientific societies seemed willing to aid in this respect. They all seemed to think well of my plans, but that was all.

"I left New York in July, 1892, for Liverpool. Thence I went to Gaboon, a small settlement on the west coast of Africa, just a few minutes north of the equator. This was in the early spring of 1893. After landing in Gaboon I decided to ascend the Ogowe River about two hundred and fifty miles for the purpose of locating the habitat of the gorillas and the chimpanzees. On this trip I located the boundaries of gorilla land. It reaches south well down to the Congo River and to the north is limited by the Gaboon River, beyond which no gorilla is ever found. Finally, I settled upon the southern shore of Lake Fernan Vaz, which is about two degrees south of the equator. Back about a mile from the lake, in a dense jungle, I pitched my cage which I had taken with me from Liverpool. I called it Fort Gorilla.

"This cage was made of a network of steel rods, about five-sixteenths of an inch in thickness. For transportation purposes it was divided into eight sections, which could be fitted into each other, or, by removing a series of bolts, could be laid out flat. Each section was 3 feet 3 inches in length, making the whole cage 6 feet 6 inches square. When in position it was anchored to the ground by three strong chains passing over the top. A strong network of wire inclosed the whole, so as to support the arms of any inquisitive gorillas that might come near me. Another safeguard was provided in the shape of hollow arrows, filled with prussic acid These were to be discharged from blowguns which I had made for the purpose in America. In addition to the blowguns, I had two revolvers, a magazine rifle and an air-gun. The bottom of the cage was lined with a gum matting to keep out the peculiar African things which are likely to crawl in on you any hour of the night or day. Over the top of the cage was a tarpaulin to protect me from the sun.

"For nearly six months I lived in this cage with a native boy and a young chimpanzee, named Moses that I had captured. Moses often dined with me, but he could never learn the table etiquette of the Caucasians. I tried to teach him to speak English, but he made but little progress. He did succeed before he died in learning some simple problems with blocks, and I discovered that he could count.

"Soon after I was in the bush I saw my first gorilla. He was young, powerfully built and seemed to feel no alarm at my presence. He came quite close to my cage and looked at me very intently for several minutes. My face seemed to interest him most and he regarded my features critically, as if studying my character. During all the time I sat motionless studying his movements. After a time he turned slowly away with a kind of grunt of disgust and walked away into the jungle. Not once did he look back even to see what I was doing. It was evident that he was not frightened in the least.

"A few mornings later I was awakened by a gorilla shrieking near my house. He would vary these shrieks, which were almost like those of a human being, with the most awful roars I ever heard. The gorilla's roar is unlike anything I ever heard or imagined. It is one of the most awful sounds in the world. It almost makes one's blood stand in the veins. There are several notes in the crescendo roar which resemble the bray of a donkey, but incomparably harsher and louder. It can be heard a very long way off, and Paul du Chaillu did not lie a bit when he said he heard a gorilla roaring five miles off. When I heard it I awoke my boy at once, and we both listened in alarm. The boy fairly shook with fright, and at the first opportunity made a break for his native village. I never saw him again.

"During my stay in the cage, I recorded about twelve words of the chimpanzee language, and about half as many of those of the gorilla tongue. I found that the two were entirely distinct. The chimpanzee was the much more docile, and for that reason I made more headway in learning their words. To reduce them to writing, however, would be utterly impossible, for there is no alphabet on earth that is capable of expressing the peculiar sounds. They are the most barbarous that the human ear ever listened to, and about as hard to imitate as to write. The vocabulary is very limited—not more than 200 words in all, I should say—but they can express a great many emotions by varying the inflection, intonation or loudness of their tones. To get at the bottom of all this, of course, will require years of patient investigation, and for that purpose I will probably go back to Africa in a little while.

"A close observation of the gorilla convinced me that the marital relation exists among them. The male gorilla has a number of wives, but I learned from the natives that the female is seldom unfaithful. After she selects a mate she clings to him for years. In this way families always travel together, and it is a common sight to see a male accompanied by three or four adult females. Year after year the same groups are seen together, showing that the family tie is recognized and respected.

"That both the chimpanzees and the gorillas have a crude form of government is claimed by many persons in Africa who have studied them closely. A missionary who is a sincere man told me that twice he had seen what is known as the king gorilla. He is a huge animal, and seems to hold absolute away among the members of his species. The missionary in question informed me that he had seen the king seated on the ground with a number of his tribe about him, while the females and young ones would carry pieces of plantain to him to eat. Of this fact I am a little incredulous, but the natives agree with the missionary.

"That they do have some mode of settling their differences is vouched for by reputable witnesses. I learned by close inquiry that the gorillas often hold a kind of court for the evident purpose of patching up their quarrels. At such times they gather in a circle, I was assured and jabber away at a great rate, while one old member of the tribe seems to sit in judgment. This I never saw myself.

"To my surprise, I learned that both the gorilla and chimpanzee are omnivorous. This is denied by the textbooks on natural history. Moses, I found, would eat meat with evident relish, as would also a young gorilla that I bought from the natives. From the negroes I learned that this was common to all of the species.

"As a result of my observations I am convinced that the chimpanzee is the mental and social superior of the gorilla. The latter is a vicious fellow and avoids the habitations of men. He prefers the depths of the jungle. In fact, he is a bushwhacker of the most pronounced type. I never knew of more than one gorilla that ever became even tolerant of man, much less affectionate, and he was a mere infant. The chimpanzee, on the contrary, is quite social in his instincts, and when in captivity, if treated kindly, becomes not only docile but affectionate."

"Only the Scars Remain,"

Says HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., who certifies as follows:

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc., none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

Mother Urged Me

AN APPALLING CATASTROPHE.

Four Killed and a Number Injured by the Collapse of a Tenement.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 9.—Four bodies in cheap coffins lay in a row in the morgue and five bandaged forms repose on cots at the city hospital as the result of the collapse of a tenement building yesterday.

The collapse was witnessed by several persons and several of the inmates survive to relate what little they know of one of the most appalling disasters that ever occurred in Memphis. There was a creaking and cracking, swaying of walls, then the collapse that came with a crash. A great cloud of dust floated out upon the air, filling the street each way for a block. There was a hurrying forward of police, firemen and citizens, and then the work of rescue began.

The building was erected 34 years ago. It was a brick, three and a half storeys high, with a slate roof. While it was all one building, it was divided by a thick wall into two compartments. The building has never been condemned as unsafe. It was considered one of the staunchest of the older buildings in the city.

The scenes attending the rescue were horrifying in the extreme. Men went to work on the debris as soon as the collapse took place. First an old negro woman shook dust from her back, arose from the top of the heap and got away without assistance. Then the form of a woman was lifted out still alive, and soon the body of a man, still breathing, was pulled out. These were sent to the city hospital. Then came a corpse, and so the work of rescue proceeded slowly throughout the day. The number of lives lost will not be known until the debris is cleared away. There were 50 rooms in the tenement, about half of which were occupied. Twenty-two people were known to be in the building at the time of the collapse. Of these six escaped without serious injury, four were taken out dead, five wounded and the remainder are missing.

Opium Smugglers Arrested.

BUFFALO, N.Y., April 9.—Charles Kennedy, Ed. Patterson and George Henderson, opium smugglers, were arrested while delivering to a Chinese supply house about 400 pounds of opium, which was wrapped up in Vancouver, B.C., newspapers. The duty on the opium seized would have amounted to nearly $5,000.

All three prisoners were well supplied with money. Patterson belongs to Victoria, Ont. Henderson resides in Windsor, Ont., and is said to have operated extensively between that port and Detroit. Detectives have secured an additional package of smuggled opium and are looking for more.

Canadian Bowlers Beaten.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The international bowling match between the Victoria Rifles, champions of Canada, and the Americus of Newark, N.J., champions of the American Amateur Bowling Union, at Brooklyn on Saturday night resulted in a victory for the Americans by a score of 3,333 to 3,182. Four games were played, the first two under American rules with a team of five men and two under Canadian rules with six men. The Americans won all four games.

Poisoned by Coffee.

DANVILLE, Ill., April 9.—James Gaskill and five other boarders at the house of C. L. Puckett, on Hazel street, this city, have been poisoned. Gaskill died and the other boarders had a narrow escape from death. Supper had not been in progress long when the wife of the landlord was seized with convulsions after drinking a little coffee. All the boarders who drank coffee were attacked, but those who took milk or tea were not affected. It is a mystery.

Big Strike of Gold.

COLORADO SPRINGS, April 9.—The greatest gold strike of the year at Cripple Creek is reported in the Caledonia. The vein is eight feet wide. The lowest assay shows $9 to the ton. A half ton assayed at $400 to the ton.

Asphyxiated by Gas.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 9.—Frank L. Ruyter, a printer, was asphyxiated yesterday morning. He was a native of Quebec and was 27 years old.

Da Gama Leaves for Portugal.

BUENOS AYRES, April 9.—The Portuguese warships Mindello and Alfonso de Albuquerque, with Admiral da Gama and his staff aboard, have sailed for home, after having taken on provisions for the voyage. Coaling between Buenos Ayres and Brazilian ports has been stopped.

A Fatal Family Quarrel.

BROOKLYN, April 9.—John Scott, aged 50, a boss baker, who kept bakeries in different parts of the city, assaulted his wife with a hammer and then cut his throat. He is dead and his wife will probably die. The couple quarrelled about a new grate for the kitchen stove.

Killed His Wife.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 9.—Daiel Whorling, a worthless fellow, shot and killed his wife on Saturday, because she would no longer support him.

Mary Connolly Gets Fourteen Years.

HALIFAX, N.S., April 9.—Justice Weatherbe delivered sentence in the case of Mary Connolly, found guilty of shooting H. Weltner with intent to commit murder, sentencing her to fourteen years in the penitentiary. The prisoner expressed sorrow for what she had done. She will be taken first to Dorchester and subsequently placed in the female department of the Kingston penitentiary.

Victoria's Dissatisfied Sealers.

VICTORIA, B.C., April 9.—A deputation of British Columbia sealers waited upon Premier Davis to consult him as to the advisability of cabling to Lord Rosebery and requesting him to insist that only British vessels be empowered to seize British Columbia schooners. The Premier expressed the opinion that such action would be useless.

HIS MAIL IS HEAVY.

Fisheries Inspector Brickwood Gets Letters From all Over the Dominion Asking for Particulars About Dodd's Kidney Pills Curing Him of Chronic Rheumatism.

KINGSTON, April 2.—Enquiry davelope the fact that the story of J. H. Brickwood's wonderful cure of his rheumatism by Dodd's Kidney Pills has brought him notoriety. Mr. Brickwood daily receives letters from all quarters of Canada asking further particulars of his cure. He invariably answers that after all other remedies failed, Dodd's Kidney Pills restored him to health. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy in pill form ever offered the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations. Purchasers for their own safety should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes; price fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50 To be had of all dealers.

EXCELSIOR
Life Insurance Company.

HEAD OFFICE, - TORONTO.

PRESIDENT AND MANAGING-DIRECTOR,
E. F. CLARKE, Ex-Mayor of Toronto

New! Commodious! Comfortable!

An examination of the report of the business for 1893 shows that THE EXCELSIOR has made SOLID PROGRESS in all the points essential to success, viz:—

Gain in Insurance in Force over that 1891 72 per cent.
Gain in Cash Income over that of 1891 61 per cent
Gain in Assets over that of 1891, 27 per cent.
Gain in Reserve on Policy Holders Account over that of 1891, 114 per cent

THE EXCELSIOR offers Security which is unsurpassed by any other Company doing business in Canada. The following are the ratios of Assets to Liabilities of the different Canadian Companies as given in the Government Report for 1891:—

Excelsior Life,...415% North American Life,136%
Dominion Life,...201 " London Life,.....116 "
Federal Life,....144 " Sun Life,.....114 "
Manufac'rs Life,.144 " Confederation Life,...113 "
Tem'ce and Gen'l,144 " Canada Life,.....113 "
Ontario Mutual 108%

The Excelsior Life challenges any other Company to show, in the same period of its history, as low a death rate; 2nd, as low a ratio of expenses. See our Life Rate Endowment and our Life and Endowment Annuity Bonds before insuring elsewhere.

PEOPLE OF NOTE.

Grenville S. Redmond, of San Francisco, has just taken second rank at the famous Julian academy of art in Paris. Redmond, who is only twenty-two years of age, is a deaf mute.

Mrs Austen, a sister of Cardinal Manning, and a great favorite with him, died in England recently at the age of ninety-three. She was a devoted adherent of the Anglican church.

Mr. William Durant has been treasurer of the Boston Transcript for sixty years. Although now in his seventy-eighth year he is still to be found at his post in the counting room early and late.

Miss Louise Imogen Guiney, author of "A Roadside Harp," in giving the date of her birth for a biographical note recently, wrote playfully: "I am the only lady with a permanent date attached."

William Rufus was conspicuous for his red head. He had no special love for the color and once had his shock of hair dyed, but the result was so unsatisfactory that he never repeated the experiment.

Reynolds was often annoyed by being requested to paint the portraits of ugly women of quality. He said: "If I paint them as they are they will hate me; if I don't paint them as they are I shall hate myself."

Miss Ellen Terry makes the "autograph fiend" useful by requiring everyone who wants her autograph to contribute something toward the support of the hospital in which she is especially interested.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Violets for outdoor wear and sweet peas tied with long streamers of pink ribbon for indoors are the accepted floral adornments.

The stationers are selling to young women who know no better than to buy it vivid heliotrope and eye-distracting gray paper, with the assurance that these are "the novelties."

Salad bowls, water pitchers and all sorts of table appointments come in cut glass and silver. The glass is so brilliant that it is often difficult to tell where one begins and the other ends.

Indian brass is among the recent importations. It has a copper tinge, which makes it warmer looking than Benares. Bowls, trays and candelabra elaborately chased come in this ware, and some of the most beautiful pieces are decorated in repousse and filigree work.

The ribbon-bound tiaras, with pert little bows in front, which have adorned the winter girl's looks have given place to lace. A twist of cream or white lace binds the wire round which forms the foundation of the ornament, and two airy little butterflies take the place of the bow.

FOREIGN NOTES.

The system of numbering the hours of the day from one to twenty-four has been adopted by the Italian railroads, and is in use for all time schedules.

The King of Portugal has just effected an insurance on his life of forty thousand pounds with an English office, the risk being subdivided among several companies.

The total tonnage of warships launched during last year by the four most active naval powers was: France, 52,188 tons; the United States, 40,050; Great Britain, 28,920; and Russia, 17,326.

Dr. Granger, of Chester, who was called to London to advise Mr. Gladstone concerning his sight, says: "I did not find anything in the condition of Mr. Gladstone's eyesight to prevent his remaining in office. I found that his general health was exceedingly good."

A notable illustration of the depreciation in recent years in the value of English estates is in the fact that the estate of Elvedon, the seat of the late Maharajah Duleep Singh, which was offered for sale in 1876, and an offer of five hundred thousand pounds for it refused, was sold a few days since for one hundred and fifty thousand pounds.

PRETTY FEMININE CONCEITS.

One of the pretty conceits of the day is a boudoir made entirely of white fur. Very large white fur rugs are also greatly in vogue, and are not expensive, three good-sized goat skins sewn together making a reasonably large rug.

A handsome cover for a piano can be made by using a square of plain satin, with border twelve or fifteen inches wide of gold or silver wrought satin. A centre of pale gray, with a border of still paler gray, or a plain yellow centre, with gold-wrought border, is very effective.

The elaborate millinery lamp shades have overreached the mark and are no longer considered in the best of taste by people with pretentions to refined artistic taste in such matters. The softly-tinted, fluted porcelain shades or the plain ground glass globes toned down by a simple little silk shade, are always pleasing.

A bamboo lounge gives one cold chills, but it can be transformed into a thing of beauty with small expense. Get golden brown or dark red corduroy and make thick-tufted cushions for the seat and back. They can be made in sections and tied to the lounge; then have three or four big down pillows covered with India silk to scatter over it.

Their Name is Legion.

There is no lack of so-called cures for the common ailment known as corns. The vegetable, animal and mineral kingdoms have been ransacked for cures. It is a simple matter to remove corns without pain, for if you will go to any druggist or medicine dealer and buy a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor and apply it as directed the thing is done. Get "Putnam's," and no other.

Dr. Grant's "Hairene" will positively make your hair grow. All druggists keep it.

Dr. Andrew Grant & Co., Toronto.

Dear Sirs,—Your "Hairene," I believe to be a wonderful remedy. It certainly produced the most unexpected results in my case, my hair had been falling out very freely for some time, becoming anxious about the matter I thought I would experiment upon the properties of "Hairene," and one application actually stopped it at once. I applied it once or twice afterward, using in all about a quater of one bottle, and have not required to use it since. It seems to have given renewed and healthy vigor to the scalp, and I can recommend it in all confidence.

ELECTRIC SPARKS.

Incandescent lamps now sell for twenty-five cents apiece.

Magneto and automatic telephones are now coming to the front.

Italian fire engines are supplied with hose fitted with electric wires, so that the firemen handling the hose can communicate with those at the engine.

On January 26, we are told, the Hallmann electric locomotive was tried between Havre and Paris, drawing thirteen cars at a speed of seventy-five miles an hour.

Electric headlights for railway locomotives are coming into general use. The Southern Pacific railroad has already equipped many of its engines with the new headlight.

It is reported that the Thomson-Houston company is in negotiations with the Belgian inventors (Messrs. Lagrange and Hoho) of an electric welding process for the purchase of the patent rights of France.

There are now in the United States more than three hundred mining companies making use of electricity for light and power. About one third of the gross amount of copper refined in this country is now treated by electrolytic processes.

St. Mary's falls, Michigan, is now being utilized for electric power production, the power being transferred to the Sault by wire. A new flouring mill will be run by electricity, and it is contemplated to use electric power in the iron mines.

THE FINANCIAL WORLD.

The Canadian Pacific railway report for 1893 shows that the net earnings were $7,946,000, a decrease of $678,000.

Bethlehem Iron company has increased its capital from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 to provide for extensions of plant.

Reports from United States consuls at various foreign ports show an increasing demand for American flour and wheat abroad.

The number of furnaces in blast in Belgium at the commencement of January, 1894, was 26, while there were 16 furnaces out of blast at the same date.

American Tobacco company reports for the year 1893 net earnings $4,334,467, against $4,739,301 in 1892, and surplus after dividends $1,212,607, against $1,612,501.

Mobile reports the export lumber trade there is increasing, and that mills working "are having all that they can do to supply the demand, vessels often having to wait for cargoes."

The Metropolitan Telephone company, of New York city, who are licensed under the Bell Telephone company, are now offering the genuine Bell Telephone instruments for sale at $1.25 each.

RAILROADS OF THE WORLD.

Germany has 343,000 railroad employees.

Mexico had in 1889 5,010 miles of railroad.

In 1888 Europe had 130,000 miles of railroad.

The first French railroad line was opened in 1828.

In 1884 Russia had 5,819 locomotives and 121,000 cars.

The number of railroad employees in France is 232,000.

Chili adopted railroads in 1851, and now has 1,750 miles.

The first line of railroad in Norway was opened in 1855.

The French railroads in 1885 carried 214,000,000 passengers.

South Africa has 2,010 miles of railroad; Algeria, 1,840; Egypt, 1,260.

The first Spanish railroad was opened from Barcelona to Mataro, 18 miles.

Egypt's first line was from Cairo to Alexandria, 130 miles, opened in 1856.

Syria has a single railroad, the one rail being laid on a wall of masonry.

The first South African road was from Cape Town to Wellington, opened in 1860.

In 1889 Peru had 1,630 miles of railroad, mostly very difficult of construction.

In England the passenger earnings are about 44 per cent. of the total receipts.

EUROPEANS OF NOTE.

Queen Victoria speaks ten languages fluently.

Lord Salisbury has remitted thirty per cent. of agricultural rents in Hertfordshire and Middlesex, England, this year.

Emperor William is trying to buy the new Cape diamond, the largest in the world, for the crown now being made for him in Berlin.

Crispi, the Italian Bismarck, is worth $1,000,000, amassed in politics and in the law, but chiefly, according to his enemies, in politics.

Herr Much, of Vienna, one of the most celebrated of scholars, in the matter of European languages, is learning Irish. He is at present in Dublin, taking lessons from the professor of Irish at Trinity college.

The Sultan of Turkey is a monomaniac on the subject of carriages. He has been steadily engaged in making a collection of such vehicles for the past twenty years, and now has nearly five hundred of all makes and kinds.

Mme. Carnot, the wife of the president of the French republic, is brilliantly educated, speaks English fluently and keeps herself well informed upon such European politics as is likely to have any influence upon the destinies of France.

Hood's and only Hood's.

Are you weak and weary, overworked and tired? Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine you need to purify and quicken your blood and to give you appetite and strength. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other. Any effort to substitute another remedy is proof of the merit of Hood's.

OUT OF THE FRYING PAN

Has come not a little knowledge as to cookery—what to do, as well as what not to do. Then we have learned to use the most pure and perfect and popular cooking material for all frying and shortening purposes.

PROGRESSIVE COOKING

is the natural outcome of the age, and it teaches us not to use lard, but rather the new shortening, which is far cleaner, and more digestible than any lard can be.

COTTOLENE,

The success of Cottolene has called out worthless imitations under similar names. Look out for these! Ask your Grocer for COTTOLENE, and be sure that you get it.

The Marked Success

Which attended the formal opening of our New Millinery and Mantle Department has been a matter of sincere congratulation and encouragement—far in excess of our highest expectations.

The special efforts we put forth to excel has amply repaid us and we are pleased to know that our beautiful display has evoked so much favourable comment from the Ladies.

We take this opportunity of thanking the large number of ladies who daily patronized our Show Rooms, not only for the many liberal orders they favoured us with, but for their kind words and flattering preferences for our exhibition over all others.

The Good Start

which we have made in our Millinery and Mantle Department will be an incentive to continued efforts to excel. The array of Rich and Beautiful Millinery will be fully maintained throughout the season, and as fast as new novelties appear or favourite lines become exhausted, we will be prompt in ordering.

Assaulted the Clergyman.

HAMILTON, April 9.—Chris Moody, commonly called "Brass Band Moody," who conducts a jewelry store on York street, had an altercation with the Rev. E. M. Bland, rector of Christ church cathedral, on Saturday in reference to a lawsuit in which the latter gave evidence against Moody. Moody got very hot and went after the rector with his fists. The rev. gentleman sports a big lump over the left eye and a cut on the left cheek, which prevented him from taking part in the church services yesterday. Moody will answer to a charge of assault in the police court to-day.

TELFORDIAN TEMPERATURE TOPICS.

Monthly Weather Report.

March, with all its blowing, was determined to come to a close, and so it has, no doubt causing both regret and gladness; those depending on March snows to finish up their neglected work, can only now feel that they stood a little behind the toe-mark, and many youthful hearts preferring buggy-riding to the beautiful smooth-coursing cutter, have their earnest wish fulfilled early in the month, when snow, like everything else beautiful in its season, had sudden departure, coming in ripling streams down the rivers and lakes. The month came in fine, and, with very few exceptions, has continued one of the finest Marches on record. Only 6 times at 1 p.m. has the thermometer been at and below the freezing point, the lowest on the 27th, and that only at 25 degrees, and although there are 24 mornings the self-registrar indicated below the freezing point, the only two cold ones were the 26th and 27th, coming to 6 and 8 degrees above, respectively, never throughout down to zero. Then we had it 25 times above the freezing point, at 1 p. m. on the 19th going up to 66 degrees; then we had it 7 times above the freezing point at the morning's observation, the highest on the 19th, going up to 23 degrees, leaving the mean temperature of the month at 38 10-31 degrees. Rain fell on 14 days to the depth of 1 inch and 78-100. All the snow measurement during the month was only 2 inches, both light for March; 3 times white frost, twice auroeal lights, twice distant thunder, 6 times solar corona, once solar halo, once, lunar corona, and one fearful gale, although a number of others. Migrating birds, geese and ducks on the 7th, on the 10th, bluebirds, on the 12th, robins and crows. The following is the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month, respectively, namely: south-west 9 days, north-west 9 days, south-east 4 days, north-east 3 days, west 4 days, east 1 day, and north 1 day.

RIVER AND LAKE RIPLETS.

(From a Correspondent.)

The steamer Daisy made her first trip to Port Harwood, Rice Lake on Tuesday last with a consignment of pork and lard, which was billed to that port, and being shipped by Messrs. Geo Matthews & Sons, pork packers, Peterborough. Hundreds of villagers were at the dock to welcome her in response to her familiar whistle, which of course was sounded on her approach. The Daisy is the first boat afloat in these wrters, and Capt. Chas. Calcutt has the credit of being at the wheel, while Andrew Young pulled the throttle.

Port Harwood is still alive, and it is anticipated thas when the steamers start plying to and fro, things will boom and business in general will pick up.

Mr. "Din" Corkery, Harwood, is having his hotel, "Lakeview," which is considered one of the finest summer resorts on the lake, being situated on a most splendid site, elaborately refitted in the most artistic manner, at the same time undergoing a thorough renovation in the line of papering, calcimining and painting. The grounds will be under the supervision of a capable caretaker and excursionists and guests will be heartily welcomed by Mr. Corkery, who is looked upon as a most generous and painstaking manager.

Hundreds of people were to be seen at the Ashburnham dock yesterday viewing the new steamer, "City of Peterborough."

Mr. Stewart Wright is engaged in elevating the palace scow which is to be thoroughly overhauled and painted, and will be used solely in connection with the new steamer, "City of Peterborough," for excursion purposes.

The steamer Daisy will commence towing logs for the Point St. Charles Lumber Co., Little Lake, to-day. The logs have broken loose from their moorings. The Daisy will stretch the government boom this afternoon.

POLICE COURT.

A Couple of More Citizens Face the Court on the Charge of Forestalling.

At the police court this morning an employee of a butcher and a grocer were charged with forestalling—a violation of the market by-law by purchasing before eleven o'clock. Chief Reazel laid the complaint. The civic authorities are determined that the provisions of the market by-law shall be strictly and impartially observed. One of the offenders, who had bought poultry before the hour specified, said he had done so, not in the interest of trade, but merely to satisfy a customer who had come in and asked him to select her a pair of fine chickens on the market. The grocer had bought eggs and butter. He said he thought there had been a change in the market by-law and he was not aware he was committing an offence. The magistrate imposed a fine of $5 each. To-day's offenders make three in all who have been fined during the past two days for not conforming with the market by-law re buying before eleven o'clock.

ASHBURNHAM BRIEFS.

A case of diptheria is reported in the village—being situated on Elizabeth street—Dr. Yelland is attending the patient, who is a little girl, and is considered out of danger.

Mr. John Kylie, boot and shoe maker, is doing a flourishing business, and has his hands full from his numerous customers, from Peterborough as well as Ashburnham. He anticipates moving into larger premises at an early date.

Mr. Wilson, cooper, who is engaged at H. Calcutt's brewery, has in his possession two bank notes which he picked up on Saturday morning, and which are marked $19 and $42 respectively. He is looking for a claimant and may be seen at the brewery.

Fine Furniture.

A Clegg shows in his window to-day a very rich and serviceable parlour suite. It is a large five-piece Turkish suite, covered in fine Turcoman rugs, the pattern and colouring of which are decidedly Oriental, the rugs are made of fine velvet, and differ very much from the coarse carpet we have been accustomed to see on rug parlour suites.

Why

A Spring Overcoat is a good investment.

BECAUSE—

It's a stylish comfort, not only for the Spring season but also a most stylish and comfortable garment for cool days and nights through the summer, and for summer touring and outing wear generally.

Why

Some Suits are made merely to sell.

BECAUSE—

They don't fit and you know it. They look ungainly, but you're persuaded that they're "the height of fashion." Smart salesman did all the talking, and you—well, you did'nt like to go out without buying something after putting him to all that trouble. A week and the trousers were "riding up," the vest in ridges and the coat declining to get within two inches of your collar, and you wonder how you came to buy the plaguey thing. You won't do it again.

If you want to be fitted to perfection with Stylish Clothing cut by the people's cutter, and made to measure in good taste, look no farther than

MARTIN ON THE TARIFF

Winnipeg's Prosperity Not Due to the National Policy.

DUTY ON FARM IMPLEMENTS.

Mr. Martin Says It Is Ruinous to the Farming Community—Land Set Apart for Railways—Labor Representatives Wait on the Government.

OTTAWA, April 10.—The debate on the budget is expected to close to-morrow. Yesterday it was resumed by Sir James Grant, who was followed by Mr. Martin. The number of speakers that are to follow will take up all the time mentioned, and there is even a possibility that the debate may be prolonged until Thursday.

Hon. Mr. Laurier asked: Is it the intention of the Government to ask Parliament for a subsidy of £100,000 for the purpose of establishing a line of steamers to run between a Canadian port on one side and a French terminal port on the other?

Sir John Thompson replied that it is not the intention of the Government to ask for a subsidy of £100,000 for a line between Canada and France.

Mr. Charlton asked: How many acres of land in Manitoba and the Canadian Northwest have been pledged to railway corporations under the provisions of general laws or Government regulations, and have not yet been earned, in consequence of railway lines to which such grants have been pledged on construction, in sections or entirely, as the case may be, not having as yet been proceeded with or completed?

Hon. Mr. Daly—44,242,219 acres have been authorized by Parliament to be granted in subsidies to railway companies, of which 16,718,384 acres have not been given owing to the railways not having been constructed.

Hon. Mr. Ouimet, in reply to Mr. Bain, Wentworth, said that application had been made to the Works Department for the construction of a bridge across the Burlington canal, the cost of which was estimated at $21,000, but no action had been taken, as no money had yet been voted by Parliament.

Hon. Mr. Haggart, in reply to Mr. Edgar, said the maximum rate charged for the carrying of passengers on the Intercolonial during the past year was three cents per mile. The minimum for a season ticket, to travel 120 miles, was 34-100 cent per mile; the average rate for the year was 6-10 cent per mile.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, in reply to Mr. Lister, said it was not the intention of the Government to issue licenses during the present year for seine fishing in either Lake Ontario, Bay of Quinte, or in the St. Lawrence, except near Montreal, where nothing but coarse fish were found.

Sir John Thompson, in reply to Mr. Edgar, said the file of papers in connection with the copyright question would be laid on the table to-day.

Sir James Grant resumed the debate on the budget. He said that the new tariff would not press upon the people and would yet protect Canadian industries. Canada had made great progress under fifteen years of the National Policy, and her trade with the mother country, the West Indies, Australia, Japan, China and other countries had materially increased. The McKinley bill had taught Canada a good lesson—that she could be independent of the United States. If free trade obtained a tax would be placed on every walk in life, and every citizen would be handicapped in every step he took. He trusted that the Government would soon establish depots in England, Australia, Japan, China and other foreign countries, where the natives of these countries would be able to see samples of Canadian products.

Mr. Martin (Winnipeg) said that he spoke not only for Winnipeg, but also for the people of Manitoba and the Northwest. The people included in this territory were all very much interested in the construction of the Hudson Bay railway. He thought that they alone should not be left to pay for it, however, since it was a national undertaking and would be a national benefit. He hoped that the Government would grant aid. Winnipeg had prospered in spite of and not because of the National Policy. The duty of 20 per cent. on agricultural implements was ruinous to the farming community.

After recess Mr. Martin continued his speech, criticizing the duty on coal oil, baking powder, bicycles and many other articles.

Messrs. Metcalfe, Edgar, and McDonald (Assiniboia), then followed, after which, at midnight, the House rose.

Parliamentary Notes.

These bills were introduced and read a first time yesterday: Mr. Scriver—To incorporate the Dominion Woman's Christian Union. Mr. Davis—To incorporate the Glescehn, Beaver Lake and Victoria railway.

Hon. Mr. Wallace, in reply to Mr. McMullen, stated that between December 13, 1892, and June 30, 1893, Mr. C. J. Bowell had been employed as a detective in the Customs Department, under orders from the financial inspector at Toronto.

Hon. Mr. Patterson informed Mr. Mulock that the militia report was now in the printers' hands, and it would be laid on the table shortly.

A deputation of labor representatives waited on the Government yesterday to urge favorable consideration of the petitions sent to Parliament, asking that Labor Day be made a statutory holiday; that a plebiscite on Imperial Federation, independence and annexation be taken; that boards of arbitration be appointed for the settlement of labor disputes; that withdrawal from Government Savings Bank be allowed without notice, and that railway fares be reduced to two cents per mile.

There was a large deputation of pork packers in the city yesterday. They represented houses in Toronto, Montreal and Hamilton. They are dissatisfied with the change in the tariff from a specific duty to 25 per cent. ad valorem. In short, they want the tariff on pork to remain as it is.

A large delegation from the Sir John Macdonald Club of Montreal arrived here yesterday and presented to the habitues of the Conservative caucus room a handsome oil painting of Sir John Thompson.

The Senate.

OTTAWA, April 10.—In the Senate the debate on the Manitoba and Northwest schools was concluded. Messrs. Power, Kaulbach, and Ferguson (P. E. I.) spoke.

Hon. Mackenzie Bowell closed the debate.

The motion for papers passed.

STAMPEDE IN A SCHOOL

Bursting of a Steam Pipe Creates a Panic Among the Pupils.

ONE KILLED IN THE RUSH.

Over a Thousand Frightened Pupils Form a Fatal Blockade in Their Frenzied Efforts to Reach a Place of Safety—Many Were Injured.

CHICAGO, April 10.—The bursting of a steam pipe in the basement of the Humbold Park School, yesterday, caused a panic among the pupils, and in the rush of the children to escape from the building one boy was killed and over a score were crushed and trampled. Fourteen children were taken to the St. Elizabeth hospital and many others were carried to their homes by the police.

There were 1,176 pupils in the three storey school building, which contained 16 rooms.

When the steam escaping from the coil of pipe made a terrific noise the pupils were being put through their lessons preparatory to being dismissed for the recess. The children in the room where the steam was escaping instantly rushed for the door leading to the stairways. The panic spread to the pupils in the other rooms, who rushed for the same egress and formed the fatal blockade. The larger and stronger ones trampled over the smaller and weaker children in their wild flight to a place of safety, leaving a trail of bruised and unconscious forms behind them.

The stampede was partly stopped by the presence of mind shown by the principal, W. J. Barthol, and those teachers whose pupils had not already rushed from the rooms. They locked the doors and kept the frightened children imprisoned until the panic was over. This quick action no doubt saved the lives of a score or more of the pupils, as the panic had spread to every room in the building. All the injured fell in a heap at the bottom of the stairway, which was a narrow one used by the teachers. When citizens, police officers and firemen came into the building they found little to do except pick up the unconscious and bruised forms of the injured, and after restoring the more fortunate ones removed them to their home or the hospital by means of ambulances.

When some of the largers boys had reached the exits and realized the danger was over, they rushed back into the building and carried out the little boys, who were either unconscious or too weak and frightened to move from the screaming, scrambling mass of juvenile humanity.

BRITISH BEHRING SEA BILL.

Third Reading Passes in the Commons—Evicted Tenants Bill.

LONDON, April 10.—The Behring Sea bill passed its third reading in the House of Commons last evening. It passed without amendments, Sir Charles Russell having accepted Sir Richard Webster's suggestion that the clause to which the United States government is said to object be altered in the House of Lords.

The floors and galleries of the House of Commons were packed with members, diplomats, peers and others when Sir William Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer and the leader of the Liberal party in House, arose to move the resolution of which notice was given last week. Sir William Harcourt reminded the House that a large number of Government bills required attention, and that there was also a large amount of important administrative business awaiting the consideration of the House.

Mr. Balfour said the Government itself in his opinion would be more likely to misuse the time of the House through its proposal to appropriate the whole attention of Parliament at an early stage of the session and practically shut out all private bills.

John Redmond said if the Government had the confidence of the House their supporters would be justified in giving up the time the Ministry had asked for, but he wanted to know what business the Government intended to carry to the front. Would the evicted tenants bill have precedence, he asked, or would it even have second place?

John Morley, chief secretary for Ireland, said the evicted tenants bill would be kept in the front line of legislation. The Government would not play with a question it was pledged to carry through. (Cries of hare, hare).

Explorations in Africa.

VIENNA, April 10.—A letter has been received from Director Wilhelm, of the Freeland expedition, who writes from Lama, stating that he will wait there until William Astor Chanler arrives before starting for Zanzibar. Mr. Chanler, who is returning from the United States, will begin another exploration of Mount Kenia in about six months.

Wholesale Tea Traders Protest.

LONDON, April 10.—A meeting of the wholesale traders in tea was held here yesterday at which it was resolved to ask the Canadian high commissioner, Sir Charles Tupper, to receive a deputation appointed by the traders to protest against the proposed imposition of a duty of 10 per cent. on tea to be imported into Canada from London in bond.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Respecting the Office of Inspector of Immigrants at Niagara Falls.

ASSESSMENT FOR TAXATION.

Mr. Tait's Bill to Permit Change in the Present Method Lost in the Second Reading—Respecting Stationary Engineers—Redistribution Bill.

TORONTO, April 10.—In the Legislature yesterday these bills received third readings: To enable the corporation of the village of London West to issue debentures to consolidate the debt thereof—Mr. Tooley. To establish a provincial park at Rondeau—Mr. Hardy. Respecting the Manitoulin and North Shore Railway Company—Mr. Commee. To enable the executors of the late John Smith to mortgage certain lands in the city of Toronto—Mr. Clarke. To consolidate the debt of the town of Sault Ste. Marie—Mr. Commee. To incorporate the Port Lock and Desert Lake Mining and Railway Company—Mr. Balfour.

Mr. Charlton introduced a bill yesterday to amend the Municipal Act. It was read a first time.

Inspector of Immigrants.

Dr. Ryerson moved for a return with respect to the appointment of F. Maguire, of St. Catharines, as inspector of immigrants at Niagara Falls, Ont. He desired all information in regard to his duties, pay, qualification, etc., who performed his duties previous to his appointment, and if there were similar officials along the frontier. Dr. Ryerson said he had some doubts as to the ability of the official and the amount of time the inspector devoted to his duties, saying he had been informed that Mr. Maguire had been given the office to alleviate his disappointment in being recently defeated in the mayoralty contest in St. Catharines.

Hon. Mr. Dryden, in reply, said the office was made necessary by the withdrawal of the agencies which had for some time been maintained in the province by the Dominion Government. It was necessary that there should be some such officer as Mr. Maguire to meet immigrants on arriving at Niagara Falls.

Mr. McCleary said he had been at the Falls on several occasions and had failed to discover where the inspector was located, or what he was employed in.

The question of pedigree inadvertently cropped up in the discussion much to Dr. Ryerson's evident chagrin. A sly allusion by Mr. Dryden brought a smile to the faces of honorable members, and the worthy doctor's discomfiture was so evident that merriment was scarce subdued.

The motion was passed.

Assessment for Taxation.

Mr. Tait moved the second reading of his bill to permit municipalities to change the present method of assessment for taxation.

Hon. Mr. Hardy hoped the bill would be withdrawn, but it was put to the House and declared lost on division.

Respecting Stationary Engineers.

Mr. Tait moved the second reading of the bill providing that stationary engineers must pass an examination, register and take out certificates of proficiency.

Messrs. Wood (Brant), Balfour and Waters took exceptions to the measure.

Hon. Mr. Gibson thought the bill might go to a committee. The engineers had been already given a charter, and he thought they ought to be allowed to make rules for their own guidance.

On a division the motion for second reading was lost by 24 to 12.

Street Railway Companies.

Mr. Balfour moved the second reading of a bill obliging street railway companies desirous of obtaining privileges from a municipality for a longer period than 20 years to come to the Legislature for permission.

Mr. Meredith thought, in view of the fact that electric railways to carry passengers and freight were now being incorporated, some such legislation would be desirable.

The motion passed.

Redistribution.

In answer to a question, Sir Oliver Mowat said the redistribution bill might possibly be brought into the House to-day.

The House adjourned.

YOUNG LIBERALS' BANQUET.

L. H. Davies and Other Prominent Liberals Attend—Brilliant Success.

TORONTO, April 10.—The banquet of the Young Liberals of Toronto, held last evening at the Rossin House, was a brilliant success. The presence of Messrs. L. H. Davies, M.P.; F. W. Borden, M.P., and D. C. Fraser, M.P., the powerful orators from the Maritime Provinces, created immense enthusiasm. A number of prominent Ontario politicians were also present. In response to the toast, "The Liberal Party," Mr. Davies made a splendid speech. Hon. G. W. Ross also responded to this toast, making one of his characteristic brilliant speeches.

Killed While Blasting.

WILMOT, N. S., April 10.—James Ackels, miner, working in the Torbrook mines, was killed on Saturday morning while putting dynamite into the ore for a blast. The deceased leaves a wife and one child. He had fired a fuse and the fire went out. He went down in the shaft to re-charge the hole when the blast went off.

NEW GLASGOW, N.S., April 10.—Duncan McQuay, one of the Canadian voyageurs, fatally injured by premature blast at Fifteen Mile Stream on Saturday, has since died. He belonged to Pontiac and was at one time manager for the MacDougall Company.

An Absconder Returns.

HAMILTON, April 10.—W. G. Nelles, the village clerk and postmaster of Burlington, who suddenly departed from that village a couple of weeks ago, leaving shortages in his accounts, returned home last Friday night. It is said that he was induced by Reeve Atkinson to return. He was across the border, but not very far from home. Nelles has expressed his willingness to make good to the corporation the full amount of the shortage which may be discovered in his accounts. It is unlikely that any action will be taken against him by the municipal authorities.

ONE OF THE REDUCTION.

A tailor in Halifax has furnished The Acadian Recorder of that city with an instance of the operation of the new tariff upon the price of clothing made from imported cloths. The tailor produces an invoice of cloths, meltons and beavers, such as are made into men's overcoats, and The Recorder says that a comparison of the duty at the new rates and the old will stand as follows :

The invoice contained 52 yards, weighing 80 lbs.; invoice price £34 9s 6d..... $167 78

OLD DUTY.

10 cents per lb....	8 00
20 p.c. ad val	33 60
	$41 60

NEW DUTY.

30 p.c. ad val.....	50 40
Increase under new duty.....	8 80

The 52 yards will make 20 overcoats.

The tax (duty) on each coat under the old tariff was.....	1 98
Under the new.....	2 40

Or 42 cents more on each coat.

This is a characteristic instance of the boasted disappearance of the specific duty from the tariff. It is true that man does not live by overcoats alone, and that at 42 cents per overcoat his fortunes would not be seriously embarassed. But under the new tariff he will have to meet an increase in the cost of his wife's dress goods and all these things diminish the buying power of his dollar.

THE Ottawa Free Press is anxious to have Lord Aberdeen admitted to hear the speeches in Parliament. By all means give the Governor-General permission to attend, but nothing has occurred to show that Lord Aberdeen is sufficiently criminal to warrant the administration of the punishment of forcing him to attend the debates. His Excellency will breathe freely so long as the Free Press does not propose making him undergo that doleful substitution for capital punishment, the speeches of the Senate.

A GRATEFUL WOMAN.

Suffered for Years With Neuralgia in the Head—Finds a Cure and is Anxious Others to Know of It.

The following letter, which speaks for itself, was voluntarily sent to the Caledonia, N.S., Gold Hunter :—

DEAR MR. EDITOR,—For a number of years I have been afflicted with neuralgia in my head. What I have suffered as the result can scarcely be understood by those who have never felt the excruciating pains of this malady. I was treated by one of the best doctors, but without success. In fact I was growing worse, and constantly suffering more and more. Hearing Dr. Williams' Pink Pills recommended for this trouble, I procured a single box to give them a trial. Before they were all used I felt better, and procured three boxes more. I now feel like a different person. I am cured, and this happy result is alone due to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I feel so grateful for the good they have done me that I venture to ask you to give this letter an insertion in the hope that my experience may be of benefit to some other sufferer.

Yours truly,
MRS. W. T. JOHNSON.

Hemford, N.S., Feb., 1894.

An eminent medical authority has aptly described neuralgia as a "cry of the nerves for better blood." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act promptly upon the blood, supplying its life and health-giving constituents, speedily and effectually, curing neuralgia and all troubles dependent upon a poor condition of the blood, or a shattered state of the nerves. No other remedy acts so speedily, and with such certainty. Sold by all dealers or sent post paid on receipt of fifty cents a box or $2.50 for six boxes, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y. Do not be persauded to try something else.

Destruction of Birds.

The many friends of the birds, who have so often and so energetically protested against their use for the adornment of women's hats, will be interested in the fate of the moho, one of the most beautiful of the feathered inhabitants of the Sandwich Islands. These birds are now extinct, and Professor Newton, of Cambridge, England, estimates that not above half-a dozen stuffed specimens of the species exist in the world.

They were clothed with magnificent yellow feathers; and for the sake of these which were employed in making robes for the native chiefs of the islands, the birds were relentlessly slaughtered. When the supply became exhausted recourse was had to another yellow feathered bird of the islands, much inferior in beauty, however, and the name O-o, formerly borne by the moho, was transferred to this new victim of savage vanity.

It can hardly be a comforting reflection for those who aid or encourage the slaughter of birds for the adornment of human head-gear, that they are simply imitating a thoughtless custom of the uncivilized natives of a Pacific Island.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

The Prospect Brightening—An Advance in Wheat.

The business outlook is, comparatively speaking, very promising. The tariff question will, doubtless, soon be closed, and the opening of navigation on the St. Lawrence river is likely to occur in a couple of weeks or sooner, and these two factors will bring about quite a revival in business. Manufacturers will then accept the inevitable, and resume operations in some important lines, and the movement of grain eastward will be begun on a large scale. The outlook for Canadian cattle being admitted on the hoof to interior markets in Great Britain again is more promising, and if this advantage can be secured for our exporters there should be quite a revival in the demand for cattle at interior points in Ontario. The summer freight rates on the Canadian railways went into force on Monday, and this, with the demand for general staple goods for shipment to interior water points by vessel, will create a large increase for a time in the volume of trade. The local money market is dull, and at present there is only a fair demand for funds. The supply of money at Canadian centres is abundant for all legitimate purposes of trade, and rates are easy. The outlook for an increased inquiry for accommodation is not unpromising.

THE ADVANCE IN WHEAT.

The long-promised upward turn in the prices for wheat seems at last to have come. The persistently repeated reports of crop damage have at last started the markets, and there has been considerable buying this week by those who have a strong belief in the contention that the present level of prices is altogether too low considering the statistical position of the wheat markets. The market in Chicago this week has shown great strength, the May option having advanced six cents per bushel from the middle of last week up to Thursday. The more conservative operators are viewing the situation cautiously and are still indisposed to attach as much credence to the damage reports as are given to them by the more enthusiastic bulls. While damage by cold to the growing crop must be an important factor in the future course of the market, the invisible supply is a matter that must not be overlooked in considering the future. If the present advance holds, and especially if the price continues to go up, it will doubtless bring out a great deal of wheat from the farmers' hands. The visible supply is still very large and the weekly decreases are small. The foreigners are not buying as liberally as many hoped they would. We are now within three months of the time when considerable

NEW WHEAT WILL BE COMING ON

the market in the United States and while everybody would be very glad to see a good healthy advance maintained, it will be well for all to act with extreme caution, always having in view the idiosyncrasies of the Chicago market. The report of the Secretary of Agriculture at Washington in reply to a resolution of the Senate calling for a statement of the visible and invisible supply of wheat presented this week is at this time of more than usual interest. The total supply on March 1, 1893, he states, was 610,000,000 bushels. Exports from March 1, 1893, to March 1, 1894, consumption from March 1, 1893, to March 1, 1894, amount in farmers' hands March 1, 1894, and visible supply March 1, 1894, he states amounted to 729,000,000 bushels, which he gives as the total amount distributed and available for distribution. The apparent discrepancy is 119,000,000 bushels. The supply on hand March 1, 1894, he says, was 100,000,000. The probable consumption from March 1 to July 1, 1894, he puts at 121,000,000 bushels, leaving 69,000,000 available for exportation from March 1 to July 1, 1894.

ONTARIO PRICES ADVANCE.

Both Ontario and Manitoba wheat are higher in sympathy with the advance in Chicago and sales have been made at an advance in some instances of several cents over prices that ruled at the first of this week. Private advices received here Fort William yesterday stated that all the Manitoba wheat offered there was being taken at a substantial advance over recent prices, and some lots have been withdrawn from the market altogether in the expectation of higher prices in the near future. Ontario flour is also higher in sympathy with the advance in wheat.

THE MONEY MARKETS.

There has been quite a revival in the markets for securities both in the United States and Canada. In New York the veto of the Bland bill started the buying for European account, and after a small reaction, in which the market withstood the attacks of the bear element remarkably well, another advance was started yesterday and the prediction is that although reactions may be expected the future is full of promise for a steady recovery of values. In Canada low rates of call funds have to some extent assisted the markets and there has been a good deal of business done in the past fortnight, both on speculation account and for investment.

"Grin Like a Cheshire Cat."

"Well, well! Didn't ever hear of a 'grin like a Cheshire cat!' Why, you see a man down in Cheshire had a cat which grinned and grinned until there was nothing left of the cat but the grin, just as some scrofulous people, who don't know of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, get a cough, and then cough and cough until there is nothing left of them to erect a monument to but the cough."

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the most effective, anti-billous, anti-dyspeptic, strength-giving remedy extant. For weak lungs, lingering coughs, spitting of blood, scrofula, sores, pimples and ulcers, it is a wonderful and efficacious remedy.

Its manufacturers guarantee it to do all that they claim, or money is returned.

Worthless Pianos and Organs

Are made in large quantities, because foolish people buy where prices are lowest, without giving a thought to quality. Any one who thinks, will not buy a "Piano at $170, or an Organ at $30, guaranteed for nineteen years," because it is cheap. Any one who thus thinks will avoid learning by experience that it would have been cheaper to pay, say $300, for his piano.

We can furnish an Organ for $30, but we will not. We live here and have to "face the music" this year and other years to come.

It Isn't a Matter of How Much You Earn, But
What You Save!

"Any FOOL can Earn Money, but it takes a WISE Man to Save it."

And yet it is as simple as A B C. You know that one of the peculiarities about GOUGH'S Clothing is that it isn't sold by wind. It's VALUE that does it. It broke out some 8 or 10 years ago when Gough Bros. spread their monster tents for business in Peterborough and the epidemic has kept on spreading ever since.

THE IMMENSE AMOUNT OF MONEY SAVED to the Workingman, the Farmer and the Business Man since Gough Bros. broke the combination to keep up High Prices in Clothing, has demonstrated that there are Wise Men among us who can save money if they only get a fair chance.

"What's the cause of Gough's Big Success?" did you say.

Just look at those $7.50 Spring Overcoats and Tweed Suits, with that regular tailor-made look about them. They were no more made to sell at that price than the Otonabee River was to run ocean greyhounds on. $12.00 ought to be the price.

Then again—Take that pair of Pants or that Big Boy's 3-Piece Suit. They're All Wool and cut by an expert hand, who was a regular tailor's cutter before we pulled down the prices that gave them such big salaries. You wouldn't think $4.50 too much to pay for either of them, would you? Well, they're yours for $3.00

And s on all the way through our mammoth store. "Money to be Saved at Gough's!" why that's stale news—everybody knows that by this time, and, if you haven't caught the enthusiasm yet, it must be because you're one of those fellows that can EARN money all right, but DON'T KNOW HOW TO SAVE IT.

WE'RE AWFULLY STUCK UP—and it's just on account of our Clothes. We just think that when it comes to Clothing, there's nothing in this town that can touch us.

"Always Good at Gough's."

ANOTHER HOME VICTORY.

The Weak Made Strong.
The Despondent Made Joyous.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE EFFECTED BY PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND.

Mrs. A. Acheson Suffered Intensely from Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Nervousness and Sleeplessness---Her Medical Adviser Failed to Cure---Ordinary Medicines Did Not Even Give a Measure of Relief---She Uses Paine's Celery Compound, and Says "I am a New Woman."

MRS. ALBERT ACHESON.

Mrs. Acheson, who resides at No. 15 Canning street, Montreal is the wife of acting Sergeant Albert Acheson, of No. 8 Police Station, Seigneurs street. The worthy Sergeant has been connected for many years with the police force of Montreal, and is one of the most efficient officers that the metropolitan city can boast of.

Many people consider Mrs. Acheson's cure to be one of the most remarkable on record. There is certainly something wonderful and encouraging about it that should command the close attention of every man and woman who seeks for health and new life.

Two years of intense physical suffering from a complication of terrible troubles, the failure of the medical attendant to cure, and money wasted on medicines, are sufficient to discourage the majority of strong hearts.

In the midst of disappointments and severe trials Mrs. Acheson fortunately heard of Paine's Celery Compound, that wonderful discovery that has saved so many lives. The life-giving medicine was used with magnificent results; a perfect cure was effected, and Mrs. Acheson emphatically says, "I am a new woman."

As an encouragement to sufferers throughout the land, Mrs. Acheson writes as follows:

"With extreme pleasure I offer my testimony in favour of your wonderful medicine, Paine's Celery Compound, and trust that my experience may be of benefit to others.

"Two years ago I suffered intensely from neuralgia in the head, face and shoulders. I was in a terrible condition and often so tortured that I could not rest or sleep. I became very weak, and feeble, had giddy and faint spells and often could not attempt to go out on the street. My appetite became poor and digestion was very weak. At night while in bed I often had oppressive and smothering feelings; my whole nervous system was run down and very weak.

"I had been under the care of a medical man and used various medicines, but no relief came to me from these sources. I fortunately heard of your Paine's Celery Compound; I decided to give it a trial and I bless the day I commenced with it. I used it for several months and now feel as well as I ever did. All my pains have been banished, I sleep and eat well and find myself a new woman. I heartily recommend Paine's Celery Compound to all who are in need of an honest and true curing medicine."

NEWFOUNDLAND AFFAIRS.

Reports of the Existing Trouble Greatly Exaggerated.

St. Johns, Nfld., April 10.—Premier Whiteway and Colonial Secretary Bond visited the Governor yesterday to request a reply to their demand for dissolution. The Governor intimated that he is not yet in a position to give an answer. He is awaiting instructions from the Imperial authorities. The Government is becoming fearful that dissolution will be refused. In the Supreme Court yesterday Parsons, editor, and Herder, proprietor of the Telegram, the Government organ, were before the court charged with contempt for publishing articles reflecting on Justice Winter's decision in the Bay Deverde case, insinuating that he was actuated by malice and partizanship in giving the decision rendered, and accusing him of the commission of worse offences while he was a politican himself. The case occupied the whole day. Numerous precedents were cited. The Chief Justice will announce judgment to-day. He advised the Telegram's lawyer to carefully consider his position in the meantime. This is taken to mean that an apology will be accepted; if it is not given severe punishment will be inflicted.

The political rumors which have been sent about Newfoundland have been fearfully exaggerated. There has been no semblance of a riot nor any sign of the slightest disturbance. Several letters have been forwarded from various outports to papers expressing deep indignation against the tactics of the opposition, but there has been no actual disturbance as claimed. It is impossible to verify the rumors to the effect that warships have been ordered here earlier than usual. Sir Terence O'Brien, the governor, is in constant communication with the Imperial Government relative to the dissolution of Parliament, but he will hardly make a move in this direction without the consent of the imperial authorities. It is presumed that the opposition party are bringing pressure to bear in England to prevent dissolution. Everything will be quiet until the Governor presents his ultimatum to the Government.

The House meets daily, but has to adjourn for the want of a quorum. The Speaker did not attend all last week, so the chairman of committees takes charge and adjourns the House from day to day. Only the Opposition members attend. Overtures were made to some members of the Government to come over to the Opposition, but they refused.

Sir William Whiteway entertained his party to dinner last week and all most solemnly pledged themselves to sink or swim with him.

Mr. Parsons, editor of the Telegram and member for St. Barbe, was asked to appear in court to explain some articles which appeared in his paper derogatory to Judge Winter. Parsons refused, and the matter will probably be dropped when the Governor decides the dissolution question.

In an interview Governor O'Brien denied the coming of a warship as reported. He does not anticipate a riot, and he very much deplores and deprecates the sensational messages sent from here. Despite the hard feeling engendered by the election trials no breach of the peace is apprehended. On being asked for information on the dissolution question, the Governor said he did not know himself when he could give an answer to the Government. This evidently means that he has not yet received an answer from the Imperial Government.

A Government BOMBSHELL THROWN INTO THE LIFE INSURANCE CAMP!

The following statement comes from the government Blue Book. It covers a period of sixteen years, and is sworn to as correct by representatives of each Company:

Statement of Premiums received and Cash Profits paid back to Policy Holders from 1877 to 1892, both years inclusive:—

COMPANY.	Premiums Received.	Dividends Paid to Policy Holders.	Ratio of Dividends to Premiums, %
CANADA LIFE	$16,268,207	$2,946,433	18.18
Confederation Life	6,165,432	637,925	10 35
North American	2,327,062	32,857	1.41
Ontario Mutual	3,678,086	433,294	11.17
Sun Life	5,527,720	355,280	6.43

Never in the history of Life Insurance has the struggle for business been keener. Never has the conflict been hotter. Never have the Companies felt as they feel now, the necessity for throwing all the energy at their command into the field. The most intelligent and best men have to be employed. All kinds of plans of insurance are submitted. Each Company determined in securing the supremacy in the good will of the public, in establishing their name, the utterance of which, shall convey to the minds of the people the essential characteristics of

UNDOUBTED SECURITY,
RIGID ECONOMY,
GOOD INVESTMENTS,
LARGEST PROFITS

WHY?

Because millons of dollars are being paid annually for Life Insurance, and the Companies that can show these features have attained a position which will guarantee their future success, for money will flow freely into the best investments.

The Canada Life Policy Holders can look at the above statement with a smile of satisfaction, yet sympathise with their friends who are not so favourably situated.

They can throw their Life Policies down in the face of opponents and successfully challenge the production of more profitable policies, they can stand the onslaught of Agents who will almost cover them with literature and estimates of Tontine, Semi-Tontine, Return Premiums, Reserved Dividends, Annuity and Endownment plans of insurance, and with a quiet assurance feel that

As The Canada Life is Making the Most Profits, She Can Pay the Largest Profits.

READER. If you want Life Insurance choose the Canada Life and join the throng of contented policy holders who are insured with the Company carrying about 45 per cent. of the total insurance in force of the above named Companies

Shaw, Garvin, Davis and Drope; Mr. Frank Wright, humourous vocalist, Toronto; and Mr. J. H. Jones, violinist. Mr. Fred. Clarke, accompanist. Secure seats in time. Admission 25 and 35 cents. Seat plan at Madill's drug store, Hunter street.

Telfordian Temperature Topics.

Tuesday, April 10.—At this morning's observation the self-registering thermometer indicated 30 degrees above zero with now the appearance of a fast approaching storm; but looking at our new moon, with the old one fondling in its arms is not an encouraging prospect. This brings me in mind of an anecdote related of our national poet, Robbie Burns. Some in speaking of the end of the earth held out for its present shape, some again held out for its being cut square down. "Indeed," said Burns in his usual jocular style, "the latter is right, I went lately and looked over the edge and there I saw a large number busy in cutting up the old moons into stars."—THOMAS TELFORD.

Encore Concert at St. Luke's.

St. Luke's school house was again well filled last night with an audience which thoroughly enjoyed the entertainment provided for them. "The Sleeping Beauty" was repeated and earned much applause, as did also the "Fairy Drill," to which one or two new features had been added, the children accompanying their march with chorus singing. The remainder of the programme included the following pieces:

Instrumental duet..Miss Maggie McCabe, Miss [Minnie Begley
Club swinging (encore) .....Miss Hamilton
Song (encore) .....Mrs. Stapleton
Song.....Miss Hamilton
Imitation of bagpipes (encore) ..... Mrs. Orde
Song and Chorus.....Miss Maudie Long and [children

At the close of the programme a vote of thanks was moved by Lt.-Col. Rogers, who made special reference to the excellence of the "Fairy Drill," seconded by Mr. H. T. Strickland and unanimously carried.

A Big House Anyway.

John L. Sullivan, the ex-champion pugilist, supported by a company of fair calibre and ability, appeared at the Opera House last night in "The Man from Boston." One of the biggest houses which has gathered within the four walls for many months turned out to see the Boston Boy, who, of course, was the attraction par excellence. Very few ladies were present, although there was nothing objectionable or taboo in the performance. The gladiator in "Capt. Harcourt" did well, and his acting was strong and straight. Mr. Robby Mack in "Pat, a would-be pirate," furnished the amusement of the evening. Mr. Wm. Cready as "George Ornton" and Miss Nellie Lawrence as "Susan Summerfield," are worthy of special mention. The glove contest in the fourth act, in which the champion of twelve years came out victorious, was cheered loudly. The exhibition was scientific and exciting. The company left this morning on the 8 o'clock train for Belleville, where they play to-night.

Peterborough Carbon and Porcelain Company.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Carbon and Porcelain Company was held at the office of the Company on Friday last. There were a good attendance of the shareholders present. The statement of the business of the past year was presented and was as satisfactory as the shareholders anticipated and the outlook for the future of the company was promising. The following shareholders were elected directors for the ensuing year:—William Cluxton, John Carnegie, Adam Hall, J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., A. L. Davis, T. E. Bradburn, Thomas Brooks and J. W. Taylor. At a meeting of the directors immediately after the annual meeting of the shareholders, William Cluxton, Esq., was elected President and John Carnegie, Esq., Vice-President.

Young Womens' Association.

The Board of Management gave a very successful social to the members of the Association and their friends Saturday evening. They were very much gratified at the large attendance and the hearty manner in which each one present tried to make it a success. The ladies wish to thank those who so kindly contributed to the musical part of the entertainment; especially to Mr. Whyte are our thanks due. All hearts were touched by his songs, and by his gracious act in presenting to each one present a copy of his song, "For God and Home and Native Land." Many thanked him personally, but all are grateful.

Bible class to-night. Do not forget it.

The Board of Managers wish to thank Mr. Garvin for his kindess in teaching the literature class during the winter. The class was very helpful and greatly appreciated by the members.

There Are No Dissentions.

The Port Hope Times says: "Rumour reports serious trouble in the ranks of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club. Not having Port Hope to quarrel with the, chronic wranglers of that town are no doubt fighting amongst themselves." This is only a meagre sample of the lacrosse buncombe which the Times has been rehearsing to its readers at the expense of the local lacrosse club for several days. The paragraph needs no reply except that the heterogeneous mass—"ringers," "Indians" and "professionals"—which compose the so-called lacrosse team of Port Hope dwell in as much peace, concord and harmony among themselves as the Peterborough purely amateur and local team does, there would be no need for the petty carping indulged by the Times at the hands of an unscrupulous lacrosse club, whose disgruntled captain seems to use the newspaper organ to vent his spleen and chagrin whenever he happens to be out of sorts.

The Coming Business Change.

The store formerly occupied by Grafton & Company, 333 George street, is being handsomely refitted and altered for the occupancy of Mr. W. H. Meredith, gentlemen's tailor and furnisher. Mr. Meredith will move into his enlarged and commodious new premises toward the latter part of next week. A large plate glass window has been placed in the rear, as well as a glass door. Handsome hardwood shelving is being erected on the southern side, and a fine, large stairway leading to the second flat has been built. The painting, papering, etc., is being done by Mr. H. W. Watson. The Toronto Trust and Loan Company are making the sweeping renovations. The present premises occupied by Mr. Meredith for a number of years, No. 339 George street—two doors south—will be refitted and altered for the new lessee, Mr. Mr. John Nugent, druggist, Hunter street, who will, as soon as his new pharmaceutical establishment is completed for him, move into his new quarters, which will likely be in the course of the next few weeks.

A Great Scene.

At the Opera House on Wednesday evening, April 11th, will be seen one of the most original and thrilling stage scenes ever invented by the famous playwrights, Simms & Pettit, is the furnace scene in the fourth act of "Master and Man." The idea of introducing a practical furnace on the stage and making it do duty in comedy drama is a daring one. To accomplish this without apparently taking the furnace and writing a play around it, is a matter of artistic skill. Nothing so drags upon a single scene and falls flat as soon as that particular scene is over. That is the chief fault usually to be found with the drama that is noted for some great realistic feature. In such plays, too, the realism is usually forced—the future does not fall naturally into the plot—it seemed lugged in, as it were, and having no legitimate place in the piece. In "Master and Man," however, the authors have made their strong realistic feature subordinate to the plot and caused it to perform a legitimate function. The furnace itself is not more natural than the thrilling part it plays in the drama. It is unquestionably a great scene. Popular prices 25, 35 and 50c.

—At the regular meeting of St. Paul's church Y. P. S. C. E. held last night, Miss Stevenson presided, and along with Miss Simpson took the topic in an able manner, which was "Envy and Covetousness." There was a good attendance. Next Monday night a temperance meeting will be held.

—The regular meeting of St. Andrew's Endeavour Society was held last night. Miss White presided and the topic, "Envy and Covetousness," was ably taken by Mr. A. J. Hamilton, after which the Rev. Mr. MacWilliams addressed the newly elected officers and a profitable time was spent by all present.

—The store formerly occupied by Messrs. McKee & Davidson, George street, is being thoroughly refitted, remodelled and renovated for the reception of Messrs. Brown Bros., proprietors of the Oriental grocery. Mr. Thos. Rutherford, contractor, has the contract for the extensive alterations which are now in progress. The place will be ornamented by a handsome glass front, the present front being completely changed. There will be one large central pane of plate glass, supported on either side by large fan lights, with two separate doors for entrance—very much resembling the front of Mr. John McKee's drug store.

COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

Miss O'Brien Captures Mr. Hampden Burnham's Prize for the Best Essay on "Liberty"—Other Notes.

This is the last quarter, so to speak in the circuit of preparation for the matriculation and departmental examinations and the students in preparation are working with a might and main. The number writing this year on the different examinations will be larger than ever.

Mr. Hampden Burnham, who is a very generous friend to the Collegiate Institute staff and pupils, has announced his intention of donating a handsome prize to the pupils who, on an examination at the close of the present term, does the best work or scores the most points in Latin translation at sight.

Mr. J. Jeffries, B. A., English master, was unable to attend to his duties this morning, owing to illness in his family.

Last fall Mr. Hampden Burnham offered a prize to the pupils of the fourth form of the Collegiate, in the shape of a handsomely bound and costly edition of "Longfellow" to the one writing the best essay on the subject "Liberty." Rev. H. Symonds, M.A., rector of St. Luke's church, kindly consented to act as examiner. Yesterday after carefully reviewing all the essays he wrote Mr. Principal Fessenden, stating that although the competition was very close he adjuged that the prize should be awarded to Miss O'Brien, whose essay on "Liberty," Mr. Symonds said showed "considerable reading, original thought and careful composition."

Wounded at Gettysburg

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"I was in the Army of the Potomac and in the great battle of Gettysburg was struck in the ankle by a minnie ball, which smashed the bone. My leg was amputated in the field hospital, and after a long time it healed. I was discharged and went home. After 8 years

My Wound Broke Open

afresh. Dr. Pease amputated an inch of the bone, and it healed. Four years later it once more opened, and for eight years how I suffered! I do not believe it possible for a human being to suffer worse agony. During this time I had to go on crutches, being unable to wear a wooden leg. Whenever possible I relieved my sufferings by taking opiate, but when I was obliged to go without it, I suffered fearfully and thought I should go crazy. I tried every thing I could get with my limited means. Physicians said I would never be any better. Finally my

Blood Became Poisoned

and it broke out all over my face and on some parts of my body so that my face is all covered with scars now. One day I read of what Hood's Sarsaparilla would do. The first dollar I got I sent and bought a bottle and began taking it. A week or two later, my wife in dressing my leg, said it seemed to be improving, and after taking a few months, thank God (and I say it reverently), the sores all over my body had healed, and now, four years later, have never shown any sign of reappearing." GEORGE M. HAMMOND, 319 Magnolia Street, Syracuse, N. Y.

ST. JOHN'S ADJOURNED VESTRY MEETING.

A Large Attendance—Several Matters of Importance Dealt with—Reports from Various Organizations, All Encouraging—The Envelope System Discussed.

The adjourned meeting of St. John's Vestry resumed its session last evening in the school house, a large number of the members of the congregation being in attendance, including quite a number of ladies.

Rev. J. C. Davidson, rector, presided, and at the conclusion of the opening prayer called upon Mr. William Sallsbury for the report of the committee appointed to consider the advisability of increasing the accommodation for the Sunday school. The report contained a recommendation to the effect that, except in case of the most pressing need, no expenditure be incurred in connection with the building.

In explanation of the finding of the committee, Mr. Sallsbury stated that, in view of the state of the church's finances, no other course of action could be adopted at present.

The rector mentioned the fact that the Sunday school had a balance of over $500 on hand. He was anxious to hear the views of other members of the Vestry regarding the report of the committee.

Mr. J. Walkey, superintendent of the Sunday School, pointed out that the accommodation was insufficient, and that the building, besides, being cold in winter, was considered unsafe.

The report was finally adopted, however, as the consensus of opinion appeared to be that the repairs should not be undertaken until the funds to meet the expenditure were in hand.

The auditors' report, corroborating the correctness of the financial statement of the warden's, which showed a deficit of about $400 for the past year, was received and adopted. On the suggestion of Mr. Hatton, the deficit will be wiped out by the guaranteeing of equal shares of the amount by twenty-five members of the congregation. These members will endeavour to reimburse themselves by instituting a thorough canvas of the members of the congregation.

On motion of Mr. Robert Fair, rector's churchwarden, Messrs. Macfarlane Wilson, Joseph Mills, H. Rush, W. E. Conway, and the wardens will compose a committee to receive the names of those willing to undertake the guarantee and at the same time make an effort to have the envelope system more generally recognized as a church policy.

Mr. Geo. W. Hatton found himself unable to assume the duties of peoples' warden, and was forced to decline the appointment. Mr. Harry Long was unamiously chosen to fill the position.

The report from the South Ward Mission was most bright and encouraging and the financial report showed a credit balance of $121.46. The rector pointed out that the sound financial basis upon which the mission was conducted was due, he considered, almost entirely to the fact that the envelope system had been established in connection with that branch of the Church's work.

Reports were read from the Sunday school, Women's Auxiliary, Girls' Guild, Foreign Mission Band, Chancel Guild and Brotherhood of St. Andrew, showing all these church societies to be in a most flourishing condition. The work accomplished by them during the year was set forth in detailed statements and illustrated the advantage of having organizations such as these to undertake the different branches of Church work. The financial reports of these societies were especially encouraging, all having balances to their credit in the bank.

A prolonged discussion regarding the advisability of publishing in the year book the names, together with the sums subscribed, of those who use the envelope system as a medium of contribution during the past year, resulted in the passage of a motion introduced by Mr. R. M. Dennistoun to the effect that the list be published, subject to the rector's approval.

The church books will hereafter be closed on March 31st of each year in order to give the wardens an opportunity of furnishing a definite statement on the occasion of the Easter Monday vestry meetings.

Messrs. R. M. Dennistoun and G. A. Smith were reappointed auditors for the ensuing term. The benediction by the rector, brought the meeting to a close.

A PETERBOROUGH BOY'S LOSS.

A Fire in Mr. Ed. W. Cox's Hardware Store in Kingston — The Blaze Promptly Nipped.

"The speedy arrival of the lower fire brigade," says the Kingston Whig, "averted what could not but have proven a most disastrous fire this morning. It was about 3.30 o'clock when Michael Quinn, night watchman, noticed smoke issuing up through the floor from the cellar in Mr. E. W. Cox's hardware store. Immediately he gave the alarm and started after the proprietor. The lower brigade was on hand in less than five minutes after the first tingle of the bell, and, smashing in the doors, were chopping away the floor when the uptown firemen arrived. The blaze was found to be confined to the cellar altogether. The firemen lost no time in getting down in the hole, at the same time not knowing whether explosives were kept there or not. Streams were brought into play, and after an hour's work only a volume of smoke was left. The fire had burned the flooring and got up into the office. The entire building was filled with smoke, and, as the ceiling of the shop was all blistered, the fire must have been hot and dangerous. The proprietor cannot account for the blaze. He thinks it must have been a case of spontaneous combustion. There were paints and oils in the cellar. A keg of powder in the front shop was hurled into the street by Mr. Sands just before the flames reached it. Mr. Cox cannot estimate his loss as yet. He says it will be greater than one would think. A pile of goods in the front shop are more or less destroyed by water and smoke. The stock was insured for $4,000 with the Caledonian Insurance Company. If the fire had gotten into McCormack's liquor store, next door, it would be impossible to conceive the result. The stock was sold to W. Mitchell a few days ago, but he was not to take possession until the 15th inst. The insurance on the stock runs out next week. The store was owned by J. T. McMahon." Mr. Cox is a son of Mr. Aaron Cox, town, and his numerous friends in Peterborough will regret to learn of the disastrous visitation to his premises by fire.

The Busy Bee

does not need to hustle half as much as the staff of the Peterborough Bookstore. Why? The release from customs and the opening up of 35,000 rolls of beautiful new imported wall papers at the Peterborough Bookstore and the fine weather create great activity. The extreme beauty of these papers, conjoined with the extreme lowness of price, renders a rush of customers inevitable. Come and make your choice early and get your papering done before the rush of spring work makes the paper hangers too busy.

Save the cost that is required to go through two or three hands, by buying from Grafton & Co.

POLICE COURT.

A Big Batch of Business Bobs up Before the "Beak."

There were four cases on the docket at the police court this morning, but it did not take His Worship very long to wade through the offences and offenders. The crowd at the court's proceedings has been considerably diminished of late, owing to the hour for the daily sederunts being changed from ten to nine o'clock.

A citizen who was picked up on Charlotte street charged with being drunk and disorderly was taxed $2 or 10 in gaol. Having no money, he had to take Hobson's choice—the days or none, and accordingly he will spend the next week rusticating at Castle Nesbitt.

Another citizen was summoned for being drunk and disorderly on Friday night last. He was fined $2 or ten days and given the same number of days in which to pay his levy.

Two Smith farmers were charged with allowing their cattle to run at large within the town limits, contrary to the by-law recently passed preventing the running at large of animals in the town. It appears, according to the evidence submitted, that the defendants were not responsible for the vagrancy of their cattle, and that the bovines had escaped from their enclosures, but as soon as the owners noticed them missing they started out in search of the quadrupeds. The magistrate made no conviction in view of the circumstances of the case, but gave the defendants a few words of warning.

MESSRS. MOORE AND WHYTE.

Another Powerful Address—A Crowded House.

This week of the evangelists stay in town was commenced last night, and again an immense audience was assembled in the Baptist church to hear them. Rev. J. B. Moore apdressed his remarks chiefly to those who were anxious, basing them on Job xxiii, 3: "Oh, that I might know where I might find him." He spoke of the fact that in the lives of many there comes a time when they are ready to acknowledge that they are tired of sin and weary of walking in the broad way and then in a most impressive and effective way, he urged all such to give up their sinful life, and earnestly and persistently seek the Saviour. He made very clear the simple way of salvation, and many present who were deeply concerned were led to accept the offered gift of life.

Mr. J. M. Whyte sang very impressively "Cast thy bread upon the waters,' and, at the close of the address, "The door of God's mercy is open."

The meetings will continue all week, commencing at 7.45 p.m. On Wednesday and Thursday there will be a meeting in the afternoon also at 3 o'clock.

Their Name is Legion.

There is no lack of so-called cures for the common ailment known as corns. The vegetable, animal and mineral kingdoms have been ransacked for cures. It is a simple matter to remove corns without pain, for if you will go to any druggist or medicine dealer and buy a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor and apply it as directed the thing is done. Get "Putnam's," and no other.

PECULIARLY MADE.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are made of refined and concentrated botanical extracts. They're different from the large old-fashioned pills for these Pellets are as tiny as mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They're made in an improved chemical laboratory under the direct supervision of scientific men. Everything else being equal, the smaller the size of a liver pill, the more comfort.

They do not shock the system, but regulate, cleanse and tone up, the liver, stomach, and bowels, in nature's own way.

They're put up in sealed glass vials, easily carried in the vest-pocket.

In Bilious Disorders, Sick Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Dizziness, or for breaking up sudden attacks of Colds, Fevers, and Inflammation, "Pleasant Pellets" are prompt and effective in action.

Peculiar in the way they're sold, too, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money is returned.

A BABY'S LIFE SAVED

AT A COST OF 50 CENTS

HOPE FOR MOTHERS.

Health, Strength and Happiness for the Little Ones.

Just four months ago a Toronto lady almost lost her baby boy of 3 months. The little thing became a mere skeleton—weak, puny and almost lifeless. The family physician could do nothing; the end—death—had almost arrived to claim the babe.—Medicines and ordinary infant nourishments which were being used proved useless. Fortunately for the mother a lady friend called on her, and finding baby so bad, advised the mother to use Lactated Food at once, which, she assured the weeping mother, would be relished by the baby. A large fifty cent tin was at once procured from the nearest drug store, and when a small portion had been prepared it was fed to the child. For a week regular feedings were daily administered, and it was noticed that strength and vitality were returning. Before the fifty cent tin of Lactated Food was finished the darling baby was pronounced out of danger and fast gaining in flesh. To-day the little one is a picture of life and happiness. The mother frankly acknowledges that Lactated Food saved her darling's life.

Every mother in Peterborough who has a weak and sickly babe can meet with the same success if she uses Lactated Food. It is the only food in the world that "saves babies' lives."

Drowned Returning From Sunday School.

PLANTAGANET, Ont., April 10.—A sad case of death by drowning occurred here on Sunday. Garfield Allen, aged 9 years, son of Albert Allen, of the woollen mills, of this place, was crossing the bridge on his way from Sunday school. He was seen by Joseph Charbonneau when about two-thirds of the way across, and this is the last that is known of him. The two volumes he had taken from the library, and which he was carrying under his arm, were found in the water some distance below the bridge. The current is very swift at this season of the year and the fall from the floor of the bridge to the surface of the water is about twenty feet, so that it may be some time before the body is found. The river is now being dragged. The young lad was a quiet, dutiful child, and the sad occurrence has cast a gloom over the village.

Our Mammoth Cheese.

LONDON, April 10.—The cutting of the Canadian mammoth cheese (22,000 pounds) was celebrated by a luncheon yesterday at Jubal Webb's stores. Sir Charles Tupper, Hiram Black and others spoke.

Escaped From Erie Jail.

BUFFALO, April 10.—Four of the worst prisoners escaped from the Erie county jail yesterday by squeezing themselves through the aperture of a window, the bars having been cut from the outside. They are Fred Campbell, alias Cameron, waiting trial for burglary; John Steinbach, for burglary and mutilating a policeman with a razor; Wm. Burns, alias Robinson, alias Chandler, safe cracker; and Otto Snadorf, just convicted of highway robbery, for holding up Cashier McBain, of the Standard Radiator Co. One thousand dollars reward has been offered for their capture. It is thought that they are in Canada.

Heavy Fine for Chicken Stealing.

JANESVILLE, Wis., April 10.—Fines aggregating $2,004 were imposed on Clarence W. Wixom, of Fulton, for chicken stealing, being the heaviest fine known in the experience of the municipal court. Wixom is a member of one of the wealthiest families in this county, but has been engaged in much dishonest work. The fines and costs were paid by the young man's father.

Death of a Philanthropist.

A HORRIBLE FATE.

Brave Firemen Precipitated Into a Pit of Fire.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 10.—Yesterday morning flames were seen breaking out from the rear of the Davison theatre and hotel, a structure valued at $300,000. Immediately on the arrival of the firemen, ladders were run up and the men rushed up on the roof, six storeys from the ground. In doing so, Allie Reese, one of the men, slipped and fell to the ground, being killed by the fall. All the men from engine house No. 4 were directed to the rear portion of the roof right near the stage, where the fire was the worst. These firemen and others took their stations and began work, when, without warning, the roof under them gave way, precipitating nine of the men 80 feet below into the fire on the stage of the theatre, and all of them were either killed by the fall or burned or suffocated to death.

The fire originated apparently on the stage. The Liliputians were filling a two-weeks' engagement at the house. The members of the insurance fire patrol were covering up the seats of the parquette when suddenly a little light appeared through the room above. They ran back just in time to escape the falling roof. They saw the struggling firemen and debris fall into the raging flames. The agonizing cries of the men could be heard for a short space of time, and then they died away as their vitality was overcome. There was no escape for the men who fell on the stage. They fell into a blazing pit, and were covered by the debris of the roof. The entire interior of the magnificent theatre soon became a furnace of flames.

The total money loss occasioned by the fire is about $225,000.

There were many acts of heroism displayed, chief of which was the daring of Michael Dunn, captain of the fire tug Cataract. He was on the roof when it fell, and took in the situation at a glance. Other firemen rigged a rope, making it fast to a portion of the hotel building, and dropping it over into the awful chasm through which so many of his comrades had gone down to death, Dunn seized it and slipped down into the furnace. Soon there was a cry from below to pull the rope up. Dunn had found Pipeman Voe helpless. He tied the rope around him and ordered it raised just as he found Fireman O'Neill in the debris. A delegation of the insurance patrol effected an entrance from below and joined Dunn in the rescue.

Last night the bodies of John T. Farrell, lieutenant of engine No. 1, and Thomas Morgan, pipeman of No. 1, were found in the ruins of the theatre and taken to the morgue. The body of third Assistant Chief August Janssen is the only one not yet found. All the bodies have been identified and the number of killed is nine.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, April 10, 1894.

Local security stocks are quiet.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—White wheat offers outside at 60c, and No. 1 hard sold at 74 to 75c west. Peas sold at 56c west, and oats by the car at 33c to 33½c west. Barley unchanged. Flour quiet, with millers asking $2.70 to $2.80 for strong rollers.

In New York stocks were inactive throughout the day, but without material declines and with rather numerous advances. In bonds the investment movement obviously continued. Wheat was stronger, despite the heavy speculative realizing and silver bullion rallied again, in London, in the direction of last week's highest figure. By all accounts the oriental demand continues heavy, while the supply from trans-Atlantic points hardly increase.

The Chicago wheat market was strong though there was not much advance in price. The close was firm at ¼c to ⅜c over Saturday. Corn was firm, closing ⅛c higher than Saturday. Oats were strong, the close showing a net gain of ¼c for the day.

The Mark Lane Express in its weekly review of the British grain trade says: English wheats have been firmer in some provincial markets selling at a six pence advance, and foreign wheat has also risen six pence.

"Only the Scars Remain,"

Says HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., who certifies as follows:

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc., none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

Mother Urged Me

HE LAUGHED AT DEATH.

Shocking Suicide of a Man Supposed to Be a Murderer.

HAMILTON, Pa., April 10.—A man who is supposed to be Michael Rossa, the murderer of Anthony Tobena, committed suicide here by placing his neck on the rail before a passenger train on the Delaware, Susquehanna and Schuylkill railroad.

The man prepared for suicide in the most deliberate manner, and laughed in the face of the engineer as the latter drew back horrified. Engineer Miller noticed a man standing on the track, evidently waiting for the train to pass. As it neared him, however, he stepped closer to the track, and, throwing himself full length with his neck on the rail, laughingly signalled the engineer to "come on." It was impossible to stop then, and Miller fell back in his cab horror-stricken. The train was quickly brought to a standstill, and the trainmen went back for the remains. The head was cleanly severed from the trunk, and an expression of satisfaction still seemed to linger on the face.

The man was well dressed. He had a stubby gray moustache, black hair tinged with gray, and features of Italian caste. In his pockets were found a Swiss silver watch and match box marked "F. C." The coroner, who was summoned, decided that the case was clearly suicide, and no inquest was held. The appearance of the man tallied closely with Michael Rossa, who is wanted by the authorities for murdering Anthony Tobena here a week ago.

A Little Waif's Ride.

EFFINGHAM, Ill., April 10.—A girl baby, two weeks old, was rescued from a perilous ride on a locomotive from Terre Haute, Ind. The baby was found snugly packed into a willow basket and was perched on the forward end of the running board of the locomotive, securely tied, and with it, neatly folded up, were two dresses of fine material, a nicely embroidered flannel skirt, besides a bottle of milk and a bottle of paregoric. A tramp, who was found on the engine, says the basket was placed on the locomotive in Terre Haute by a fellow whom he took in the dark to be an unfortunate like himself. The tramp avers that he subsequently examined the basket, and, ascertaining its contents, pulled off his coat and covered it over. The little waif is well and will be cared for.

Killed His Wife's Paramour.

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 10. — Lemuel Davis shot and fatally wounded William Rawls yesterday. The shooting occurred in front of the house of Davis, and was witnessed by his wife, whom Davis accuses of being intimate with Rawls. All parties are well-known white people. Davis has been suspicious of his wife for some time, and recently gathered evidence that seemed to satisfy him that she was false. On Sunday he found her writing a note, and tried to take it from her. She swallowed it and then took laudanum. A stomach pump saved her life and brought up the fragments of paper. Whether Davis found evidence in the fragments is not known, but as Rawls was passing the house, he called him and fired three shots into him.

Three Sisters Sue for Divorce.

VAN WERT, O., April 10.—Three married sisters named Jennie Schroeder, Anna M. Martin and Emma Howard have filed suits for divorce, one lawyer representing all. The charges are the same in all petitions—desertion, failure to provide and gross neglect of duty. The oldest wife is 27.

Murder and Suicide.

CHICAGO, April 10.—William Faber, a German, 61 years of age, living at 338 Thirty-ninth street, shot and instantly killed his wife Martha, and then himself, in his home yesterday. Faber had been out of work sometime.

Six Men Lost.

LONDON, April 10.—A British fishing steamer, homeward bound from Iceland, ran on the rocks off the coast near Grimsby, Lincolnshire, Saturday, and six of her crew were drowned. The vessel is a total wreck. A dense fog prevailed.

Killed by a Land Roller.

DESERONTO, April 10.—George Culhane, son of Patrick Culhane, of the Empress hotel here, was killed instantly yesterday by a large land roller. The roller was being drawn behind a wagon, and the young lad jumped on to have a ride and fell under the roller. He was about five years of age.

Killed in a Logging Camp.

WHITEHALL, Mich., April 10. — The logging engine at Staples & Covell's logging camp, north of here, was wrecked yesterday. Gus Anderson, fireman, was instantly killed and six others fatally injured, all of whom have since died.

She Could Defend Herself.

LEROY, N.Y., April 10.—Mrs. George Domenick shot and killed Antonio Fratto, who assaulted her in the absence of her husband.

The Growing Old Trouble.

No woman likes the thought of growing old. It means so much. The giving up of pleasures and pastimes that were at once her occupation and delight, and when laid aside she takes up nothing instead. The way to be young is to keep young. Think pleasant thoughts. Do kind acts. Keep all your muscles in action, for as long as they are yours they should be properly exercised. Live at peace with the world and in touch and sympathy with your neighbors. Gather bright young lives about you, and find your pleasure in giving pleasure to others. Do not neglect your health. Give yourself plenty of time for sleep, and above all, cultivate the nerves until you have them in complete subjection. Dress becomingly, and never be induced by what disinterested persons tell you of the becomingness of certain articles of dress for a "person of your years" or "advanced life." Make up your mind to keep young and you will succeed.

HIS MAIL IS HEAVY.

Fisheries Inspector Brickwood Gets Letters From all Over the Dominion Asking for Particulars About Dodd's Kidney Pills Curing Him of Chronic Rheumatism.

KINGSTON, April 2.—Enquiry develope the fact that the story of J. H. Brickwood's wonderful cure of his rheumatism by Dodd's Kidney Pills has brought him notoriety. Mr. Brickwood daily receives letters from all quarters of Canada asking further particulars of his cure. He invariably answers that after all other remedies failed, Dodd's Kidney Pills restored him to health. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy in pill form ever offered the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations. Purchasers for their own safety should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes; price fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50 To be had of all dealers.

STARTING A BALKY HORSE.

The Hayseed Put His Finger in the Animal's Ear With Immediate Effect.

A colored man had just delivered a trunk from a one-horse wagon. When he came out of the house and climbed to his seat he made the horse shake himself. The animal apparently did not understand what was said, for his only movement was to place his feet more firmly on the pavement and give his tail a slight tremor. The driver repeated the command, at the same time adding emphasis to his words by a quick stroke of the whip. It was to no purpose, the horse had balked. The blows fell thick and fast on the beast's back, but the horse had apparently come to stay. The man climbed down from his seat and began work on the other end of the obstinate creature by pulling at the bridle and speaking heavily loaded sentences into the auricular receptacles of the horse. The only effect noticed was that the horse pressed its feet so closely to the cobble stones that it almost crushed its shoes. Many were the modes of moving his horseship advanced by the bystanders. At last some one suggested that a fire built on the pavement beneath the animal would be calculated to make him move. It was to be tried as a last resort. A bunch of shavings and some small sticks were placed under the horse, and the driver was just going to apply a match to the pile that was intended to melt the animal into action when a stranger who had been noticed joining the crowd a few minutes before stepped up. The newcomer's browned face and hands, stout boots and broad hat suggested that he had come from the rural districts.

"Hold on there," he said to the driver as he stepped out into the street, "that ain't the way. You climb back into yer wagin an' I'll start the creatcher." The negro did so. "I ken start 'im," said the man as he stepped to the horse's head and began patting him on the neck. Then, without further words, he thrust his finger in the animal's ear and pulled gently. The horse shook its head once or twice in a vain attempt to get away and then started to move off. As it trotted away around the corner the farmer was heard to exclaim: "Begosh, that moves 'em every time."

Ages of European Rulers.

The Almanach de Gotha for 1894 has buried in its numerous finely printed pages some interesting facts as to the ages of European sovereigns. The oldest of all is the Pope, who is in his 84th year. Next comes the Grand Duke of little Luxemburg, who is 76. The King of Denmark and the Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar are 75; Queen Victoria and the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, 74. There are six other sovereigns who are older than 70; eleven who are between 60 and 70, and five who are between 50 and 60. Eleven are between 40 and 50, two between 30 and 40, and two more between 20 and 30. The youngest three sovereigns are King Alexander of Servia, 17; Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, 13, and King Alfonso XIII. of Spain, 7½. Queen Victoria has had the longest reign—fifty-six and one-half years. Emperor Franz Josef has reigned forty-five years; the Grand Duke of Baden forty-one years; the Grand Duke of Oldenburg, of Saxe-Weimar-Eisenach, and of Saxe-Altenburg, forty years each. Fourteen of the sovereigns of Europe have reigned fewer than ten years. During 1893 three new sovereigns ascended the throne. They are Prince George of Schaumburg-Lippe, Prince Frederick of Waldeck and Duke Alfred of Coburg, better known as the Duke of Edinburgh.

Lime Water.

The uses of so homely an article as lime about the household are almost innumerable. One sees the hodman on a new building keep his drinking water in a pail coated with lime, and one thinks it is a poor receptacle for the universal beverage. Yet it would not be so good or so pure served in a silver ice pitcher. A tablespoonful of lime water in a glass of milk is a remedy for summer complaint. It corrects acidity of the stomach. It prevents the turning of milk or cream, and a cupful added to bread sponge will keep it from souring. Allowed to evaporate from a vessel on the stove, it will alleviate the distresses due to lung fever croup or diphtheria. It will sweeten and purify bottles, jugs, etc.

Lime itself, as every one knows, is invaluable as a purifier and disinfectant. Sprinkled in cellars, or closets, where there is a slight dampness, it will not only serve as a purifier, but will prevent the invasion of noxious animals. It is one of the notable instances of the economy and the bounty of Nature that this article so common and cheap is serviceable in so many instances.

His Desperate Resolve.

"You—you will not do anything rash, Mr. Haralong, will you?" exclaimed the young woman, in a trembling voice.

The rejected lover, pale but resolute, rose slowly to his feet.

"Henrietta Plunkett!" he answered, through his set teeth, "I will! Just as surely as you stand there, proud, heartless beauty that you are, I shall be in the South Sea islands six months from now, the happy husband of fourteen wives!"—Chicago Tribune.

The confidence that people have in Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a blood medicine is the legitimate and natural growth of many years. It has been handed down from parent to child, and is the favorite family medicine in thousands of households.

AN EXPENSIVE NEW JOY

EXHILARATION IN THE PIPE AND AFTER COMES COMMISERATION.

The Indian Drug to be Mixed With Tobacco—First Effects Described as Dream-Producing Past Imagination—Headache Which Follows is Past Imagination.

Hasheesh is fast taking the place of opium among smokers who aspire to the highest misery and the highest pleasure which can come from inhaling blue fumes from a long-stemmed pipe. It's against the law to sell it, but there are many places where you can buy it, and it pays handsomely the tradesman who takes the risk of selling it. He can get a high price for it.

"An ounce of hasheesh costs a dollar," said a young man who knows. "It comes high, but it's great. I have a smoke every Saturday afternoon, and I don't wake up until Sunday morning—and such dreams!"

Hasheesh is an Indian drug. It is obtained by making an infusion of the plant (Cannabis indica) in hot water, to which butter or oil is added. The resin attaches itself to the melted butter of oil, and, when evaporated, is kneaded with flour and spices into pastiles or cakes called "majan." Simple infusions of the leaves and flowering tops are drunk in many parts of India by old and young alike, at their festivals, just as alcoholic drinks are used too frequently in this country.

But the hasheesh which is sold in New York, compared to that which is drunk on public occasions in its native haunts, is as comparing skim milk to buttermilk. A little of the imported article goes a long ways. It is made up into a fine powder and resembles snuff. Two pinches of it will furnish a man with enough dreams for a book of tropical poems.

It is nearly always used in combination with tobacco, although some of its devotees take it "straight," a fact which excites the envy and wonder of other hasheesh smokers. The hasheesh and tobacco are kneaded together in the palm of the one hand. When they are thoroughly mixed, the combination is pushed down tight into the bowl of the pipe. Some smokers sprinkle a little of the Indian drug upon their tobacco every time they smoke, and in this way they get the exhilaration without the dreams.

"The first effect of hasheesh," said a hasheesh smoker, "is of great exhilaration. You feel as if you were walking upon the soft moss of the banks of a placid lake, with rich foliage hanging over you. Then the birds begin to sing in the boughs. Presently you feel that you own all the world. The hand-maidens of a queen, compared to which the finest opera ballet is tawdry indeed, are at your bidding. You feel you want to talk, and talk you do. Your tongue seems to move with the ease and rapidity of a humming-bird's wings.

"Presently there comes a desire to dance. A hundred maidens are at your elbow. Jumping to your feet from the golden throne on which you have been seated, you caper about with a fairy-like nimbleness, keeping time to a waltz played as no living master could play it. At last, you find yourself lying upon the softest of couches, with a row of maidens on either side waving fans made of peacock feathers.

"You thought you had dreams before, but, oh no! You had not. It is now that you see such scenes as the brush of the painter or the pen of the writer cannot describe. You see ships made of diamonds reflected in waters of glass and the like. Then you fall asleep.

"The only drawback is the awful headache you have next morning. To compare opium to it is like comparing a country sitting-room to Cleopatra's court."—New York World.

Mnemonics.

Mnemonics, or the art of rendering artificial aid to the memory by associating in the mind things difficult to remember with those which are easy of recollection, is of very ancient origin. It is said to have originated with the Egyptians, but the first person to reduce it to a system was, according to Cicero, the poet Simonides, who lived 500 years B.C. His plan is known as the topical, or locality plan, and was in substance as follows: Choose a large house, with a number of differently furnished apartments in it. Impress upon the mind carefully all that is noticeable in the house, so that the mind can readily go over all its parts. Then place a series of ideas in the house; the first in the hall, the next in the sitting-room, and so on with the rest. Now when one wishes to recall these ideas in their proper succession, commence going through the house, and the idea placed in each department will be found to readily recur to the mind in connection with it. It is related that the mnemonic plan was first suggested to the poet by a tragic occurrence. Having been called from a banquet just before the roof of the house fell and crushed all the rest of the company, he found on returning that the bodies were so mutilated that no individual could be recognized, but by remembering the places which they had severally occupied at the table he was able to identify them. He was thus led to notice that the order of places may by association suggest the order of things.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Great Blood and Nerve Remedy.

Dr. Andrew Grant & Co., Toronto.

Dear Sirs,—Your "Hairene," I believe to be a wonderful remedy. It certainly produced the most unexpected results in my case, my hair had been falling out very freely for some time, becoming anxious about the matter I thought I would experiment upon the properties of "Hairene," and one application actually stopped it at once. I applied it once or twice afterward, using in all about a quater of one bottle, and have not required to use it since. It seems to have given renewed and healthy vigor to the scalp, and I can recommend it in all confidence.

The Marked Success

Which attended the formal opening of our New Millinery and Mantle Department has been a matter of sincere congratulation and encouragement—far in excess of our highest expectations.

The special efforts we put forth to excel has amply repaid us and we are pleased to know that our beautiful display has evoked so much favourable comment from the Ladies.

We take this opportunity of thanking the large number of ladies who daily patronized our Show Rooms, not only for the many liberal orders they favoured us with, but for their kind words and flattering preferences for our exhibition over all others.

The Good Start

which we have made in our Millinery and Mantle Department will be an incentive to continued efforts to excel. The array of Rich and Beautiful Millinery will be fully maintained throughout the season, and as fast as new novelties appear or favourite lines become exhausted, we will be prompt in ordering.

AFTER TYPHOID FEVER.

Harvey Neff Has Kidney Disease, Which Doctors Could Not Cure Dodd's Kidney Pills Restored Him to Perfect Health.

PORT COLBORNE, April 9—In March, 1893, Harvey H. Neff, of this place, had a bad attack of typhoid fever. Good nursing and medical attendance brought him around, but the attack left him a victim of kidney disease. This the doctors failed to cure, but Dodd's Kidney Pills, the infallible remedy, did the same good work in his case as in all others and Mr. Neff is well to-day. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy in pill form ever offered the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations. Purchasers, for their own safety, should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes: price, fifty cents or six boxes for $2.50. To be had of all dealers.

ANCIENT HOSPITALS.

These Institutions Were in Existence 500 Years Before Christ.

The first real hospital was one situated at Epidaurus, and dedicated to Æsculapius. This hospital was in full working order 500 years before Christ. It consisted not only of a general hospital, but of two special hospitals in addition. The Temple proper contained accommodation for ordinary or acute cases, and also a hydropathic establishment. In separate buildings were a lying-in hospital and a chronic hospital, and to the latter the aged and infirm, and those believed to be in articulo mortis, were admitted. The priests of Saturn in Egypt treated people for lunacy 1,500 years before Christ. This last fact is important, because we find that under them lunacy was considered as a disease not to be repressed, but as one to be overcome by kindness and skilled treatment; and the temples of Saturn combined much that is now to be met in many of our best lunatic asylums. These hospitals and asylums were founded on the pay principle, for no one who resorted to them had so little self-respect as to desire to obtain free medical relief, and all took care to compensate those at whose hands they received treatment and benefit.

There were home hospitals at Rome 250 years before Christ, called Tabernæ Medicæ, which at first only contained consulting rooms, where the physicians used to see out-patients on payment. After experience it was found that there were many cases that could be better treated if they were constantly under observation. So rooms were built for the reception of in-patients as annexes to the Tabernæ, where paying patients were admitted and treated successfully. This is a very interesting point, because these Tabernæ included all the branches of our present hospitals—i.e., an out patient department, an in-patient department, consulting rooms, and hospital accommodation for paying patients; but all those who attended—i.e., both the in-patients and the out-patients—had to pay for the treatment they received.—The Hospital.

Millions of Egyptian Mummies.

Competent authorities estimate that not less than 400,000,000 of human mummies were made in Egypt from the time of the beginning of the art of embalming until its discontinuance in the seventh century. Herodotus and Diodorus both agree in the statement that there were three grades in the embalming process, the first costing not less than a sum equal to $1,225, the second about one-fifth that amount, and the third cheaper than common earth burial.

BUILDING BIG VAULTS.

GUARDING AGAINST BURGLARS HAS BECOME A FINE ART.

Recent Improvements Made in the Construction of Vaults and Their Doors—Burglars Become Inventive and as the World Wags and the Mobs Smiles On.

The most vulnerable part of a vault now is the edge of the door. It is almost impossible to obtain an absolutely tight joint, one which will be impervious to liquid explosives. The old method of attack was by powder blown into the crack of the vault door. As the construction of these doors became more perfect this was made impracticable. Then, the burglar turned his attention to other explosives and today he uses nitro-glycerine. Nitro-glycerine when warm runs as freely as water. If the crack of a door is not absolutely tight the nitro-glycerine will find some small lodging place in it. When exploded it rips off the door, tears off its outer layers or opens a space where a larger charge of explosives can be used. If the joint is too well fitted to permit the use of nitro-glycerine and the vault is in an isolated place where powerful explosives can be used, dynamite is laid against a weak spot and well tamped. Its explosion either makes an opening or weakens the walls or door so that tools or other explosives can be used to advantage. With a guarantee of comparative freedom for operation a set of burglars can enter a modern vault in one to eight hours. The shortest process is usually by the use of explosives, and it has been found that the high explosives are singularly local in effect and produce very little sound. Hammer and sledge are often used, though burglars prefer boring, with the use of a blow pipe to draw the temper of the steel attacked. But the modern construction renders this sometimes extremely difficult because of the high conductivity of iron and the close contact of the cold steel adjacent. Burglars seldom attempt to make holes of more than an inch in diameter, and the heat from the small flame which can be introduced through such a hole is quickly dissipated. Sometimes the burglar bores through the soft metal and breaks the intervening sheets of hard metal with the blows of a hammer, removing the metal piecemeal. It is estimated that an expert with finely tempered tools will work through an inch of a vault wall in an hour. It sometimes happens, though, that an inexpert burglar abandons a job after penetrating the outer layer of steel because his poorly tempered tools were all dulled in the attempt.

Shoes for This Year.

A woman's congress shoe of the whole foxed variety of bright dongola is produced. The foxing at the back extends tapering to the top of the shoe and at the top is tipped with patent leather. The top is of plain light-colored cloth, with goring to match it in color. This is in imitation button style, the scalloped button piece forming the seam line against the goring at the front, and the extension of the foxing to the seam line at the back. By this method the shoe is simplified as to the number of pieces required for the top and a minimum of seams is obtained. With medium heel and a narrow, rounded toe, the shoe is neat in appearance. A similar shoe is of French kid, the difference being that the handsome, broad button piece is of this bright leather, instead of cloth, forming a pretty contrast to the dull black goring, instead of matching it as in the former. A sample shoe, with a pretty name, is low cut and a combination of button and lace fasteners, of soft, black kid. Down the front is a line of scalloped-edge open work, to show the stocking of the wearer. The elaborate and broad button piece has three diamond-edged points, corresponding to the three buttons, and a circular hole is made below each button, through which also the hosiery is visible when on the foot. It has a broad, perforated heel foxing of the same material. —Shoe and Leather Reporter.

How Cigar Ashes Can Be Utilized.

Cigar ashes are used for medical purposes—as a cure for ringworm, epidemic scarlatina, etc. They are useful on account of the lime and alcoholic properties they contain. Cigar ashes have been sold under the pretentious name of "diamond dust from the sun," and the purposes to which they are chiefly put are cleaning plate, brightening and sharpening razors, lancets and doctors' other delicate instruments, as an insecticide for plants, etc., and as a tooth powder. It has been stated that a London firm offered a guinea per ounce for them for the purpose of compounding with other articles as a valuable dentifrice. The ash is, however, so light that it requires a very large quantity indeed to weigh one ounce.

How to Cook Pancakes.

In order to have light pancakes it is absolutely essential to have a quick fire and the griddle or pan smoking hot. For those who have many cakes to cook at a time a high, narrow tin pail, with a long spout and a handle at the back near the bottom, is convenient, but one can manage with a pitcher that has a good lip. It is not wise to try to mix the batter in the pitcher, for it cannot be done thoroughly.

A Walnut Conundrum Party.

Take English walnuts, crack them exactly in half, remove the meats and gild the outside of the shells; place a conundrum and answer in the shell and tie together with narrow ribbon; distribute among the guests, let each read his conundrum, giving the company an opportunity to guess; intersperse the reading of the conundrums with music.

MERCHANT TAILORS.

Why

A Spring Overcoat is a good investment.

BECAUSE—

It's a stylish comfort, not only for the Spring season but also a most stylish and comfortable garment for cool days and nights through the summer, and for summer touring and outing wear generally.

Why

Some Suits are made merely to sell.

BECAUSE—

They don't fit and you know it. They look ungainly, but you're persuaded that they're "the height of fashion." Smart salesman did all the talking, and you—well, you did'nt like to go out without buying something after putting him to all that trouble. A week and the trousers were "riding up," the vest in ridges and the coat declining to get within two inches of your collar, and you wonder how you came to buy the plaguey thing. You won't do it again.

If you want to be fitted to perfection with Stylish Clothing cut by the people's cutter, and made to measure in good taste, look no farther than

REDISTRIBUTION BILL.

Toronto, Hamilton and Ottawa the Only Cities it Will Effect.

ON THE BASIS OF POPULATION

The Three Cities Are Each Given an Additional Representation in the Legislature—Second Reading of the Bill Respecting the Law of Libel.

TORONTO, April 11.—Hon. Mr. Gibson brought in the redistribution bill in the Legislature yesterday. It was introduced as a bill respecting the representation of certain cities in the Legislative Assembly.

Provisions of the Bill.

In moving the first reading Hon. Mr. Gibson said the changes proposed in this bill will be confined to three cities of the province, namely, Toronto, Hamilton and Ottawa. They were all prepared to see an additional representative given to the city of Toronto after the promise made last year by the Government, accordingly an additional member is now proposed to be given the city, and the city is to be divided into four constituencies. These constituencies are to be known respectively as the electoral districts of East Toronto, North Toronto, South Toronto and West Toronto.

He thought the proposed divisions would commend themselves as being very reasonable geographical divisions, closely approaching to equality in the number of votes.

Mr. Meredith—What are the relative populations

Hon. Mr. Gibson—It is not very easy to obtain the figures with accuracy, but as far as I have been able to ascertain the voting population of Toronto East would be 7,636, of Toronto North 7,611, of Toronto West 8,722, and of Toronto South 10,666.

Hamilton's Representation.

Mr. Gibson said additional representation for Hamilton was no new request, as the subject had been dismissed and considered for a number of years. It would be agreed that Hamilton was entitled to an additional representative.

It is proposed that there shall be two members for the city of Hamilton, and that the city shall be divided into electoral divisions to be known as East and West Hamilton, and that the division shall be on a straight line running through the centre of Hewson street, continued to the southern limits of the city. This division of the city will leave about an equal portion of the business part of the city in either of the electoral divisions, and it will be a very close approximation to an absolutely equal division of the city so far as population is concerned.

Ottawa's Representation.

The only other change proposed to be made in the present representation is in regard to the city of Ottawa, and it is proposed by the present bill that Ottawa shall be represented by two members. The electoral district of Ottawa, as provided by the bill, shall consist not only of the present limits of the city of Ottawa, but will include two incorporated villages and one unincorporated village lying adjacent to and coterminous with the city. One of these is the incorporated village of Ottawa East, which has a population of 714, and the other is the incorporated village of Hintonburgh, with a population of 800. Then, there is the thickly populated unincorporated village of Mechanicsville, which is also taken in as part of the city of Ottawa for the purposes of this bill.

Mr. Meredith asked Mr. Gibson what he placed Ottawa's population at.

Mr. Gibson said the population of Ottawa proper at present, adding to it New Edinburgh, Rochesterville and Stewarton, which have heretofore been taken in as part of the city, according to the last census, was 44,154. Then, adding these three villages, you get a further increase of 2,014, making a total of 46,168. It will be seen that in the case of Ottawa, which is the smallest of the three cities, the increase is justifiable on the ground of population; that even under the present unit and the present number of representatives in the House, Ottawa would be entitled to an additional member, and under the proposed increase of representation the city would be all the more entitled to this increase.

In conclusion Mr. Gibson said: "Now, I am sure the announcement which I have made to the House will give entire satisfaction to hon. gentlemen opposite, and I think that the Government will be congratulated upon having brought down a bill which is calculated to produce so little disturbance in the existing condition of things. I think the Government will be congratulated upon having avoided in connection with this measure, anything savoring of gerrymandering or the obtaining of an unfair advantage by one political party over the other."

Mr. Meredith said it was not in accordance with the usual practice of the House to discuss a bill on its introduction, but he hoped, on an examination of the figures, and by the aid of a map of the cities affected, that the hon. gentleman's statements would be borne out by the facts. He had not at that moment sufficient data at his disposal to be able to come to a proper conclusion concerning the merits of the bill, and would, therefore, have to suspend judgment until he had had an opportunity of examining the map, and of acquainting himself with the other particulars which were necessary to enable him to agree with the hon. gentlemen opposite that they had in the year 1894 adopted what the Opposition in 1885 declared was the best mode of representation for Toronto.

Sir Oliver Mowat, in replying to Mr. Meredith's observations, said that the Government had been told that if they had accepted Opposition advice in regard to minority representation their escutcheon had not been tarnished. The system they adopted was well worth the experiment. A good deal of legislation was necessarily experimental, and the plan adopted at the time spoken of was one that had many advocates. The Government derived no party advantage from the adoption of the system. The addition of another supporter to the Government's large majority would not have helped them one bit. It had been suggested that in order to avoid increased representation some of the smaller rural constituencies might be united and the representation from those constituencies diminished. The Government, however, did not think that a proper thing to do.

The bill was then read a first time.

No Fees for Coroners' Juries.

Sir Oliver Mowat moved the House again into committee on the bill respecting certain duties of coroners. He intimated that the Government could not see their way clear to allowing fees to coroners' juries.

The bill was reported.

Deputy Police Magistrates.

Sir Oliver Mowat moved the House into committee on his bill making provision for the appointment of deputy police magistrates.

Mr. Meredith pointed out that the bill provided no salary should be paid to these officials. Would it not be well to make it clear that there should be no fees, also?

Sir Oliver Mowat consented to make an amendment to that effect.

The bill was reported.

Mines and Mining Lands.

Hon. Mr. Hardy moved the second reading of the bill relating to mines and mining lands. The first clause of the bill provides for the suspension of the royalty clauses for a period of five years.

Mr. Meredith considered the measure inadequate if the revival of the mining industry was what was aimed at.

The bill was read a second time.

Prompt Punishment of Personators.

Hon. Mr. Gibson moved the second reading of a bill to secure the prompt punishment of persons guilty of personation at elections for the Legislative Assembly. He pointed out that the provisions of the bill applied only to Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa and London. In the rural districts legislation in this direction was unnecessary, as the deputy returning officers or the candidates' agents were acquainted with the voters. The bill provided machinery by which a deputy returning officer might arrest a personator on the spot, or he might be detained while the information was being drawn up.

Messrs. Meredith and Marter considered the bill should be made more general.

The bill was read a second time.

The Law of Libel.

Hon. Mr. Harcourt moved the second reading of a bill respecting the law of libel. He explained that the bill provided, firstly, for the sacred rights of character and reputation, and that, secondly, it concerned most nearly the publishers of newspapers. Its aim was to deter the bringing of actions of libel against newspaper publishers by persons who were doing so for blackmail, or for mere personal spite. It limited the time in which an action could be brought, forced the consolidation of actions, and provided that security for costs may be asked for. It also allowed newspaper proprietors to join in as parties in the defence the persons from whom the information complained of was received.

Mr. Meredith supported the measure. In his opinion it behooved the members of the fourth estate to be fair in their public criticisms, and not, as is often the case, to invent facts, and then criticize the facts so invented. Gutternipe journalism he deprecated.

Mr. Stratton supported the bill.

Mr. O'Connor would not vote for the bill as it stood. He said in the course of his speech that journalists abused their privileges.

Mr. Balfour accused the member for South Bruce of having libelled the press in the statement made by him, "that no country sheet ran its columns clean," and he called upon him to withdraw this assertion.

Mr. A. F. Wood supported the bill.

The yeas and nays being demanded, the House divided, and the second reading was carried by a vote of 45 to 21.

The House adjourned.

House Notes.

These new bills were introduced yesterday: By the Hon. Mr. Ross, to amend the Act respecting fees to certain officers; by Hon. Mr. Gibson, to amend the Registry Act, and to amend the Ontario Game Protection Act, 1893.

Hon. G. W. Ross' bill regarding the fees paid to certain officials proposes, it would appear, to reduce the incomes derived by various county officials and to increase the amounts paid to municipalities. At present registrars pay an amount on their gross incomes to the municipalities and on their incomes to the province. Under the bill the province will receive nothing, but payments on both gross and net incomes will be made to the municipalities.

In the Municipal Law Committee Mr. Waters' bill, seeking the abolition of the poll tax, as well as the statute labor required from farmers' sons, was rejected by 9 votes to 8.

Mr. Waters' bill, requiring the payment once a fortnight by township treasurers and collectors of money in their possession, was concurred in.

Mr. Mackenzie's bill, in which it is sought to reach transient traders, by providing that a firm commencing business after the assessor's annual valuation, shall register on the assessment roll, was received with approval. A clause providing that auctioneers who practice in town and county must take out a license for each place was refused sanction.

Hon. Mr. Gibson's bill, to amend the Registry Act, provides for the registration of notices of sale under mortgage.

FALLS BEFORE MELLO.

Rio Grande do Sul Capitulates to the Insurgents.

LOYALISTS RESIST BRAVELY.

Reinforcements Arrive From Porto Alegre to Assist the Garrison, But They Are Forced to Succumb to the Superior Strength of the Rebels.

BUENOS AYRES, April 11.—Gen. Silviera Martin, one of the Brasilian insurgent leaders now in this city, received a despatch yesterday saying that the insurgents have captured Rio Grande do Sul.

MONTEVIDEO, April 11.—News comes from Rio Grande do Sul that the bombardment begun by the rebels under Admiral Mello last Friday was renewed at sunrise on Monday. Gen. Saraiva, who is commanding the troops which were landed from the insurgent fleet, had succeeded in gaining possession of one-third of the city by noon, and at one o'clock a well directed shell caused the powder magazine to explode. The loyal garrison, which numbers less than one-half the forces of the besiegers, then commenced to retreat, but at two o'clock a reinforcement of 500 of President Peixoto's men from Porto Alegre arrived, whereupon the garrison again assumed the defensive and the battle was still raging fiercely at four o'clock in the afternoon.

Rio Janeiro despatches say President Peixoto's Cabinet held an all night session when the news was received there of the bombardment of Rio Grande do Sul. It was coupled with the information that all the banks had suspended business, and that many mercantile houses had closed their doors, and it caused considerable excitement in the capital.

Labor Riots in Vienna.

VIENNA, April 11.—Two thousand bricklayers, on strike to enforce a demand for an increase of 40 per cent. in their wages, assembled in the streets yesterday morning, and after marching in procession, began smashing windows and destroying other property. The police ordered them to disperse, when the mob assumed a hostile attitude. The rioters were then charged upon and scattered in all directions. The police have taken precautions against the reassembling of the mob. The striking bricklayers have forcibly compelled the terra cotta workers to join them in their demands for increased wages.

Three Workmen Blown to Atoms.

BERLIN, April 11.—While a number of workmen were engaged in the manufacture of dynamite in a laboratory just outside of the town of Deemits a quantity of the dynamite became ignited and the works were blown to pieces. The bodies of three of the workmen were literally blown to the winds, while five others were so horribly mangled that they cannot live. The wreckage of the buildings were strewn about the adjacent fields, some of the debris being carried half a mile away.

Sir Gerald Postal's Report.

LONDON, April 11.—The report of the late Sir Gerald Postal, who was British Consul-General and political agent at Zanzibar, has just been issued. The report strongly urges the construction of a railway to the coast and the draining of the territory around the Victoria Nyanza with a view to the development of commerce in that region.

Maltreating French Missionaries.

PARIS, April 11.—The government has received advices from China that the Chinese at Hsianfu, in the province of Shen-Si, have burned the French mission at that place and maltreated and imprisoned the French missionaries. The government has demanded an explanation, an apology and compensation.

Negro Preacher Sentenced.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 11.—Rev. Clement W. Lewis was yesterday sentenced to 28 years in the penitentiary on 14 indictments charging him with wholesale pension frauds. He is a negro preacher, and gained national reputation by his monumental swindles, carried on undetected for years.

Pollard-Breckenridge Case.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Mr. Carlisle concluded his argument in the Pollard-Breckenridge case yesterday. Outside of the respective counsel, the jury and the other actors in the case there were not more than twenty persons present. Col. Phil Thompson began his opening for the defence.

Bomb Outrages in Majorca.

MADRID, April 11.—The house of the Municipal Secretary of the town of Monaco, Island of Majorca, was wrecked by a bomb. No one was killed, nor were any of the inmates of the house seriously hurt. The police have made several arrests. Two bombs were found in the quarry at Bilbao yesterday.

A Brakesman's Crime.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 11.—John Devlin, a West Shore brakesman, was stabbed last evening by Richard Robertson, another West Shore brakesman, at their boarding house here. The wound is over Devlin's heart and the left lung is punctured. Robertson escaped.

Archbishop of St. Peters.

ROME, April 11.—The Pope has issued a special bull nominating Cardinal Rampolla as archpriest of St. Peters. The document states that this honor has conferred upon Cardinal Rampolla in recognition of his eminent services to the church.

Parents Must Have Rest.

A President of one of our Colleges says: "We spent many sleepless nights in consequence of our children suffering from colds, but this never occurs now: We use Scott's Emulsion and it quickly relieves pulmonary troubles."

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 11, 1894.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Debate on the Budget Expected to Close To-day.

OTTAWA, April 11.—In the House of Commons yesterday these bills were read a first time:

Mr. Adams—To incorporate the Lake Megantic Railway Co.

Mr. Bergeron—Respecting the Montreal Island Belt Railway Co.

Mr. Mara—To incorporate the Cariboo Railway Co.

Mr. Taylor—Respecting the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Co.

Mr. Maclean (East York) introduced his bill to amend the Railway Act, providing that on and after January 1, 1895, no rate of fare for way passengers greater than two cents a mile shall be charged or taken over the track of any railway company east of a meridian line drawn through Port Arthur in the province of Ontario.

The bill was read a first time.

Hon. Mr. Costigan, replying to Mr. Charlton, said that the total expense incurred by the Government in connection with the revision of the voters' lists in 1886, 1887 and 1891 was $899,453. The printing of the lists in 1886 cost $416,000. The printing in the two subsequent years averaged $28,000 a year.

Hon. Mr. Foster, replying to Dr. Landerkin, said the Royal Commission on Prohibition was issued in March, 1892. Five commissioners were appointed at $10 per day, and $4 per day living expenses. The expenses to March, 1894, amounted to $34,887.

Mr. Bechard resumed the debate on the budget, and was followed by Mr. Pelletier, continuing till the House rose for recess.

After recess the debate was taken up by Messrs. Taylor (Leeds), Casey, Boyd (Marquette), Fauvet and Gironraid. Mr. Cockburn moved the adjournment of the debate.

Hon. Mr. Foster suggested that a vote be reached to-day if possible.

Mr. Sutherland concurred, and the House adjourned.

Parliamentary Notes.

In the Senate, Hon. Mr. McInnes (British Columbia) called attention again to a question which he had raised the other day as to whether or not the Canadian Government had asked compensation for those sealers already out, and who could not be apprised that the regulations of the Paris tribunal were going into force. Hon. Mr. Bowell said that until the receipt of the text of the bill now before the British House of Commons it would be impossible to say whether there would be any ground for asking compensation in such cases or not.

The Dominion Government has decided to send no Canadian exhibit to Antwerp Exposition next year. After the close of the World's Fair the Canadian authorities had a very large quantity of goods boxed and sent to Ottawa, where they were to remain until the time for sending them to Antwerp. The Government has received a letter from the chief commissioner of the Antwerp Exposition, informing them that $30,000 would be charged for floor space. This demand is regarded as ridiculously exorbitant and the Government has decided to take the course mentioned.

Hon. Mr. McInnes asked in the Senate for papers relating to the interference with the death sentence passed by Mr. Justice Harrison upon the two Indians, Peter and Jack, in November, 1892, for the murder of A. E. Pittendrigh, in New Westminster, on October 27, 1892, and all reports bearing upon the commutation of the death sentence to imprisonment for life. It was the general opinion in British Columbia, Mr. McInnes said, that a miscarriage of justice had occurred.

Hon. Mr. Angers said the papers would be brought down.

In regard to the copyright question it is understood that the Government has definitely decided to make a formal protest to the Imperial authorities to be allowed to withdraw from the Berne convention. It is also understood the Government will cease collecting the 12½ per cent. royalty on copyright for British authors.

"Grin Like a Cheshire Cat."

"Well, well! Didn't ever hear of a 'grin like a Cheshire cat?' Why, you see a man down in Cheshire had a cat which grinned and grinned until there was nothing left of the cat but the grin, just as some scrofulous people, who don't know of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, get a cough, and then cough and cough until there is nothing left of them to erect a monument to but the cough."

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the most effective, anti-bilious, anti-dyspeptic, strength-giving remedy extant. For weak lungs, lingering coughs, spitting of blood, scrofula, sores, pimples and ulcers, it is a wonderful and efficacious remedy.

Its manufacturers guarantee it to do all that they claim, or money is returned.

Farm Carpet Works Destroyed.

PARIS, Ont., April 11.—Last evening H. Stroud & Co.'s carpet works, one of the most prosperous industries of this town, was discovered to be on fire, and in less than an hour it was in ashes. The water works hose was applied and constantly throwing three heavy streams, which apparently had no effect. A strong east wind was blowing at the time, which had an open sweep at the burning buildings. There was not a large stock on hand. The estimated loss on the building and machinery is about $30,000 or $40,000. The origin of the fire is unknown. The property was insured for $20,000.

Grand Trunk Station Burned.

BARRIE, April 11.—The Grand Trunk railway station and restaurant at Allandale were burned to the ground yesterday. A heavy gale was blowing at the time. The building was a wooden one and it was almost consumed in ten minutes after the fire was noticed. The contents are almost a total loss. Mr. Meeking, the proprietor of the restaurant, had $2,000 insurance on the contents. It is supposed the fire was started by a spark from an engine.

Miners Form an Association.

TORONTO, April 11.—A large and representative meeting of gentlemen interested in the mining industries of the province was held in the Rossin House yesterday afternoon, when an organization was formed for the purpose of protecting and promoting the interests of miners. Officers were elected, Mr. James Conmee, M.P.P., being elected president. A number of resolutions were passed relating to the interests of mining in Ontario.

Dwelling and Stable Burned.

ORONO, Ont., April 11.—The dwelling and stable owned and occupied by N. A. Jerome, bailiff, were burned to the ground yesterday. The contents of the stable, including his horse, were all consumed. The contents of the house were partly saved. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, April 11, 1894.

In Chicago belief that the Government report would not be a bullish one on wheat had many advocates on the floor. An easier market resulted from selling on this theory.

A condition of 85 per cent. in winter wheat will mean a yield of 265,000,000 bushels, against 275,000,000 last year and 255,000,000 in 1890.

Speculation at the Stock Exchange was quiet in all departments in New York. The dealings were practically confined to a half dozen or so stocks. At the start American Sugar loomed into prominence and rose nearly a point on the Hill speech, which was interpreted as meaning a postponement of the action on the Wilson bill.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—Receipts of grain on the street were small, one load of goose wheat sold at 58c, two loads of oats at 39 to 40c, and two loads of barley at 42c. Peas nominal at 63 to 64c.

COUNTY CHEESEMAKERS CON

OVER IMPORTANT DAIRY QUESTIONS ON TUESDAY AFTERNOON

In the Tenth Annual Convention—Prof. James' Capital and Encouraging Address—The Co-operative System Fully Impressed—Benefit of Factories Employing an Instructor—Other Notes.

The tenth annual meeting of the Peterborough County Cheesemakers' Association was held in the town council chamber on Tuesday afternoon. There was a fair attendance. Mr. W. W. Grant, president, presided; Mr. S. R. Payne, secretary, was also present. The minutes of the previous annual meeting were read by the president, and approved.

Mr. Grant in opening the proceedings stated that this was the tenth annual meeting of the association, which was organised it 1885. It was composed of the cheesemakers and factorymen of the county, and the object of the association was to discuss the best methods of cheesemaking and co-operation in connection with the work of factories. He was pleased to see Professor James present, but regretted there was not a larger attendance. He next called upon the secretary, Mr. Payne, for a short address.

FLAVOUR IN CHEESE.

Mr. S. R. Payne, Warminster, read an excellent paper on "Flavour in Cheese," which he likened to character in man and character was everything to man. Cheese might have texture, body and finish, but if it had not flavour it found no profitable market. Some years ago flavour played only a small part in cheese making, but to-day it was of great importance, in order to make cheese a mercantile on the Old Country market. If we kept our high place in the industry it appeared to the speaker that it would be only by fine flavour. The Americans were imitating the Canadian cheesemakers in this respect. Flavour must be got in the raw material and this flavouring of cheese opened up a large and difficult field for cheesemakers. Cheesemakers must have in the first place milk of good flavour. The speaker closed his excellent paper by saying that 45 per cent. was given for flavour which was nearly everything in cheese.

The president complimented Mr. Payne on the excellence and timeliness of his paper. If 45 per cent. was due to flavour, 50 per cent. was due to the milk sender and the skill of the maker. He thought that the Babcock test would result in the better flavouring of cheese.

AN EXCELLENT ADDRESS.

Prof. C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Toronto, was the next speaker. He expressed his pleasure at being present and said he had addressed many meetings in the county during the past two years. He was glad to find a Cheesemakers' Association in Peterborough. Much good had been accomplished, especially in manufacturing associations, by co-operation in associations, and if profitable to manufacturers it must also be to such a gathering as the present one, which was composed of the cheesemakers. There were some fifty associations in this district and he would like to have all the representative cheese producers as well as the cheesemakers present, as the former formed an important part in the cheesemakers' association. He had asked the question is the cheesemakers' industry as fluctuating as other industries on the farm? He had compared five grains, wheat, barley oats, peas and rye, with the cheese industry, and carefully gone over the figures for the past fifteen years. Had cheese decreased in price as much as grains was the question? He furnished statistics to show that the cheese price had not dropped as much as grain. In fifteen years there was a decrease of nearly 43 per cent. on the average in the price of grains. In ten years cheese had only dropped 1c. per lb. or ten per cent. in value. The dairy farmer therefore had a great advantage, in the fact that he was in a business the decrease in the price of which was very slight, and if, at any time, the dairy farmer found that grain raising took a jump in price or paid better he could easily transfer his energies to farming and give up dairying, for his farm, on account of dairying, would be in an excellent state for so doing. In 1882 in the county of Peterborough 500,000 pounds of cheese were made, worth about $60,000. In 1887 the amount of cheese produced was $70,000 worth, and in 1892 the amount reached $223,000, and in 1893—last year—$343,000. Thus it was seen that in the last thirteen years the output had increased four times, or proportionately more than the increase throughout the Province. In the county of Peterborough there were thirty-one factories. Leeds and Grenville took the lead in the matter of cheesemaking (making $1,000,000 worth), and, although Peterborough had made great progress, still the county had not kept up to its possibilities. There was no reason why Peterborough county could not keep pace in this industry with the county of Leeds and Grenville. Only about four counties in the Province of cheesemaking of Peterborough county. On the average the factories here received about 9 8-10 cts. a lb. for their cheese, and if any received more than this they received more than the general average. Leeds, Grenville, Middlesex and Hastings factories got the same while Oxford got a little more. These figures were compiled to keep track of the business of the country for the benefit of the cheesemen, and to keep the cheese industry before the public. Prof. James next took up the question of "Co-operation," which meant working together. In 1864—30 years ago the co-operation or factory system began. The first factory was started in Ontario near Norwich in Oxford county, by a New York gentlemen, and from the success of this factory, factories sprang up all over the province. From that time Ontario stopped importing and began exporting until last year we sent out of the country fourteen millions of dollars worth. The year before the establishment of the factory, we imported $200,000 worth of cheese. Dairy associations were begun because it would not be well for the cheese industry of this country in our shipment to the old country to have the cheese designated by particular districts, such as Oxford cheese, Belleville cheese or Brockville cheese, which were the three great cheese districts in the province. Instructors were engaged by these associations, and the knowledge distributed throughout the province. Then the dairy school was established. Three things had diffused knowledge of cheese making. First, factory system as a system. Second, instructions carried to the factories by instructors and third, the dairy papers, bulletins, etc., sent out by the dairy school. This had overcome the isolation or district making of cheese, and and as exhibited at the World's Fair it was impossible to tell where the cheese was made, whether in Oxford or Hastings or Peterborough. In Peterborough county just as good cheese was made as in the older districts. Some asked Why not let affairs stand as they are now? Well, the makers were constantly changing, and the British market was demanding a higher quality of cheese year by year, and if we wished to keep pace with the other industries of the province, it was necessary. He strongly advised all factory patrons to obtain the report of the Dairy Department and take or or two good Dairy papers. The instructors were also at the disposal of the dairymen. In this district there were some six instructors ready to go out and instruct all cheesemakers. The instructors of the association had knowledge along lines which cheesemakers generally did not have, and by having the two come together one could learn from the other, and dairy interests would be accordingly advanced. By co-operation he thought that it should not mean co-operation among patrons, but also among the factories. Our market was not a home but a foreign market, and we sold to the old country because we had good cheese, and if we sent poor cheese it would decrease the value of our good cheese, and would injure our reputation in the markets of the old country. It was therefore to the interest of all factories that there should be no poor cheese made in any part of the country. This was not a question of rivalry or jealousy but one which affected the interests of all. Prof. James strongly advised all cheesemakers and cheesemen to avail themselves of instructors, as this was a business which affected the interest of all. Let us see that all factories in the county of Peterborough should come up to the general reputation; that poor cheesemakers were improved and the standard was generally raised. All factories should, along these lines, work together harmoniously. What could the individual cheesemaker do? The patrons must co-operate with the cheesemaker in giving him good milk, and he (the cheesemaker) should gather around him all the patrons to put some of the enthusiasm among them he had himself in the industry. He thought that if the patrons of each factory met together with the cheesemaker—say once a month—to discuss ways of feeding, care of milk, etc., it would be very beneficial. Everything that improved the status of all patrons helped the individual patron. The cheesemaker should have all the latest information in regard to his business and look beyond the four walls of his factory. Thus of the factory be materially improved. If the cheesemaker kept his patrons aroused, informed and enthused, it would result in an increase of dairy enthusiasm in that district, and there would be a great increase in the quality of the stock, the quality of the milk and the standard of the cheese. Ontario produced 90,000,000 pounds of cheese each year and the quantity could only be increased by the increase of the quality of each factory's output and the cheesemakers taking hold and increasing their part of their work with a will.

EXCEEDED THE AMOUNT

WOULD THE OUTPUT

THE INSTRUCTOR'S VISITS.

Mr. M. E. Sanderson, Smith, was called upon next. He said in regard to the matter of appointing instructors this association had appointed three west of Kingston, of which Mr. W. W. Grant was one. He had sent out cards to all the factories. Last year the factories, many of them, paid five dollars a piece and had the benefit of an instructor. This year the Board took no action in the matter. In his cards he had asked all the factories who wished the services of an instructor to send him their names. The fee was five dollars, which insured two visits from the instructor. One of the objections last year of some of the factories was an outside man. This year they had a local man and he believed they had as good a man as they could get in Mr. Grant. He urged upon all the factories to co operate in obtaining the services of an instructor.

SOME DISCUSSION AROSE.

Mr. W. Cribben was heard. He thought every factory man should avail himself of the benefit of an instructor. When a man got above learning and thought he could not make any better cheese, his usefulness was past. He thought flavour was a very important thing in cheese making, and although Peterborough county's cheese stood high, it could be improved in point of flavour. Messrs. Moloney, Stewart, S. R. Payne and others also spoke urging the necessity of all factories co-operating in this matter of employing an instructor in order that the standard of our cheese might be raised and the industry built up.

Prof. James was heard. He thought that if a man would not take care of his milk, in order to prererve the standard and protect the patrons, it was best to send the milk home and refuse it. He thought that the $5 charged for the instructor was a mere nothing in reference to the benefit derived. The factories should consider this matter on a business basis. What was five dollars in a matter of an $8,000 or $9,000 business? Factories should see that they get the best instruction possible. In regard to the meeting of patrons of the factory if only half a dozen turned out it would be beneficial and the interest would soon increase and knowledge would be spread. He would like to see some of the enterprising cheesemakers of the association take hold of this matter.

CLOSING BUSINESS.

After some further discussion the annual election of officers took place and resulted as follows:—

President—W. W. Grant (re-elected).

Secretary—F. E. Kline, Lakefield.

Mr. Moore moved, seconded by Mr. Stewart, that a hearty vote of thanks be extended to Prof. James for his able and excellent address. This was unanimously carried.

Prof. James replied suitably.

Mr. E. Sanderson moved a vote of thanks, seconded by Mr. Moore, to the council of Peterborough for the use of the council chamber for holding this meeting.

This was carried, and the most successful and interesting meeting ever held, adjourned at 3.45 o'clock.

A Government BOMBSHELL
THROWN INTO THE
LIFE INSURANCE CAMP!
The following statement comes from the government Blue Book. It covers a period of sixteen years, and is sworn to as correct by representatives of each Company:
Statement of Premiums received and Cash Profits paid back to Policy Holders from 1877 to 1892, both years inclusive:—

COMPANY.	Premiums Received.	Dividends Paid to Policy Holders.	Ratio of Dividends to Premiums, %
CANADA LIFE	$16,368,307	$2,946,433	18.13
Confederation Life	6,165,432	637,925	10 35
North American	2,327,082	32,857	1.41
Ontario Mutual	3,878,086	433,284	11.17
Sun Life	5,527,720	355,280	6.43

Never in the history of Life Insurance has the struggle for business been keener. Never has the conflict been hotter. Never have the Companies felt as they feel now, the necessity for throwing all the energy at their command into the field. The most intelligent and best men have to be employed. All kinds of plans of insurance are submitted. Each Company determined in securing the supremacy in the good will of the public, in establishing their name, the utterance of which, shall convey to the minds of the people the essential characteristics of
UNDOUBTED SECURITY,
RIGID ECONOMY,
GOOD INVESTMENTS,
LARGEST PROFITS
WHY?
Because millons of dollars are being paid annually for Life Insurance, and the Companies that can show these features have attained a position which will guarantee their future success, for money will flow freely into the best investments.
The Canada Life Policy Holders can look at the above statement with a smile of satisfaction, yet sympathise with their friends who are not so favourably situated.
They can throw their Life Policies down in the face of opponents and successfully challenge the production of more profitable policies, they can stand the onslaught of Agents who will almost cover them with literature and estimates of Tontine, Semi-Tontine, Return Premiums, Reserved Dividends, Annuity and Endownment plans of insurance, and with a quiet assurance feel that
As The Canada Life is Making the Most Profits, She Can Pay the Largest Profits.

It's Not So

Notwithstanding reports to the contrary, still it is not true that Short Stop cures a cold too quickly. The fact is, Short Stop cures nautrally and without nauseating the stomach, by acting promptly on the bronchial tubes and lungs. For sale by Jas. Lynch, druggist, 168 Hunter street.

About Ended.

The annual stock-taking sale at China Hall is about ended, as it closes on the 20th inst. While it lasts you can buy anything in the immense stock at cost price, and in the case of slightly damaged or mismatched goods, for half price. We have some splendid bargins left, call and inspect.—MACFARLANE WILSON.

Store Awnings, Window Awnings,

Hotel awnings, office awnings, verandah awnings, steamboat awnings, factory awnings, and summer awnings of all kinds and patterns in white or coloured duck manufactured and fitted in proper manner to any desired frames on the most reasonable terms by ALFRED KINGSCOTTE, the Tent, Sail and Awning Maker, Water street, opposite the market.

Telfordian Temperature Topics.

WEDNESDAY, April 11th.

The snow plough was out again this morning and our expected snow storm has now come, but we may have some more downfalls of snow or rain yet. At this morning's observation the self-registering thermometer indicated 32 degrees above zero, rest the freezing point. THOMAS TELFORD.

No Attempt at Deception.

The department in the Golden Lion that is taking a lead at the present time is the carpet, and it is a busy corner. At any rate the prices and the styles appear not only to attract the people, but makes the sales book bulk up as well. Everything about the business is open and above board. No attempt at deception. Qualities are exactly as represented and prices suggest increased values. One carpet sewer for this firm has to work night and day to keep up with his work, and business spins ahead at a lively pace. dw

Murray Street Baptist Church.

Owing to the stormy weather last evening the attendance at the Moore and White meeting was not as large as usual. The interest however was good and many were influenced to enter the Christian life. Mr. Moore gave a very practical address from Neh. 9, and part of verse 17, "Thou art a God ready to Pardon." Mr. White also earnestly addressed the gathering, and sang with his accustomed impressiveness several of his most popular pieces, the choir assisting in the choruses. As this is the evangelists' last week in Peterborough, it is expected the balance of the meetings will be of special interest. As usual each evening they will begin at 7.45.

Royal Templars Meeting.

At the regular meeting of the Royal Templars last evening two new members were initiated into the "Royal Degree," intending to be raised to the "Select Degree," or insurance department at next meeting. During the past few weeks Rev. B. B. Keefer has been working in connection with the "Select Degree," or insurance department of this order with much success, and no wonder, for this temperance organization offers the best society insurance to be found in Canada to-day. Only total abstainers are taken as risks, thus making the death rate much lower than in most other societies, lowering the cost of insurance, whereby the members are benefitted. After the business meeting the following programme was rendered, followed by cake and coffee served by the ladies, Rev. B. B. Keefer in the chair:—

Address ..... Chairman
Song ..... Mrs Roseborough
Instrumental solo ..... Miss Richardson
Mouth organ and piano accompaniment ..... [Master Fred Roberts
Instrumental solo ..... Miss Staunton

OLD FOLKS MADE HAPPY,

The Members of City Lodge No. 404, I. O. G. T. Visit the Inmates of the Protestant Home.

About fifty members of City Lodge, No. 404, I.O.G.T., visited the Peterborough Protestant Home last evening in a body, and entertained the aged and infirm inmates with music, speech and song for a couple of hours. A very pleasant time was spent by entertainers and entertained and it was a happy sight to see the faces of the inmates brighten with the enjoyment which they must have felt at the excellent programme and the presence of many joyful young faces around them. Following was the programme:

Devotional Exercises ..... By Lodge
All Hail the Power ..... By Lodge
Prayer ..... By J. Stubbs
Chairman's address ..... By G J Harly, P D
Chorus ..... By Choir of Lodge
Reading ..... Mr Barrie
Song ..... Miss Ethel Straine

Only One More Week.

China Hall stock-taking sale will close in a week. Attend the sale before it closes and take advantage of the reduced prices. Everything in the store reduced to cost price.—MACFARLANE WILSON.

Requested.

Ladies looking for extra values in dress goods, white lawns, and gloves are requested to see Joseph Armstrong & Co.'s assortment. There can be no stronger values offered this week in these special lines.

Miss Jenkins' clearing sale of fancy goods, etc., will continue for a few weeks' longer, at greater reduced prices than ever. Splendid bargains still to be had.

Concert April 18th

By Mission Band of Charlotte street Methodist church. A programme of interest is prepared, consisting of music, songs, dialogues and recitations. Miss Lola Ostrom will give a prose recitation, which will be of interest as being different from her pieces formerly given. 2eod

"Master and Man" To-Night!

What the Ottawa Free Press says of "Master and Man," which appears at the opera house: "D. McCaul's sensational drama, "Master and Man," was greeted with a packed house last night, and the deepest interest centered in its production from beginning to end. The leading characters were admirably taken, Gus Reynolds, as "Humpy Logan" sustaining his part with marked ability. The furnace scene in the fourth act was original and showed wonderful artistic skill. The play will be repeated to-night again." Prices 25, 35 and 50 cents.

Remember the Foresters' Concert.

The programme which will be provided at the concert on Friday evening is delightfully varied and of high quality. The vocal department is especially strong and will be contributed by well-known local artists, and Miss H. Flint, contralto, of the Metropolitan church choir, Toronto, and Mr. Frank Wright, humourous vocalist, Toronto, who is irresistibly funny. Mr. J. H. Jones, violin virtuoso, will supply some of his popular selections. The plan of the hall is filling up rapidly, and you should secure your seats at once. Admission, 25 and 35 cents. Hall plan at Madill's drug store, Hunter street.

The Douglas Bird Concert.

The public are again reminded of the Douglas Bird concert which will be given in the Opera House, Peterborough, on Thursday evening, April 19th, under the management of Mr. A. F. Hoover. A programme of sterling merit will be presented by the following artists: Douglas Bird, the great tenor, of Chicago; Mrs. Mackelcan, Hamilton, contralto: Mr. Fenwick, Hamilton, soprano; Miss Lola Ostrom, the wonderful child elocutionist; and Herr Rudolph Ruth, the German violoncello virtuoso. Mrs. Blyth accompaniste. Remember the date, Thursday, April 19th. Admission, 50c. and 75c. Plan of hall at Sallsbury's Bookstore.

Battalion Briefs.

Several uniforms were issued to the men at the regular weekly company drill at the barracks last evening and quite a number of recruits joined. Squad drill will be held again on Tuesday night next, when it is expected that the permanent new drill instructor, late of Stanley barracks, Toronto, will be on hand. In all likelihood the annual trip of the battalion will take place this year to Niagara Falls or Queenstown. The date of the visit is as usual on July 1st. It is expected that the journey will be made as far as Toronto by rail and thence by boat to the Falls. Arrangements are now going on with a view of Niagara as the objective point for the annual outing.

AFTER TYPHOID FEVER.

Harvey Neff Has Kidney Disease, Which Doctors Could Not Cure Dodd's Kidney Pills Restored Him to Perfect Health.

PORT COLBORNE, April 9—In March, 1893, Harvey H. Neff, of this place, had a bad attack of typhoid fever. Good nursing and medical attendance brought him around, but the attack left him a victim of kidney disease. This the doctors failed to cure, but Dodd's Kidney Pills, the infallible remedy, did the same good work in his case as in all others and Mr. Neff is well to-day. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy in pill form ever offered the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations. Purchasers, for their own safety, should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes: price, fifty cents or six boxes for $2.50. To be had of all dealers.

DIED.

TANGNEY—At 442 Charlotte street on Tuesday, April 10th, 1894, John Joseph, infant son of Mr. Michael Tangney, undertaker. Lindsay, aged 5 months and three days.

Mr. S. G. Derry
Of Providence, R. I.,

Widely known as proprietor of Derry's Waterproof Harness Oil, tells below of his terrible sufferings from Eczema and his cure by

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

"Gentlemen: Fifteen years ago I had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism, which was followed by eczema or salt rheum, breaking out on my right leg. The humor spread all over my legs, back and arms,

A Foul Mass of Sores, swollen and itching terribly, causing intense pain if the skin was broken by scratching, and discharging constantly. It is impossible to describe my suffering in those years of agony and torture. I spent in futile efforts to get well, and was discouraged and ready to die. At this time I was unable to lie down in bed, had to sit up all the time, and was unable to walk without crutches. I had to hold my arms away from my body, and had to have my arms, back and legs bandaged by my faithful wife twice a day.

Thousands of Dollars

"Finally a friend who was visiting at our house, urged me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I began by taking half a teaspoonful. My

Stomach Was All Out of Order

But the medicine soon corrected this, and in six weeks I could see a change in the condition of the humor which nearly covered my body. It was driven to the surface by the Sarsaparilla, the sores soon healed, and the scales fell off. I was soon able to give up bandages and crutches, and a happy man I was. I had been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for seven months; and since that time, nearly two years, I have worn no bandages whatever and my legs and arms are sound and well.

The Delight

of myself and wife at my recovery it is impossible to tell. To all my business friends in Boston and over the country, I recommend from personal experience." S. G. DERRY, 45 Bradford street, Providence, R. I.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

WONDERFUL

has been the trade done the past two weeks in our

CARPET AND CURTAIN DEP'T.

Many were the comments made by passers by one day last week when on the sidewalk outside our store were several large bales of Carpets ready for shipment to Orillia, Port Hope, Cobourg, Millbrook, Havelock and Campbellford. In some case, one; in others more than one to each place. We think this is satisfactory proof that our styles and prices are correct, especially when many of those who bought these goods had quotations from Toronto and assured us that our prices were lower. Our Prices for any quantity:

Hemp Carpets ..... 10c. per yard up.
Union Carpets ..... 38c. per yard up.
All Wool Carpets ..... 75c. per yard up.
Tapestry Carpets ..... 25c. per yard up.
Balmoral Brussels Carpets ..... 90c. per yard up.
Genuine Brussels Carpets ..... $1.00 per yard up.
Moquette Carpets ..... $1.00 per yard up.
Wilton Carpets ..... $1.50 per yard up.

Curtains in Lace and Swiss as well as Chenelle and Silk, are all having their turn. Shad Poles and Trimmings at special prices.

Not alone in the above mentioned departments has trade been booming but in our

MANTLE DEPARTMENT.

There has been a large increase of trade. Our READY-MADE GARMENTS are selling rapidly and new ones are being added weekly which makes the assortment full. People wonder where we get these wonderful Capes at $2.50, $3.00 and $4.00. We expect they will all be cleared out this month.

Our Made-to-Order Department is pushed to its utmost capacity to get out the orders. Our stock of Cloths and Trimmings is now complete, and we are prepared to execute all orders at a price unequalled.

Another Department that has had a pretty good innings is the

TAILORING DEPARTMENT

Men's Suits, Boy's Suits, Men's Overcoats, &c., made from goods imported direct from the manufacturers are fully 25 per cent less than credit prices.

Still another that is coming to the front is the

LETTER ORDER DEPARTMENT.

Any one unable to come to Peterborough can do their shopping quite satisfactorily by dropping us a postal card for samples of any lines they need. We make it a point to give particular attention to this department. Just try it.

ANOTHER MIDNIGHT SESSION

COUNCILLORS DO MORE TALK THAN WORK

At Last Night's Meeting — Proposed Early Closing of Billiard Rooms—The Market By-law—The Peddlers' Fees Fixed—Grants to the Band and Horticultural Society—The Trent Valley Canal—Mr. Hughes' Scheme for Reduced Taxation—An Outfall Sewer —Street Watering — Carters' Complaints.

"A melange of municipal matters muchly mixed" might well describe the chaotic state of some of the quixotic matters which the council discussed protractedly last night. Very little business worth mentioning was done and more remarkable to relate after four hours untiring discussion nearly every motion was finally referred to some committee to consider and report. All the members were in their places.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From John Rodgers, asking for remission of taxes.—Granted.

From the Hon. Secretary of the Children's Aid Society, stating that a family on Sherbrooke street required assistance and medical attendance.—Charity Committee.

From W. G. Metheral, stating that he had been treated unjustly in being dismissed from the fire brigade without any charge having been preferred against him and as the chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee refused him a fair hearing, he appealed to the council to request the chief of the department to show cause as to why he had been dismissed.—Granted.

From D. W. Dumble, Adam Hall, Geo. Cochrane and other property holders asking that a sidewalk be built on Aylmer street the natural approach to the new settlement known as the Dickson property, north of Smith street.—Street and Bridge Committee.

From John Jeffries, stating that it was the second time he had written as to the true line on Donegal street and if the Street and Bridge Committee wished to ascertain the true line lot, then come on the ground and he would convince them that the last survey was wrong.—Street and Bridge Committee.

From Geo. Hendron, asking for remission of last year's dog tax.—Granted on taking declaration.

From J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., enclosing a copy of a clause in the will of the late Mrs. Foley, which would no doubt come under the consideration of the council at an early date.—Received.

We recommend that all persons having accounts against the town be instructed to render them immediately.

Your committee had a meeting with the Special Road and Bridge Committee of the county council on Saturday last, and an agreement was reached in regard to a clause to be inserted in the private bill before the Legislature in reference to the Pigeon Creek bridge. By this agreement a clause is to be inserted that the county shall pay to the town $1,250 towards the cost of the re-construction of the Smith street bridge, and that the town is to pay half of the county of Peterborough's share of the future maintenance of the Pigeon Creek bridge. The agreement was signed by the mayor of the town and the warden of the county, to be sent to the Legislature through Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

T. CAHILL, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT MATTERS.

Mr. Kelly presented the following report:

Your Fire, Water and Light Committee beg leave to report as follows:

We recommend the streets that were watered last year be watered this year, and that the committee be authorized to advertise for tenders, and award the contract for the northern and suthern districts.

We had a conference with Mr. Knapman, of the Bell Telephone Company, in reference to the additional alarm boxes, and have asked for the cost of placing and maintaining them, three of them to be placed as follows: One at the corner of George and Perry streets, one near the corner of Park and Albert streets, and one on Sherbrooke street, about half way between Park street and the boundary.

T. KELLY, Chairman.

SOME DISCUSSION.

Mr. Dawson thought that too many alarm boxes were being put in No. 1 Ward. The three mentioned in the report and one already there, made four.

Mr. Kelly said there had been a good many fires there and it was difficult giving alarms. The Underwriter's Association insisted that the alarms be placed in the thickest part of the town. In the other three wards there were several telephones and alarm boxes were not so much needed.

After some cross-firing between Messrs. Kelly and Dawson, Mr. Cahill said in reference to the watering of streets he wished something added the first clause. He moved that the report be amended by extending the street watering from Townsend street to Rink street and Aylmer, and from Rubidge and Stewart to Dalhousie. This would necessitate very little more work on the part of the watering carts and on the first named streets there were at least a dozen houses and the distance was not more than 400 feet.

Mr. McElwain said if there was any change in the districts he had a motion to move too in reference to the watering of the streets in the north end of the town viz:—George street up to the end of the street railway track, and McDonnel street between Harvey and Aylmer.

Mr. Dawson moved in amendment to the amendment that Hunter street be watered north to Reid street, and Reid street down to Kirk.

Mr. White thought Sherbrooke street should be taken in.

Mr. Kelly at this point rose and stated that the streets should be left as they were. If all the streets required to be watered were added to the present districts it would cost a great deal more and the town would have to buy new carts. The town streets were pretty well covered by the present districts.

Without further ado after the voting on Mr. Cahill's motion, which was lost, the report was adopted unamended.

THE LICENSE REPORT.

Mr. Hughes, chairman, presented the following report:

GENTLEMEN,—Your License Committee beg leave to report:

That they have considered the petition of M. O'Brien and others and recommend that no action be taken. They consulted the town solicitor in reference to the hawkers' and peddlers' by-law and were informed by him that the council could not discriminate between resident and non-residents in the fees charged. We recommend that the fee be fixed at $5 for peddlers on foot and $10 for one using a horse or other animal.

In reference to the application of the ministerial deputation referred to your committee, we are informed by the town solicitor that this committee cannot regulate the hours for the closing of taverns, that power resting with the License Commissioners.

We recommend that a by-law be passed closing billiard rooms from seven o'clock on Saturday until six o'clock on Monday morning.

That all hawkers and peddlers taking out a license should be furnished with a badge, and shall at all times wear the badges in a conspicuous place while engaged in hawking or peddling, and that this committee be authorized to secure badges for this purpose, and also plates for horse peddlers, the same as the carters are supplied with.

J. L. HUGHES, Chairman.

Mr. Hughes moved, seconded by Mr. Roger, that the report be received only; the hawkers and peddlers by-law to be brought up would, if passed, adopt the provisions of the report.—This carried.

Mr. Roger said the assessment of the town powder magazine at $800 by the township of Monaghan was not thought too much by the court of revision to warrant an appeal.

THE PEDDLERS BY-LAW.

On motion of Mr. Hughes, seconded by Mr. Hall the council went into committee of the whole on the second reading of the Hawker's and Peddler's by-law. Mr. Cahill took the chair. With respect to the blanks as to the fees.

Mr. Roger moved that $20 be the fee for horse and $10 for foot peddlers. The petitioners asked $50 and the committee recommended $10 and he thought that peddlers should pay a fair amount for the privilege of peddling. If his figures were adopted it would be a compromise between too high and too low a fee.

Mr. Dawson seconded the motion.

Mr. Hughes said the committee had considered the matter and thought that $5 for foot peddlers was enough for those who were making a living by peddling. If the council went above $5, he was in favour of $20. We ought to make it low enough so that the poorest could take advantage of it, and if not, we should make it so high that the town would reap some benefit from it.

Mr. White seconded the motion that the fees be the same as named in the License Committee's report.

Mr. Kelly was in favour of giving local persons their licenses for nothing if we could only impose a fee heavy enough to keep outsiders from running over the town with their goods.

Mr. McElwaine thought that a fee so heavy should be put on as to keep outsiders from peddling here, and if the town thought the fee too high they could refund part of it to local parties.

SHOULD FAVOUR LOCAL LICENSEES.

Mayor Kendry was sorry that we could not, according to law, levy more on outsiders than on local parties. He did not think that it was right for outsiders who did not pay taxes to hawk around here. He thought that the council had the power of levying a fee of $20 and then it could be understood that a refund of $5 be given local parties.

Mr. Hall said the council could do this, having the power to act in accordance with the mayor's suggestion.

Mr. Dawson said that this was a free country and the licenses should be placed at a fair value. Mr. Kendry's scheme was too complicated.

Mayor Kendry said he only suggested this in order to get over the difficulty. He was in favour of discriminating in favour of local parties over outsiders.

Mr. Roger withdrew his motion in favour of Mr. Hughes' amendment, that the fees should be $10 and $15.

Mr. Hall, in amendment to the amendment, moved, seconded by Mr. Brady,—That the blanks be filled in with $30 and $20 for horse and foot peddlers respectively.

Mr. Dawson withdrew from seconding Mr. Roger's motion that the blanks be filled in with five and ten dollars, and seconded Mr. Hall's motion.

The amendment to the amendment was put and carried. The by-law provided that anyone violating the provisions of the by-law should be fined not less than $10 or more than $50 for each offence.

The by-law was duly passed, signed, etc., with the fees $30 for horse and $20 for foot peddlers.

THE MARKET BY-LAW.

On motion Mr. John Kincaid was heard. He thought the council had shown a disposition to act a little unfairly in regard to the market by-law. He thought that the present clerk was paying too much for the market and that he was finding this out because he came to the council and asked concessions be put in which were not in the by-law. He had asked that measuring of the wood by-law be dispensed with, also that a by-law be passed impowering the clerk to charge a certain toll on extra articles. The chief of police had been instructed to fine any person or merchant buying eggs, butter, etc., or anyone who offered these on the street or at the merchant's door if it was before eleven o'clock. This was more directly in favour of the market clerk and made people go to the market and was right against the interests of the merchants. Formerly the market clerk had to pay for all persons brought up in the matter of violation of market by-laws if not convicted, but now the town was prosecuting all persons and paying the expenses.

Mr. Brady said the Chief of Police had warned him that if he bought eggs or butter offered at his door he could be fined—it did not matter whether he bought on the market or not. The hour had to be after 11 o'clock.

Mr. Roger said the bylaw passed the other night only prevented persons from selling on the street or other public places; nothing was said about private places and the by-law just passed was more liberal than the old one in this respect. Mr. Roger said to increase the value of tolls for the market clerk after he had bought the tolls was not fair to other contributors to the price, and the action of the committee had deprived other bidders of the benefit of the tolls, the by-law being passed after the sale. Mr. Kincaid's point was well taken. If the public were allowed to sell on the streets without restriction, they would not go to the market, and it was only by this means that a market could be created. Formerly the auctioneers only had to pay 10c. but by the new by-law 25 cts. was levied on all lots of goods.

Mr. McElwaine said at the market sale it was clearly understood by all bidders that certain changes would be made in the bylaw, and all bid with that understanding.

Mr. Hall thought that the by-law should be referred back to the market committee to report. After some further discussion the matter was dropped.

AID TO THE BAND.

Mr. Cahill in accordance with the report of the Finance Committee adopted at the last meeting moved the first reading of a bylaw to grant aid to the Peterborough Fire Brigade Band, which was duly passed etc., the grant being $250.

BICYCLE RIDERS BEWARE.

Mr. White moved the second reading of a bylaw to prevent the riding of bicycles on the sidewalks in the town. The bylaw had received its first reading on August 23 in last year.

Mr. Dawson,—Would it not be well to say bicycles used by gentlemen? It would be a hardship to the ladies. (Laughter).

Mr. Hall,—We cannot discriminate.

Mr. Mason,—How will this affect little children with tricycles.

Mr. Cahill,—It affects everybody.

Mr. Mason,—That will never do.

Mr. Dawson moved, seconded by Mr. McElwain,—That the word tricycle be struck out of the by-law.

After some further discussion, on motion of Messrs. Dawson and Brady, the by-law was referred to the License Committee, and the motion that the Committee rise was carried.

ANOTHER BY-LAW.

Mr. Hughes moved the first reading of a by-law to amend by-law 807, respecting the granting of certain municipal licenses. The by-law provides that billiard or pool parlours be not kept open or frequented from seven o'clock on Saturday night until six o'clock on Monday morning following.

Mr. White thought that Saturday night was the night when the billiardmen made the most of their money and he favoured that a couple of hours be added—say nine o'clock on Saturday night.

Mr. Mason asked if this by-law did not also include the request of the Ministerial Association that these places be closed at 10 o'clock?

Mr. Hughes—No.

Mr. Kelly said the billiard men were granted licenses on the understanding that they were licensed to keep their places open every night until 11 o'clock, and now a by-law was passed to reduce the hour from 11 to 7 o'clock, and he wanted to know if this was legal to change the by-law. If we could change on Saturday nights as said in the by-law, he favoured changing them altogether and making the hour ten o'clock.

Mr. Hughes said the committee did not grant the licenses to keep open until 11 o'clock as stated by Mr. Kelly. The intention was to have the amendment so that the billiard places should close every night at ten o'clock and on Saturday evenings at seven o'clock, but he had not had time to consult the town solicitor in reference to the matter. Mr. Hughes spoke of the baneful effects of pool playing upon young men and he therefore thought on account of Saturday night being pay night with young men, that seven o'clock should be the closing hour.

Mr. Mason spoke of the evil of the pool and billiard tables in our town and he moved that the hour be ten o'clock every night except Saturday and then seven o'clock be closing hour.

REFERRED BACK.

Mr. McElwain moved, seconded by Mr. Brady, that the committee rise and that the by-law be referred to the town solicitor to see if the council had the power to close the places earlier.

This carried.

THE CARTERS' GRIEVANCE.

On motion Mr. M. O'Brien was heard. He complained of persons (scavengers) who held no license, drawing ashes and other stuff in yard cleaning, ect., stuff other than sent to the nuisance ground. He thought the council should make a provision that no person, except those

A LONG TRAIN —of diseases follows bad blood and inactive liver. Every one knows when his blood is impure and liver sluggish; pimples and boils appear, or he feels drowsy, weak, tired and thick-headed.

We want to teach you how to fight it. Begin in time. Plenty of fresh air, exercise, and Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, will bring you out of danger. The reason? "Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood and renders the liver active. As the germs of disease enter the circulatory system through the liver, they can be resisted there and in the blood. In those scrofulous conditions of the blood which invite catarrh, bronchitis, and end in Consumption, you have the means of prevention and cure. You can save yourself from Grip, Malaria, or Fever by putting all the functions of the body in a healthy state, besides building up healthy flesh, by taking the "Discovery." A MILLINER'S GIRL.

How it rained, that bleak winter night! How mercilessly the torrents came down, rebounding in sheets of spray from the pavements and swelling the gutters into miniature rivers! Through the whitening mist, the shop-windows flared dimly and the yellow stars of the street-lamps shone like beacon lights far out at sea. There were not many pedestrians on Broadway that night, save those compelled by grim necessity to face the storm; and Guy Moreau, striding down the western side, had the right of way all to himself.

"There's no hurry, no hurry in the world," said Mr. Moreau, calmly to himself. "My hat is ruined already, and my coat is fit for nothing but the outside pegs of a second-hand clothing store. Consequently— Hello, here, what's the matter?"

He stopped short at the sound of a slight scream, close to him. A shabbily dressed young girl carrying a load of oil-cloth-shielded bandboxes had slipped on a piece of banana-rind, almost at his feet.

Guy Moreau made no pretensions to the rank of a Chevalier Bayard, but he had a kindly human heart within his bosom, and stepped instantly forward to help the young girl up.

"Not hurt, are you?" he asked, kindly.

The girl looked at him with big eyes full of pain and terror.

"My bandboxes?" faltered she, glancing eagerly around. "They're not wet, are they?"

"No—but you are. Look at your shawl, poor thing.

"Oh, that's no matter," said she. "It was very awkward of me to slip so, and—"

"What's the matter, now?" Moreau asked.

For she had stopped short in the attempt to move forward again.

"I'm afraid my ankle is sprained!" she wailed. "Oh, dear, what shall I do?"

"Sprained, is it? (Confound those people who eat bananas and fling the rind on the pavement!" inwardly muttered Guy.) "Let me call a hack," he added aloud.

"Oh, no, sir!" shrinking back. "I couldn't afford a hack. I'm only a milliner's apprentice, and all these hats must be delivered before nine o'clock to night."

Guy looked reflectively down at the band boxes, then at the pale, pretty face, with its dark, Spanish eyes and lashes sprinkled with rain.

"I'm afraid you'll hardly manage it," said he.

"But I must!" said the girl, positively.

"Can't you take 'em back to the shop?"

"It's closed for the night, and madame would never forgive me for not delivering the hats. I—I think I could walk very slowly."

But as she made the effort her cheeks blanched once more with pain and a low cry involuntarily escaped from her lips.

"No," said she, "I can't walk. Oh, what shall I do?"

Guy knit his brows and considered a moment.

"How far from here do you live?" he asked.

"On Bleecker Street—only a little way—but the hats!"

"Don't fret about the hats," said Moreau. "I'll attend to the hats. How many of 'em are there? Ticketed and labeled all right? Here, lean on my arm, and I'll take the band-boxes in my left hand. Now, then! Not too fast!"

Guy Moreau had never been in a working-woman's room before, and as he stood on the threshold, he could but marvel at the aspect of utter destitution that pervaded it. A little girl who was making artificial flowers by the light of a kerosene lamp sprang to her feet at the sound of their steps.

"Oh, Nelly, are you hurt? What is the matter?" cried she. "What makes you look so white?"

"It's my little sister," said the girl, turning to her conductor. "We live here together. Oh, sir, I am very much obliged to you!"

But when Guy Moreau was gone, old Mrs. Macrabbin, who had come upstairs to rub Nelly Knox's ankle with camphor, shook her head gloomily at the recital of the evening's adventure.

"Wasn't he kind? And a perfect stranger too," said Nelly, radiantly.

"Poor dear!" said Mrs. Macrabbin. "What do you know about the ways of a city? It's no ways likely that you'll ever see hide nor hair of them bonnets again!"

"What do you mean?" cried Nelly, indignantly.

"Mean? Why, that it's a confidence game, to be sure, and your fine, genteel young man has made off with the French bonnets."

"Nonsense!" cried Nelly. "With a face like that—and such a voice, and such a manner?"

"Well," said Mrs. Macrabbin, "we'll see!"

And she rubbed away harder than ever.

* * * * * *

"Young man, said Mrs. Petherick, sourly, "what do you mean by leaving a white tulle hat here with a water-lily and three sintul plumes on it? Do I look like a person who wears water-lilies and marabou?"

And Guy, who was walking, whistling, away, after leaving his last bandbox, stopped short at the old lady's shrill voice.

"Hello!" said he. "I've left the Petherick hat at St. James's, and the St. James's hat at Petherick's, I must go back."

"I should think so," said Mrs. Petherick. "In my days, errand-man attended to their business! Nine o'clock at night, and my new black-velvet hat, with the satin bows, not come home!"

"I'm very sory, ma'am," said Guy.

"Much difference it makes whether you are sorry or not," said Mrs. Petherick, leveling her blue spectacles wrathfully at Mr. Moreau. "You must be a very presuming young man to have any opinions at all on the subject. I beg that you will set this awkard blunder right at once, and I shall most assuredly report it to Madame Dunoyer."

And Mr. Moreau had no alternative but to trudge back again through the blinding rain to Miss Honora St. James' brownstone residence.

"The milliner's man again!" said Miss St. James, sharply. "Well, I should think! To leave me a dowdy old black-velvet thing, instead of my white crape opera hat! And to come back at this time of night! I shall certainly let Madame Dunoyer know what I think of it! Here, you, boy! Is this the way you— My goodness me! It's Mr. Moreau!"

Guy burst out laughing—he could not help it—at the comical suddenness with which Honora's frown melted into smiles.

"I beg your pardon, Miss St. James," said he, "but I am really very deserving of blame. Here's your bandbox, and I've left old Mrs. Petherick's here by mistake."

"Is it a joke," said the bewildered fair one, "or a wager, or what?"

"Neither one nor the other, said Guy. "Sober, serious, earnest. And now, if you'll let me have the other bonnet, I'll get back before Mrs. Pethrick's rage waxes any hotter."

He lifted his dripping beaver and vanished with the bandbox under his arm, smiling to himself at the insight he had obtained into Miss St. James' character.

"A regular little virago!" he told himself. "A face like oxalic acid and a voice that would do for a fishwoman! Truly, 'we are not what we seem.'"

* * * * * *

He went back the next evening to tell Nelly Knox that he had duly performed her behests.

"Nelly isn't here," said the pale little girl, who was wiring the flowers on stems as diligently as if she had never left off. "She's gone to madame's. She goes at seven every morning and don't come back till nine at night."

"Oh!" said Guy. "And how's her foot?"

"Very lame," said the child, moistening a fresh wire at her lips and twisting it around until our hero's eyes grew giddy with following her motion. "But she leaned on a cane and— Why, here's Nelly now. And crying, too!"

"Hello!" said Guy. "What's the matter?"

"I'm discharged," said the girl, with a sob in her throat. "Mrs. Petherick has been there, and—"

"Mrs. Petherick is an old cat!" interrupted Guy, hotly. "And it's all my fault! Don't cry! You're not able to work now," as Nelly sank, white and exhausted, on a chair.

"Yes, I know," said Nelly, "but what are we to do? Fan can earn only a dollar and a half a week, and if I am without work—"

"I can get you work," said Guy. "All you want! Loads of it!"

And, vanishing, he presently returned with a roll of 40 yards of Wamsutta, which he flung exultantly on the floor.

"But, what am I to do with it?" said bewildered Nelly.

"What? Why, make it into four dozen shirts to be sure!" said Mr. Moreau.

"But, that is all nonsense," said Nelly, with a quivering lip. "I am poor—but I can't take charity."

"It's not charity," asseverated Mr. Moreau. "I need new shirts, and I hire you to make 'em! Where's the charity?"

"But—four dozen!"

"If I wanted fourteen dozen I've a right to order 'em I suppose. "Besides, I've some notion of fitting out a ship-load of missionaries for the San Benicia Islands. If you want buttons or needles and thread, get 'em, and charge 'em in the bill."

"Yes; but—"

"Well, what now?" lifting his eyebrows.

"What size am I to make them?"

Guy looked a little puzzled at this.

"Make 'em four different sizes, and then some of 'em will be sure to fit," said he, triumphantly.

"Wedding-cake, eh?" said Mrs. Macrabbin. "Put up in a watered-silk box and tied with white-satin ribbon! Stuck full of plums and citron and smelling of spices! Well, it's very good of Nelly Knox to think of me, now that she's a great lady and has a whole house of her own, with velvet carpets on the floor and two maid-servants to wait on her; and little Fan at a boarding school, too, and going to be brought up like a lady. And it all came from Nelly's slipping on a bit of a banana-peel that rainy night. I'd go out and slip down on one myself, if I thought it would do any good. I told Nelly he was a real gentleman the first time I ever set eyes on him."

And Mrs. Macrabbin firmly believed she was speaking the truth.

The Spring Medicine.

"All run down" from the weakening effects of warm weather, you need a good tonic and blood purifier like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Do not put off taking it. "Only the Scars Remain,"

Says HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., who certifies as follows:

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc., none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

Mother Urged Me

SUING THE ARCHBISHOP

The Canada Revue Seeks Damages to the Extent of $50,000.

HIS GRACE'S ONLY DEFENCE

The Document Complained of Was Published by Him as First Pastor of the Diocese—He Has the Right to Pronounce in Matters Ecclesiastical.

MONTREAL, April 11.—The celebrated case of the Canada Revue against Archbishop Fabre, in which the paper claims $50,000 from the Archbishop for having placed it under the ban of the church, came for hearing before Judge Doherty in the Superior Court yesterday. The event attracted a good deal of attention, and the large room was well filled with lawyers and others anxious to follow the proceedings.

Premier Taillon and Mr. C. A. Geoffrion, Q.C., acted for his Grace, while Mr. C. H. St. Louis was the attorney for the plaintiff.

The Archbishop, who was the centre of attraction, entered the court room a few seconds after the judge had taken his seat. He was accompanied by Rev. Canons Bruchesi and Archambeault and all three were provided with seats immediately in rear of the counsel.

Mr. St. Louis, in opening the case for the Canada Revue, explained that in November, 1892, a mandement had been issued by the defendant, "the Catholic Archbishop of the diocese of Montreal, without cause," to the clergy and the faithful of the diocese, forbidding the reading of the Canada Revue and L'Echo Des Deux Montagnes.

The mandement had been read in all the churches in the diocese and had been published in the press. It contained "damaging imputations," which had almost entirely ruined the plaintiffs. The Canada Revue had a circulation of 4,000 copies, which had almost entirely fallen off since the issue of the mandement. The net profits of the company had been $3,000 per annum, which capitalized, amounted to $50,000, which sum was now claimed as damages, "real and exemptary, with interest and costs."

When Mr. St. Louis had finished, Mr. Taillon proceeded to address the court on behalf of His Grace. "The defendant," said he, "admits the publication of the document mentioned in this case. The plea is a very short one. Your Honor, our client published the mandement as bishop, as first pastor of the diocese of Montreal. This circular letter was sent to the members of the clergy and read in the churches. It dealt with purely ecclesiastical affairs. The bishop claims the right to pronounce on questions of dogma and morals, and we submit humbly that his judgments are not subject to the revision of the civil tribunals. The bishop claims exclusive jurisdiction in these matters. He appears before the courts to establish the circumstances under which he aimed as he did, and these being established, he considers that his defence to the action will be complete."

Archbishop Fabre was then examined, and explained the circumstances under which he had issued the mandement. The case will occupy several days.

Complication Complete in Newfoundland.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., April 11.—It was reported on reliable authority last evening that the Whiteway Ministry will resign today. The Governor has received despatches from Lord Ripon, secretary for the colonies, instructing him to use his own discretion, but act constitutionally. He decided to refuse dissolution, and requested the resignation of the Ministry. A Government caucus was held to consider the situation. It is believed that the Government will request Mr. Gooderich, leader of the opposition, to form a Ministry to-day. The plan of the Whiteway party is to pass a vote of want of confidence in the Gooderich Ministry when they present the money bills to the Legislature, thus forcing dissolution in another way. This they may do, unless the opposition succeed in inducing seven Government members, not accused of bribery, to join them. This matter is becoming very complicated and it is impossible to see the end of the difficulty.

Will Plante be Extradited?

DENVER, Col., April 11.—Louis Plante was before Commissioner Hinsdale for examination on an application for extradition. His attorney applied for a continuance on the ground that Plante claims he is an American citizen, and that he can prove by an officer of Ogdensburg, N.Y., that he was in that city on the day the charged crime was committed. He admits that he is a smuggler, but says that the charge of murdering and robbing a Chinaman in Canada is a fairy tale, fabricated for the purpose of getting him over the line. Plante is serving a sentence here for nearly murdering a woman, and was discovered in jail by Canadian detectives.

Goodrich's Confession Not Admitted.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 11.—Judge Sears has decided not to admit the confessions of Goodrich on the grounds that the police did not keep within the letter of the law when they obtained them. There is no doubt in the mind of the public that Goodrich is guilty. Wheeler gave his testimony in such a clear and concise manner, and notwithstanding the severest cross-examination of Attorney Dwight for the defence, he stood his ground admirably, and has the sympathy of the public, who feel that he has been most maliciously persecuted by disreputable people in this city.

HIS MAIL IS HEAVY.

Fisheries Inspector Brickwood Gets Letters From all Over the Dominion Asking for Particulars About Dodd's Kidney Pills Curing Him of Chronic Rheumatism.

KINGSTON, April 2.—Enquiry develope the fact that the story of J. B. Brickwood's wonderful cure of his rheumatism by Dodd's Kidney Pills has brought him notoriety. Mr. Brickwood daily receives letters from all quarters of Canada asking further particulars of his cure. He invariably answers that after all other remedies failed, Dodd's Kidney Pills restored him to health. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy in pill form ever offered the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations. Purchasers for their own safety should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes; price fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50 To be had of all dealers.

Train Robbers Get the Worst of It.

WICHITA, Kan., April 11.—The Daltons or other train robbers attempted Monday night to hold up Rock Island train No. 1 four miles below Pond Creek, in Oklahoma territory. They were met by Harmon, the Wells, Fargo express messenger, who shot the first man who tried to break in the express car by the use of dynamite. The other men in the gang tried to escape, but the trainmen succeeded in wounding and capturing another of the men and two horses. The other bandits got away, but without any plunder

Alaska's Marriage Laws.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., April 11.—The steamer Topeka arrived from Alaska brings news of the arrival of instructions to officials there to rigidly enforce the Edmunds Act as far as relates to unlawful cohabitation between white men and native women. As the law attempts to break up a long existing state of affairs, trouble is likely to follow, and every arrest will be followed by a demand for a jury trial, which will surely result in acquittal.

Fearful Deed of a Rejected Suitor.

LAKE CHARLES, La., April 11.—R. G. Howard and his family live on a small island in the Calcasieu river. They have a daughter about sixteen years old. Herbert L. Partin went to Howard's house and wanted to marry the girl. Howard would not consent. Later Partin returned and shot the girl's mother dead, fatally wounded the girl and shot her sister. The murderer escaped, but was captured yesterday. He resisted arrest and was shot and probably fatally wounded by the officers.

Shot His Wife, Mother-in-Law and Self

MADISONVILLE, Ky., April 11.—Robert Jones, a farmer living twelve miles north of this place, shot his wife, mother-in-law and himself yesterday. Jones is dead and his wife and mother-in-law cannot live. Jones' wife has received very bad treatment at his hands since their marriage a year ago. She left him and had gone to her mother, where the shooting took place when he tried to persuade her to return with him.

Poisoned by the Fumes From Gas.

SARNIA, April 11.—A young man named Lee, who was employed by the Canadian Oil Co., while attending to some arrangement of the oil tanks, was overcome by the fumes from the oil, and after every endeavor was made to revive him he died His people live in Sparta, Wis., and his remains were taken there last night on the Pacific express.

Elevator Burned at Belwood.

BELWOOD, Ont., April 11.—The greatest calamity that ever overcame Belwood was the burning of the elevator last night. The cause is unknown. It is insured in the London & Lancashire. About two thousand bushels were in store. The loss is $6,000 in building and machinery.

J. M. Clark Re-Nominated.

PERTH, April 11.—A large convention of Liberals was held here yesterday to consider the nomination of a candidate for the Local House. Mr. J. M. Clark, the sitting member, was present. He was renominated as the candidate of the Liberal party at the ensuing general election.

Little Girl Severely Burned.

Midair Duel Between Aeronauts.

During the Franco-Prussian war a blood-curdling duel occurred in midair between two aeronauts, one of whom was conveying dispatches from the Governor of Paris. The balloons, approaching at a considerable altitude, the encounter was commenced with pistols. For some time neither combatant could secure the advantage, but at length one balloon mounted above the other, and its occupant, seizing his momentary advantage, threw his grappling irons on top of the other balloon. They tore through the silken fabric as though it had been so much paper. There was an escape of gas, a shriek and the next minute both balloon and balloonist lay battered out of recognition upon the ground 2,000 feet below.—London Tit-Bits.

I. O. U.'s as Church Collection.

In Italy the scarcity of silver coins is so great that church collections consist almost exclusively of I. O. U.'s, which each contributor redeems with a note when his total liabilities amount to ten francs. The people of Italy are evidently no better off than their rulers, who have just floated a loan through the assistance of Germany.

The confidence that people have in Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a blood medicine is the legitimate and natural growth of many years. It has been handed down from parent to child, and is the favorite family medicine in thousands of households.

DEATH BY FALLING.

NOT SO PAINFUL AS IT IS GENERALLY SUPPOSED TO BE.

Conscious Yet Lacking in Acute Feeling—This Death is Considered a Pleasant One and the Victim Suffers No Fear while in Suspense.

Most people regard death by a fall as one of the most agonizing forms of dying. In a lecture at Zurich, Professor Heim has declared, says a Berlin correspondent, that this opinion is erroneous. The first fact to be considered, according to the professor, is that the subjective feelings in the various kinds of fall are the same. There are people who have escaped death by a hair's breadth, who reached the stage of unconsciousness, and who are able to report what they felt. Professor Heim, who has occupied himself with this interesting question for many years, bases his observations on personal experiences, and on a large number of cases which have occurred, not only in the mountains, but also in war, in industrial establishments and in railway accidents. The victim suffers no pain, no paralyzing terror. He is perfectly aware of what is going on. The time seems long to him. In a few seconds he is able to think so much that he can report an entire hour on it. His thinking power is immensely increased. In almost all cases the past seems suddenly lighted up as if by a flash of lightning. All phases of life pass before the mind's eye, nothing petty or unimportant disturbing the retrospect. Then gentle, soft tones sound in one's ears and die away at last when unconsciousness sets in. One hears the fall of the body, but one does not feel it. It will be remembered that Mr. Whymper, who had a severe succession of falls once in the Alps without losing his consciousness, declares emphatically that as he bounded from one rock to another he felt absolutely no pain. The same thing happens on the battle field; the entrance of the bullet into the body is not felt, and it is not till he feels the blood flowing or a limb paralyzed that the soldier knows he is wounded. Persons who have had limbs broken by a fall do not know which limbs are affected till they try to rise. At the moment of a fall the whole intellectual activity is increased to an extraordinary degree. There is not a trace of anxiety. One considers quickly what will happen or may happen. This is by no means the consequence of presence of mind, it is rather the product of absolute necessity. A solemn composure takes possession of the victim. Death by fall is a beautiful one. Great thoughts fill the victim's soul; they fall painlessly into a great blue sky.

Electric Light as a Disinfectant.

Prof. H. M. Ward's researches on the influence of light on bacteria have brought out some remarkable facts. Prof. Ward demonstrates conclusively that the naked arc light may be used in hospitals or railway cars most effectively as a disinfectant by reason of the effect of its rays upon bacteria. He has allowed the various rays of the spectrum to fall on films of gelatine or sugar containing spores of bacteria, and finds that whether the spectrum is got from sunlight or electric light, there is no perceptible action on the spores of bacteria by the infra-red, red, orange or yellow rays, whilst all the spores are injured by the rays of the blue and violet region. Broadly speaking, the injurious action begins at the blue, and diminishes towards the ultra violet. With the electric light, quartz lenses and prisms had to be used in forming the spectrum, as the results with glass were feeble. This injurious influence of the blue rays extended far into the ultra violet. The intervention of a thin piece of glass resulted in cutting off a large proportion of effective rays.

The Fascinating Slot Machine.

"There goes my last nickel," remarked a young man yesterday, as he shoved five cents into the maw of a slot machine. "I've lost more money on these machines than I ever threw away on the wheel at the races. They're more fascinating to me than a Louisiana lottery ticket, and as I run across them everywhere they have just about broken me up. There's some satisfaction in sitting down to a straight game and feeling that you're not a fool and stand some show of winning a pot. But these inanimate, inhuman things break me up. I see that the officials in Syracuse and other places have cleared them out, and 'twould be a good thing for us boys if the world was rid of them. Why, they're more demoralizing than any form of gambling I'm acquainted with, and the worst thing about them is that you can't bet on the winner."—Buffalo Express.

It Looks Suspicious.

The Great Blood and Nerve Remedy.

Dr. Andrew Grant & Co., Toronto.

Dear Sirs,—Your "Hairene," I believe to be a wonderful remedy. It certainly produced the most unexpected results in my case, my hair had been falling out very freely for some time, becoming anxious about the matter I thought I would experiment upon the properties of "Hairene," and one application actually stopped it at once. I applied it once or twice afterward, using in all about a quater of one bottle, and have not required to use it since. It seems to have given renewed and healthy vigor to the scalp, and I can recommend it in all confidence.

The Marked Success

Which attended the formal opening of our New Millinery and Mantle Department has been a matter of sincere congratulation and encouragement—far in excess of our highest expectations.

The special efforts we put forth to excel has amply repaid us and we are pleased to know that our beautiful display has evoked so much favourable comment from the Ladies.

We take this opportunity of thanking the large number of ladies who daily patronized our Show Rooms, not only for the many liberal orders they favoured us with, but for their kind words and flattering preferences for our exhibition over all others.

The Good Start

which we have made in our Millinery and Mantle Department will be an incentive to continued efforts to excel. The array of Rich and Beautiful Millinery will be fully maintained throughout the season, and as fast as new novelties appear or favourite lines become exhausted, we will be prompt in ordering.

ANOTHER MIDNIGHT SESSION

having a license should be allowed to draw anything except stuff to the nuisance ground.

Mr. Hughes said carters would not cart night soil and yet complained of other people doing it.

Mr. Mason said a number of licensed carters were willing to do this sort of work and he thought that scavengers should pay a license as well as carters.

Mr. Dawson said that the cry was "Clean up the town," and yet Mr. O'Brien would not cart night soil and came here and found fault with those who did.

Mr. McElwaine thought Mr. O'Brien's request was a reasonable one and should be considered.

Mr. Mason moved, seconded by Mr. McElwaine, that the matter of the carters' complaint be referred back to the License Committee to act.—Carried.

THE RATE OF TAXATION.

Mr. Hughes' notice of motion, given at the meeting before last, that the rate of taxation be not more than fifteen mills on the dollar, came up for consideration. He said he had a few figures prepared, which he did not claim to be correct, but near enough. The taxes last year were burdensome, especially to workingmen. It was necessary for corporations as well as men and companies to live within their means. This was a self-evident fact. The high rate of taxation was shown by the number of applications for remission of taxes, and it was also exceedingly bad in inducing manufacturers to come here. Mr. Hughes said he had no personal interest in this matter, except a desire to work in the interest of the town, and he thought our expenditure could be managed so that the taxes would not be more than fifteen mills. We should cut our coat according to the cloth. Taking the assessment rolls of last year and reckoning the taxes at fifteen mills on that, the revenue would be $63,347.50, and with the following fees as income from different sources: License, $6,760; market, $720; dog tags, $750, police court fines $1200, total, $73,677.50, he thought the taxation need not go over 15 mills. Every expenditure in his opinion could be met by the town revenue. In the expenditure on the Nicholl's Hospital there would be no expense this year, the municipal loan fund debentures as arranged, would effect a saving and he thought that last year's charity account which was $2800 could be reduced $400 at least this year. We could also save one and a half mills on Street and Bridge expenses. Last year we paid out $14,500 and this year $9,000 ought to do the work. This would, along with the reducing of the charity account, save the town $5000 this year. If we did this 15 mills would meet all expenses. Mr. Hughes continuing said: "If this was my own business it would have been done long ago and as it is the town's business I would like to see it effected. The money should be apportioned out for the year. Say to the Street and Bridge committee you shall have so much and no more and you must keep your expenses within that sum or else you will be held responsible. The same should be done with the Fire, Water and Light committee and the other committees. This would be a check on the expenses and committees would not go on paying out money not knowing where they were going to end.

Mr. Best,—I have a motion here to move on similar lines to Mr. Hughes'.

Mr. Kelly,—I would like to know what Mr. Hughes is going to do with the deficit of last year. If he would explain that then I could see into his scheme.

REFERRED TO THE FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Mr. Roger said it was not fair to ask this year's council to deal with or pay off last year's deficit, for which they were not responsible. All they had to do was to see that at the end of this year they had no deficit. He agreed with Mr. Hughes on two principles. It was a proper thing to apportion the expenditure with the different committees, and a proper expenditure should be mapped out. He agreed that a low rate of taxation was the best bonus to induce manufacturers to locate here. It would be a mistake to pass Mr. Hughes' motion to-night whithout proper consideration by the council before a by-law was passed. It was impossible to fix the rate without knowing what the assessment for the present year would be; if we knew, then it would be all right to consider Mr. Hughes' motion at the present time. He therefore moved, seconded by Mr. Sutton, that Mr. Hughes' motion be referred to the Finance Committee, that all standing committees report their estimated money requirements for the year to the Finance Committee before the 20th; that the Finance Committee report to this council at its next May meeting a scheme of expenditure for the year on a basis designed to secure a reduction from last year's rate of taxation if possible.—Carried

GRANT TO THE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

Moved by Mr. Kelly, seconded by Mr. Best, that a grant of $400 be made for this year to the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society and a by-law be accordingly prepared.

Mr. Hall said the society was to have furnished the council with a statement of their expenditure on the park each year.

Mr. Mason favoured $500; the amount given a year or two ago. He moved, seconded by Mr. Brady, that this be the amount.

Mr. Cahill was in favour of economy and he thought this an excellent chance to practice this now. Some of those who talked about economy most should practice it.

Mr. Roger moved in amendment that this matter stay over until next meeting and that the society should favour the council with a statement of expenditure of grant as to how the money was used.

Mr. Hughes seconded the amendment to the amendment.

Mr. Roger's amendment was lost and Mr. Kelly's motion carried.

A DEPUTATION HEARD.

Messrs. Dumble and Cochrane were heard in reference to the petition presented by persons living in the north part of the town, near Dixon's property, north of Smith street, and asking for a sidewalk. A number of fine houses have been erected there, and $10,000 or $12,000 worth of assessable property had been added. It would cost about $75. The distance was not more than 1400 feet, and Aylmer street was the natural outlet.—Referred to Street and Bridge Committee.

TO SECURE PROSECUTIONS.

Moved by Mr. Roger, seconded by Mr. Sutton, that one-third of the fines and penalties received by this municipality for infractions of the Liquor License Act or of any bylaws passed in pursuance thereof, be set apart as a fund to secure prosecutions for the infractions of the said act or by-laws or either of them to be paid out from time to time as the chief of police may order, on his statement in writing that the amounts required have been or are to be paid for the purpose aforesaid to some person or persons not in the employment of the corporation. The actual payment thereof for the purpose aforesaid to be subsequently verified by statutory declaration to the satisfaction of the auditors, without necessarily disclosing the person or persons to whom the same was paid.

The motion was after some discussion referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Roger said the motion was in accordance with the statute which provides all corporations should set apart a portion of fines for prosecution, etc.

TO MEMORALIZE THE GOVERNMENT.

Moved by Mr. Roger, seconded by Mr. Kelly whereas the commissioners appointed by the Government thereon, having reported in favour of the Trent Valley Canal system, and whereas already large amounts have been expended therefor and the works partially constructed, and whereas the utility and value of the works already constructed largely depend upon the completion of the same, be it therefore resolved that this council urges upon the Dominion Government the necessity of making provision in this year's estimate for the placing of another section under construction and of perfecting the sections already constructed and that the members for this constituency be commissioned to present this subject to the government.—Carried.

TO CHECK LOAFING.

Moved by Mr. Best, seconded by Mr. White,—That a by-law be prepared by the town solicitor giving our police force greater power than they have under the present by-law with reference to loafers gathering in store doors and on street corners, making insulting remarks to ladies and others in passing.—Carried.

A SEWERAGE SCHEME.

Moved by Mr. Best, seconded by Mr. McElwain, that we think it advisable and prudent that the corporation of the town should undertake the immediate construction of an 18-inch outfall sewer connecting with the old George street sewer at King street and continuing along George and Lock streets to the river Otonabee, the cost of the construction to be provided for by issuing 25 or 30-year debentures. We would also recommend that the corporation of the town do issue debentures for a term of years to meet our consolidated town and school account deficit.

After some discussion Mr. Best allowed his motion to stand as a notice of motion, and the council adjourned at 11:30 o'clock.

TOWN SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

A Comparatively Small Attendance, Yet a Highly Successful Conference—Capital Addresses and Good Singing.

There was only a limited attendance at the Sunday school convention of Peterborough in St. Paul's church on Tuesday night. In the absence of the president, Rev. A. MacWilliams occupied the chair and conducted the opening devotional exercises.

MISSION WORK.

Miss Code opened the speaking by addressing herself to the "Home Mission Work of the Sunday School." The first essential in a teacher was a love for souls kindled by the love of God. In the work of teaching, a definite object should be aimed at and children should be urged to mission work for the good it would do to others, and not for the mere sake of work. The teacher should regard his or her class as a subject of mission work—subjects to be led to Christ and should plant the seed of truth in faith, even in the smallest hearts, trusting to God to bring forth fruit. To implant a love for missions, in youthful hearts, the child should be taught to show forth in itself the beauty of Christian life and then be instructed in the details of the mission work, and encouraged to pray for missions and to self-denial for mission work. In a word, teachers should strive to get children's hearts and induce a real love for the work. All teachers should make it a point to win souls to Christ.

Mr. W. F. Nelson sang a sacred solo with excellent effect.

Mrs. Kendry dealt with the relation of the Sunday school to foreign mission work. The church as well as individual members were realizing the importance of the mission work, but so far no decided enthusiasm had been awakened in the hearts of the children to the importance of missions. The duty of taking an interest in missions arose out of the command of God to that effect. An awakened interest in the cause of foreign missions would develop a deeper interest in home church work, and as the Sunday school comprised the future church workers, the more the children could be interested, the better workers would the church have. The Sunday school contained a diversity of talent, which could, with proper training, be moulded into useful material for foreign missionaries. After suggesting several means of increasing the interest in foreign missions in the Sunday school, Mrs. Kendry closed an excellent and practical address.

Mrs. Stapleton sang "Lead Kindly Light," in a very pleasing and sympathetic manner.

THE TRUE AIM.

Rev. Mr. Edwards, of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church, spoke on the subject of "The True Aim of a Successful Sunday School Teacher." Success was a grand good thing and all could have real success if we took the right means. But we often overlooked more important matters in the search for results. We should be more anxious to do our duty than to get results. It was more our duty to be followers of Jesus Christ than "fishers of men." If we followed Christ faithfully He would take care of the results. The true aim of the successful Sunday school teacher was to do God's will, as it was the true aim of human life. It was the best for us and others. A teacher with this aim would have a real interest in his class and would heartily prepare himself for his work and be diligent and punctual in attendance. The feeling of the true teacher should be that God had given him the work, that he was doing it for Christ. Christ the greatest teacher came to earth not to do His own will, but the Father's. The successful teacher should feel that he was sent of God to the work and that he loved those for whom he worked.

SCRIPTURE INTERPRETATION.

Rev. H. Symonds, of St. Luke's, Ashburnham, read a thoughtful and scholarly paper on the subject of the "Interpretation of Scripture." After defining the several meanings of interpretation the speaker referred to the multiplicity of commentaries to aid in the understanding of Scripture, as a proof of the immense difficulty of the task, a circumstance which taught the lesson that nothing good was to be gained without toil. The wealth of commentary also showed how rich a vein of wealth was available to the seacher after the gold of truth. The speaker proceeded to point out in detail the qualifications of an interpretater, one of which was to amplify and fill in the outlines, which the translation from the original constituted, urging the point that the Scriptures should be interpreted in the light of the Holy Spirit by whose direction they were written. It was an error to regard the Bible as a mere book of texts, for the division into texts formed no part of the plan of the writer, and no text could be truly interpreted without the aid of the context. And the Bible should not be regarded as a mere vehicle of doctrine, for on unscrupulous interpretation could prove almost any doctrine. The spiritual qualification was not sufficient—it was wise to employ the aid of earthly wisdom. In interpreting, the first aim should be to get at the true grammatical meaning of the passage, and next discover the circumstances that attended the writing of that portion. The importance of studying the context was specially insisted upon. This was an age of unusual Biblical activity, and while there was still great diversity of church practice there was in Scripture research and interpretation, practically Christian unity. The paper was full of practical hints and no condensation can do it even approximate justice.

During the offertory Misses Heubeck and Fowler sang a sacred duet with excellent blending of voices.

A hearty vote of thanks was moved by Rev. W. R. Young, seconded by Rev. C. W. Hedley, to those who had contributed the programme of the evening, both intellectual and musical.

Both mover and seconder made emphatic congratulatory remarks in support of the resolution, which was unaminously adopted.

Messrs. Clarke and Crane and Miss Grant supplied the several accompaniments.

The benediction by the chairman brought the meeting to a close.

SCRATCHED 28 YEARS

A Scaly, Itching, Skin Disease with Endless Suffering Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me $500.00 and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot not larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body, and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ring-worm, psoriasis, etc. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was $5 worth. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture (No. 2, page 67) in your book, "How to Cure Skin Diseases," but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and limbs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me.

ELECTION BY BALLOT.

Mr. Meredith Moves His Resolution in the Legislature.

IT IS DEFEATED ON DIVISION.

Hon. Mr. Ross Objects to the Opposition Bringing Up an Unneeded Resolution Destined Only to Create Ill-Feeling—Those Who Voted.

TORONTO, April 12.—In the Legislature yesterday Mr. Dack introduced a bill to amend the Municipal Act and Sir Oliver Mowat introduced a bill to facilitate the local administration of justice.

A bill respecting the town of Carleton Place, by Mr. Caldwell, was read a third time.

Election of School Trustees.

Mr. Meredith moved the following resolution: "That in the opinion of this House the election of Public and Separate School trustees in cities, towns and incorporated villages, and in townships in which township boards are established, should be by ballot; and that it be referred to a committee consisting of to prepare and report to the House, with all convenient speed, a bill to amend the Public and Separate School Act so as to provide that in cities, towns and incorporated villages, and in townships in which township boards are established, the elections of Public and Separate School trustees shall be by ballot."

Mr. Meredith reminded the House of the stand the Opposition had always taken on this question. A bill dealing with this question having been brought in by an hon. member (Mr. Conmee), the Opposition feel, therefore, called upon to definitely reaffirm its position in the matter. He had always upheld the principles embodied in the resolution, and in doing so he had been charged with bigotry and narrow mindedness. It was strange, indeed, that a man could not in this country express an opinion on a question of this kind without having such a charge as this preferred against him. We had long ago in this country done away with anything like a connection between church and state. Mr. Meredith then cited the Separate Schools Act of 1863, which embodied the system sanctioned by the B.N.A. Act, and was, therefore, put beyond the reach of the Legislature. He thought that a reasonable system to have adopted would have been that persons who on religious grounds did not wish to send their children to the public schools should, on giving evidence of having satisfactory private schools, have been exempted from taxation for public school purposes. Mr. Meredith thought the contention which had been put forward in 1890, that the question of the ballot was beyond the power of the Legislature, that open voting was an inalienable right of the Roman Catholice minority would bear examination.

Mr. Meredith supported his resolution to some length, setting forth the stand of the Opposition on the question and strongly defending the ballot for all schools alike, and the full control of the schools by the state.

Hon. G. W. Ross.

Hon. Mr. Ross said Mr. Meredith was raising a great question and one that would soon raise disturbance from which Ontario had already suffered much. Similar disturbances in the past, in England and Scotland and Ireland, had sadly interfered with the prosperity of these countries while they prevailed. By renewing those troubles here we should be following the worst examples in the history of the old countries. No one had ventured to endeavor to unlock the door of the past in this respect until the hon. gentleman had come into the House and thrown down the gauntlet in 1886. Before that year, in which Mr. Meredith had first enunciated this policy in the hope of capturing the support of a section of the Protestant party, the Roman Catholics of the Province had appeared to be, to a large extent, contented themselves with the Public Schools provided by the state. Mr. Ross went on to remind Mr. Meredith that in 1878 he had voted against the ballot. In 1882, he thought, he had voted for it. In 1885 he had acquiesced in the optional ballot, and did not even ask for a ballot for the separate schools, nor bring up the arguments about uniformity, which he had just uttered. In 1890 he had called for the compulsory ballot, and he was repeating this demand. On the question of the compulsory ballot, Mr. Ross observed that he knew of no cases of flagrant corruption or intimidation such as to make it necessary for the compulsory ballot for public schools; and the majority of public schools have not chosen to change to the ballot. Yet the hon. gentleman opposite, simply declaring arbitrarily that the time has come for the ballot, would force upon the separate schools a compulsory ballot which the majority of public schools have not adopted, and which the supporters of the separate schools have not demanded.

Mr. Ross quoted several extracts from the Mail previous to the elections of 1886, then the Opposition organ, in which many strong expressions were used in reference to the Roman Catholic Church, contending that they showed the spirit that then existed among those who asked for the ballot.

Mr. A. F. Wood.

Mr. Wood followed for the Opposition. He thought it rather strange that the Opposition could not bring up the school law for discussion without being talked to in the absurd way adopted by the Minister of Education. He also repudiated any disposition on the part of the Opposition to set themselves against the Roman Catholic population of the province, and declared it was most unfair such charges should be so persistently made against the Conservative party. Mr. Wood then referred to the election of 1890, and complained that the impression had been sedulously spread that the Conservatives were trying to hurt the Catholics. It was false and groundless, and yet he could not get a fair discussion of the case; everywhere he had been met with that statement. He thought that there were many more Catholics who desired the ballots that Hon. Mr. Ross would have the House believe; he could instance a case very near his own home where great bitterness had been caused in a Roman Catholic community by the forcing of a Separate School upon them, and where, he thought, the ballot would have been of great benefit. He desired again to protest against Hon. Mr. Ross' speech and to his course in trying to raise a false cry against the Opposition.

The Division.

After recess the members of the House were called in and the House divided on Mr. Meredith's motion, which was defeated as follows:

Yeas—Barr (Dufferin), Bush, Campbell (Algoma), Campbell (Durham), Clancy, Dack, Fell, Glendinning, Godwin, Hammell, Hiscott, Hudson, Kerns, McCallum, McCleary, McColl, Magwood, Marter, Meacham, Meredith, Miscambell, Monk, Preston, Reid, Rorke, Ryerson, Smith (Frontenac), Tooley, White, Whitney, Willoughby, Wood (Hastings), Wylie—33.

Nays—Allan, Awrey, Balfour, Barr (Renfrew), Baxter, Bishop, Blezard, Bronson, Caldwell, Carpenter, Charlton, Clarke (Lanark), Cleland, Conmee, Davis, Dowling, Dryden, Evanturel, Ferguson, Field, Fraser, Gibson (Hamilton), Gibson (Huron), Gilmour, Harcourt, Hardy, Harty, Kirkwood, Lockhart, Longhrin, McKay (Oxford), McKay (Victoria), McKechnie, McMahon, Mack, Mackenzie, Moore, Mowat, O'Connor, Paton, Robillard, Ross, Sharpe, Smith (York), Smith (Peel), Sprague, Stratton, Tait, Waters, Wood (Brant)—51.

The division accounted for 84 members in a total of 91. The seven absentees consisted of four Ministerialists, Messrs. Guthrie, Garrow, Biggar and Rayside; one Conservative, Mr. E. F. Clarke, of Toronto, and Mr. McNaughton, the Patron of Industry. The only transfer of allegiance was in the case of Mr. Dack, who voted with the Opposition. The Equal Rights representative and the P. P. A. representative also supported the Opposition. The result of the division was received with applause on the Government side of the House.

Mr. White's bill respecting police magistrates was read a second time.

Newspaper Libel Law.

The bill respecting the newspaper libel law was next taken up in committee. Hon. Mr. Hardy remarked that there was a difficulty with regard to having the bill apply to newspapers published outside the province and thought that it was best to make the law applicable only to papers in Ontario. Mr. Meredith wanted papers published outside the province and circulated in it placed on the same basis as those published in the province. However, the clause was passed as it stood.

The House adjourned.

THIS WILL BE A BIG STRIKE.

Three Hundred Thousand Miners Will Shortly Be in Idleness.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 12.—The following resolution was unanimously adopted by the National Miners convention yesterday:

"Resolved, that on and after 12 o'clock noon, Saturday, April 21, 1894, no coal shall be mined in any state or territory where the organization has control until authorized by the national officers or executive board."

This will throw 300,000 men in idleness, and will no doubt be the most stupendous strike of coal miners this country has ever seen. Indiana delegates objected to the early date, for the reason that they are under contract to work at present rates to May 1, but they waived their objections when it was announced that the operators had already broken the contract in the Linton district.

Canada's Trade With Britain.

LONDON, April 12.—The Board of Trade returns which have just been published show a continued and remarkable increase of British imports from Canada. The figures for March show an increase of £91,520, equal to 5.76 per cent. as compared with the corresponding period of last year. For the first three months of the year the returns show that the imports from Canada have increased £201,498, equal to 1.58 per cent. Wheat increased during the quarter $243,000, bacon $45,000, cheese $115,000, fish $610,000, wood $120,000. During the quarter there were no eggs, butter or metals imported. Exports to Canada during the three months decreased 32 per cent. and during the month of March 39 per cent.

Manchester Market.

MANCHESTER, April 12.—The Guardian, in its commercial article, says: "Only a minimum amount of business has been executed and the slackness of the demand has caused a limited stoppage of machinery. There is some talk of a further stoppage, but it is not likely to be very extensive. Unless the prices of silver and exchange recover a general reduction of prices seems inevitable. There has been little change in yarns. There have been some home trade orders for American cops and also for Egyptians, the transactions generally being on buyers' terms.

Three Months for Assaulting the Parson.

HAMILTON, April 12.—Chris Moody, the York street jeweler, was sentenced to three months in Central prison by Magistrate Jelfs for assaulting and doing bodily harm to the Rev. E. M. Bland, rector of Christ church cathedral, on Saturday last.

Chicago Market.

CHICAGO, April 12. Wheat yesterday was weak on the Government crop report. Cables also were lower. May closed with a net loss of 2¼ cents for the day. Oats were lower, closing with a net loss of ¼ cent for the day. Provisions were also weak. May pork closed 37½ cents lower.

Discovered a New Comet.

KIEL, April 11.—A bright comet with a tail was discovered by Prof. Holmes, of London, April 9, near the stars Phi and Chi of the Dragon.

Snow in New York State.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., April 14.—The ground and forests throughout Genesee valley are now under about six inches of sleet and heavy snow.

GIVEN A RED HOT BATH

Sixty Workmen Covered by a Mass of Molten Steel.

FOUR MEN BADLY BURNED.

The Men Were at Work in a Pit When a Vessel Containing 9,000 Pounds of White Hot Metal Broke, Precipitating the Contents Upon Them.

POMEROY, Ohio, April 12.—A terrible accident occurred yesterday at the steel plant of King, Gilbert & Warner at Middleport, two miles below this city, by which 10 men were badly and 20 others slightly burned by the upsetting of a mass of molten metal.

Four of the injured will die.

The men were preparing to pour a large vessel containing 9,000 pounds of molten steel when the apparatus for moving the vessel broke, precipitating the molten mass into the pit where about 60 men were at work.

A fearful explosion followed and the white hot metal flew in all directions.

U. S. TARIFF BILL AND CANADA.

Senator Hale Says the Bill as it Stands Destroys Annexation Prospects.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—In the course of Senator Hale's speech in the Senate yesterday on the tariff bill an illusion to Canada waked up some discussion of the question of Canadian annexation. In closing up the discussion on that point, Mr. Hale said:

"Without any condition or reciprocity this bill gives up every partiale of protection which farmers and others on this side of the border now have for the benefit of the Canadian farmer, and thereby postponses indefinitely any prospect of annexation. The moment that the Canadians get what they want by a Democratic free trade tariff that moment the annexation sentiment dies out and we may look to see as the legitimate result of this bill, if it passes and is maintained for the next few years, the dying out of the annexation sentiment in the other side and the American people will find themselves confronted with a rival, perhaps hostile, Dominion all along our entire northern border."

ALL HANDS LOST.

Wreck of a Vessel in a Storm Off Sandy Hook.

SANDY HOOK, N.J., April 12.—During the heavy gale here yesterday a schooner went ashore at Sqnan and rapidly went to pieces.

None of the bodies of the schooner's crew have been recovered. Six men went down with the bowsprit, one man swam ashore and stood up in the underrow, but was knocked down by the breakers and carried back into the sea and lost; one man went down with the mast and held on to a rope for nearly half an hour, then let go and sank.

The wrecked schooner was the Albert W. Smith, Capt. Derry, from Philadelphia for Providence.

The whole beach from Seabright for three miles north is under water.

PRISON FOR LIFE.

The Man Richardson Sentenced for Beating His Wife to Death.

CHATHAM, April 12.—H. Richardson, charged with the murder of his wife, was tried here yesterday. The jury brought in a verdict of manslaughter. He was sentenced to imprisonment for life. His lawyer, W. J. Elliott, of Toronto, made a powerful appeal in his defence.

To Improve Montreal Harbor.

Montreal, Que., April 12.—Montreal shipping circles are considerably excited over the new harbor improvement proposals made by the harbor commissioners. It is proposed to borrow the sum of $4,000,000 to put the harbor in Montreal in first-class shape. The harbor opposite the city will be greatly improved, great wharves will be built at Maisonneuve, the eastern portion of the harbor, and an immense inland basin will be constructed at Hochelaga. By this means the danger to navigation from St. Mary's current will be done away with and the largest ocean vessels will be able to enter the harbor in safety. The Government is expected to defray a portion of the cost of these works and a deputation has been appointed by the harbor board to go to Ottawa and secure power from the Government to borrow the money required.

Ancaster Man Murdered in Michigan.

HAMILTON, April 12.—A letter was received here from Mud Lake, Allene county, Michigan, stating that a portion of the body of a man supposed to be Mr. Steves, of Ancaster, had been found in a swamp in Northern Michigan. The body was fearfully mutilated, and in a pocket of the clothing was a letter with indistinct address which looked like: "Steves, lot 77 concession 4, Ancaster township, Ont." Further particulars show that his name is W. D. Steves, of Ancaster. He was a member of No. 4 Company, 77th Batt., and during last winter he lived with a son-in-law named Hines in Hamilton. Early in February he left here for the west and had not been heard from since. Steves was very steady and had no bad habits. It is probable he was murdered for his money.

Magee Held for Trial.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The examination of Lawyer Joseph T. Magee, charged with the murder of Miss Martha J. Fuller, was concluded yesterday. Magee was held, without bail, to await the action of the grand jury.

Two Women Charged With Murder.

RUTLAND, Vt. April 12.—A sensation has been caused in Burlington by the arrest of Mrs. Ellie Whalen and Mrs. Alfred Fournier for the alleged murder of Alfred Fournier in that city on October 14, 1893.

Another Strike in Paterson.

PATERSON, N.J., April 10.—Seven hundred employes of the Dolphin jute mill asked for an advance of 10 per cent. in their wages.

Holland Government Defeated.

THE HAGUE, April 12.—The Government has been defeated in the general elections by a large majority.

WEST PETERBOROUGH LIBERAL CONVENTION.

The friends and supporters of the Mowat Administration are reminded of the Liberal Convention and mass meeting, which will be held in the Opera House, Peterborough, on Wednesday, April 18th, beginning at one o'clock p.m. The object of the gathering being to nominate a candidate and to listen to the discussion of public questions, it is important that there shouuld be a large attendance of the electors. In a short time the present Ontario Legislature will be dissolved, and in due course a general election will be held. Under these circumstances particular importance will attach to the discussion of public issues upon which the coming contest will be fought. The speakers will, in addition to the candidate and the other local supporters of the Government, be Hon. R. Harcourt, Provincial Treasurer, and Mr. Charles Mackenzie, M.P.P., brother of the late Alex. Mackenzie. It is to be hoped that there will be a large attendance of the friends and supporters of the Mowat Administration and the electors generally, for these gentlemen are eminently qualified, by political experience and gifts of oratory, to discuss the important public questions of the day in a manner to set forth their merits in the clearest light. Remember the date of the convention, Wednesday, April 18th.

THE PETERBOROUGH MILLING COMPANY.

Their Mill Property, Power and Plant Knocked down Wednesday Afternoon to Mr. John Carnegie for $57,000.

The advertised sale of the model new flour mill, woollen mill, saw mill, power house and extensive water power and lands—all belonging to the Peterborough Milling Company were sold on Wednesday afternoon by public auction on the property. Mr. John Haggart was the capable auctioneer. There was a large attendance of capitalists, speculators and influential citizens, not only from Peterborough but from Lindsay and other places The bidding was quite lively. Among those present were Messrs. T. G. Hazlitt, Thos. Bradburn, T. E. Bradburn, Wm. Cluxton, W. H. Cluxton, John Carnegie, D. Ullyott, C. McGill, D. W. Dumble, W. J. Hall, J. R. Dundas, Lindsay; Flavelle Bros., Lindsay; M. Hamilton, Warkworth; H. A. Mulhern, Mayor Kendry, R. M. Dennistoun and others. Mr. Dennistoun had charge of the sale. The bidding started by Mr. W. J. Hall offering $25,000 for the mill site, property and plant; Mr. John Carnegie raised it to $30,000; Mr. Thos. Bradburn jumped to $35,000; Mr. Carnegie went $40,000; Mr. Bradburn, $41,000; Mr. Carnegie, $42,000; Mr. Hazlitt, $43,000; Mr. Carnegie, $44,000; Mr. Bradburn, $45,000; Mr. Carnegie, $46,000; Mr. Hazlitt, $47,000; Mr. Carnegie, $49,000; Mr. Bradburn, $50,000; Mr. Carnegie, $51,000; Mr. Bradburn, $52,000; Mr. Carnegie, $52,500; Mr. Bradburn, $53,000: Mr. Carnegie, $53,500; Mr. Bradburn, $54,000; Mr. Carnegie, $55,000; Mr. Bradburn, $55,500; Mr. Carnegie, $56,000; Mr. Bradburn $56,500, and Mr. Carnegie made the knock down bid of $57,000. The property being sold en bloc.

"Grin Like a Cheshire Cat."

"Well, well! Didn't ever hear of a 'grin like a Cheshire cat?' Why, you see a man down in Cheshire had a cat which grinned and grinned until there was nothing left of the cat but the grin, just as some scrofulous people, who don't know of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, get a cough, and then cough and cough until there is nothing left of them to erect a monument to but the cough."

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the most effective, anti-bilious, anti-dyspeptic, strength-giving remedy extant. For weak lungs, lingering coughs, spitting of blood, scrofula, sores, pimples and ulcers, it is a wonderful and efficacious remedy.

Its manufacturers guarantee it to do all that they claim, or money is returned.

Mr. T. Drain has commenced the erection of a double store on the skating rink lot. One store will be occupied by R. M. Frederick as a general store and the other by F. H. Harper as a furniture shop.

Mr. John Hill is building a new house on George street.

Mr. A. V. Fuller has built a new platform in front of his store.

Mr. Jas. Marks has built a new varandah to his house and also a new fence.

The editor of the Marmora Advocate was in Havelock on Friday last prospecting about removing his plant to Havelock.

While two young men from Norwood were driving between here and Treat Bridge on Sunday last they ran over Mrs. Huston, an aged woman, who was walking on the road and did not hear the vehicle coming until she was knocked down. Mr. Huston was seriously but not dangerously hurt.

While one of Havelock's young men was out driving on Monday evening he was run into by a team on the Narrows bridge and nearly upset into the river.

A NERVOUS WOMAN.

Her Life is a Miserable One—What Science Has Done to Afford Her Relief.

Scientists call this a nervous generation, a generation of watery blood and weakness, and not without reason. In proof of this statement they point to the paleness of the women of to-day and contrast it with the ruddy, healthful colour of the vigiourous woman of a few decades ago.

The term "nervousness" does not, as many suppose, only cover a special affliction of the nervous system, but may signify a whole group of disorders. Weakness of the nerves may be produced by various causes, such as a debilated condition of the entire system, irregularity of the functions, constipation, impoverished or vitiated blood, torpid and sluggish liver, fickle appetite, impaired digestion, and various other causes seemingly small, but all tending to derange the nervous system and undermine the health. Any of these conditions may be actuated, especially in women, by overwork, worry, care, excitement and many of the natural accompaniments of a womau's life. Every muscle and organ seems to lose its energy and strength; ambition and vigour fly away and a languid, half-rested condition takes its place. Headache, dizziness, aching limbs, billousness, insomnia, are all forwarnings of a general breaking down of the health. Sadly numerous as such cases are, the knowledge of modern medical science has so far advanced that the enemy may be dethroned and good health restored.

Truthfully has it been said and acknowledged that no better means of accomplishing the desired result has been discovered than the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Pale People. This medicine is without doubt the most effectual household remedial agent ever compounded—an unrivalled health restorer. It first purifies and enriches the blood reorganizes and gives strength to the disordered and weakened parts; sets in operation all the sources of nature necessary to functional activity. Its good influences are felt in every nerve, muscle and organ, and the improvement continues until the apex of perfect health is reached. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are surely the greatest boom medical science ever offered to woman. These pills are especially valuable at this season of the year when even the most robust system requires a blood-purifying tonic to restore it to its normal condition after a trying season of indoor life.

Seizing Anarchist Lists.

CADIZ, April 13.—The police have seized a number of subscription lists, which have been secretly circulated with a view of obtaining assistance in causing an anarchist uprising. It is expected a large number of arrests will result from the disclosure of names, many of which are well-known persons.

Another Cyclone in Kansas.

EMPORIA, Kan., April 12.—A cyclone swept through Coffey county, south-east of here, doing great damage to farm houses and crops and killing considerable stock. The damage is estimated at $60,000. Several persons were injured.

"Six days shalt thou labor," says the lawgiver. To do good work, man must be at his best. This condition is attained by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It overcomes that tired feeling, quickens the appetite, improves digestion, and makes the weak strong.

Worthless Pianos and Organs

Are made in large quantities, because foolish people buy where prices are lowest, without giving a thought to quality. Any one who thinks, will not buy a "Piano at $170, or an Organ at $80, guaranteed for nineteen years," because it is cheap. Any one who thus thinks will avoid learning by experience that it would have been cheaper to pay, say $300, for his piano.

We can furnish an Organ for $80, but we will not. We live here and have to "face the music" this year and other years to come.

NORWOOD NEWS NOTES.

(From Our Own Correspondent

We regret to learn that Mrs. J. Davidson has been very ill for the past two weeks. She is improving, however.

Rev. T. F. Fotheringham, of St. Johns, N.B., preached on Sunday last in the Presbyterian church. In the afternoon he gave an address on the "Boys' Brigade Movement." The rev. gentleman was formerly a very popular pastor here, and his visit gave great pleasure to his many friends.

We are sorry that we made an error last week in saying that Rev. W. R. Young, of Peterborough, would preach in the Methodist church here on Sunday, April 8th. He will preach educational sermons here on April 15th.

A meeting of the High School football association was held last week and arrangements were made for the grand tournament to be held here on the Queen's birthday. It was decided to invite a number of teams, among them Allandale, Peterborough, Havelock, Lakefield, the Norwood village team and others to take part. Four teams have already entered and a fine day of sport is expected.

On Tuesday evening of last week a meeting was held for the purpose of organizing a village football team. Following are the officers elected:

Hon. Presidents—Reeve and councillors.
President—B. Hendren.
Vice-President—T. Graham.
Captain—W. Eaton.
Secretary-Treasurer—A. Finlay.
Curator—E. Scott.
Committee — L. Kirkpatrick, W. Cameron, H. Andrews, E. McKay, and J. Williams.

The boys intend to enter the tournament on the 24th May and to make an attempt to wrest the silver cup from the High School club.

It is reported that our Mechanics' Institute has been closed on account of pecuniary difficulties. The directors have been working hard for some time to set the Institute on a firm basis, but they cannot rouse any interest whatever among the people. It is shameful that a live Ontario town of the size of Norwood cannot support this cheap but great educational institution, though no doubt the prevailing hard times contribute much to the bringing about of this misfortune.

SCHOOL BOARD.

The regular meeting of the Board of Education was held on Monday evening. The following members present: Messrs. W. E. Roxburgh, chairman; W. H. Stephenson, secretary-treasurer; T. Fraser, W. H. Brethen, J. Raddon, T. Rork, A. R. Anderson, P. W. Reynolds, Wm. Webster and Dr. Pettigrew. A communication was read from Mr. F. E. Perney, Principal of the Public School, asking for some supplies for the school.—Referred to Supply Committee. The report of the action of the executive committee in the matter of the complaint of Mr. Burley re the punishment of his child, and was adopted. The chairman then read the report of the high school inspector. A copy is given below. Moved by Dr. Pettigrew, seconded by W. H. Brethen, that the report be adopted, and that the principal prepare a synopsis for publication. Moved by Mr. Brethen, seconded by Mr. Webster that the caretaker be under the supervision of the principals of the high and public schools. At this point the account of R. J. Stewart was brought up and a very hot discussion took place, after which it was moved by Dr. Pettigrew that the Board hold a meeting in two weeks to receive the report of the committee appointed at the January meeting in reference to this account. The following accounts were, on the motion of Mr. Stephenson, seconded by Dr. Pettigrew, referred to the Finance Committee, to be paid if found correct: P. A. Minaker, $4.75; R. J. Stewart, $6; J. Chandler, jr., $1; M. P. Williams, $7; R. W. Waters & Son, 5lc.; Roxburgh & Rork, $8.80. Moved by Mr. Anderson, seconded by Mr. Fraser, that the Property Committee be instructed to have arrangements for heating the teachers' room. The meeting adjourned.

THE INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

We give below a copy of the report of Inspector Seath as presented at the last meeting of the School Board:—

I. Accommodations—Water closets, I; water supply, II; school grounds, II; school buildings, II; class rooms, I; hall's I; waiting rooms, III; cap rooms, II; teachers' private rooms, 0 desks, II; blackboards, I; lighting, II; heating, I; ventilation, I.

Since I last inspected this school the Board has erected a new building, which is in most respects an excellent one. In some respects however, it has not yet been finished. (The necessary improvements have been made since by the Board).

2—EQUIPMENT.

	Value date of last inspection.	Present Value.
Library	$297 25	$326 15
Apparatus	203 40	210 30
Maps, Globes, etc	5 00	5 00

3.—ORGANIZATION.

1. Subjects not taught—Zoology, trigonometry. Drill, in winter.
2. Provisions made for teaching:—
(a) Writing—Sufficient.
(b) Reading—Sufficient in Form I; insufficient in Form II. This defect the principal will remedy forthwith.
(c) Drill—None in winter.
(d) Other subjects: (2) Division of duties among teachers; and (3) Ratio of pupils to teachers—As satisfactory as can be expected with a staff for which the attendance has been too large. The present two lower forms should be divided into three. In Form I there are 52 pupils taught together in all but two subjects. Half had been in the school before last September.

4.—CHARACTER OF TEACHING.

English—Principal I; assistants II.
Mathematics, I.
Science, I-II.
Classics, I.
French and German, II.
Commercial, I-II.
Drawing—Not inspected.
Reading, II.

5—MISCELLANEOUS.

1. Staff—All legally qualified.
2. Discipline—Very satisfactory.
3. Attendance—All duly admitted.
4. Text books—All authorized.
5. Registers (daily)—Satisfactory. (General)—Satisfactory.
6. Supplementary reading—Provision satisfactory.
7. Character of pupils' work in Forms I and II in (a) reading—There is room for improvement in this subject. (b) Writing—(1) Last class of entrants, fair; (2) other pupils, some good, most fair. (c) Primary examinations, June, 1893, book-keeping, amount and standard, satisfactory.

The attendance has increased very largely since my last visit. In very few others is the general tone so good—a condition due to the energy and ability of the principal. I trust that the board may be in a position before long to increase the staff and thus provide for thoroughly efficient work in the lower forms and for advanced work in all departments.

Steamer Newfoundland in Hard Luck.

HALIFAX, April 12.—The following despatch was received from Cow Bay, N.S.: "A man named J. Hedlin, a sealer from the steamer Newfoundland, reached Cow Bay to-day, having travelled a distance of four miles over heavy drift ice in Mira Bay in order to reach the shore. He succeeded by jumping and crawling on hands and knees. He reports the ship off Scatarie since Thursday last, with only one blade of propeller, and trying to work her way through the ice to Cow Bay or North Sydney to land the crew. They have had very poor luck all through, getting only 7,400 pelts north, and saw only five seals on the passage from St. John's to Scatarie Island.

Toronto Printer Shot in Chicago.

TORONTO, April 12.—Dennis Coffee, a printer, whose relatives reside in this city, while out walking in Chicago with his employer, Henry Turner, and two young women, received a bullet in the neck, which may prove fatal. Turner and one of the women began to quarrel about the attention paid to some other man, when the former drew a revolver and threatened to use it. Coffee interfered, when the angry man turned on him and pulled the trigger. The bullet entered Coffee's chin and lodged in his neck. Turner was arrested.

Brazil Offends Argentine.

MONTEVIDEO, April 12.—When the Brazilian refugees escaped last Sunday from the Portuguese warships at Buenos Ayres, De Gama refused to leave the Mindello. The Albuerque pursued one of the rescuing vessels, the Carbonero o, an Argentine craft, and by force of arms took from her 250 of the escaped Brazilian refugees. They were bound for Rio Grande city to rejoin Mello. Argentine officials feel indignant at this action, which they regard as an insult to their flag.

Kabba Rega Taught a Lesson.

LONDON, April 12.—The Government is in receipt of information from Uganda, dated December 7, that the forces of King Kabba Rega of Unyoro had been attacked by the forces of the British East Africa Company, commanded by Major Owen, and defeated after three hours fight. Kabba Rega's forces were routed and left fifty dead behind.

A Spring Overcoat is a good investment.

BECAUSE—

It's a stylish comfort, not only for the Spring season but also a most stylish and comfortable garment for cool days and nights through the summer, and for summer touring and outing wear generally.

Why

Some Suits are made merely to sell.

BECAUSE—

They don't fit and you know it. They look ungainly, but you're persuaded that they're "the height of fashion." Smart salesman did all the talking, and you—well, you did'nt like to go out without buying something after putting him to all that trouble. A week and the trousers were "riding up," the vest in ridges and the coat declining to get within two inches of your collar, and you wonder how you came to buy the plaguey thing. You won't do it again.

If you want to be fitted to perfection with Stylish Clothing cut by the people's cutter, and made to measure in good taste, look no farther than Comfort In .. Corsets.

The physical discomfort endured by ladies who have to wear an ill-fitting pair of Corsets is a punishment that need not be borne any longer.

FIRST.—Avoid all dealers who carry old stock so long that they are forced to reduce the price of their "torture packs" to the bare cost of the material in order to get rid of them; or who send out girls totally ignorant of the harm they do by taking measures regardless of the form or figure.

SECOND.—Consult MRS. ENSIGN at her private parlours on Simcoe St., who will personally fit you with a pair of Corsets conducive to health and comfort, and will give you just exactly the support and beauty of figure you so much need and admire.

A Government BOMBSHELL

THROWN INTO THE

LIFE INSURANCE CAMP!

The following statement comes from the government Blue Book. It covers a period of sixteen years, and is sworn to as correct by representatives of each Company:

Statement of Premiums received and Cash Profits paid back to Policy Holders from 1877 to 1892, both years inclusive:—

COMPANY.	Premiums Received.	Dividends Paid to Policy Holders.	Ratio of Dividends to Premiums, %
CANADA LIFE	$16,368,307	$2,946,468	18.16
Confederation Life	6,166,432	637,925	10 35
North American	2,327,082	32,857	1.41
Ontario Mutual	3,878,086	433,284	11.17
Sun Life	5,527,720	355,280	6.42

Never in the history of Life Insurance has the struggle for business been keener. Never has the conflict been hotter. Never have the Companies felt as they feel now, the necessity for throwing all the energy at their command into the field. The most intelligent and best men have to be employed. All kinds of plans of insurance are submitted. Each Company determined in securing the supremacy in the good will of the public, in establishing their name, the utterance of which, shall convey to the minds of the people the essential characteristics of

UNDOUBTED SECURITY,
RIGID ECONOMY,
GOOD INVESTMENTS,
LARGEST PROFITS

WHY?

Because millons of dollars are being paid annually for Life Insurance, and the Companies that can show these features have attained a position which will guarantee their future success, for money will flow freely into the best investments.

The Canada Life Policy Holders can look at the above statement with a smile of satisfaction, yet sympathise with their friends who are not so favourably situated.

They can throw their Life Policies down in the face of opponents and successfully challenge the production of more profitable policies, they can stand the onslaught of Agents who will almost cover them with literature and estimates of Tontine, Semi-Tontine, Return Premiums, Reserved Dividends, Annuity and Endownment plans of insurance, and with a quiet assurance feel that

As The Canada Life is Making the Most Profits, She Can Pay the Largest Profits.

READER. If you want Life Insurance choose the Canada Life and join the throng of contented policy holders who are insured with the Company carrying about 45 per cent. of the total insurance in force of the above named Companies

It's Not So

Notwithstanding reports to the contrary, still it is not true that Short Stop cures a cold too quickly. The fact is, Short Stop cures nautrally and without nauseating the stomach, by acting promptly on the bronchial tubes and lungs. For sale by Jas. Lynch, druggist, 168 Hunter street.

JESS, the renowned Optical Specialist (formerly of New York) and inventor of the Rescherche Optometer, for pointing out every disease and defect of the eye and sight, will be at Clarke & Gibson's, jewelers, on the 23rd, 24th and 25th inst. The first and only optician in Canada making the grinding and fitting of complicated lenses for the eye a specialty. Cures granulation and inflammation of the lids, long-standing headaches, supposed neuralgia, and straightens cross-eye without an operation. Consultation and examination of the eye and sight free of charge.

Their Annual Spring Scraping.

Street Inspector Pope has his hands full. This morning at seven o'clock a large gang of men with shovels commenced at the southern end of George street to give the main business avenue its annual spring scraping and cleaning. The t eam is also at work with a scraper. The thirty or forty men employed made good progress and when bereft of the refuse and winter's accumulation of refuse and filth an improved general appearance of the town will result. As soon as the work on George street is completed Simcoe, Hunter, Water, Charlotte, Aylmer and other thickly travelled streets will receive attention. The debris will be carted to Spaulding's Bay. Many people thought the street cleaning should have been commenced sooner, but it was impossible on account of the varying temperature and the fact that the frost was not out of the ground.

Last Night's Production.

A large house greeted the production of the great romantic melo-drama, "Master and Man,' at the Opera House last evening. The play is an interesting and well developed one, and attracts and holds the attention of the audience throughout the five acts. There is just enough sparkling of the humourous element to relieve the seriousness and suspense of some of the mightier episodes in connection with the history of the events. The leading parts were faithfully and conscientiously taken by Mr. Gus Reynolds, as the unscrupulous and villanious "Humpy Logan," master of the Carleton iron works, and Miss Josie Mills, who fully sustained her excellent reputation last night. The singing was catchy and was well received, while the support rendered the two leading artists was above mediocrity and was well balanced. The scenic effects lent realism and force to the play, especially the vivid furnace scene of the Carleton Iron works in full blast during the fourth act. On the whole, "Master and Man" gave splendid satisfaction.

PERSONAL.

Rev. C. B. Kenrick has returned to town after an absence of several days.

Messrs. A. J. Kerr and J. P. Ryley, of Lindsay, are guests at the Oriental.

Mr. Maggie Ferris, of Campbellford, is visiting Miss Hawley, Charlotte street.

Mr. Will Garrett paid Peterborough a business visit on Monday.—Tweed News.

Mr. John Holmes, proprietor of the Burleigh Falls summer resort hotel, Stony Lake, is in town to-day

Miss Wynne, of Peterborough, daughter of Mr. Chas. Wynne, is attending the High school here.—Campbellford Herald.

Messrs. E. J. Salisbury, Dominion Express Company, and P. G. Bromley, travelling auditor, C.P.R., are in town to-day.

Mr. Daniel M. Spence, of Toronto, has engaged with Mr. A. A. McIntyre, builder and contractor, town, for this season. He comes with good recommendations from the city.

Mr. Alfred G. Harrington, advance agent for "True Irish Hearts," which appears at the opera house here on Tuesday night next, was in town yesterday, registered at the Central.

Mr. C. K. Calhoun, of Lindsay, to whom the Board af Directors of the Y. M. C. A. extended an invitation to become general secretary here, has written stating that he is unable to accept the position. He is desirous of completing his studies at the Lindsay Collegiate Institute.

Mr. J. W. T. Fairweather, of Fairweather & Co., was in town one day last week. He purchased 448 muskrat skins and some other furs. Messrs. Fairweather & Co. are among the heaviest handlers of furs in Ontario, and an enormous business is done, both at Peterborough and Lindsay, in their establishments.—Watchman.

At an adjourned vestry meeting in new St. Paul's church, Woodstock, held on Monday night, the Sentinel-Review in its report of the proceedings says : A resolution was passed expressing regret at the departure of Mr. Wm. Hayden, (our new G. T. R. station agent), from the congregation, commending him for his services rendered to the church, and ordering that a suitable address and gift be presented to him in token of the appreciation in which he was held.

The Lindsay Watchman contains the following personals of local interest :—Lieut. Frank Matthews, of Peterborough, spent Sunday under the parental roof and gave us a friendly call....Sergeant-Major Martin was in Peterborough on Saturday, where he met Sergt.-Major Peters, of the 57th Battalion, and the two fought their battles o'er again....Miss Lottie McWilliams, who has been visiting at Peterborough for some weeks, returned home on Saturday....Mr. J. W. T. Fairweather, of Fairweather & Co., Peterborough and Lindsay, was in town on Thursday....Mr. A. Murty, Peterborough's cigar manufacturer, was here on a business trip last week. Anthony always makes a sale; if one is to be made.....Mrs. Barnard and Miss Alice McLaughlin, of Oakwood, were visiting Peterborough friends last week.

LADIES when deciding where to buy your new spring bonnet or hat, remember Mrs. Cassidy's millinery store, No. 423 George street, next the EXAMINER office.

Telfordian Temperature Topics.

Thursday, April 12.

More frosty nights and fine days. At this morning's observation the self-registering thermometer indicated 31° above zero.—THOS. TELFORD.

Miss Jenkins' clearing sale of fancy goods, etc., will continue for a few weeks' longer, at greater reduced prices than ever. Splendid bargains still to be had.

About Ended.

The annual stock-taking sale at China Hall is about ended, as it closes on the 20th inst. While it lasts you can buy anything in the immense stock at cost price, and in the case of slightly damaged or mismatched goods, for half price. We have some splendid bargins left, call and inspect.—MACFARLANE WILSON.

Fine Furniture.

A Clegg shows in his window to-day a very rich and serviceable parlour suite. It is a large five-piece Turkish suite, covered in fine Turcoman rugs, the pattern and colouring of which are decidedly Oriental, the rugs are made of fine velvet, and differ very much from the coarse carpet we have been accustomed to see on rug parlour suites.

Irondale and Bancroft R. R. Extension.

Mr. G. W. Ranney, C. E., left by C. P. R. express to-day for Maberly, a station on the C. P. R. a few miles east of Sharbot Lake Junction with the K. & P. R. R. From this he will make an exploratory survey of the district between Maberly and Bancroft with a view of locating a line for the extension of the Irondale and Bancroft R. R. to join the C. P. R. at Maberly. It will be remembered that the I. & B.R.R. is built and running for about 20 miles east of Irondale and the new survey is to secure a line to give the road an outlet by the C.P.R. Mr. Ranney's explortary survey will be followed by the location of the line.

New Street Railway Car.

Mr. W. Buller was engaged in unloading at the G.T.R. station yard a new car, which arrived to-day from Ottawa for the Street Railway Company. The new car, No. 8, is a summer car. It is built very much like a trailer, but with the difference that the trucks are heavier, and it is to be provided with motors of its own. Though it is an open car, it is provided with handsome blue and white stripe automatic curtains, for protecting passengers from the sun or from showers. It will be placed upon the line as soon as the weather permits. The new car is finely finished and is a handsome addition to the rolling stock of the company. It was tracked at 3.30 this afternoon.

Another Deadly Missle.

Human ingenuity is in these days directed with special energy towards the improvement of the means of killing people—and, in so far as the improvement of means of destruction tends to make war too dangerous a game to be played, such ingenuity should be encouraged. Some weeks ago the EXAMINER published a description of the terrible death-dealing cannon ball of Mr. C. B. Smith, town. Since that time Mr. Smith has perfected another invention—a self-firing rifle ball. Its effect in brief, is to double the work of a single bullet. It seems to be something entirely new and is quite distinct from an explosive bullet. In general appearance it is not unlike an ordinary rifle ball. The new bullet can be made of steel or nickel pointed, and can be used in an ordinary rifle. This ball when it strikes an individual or object, by some interior arrangement, refires itself, sending another and necessarily smaller bullet with great force in the same direction, with equally destructive effect as the first. Thus it has possibilities of destruction that render it a most formidable missle. This bullet is perfectly safe to handle, there being no possibility of the contained charge exploding till an object is hit. This is said to be the only self-firing rifle ball ever made, and changes the old proverb, "Every bullet has its billet," for this particular bullet has two billets—after killing its man it fires another bullet that speeds on its independent destructive way.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—Additional local matter on eighth page.

—The bachelors of Campbellford will hold an assembly this evening.

—Confined in the county gaol at present are sixteen prisoners, two of whom are women.

—Mr. Lambert Henry had the top of his thumb taken off in the Canadian General Electric works yesterday.

—Several improvements are being made to the lawn walks and parsonage of the George street Methodist church.

—Lacrossists are urged to call at the Peterborough Bookstore and make their selection from a fine stock of Lally's best lacrosse sticks.

—Messrs. T. Cavanagh, of Peterborough, and N. Lessieur, of Montreal, were in Lindsay on Monday, purchasing horses. They secured quite a number of suitable animals.

—The Campbellford cricketers have reorganized for the season, with Warden C. L. Owen as president, R. H. Bonnycastle as captain, and T. S. Tait as secretary-treasurer.

—Street Inspector Craig, of Ashburnham, has taken time by the forelock, and had the main thoroughfares of the village cleaned and scraped. A good job has been done by the workmen.

—The average attendance at the Campbellford public school during the month of March was 417, with an aggregate of 6,678. The number on the roll was 504, of whom 264 were boys and 240 girls.

—A meeting of the Board of Trade will be held this evening at eight o'clock for the discussion of general business and the presentation of committee reports. A large attendance is requested.

—Posters are out calling for tenders for the contracts of watering the northern and southern districts of the town. The time for receiving tenders is up to four o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

—You don't have to take a gallon of Short Stop before you cure your cold. "Part of a bottle knocked my cold out," says a grateful customer. Get it at Jas. Lynch's drug store, 168 Hunter street.

—The 42nd Battalion could not secure a train for an excursion to this city on the Queen' birthday, as the Grand Trunk railway will require all its cars on that day to handle the increased traffic.—Kingston News.

—Invitations are out for the marriage of Miss Maud Hamilton, daughter of W. L. Hamilton, Inspector Inland Revenue, Belleville, to Dr. Ernest H. S. McLean, of Calgary, N. W. T., on the 30th inst., at St. Thomas' church.

—Rev. W. R. Young, pastor of the George street Methodist church, will preach educational sermons in the Norwood Methodist church on Sunday next. Rev. Wm. Buchanan, of Norwood, will occupy Mr. Young's pulpit here.

—Mr. W. L. Innes, C.E., and Land Surveyor, has severed his connection with the Candian General Electric Compan's works and has entered into partnership with Mr. G. W. Ranney, C.E., and they will now accept engagements for land surveying and engineering work. 6d

—A social time was spent at Chemong Park Tuesday evening by several young people from town, who drove out in carryalls. A very pleasant evening was spent and Mr. Fobert did all in his power to make the visitors happy and comfortable. Dancing was kept up until an early hour this morning.

—Mr. Jas. Logan, a well-known member of the Peterborough Amateur Orchestra, has just received direct from Paris, through Mr. W. A. Sanderson, jeweller, a handsomely finished trombone. The instrument is of superior make and workmanship, and is burnished to a fine degree of brilliancy, while the tone is rich, full and resonant.

—A memorial service for the late Robert Bell, Esq., father of Lt.-Col. Bell, town, was held in St. Andrew's church, Carleton Place. "On the occasion," says the Herald, "the pastor was assisted by Rev. J. Crombie, the venerable clerk of the Presbytery of Lanark and Renfrew, who for more than a quarter of a century had been associated with deceased in church work.

—The Lindsay Watchman says : "Messrs. Moore and Whyte, two well-known evangelists, are accomplishing much good in Peterborough. There is no doubt considerable room for improvement from a religious standpoint in that town." The fact that it requires some energy and ingenuity to be wicked, may account for the higher moral tone of the immaculate Lindsay people.

—A general move should now be made in cleaning up all refuse and filth about the premises. It is an inopportune time to attend to this work when the warm weather arrives. For appearance sake, and for the certainty of less danger of being exposed to fevers, clear your yards of rubbish, and also to save prosecution for your delinquency in this matter at the hands of the sanitary authorities.

—The Lindsay Watchman is again astray in its information when it says : "The 57th battalion, of Peterborough, has engaged Sergt.-Major Peters, of "C" School of Infantry, Toronto, as permanent sergeant-major of the battalion. He is one of the best drill instructors in Canada and should put the 57th at the top of the heap. The employment of an instructor for the 45th would prove a good move and would greaty benefit the battalion." It may be remarked that there is no truth in the above in reference to the engagement of Sergt.-Major Peters.

—Mr. F. J. Golden, agent for the Rathbun Company, Campbellford, in company with Mr. P. J. Anderson and Mr. A. Simpson, the company's clerks (the latter of Lakefield), went out on the company's annual settlement tour last week, paying the men who have got out timber during the winter. Large amounts of money were paid to jobbers on the river and the Central Ontario Railway. All of the stuff landed on the river banks will be sawn at the Campbellford saw mill, which will likely be sufficient to keep it busy until late in the fall.

—There was an amusing incident happened last night at a boarding house in West Belleville. One of the boarders brought home a young lady, whom he introduced as his wife. The proprietor of the boarding house did not receive them with open arms or in any way to encourage the no doubt happy pair. Instead he sent a messenger over to the police station with a mild request to send over an officer. An officer hurried over, and when he arrived he found only a modest looking young couple who had a marriage certificate to show that they meant what they said.—Ontario.

LOCAL LEGAL.

Spenceley vs. Peterborough Water Co.—This Action Came up Before the Chancery Division at Toronto, Justice Rose Presiding.

Spenceley vs. Peterborough Water Co.—Judgement on question of costs of action of trespass to land tried at Peterborough. At the trial the defendants succeeded as to one parcel of land, and the plaintiff as to the other. As to the latter the title was not put in issue and the judge found that the damages did not exceed the $25 paid into court, and directed that neither party should have costs. He has since heard counsel, and has reviewed his decision. He holds that if the plaintiff had asked for an injuction to prevent further trespasses, he would have been entitled to his costs, except as to the issue on which he failed, but as the claim was for damages only, and they could be assessed only up to the day of trial, and as the plaintiff is at liberty to commence a new action at any time to restrain the continuing trespass and for damages from the date of assessment herein, he feels difficulty in holding that the order as to costs made at the trial was just to the defendants. If the plaintiff will undertake within thirty days not to bring any further action the order may stand. But unless he so undertakes, the defendants are to have their costs of defence. Leave to both parties to appeal if they are so advised. Watson, Q.C., and Dumble, Peterborough, for the plaintiff. W. R. Riddel for the defendants.

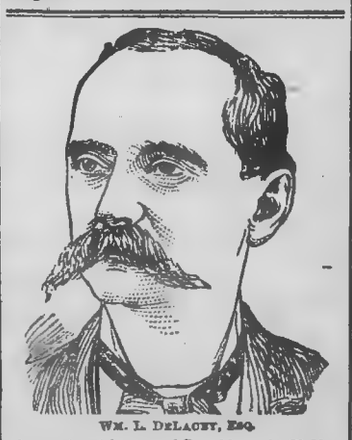
BIRTH.

NETHERCUTT.—On Thursday, April 12th, 1894, at Peterborough, the wife of Mr. R. J. Nethercutt, of Wawanesa, Manitoba, of a daughter.



WM. L. DELACEY, ESQ.

A prominent lawyer of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., who was in the famous "Fighting Jersey Brigade" under Gen. Phil Kearney, has used Hood's Sarsaparilla with great benefit as a general tonic to cleanse the blood and sharpen the appetite. "It is the best anti-malaria remedy," he says, "that I know of." Certainly the cordial endorsement of so prominent a man should convince you that Hood's Sarsaparilla is worthy your confidence. Mr. Charles F. Drexel, a well known former resident of Baltimore, Md., now Deputy City Treasurer of Omaha, Neb., writes that Hood's Sarsaparilla has effected a Phenomenal Cure in the case of his son, who when two years old became afflicted with Malignant Eczema. It first developed in his right eye, and the discharge from the same caused the whole face on that side to break out in a nasty, running sore. The poor little fellow was indeed pitiable to look at. Physicians gave him only temporary relief. He almost lost the sight of one eye, and the best oculists in Baltimore failed to benefit him. Finally Mrs. Drexel insisted upon trying Hood's Sarsaparilla and before he had taken half a bottle he looked like another child. The humor entirely disappeared, and His Eyesight was fully Restored. In fact, says Mr. Drexel, "he is the healthiest of our three children,

Purify Your Blood

MILLS BROS.

SANGUINE CITY FATHERS.

Our city fathers are certainly hopeful, if they expect any practical results from the resolution adopted at Tuesday night's council meeting in reference to the Government's taking action in further prosecution of work on the Trent Valley Canal. In spite of the favourable report of the commission the finances minister has announced as the Government policy a cessation of expenditure on capital account, and, in view of a predicted large shrinkage in revenue, and in view of a further loss of revenue if the French treaty is ratified—which is on the books—and a subsidy of $200,000 to a French-Canadian line of steamers and $720,000 a year to a fast Atlantic line, it is difficult to see where the funds are coming from. The council resolution is quite correct in intimating that the past expenditure is comparatively useless unless further work is prosecuted. In reply to a question in the House of Commons, Hon. Mr. Haggart, Minister of Railways and Canals, stated that the total amount of capital expenditure on the Trent Valley Canal to date is $1,301,890 and that the expenditure for maintenance during the fiscal year was $12,928, that the cost of the staff was $3,729. In other words the Trent Valley canal, counting interest on capital expenditure at 4 per cent. created an expenditure last year of over $70,000 ($71,330) as against a revenue of $888. Thus it will be seen that for public use and revenue purposes the past expenditure has practically been wasted, unless further expenditure, to develop the full, or at lest fuller, capacity of the system, is made. Our city fathers may have some inside information of the imminence of a Dominion general election to justify their hopefulness; for, in that event, we could count upon a further appropriation. The only way in which the canal, so far, has "paid" has been the dividends, in the shape of political "capital," it has yielded to the Dominion Government at election times.

C.P.R. OFFICIALS IN TOWN.

A Deputation from North Monaghan Confers with Them During the Evening.

Assistant Superintendent R. R. Jamieson, Resident Engineer A. Kirkpatrick, and Bridge and Building Inspector L. L. Ross, all of the Canadian Pacific Railway, are taking one of their periodical runs over the road, and registered last night at the Snowden House.

During the evening the officials received a deputation from the municipality of North Monaghan, composed of Reeve Forster, Councillors Hunter and McIntosh, Township Clerk G. W. Bennet and Messrs. W. Bell, T. Brown and J. Bennett, as representative ratepayers.

The object of the conference on the part of the municipal contingent was to ascertain the views of the C.P.R. on the question of erecting a flag station on the line half way between Peterborough and Cavanville, and also to see if the railway company could be induced to sell a gravel pit on their property in North Monaghan which the municipality is anxious to acquire. The fact that some of the crossings and bridges in that locality were in a dangerous condition and the desire to see them put in a better shape, was also another consideration which the deputation laid before the officials.

Regarding the flag-station, Mr. Jameson stated that the Company would be willing to bear half the expense of erecting a platform and milk shelter if the municipality named take upon its shoulders its fair share of the burden also. There would be no difficulty regarding the stopping of the trains, and a satisfactory rate he was sure could be agreed upon for the transportation of the milk into town.

The deputation expressed itself satisfied with the result of the interview in this respect, and promised to communicate with the assistant superintendent as soon as a decision on the matter was reached by their council, before whom the matter would have to be laid.

No decision regarding the sale of the gravel pit was reached, as Mr. Jameson was anxious to confer with other of the company's officials before taking any decided step in the matter of transferring any of the company's property.

Mr. L. L. Ross, District Inspector of Bridges and Buildings, promised to give the matter of the unsafe crossings his early attention, and the deputation departed well satisfied with the work of the evening.

POLICE COURT.

An Assault Case Aired this Morning—A Charge and Counter Charge—Each Party to Pay their Own Costs.

An assault case, accompanied by much conflicting evidence, was heard this morning by Mr. Dumble, P.M. It appeared to be a melee in which all three parties concerned were equally to blame. Charles Pogue charged John Reynolds and Samuel Peoples, two sectionmen on the G.T.R., with assaulting him yesterday morning on the track between Hamilton's foundry and the G.T.R. tool house at a few minutes after seven o'clock. This morning Reynolds laid a counter information against Pogue, charging him with a like offence, and a second information was sworn out against defendant by Thos. Horner, section foreman, charging Pogue with trespassing upon the company's property. It would appear from the evidence that bad blood had been existing between the parties and that it had to come out in "mortal combat." Pogue, when placed in the box, testified that he met Reynolds and Peoples on the track, and that as soon as he (Reynold) espied him he took off his coat, and coming up to plaintiff, asked him whether he was as good a man as he said he was? Pogue said "yes," and said Reynolds assaulted him first and that he (Pogue) was compelled to fight or run. And so a set-to occurred. Pogue claimed that Peoples aggravated the assault by catching him by the arm and not giving him the use of his hands in defending himself from Reynold's onslaught. Reynold's when giving evidence told an entirely different story. He stated that Pogue demanded of him first whether he (witness) was as good a man as he said he was the other night, and that Pogue took off his coat first. Reynolds said he then struck, and says he came out best in the fray. Pogue said he could not thrash both of them.

Peoples swore that Pogue called Reynolds "a liar", and that he did not catch Pogue by the arm, but only attempted to step in between and stop the fight.

The magistrate adjudged that all parties shared alike in the crime and effect of the fracas, and dismissed both informations, ordering each party to pay his own costs, amounting to $1.85 each. Mr. Horner withdrew his charge against Pogue for trespass.

SPRIGHTLY SUMMER SPORTS.

Annual Meeting of the P.A.A.A.—What the Cricketers and Lacrosseists will do This Year.

Dr. Burnham, president, took the chair last night at a fairly attended meeting of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association. The meeting was called for the purpose of ascertaining whether the clubs in affiliation with the Association last year, were ready and willing to occupy the same position this year as they did in '93 in regard to their contributions towards meeting the expenses.

The cricket club had a large number of representatives present, including its two directors, Dr. Burnham and Mr. R. B. Rogers. Messrs. W. J. Drope and W. D. Parker represented, respectively, the snowshoe and tennis clubs interests, but the lacrosse, football and baseball teams have not as yet organized for the season and have not, therefore, elected directors to represent them on the controlling board.

Members of the lacrosse team who were present stated that their directors would be chosen this week; and a meeting of the football club is called at 8 o'clock, in the office of Mr. R. B. Rogers, for the purpose of organization and the election of directors.

The baseballists have not signified their intention of co-operating with the other clubs this year in supporting the P.A.A.A. grounds, and it is understood that the old diamond in the lower part of the town will be put in shape for them by the street car company.

A meeting of the directors of the P.A.A.A. will be held next Tuesday evening, when arrangements will be made for putting the grounds in shape immediately.

No definite action regarding the putting of the grounds in repair, etc., was taken last night as it was thought better to wait until the directors of all the clubs had been elected before any steps towards incurring expense were taken. Next week, however, will probably see everything placed in good order on the grounds.

THE CRICKETERS.

At a meeting of the cricket club held a little earlier in the evening, communications were received from the secretaries of the Cobourg and Ottawa cricket clubs, stating that as Peterborough owed them matches they would be pleased to have dates set as soon as possible.

The advisability of visiting Cobourg and giving the club there a match on the 24th of May was discussed, but no decision reached. As Toronto owes the local club three matches now, an effort will be made to have an eleven from the Queen City visit Peterborough early in the season.

LACROSSE.

The Tecumseh Lacrosse Club, of Toronto, has signified its willingness to give the Peterborough club a game here on May 24th and the local team will strain every nerve to be in shape to render a good account of itself in the game.

Peterborough has now two lacrosse clubs, both of which have entered the league, so that local lovers of the game will have ample opportunity of gratifying their hobby during the summer, as there will be a large number of home matches.

THE SHAMROCKS MEET.

A meeting of the Shamrock lacrosse club was held on Tuesday night, at which considerable business was transacted. Further arrangements of a final nature were made by the team to enter the lacrosse tournament at Campbellford on May 24th. Mr. LeBar was nominated for the position of secretary for this district. The members have recently purchased many blue jerseys from Gough Bros., and have ordered knickerbockers at the tailoring establishment of A. Mercer & Co. The trunks will be of the same colour as the shirts, with white stripes down the sides. The Shamrocks have also ordered the best make of sticks from F. Lally, of Cornwall.

The Lindsay Bicycle Club has organized with about thirty members. Club runs will be held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings of each week. Mr. J. Riggs is president and Mr. C. Gregory secretary-treasurer.

HISTORIOLOGICAL RESEARCH.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR—The annual report of the proceedings of the Canadian Institute, Toronto, is at hand and contains an account of the "finds" of many amateur scientists, who during their leisure hours, stolen perhaps from business, have digged into the bosom of the earth in quest of history. With the single exception of the Trent district the country lying between Montreal and Detroit as far north as the C.P.R. lines have been fairly well explored. It is time that the Trent district has yielded up some items of archæological interest, but the explorers have been few and the harvest is great. Now that the open weather is coming on, it is to be hoped that those who know of old battle grounds, grave yards, village sites, and the like, will pry into the buried past. Canada is often referred to as a new country. It is new in national development, but it is anything but new geologically and ethnologically speaking. No more attractive pursuit can be imagined than the unfolding page by page of the history of the Indians of this continent. They were a very noble race of men in many ways, having virtues which the white man has forgotten and vices which he can excel.

It is probable that the main route of travel through this district began at the outlet of Balsam Lake and ended at the Bay of Quinte. There was another trail, Mr. Laidlaw says, the same except at the beginning, where, for seventeen miles, it extended from West Bay to Lake Simcoe. The historian says that Champlain went from the Huron county to the Bay of Quinte with a large party to attack the Iroquois in 1615 and the question, which is not yet answered, is what was the exact route that he took. This district was almost destitute of population then because it had been the battle ground of the Hurons and their old relatives and enemies, the Iroquois. This should make it rich in "finds." It was the theatre of many an interesting game of Indian warfare long before the white man came. We are trying to bring the hidden records to light in the interest of the province for the Canadian Institute, and every man who can help in any way is earnestly requested to leave his address either at the EXAMINER or Review.

Yours, etc.,

MISS RUDKINS

Crystal Block, George Street, Opposite the Examiner.

Lip Language the New Fad.

"Lip language" is understood, to be the latest craze which will occupy the spare time of society in the place of banjo-playing and skirt-dancing. Somebody once sang something about

When meek gray eyes droop still more meek,
And dimples play at hide and seek,
There's but one language lips can speak;
'Tis brief, but rather pleasant.

Perchance we have all of us had some experience of this kind in our time, but it is quite a different kind of lip language that I am now alluding to. It is reading and understanding words shaped by the lips without articulation.

That this is possible is well-known by the efficient manner in which deaf actors have been able to take their part on the stage, and if people become proficient in the art it will be surprising how quiet society will become. Doubtless, life will be somewhat dull; but, at any rate, we shall be spared that perpetual babble and cackle which ofttimes makes a dinner party so wearisome, and we shall get rid of the roar and buzz of over crowded assemblies. If perfection is attained in the art, with a couple of good opera glasses, people will be able to converse when a considerable distance apart. The male practicers of the art will undoubtedly have to share, and it will be a nice point of law to find whether slander or libel conveyed by this silent system will be actionable or not. Probably the only people who will object to the new pastime will be those perpetual jabbers, those incessant jaw exercisers, to whom nothing is so sweet as the sound of their own voices.

Care of Table Linen.

Never put table linen into soapsuds until it has had all stains removed by pouring boiling water through them. This will remove all stains but iron rust. For that soak in a weak solution of oxalic acid, wetting the spot with cold water. Rub gently between the hands, and it will gradually disappear. If obstinate, repeat the process. Table linen should be rubbed lightly. Blue lightly, but do not starch too much. Stiffened linen is an abomination. Never allow tablecloths to hang on the line in a strong wind. The hems will become frayed at the corners and a general limpness be the result. Nothing is so wearing to all linen and cotton cloth as "switching" in the wind from a clothesline.

A WOMAN'S HEAD

is level and her judgment good when she puts her faith in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. There is no beauty without good health. Nobody expects to become really beautiful from the use of complexion beautifiers. Bright eyes, clear skin and rosy cheeks, follow moderate exercise, fresh air, good food, and—the judicious use of the "Prescription."

All women require a tonic and nervine at some period of their lives. Whether suffering from nervousness, dizziness, faintness, displacement, catarrhal inflammation of the lining membranes, bearing-down sensations, or general debility, the "Prescription" reaches the origin of the trouble and corrects it. Guaranteed to benefit, or the money is returned.

If you're suffering from Catarrh, the proprietors of Doctor Sage's Catarrh Remedy ask you to try their medicine. Then, if you can't be cured, they'll pay you $500 in cash.

A MANITOBA BLIZZARD.

RAY MARRIOTT DETAILS AN EXCITING EXPERIENCE.

A Time When it Was 47 to 50 Below Zero—A Very Serious Time of it—Details Only Possible of Description by an Eye-witness.

It was in the month of February, 1893, that I had my first tilt with a full-grown Manitoba blizzard.

At the time of which I write, I was interested in some supply contracts with Langdon, Sheppard & Co., who were engaged in pushing the Canadian Pacific Railway across the continent. We had buyers placed at different points throughout the country, to secure the produce which we needed—mainly oats—and as there were no banking facilities outside of Winnipeg at that time, it was necessary to see these parties from time to time, and furnish them with funds necessary to carry on the business.

It was while on one of these errands that I found myself at the end of the C. P. R. southwestern branch at 1 o'clock on that bitterly cold Tuesday morning, with the person I wished to see still five miles further on. The trains ran on this branch only twice a week during the winter, and I had the alternative of either walking that five miles in time to get back again to the train before 7 o'clock in the morning, at which time she was due to leave for Winnipeg, or of spending the next four days in the wilderness.

I chose the walk. So, between 3 and 4 o'clock, I started out into the darkness. I had been over the trail before, and as it was fairly well beaten, by feeling the ridge of snow left in the middle between the runners of the sleighs with my feet, I had no difficulty in following it. The blizzard, which had been getting worse all night, was now in full swing with the thermometer, between 47 and 50 below zero. As is usual with such low temperatures, there was very little wind, but the air was full of little particles of frost, which bit like needles wherever they touched the skin. I soon found it advisable to cover my face with a silk handkerchief, and after that I had to go it blind.

There was no settlement at the end of the track at that time, nor were there any houses between there and the point for which I was making. So on I pushed, carefully following the ridge in the centre of the trail.

The last mile or two of the tramp are somewhat hazy to me. I remember that I seemed to get extremely cold, and that I swung my arms and stamped my feet, and did everything that I could think of to warm myself. Towards the last it was a question with me whether to lie down or push on a little further. However, at last I reached the house, and by some means or other found my way in.

It was not long before Harmer appeared on the scene, and we soon had a roaring fire and I took a good glass of gin. I then made the discovery that my hands and face had been quite badly frozen. After a good rubbing with snow, which, by the way, is the universal remedy for frost-bites, although an exceedingly painful one, I took a seat by the stove, when I soon made another discovery, which is, that a thorough good freezing, followed by Tom gin and a hot room, is a mighty quick way to get what is popularly known as a "jag on."

I had explained my errand to Harmer on his first appearance, and his team was immediately brought out to get me back in time for the train. With the assistance of the driver, I managed to reach the sleigh and off we set, but the forepart of the drive is quite as hazy to me as the latter part of the walk. The effects, however, were not lasting, and long before we sighted the train I was quite myself again.

On reaching the train a rather unpleasant surprise awaited me. Standing on the open track for seven or eight hours in the teeth of the blizzard had been too much for our engine, and she had become what is technically known as "dead." It seems that the intensely hot fire which is necessary to keep up steam in such weather as we were experiencing is very trying on boilers, the effect being to loosen the tubes, thus allowing the water to escape and put out the fire. Once the fire is extinguished the numerous valves and pipes freeze up, and the machine is useless.

The news was wired to Winnipeg, and word came back that an engine would be sent ont at once to bring us in. The car we were in was not uncomfortable, if you did not get too far from the stove, and, as there were only about a dozen of us passengers, we each managed to get about our share of the heat.

As the dining hours came round, we adjourned to a large navvies' boarding car which stood close by, and which also served as station. Here we were regaled with the regulation lumber-camp cookery, consisting mainly of pork and beans, followed by pie, all served up on tin.

No engine arrived this day.

Early in the morning we were out looking for the train, and away off in the distance we could discern the smoke. We hurried through our breakfasts, expecting that we would soon be on our road for Winnipeg. But not so. The engine was in sight fully three hours, making its way slowly over the prairie, but when it had come within half a mile of us, it came to a dead stop, disabled in the same way as our own. It was a sad disappointment, but the walking was not good enough to start out on foot.

On the following afternoon at 3 o'clock the third engine reached us. It was badly crippled, but was still able to move. They lost no time, but coupled on to one of the dead engines and the passenger coach, and started back. We dragged along slowly the rest of the afternoon and all night, and when we woke in the morning we had only covered a little over 30 miles. Then the engineer found that he would have to leave the engine and car on the track and push on to Morris, the next station, light, as his supply of water was failing.

Several of us decided to go with the engine, and we reached Morris about 10 o'clock. Here we had our dinners while waiting for the rest of the train. Then we dragged on again at the same rate of speed, arriving in Winnipeg at 1 o'clock on Saturday morning, having taken in all 34 hours to cover 104 miles, making, in my opinion, the slowest time on record in railroading.

On summing up damages the C.P.R. Company found that ont of 52 serviceable engines which they had on that division at the commencement of the blizzard, they had only 13 which they could use when it was over.—Ray Marriott.

A Well-Traveled Colorado Cat.

There is a cat out in Colorado which has probably viewed more scenery in the Rocky Mountain region than any other member of the feline species. It was a special pet of the wife of the engineer of a freight locomotive, and it accompanies him on every trip he makes. When the train makes one of its long waits at the depot the cat will go in search of fun or mice, and at some of the most used junctions it is quiet a local pet. While the engine is running the cat sits in the cab or on the coal, and as its fur is jet black, its beauty is not greatly impaired by its peculiar surroundings. Pussy must have traveled many thousand miles, for it has been doing duty for several years and has never been known to miss a trip. The first journey or two there was much difficulty about keeping the animal from jumping off, but there is none now, nor does its owner bother himself about ascertaining whether his feline passenger is aboard or not. The absolute indifference of cats to persons and their attachment to places and environment is seen in this instance, for when last year the engineer got injured in a wreck and was laid up for three months, the cat stayed around the shops until the engine was repaired and then resumed her rides with the substitute engineer.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Few Facts.

Here are a few solid facts:

The poet Tennyson could take a worthless sheet of paper, and by writing a poem on it, make it worth $35,000—that's genius.

Vanderbilt can write a few words on a sheet of paper and make it worth $5,000,000—that's capital.

The United States can take an ounce and a quarter of gold and stamp upon it an "eagle bird" and make it worth $20—that's money.

The mechanic can take a material worth $5 and make it into a watch worth $100—that's skill.

The mercant can take an article worth 75 cents and sell it for $1—that's business.

A lady can purchase a very comfortable bonnet for $3.75, but she prefers one that cost $27—that's foolishness.

The ditch-digger works ten hours a day and shovels three or four tons of earth for $2—that's labor.

The editor of this paper can write a check for $30,000,000, but it wouldn't be worth a dime—that's rough.—Young Lutheran.

A Queen's Odd Needle.

Queen Victoria is in possession of a curious needle. It was made at the celebrated needle manufactory at Redditch, and represents the Trajan Column in miniature. Scenes from the Queen's life are depicted on the needle, so finely cut that they are only discernable through a microscope.

A Texas Hook and Ladder Co.

A Texas editor complains of a hook and ladder company recently organized in his neighborhood. The editor intimates that the ladder is used for getting into windows after dark, after which the hooking is done.—Texas Siftings.

Experiments With Eggs.

Experiments show that if no estimate is made for labor, one dozen eggs can be produced at a cost of about six cents for food, or about half a cent an egg.

"Only the Scars Remain,"

Says HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., who certifies as follows:

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc., none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 13 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

Mother Urged Me

THAT DUTY ON TEA.

Indignation at the Government's Action in England.

LONDON, April 12.—The opinion freely expressed here is that the proposed duty of ten per cent. on tea imported into Canada from countries other than those where it is proposed is ill-advised and bears the marks of unfriendliness to England. Canadian Pacific influence, it is said, has been a potent factor in shaping that feature of the revised Dominion tariff, and that it was that corporation which suggested the duty in order that it might have a monopoly of the carrying trade through its direct steamship connection with the east. In three years it is estimated the exportation of tea to Canada was eighteen million pounds weight, the value aggregating £800,000. The decision of the Dominion Government is awaited here with no little anxiety.

Tea From London Must Be Free.

ST. JOHN, N.B., April 12.—At meeting of Board of Trade last night it was unanimously resolved, after some debate, that the board request the Government to arrange the tariff in such a way that tea purchased in Great Britain may be admitted of duty as heretofore, as well as when imported direct from country of growth and production. Another resolution was adopted asking the Government that green coffee be admitted as heretofore.

Big Storm in New York.

NEW YORK, April 12.—There is a big storm here and the damage will prove to be very great. The wind, which seemed to blow from every quarter of the compass at once, drove before it sheets of rain, sleet and hail, blinding, buffeting and irritating all who had the hardihood to face the gale. It was all the staunchest ferryboats and most powerful tugs could do to make their ships and docks. For sailing crafts there was no chance of their living in the teeth of such a gale.

Canada and the Behring Sea Bill.

LONDON, April 12.—Thomas Gibson Bowles, Conservative, has given notice in the House of Commons that he will ask the Government through Sydney Buxton, Under Colonial Secretary, to state the actual terms of the agreement of the Dominion of Canada in regard to the Behring Sea bill. He will also ask the Government to say whether Canada attached any condition to her agreement regarding compensation to Canadian sealers.

British Columbia Sealers.

VICTORIA, B.C., April 12.—A resolution has been adopted in the Provincial Parliament, which was introduced by the Finance Minister, expressing the hope that the bill now before the Imperial Parliament making the Behring sea arbitration effective would not receive royal assent unless the claims of the British columbia sealers for the years 1891, 1892 and 1893 be placed in the course of settlement.

Will Support the Monarchy.

MADRID, April 12.—A sensation was created in the Cortes by Senor Cellerntoo, the leader of the moderate Republican group, announcing the secession of Senor Emilio Castelar from that party and his future adherence to the monarchy. Several members of the party announced their intention of following Castelar.

Skull Crushed by a Kick.

ATTWOOD, Ont., April 12.—The 12-year-old son of William Millan, tenth concession, Elma township, was kicked by a horse yesterday in the head, crushing in the whole skull. A doctor worked five hours and removed fifteen pieces of bone, the smallest of which was over a quarter of an inch in diameter, besides innumerable smaller pieces. The boy is conscious.

Newfoundland Ministry Resigns.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., April 12.—The Ministry resigned yesterday because the Governor declined to consent to dissolve the House.

Fainting.

Fainting is caused by an interruption of the supply of blood to the brain. The head should be lowered immediately. Often laying the person down will revive her without other measures. The head may be allowed to hang over the side of the couch for a few moments. Smelling-salts may be held to the nose and heat applied over the heart to stimulate its action. Open a window or outer door to admit plenty of fresh air, and unfasten the clothing to permit free circulation. In severe cases when unconsciousness is prolonged, a mustard paste may be placed over the heart; if the breathing stops artificial respiration can be begun. It is useless to try to give stimulants by mouth unless the person is sufficiently conscious to be able to swallow. The attack usually passes off in a few minutes, but the invalid should be made to lie still and be kept quiet for some time after it.

Paper Tires.

The writer has visited the experimental shop of the parties who are working out the idea of making tires from paper for bicycles. A pressure equal to 120 pounds was brought to bear upon a rubber tire wheel in presence of the writer, and the tire sunk in at bottom. Then the same kind of a wheel was treated in the same way as regards pressure, but the tire was made of paper. The same weight did not cause the tire to sink in so much as in the case of the rubber one. Thus, the paper tire can be run over cobblestones, sandy roads, mud, etc., and be less affected. The continual squeezing together and inflating of the rubber tire has a tendency to wear the rubber and cause a fracture. The paper tire being less liable to flatten, or sink in, is not subject to this wear.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Fisheries Inspector Brickwood Gets Letters From all Over the Dominion Asking for Particulars About Dodd's Kidney Pills Curing Him of Chronic Rheumatism

KINGSTON, April 2.—Enquiry develope the fact that the story of J. H. Brickwood's wonderful cure of his rheumatism by Dodd's Kidney Pills has brought him notoriety. Mr. Brickwood daily receives letters from all quarters of Canada asking further particulars of his cure. He invariably answers that after all other remedies failed, Dodd's Kidney Pills restored him to health. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy in pill form ever offered the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations. Purchasers for their own safety should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes; price fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50 To be had of all dealers.

ABOUT FIBRE IN IRON.

Comparison of the Strength of Iron and Steel.

Reference is frequently made in technical papers to the fibre of iron and steel and the relative strength of these metals when the same is injured in manufacture. Either this is a misnomer—the fibre of iron—or else a very curious transformation takes place in the manufacture of it. There is certainly no fibre in iron ore, the most enthusiastic critic after will admit that, and none has ever been discovered in the pig metal reduced from the ore. Where, then, does it come from? We are told by men who have given the subject attention and are competent observers that the fibre of iron, so-called, is caused by the impurities in it not eliminated during its conversion from ore to the finished bar. This is to say that minute particles of silica, cinder, what not, are drawn out with the rod or bar and seperate the contiguous masses, so that the structure resembles, or really becomes fibrous in character. There is no question but that plate iron or bar iron is stronger in the direction of its length; test strains show that, and fractures during test strains show a more or less tenuous silky structure, which, for want of a better name, is called fibrous. Whether this adds to its strength is open to question. Low grade steel of the same, or nearly the same carbonization as iron, shows a close crystalline structure, and no fibre at all yet it is stronger than iron.—The Engineer.

A Remarkable Marriage.

A man in Lebanon, Ind., prominent in business, is married to a totally blind woman, who was blind when he married her. He was younger then by ten years than he is now, but he was prosperous, ambitious and successful. She had never seen the sunlight. She was as handsome as Nydia, and as poor. He married her, and they have lived together in a peace that passes understanding ever since. They have two bright children, healthy and perfect; a good home, thriving business, a little fortune they have earned themselves, and a public regard that has no limit. She would give one-half of her life just to see her husband and children. It would touch your heart to see how gentle he is with her, how tenderly they lead her here and there. In this age, when marriage means too little, when insufficient thought is given to the only thing worth thinking of—the love that levels and exalts—when a husband true and a wife content are frequent exceptions, is it a wonder I bared my head in that presence? How noble a man he can be! No life must be commonplace with a love like that.—Christian Inquirer.

Buried in Walls.

A traveler through the "land of the Aztecs" has been giving some interesting details of his experiences. Among other things, he said that when he was in the City of Mexico he was shown through some ancient buildings, convents and jails that were erected by the Spaniards several centuries ago. In the wall of one of these ancient edifices he saw a small opening, so he naturally enquired of his Mexican guide what purpose it served. He was told that it was one of those buildings in which criminals were walled up alive.

"But what is the use of the hole in the wall?" he asked,

"Well, senor," replied the guide, "as long as the prisoner lived his food was handed to him on a plate, and he handed back the empty plate through the hole; but when the prisoner handed back the plate with the food on it untouched, then the jailer knew that he was dead already and didn't give him any more."—Philadelphia Record.

A MODERN FAIRY TALE.

A Princess, an Old Woman and a Flat-Iron in a Little Comedy.

This is not a fairy story, but it is almost as pleasant reading. Once upon a time the Princess Louise, wife of the Marquis of Lorne and daughter of the Queen of England, was taking a lonely walk—after the habit of princesses. She approached a cottage door, as is also a pleasing habit of princesses. Furthermore, she carried out the traditions governing the behavior of royal ladies by asking for a glass of water.

The old woman who happened to be ironing, did not care to get the Princess a glass of water, and said so. She added that she was busy, and the spring was distant and that she wanted to finish her ironing so that she might go the next day to see the "Queen's child." Whereupon the Princess graciously offered to finish ironing the shirt provided that the old woman would get her the water.

When the old woman returned a neatly ironed shirt was ready for her. Where the Princess picked up the art of ironing is not known, but the shirt was beautifully done. The Princess after she had drunk the water, told the old woman who she was and the old woman was properly impressed. The shirt was never worn, but was kept to become a heirloom in the family. And they all lived happily ever after.

USED-TO-BE.

Lost laughter and the whistled tunes
Of boyhood's mouth of crescent runes,
That rounded through lone afternoons
To surrounding pleniluues—
When starlight fell so saintly
That, peering up from bended knee,
I dreamed 'twas bridal drapery
Snowed over Used-to-be.

O, land of love and dreamy thought,
And shining fields and shady spots
Of coolest, greenest, grassy plots,
Embossed with wild forget-me-knots—
And all ye blooms that cunningly
Lift your faces up to me
Out of the past, I kiss in thee
The lips of Used-to-be.

And love ye all, and with wet eyes
Turned glimmeringly on the skies,
My blessings like your perfumes rise,
Till o'er my soul a silence lies
Sweeter than any song to me—
Sweeter than any melody
Or its sweet echo, yea all three—
My dreams of Used-to-be.

STEAMSHIPS MADE OF STEEL.

Rapidly Displacing All Other Freight Carriers on the Ocean.

Eugene T. Chamberlains, the United States commissioner of navigation, has sent out an abstract of Lloyd's Register, which gives the tonnage of a very large part of the seagoing vessels of the world—that is, those over 100 tons burden but so far as this country is concerned not including our inland commerce. By this it appears that while in 1890 the number of vessels in the world engaged in ocean commerce of 100 tons or over was 33,296, having a tonnage of 22,151,651, in 1893 the number of vessels had sunk to 32,010, but the gross tonnage had increased to the amount of 24,258,375 tons. That is, while there has been a constant diminution in the number of vessels employed, there has been a steady advance in the average tonnage of these, so that the carrying capacity is greatly increased, with presumably a reduction in the cost of maintenance.

There were in 1890 11,108 steam vessels, having a tonnage of 12,965,372; in 1893 the number of steam vessels had increased to 12,558 and the tonnage to 15,264,418. In this case there had been an increase both in number and in tonnage, though the increase in the latter was very much more marked than in the former. Of sailing vessels there were in 1890 21,190, but in 1893 19,452. The tonnage at the first period was 9,166,279 and in the latter 8,993,937. This shows a large falling off in the number of vessels and also a falling off in the tonnage, indicating clearly the decline in this respect that is steadily going on by the substitution of steam for sail. Equally noticeable is the substitution of steel for wood and iron in the construction of hulls. In 1890 the wood tonnage was 7,053,885; iron, 10,517,518; steel, 4,485,-208. In 1893 the wooden tonnage was 6,364,880; iron, 9,793,872; steel, 7,966,338. It will be seen from the last statement that wooden and iron vessels are passing out of use in a decidedly rapid manner, while steel vessels are coming into use with such rapidity that there was nearly twice the tonnage of them in 1893 that there was in 1890.

Low, Pleasant Voices.

In view of the importance which is attached all over the world to the sayings and speeches of emperors and empresses and of kings and queens, it has often been a matter of surprise that so little should have been written about the voices of royal personages. There are two which are especially remarkable for their charm and for the exquisite modulation of their tone—namely, those of Queen Victoria and of Empress Elizabeth. The latter invariably speaks very slowly and very softly. It is almost a whisper and yet every word is clear and reaches the ears of people standing even at a distance. It is a voice that goes right through those who hear it. There is no condescension, no affectation of superiority, no trace of command in it, and yet it somehow or other conveys the impression that it belongs to a woman who is born to command, not only by reason of her imperial rank but also by what has been described as the royal superiority of her feminine charm. Queen Victoria's voice is entirely different. It is much more silvery and ringing, although it resembles that of her Austrian sister empress in carrying very far without any apparent effort. There is likewise the same clear enunciation of every word; nothing is slurred over, and it is not without reason that Britons are accustomed to talk of "Queen's English" as constituting what is best in their language. Thus on the occasion when she has opened Parliament or officiated at the dedication of any monument or memorial hall, her voice has been heard by everyone, although she did not seem to raise it, whereas the Prince of Wales and the other speakers were obliged almost to shout to make themselves heard. Queen Victoria's voice entirely lacks that species of harsh, guttural tone and accent which is so remarkable in the voice of the Prince of Wales and of his brothers and sisters.

A Postal Curiosity.

Postal authorities were surprised the other day to discover in the mail matter a slightly soiled linen collar. At first it seemed that some absent-minded person had mistaken a letter-box for a soiled-clothes basket. But an address on one side of the linen, with a canceled postage stamp, and a letter written on the other, proved that the letter had been put to use as the conveyer of intelligence. So the collar was back-stamped and the missive delivered.

Dear Sirs,—Your "Hairene," I believe to be a wonderful remedy. It certainly produced the most unexpected results in my case, my hair had been falling out very freely for some time, becoming anxious about the matter I thought I would experiment upon the properties of "Hairene," and one application actually stopped it at once. I applied it once or twice afterward, using in all about a quater of one bottle, and have not required to use it since. It seems to have given renewed and healthy vigor to the scalp, and I can recommend it in all confidence.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT

Dalton McCarthy Continues the Debate on the Budget.

NATIONAL POLICY FRUITLESS.

During the Fifteen Years it Has Existed the Country Has Not Prospered to the Extent That it Should Be Longer Continued.

OTTAWA, April 12.—In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Gillies' motion that the bill incorporating the Boynton Electric Railway Company should be referred back to the Committee on Standing Orders was carried.

Mr. McLennan moved the first reading of his bill making the Government responsible for the pay of men who worked for the Government on Government works or did Government work under contractors. The motion passed.

Mr. McLennan moved the first reading of his bill compelling railway companies to issue return second class tickets at all stations where they issue return first class tickets. The companies' refusal to issue second class return tickets was an injustice to the farmer and laboring man. The bill passed its first reading.

Hon. Mr. Wood said, in answer to Mr. Cockburn, that the Government intended this session to introduce a bill for the regulation and inspection of electric light companies. Replying to Mr. Maclean, he said electric light metres would be inspected.

Sir John Thompson said, in answer to Mr. McNeill, the Government would shortly bring down returns showing the creed or church of each person employed in the civil service of Canada.

Hon. Mr. Wallace, answering Mr. Grieve, said the Government would shortly put customs officers at frontier and ferry points in uniform.

Hon. Mr. Wallace said the Government intended issuing an index to the customs statutes.

Mr. Cockburn (Centre Toronto) took up the debate on the budget, and said that he believed in the policy of the Government, because it protected the laboring men of the country.

Dr. Christie and Mr. Northrop followed, and the Speaker left the chair at 6 o'clock.

After recess a number of private bills were read a second time.

Mr. McCarthy took up the debate on the budget. He said he believed Canada was approaching an era of deficits. The debt of Canada was enormously large. It was now nearly $242,000,000. The annual charge for this revenue absorbed 41 per cent. of the revenue, while the charge for Great Britain's debt was only 31 per cent. of the revenue. The corresponding charge in the United States was only 7 per cent. He doubted whether the country would have incurred the great debt for the C.P.R. if they had not been told that the sale of the Northwest lands would have recouped the country for that expenditure. After a year's incubation a new tariff had been brought down. It involved 300 changes in duties. The tariff must still be regarded as a manufacturers' tariff and not a tariff in the interests of the great consuming mass. The tariff had in some respects, he was bound to say, been amended in the interests of the community at large. But speaking of it as a whole he could characterize it as an ad valorem tariff, having a duty of from 30 to 35 per cent. The new tariff did not discriminate in favor of England. The moment Canada was pressing England to remove the embargo on cattle, a tariff was introduced which cut off the tea trade. This new tariff had no feature in it of reciprocity with the United States. The United States had offered free trade in agricultural implements. Canada answered this with a 20 per cent. tariff.

The Government had said its last word on the tariff but the people had yet to speak.

Mr. McCarthy went on to say the decadence of England under free trade had become a popular argument on the part of the Government supporters in their endeavor to bolster up the N.P. Canada's trade under the N.P. had not materially increased during the last 15 years. Yet, despite the fact that every country in the world tried to close her doors against free-trade with Britain, her trade since 1879 had increased 12 per cent.

After Mr. Masson and Mr. Edwards had spoken, Mr. Cargill rose and, in the course of his speech, said he was much gratified by the tariff revision. He could go home and face his constituents with every feeling of satisfaction.

The House adjourned.

Parliamentary Notes.

A deputation from the Press Association will meet the Government to-morrow. They will ask for some changes in the new tariff directly bearing on the interests of Canadian press men.

A deputation from the Dominion Live Stock Association waited on Sir Hibbert Tupper yesterday and urged their views upon him in support of Mr. Mulock's bill to regulate ocean freight rates on cattle.

The Public Accounts Committee met yesterday and spent the whole sitting debating Mr. Mulock's motion to examine witnesses under oath. The Opposition urged that it was necessary to ask the House to give this power to the committee, while the members of the Government said that if a particular case arose where fraud or misrepresentation was suspected then the committee could go to the House and ask for power to examine under oath. On the motion being put it was defeated on a straight party vote of 32 to 21. An amendment declaring that in special cases when fraud was charged the House should be asked to give the power was carried.

THE SENATE.

An Ocean Route by Hudson Bay for the Transport of Cereal Products.

OTTAWA, April 12.—In the Senate yesterday Hon. Mr. Ferguson (Niagara) rose to call the attention of the House to the importance and feasibility of the ocean route by Hudson bay and straits for the transport to Europe of the cereal products of the northern portion of America. He said he was convinced that the Hudson bay route would become to our great North-west what the St. Lawrence had been to the fertile valley which had borne its name. The only object he had in calling attention to the matter was to aid in opening up direct and cheap line of communication between that portion of Canada and the markets of the world. He proceeded to describe the geographical position of the bay. He said the waters never froze and that they were 40 degrees warmer than those of Lake Superior. He referred to the great mineral deposits of the territory surrounding Hudson bay, dealing with the question of the navigability of the bay and straits, upon which the senator had accumulated a vast amount of valuable information. He quoted the opinions of a number of authorities on the point. For instance, Sir Thomas Button, who visited Hudson Bay in 1612, in his record of the trip, stated that they had no difficulty in entering the bay on June 1.

Senator Ferguson described other expeditions to the bay and quoted the evidence of Sir George Baffin, Commander Markham, Lieut Gordon, the report of the Geographical Society of England and other authorities. He showed how countries situated much further north than Hudson Bay were enabled to do a great traffic by sea, as for instance the northern parts of Russia. Latterly, also, it had been demonstrated that the northern portion of Siberia could be reached by sea. Fort Churchill lies at the very doors of the great wheat fields and petroleum deposits of the Northwest. It was only 2,936 miles to Liverpool, a shorter distance than from Montreal to Liverpool. Not only would the wheat of the Northwest be shipped via Hudson Bay, but that of Minnesota, Dakota and other western states. He did not believe that the opening of the Hudson Bay route would injuriously affect the C. P. R. The great desideratum of the Northwest was population, and no matter how that population went in the C.P.R. would be benefited by the local traffic. He regarded the money spent on emigration agents as a useless expenditure. If that money were invested in works such as the Hudson Bay railway or in furnishing lighthouses and buoys in Hudson Straits, procuring charts of the bay and affording accommodation for the people, the population would go in.

Hon. Messrs. Drummond and Kirchoffer followed on the same subject, the latter stating in the course of his address that the ships of the Hudson Bay Company had navigated the bay and straits for 225 years with a loss of only 255 vessels during that period, although 1,000 ships must have passed through the straits and into the bay.

THE WHEAT PRODUCT OF THE WORLD.

Statistics of the Ontario Bureau of Industries.

The statement of Mr. VanHorne, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, that within the next eighteen month wheat is likely to reach two dollars a bushel, is attracting much attention. Mr. VanHorne vouchsafed this opinion to the editor of Toronto Saturday Night, and prefaced his opinion by the remark: "you fellows write very sagely on the price of wheat, and yet I never met one of you who knows enough about it to really make your opinion worth much." Mr. VanHorne proceeded to say: "Of course it is difficult to get any accurate statistics, but so far as I have been able to find out, after a careful scrutiny of everything that is provided in a statistical way, the world's product of wheat is between twenty-three and twenty-four hundred million bushels per annum."

Now, if the editors of Ontario are as ignorant of the question of the world's wheat supply as Mr. VanHorne charges, it is rather strange. The press of the province, together with the farmers, has been kept thoroughly posted on this very point by the Ontario Bureau of Industries, which is in connection with the department presided over by Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture. The statistics for 1893 have not yet been completed, but nearly a year ago the agriculturists of this province and all the newspapers, were presented with the following estimate of the yield of the various wheat-growing countries of the world for 1892, as well as a comparison of the yields for each of the two years immediately preceding:—

EUROPE.	BUSHELS.
France	308,000,000
Russia-Poland	247,000,000
Italy	112,000,000
Spain	65,000,000
Hungary	126,800,000
Austria	51,650,000
Germany	102,000,000
United Kingdom	61,000,000
Turkey in Europe	32,720,000
Roumania	26,400,000
Bulgaria	51,000,000
Belgium	22,700,000
Portugal	5,100,000
Holland	5,800,000
Greece	3,970,000
Denmark	3,400,000
Servia	11,350,000
Sweden & Norway	3,970,000
Switzerland	5,500,000
Total	1,293,800,000
AMERICA.	BUSHELS.
United States	516,000,000
Canada	55,000,000
	571,000,000
OTHER COUNTRIES.	BUSHELS.
India	205,000,000
Algeria	18,000,000
Egypt	9,000,000
Australasia	24,000,000
Chili, Arg. Rep., etc.	53,000,000
Asia Minor	33,000,000
Persia	21,000,000
Syria	12,000,000
Tunis	4,000,000
	380,000,000
Grand total	2,253,800,000

So far as accuracy of statistics are concerned it will be seen that the figures supplied by the Ontario Government to its farmers are approximately close to those hasarded by Mr. Van Horne. We admit that the prediction regarding wheat mounting to two dollars a bushel is original with the big railway man, and he is a bold prophet who proclaims an increase of say 200 per cent. in the value of wheat within a year and a half.

MESSRS. MOORE AND WHYTE.

The Murray Street Baptist Church Full to Overflowing—Timely Words.

As the special services in this church draw to a close the attendance increases and many persons are gathered to hear these gifted men in the special work they are engaged in.

Rev. J. E. Trotter, the pastor of the church, in his announcements stated that next Friday would be the last night that Messrs. Moore and Whyte would be in Peterborough for this time, as the people in Cornwall were anxiously waiting for them. The service on Friday night will be a thank offering service. There is to be service to-day at 3 o'clock and again at 7.45, to which he invited all to come, urging the young men of the town to come and listen to the word of God preached for the careless and indifferent.

Mr. Moore took for his text John 12, 21: "For we would see Jesus." In plain and forcible language he asked his hearers to make this the burden of their thoughts. He told the need of every one seeing Jesus as either judge or Saviour, pleading in passionate terms for them to see him as their Saviour. Jesus was always ready to receive those that call upon His name, to save them who are convinced of their great need. Mr. Moore exhorted those who had found the Saviour to join in church membership. He explained the way of the primitive Christian church, first conviction, conversion, baptism, join the church, and communion, referring his hearers to the account given in Acts 2nd. At the close of his address he invited any that were anxious to know of Jesus and His saving power to retire to the Sunday School room where he, the pastor, and other Christian workers would be willing to direct them, using the Bible as the guide. Many did so.

Mr. Whyte in singing, exhortation and prayer continued the meeting to the great benefit of all that remained. His singing of "O, Tolling Bells" was very impressive. Mr. Whyte spoke of it possibly being the last time they might hear him sing that song, and urged all to take warning from the song, repent and come to Jesus.

Two more nights only. Come all; fill the little church again to-night and receive a blessing.

AFTER TYPHOID FEVER.

Harvey Neff Has Kidney Disease, Which Doctors Could Not Cure Dodd's Kidney Pills Restored Him to Perfect Health.

PORT COLBORNE, April 9—In March, 1893, Harvey H. Neff, of this place, had a bad attack of typhoid fever. Good nursing and medical attendance brought him around, but the attack left him a victim of kidney disease. This the doctors failed to cure, but Dodd's Kidney Pills, the infallible remedy, did the same good work in his case as in all others and Mr. Neff is well to-day. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy in pill form ever offered the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations. Purchasers, for their own safety, should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes: price, fifty cents or six boxes for $2.50. To be had of all dealers.

HON. WILFRID LAURIER

Canada's Brilliant Reform Leader Speaks on the Tariff.

POLICY OF THE REFORM PARTY

Farmers Should Be Allowed to Buy When They Please and Sell When They Like—The Evils of a Protective Policy Expressly Shown.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 13.—It was generally known in the Capital that Hon. Wilfrid Laurier would resume the debate on the budget yesterday afternoon, and consequently the number in attendance in the galleries was considerably swelled with visitors eager to hear the silver-tongued orator. Mr. Laurier was in good form, and those who were there especially to hear his summing up of the tariff changes were not disappointed.

Hon. Mr. Laurier was loudly applauded by the Opposition on rising to speak. He proceeded into a consideration of the new tariff and asked the question: Was the measure of relief granted by the new tariff sufficient? He thought not, and predicted that the people of the country would not be satisfied. He believed that the $20,000,000 surplus which had been piled up by the Government were moneys stolen from the pockets of the people, and that the mortgages on farms would not amount to as much as they did if the people had not been taxed so much. The N. P. had driven over a million of Canadians from their native land. The Conservatives claimed that these people had left the country because the Grits had been decrying their country, and preaching blue ruin. Granted, but the HON. MR. LAURIER.

Tories were not silent during all this time. They had gone about the country singing songs of triumph all the while, but the people had seemed to believe in the word of the Grits and had fled the country. The Government had no doubt been in great difficulty. They had the majority of the people on the one hand crying out against protection, and on the other hand their masters, the manufacturers, demanding a retention of the tariff. The result was the new tariff, which, in his opinion, was totally inadequate. Since the introduction of the N.P. the price of wheat had steadily declined, while previous to that time it had gradually increased. When the N.P. was introduced the cry was that wheat was too low in price, and was not paying. The present Government asked the people to vote for their policy at that time in order that the price of wheat would go up. Wheat had not gone up, it had gone down, and thus the Government policy has failed in this instance as signally as in others. She, like Rome, could not produce enough to eat. Canada had to draw her supply from abroad, and according to her demand the price of wheat was regulated. The price of wheat in Canada depended upon the English market. Shortly after the introduction of the N. P., when wheat jumped up to $1.47, the Conservatives exclaimed: "Look, what we have done for you." Now that wheat had declined to 57 cents, would they by a parity of logic admit that the N. P. was responsible for the decline? No, they would not; but they would be forced to admit that they were wrong when they claimed that the prices of our natural products could be increased by the tariff. While the prices to the farmers had been driven to the last point, all that they required to purchase had risen to the highest point. The farmer should be allowed to sell when he pleased and purchase in turn when he liked. This was the policy of the Reform party. And upon it they were prepared to rise or fall. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper had expressed a most insulting view of the English trade question. He had charged free trade England with maintaining her foreign trade only by force of arms. He said that she had been driven out of European markets and that the soldiers who had been employed in fighting the glorious battles of England were reduced at last to the ignominious task of forcing with their arms the goods of England upon the barbarous nations of the world. He was surprised to hear such language from an English knight, a Canadian privy councillor and a Tory. He was sorry that his idea of the great British army was so low. This was not his (Mr. Laurier's) view. He believed that England was nobly continuing to fight with her principles against the protective tariff of not only foreign nations, but of her own child, Canada. The Finance Minister had said that he did not want a revenue or free trade tariff, but a protective tariff. This sounded well, but it meant that the Government wished to develop the country by increasing the cost of every article to be purchased. The principle was not sound. It had been promised that in Manitoba and the Northwest, when the N.P. was introduced, that in 1894 there would be at least 600,000 people. The calculation had been proved ridiculously high, and since the promises made on the strength of the N.P. had all failed of fulfilment, was it saying too much to claim that the N.P. itself was a failure?" He agreed that in the revision of a tariff much caution should be used. Protection could not be swept away at one fell swoop. The trouble with protection was that it induced capitalists to invest money in industries which would never pay without protection. The moment protection was removed these men were ruined. He charged the Government with the responsibility of all these failures. They had misled the people, and would be called quickly to an account. The new tea changes in the tariff would have the effect of placing a 10 per cent. tax upon tea coming from England. Was this loyalty? Was this patriotic? He said it was an infamous duty, levied for the purpose of building up a trade with China and Japan—foreign countries—as against England, the mother country. His policy was to levy duty, not for protection, but for the expenses necessary to the Government. It was true that these duties would have to be levied through the customs. But he would only tax sufficiently to pay the working expenses of the country. Mr. Davin a few months ago had announced himself a tariff reformer, but when he got to the scratch in Parliament he could not face his political friends. He bolted and swallowed the Government measure. He (Mr. Davin) was the Peter the Hermit of the House. Peter had led the Christian soldiers of Europe against the east, but when he got to the borders of Europe he deserted the soldiers and fled. He was caught, brought back and compelled to swear that he would not desert again. He was the Peter of Canada. This Peter had charged him with having changed his views years ago. He did not deny the charge, and had no apology to offer. As he grew older he gained more sense.

Mr. Davin—My hon. friend has not answered my charge. I did not charge him with having changed his views of years ago. I said that he had supported protection to within a few years of the time when he took office under the Mackenzie Government, but the moment he got office his lips were sealed and he did not stand to his principles.

Hon. Mr. Laurier, continuing, admitted that in 1871 he had supported a protective motion in a speech in the Quebec Legislature. He had done that, however, in the flush of victory and youth. He had then advocated keeping English goods out of our market—the present policy of the Conservative party. Was he to be blamed for that? He had had time, however, since for careful study and thought, and he had come to the conclusion that Mr. Papineau's policy at that time was not sound. Concluding, he said that his policy and the policy of the Liberal party was that no matter whether trade relations with England became closer or otherwise, the friendly relations of Canada and the motherland should be maintained at all cost. (Applause.)

The Debate Closes.

Dr. Montague followed Mr. Laurier, and was still speaking when the Speaker left the chair at 6 o'clock.

After recess Dr. Montague continued his speech, and was followed by Messrs. Fraser (Guysboro'), Kenny (Halifax), and Prior (British Columbia).

Additional Tariff Changes.

Hon. Mr. Foster at 1.10 a.m. rose and laid on the table some additional tariff resolutions, which had heretofore been orders in council, which the Government proposed to put in enactment on the free list.

Another was an amended package clause and a resolution relating to malt and vinegar. There were also the following additional amendments:

Meats, not elsewhere specified, 2 cents per pound.

Live hops, 1½ cents per pound.

Lard compounded and cottolene, 2 cents per pound.

Condensed milk, 3 cents per pound.

Rice, cleaned, 1½ cents per pound.

Chicory, 4 cents.

Cocoa paste and chocolate and other preparations of cocoa, 25 per cent.

Cocoanut, desiccated, sweetened or not, 5 cents per pound.

The Division.

At 1.15 a.m. a division was taken and the Cartwright amendment was lost by a Government majority of 56.

Messrs. McCarthy and O'Brien did not vote.

Crime in Montana.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 13.—The grand jury at Platt City has brought indictments against forty of the leading men and women of that place for playing progressive euchre.

Murdered by Burglars.

HELENA, Mont., April 13.—Policeman Flynn was murdered by burglars in the office of the Union Pacific depot.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, April 13, 1894.

Local security market was strong yesterday.

Bank clearings here for the week are only $5,285,264, as compared with $6,162,993 last week and $7,176,278 the corresponding week of last year.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—No grain received yesterday, and prices are nominal. White wheat quoted at 62c, red at 61c, oats at 38 to 39c, barley at 42c, and peas at 63½c.

On Wall street London market is easier. Chicago gas is thought to be a purchase. Purchases are advised on declines of St. Paul, Omaha, Lake Shore, M.C. and Wabash pref. There are a good many bulls on G.E.

Nothing was reflected in New York stock market except the continued pause in the movement of recovery. . . . check to anticipate speculation was visible in all the markets. Stocks sold off fractionally, wheat scored a sharp decline throughout the forenoon hours and silver bullion did not move at all.

DISTRICT OF NIPISSING.

Meredith's Amendment to the Measure Lost on Division.

COUNCILS FOR ARBITRATION.

Sir Oliver Mowat's Bill Receives Its Third Reading—Hon. Mr. Harcourt's Motion to Prevent Impersonation of Dead Men—House Notes.

TORONTO, April 13.—In the Legislature yesterday. Sir Oliver Mowat's bill respecting Councils of Conciliation and Arbitration was read a third time.

The District of Nipissing.

The House went into committee on the bill to erect Nipissing into a provisional judicial district.

Mr. Meredith objected to the Government not having named the county town. He thought that should be decided at once.

Sir Oliver Mowat replied that the Government was not in possession of sufficient information at present to enable them to come to a proper conclusion.

After some further discussion Mr. Meredith moved to have the section covering this matter removed and an amendment substituted providing that unless the county town was selected by the lieutenant-governor before June 1, the opinion of the electors should be obtained.

Hon. Mr. Hardy objected, stating that the Government was not under an obligation to decide on the district town until the fullest information on that point had been obtained.

The House divided, and the amendment was rejected by 39 votes to 21.

The bill was reported with amendments.

Respecting Voters' Lists.

Hon. Mr. Harcourt moved the House into committee on a bill to make further provision respecting the voters' lists. He said there was general complaint made that at election time there was a special resurrection, and hundreds of men voted in the names of dead persons. The bill provided that upon receiving information of the deaths of voters the Assessment Commissioner should remove the names from the lists.

The committee rose and reported progress.

Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park.

Sir Oliver Mowat moved the second reading of the bill respecting Queen Victoria Niagara Falls park. The bill proposed to allow the park commissioners to issue $75,000 worth of debentures for necessary park improvements and the purchase of land.

Mr. Clancy said there was a good deal of dissatisfaction with the bill, and complained of the abuses that the public had to put up with in connection with the management of the park.

Hon. Mr. Harcourt replied that the abuses complained of had been remedied. They had had the assurance of the attorney-general that as soon as the revenue permitted the tolls complained of would be abolished.

Mr. Meredith was disappointed that the Government did not intend to abolish tolls.

Sir Oliver Mowat replied that the bridge tolls yielded $1,800, and there had been a charge made previously. The principal part of the land composing the park was free.

General Arbitrators.

Sir Oliver Mowat moved the second reading of the bill enabling boards of trades to appoint general arbitrators for certain purposes. It was provided that the board should select a certain number of arbitrators, from amongst whom general arbitrators should be appointed. It was evident that by this course fair, impartial and reliable arbitrators would be appointed. The bill would be perfectly voluntary in its character.

Mr. Meredith said the bill was an innocent one and he hoped it would be the means of enabling good arbitrators to be chosen.

Call of Solicitors to the Bar.

Sir Oliver Mowat's bill respecting the call of solicitors to the bar passed a second reading after a protest from Mr. Meredith that the provisions of the measure were unjust.

The House rose for recess.

After Recess.

After recess the House went into committee of supply.

On the item of $24,040 for Normal Schools there was considerable criticism by the Opposition with respect to changes in the teaching staff and the method of granting gratuities to teachers on leaving the Government employ.

The item passed.

Sir Oliver Mowat announced that Monday would be set aside as Government day for the disposal of Government measures.

The House adjourned.

House Notes.

These new bills were introduced in the House yesterday: Mr. Dack—To amend the Assessment Act. Mr. White (Essex)—To amend the Act respecting executions.

A large deputation of railway men waited upon the Municipal Law Committee yesterday and urged the adoption of Mr. McColl's bill, raising the amount of salary exempted from taxation from $700 to $1,000. The bill was laid over for further consideration.

Salt as a Health Preserver.

I know a woman who at the age of forty-nine has the complexion of a peach and the health and vigor of an Irish peasant; who is out in all sorts of weather and will walk about all day in snow or rain with feet and ankles wet, and never take cold.

"How do you keep yourself in such splendid condition?" I asked.

"Salt!" she laughingly answered. "It is salt that preserves my health. I use it in my bath, as a dentifrice and to gargle my throat.

"You know, first of all, I come from good stock and am naturally strong; but without proper care the best of health will not last.

"Immediately on getting up I take a vigorous scrubbing with hot water, soap and a stiff brush; then I give myself a douche with ice cold water which I have made thick with salt, using a coarse flesh towel to thoroughly dry my body. Salt is a great purifier. I use it in my throat and nostrils, and it is the only dentifrice I ever use."

FRIDAY, APRIL 13, 1894.

IT IS NO GERRYMANDER.

The Opposition journals have at last secured a genuine grievance against the Mowat Government. After having predicted that the promised redestribution bill would be an iniquitous gerrymander, and abused Sir Oliver for keeping back the measure for the purpose of concocting some scheme for the "dishing" of the Tories, they feel that they have a just right to complain because the redistribution bill has not the slightest character of a gerrymander—and all the bottled up indignation will have to waste its sweetness on the sanctum air. It had been decisively settled that "Mowat must go," and therefore he would resort to the gerrymander to prevent a consummation so devoutly wished by the Opposition. But Sir Oliver has shamelessly neglected to perpetrate any "outrage" and the journalistic critics are quite flabbergasted in consequence. Toronto has been as equally and as equitably divided—as if Aristides, the Just, himself had wielded the constituency carving knife—and given four members; even the grumbling Empire is forced to admit the justice of the division. Hamilton has also been given increased representation, and the unspeakable Spectator admits that that city has not been unfairly divided by the redistribution. Sir Oliver Mowat deserves, therefore, to be hurled from office for his ungenerous lack of enterprise in failing to exploit a gerrymander for the benefit of the Opposition. He is old fogyish enough, to depend for popular approval upon a quarter century record of honest, capable and efficient administration of the affairs of the Province. He is not afraid of the results of an honest, untrammeled expression of the electorate. He has served the Province well, and he deserves well of Ontario. The people of this Provence are too intelligent to condemn a faithful servant for the mere sake of change. The Opposition journals predicted something awfully bad on the part of the Government in the matter of redistribution, and have just reason to be indignant at Sir Oliver's disappointing measure. For the sake of getting one cry that would have one consistent element of coherency, they would have, doubtless, condoned his infringement on the Dominion Government's gerrymander copyright of '82 and '92.

MILK DELIVERY METHODS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I see in your issue of the 5th inst., an article headed "The Babcock Test Tested." The writer, a patron of Lakefield factory, I presume, tries to show the wisdom of paying for milk sent to cheese factories by the Babcock test and stigmatizes the old way of paying by the standard a pooling system, and to establish this fact beyond the shadow of a doubt, gives his account with the factory under both systems—which show that he received more cash for one standard less milk in 1893 under the Babcock test than he received in 1892 under the old pooling system. It is said that figures do not lie, but they do not always tell the whole truth, and the figures given by "Patron," give us very little information beyond that he received more cash for less milk under the Babcock test than he received under the old pooling system. That is all they show, and leave us to conjecture the cause why he may have received more money under the new system than he received under the old system. It may have arisen from a change of cows or better food given to the same cows or to favouritism, or from the incorporation of some foreign substance with the milk, which would increase the percentage of fat in it. These are things over which the Babcock tester has no control, nor was it ever claimed it had. It is simply a machine which shows the percentage of pure fat contained in the article put in the tester whether it be the milk or the tallow of the animal, and has no power to show fraud from natural causes. This being the case it may become a prolific system of deceit and who can detect it? The old system has its faults, which may be termed unjust to some who send milk richer in butter fat than some of his neighbours do, but it is easily detected, it not being covered with a machine which is held up by some men to be so just in itself that no injustice can be done under its system of doing the work, which it was designed to perform, and by reason of this men will be afraid to complain, though they may have and justly have the strongest reason to believe that great injustice is being done, and thus it may become a factor in the hands of men disposed to overreach their more simple and honest neighbours.

Yours, etc.,

COUNCIL OF WOMEN OF CANADA.

Proceedings of the Second Day's Session at the Capital.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 13.—The proceedings of yesterday's session of the National Council of the Women of Canada consisted in the reading of a number of papers pertaining to many classes of work in woman's sphere.

The conference was public and fully five hundred people were present. His excellency, Lord Aberdeen and Lieut.-Governor Shults of Manitoba attended the conference.

The conference was divided into three sections. The papers read in the first section dealt with women's work in connection with social reforms.

Mrs. Wood, of the Girl's Friendly Society, read a paper on "Preventive Work." Mrs. Routhier, of Quebec, read another on "Rescue Work," and Mrs. Day-Smith, of Hamilton, a paper on "Women's Influence in Social Reforms."

The papers read in the second section had reference to women's work in connection with the sick. Papers were read by Miss Harris, of Hamilton, on "Hospital Nursing"; Miss Tilley, of London, "Nursing of the Poor in their Own Homes," and another by Mrs. Helliwell, of Toronto, on "Emergency Lectures."

"The Problem of Domestic Service" was the subject under discussion in the third section of the conference. Mrs. Boomer, London, read a paper explaining the problem from the mistress' point of view, and Mrs. Helliwell, of Toronto, read another, setting forth the servant's view of the problem. Mrs. Stowe, M.D., of Toronto, of the Dominion Enfranchisement Association, told in what way the problem might be solved.

In the discussion which followed the reading of these papers Mrs. Peppa, of Hamilton, advocated that families should be content with cold dinners on Sunday, and cause their servants to labor as little as possible on that day. Mrs. Helliwell, of Toronto, denounced the system of giving Sunday teas. Mrs. W. Thomas, of Montreal, believed that the Provincial Governments should be urged to each have training schools for servant girls. This speaker also denounced the registry offices for servants as the worst curse of the country as they were now conducted.

In the evening another meeting was held. Lord Aberdeen gave an address creating much enthusiasm.

Express and Freight Train Collide.

PORT CHESTER, N.Y., April 13.—The Washington express on the N. Y. and N. H. railroad, drawn by engine No. 181, ran into the caboose and another part of a freight train which was being switched at the railroad yards here. The caboose was demolished, the engine of the Washington express was considerably damaged, and two freight cars were wrecked. Conductor John Sinclair, of the freight train, was seriously injured. James Gaffney, the fireman of the Washington express, and two freight brakesmen, were seriously hurt.

Russian Students Arrested.

"Well, well! Didn't ever hear of a 'grin like a Cheshire cat?' Why, you see a man down in Cheshire had a cat which grinned and grinned until there was nothing left of the cat but the grin, just as some scrofulous people, who don't know of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, get a cough, and then cough and cough until there is nothing left of them to erect a monument to but the cough."

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the most effective, anti-bilious, anti-dyspeptic, strength-giving remedy extant. For weak lungs, lingering coughs, spitting of blood, scrofula, sores, pimples and ulcers, it is a wonderful and efficacious remedy.

Its manufacturers guarantee it to do all that they claim, or money is returned.

RAVAGED BY FLAMES.

Grape Sugar Works at Buffalo Sacrificed to the Fire Fiend.

LOSS, OVER A MILLION DOLLARS

Sixty Men Were at Work in the Buildings at the Time of the Fire, Some of Whom Meet Their Death —Many Were Injured.

BUFFALO, N.Y., April 13.—Last night flames were seen breaking out of the front of the American grape sugar works, on Scott and Chicago streets, one of the largest concerns of its kind in the country. The firemen promptly responded to a general alarm, but before they reached the scene the entire structure was a mass of flames, and efforts to save it proved futile. So fierce was the fire that in an hour and a half it had spread to the public fish market and the wholesale meat district. At midnight the fire was got under control.

The main building of the grape sugar works, eight stories in height, had with its dependencies a frontage of 225 feet on Scott, extending to the corner of Scott, and a depth of 180 feet, reaching to the banks of the Hamburg canal, while the feed, drying establishment, warehouses, machinery and other subordinate structures occupied the south side of Scott street, directly opposite the main property, and with their respective railroad tracks and freighting facilities stretched nearly to Perry street, 30 feet to the southward.

At the time of the fire breaking out 60 men of the night force were at work in the building. Of these 48 were accounted for up to midnight and the fate of the others were still in doubt. Some of them met their deaths in the flames. Of those accounted for a number are seriously injured. Wm. Maurice will die. James Young and William Lawndowski are probably fatally hurt. John Stern is also badly injured, but will recover. Lieut. Schrader and Pipeman Weber, of the Fire Department, were severely hurt by falling walls and also badly burned. Weber had one leg broken.

The loss on the grape sugar works will exceed $1,000,000, which is covered by insurance to the extent of $500,000. Outside losses will extend $200,000.

The history of the American Glucose Company has been one of phenomenal success. Fifteen years ago the extent of the infant enterprise was measured by a consumption of but 500 bushels of corn. From this small beginning it has attained proportions which within the past decade have at times involved a consumption of over 20,000 bushels of corn in this city alone, and never less than 15,000 bushels daily. Employment was furnished to 700 men, who received annually in salaries $300,000.

Could Not to Wed Miss Tyler.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Howard Gould and Odette Tyler, the actress whose engagement was formerly announced on March 27, are not to be married after all. Howard Gould says that the wishes of his brother George and members of the family have been effective in causing the cancelling of the engagement. He said: "It is true that the engagement between Miss Tyler and myself is off. It was declared off on account of my youth. It was a question of breaking with my family and marrying her, or of giving up the idea of our union. Miss Tyler agreed that the preservation of family harmonies was the best thing for both of us. That is all I can say."

Dental Operations Cause Arrest.

NEW YORK, April 13.—After taking gas and having eight teeth extracted August Schafe, a Petroleum exchange porter, 45 years old, of Vesey street, became violently insane and tried to kill his daughter Carrie. He threw a chair at her head, overturning the breakfast table, and caused a general havoc in the flat in which he lived, and tried to jump out of a window. Policeman Leoran, of the second precinct, was called in and took Schafe to the Chambers street hospital, where he was pronounced to be suffering from acute hysteria, from which he will recover.

The British Budget.

President Vasquez's Relatives Murdered.

NEW YORK, April 13.—A special from Tegucigalpa, Honduras, says: It is reported that a family living near Juzgaran, consisting of father, mother and three children, have been mysteriously shot. They were relatives of ex-President Vasquez.

A Touch of Fashion.

Forget-me-nots are quite the vogue. Golden-haired maidens wear huge bunches pinned at their corsage. The stems are tied by long, pale-blue ribbons. The latest bonbonniere is of silver overgrown with the wee blue enamelled flower. Fashionable buttonhooks have the handles trimmed with forget-me-nots, and the new vinaigrette is a gem in blue and gold, the forget-me nots in the centre being arranged in a wreath framed by repousse gold.

Rifle League Matches.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 13.—As there is a strongly expressed wish from many intending competitions in this year's rifle matches that the Martini rifle should be used, the executive proposes to hold both a Snider and Martini series in the competition. The two series will be shot on the same day, and no man will be allowed to shoot in both a Snider and Martini team in the same match. A competitor may, however, change from one rifle to the other during the competition. The dates of the four matches comprising the competition will be May 26, June 9, July 7, July 21. Two of the Snider series will be shot at 200, 400 and 500 yards, the other two and all the Martini at Queen's ranges.

J. R. Gamble Pardoned.

TORONTO, April 13.—The Department of Justice has notified Lawyer Murdoch that J. R. Gamble, who was convicted in 1886 of the murder of a young girl named Lizzie Bray, that the prisoner has been pardoned after a review of the evidence. Gamble was found guilty in February of that year of having caused the death of the girl by performing a criminal operation, and he was sentenced to be hanged. Mr. Murdoch defended Gamble, and afterwards succeeded in having the sentence commuted to imprisonment for life. It was shown in the evidence that he had been acting under the advice of a doctor.

The Bannister Infanticide Case.

CHATHAM, April 13.—At the assizes the crown consented to a withdrawal of the charge of murder in the Bannister case, and a plea of guilty to an indictment for concealment of birth. Mr. Fegley made an eloquent plea in behalf of the prisoners, which his lordship complimented him on. The judge, however, said the grave offence of which the prisoners were guilty was becoming too common and he could not but impose a severe penalty. He sentenced Mr. Bannister to two years in Kingston penitentiary, Ellen to the same, and Emma, the mother of the murdered babe, to six mothers in the Mercer reformatory.

Did Not Require an Army.

QUEBEC, Que., April 13.—The smuggler Bouchard was in the prisoner's dock at the criminal court yesterday. The collector of customs, Col. Forsyth, was one of the witnesses. He testified to the Canadian troops going down to Isle Aux Coudres to arrest Bouchard in July, 1892. Other witnesses who were present in the excursion were also examined. The whole thing appears to have been very exaggerated, as a few custom house officers with some laborers could have performed the whole work without the aid of soldiery at all.

Coxey's Recruits Capture a Train.

OMAHA, Neb., April 13.—Kelly's large band of recruits for Coxey's army, said to number about 1,000 men, captured a Union Pacific train at Evanston, Wyo, and is now riding east.

Their Name is Legion.

There is no lack of so-called cures for the common ailment known as corns. The vegetable, animal and mineral kingdoms have been ransacked for cures. It is a simple matter to remove corns without pain, for if you will go to any druggist or medicine dealer and buy a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor and apply it as directed the thing is done. Get "Putnam's," and no other.

Dr. Grant's "Hairene," contains nothing poisonous or injurious. For sale by all druggists.

Unsightly pimples, blotches, tan, and all itching humours of the skin are removed by using Dr. Low's Sulphur Soap.

Napanee, March 26th 1894.

Dr. Andrew Grant & Co., Toronto.

DEAR SIRS,—My hair had been falling for sometime, and I tried a bottle of your "Hairene," and was surprised and pleased to find, that less than half of one bottle stopped the hair from falling and completely removed the dandruff.

Yours truly, J. M. WALLACE.

Why
A Spring Overcoat is a good investment.
BECAUSE—
It's a stylish comfort, not only for the Spring season but also a most stylish and comfortable garment for cool days and nights through the summer, and for summer touring and outing wear generally.
Why
Some Suits are made merely to sell.
BECAUSE—
They don't fit and you know it. They look ungainly, but you're persuaded that they're "the height of fashion." Smart salesman did all the talking, and you—well, you did'nt like to go out without buying something after putting him to all that trouble. A week and the trousers were "riding up," the vest in ridges and the coat declining to get within two inches of your collar, and you wonder how you came to buy the plaguey thing. You won't do it again.

Comfort In . . Corsets.
The physical discomfort endured by ladies who have to wear an ill-fitting pair of Corsets is a punishment that need not be borne any longer.
FIRST.—Avoid all dealers who carry old stock so long that they are forced to reduce the price of their "torture packs" to the bare cost of the material in order to get rid of them; or who send out girls totally ignorant of the harm they do by taking measures regardless of the form or figure.
SECOND.—Consult MRS. ENSIGN at her private parlours on Simcoe St, who will personally fit you with a pair of Corsets conducive to health and comfort, and will give you just exactly the support and beauty of figure you so much need and admire.

A Government BOMBSHELL
THROWN INTO THE
LIFE INSURANCE CAMP!
The following statement comes from the government Blue Book. It covers a period of sixteen years, and is sworn to as correct by representatives of each Company:
Statement of Premiums received and Cash Profits paid back to Policy Holders from 1877 to 1892, both years inclusive:—

COMPANY.	Premiums Received.	Dividends Paid to Policy Holders.	Ratio of Dividends to Premiums, %
CANADA LIFE	$16,368,307	$2,946,433	18.13
Confederation Life	6,165,432	637,925	10 35
North American	2,327,062	32,857	1.41
Ontario Mutual	3,878,086	433,294	11.17
Sun Life	5,527,720	355,280	6.43

Never in the history of Life Insurance has the struggle for business been keener. Never has the conflict been hotter. Never have the Companies felt as they feel now, the necessity for throwing all the energy at their command into the field. The most intelligent and best men have to be employed. All kinds of plans of insurance are submitted. Each Company determined in securing the supremacy in the good will of the public, in establishing their name, the utterance of which, shall convey to the minds of the people the essential characteristics of
UNDOUBTED SECURITY,
RIGID ECONOMY,
GOOD INVESTMENTS,
LARGEST PROFITS
WHY?
Because millons of dollars are being paid annually for Life Insurance, and the Companies that can show these features have attained a position which will guarantee their future success, for money will flow freely into the best investments.
The Canada Life Policy Holders can look at the above statement with a smile of satisfaction, yet sympathise with their friends who are not so favourably situated.
They can throw their Life Policies down in the face of opponents and successfully challenge the production of more profitable policies, they can stand the onslaught of Agents who will almost cover them with literature and estimates of Tontine, Semi-Tontine, Return Premiums, Reserved Dividends, Annuity and Endownment plans of insurance, and with a quiet assurance feel that
As The Canada Life is Making the Most Profits, She Can Pay the Largest Profits.
READER. If you want Life Insurance choose the Canada Life and join the throng of contented policy holders who are insured with the Company carrying about 45 per cent. of the total insurance in force of the above named Companies

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

A Peterborough Man Did it.

The Lindsay Watchman says:—"The hotel-keepers convention at Toronto last week was a big affair, nearly every point in the province being represented. Lindsay, however, was unrepresented, and it is needless to state that our hotelmen are now on the back of the slate. As the reporters were excluded from all meetings, the newspapers had to confine their reports to the names and handsome appearance of the representatives.....A good story is told of our own "Andy" Grant, who is now on the reportorial staff of a city daily. Mr. Grant, in quest of news and looking for a "scoop," had secured the proper credentials for a well known Warsaw hotel-keeper, and was ready to represent the trade in its council. The sudden appearance of a harmless note book, shortly after he had gained admittance, created suspicion, and after consultation with a Peterborough liquor merchant who was present, it was decided that there was a "traitor in the camp," and our friend Andrew was requested to make himself conspicuous by his absence. He took the hint.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Wm. Eyres, Peterborough, was in town on Tuesday.—Cannington Gleaner.

Mr. W. H. Armstrong, Millbrook, and Mr. W. E. Swan, of Lindsay, are guests at the Grand Central.

Rev. J. H. Hector, the colored orator, well-known in Peterborough, is preaching and lecturing in Lindsay.

Rev. J. E. Trotter, pastor of the Baptist church, is in Toronto attending the half yearly meeting of the Baptist Home Mission Band.

Mrs. (Capt.) Dennis, accompanied by Miss Faulk, Cobourg, who have been guests at the Oriental for a few days, have returned home.

Mr. R. R. Elliott, of Millbrook, inspector for the High Court of the Independent Order of Foresters for Ontario, is in town to-day registered at the Oriental.

Miss H. Flint and Mr. Frank Wright, of Toronto, who take part in the Foresters' concert this evening, arrived in town to-day and are guests at the Oriental.

The Centreville correspondent to the Millbrook Reporter says Miss M. A. Fair returned home last Monday from Peterborough, w ere she has been visiting friends.

Mr. William Sanderson, Ashburnham, leaves for the Capital, Ottawa, via the C. P. R. to-morrow where he will be engaged in erecting a residence for his son, Mr. Albert Sanderson.

Mr. G. A. Strickland, manager of Strickland & Co's canoe factory, Lakefield, left on Monday for England, on a business trip. During the last few weeks the firm have shipped several thousand dollars worth of canoes to different parts.

Mr. E. J. O'Sullivan, of the Lindsay Business College, accompanied by his brother, drove to Peterborough on Monday on business and reports the roads in fine condition. They witnessed the performance of their redoubtable namesake, John L., as Capt. Harcourt, and state that the hall was packed to the doors.—Post.

Young Womens' Association.

Usual painting and writing classes this evening, beginning at 8 o'clock.

LADIES when deciding where to buy your new spring bonnet or hat, remember Mrs. Cassidy's millinery store, No. 423 George street, next the EXAMINER office.

Requested.

Ladies looking for extra values in dress goods, white lawns, and gloves are requested to see Joseph Armstrong & Co.'s assortment. There can be no stronger values offered this week in these special lines.

Miss Jenkins' clearing sale of fancy goods, etc., will continue for a few weeks' longer, at greater reduced prices than ever. Splendid bargains still to be had.

About Ended.

The annual stock-taking sale at China Hall is about ended, as it closes on the 20th inst. While it lasts you can buy anything in the immense stock at cost price, and in the case of slightly damaged or mismatched goods, for half price. We have some splendid bargins left, call and inspect.—MACFARLANE WILSON.

Fine Furniture.

A Clegg shows in his window to-day a very rich and serviceable parlour suite. It is a large five-piece Turkish suite, covered in fine Turcoman rugs, the pattern and colouring of which are decidedly Oriental, the rugs are made of fine velvet, and differ very much from the coarse carpet we have been accustomed to see on rug parlour suites.

Plan of hall for Douglas Bird concert on Thursday, April 19th, now open at Sailsbury's Book store. All who have not secured seats for the best concert of the season should do so without delay. A few good seats still available. General admission, 50 cents; reserved seats, 75 cents.

"True Irish Hearts."

The next attraction at the opera house will be "True Irish Hearts." It is a rollicking, picturesque comedy, which depicts life in Ireland, full of character and colour, bright lines, repartee, song and dances. The chief figure in the singing, dancing and love making, all Irishmen being addicted to the latter, is one, Lanty Lannigan's good-natured, reckless, big-hearted, always on hand at the righ time sort of a boy. His songs go right to the heart and the nimbleness of his feet and grace of his manner places him in the first rank of dancers. The play is interpreted by a company of unusual strength, and the scenery is new and superb, from the studio of Harley Merry. "True Irish Hearts" should be given a rousing reception. Popular prices.

Street and Corner Loafing.

The Belleville Ontario has the following to say regarding the disgraceful practice of street and corner loafing. The effect of the words will apply very well to Peterborough. The Ontario says: In Peterborough a by-law has been passed to give the police greater power with reference to loafers gathering at street corners and in store doors. We do not know whether or not the by-law here is sufficiently stringent but if not it should be made so. One thing is certain and that is that some steps should be taken to break up the street corner loafing. It is simply scandalous that it should be allowed to exist to the extent that it does, especially at the corner of Bridge and Front streets. We have not unfrequently seen it necessary for people to elbow their way through these crowds and many a time ladies have considerable difficulty in getting through, in addition to having to run the gauntlet of bold leers and offensive remarks. This is a standing disgrace to our city that should be removed. If the law is not strict enough it should be made so, and in some way and by some means the practice should be sternly suppressed.

See our goods, compare prices and goods and judge for yourselves, Grafton & Co.

Some Building Notes.

The different contracts for the erection of Mr. W. H. Manning's handsome new brick residence to be built on McDonnel street, opposite the Central Park, just west of Mr. J. D. Collins', have been let. Mr. Bogue has the contract for the masonry and brick work, Mr. H. Carveth the carpentering, Mr. R. Carton the painting and Messrs. Breeze & Jones the tinning and plumbing.

The plans for this residence which will be two stories high with attic 8½ feet and of brick (hollow wall) with all the latest improved ideas and appointments, were drawn by Mr. F. Bartlett, C. E. The cost will be between $3,000 and $4,000.

It is understood that Mr. Geo. Elliott, contractor, has been awarded the contract for the proposed new Dolan block on Charlotte street. The site is on the north side of the street on the vacant lot just east of English's canoe factory, and west of Harper's block. The block will be a substantial one of brick, 57 feet frontage, 60 feet in depth and three stories high. There will be three stores in the block, which will have a plate glass front, while the third flat will be fitted up with lodge rooms. The cost will be about $6,000 or $7,000.

Save the cost that is required to go through two or three hands, by buying from Grafton & Co.

—Mr. E. J. Hartley, who has been confined to his room for the past six weeks with an attack of rheumatism, is able to be out again.

—Rev. Wm. Cooper, B.A., of Knox College, Toronto, will occupy the pulpit of the Lakefield Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning and evening.

—The Belleville Board of Trade is endeavouring to induce the banking institutions in that city to keep open every Saturday afternoon until three o'clock.

—Farmers say that so far the fall wheat has not suffered from alternate frost and snow; but rain, and warm at that, is needed to produce anything like active growth.

—The man who becomes indignant at what the newspaper says about him should return thanks three times a day for what the newspaper knows about him and doesn't say.

—Walking sticks—a beautiful selection of Malacca, genuine Irish blackthorn and a variety of choice sticks just arrived at the Peterborough Bookstore. Boys, see them. A. H. STRATTON & Co. d —East Durham Conservatives met at Millbrook yesterday and were forced to postpone the selection of a candidate until April 26th, owing to the meagre attendance of delegates.

—You don't have to take a gallon of Short Stop before you cure your cold. "Part of a bottle knocked my cold out," says a grateful customer. Get it at Jas. Lynch's drug store, 168 Hunter street.

—The annual meeting of the Lindsay Bible Society was held on Wednesday evening last. Judge Dean is president of the society. Hon. S. H. Blake addressed the gathering very earnestly and impressively.

—The executive committee of the County Union of Christian Endeavour will meet in the Y.M.C.A. rooms to-morrow (Saturday) morning at eleven o'clock. A good attendance is hoped for, as the work for the summer will be mapped out.

—The mammoth cheese exhibited at the Chicago Fair by the Dominion Government is being sold in London at 2d a pound. The heat of the summer and the various changes of climate which it had to undergo no doubt detracted from its value.

—Messrs. Archer and Pritchard, elders; and D. Chambers, treasurer, the Reporter says will represent the Millbrook Presbyterian church at the Presbytery meeting in Port Hope on Tuesday next re the resignation of Mr. Bloodsworth and the matter of another pastor.

—Mr. W. L. Innes, C.E., and Land Surveyor, has severed his connection with the Candian General Electric Compan's works and has entered into partnership with Mr. G. W. Ranney, C.E, and they will now accept engagements for land surveying and engineering work. 6d

—The magistrate handled an assault case in which two boys, pupils attending the South Ward School, figured in the day before yesterday. The mother of the assaulted boy laid the charge against the assailant. The magistrate dismissed the defendant with a warning.

—Alex. Derbyshire, a thirteen-year old, was arrested last night charged with being a vagrant. The young lad has been peddling papers around town, but has been sleeping in doorways, stairways and other out of the way places. The magistrate remanded him to gaol for a week.

—Mr. C. J. Pusey, contractor for the proposed international railway bridge across the St. Lawrence, at Brockville, will take the major part of the stone needed for the immense structure from the Belleville quarries, which are so situated that barges can be loaded and towed very cheaply.

—Mr. H. Newton has on exhibition in his window, George street, a quaint hat rack of a rustic design. This unique piece of furniture belongs to Mr. David McGrigor, Ashburnham, and is a small red cedar tree which has been properly trimmed and turned to make a very handy and handsome hat rack.

—Messrs. J. D. Collins and T. Fitzgerald have returned from a shooting and fishing expedition to Sandy Bay, above Young's Point. They report that the ice is not yet all out of the water and hence they could not make that progress which they desired. Nevertheless they were successful in capturing some fine fish.

—The piccolo band, of 18 pieces says the Lindsay Watchman, in connection with Queen's Own Lodge of 'Prentice Boys is making splendid progress and they will probably make their first public appearance on May 22nd, when, upon invitation, they will be present at a grand Orange supper to be held at Cambray.

—Mr. W. O. Stead, of Peterborough, has been been in our town all this week, soliciting orders for the different wire goods which he manufactures. Mr. Stead is a hustler and seldom is there a house he visits without he receives a good order. His Omemee visit has been a profitable one, which is the same in all towns he visits.—Omemee Mirror.

—Attention has been called to the incorrectness of the rumour which has gained newspaper currency that the newly appointed principal of the Wesleyan Theological College, Toronto, is Rev. Dr. Shaw, of Toronto, a former pastor of this town. The newly appointed principal is Rev. W. J. Shaw, L.L.D., for many years a professor in the college.

—The corporation force of employees made good progress in scraping the streets yesterday. This morning Simcoe street was finished and the men started to clean Hunter street. The refuse scraped yesterday is being drawn away by some fourteen teams to-day. Part is being deposited on Aylmer and Park streets to fill in drains and the remainder at Spaulding's Bay.

—The Centreville correspondent to the Millbrook Reporter says:—"Mr. Henry Hall, a brickmaker near Millbrook, has been delivering the brick for the new Presbyterian manse, at which the contractors, Messrs. Mein & McIntyre, of Peterborough, have commenced to work. They were awarded the contract of fixing the church and building the manse some time ago for the sum of $1,800.

—About thirty couples spent an enjoyable time last evening in the rooms of Otonabee lodge of Oddfellows. The music furnished by the Peterborough Fire Brigade Band orchestra was capital, while the supper served at midnight by Caterer T. Hooper was relishable. The light fantastic was tripped until an early hour this morning and a very pleasant evening was spent.

—Mr. "Billy" Herlihey, who was at St. Joseph's hospital, Peterborough, for some months, died at that institution last week and was buried on Sunday. The deceased was well known to all Lindsayites, he having for years kept a blacksmith and axe making shop on William street north. At one time he was wealthy, but lost all his money and he had reached an advanced age at the time of his death.—Lindsay Watchman.

—Why is the Trent Valley Canal like an injudicious advertiser? Because the money already spent will be largely wasted unless more money is spent to make the work approximately useful and remunerative; and the man who begins advertising in order to make the public understand what he has to sell, and stops short of that result, loses what money he has spent. What is worth doing is worth doing well—and thoroughly.

—A Peterborough man, says the Omemee Mirror, whose name is suppressed, while in our town on Monday, created somewhat of a sensation by indulging too much in the "Fire water" and then driving through our streets, mercilessly beating his horse and ill-treating the dumb animal. The chief being informed, he at once had him arrested. He was brought before the J.P. on the same evening on the charge of abusing a dumb animal. He had to pay over $6 for his foolhardy work.

—The examination of theological students of the Methodist church of the Bay of Quinte Conference, will be held in the Sunday School hall of the Methodist church at Port Hope, on Tuesday morning, the 17th inst, at 9 o'clock. Some forty students will be there and ten examiners. The examinations will conclude on Thursday evening and will close by a public meeting in the church to which the public are invited. The distribution of certificates to successful candidates will be made.

—The Saturday edition of the Empire has of late been making great strides. Each week, in addition to the regular news of the day, Woman's Page, Military Department, Sporting, Dramatic, etc., it has a number of interesting special articles by brilliant writers. Last Saturday it gave a splendid historical sketch by one of the Nile voyageurs, a racy sketch, "How Blowers Won the Hat," being a story of lake marine in the olden days and other equally interesting articles. Every week something good appears in it.

—Peterborough lodge of Oddfellows met last night in regular meeting with a good attendance. Four notices of propositions were read and the anniversary committee met at the close of the proceedings and furthered arrangements for the proper celebration of the 21st anniversary of Peterborough lodge, to be held in the Oddfellows' hall, corner of George and Hunter streets, on May 7th. The event will be an "at home" on a grand scale. The brethren also made arrangements to attend divine service on the 29th inst. at the George Street Church.

An Auroral Display.

Last night about 9.30 the northern heavens began to be illuminated with brilliant white auroral streamers. Increasing in brightness, the display became magnificent at 10 o'clock, and continued so until a late hour. Green and yellow streaks shot through the southeastern portion of the aurora frequently, which added much to the gorgeousness of the display. Generally, the contour of the aurora was single or double arches, attaining to the height of the pole star, single streamers rushing up as far as the quadrangle of the Great Bear.

All Run Down With Dyspepsia

The peculiar combination of stomach tonics and alterative remedies in Hood's Sarsaparilla cannot be equalled, and this superiority explains the wonderful success of in cases of Dyspepsia, Indigestion and similar troubles. Mr. T. A. Wheelock, a well known citizen of Burlington, Vt., writes:

"Six months ago I was badly run down and unable to attend to business. The principal trouble seemed to be due to indigestion and aggravated dyspepsia. I had no appetite,

Nothing Tasted Good

and what I did eat distressed me. Added to this was a nervous disturbance. Physicians that I employed failed to reach my case. I grew worse, lost flesh and almost hope. One day I ran across a testimonial for Hood's Sarsaparilla stating what it had done in what seemed to be a case similar to mine. I got a bottle and in three or four days saw that I felt better. Before I had finished the first bottle, was greatly improved. Rested better, felt better, and knew I was

Better All Over

I continued with the medicine, and have taken two bottles and now feel better than at any time for the past five years. Feel as hearty as when a boy. Have regained my flesh, have good appetite, can sleep well, and my nerves are in excellent condition. I would not value a thousand dollars for what it did for me." T. A. WHEELOCK, Burlington, Vt.

MILLS BROS.

A QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY DEMONSTRATION.

The Board of Trade at its meeting last night struck the right key in taking action to promote local observance of public holidays in the town, and by the citizens. The last public celebration of any considerable magnitude was in June 1887, the occasion of the Queen's Jubilee, and since that time public holidays have been observed in a manner that is a distinct detriment to the town in more than one sense. The material loss which follows a do-nothing policy of celebrating national occasions and civic holidays is a very important consideration. As Mr. Elliott pointed out at the meeting last night every holiday celebrated outside the town means a money loss direct or indirect of some five or six thousand dollars—that is instead of sums like these being left in the town to be distributed in the town for the betterment of business, our citizens go abroad and spend their money which goes to benefit other towns. Besides, a large demonstration would attract thousands of people to Peterborough who would in the aggregate leave thousands of dollars with us, which would represent a direct and distinct financial gain. This may be regarded as a very material not to say sordid, view of the matter, but in this utilitarian age, with a people who all work for a living, it is a very important consideration. Merchants now find it no easy task to make local collections; but, given a holiday and a big demonstration with thousands of visitors, the next day merchants who may not have received a cent through their closed doors the previous day, will receive a benefit. Those who have directly benefitted will pay long standing bills or make purchases for which they previously had not the means. The merchant will thus be able to square his accounts paying someone else and so on till the money left by visitors on the holiday will find its way through all the arteries of local intercourse and the town will be so much the better. Besides the citizens of the town, who have not the means to go out of town for recreation and enjoyment will have these provided at their doors, not only at no expense, but they will be financially benefitted by receiving employment and receiving pay practically with the money left in the town by holiday visitors. It is a severe reflection upon the public spirit of our citizens that they should show so culpable a lack of enterprise as they have done in the past. Especially when towns like Port Hope, Cobourg and Lindsay—all combined, of less population and commercial importance than Peterborough—can and do have big and creditable demonstrations on national and other holidays, which attract thousands of visitors from sundry places, this town liberally included, should we keenly appropriate the reproach that, under the circumstances, legitimately attaches to us on account of our indifference in the regard in question. It is, therefore, to be hoped that the citizens will heartily co-operate, in order to give effect to a creditable demonstration in honour of Her Majesty's birthday. The town council will not likely incur popular displeasure by liberally subventing the enterprise. Any sum voted for the purpose will be recouped ten times over by the amount of money which will be spent in town on the day of the celebration—an amount, it is safe to say, which will be equal to a large percentage of our annual tax-roll. Let us cordially unite in the organization of a demonstration that will be worthy of the town, and, to bear that character, it will have to be a big one.

A "BUSINESS" PROPOSITION.

A Magnificent Queen's Birthday Celebration in Sight—Active Steps Taken—The Work Begun.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn's proposition at the Board of Trade meeting last night in reference to the means to be adopted to inaugurate a grand demonstration on the 24th of May has already taken practical shape, and in pursuance the committee appointed last night is, this afternoon circulating a guarantee list. The proposition is to raise a fund guaranteed by citizens (for any sum each is willing to guarantee) to amount to not less than $2,500 to be supplemented by a grant from the town council. There is to be no direct subscription whatever. The business men and citizens are only asked to guarantee a certain amount, and it is expected that the high class attractions of various kinds which will be provided will yield receipts far in excess of the amount guaranteed, which is only needed in case of unfavorable weather—which, by the way, has never, in the past generation, happened on a Queen's birthday—diminishing the receipts. In case the receipts are, as they are almost certainly, sure to be, in excess of the expenditure, every cent of excess will be rigidly accounted for and turned over to the Board of Trade, to form a neucleus for a fund for future celebrations. It is proposed to present an array of attractions that will draw thousands of visitors to town on the Twenty-fourth. The fact of the demonstration being under the auspices of the Board of Trade is in itself a guarantee that it will be of a character worthy of the town and one that will mark a new era in our civic history in this regard.

It is to be hoped that our wide-awake business men and other citizens will heartily co-operate with the Board of Trade and their committee in making this demonstration the splendid success, which with united effort it can be made.

Let us all heartily unite and instead of the watchword on our bill hoardings being "go with the crowd on some excursion"—let it be "come with the crowd to Peterborough" to see the magnificent demonstration in celebration of Her Majesty's 75th birthday.

A meeting of all these interested in the proposed celebration is called for Monday evening next in the council chamber at 8 o'clock. Let there be a large attendance. Business is meant; be on hand.

HOME ENTERPRISE ENCOURAGED

Special Meeting of the Board of Trade—New Members Elected—Queen's Birthday Celebration on the Tapis—Other Important Matters Dealt With—The Canal we Have Always With Us

A special session of the Board of Trade was called last evening to discuss, among other projects, the scheme of holding a holiday demonstration in town on the 24th of May. The President, Mr. Robert Fair, took the chair and Mr. T. E. Bradburn opened the discussion on the question by stating that the business men of the town were anxious to have the citizens entertained at home this year on the 24th. He understood that a petition was about to be presented by the ratepayers to the town council, asking for a grant in aid of a demonstration and thought the endorsation of the Board would have weight.

Mr. Alex. Elliott was also quite enthusiastic over the idea. He was positive that five or six thousand dollars were taken out of the town every holiday during the year on account of so many of the citizens spending the day in other places, where demonstrations were being held. He thought the citizens would subscribe liberally towards a local demonstration, provided the town council would make a suitable grant.

Mr. Geo. A. Schofield spoke of the difficulty of getting any of the city battalions to visit the town on the day in question as it was not an easy matter for the men to get away so early in the season.

Mr. W. B. Bamford was very sanguine about the success which would attend an attempt of this kind in Peterborough, and advocated the scheme that four or five of those interested should guarantee a couple of hundred dollars a piece and re-imburse themselves by taking over the gate money at the grounds in which the proposed sports, etc., would be held. The chances were that those who guaranteed the amounts would come out ahead on the deal, as, of course, any profits which might result would accrue to them.

A number of the other members of the board, including Messrs. R. H. Kells, A. L. Davis, E. E. Dodds and F. H. Dobbin, spoke in advocacy of the idea and the discussion was finally closed by a motion of Mr. Phelan's to the effect that Messrs. Elliott, Bradburn and Davis form a committee, with power to add to their number, to make arrangements for the calling of a special meeting of the town council, when an effort would be made to induce that body to take a favourable view of the idea and make a grant towards defraying the expenses.

The P.A.A.A. will be asked to co-operate and appoint members to act on the committee.

On the suggestion of Mr. Schofield the committee will not take any decided steps in the matter until such time as it has arranged for a guarantee fund of at least $1,000.

LITERATURE OF THE TOWN.

Regarding the issue of 5,000 pamphlets setting forth the advantages of Peterborough, the Secretary reported that the demand for the pamphlets was very great, so great, in fact that it was imperative that another edition be gotten out if it was intended that the demand was to be met.

The president suggested that as the Boards' finances were at present at rather a low ebb, that the town council be asked to defray the expense of a further edition.

Mr. Alex. Elliott moved that the council of the Board wait on the town council and ask for a grant to this end. Mr. R. A. Hamilton seconded the resolution, which was carried it being understood that the sum asked for be $50. A motion introduced by Mr. Bradburn was carried to the effect that the matter of the revision of the constitution and by-laws and the printing of 200 copies of the same be referred for action to the council of the Board.

THE CANAL ALWAYS WITH US.

Mr. Davis wished to know what steps had been taken towards keeping the subject of the Trent Valley Canal alive. He had been appointed to act on the Railways and Canals Committee of the Board, and now as a member of that committee would like to become posted on the subject which he introduced.

In connection with the canal question, Mr. Bradburn drew the attention of the Board to the fact that Representative Simpson, of Kansas, had raised a question in Congress as to the advisability of aiding such a project. He thought if the matter could be brought to the attention of both governments some good might result. He moved that Mayor Kendry be requested to call a meeting of the official heads of the different municipalities which would be affected by the canal, with the object of sending a strong deputation to Ottawa to endeavour to rouse the government to action in the matter. Mr. Phelan seconded the motion, which was carried.

NO TARIFF CHANGE TALK.

The secretary stated that he had invited a number of manufacturers to be present at the meeting in order to discuss the tariff changes, but he was sorry to say they had not materialized.

THE STANDING COMMITTEES.

Messrs. F. H. Dobbin and T. A. S. Hay, who formed a striking committee to nominate the standing committees of the year, presented the following "slate," which was adopted unamended:—

Council—W. Manson, D. W. Dumble, Adam Hall, H. LeBrun, H. S. Macdonald, W. H. Hill, A. L. Davis, J. Gilchrist, A. Clegg, R. J. Kingan, J. M. Irwin, R. McWhinnie, A. Rose, K. G. Lech, V. Eastwood, T. Barrie, F. H. Dobbin.

MESSRS. MOORE AND WHYTE.

Evangelistic Services—Crowded Houses—Powerful Discourses.

As these meetings were announced to end on Friday night a great number was present last night. Many, for the first time, came to hear and were not disappointed, for Mr. Moore spoke feelingly of the love of the Son of God as the Apostle Paul told the Galatians in the 2nd chapter 21st verse, "I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me and gave Himself for me." This was the text and the preacher called upon his hearers to think seriously of the gift as not being given to any other than to "me." The interest that the unbeliever should take in the gift of Jesus was centred in the knowledge that it was given for each one individually. He urged those present not to delay but to accept the gift freely as it was given in love to each and all. Mr. Moore, who has a store of apt illustrations to make plain his meaning called them in place last night so that any listening could understand the love he was telling them of. Before commencing his discourse he explained that the pastor, Mr. Trotter, was called in church matters to Toronto, but would be with them again on Friday night, when the services will commence at 7.45 as usual.

An opportunity will be given to all to participate in a thank-offering, during the service, it being the last Mr. Moore and Mr. Whyte would conduct here now.

Mr. Whyte and the choir made the services pleasant by their rendering of several choice selections, and his singing of "Hearts That are Broken," brought tears to many eyes. In manner and language of heartfelt earnestness he entreated the hard-hearted to accept the love of the Son of God and pronounce themselves as being on the Lord's side.

The after-meeting was full of spiritual power and zeal, many accepting the invitation to retire to the Sunday school room, where it is more convenient for the Christian workers to converse with those seeking instruction.

Rev. Mr. Cragg took an active part in this meeting, leading in prayer of deep earnest supplication to God to have mercy on the unrepentant and to bless with His presence those who had accepted Christ as their Saviour.

The ushers again expect to be taxed to-night to find seating room for the people that come to see and hear and learn the truths spoken and sang by Messrs. Moore and Whyte. To-night 7.45 p.m.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

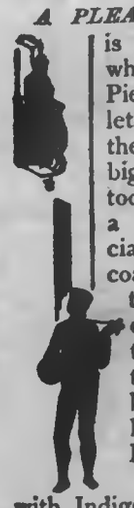
A PLEASANT SURPRISE



is in store for you when you buy Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. If you ever took the ordinary liver pill, big and bulky, nasty too, you'd appreciate a good thing, especially when it is sugar-coated, tiny as a mustard seed but very effective. Other things being equal, the smallest is the best in liver pills—hence, "Pleasant Pellets."

If you are troubled with Indigestion, Constipation, Biliousness, Bilious Headaches, and a hundred and one ills which depend upon an inactive liver,—use Dr. Pierce's Pellets. With these pills you get not only temporary relief but a positive cure; they're guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or your money is returned.

For fat people who suffer from indigestion, for hearty eaters and high livers—those whose livers are sluggish, this pill is what is most needed.

THE "BIKE" IN CHINA.

SOME OF BICYCLIST LENZ'S ADVENTURES IN THE ORIENT.

The Chinamen Make Him Mount and Dismount Innumerable Times—How He Was Taken in Charge by a Mob—Besieged in an Inn.

The success of the journalistic enterprise that led to the equipment of Stanley's trip to Central Africa, and the popularity of Keenan's travels in Siberia in the interests of the Century Magazine has given rise to another similar expedition which has already become famous as the world-girdling bicycle trip of Mr. F. G. Lenz, of Pittsburgh, in the interests of the Outing Magazine.

Mr. Lenz set out from City Hall park, New York, a little more than a year ago. His passage across the continent and over the Pacific was scarcely different from that of numerous other tourists, and even in Japan his experiences, though pleasant and picturesque in the telling, were not especially adventuresome. The Japanese are at worst a friendly people, and at best their culture and artistic sense proved equal, to say the least, to that of a representative American cycling fiend. Some of the excellent photographs which show Mr. Lenz in bicycle costume among the daintily dressed natives leave one in considerable doubt as to which are the semi-civilized and which the civilized individuals. Throughout Japan, and even in the coast districts of China, the American wheelman, astride of his novel two-wheeled machine, was an object of dread and aversion, which he sets down to the score of superstition, but which the lover of things cultivated and oriental is tempted to attribute to a different sentiment.

The advance sheets of the April issue bring him among the pagodas of China. From the eastern coast he followed the grand canal to Chinkiang and then pushed westward along the Yangtse river valley through Burmah, making occasional detours to interesting spots. His experiences with the natives as he journeyed along the valley become more in the nature of adventures. The difference between the treatment Mr. Lenz received from the Japanese and the inland Chinese is about the difference between the treatment of a camera fiend in polite American society and at a country picnic. In some cases in China Mr. Lenz was much more in the picnic than of it. Here are some of his adventures in his own words:

"Seven miles east of Taipingfu the streets were too rough to ride. Noisy natives at once swarmed round me, stopped the wheel and insisted that I mount. I was determined to be always good-natured, and complied. I had bumped along a few yards when two fighting dogs rolled out of a house into the street. Of course, it was my luck to run foul of them, and over I went, among the curs. The Chinese were convulsed with laughter. Unfortunately, however, I pushed over an empty frail stand, entirely by accident. One howl from the proprietor, and he and his wife grabbed the wheel. Excitement ran high. I gave him a handful of 'cash' (small brass coin) and he howled worse. I then picked up a stone and hammered the thing together. The crowd saw my good intentions, and persuaded the man to let me go, whereupon I breathed easier. They managed, however, to relieve me of my field glass and handkerchief, which I had foolishly carried in my outside coat pockets. It was in Tanyang that rioters, in 1891, burned the buildings of the Jesuit missionaries which had been standing for 300 years.

"Just before reaching Chinchiang a mob took me in charge. They compelled me to mount and ride through the crowded streets, everybody darting into the shops on hearing the cries of the crowd to clear the way. I was progressing nicely, but one of the Chinamen following thought I ought to be going faster and gave me a tremendous shove. Sad to relate, the wheel struck a Chinaman who was unable to get out of the way, and he and I and the machine sprawled over the pavement. My persecutors viewed this performance with a holy, chastened joy. Next, two Chinamen took it into their heads that they could ride the bicycle. I mounted them in succession, pushed them along a few rods, and intentionally dumped them in the street. The natives yelled themselves hoarse, and I might have been responding to encores for this act yet had I been so minded. But I was too scared and gladly reached the foreign settlement, with its macadamized streets, and left the pursuing crowd far in the rear.

"I found easy wheeling along the dikes bordering the Yang-tse-Kiang, and had many exciting and amusing experiences with the natives, whom the noiseless cushion-tired machine rapidly overhauled. Small donkeys with jingling bells were quite numerous. I met an elderly Chinaman astride a very small and evidently nervous donkey. The beast feared the wheel and, to my horror, jumped down from the raised road into a rice field. The old man was thrown in a heap. I hastily dismounted, thinking he was seriously injured, or killed outright. He struggled to his feet and instantly motioned me to ride on, being far more anxious to see the strange wheel run than about his own hurts. After the old boy had seen me ride, we grinned farewells.

"Farther on a woman and a small boy were thrown off donkeys in the same way; but Chinese wear so many layers of wadded clothing in cool weather that they are seldom hurt by a fall."

He relates another interesting incident: "Once when I was silently approaching a Chinaman from behind, I called out to him. Poor fellow! he no doubt was used to a quiet and uneventful life in his humdrum country. He slowly turned his head to see who called to him so loudly, then made one grand jump to get out of the way. His feet slipped, and with a terrible yell he rolled over the bank and into the canal, up to his waist. Two baskets of bean bread which he carried on a pole, followed him into the water. Some way or other, I thought it more prudent to wheel on without lingering to offer sympathy."

Lenz's adventures at the Chinese inns were always spicy and oftentimes exciting. "In one instance at a small village near Likiang the usual noisy crowd followed me into the inn. The good-hearted innkeeper besought me to stroll up and down the street, in order to pacify the curious crowd. For an hour I was surrounded by Chinese, all feeling my clothes and gaping at me. They would not leave, and when I entered the inn all followed. The landlord handed me a stick, and implored me to whip them out, as if I were some modern Hercules. So afraid are these people of the foreigners that they ran when I but raised the stick. The door was barred, but the crowd pushed in the frail brick wall. The landlord fairly screamed with anger, and a fight seemed inevitable; but it only ended in hot words. I almost regretted that I was not camping out, instead of being the cause of so much trouble.

"When I rolled myself up in my blanket and a quilt the crowd at last left the inn. Then the kind old innkeeper brought rice, fish and tea until midnight. Now and then he sorrowfully pointed to the collapsed brick wall. In the morning I paid him five hundred cash pieces (about thirty-five cents) for accommodations and his loss. He was overjoyed at receiving these pieces. While dressing one morning at Tongdien I heard the bang! bang! of pistol shots. At the rear of the inn was a crowd of scared Chinamen surrounding my bicycle. One of them had pulled out the revolver from the luggage which I had forgotten to remove before retiring and pulled the trigger, luckily without damage. It might have fared hard with me had he accidentally shot a bystander."

For a long time nothing was heard of Mr. Lenz, and it was generally supposed that he had been killed by the natives. He arrived in India at last, however, bruised, battered and despoiled of his outfit. He had had to carry his wheel in a cart much of the way, and it was in such a condition that he had to send for a special check to pay for the repairs. He had met a hard fate among a class of natives who were more than ordinarily inclined to amuse themselves. The last instalments of Mr. Lenz's manuscript have been received from Kia Kiang and will be reported during the spring and early summer.

"Only the Scars Remain,"

Says HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., who certifies as follows:

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc., none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 13 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

FLIM-FLAMMED OF $400.

An Innocent Old French-Canadian Loses His Hard-Earned Wealth.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., April 13.—One of the most contemptible flim-flam games on record was perpetrated upon a poor, unsuspecting French-Canadian here as the G. T. T. Pacific express was leaving yesterday afternoon, in which the poor man was worsted out of $400, being nine years' hard-earned savings shopping in the woods around Sherbourne Falls, Mass.

Xavier L. Forge is the victim's name. He, with his aunt, Mrs. Dechane, an old, quaint-looking woman of 67 years, arrived at the New York Central depot, Suspension Bridge, from the east, and took seats in the waiting room, accompanied with a black bag that has seen many years' usage and a tin box, and from appearances one would think they did not possess a ten dollar bill, much less $400.
